GRAND NOTES.
E. A. Sutherland is here from the Chama lodge.
M. H. Twomey and P. B. Lady, of the Silver City lodge, are here.

Now for a grand Masonic temple, one worthy of the city and the order of the territory.
The Masonic brethren are invited to make the CITIZEN office headquarters while in the city.

Rev. Bush, grand lecturer, who has been out in California on business, got home last evening in time to attend the Grand Lodge.

John W. Fox, master, and Nathan Jaffa, past master, of Roswell lodge, No. 18, came in last night as delegates. They report their lodge in a fine flourishing condition.

Richard English and J. P. McMurray, of the San Marcos lodge, and Chas. A. Fox, of the Raton lodge, are at the San Felipe. They are members and delegates to the Grand Lodge.

Temple lodge, No. 6, was organized in September, 1880, and now has a membership of 250. It is one of the largest and most prosperous Masonic organizations in New Mexico.

On Wednesday evening at Masonic hall a number of the weary pilgrims of the desert from Deming and Albuquerque will traverse the hot drifting sands of the mystic shrine.

The CITIZEN understands that a number of the members of Deming Council of Royal and Select Masters will be on hand to confer the order on such Albuquerqueans as desire.

The Masonic fraternity is flourishing in the territory, and it is likely that at this meeting the Grand Lodge will make arrangements to erect a magnificent Masonic Temple in this city.

The local lodge will entertain the visiting lodge in elegant style. Grand officers to-night at the San Felipe, and a royal reception and ball at Grant's opera house to-morrow night.

Col. Albert J. Fountain, prominent lawyer and influential politician, came up last night from his home at Las Cruces. He is deputy grand master of the grand lodge and stands high in Masonic circles.

Randolph Kelly, W. P. Cunningham and Rev. Crutcher are delegates from the Corral lodge, No. 19, which was organized in May, 1880. Joyce Board and wife and Miss Bonnie Sugar accompany the delegates to the city.

Sheriff Robinson, master, and one of the charter members of the Socorro lodge, No. 9, which was organized in the fall of 1882, is here attending the Grand Lodge. He reports the Socorro lodge in a fine condition with thirty-seven members.

P. E. Harrison, son of Dr. W. S. Harrison, and Marcus Eldred, an enterprising merchant, both of the Santa Fe lodge, are here attending the meeting of the grand lodge. This is Mr. Eldred's first visit to the metropolis of New Mexico.

The following gentlemen were a reception committee from Temple lodge, No. 6, to meet the visitors at the depot: Ed. Ward Medler, Dr. J. P. Kaiser, W. W. Pope, W. P. Fox, C. B. Hawley, J. L. Andrews, Lloyd H. Hope, Ed. U. Blum and C. F. Naab.

R. E. Twitchell, district attorney of the first district, and one of the rising young lawyers of New Mexico, is at the San Felipe. He is here to attend the Masonic grand lodge session, being junior warden and a representative of Montezuma lodge, No. 1, Santa Fe.

A few days ago in Chicago one hundred Knights Templar gave a portion of their emblems to be engraved on a brother Sir Knight, who was suffering from the removal of a cancer. The strips of gold were successfully mailed, and there is hope for the recovery of the patient.

Col. J. P. McGrorty, ex United States internal revenue collector for New Mexico and Arizona; C. H. Dane, John Corbett, J. S. Field, Newt, Bolich, John J. Aiken, Ed. Pennington and J. Kinsner are the delegates and visiting Masons from the Deming lodge to the Grand Lodge. They are quartered at the Armojo.

A. A. Stevens and C. A. Fox, able representatives of Gate City lodge, No. 11, Raton, arrived last evening, and are being shown the sights of the metropolis by Chas. F. Hunt. Gate City lodge was organized in February, 1883, and numbers about sixty members. Dr. J. J. Shuler is the W. M., and C. D. Stevens is secretary.

Aztec lodge No. 3, of Las Cruces, was organized in 1867, and contains many historic names on its roll of membership. This lodge is represented in the Grand Lodge by Col. Albert J. Fountain, the present deputy grand master; Col. W. L. Hyerson, past grand master; Martin Lohman, worthy master; B. Michaels, senior warden, and L. Lapointe, junior warden.

