Developmental Studies Learning Communities
Learning communities provide tutors, supplemental instruction and the opportunity to work with the same group of students. At UNM-Valencia we are committed to your success, and your participation in this program will increase your chances to get your degree! This is what students who have participated in learning communities have to say.
"If it wasn't for the learning community, I probably wouldn't be where I am now. I strongly encourage anyone who wants to get the help they really need to look into it." Bernice Baldonado
"The learning community has really helped me out as an adult returning to school. Working with the same group of people really helps a lot. I think that the learning community is an excellent program." Jeanette Lopez
"The learning community means a lot to me. It's my second family; they're there to encourage me in every way and I'm thankful to be part of it." Ashley Carrillo

 CS 150.501 is an online course. CS 150.501 is an online section of CS 150, Computing for Business Students, with an optional lab on Wednesdays, 9-10:15am, for students who need personal assistance with their software assignments. Attendance is not required except for the midterm and final exams. Students are expected to learn the course materials on their own. Students need to be aware that a certain degree of initiative, diligence, and organization is needed on their part to successfully complete the course. Students who are computer novices will greatly benefit from attending the lab sessions. If you fit this description you should not schedule another class on Wednesdays from 9-10:15am so that you are available to attend the lab sessions. Everything you need to know to successfully complete the course will be covered during the first couple of lab sessions. If you have any questions about any aspects of this course please be sure to contact me by phone @ 925-8601 or by email @ rgarcia@unm.edu.

 Introduction to Literature 150: The Strange, the Macabre, and the Weird. Do you need 3 hours of humanities credit? Are you interested in reading about an Irish myth in which a seal transforms into a woman, or about strange people and events, like the witchcraft trials in Salem in the 1690's, or about a Southern woman who literally loves her boyfriend "to death?" If so, take this course, which is a serious, but fun investigation of characters, plots, themes, and settings, all of which may send shivers down your spine!

 English 240: Traditional Grammar for Teachers and Students. This course is designed for students who would like to improve writing, public speaking, and language skills. Students review the fundamentals of traditional grammar, such as parts of speech and sentence boundaries, and learn standards of English writing, including usage, punctuation, and diction. Students can expect a varied learning environment, including discussions, lecture, group activities, and computer exercises. Additionally, students need not have taken a grammar course before to be successful in this one. This class counts as a literacy course for elementary education majors and as a communication arts credit or elective for secondary education majors.

 HED 247: Consumer Health – Be a wise guy! Learn how to choose wisely from the menu of health products and services that affect your and your family's health.

 HED 212: Human Sexuality– Birds do it and bees do it. Do you want to understand why we do it? This course will review the basic knowledge of human sexuality including anatomical, physiological, psychosocial, and ethical components. Areas examined are reproduction, contraception, sexually transmitted disease, sexual health, and sexual dysfunctions.

 HED 293: American Red Cross CPR & AED Recertification for the Professional Rescuer – What is your expiration date? This class will review the knowledge and skills to meet the needs in situations when basic first aid care is needed and where you, the professional rescuer, are often the first trained person to arrive at the emergency scene. This course prepares you to fulfill this role as a professional rescuer.

OBT Courses

OBT 105-Basic Keyboarding (online). OBT 105 is for students with little to no keyboarding experience. This course will teach students proper techniques using the alpha-numeric keyboard such as hand alignment, keystrokes as well as help students improve and increase keyboarding speed. There will be one mandatory meeting at the beginning of the semester.

OBT 111-Keyboarding/Word Processing I. Students who have taken OBT 105 will benefit from OBT 111 to develop their speed and accuracy using the alpha-numeric keyboard and current word processing software. Students will focus on creating, saving and retrieving, editing and formatting business letters, memorandums, and manuscripts.

OBT 112 – Keyboarding/Word Processing (Hybrid). Students who have previously taken OBT 111 will benefit from continuing their instruction with OBT 112. Students will format business letters and forms, manuscripts and resumes as well as continue to increase their typing speed. Students will meet in class one day a week and continue lessons online.

OBT 219-Legal Terminology/Transcription (Hybrid). Are you interested in a career in political affairs, government or law? If so, OBT 219 will open many doors in these fields. Students will meet in class one day a week and will continue their studies online. This course emphasizes legal terminology and the preparation and transcription of legal documents. Prerequisite: OBT 112 and ENGL 100.

OBT 221-Medical Transcription (Hybrid). Students interested in careers in the medical field will find OBT 221 a resourceful course that will expand their knowledge in the ever growing field of medicine. Students will learn to transcribe various medical reports that include patient histories and physicals, pre-op, lab reports, operating reports and the like. Students will meet in class one day a week and will continue their studies online. Prerequisite: OBT 112 and ENGL 100.

OBT 257 - Administrative Procedures. Administrative support personnel are indispensable to today's businesses. Learn valuable employment skills that will earn you the recognition you deserve. OBT 257 will train you in organization and time management, records management, information and communications, meeting and travel planning and much-much more. Become an IAAP (International Association of Administrative Professionals) member and obtain your CAP (Certified Administrative Professional), OPAC (Office Proficiency Assessment Certification) or MOS (Microsoft Office Specialist) certification that employers recognize and reward.

OBT 260-Desktop Publishing and Presentation (Hybrid). OBT 260 takes basic computer skills to a new level giving the student hands-on experience with software programs such as Publisher and Power Point. Create eye-catching brochures and flyers, produce an awe-inspiring presentations, publish a personalized newsletter or create an amazing advertisement poster. You will also learn how to use industry standard equipment for creating, producing and printing your creations. Students will meet in class one day a week and continue their studies online using WebCT.

