UNM News Minute #283 – September 28, 2005

1. THE UNM CANCER Research & Treatment Center (CRTC) has been named a National Cancer Institute-designated cancer research and treatment center joining the ranks of 40 pre-eminent cancer research and treatment centers in the United States. <http://hscapp.unm.edu/calendar/output/index.cfm?fuseaction=main.release&EntryID=4296>
2. UNM IS ONE OF FOUR national universities chosen to share $12.8 million in grants to establish integrative training environments for doctoral students to study nanoscience and technology with applications for cancer research. The National Cancer Institute, part of the National Institutes of Health, and the National Science Foundation, announced the awards recently. <http://www.unm.edu/%7Emarket/cgi-bin/archives/000826.html#more>
3. THE OFFICE FOR ADMISSIONS has announced that 53 college students displaced by Hurricane Katrina are now registered and taking classes at UNM. In addition to providing tuition, book and temporary housing assistance early on, UNM has stepped up to help these students rebuild normal lives. The UNM Foundation has established a new Hurricane Student Assistance Fund. <http://www.unm.edu/%7Emarket/cgi-bin/archives/000819.html#more>
4. THE UNIVERSITY community has opened its hearts and extended a generous helping hand to our friends and neighbors in need. That need continues. We ask you to continue relief efforts on a long-term basis through UNM's annual United Way Campaign. When you receive your pledge form, you may contribute to any not-for-profit group in the world, and may do so with the full assurance that 100 percent of your contribution is directed to that group. For more information contact Patrick Vigil at 277-1593. <http://unitedway.unm.edu>
5. THE NEW MEXICO Disaster Medical Assistance Team (DMAT), a 35-person team sponsored by the UNM Department of Emergency Medicine, is currently in Woodville, Texas, providing medical care for people in that hurricane-damaged area. DMAT arrived in Woodville Sunday evening and set up its equipment and supplies at Tyler County Hospital, which was evacuated prior to the arrival of Hurricane Rita. After reopening the hospital, team members immediately started seeing patients Sunday night.
6. POLITICAL SCIENCE Associate Professor Lonna Atkeson is the recipient of a National Science Foundation grant to study public perception of the government's handling of Hurricane Katrina. Atkeson, and Cherie Maestas, a Florida State University colleague, will assess public opinion data gathered during a national telephone survey of 1,000 individuals. <http://www.unm.edu/~market/cgi-bin/archives/000816.html#more>
7. PRESIDENT LOUIS CALDERA and Anderson Schools of Management Dean Chuck Crespy recently announced a University-wide technology business plan competition, with a top prize of $25,000. Student teams from across the campus will compete in a business plan contest that ends with high-stakes presentations in front of real venture capital pros.