The presiding officers of the various Masonic bodies of the city are as follows: Dr. James H. Wroth, W. M. of Temple lodge, No. 6, A. F. & A. M.; Arthur J. May, H. P. of Rio Grande Chapter, No. 4, R. A. M.; Edward Medler, E. C. of Elgin Commandery, No. 8, E. T. Ed. Ward Medler, Ill. Potentate of Ballant Abayd Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. All the orders are flourishing.

Col. Max Frost, whose trenchant and vigorous style makes the Santa Fe New Mexican a power in the territory, is in the city attending the meeting of the Masonic grand lodge. Col. Frost has a very fine Masonic record; he was the first master Mason made by the grand lodge of New Mexico at its organization in September, 1877, and since then has been master of his lodge, high priest of the chapter and eminent commander of the commandery in Santa Fe and grand senior warden, deputy grand master and grand master of the grand lodge; he has also been the master of the Scottish Rite lodge in Santa Fe and is a thirty-second degree Mason. He has been an officer in some Masonic body from the date of his receiving the master's degree, and is considered one of the brightest and best posted Masons in the territory. He is a close Masonic student and his opinions on Masonic law and jurisprudence have been taken for authority. For the past five years he has been chairman of the committee on foreign correspondence of the grand lodge and his reports as such are highly commended by those competent to judge. He will remain here during the session of the grand lodge and will be a very welcome guest in Albuquerque, where he is very well and favorably known.

Montezuma lodge No. 1, Santa Fe, is the oldest lodge in New Mexico. It was organized in 1851 under a charter from the grand lodge of Missouri. Many distinguished citizens of New Mexico have been members of it, among them Carlos Bent, first governor of New Mexico; Kit Carson, Gen. Canby, Col. W. W. Griffin, Gen. and others. Nearly all the governors and judges belonged to the lodge. From 1860 to 1881 Hardin Military lodge, constituted by officers of the Illinois and Missouri volunteer regiments, stationed in Santa Fe, was in existence there. From its sprang Montezuma lodge. For many years Montezuma was the only lodge for hundreds of miles north, east, south and west. Long may the old lodge live and prosper. She has done much good in the past and will surely do so in the future.

Col. W. L. Hyerson, one of the most prominent citizens and lawyers of New Mexico, is in the Duke city in attendance on the session of the Masonic grand lodge. Col. Hyerson helped to organize the grand lodge, was the first deputy grand master and second grand master. In Masonry as in every other thing he has undertaken, Col. Hyerson is a man of note and great influence. He has been a Mason for thirty-six years, and belongs also to the chapter, the commandery and has received the thirty-second degree in the Scottish Rite.

TO HOME SEEKERS.
For the information of those who are seeking homes in the southwest, we can not do better than quote from an article by Mr. Cromwell, of this city, which appeared in the Overland Monthly several years ago, and which is just as good and just as true now as at the time it was written. He says:

"The Rio Grande valley throughout its entire length is a valley whose climate is peculiarly attractive to strangers. The river has been spoken of as the 'Garden of America' and as the 'Garden of the World,' and the latter seems a very feasible phrase, for the old customs of the Indians and Mexicans, and the oriental aspect of their towns, give an Egyptian look to the region. It might be called the Lower Nile over again, if it were not for the tall and dark-skinned mountains that wall it in and lend it the constant charm to the scenery, such as Lower Egypt lacks. From the Indian village of Huerfano, Santa Fe county, south past many Indian and Mexican villages to Albuquerque, Las Cruces, Las Mesillas to El Paso, and beyond, the broad valley extends in level reaches of rich bottom lands, bordered by mesas all capable of cultivation. On the second plateau fruits, vegetables and cereals require irrigation, but on the bottom lands the best of crops can be grown with thorough cultivation and without constant sowing with water. The amount of public land open to settlement in New Mexico is about 52,000,000 of acres, of which at least 20,000,000 are adapted to agriculture. There are about 2,000,000 acres in the Rio Grande, Pecos, Canadian and other valleys, which are at present practically undeveloped, so few are the farmers engaged in their tillage. The Rio Grande varies from three to seven miles in width, and it comprises every variety of climate that can properly be classed as belonging to the temperate zone, and produces every variety of fruit, grain and vegetables that belongs to that zone."

