1. A PUBLICATION, "Interstate Waters: Crossing Boundaries for Sustainable Solutions," is now available from the Utton Transboundary Resources Center at the UNM School of Law. The 50-page report is a synthesis of a multidisciplinary conference sponsored by the center in October 2002. More than 70 lawyers and scientists with extensive expertise in interstate water issues from across the United States attended the conference. <http://www.unm.edu/news/Releases/04-01-12utton.htm>

2. U.S. REPRESENTATIVE Heather Wilson joined officials from UNM Hospitals, Charter Mortgage and Fannie Mae to announce a new program that helps UNMH workers purchase homes in the Albuquerque area with access to down payment and closing cost assistance. The benefits are a result of a recent collaboration between UNM Hospitals, Charter Mortgage, and Fannie Mae to create an Employer Assisted Housing (EAH) program – the first in Albuquerque. <http://hscapp.unm.edu/calendar/output/index.cfm?fuseaction=main.release&EntryID=2411>

3. "THE FAST RUNNER (Atanarjuat)," a groundbreaking film featuring the Inuit Indians of the Arctic, will be the first in a series of special public film screenings presented by the International Indigenous Film Series in the Department of Anthropology. <http://www.unm.edu/news/Releases/04-01-14film.htm>