OBT 263-Preparation for Microsoft Word Certification (Hybrid). Students wishing to obtain Microsoft Word Certification will benefit in taking this course as they will refine their word processing skills and be able to apply them to more advanced operations. Students will meet in class one day a week and continue their studies online.

OBT 265-Business Communications (Hybrid). This course will prepare students to excel in today's digital workplace. Students will learn how to communicate effectively through business correspondence such as email, letter writing, business proposals, oral presentations, etc. Students will also develop sensitivity to communication with a diverse workforce. Students will meet in class one day a week and continue their studies online using WebCT.

OBT 293-Advanced Preparation for Microsoft Word Certification. Students taking OBT 293-Advanced Word Prep will continue to learn advanced operations in Microsoft Word which will help prepare them for the Microsoft Word Certification Exam.

PENP 165: Beginning Yoga, 1st 8 weeks & PENP 166 Intermediate Yoga, 2nd 8 weeks - The ABC's of Yoga = Awareness, Breath, and Counter Pose! This course introduces the five areas of yoga that are particularly significant in the Western World. P E-NP 163 is a core requirement for the Associate of Science in Health Education and the Group Fitness Leadership Certificate. There is a prerequisite for Intermediate Yoga.

PENP 193: Fit Ball, 1st 8 weeks - Being a little off balance is a good thing! The beauty of exercising with a large, pliable ball lies in its simplicity: the fact that the ball is unstable by form is precisely why it is so effective! This course will require you to create stability and balance from within your own body, while recruiting dozens of muscles in the process.

PENP 193: Circuit/Interval Training, 2nd 8 weeks - Mix it up! Adapted from the world of sports and athletics, interval training is a method in which high and low intensity activities are alternated throughout a training session. Research has shown improvements in cardiorespiratory fitness and an increase in calories burned, all in a shorter amount of time.

PENP 193: Tai Chi I & PENP 193: Tai Chi II, 1st 8 weeks & 2nd 8 weeks – Create balance in your life! Enroll in Tai Chi I and II and reap the benefits of the Chinese martial art – Tai Chi Chuan! Tai Chi is a centuries old Chinese martial art form that can improve your health and ability to relax, focus on the present and improve balance. There is a prerequisite for Tai Chi II.

PENP 193: Pilates I, 1st 8 weeks & PENP 193: Pilates II, 2nd 8 weeks – Strengthen your weakest links! Enroll and discover the form of exercise that was inspired by Joseph Pilates! This course will focus on improving body strength, muscular balance, and core stabilizers. There is a prerequisite for Pilates II.

PENP 193: Salsa Dancing I, 1st 8 weeks & PENP 193: Salsa Dancing II, 2nd 8 weeks – This is not from New York City! Enroll in this course to learn the Latin dance techniques involved in taking this form of dancing from the classroom to the dance floor. It's hot, hot, hot...

PENP 193: Middle Eastern Belly Dancing I, 1st 8 weeks & PENP 193 Middle Eastern Belly Dancing II, 2nd 8 weeks – Hypnotizing hips! Students learn the Ancient Art of Belly Dancing! This beginning course includes the fundamentals of executing dance steps with accuracy, flexibility, grace, poise, and smooth transitions. Middle Eastern Belly Dancing I is a prerequisite for Belly Dancing II.

PENP 193 Qigong, 2nd 8 weeks – Chi = life! Students gain a working knowledge of the principles of Qigong movements, breath awareness, and relaxation techniques to energize and decrease stress in the body.

PENP 193 001,002,003: Introduction to Fitness – Commit to be fit! There is no time like the present to begin a consistent exercise program arranged around your schedule in a clean, fun, and friendly environment. Improve your cardiovascular endurance and muscle strength with on a variety of equipment in the Fitness and Wellness Education Center. A mandatory orientation is required for all students enrolled in this class.

PENP 293: Methods of Teaching Fitness – Move to the Front of the Class! This course provides a strong foundation in teaching group fitness classes, an introduction to exercise science, and designing exercise programs for the general and special populations. The course prepares you to take the national American Council on Exercise Group Fitness Certification Exam. PEP 293 is a core requirement for the Group Fitness Leadership Certificate.

Online and Hybrid Courses
Online courses are delivered exclusively through the web; hybrid courses require that students attend classes half of the time and access much of the material online. These courses are designed to give you the flexibility and convenience you need to help you meet your educational goals. But before you consider enrolling in an online or hybrid course you should be aware that a good degree of initiative, discipline, diligence, and organization is required on your part to successfully complete the course. Unfortunately, many students are lured by the false notion that this is “easy street”—and end up failing the course! If you choose to enroll in an online course, please visit the following web site: http://vista.unm.edu on or after the first day of classes to communicate with your instructor and get access to your course syllabus. Also, refer to the course's listing in the previous pages for further information about the course. Computer Requirements: UNM net ID account and password; access to the Internet (ISP); high-speed internet connection preferred (DSL or cable modems) but dial up modem will work (albeit very slow); speakers for listening to presentations; web browser and Java (please visit WebCT Vista home page @ http://vista.unm.edu for browser requirements). Computer Skills Required: Working knowledge of Windows or Macintosh operating systems; ability to use web browser, internet connection and electronic mail; ability to save and copy files and to receive and send email attachments. Note: These basic computer skills are covered in the optional lab portion of CS 150.501.

Weekend College

You can take the weekends off, or you can take advantage of boosting your career with the UNM-Valencia Weekend College program. UNM-Valencia is now offering weekend courses designed for people who can't take classes during the week but who have the desire to advance their careers and/or their education. With Weekend College, you can take courses for college credit on Saturdays at the UNM-Valencia Campus!
