1. THE UNM ANDERSON GRADUATE SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT has been named one of the Top-10 business schools in the country for Hispanic students by the Hispanic Business magazine. Recognition was based on enrollment, faculty, student services, retention rate and reputation. The ranking is the first-ever for ASM that is truly representative of the strengths of the school. www.unm.edu/~paaffair/news/news%20releases/Sep7andersontop10.htm

2. UNIVERSITY DAY at the New Mexico State Fair will be held Tuesday, Sept. 19. "Great People Doing Great Things of New Mexico" is the theme of the UNM-sponsored event. UNM faculty, staff and students from more than 70 campus departments will showcase research, provide information, conduct demonstrations and offer hands-on activities and non-invasive health assessments on Main Street from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. www.unm.edu/~paaffair/news/news%20releases/Sep8uday.htm

3. IBM ANNOUNCED TODAY the opening of the industry's first Linux supercluster briefing center for customers developing scalable applications on Linux systems. The briefing center will be based at the University of New Mexico's (UNM) Albuquerque High Performance Computing Center (AHPCC), and complements the existing briefing facility at the Maui High Performance Computing Center (Maui HPCC). The new briefing center will assist customers in planning their Linux and Linux clusters plans with IBM, and allow them to benchmark and "test-drive" key applications. www.unm.edu/~paaffair/news/news%20releases/Sep13ibm.htm

4. UNM MUSIC PROFESSOR Bradley R. Ellingboe received an award from the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP). The cash award is granted by an independent panel and based upon the unique prestige value of each writer's catalog of original compositions as well as recent performances of those works. www.unm.edu/~paaffair/news/news%20releases/Sep8ellingboe.htm

5. THE UNM COLLEGE OF NURSING received a $306,495 grant from the National Institute of Health and the National Institute for Nursing Research in a collaborative contract award with Boston College that will measure the effects of teasing in 11-14 year olds from multi-cultured backgrounds in Albuquerque and Baltimore, Md. Dr. Karen Carlson, professor and associate dean for Academic Affairs, is the principal for UNM. Other UNM faculty involved include Joan Bradley, Carolyn Montoya, and Dr. Ken Miller, professor and associate dean for research and clinical scholarship.

UNM News Minute highlights items of interest to the campus community. UNM News Minute is published weekly on Wednesdays by UNM's Public Affairs Department.