ALBUQUERQUE ABROAD.
Mr. E. E. Hoffman, General Western Passenger Agent of the Gould Roads, who makes his headquarters in Denver, was in town a little while yesterday on business. He says that everybody in Denver appears to know all about Albuquerque, and are all anxious for a direct road to this place. The real estate men, he says, are all figuring to get hold of property here, because they believe that a boom at Albuquerque, equal to the one at Las Vegas a few years ago, is one of the coming events, and not very far in the future. His business takes him all over the northwest, and he says he hears of and reads about this town wherever he goes. The railroad people also believe that this is very soon to become a great center for business, and his mission here was to make arrangements for enabling the line he represents to compete for the trade of this place.

Several of the southern states have "hung up" their appropriations for the World's Fair to await the action of congress on the force bill. This is one of the best illustrations that could be given of the old saying about biting off your nose to spite your face. It does not make a particle of difference to the world at large whether Alabama is represented or not at the Columbian exposition, but it does make a world of difference to Alabama. She has an opportunity to so display her advantages and resources as to attract a large amount of capital and immigration, but if she feels disposed to put on account of some particular act of congress, she will not be missed at all by the world, but she will miss in a very serious manner the advantages which she might gain by a proper exhibit of her industries.

Several of the southern states have "hung up" their appropriations for the World's Fair to await the action of congress on the force bill. This is one of the best illustrations that could be given of the old saying about biting off your nose to spite your face. It does not make a particle of difference to the world at large whether Alabama is represented or not at the Columbian exposition, but it does make a world of difference to Alabama. She has an opportunity to so display her advantages and resources as to attract a large amount of capital and immigration, but if she feels disposed to put on account of some particular act of congress, she will not be missed at all by the world, but she will miss in a very serious manner the advantages which she might gain by a proper exhibit of her industries.

Several doctors emphatically deny that there is a case of la grippe in the city, and those who suffer with more throat should not complain of having the grip.

Rev. E. Lyman Hood, superintendent of the work of the Congregational church, has returned from a religious trip to the towns along the Atlantic & Pacific road.

Mrs. A. M. Godington, who has been absent on a three months' visit to relatives and friends at Hanchester, Ohio, returned home last evening to the great joy of the old man, who has appeared and forsaken during the lady's absence.

Edward West, a Sierra county cattle raiser, general merchant and democratic politician, came down from Santa Fe last night and is making with Albuquerque friends to day. Mr. West represented his county in the lower house of the territorial legislature four years ago.

This afternoon there is rejoicing at the Maudslayi mansion on North Fifth street, and it is all over the arrival of a fine looking young boy. Mayor Mike McDonald is being congratulated, and his brother, Felix, is so much interested in the matter that he cannot keep the news quiet. Here's to you, Mayor Mike, your wife and the new son. Thanks for a box of cigars.

Last night the Guards held an important meeting, and discussed matters pertaining to their coming military ball. Capt. Berry addressed his company, told them that he had been selected captain, and that he intended making the Guards the crack military organization of the southwest. It is understood that this Prince and staff have signified their intention to attend the ball of the Guards.

The Vienna bakery will change hands on the 7th of February, Joseph Morris and Joseph Halbekann having purchased the business through G. L. Altheimer.

Mr. Berger, the outgoing proprietor, has been working constantly day and night, for about eight years and intends now to take a long rest. He and family will move into their comfortable residence on North Fourth street, and this summer will go to the Jemez hot springs for a month's recreation. Mr. Halbekann, one of the new proprietors, is a first class baker.

Felix Perez, a man about 60 years old, who resides at Los Ranchos de Albuquerque, walked in from the mountains the other day, being compelled to do so by his horse getting away from him. The walk was through snow, and the day exceedingly cold. On reaching his home, the old man became delirious and could not speak. He lingered in that condition for three days, dying yesterday morning. He formerly worked for the Ysuri brothers, and at the time of his death was in the employ of Guadalupe Gutierrez acting as overseer of that gentleman's herd of horses in the mountains.

A Happy Marriage.
Lester L. Washburn and Miss Eva J. Propper were united in holy wedlock at 11 o'clock this morning at the residence of the bride's father, on Broadway, by Rev. Stewart C. Wright.

The bride wore a beautiful heliotrope dress, trimmed with lace, and as she is recognized as one of Albuquerque's most beautiful belles, looked charming as she pledged life-long fidelity to her husband.

The groom is a most excellent young business gentleman, and is a partner of the clothing firm of W. C. Leonard & Co. Miss Eva, the pretty bride, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Propper. The young couple number their friends by the hundreds, who will join the citizens in congratulating them upon the step they have taken.

