Pursuant to the Uruguay Round Trade Agreements Act, Mr. Reyna was nominated by the U.S. Government to the World Trade Organization indicative list of nongovernmental panelist candidates for dispute settlement under the Understanding on Rules and Procedures Governing the Settlement of Disputes and the Decision on Certain Dispute settlement Procedures for the General Agreement on Trade in Services. Mr. Reyna’s book, “Passport to North American Trade, Rules of Origin and Customs Procedures under NAFTA” was published by Shepard-McGraw in 1995. Mr. Reyna received his law degree from the University of New Mexico. He is admitted to practice before the U.S. Court of International Trade and the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. He was admitted to the bar of New Mexico in 1979.

Professor Jorge A. Vargas is a Prof. of Law at University of San Diego School of Law, 5998 Alcala Park, San Diego, California, 92110 Telephone: 619 260-4816.

Prof. Vargas is a Summa cum laude graduate of Mexico’s National Autonomous University School of Law where he obtained his LL.B. degree, and from Yale Law School where he received an LL.M. and completed his academic studies in the J.S.D. program. Our speaker’s professional experience spans over a period of 25 years in four capacities: 1) legal advisor to the government of Mexico; 2) diplomat; 3) private practitioner, and 4) academician. Prof. Vargas served as LEGAL ADVISOR to Mexico’s Secretariat of Foreign Affairs (SRE), the National Science and Technology Council (CONACYT) and the Fishing Department (DEPES). In Paris, Prof. Vargas became the legal advisor to the Chairman of the Intergovernmental Oceanographic Commission (IOC), under UNESCO. As a DIPLOMAT, he served at UNITAR and at the Legal Department of the United Nations in New York, specializing in international organizations in London, Paris, Rome and Geneva. Prof. Vargas has attended major multilateral conferences on environmental protection, science and technology, human settlements and endangered species. For over a decade, he covered the Third U.N. Conference on the Law of the Sea. As a PRIVATE PRACTITIONER, he joined a Mexico City law firm where he provided legal counseling in foreign investment, corporations and environmental protection. This professional experience allows him now to serve as a consultant on Mexican law matters. In academia, Prof. Vargas has taught and lectured in Spanish, French and Portuguese in academic institutions in Mexico, Canada, throughout Latin America and Europe. He was a professor at UNAM, Iberoamericana and Anahuac Universities in Mexico City, and taught at the Inter American Juridical Committee in Rio de Janeiro. Recently, Prof. Vargas was a visiting Professor at Stanford Law School. Prof. Vargas was a Fulbright Fellow and is professor of law at the University of San Diego (USD) where he teaches and writes in the international and comparative law areas.
