2. CHRISTOPHER MEAD, art and art history professor, has been named College of Fine Arts interim dean. The UNM Board of Regents announced yesterday the appointment is for a three-year term to provide continuity for the college. Mead replaces James Moy, who steps down from the position Aug. 15. Mead served as interim dean prior to Moy's appointment in May 2002. He has served as a full professor since 1996 and worked at UNM in various positions since 1980.

3. CHARLES PAINE, UNM associate professor of English, has been named University College associate dean. Paine directed the UNM Freshman English program from 1998-2000 and has been associate director since 2002, where he played a key role in the university's retention and student success efforts. <http://www.unm.edu/news/Releases/04-08-11paine.htm>

4. 'CULTURE OF WATER' is the focus of an evening and weekend degree program-sponsored lecture series. UNM Professor Michael Campana, Earth and Planetary Sciences, opens the series Aug. 24 with "Sustainability in the Southwest: Did We Trade Our Cadillac Desert for a Chevy?" The free talks are scheduled Tuesday evenings through Oct. 12 in Woodward Hall, rm. 147. <http://www.unm.edu/news/Releases/04-08-10lecture.htm>

5. TELECOMMUNICATIONS relocated to a new structure on the north campus at Lomas and Yale, building 255, adjacent to the new Physics and Astronomy building. The address is 802 Yale NE, MSC07-4215. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Call 277-1111 for customer support.