The marriage was very private, the ceremony being witnessed by only a few of the friends of the high contracting parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Washburn left on today's north bound passenger train for Chicago, New York and Boston, and while away the young couple will pay their respects to Mr. Washburn's parents near Boston. They will be absent about six weeks.

New Saloon.
The firm of Morgan & Boland, saloonists of Gallup, is changed to Morgan & Morelli.

J. L. Dow has started a saloon at Seven Rivers.

W. F. Cochran, a saloon keeper at Seven Rivers, is succeeded by Cochran & Keenum.

Wilson & Chapman will open a saloon at San Pedro in a few days.

The high license bill, just passed the legislature, will doubtless work hardships to some of the small concerns.

Death of John O'Keefe.
Last night at 10 o'clock a. m. John O'Keefe, an old resident of this city, died after an illness of about a week. He was born in county Kerry, Ireland, and has lived in the country forty-two years. He was 62 years old. His son, William, works in the Atlantic & Pacific shops, and his son-in-law, Harry Kelly, has charge of the section at the Atlantic & Pacific junction. The funeral will be held from the new town Catholic church, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

THE MURDER KILLING.

George W. Metzger Bound Over His Account of the Affair.

Hon. F. A. Hubbell, one of Bernillo county's representatives in the legislature, passed up the road to Santa Fe from Socorro last night. He was called to the city to attend the preliminary hearing of George W. Metzger before a justice of the peace for the killing of Jose Maria Chavez, mayordomo of Mr. Hubbell's sheep herders, at Zuni and takes the other evening. The justice bound Mr. Metzger over to await the action of the next grand jury in the sum of $10,000, which he readily gave.

Mr. Metzger then got on the passenger train and came to Albuquerque, arriving here last night. This morning he called at THE CITIZEN office and being asked for a correct account of the killing, stated:

"Last summer Chavez stole a horse from a ranch in the neighborhood of the Zuni salt lakes and traded the animal off. A young boy, named Clemente Ruby, knew that Chavez stole the horse and informed several men. This seemed to me a grave mistake, who made many threats that he intended killing the boy to put him out of the way as a witness should be arrested for the theft. He continued his threats, but no opportunity was presented for him to carry them into execution. The evening I killed him, both of us were horseshoe and were going out to the herders. On the way he said that if I could not let him go back and kill the boy he would kill me. He then jumped off his horse, pulled his rifle from the scabbard, and fired at me with out result, the ball, however, passing through my overcoat. I then pulled my pistol and commenced shooting, firing three shots. Chavez fell to the ground fatally wounded on the third shot. I then returned to the ranch house, gave orders to the men what they should do, and then rode to Grant's station, where I got on the train and went to Santa Fe, informing Mr. Hubbell of the deal."

"Mr. Metzger, THE CITIZEN understands that the Chavez you killed was a cousin of the Chavez who killed your brother, Lincoln Metzger, at Papajito about three years ago."

"He is in no way related, as far as I know, to the Chavez who foolishly stabbed my brother to death. The family of the Chavez I killed reside at Los Padillas, a few miles below Papajito. He has always been regarded as a bad man and a terror wherever he worked."

"Was his body brought home for burial, or was he buried at the ranch?"

"I do not know, as I left the ranch a few minutes after the killing, and on my way to the railroad station passed by the spot where the shooting took place. He was then lying dead on the ground. In all probability he received some kind of burial at the ranch."

Mr. Metzger says that he very much regrets the killing, but in order to save his own life he was compelled to commit the deed.

(From the Daily, Jan. 26.)

Louis Mandell will leave in a few days for Chicago, where he will see his intended, Miss Elsie B. Lamm. It is understood that Louis will forsake single blessedness some time in September next.

Emil Hiroch, the gentlemanly and popular commercial traveler for Rothchild Bros., the extensive St. Louis hat store, is in the city. Emil travels all through the southwest and states that everywhere he has been merchants are bragging of good times.

The smoke stack of the new electric light works was hoisted into position yesterday afternoon. Superintendent Davis states that all the machinery for the plant, except the engine, which are expected in a few days, have arrived, and that the work will be ready for operation in a few weeks.

This morning Fred Heyn received a telegram from Sheboygan, Wis., announcing the death of his grandfather, and father of F. W. Heyn, there yesterday afternoon. His death is the result of cancer of the stomach. Mr. Heyn is on his way to this city, and will not know of the death of his father until his arrival here.

Howard Clark received a letter yesterday from his brother at Los Angeles, telling him of the death of his grandfather, J. M. Clark, which occurred at Pomona, Cal., the other day. The old gentleman was 74 years of age. This makes three deaths in the immediate family of Mr. Clark since last May—a sister, father and grandfather.

The people of Gallup will apply to the government for the appointment of a United States commissioner and a deputy United States marshal, to be stationed at Gallup, for the arrest and punishment of parties selling liquor to Indians. It is authoritatively stated that liquor is being sold by certain saloon keepers and others of Gallup to the Navajo Indians, thus creating trouble between the two races.

It is understood and the report comes from good source that a meeting of White Caps was held in old town the other evening, and that a worthless gang of young Mexicans, who never work, residing in the Chihuahua section of the city, attended. It is also said that they are saving up what money they can get, and are buying high-crowned, broad-brimmed white sombreros, so they will be known to each other. Bernillo county cannot go through what San Miguel experienced last fall, and the sooner these White Cap meetings are suppressed the better.

Jake Kilrain, the prize fighter whom John L. Sullivan licked several years ago for the championship of the world, and who could not stand up more than six rounds before Corbett, the California fighter, passed through El Paso on his way to San Francisco today. He is accompanied by his wife, and was met at the depot by a few of El Paso's sports, among them being George W. Speck, the sporting city editor of the Tribune. Kilrain did not impress George as a pugilist.

INTERESTING INTERVIEW.

Capitalist Inquiring About Albuquerque Through Prof. Bryan.

THE CITIZEN yesterday contained a personal paragraph announcing the return of Prof. R. W. D. Bryan, the lawyer, and on meeting him the local assumed the following interesting interview:

"Where did you go and how did you enjoy your trip?"

"I went to Kansas City and enjoyed myself thoroughly. Kansas City is wonderful in its resources and activity. The formation of the surface suggested the wonderful possibilities of the Terrace Improvement Company's project."

"What was the object of your trip?"

"Some of my clients had come against the American National bank, and learning that it was somewhat involved I went to secure the claims. I made a satisfactory settlement on Saturday, and the bank closed the following Monday. The affair, however, scarcely caused a ripple in financial circles there. No other bank was affected. The depositors will be paid in full and the probability is that the bank will resume operations. There was a run for several days on a savings bank that was supposed to be connected with the American National bank, but there was plenty of money, and the run only resulted in the saving to the bank several thousand dollars of interest money."

"Did you meet any Albuquerque people there?"

"Yes, quite a number. They seemed very glad to see me and were eager to hear my inquiries in regard to Albuquerque and her people."

"How is Albuquerque regarded?"

"Everywhere, as the town of New Mexico. I had only to announce that I was from this city to be surrounded by anxious inquirers. Many of these inquirers wanted to know my name and the names of real estate men in Albuquerque. Two capitalists told me they were coming to this city in the spring to invest in real estate. One man was greatly disappointed when he learned that an electric street car company had been formed here. Another wanted to locate a smelter here; another a woolen factory. Several persons told me they expected to come to Albuquerque, buy land and grow fruits. I was greatly surprised and gratified to notice how well this city was known and how steadfastly the eyes of speculators, investors and health seekers were turned in this direction."

Speaking on politics, the professor was enthusiastic to such an extent that he resolutely declared that if Cleveland and Harrison would run for the presidency to-morrow that on a popular vote Kansas would give Cleveland over 50,000 majority; and also stated that there was great rejoicing, even among republicans, over the defeat of John J. Ingalls for the United States senate.

During the professor's absence, he was elected a director of school precinct No. 12, when was a great surprise to him. Regarding his election he stated: "I find this fault with the Australian system of voting. It will be impossible for me to ascertain who voted for me, and I would like to treat every one of them."

"I presume you are glad to be back?"

"As a lover of Albuquerque, yes. The fact is that while in the low attitude I felt much depressed and in order to keep up the vitality displayed by Kansas City people I think I would be obliged to resort to alcoholic stimulants. I noticed a large quantity of that nerve was used and I presume it must be of necessity. As soon as I reached the mountains my spirits began to rise and have improved ever since and I feel ready for lots of work."
