THE LITTLE MOUNTAIN CHURCH.

Last Sunday, while driving through the mountains not many miles from Capitan, on business of a worldly nature solely, we spied a little log school house on the side of a hill, surrounded by wagons and teams, and our ears were filled by the voices of men, women and children, as the sound gently issued from door and window. Fond recollections carried our thoughts back to other and better days; and the most natural thing in the world happened—we drove up to a tree, hitched our team and entered the school-house.

There we saw an entire community, singing, praying and talking, each worshiper intently engaging in the work—praising the Master. The congregation was small, but made up in earnestness what it lacked in numbers; the people were simply attired, yet sincerity and seriousness abounded. There were no Merry Widow hats, no peek-a-boo waists; no silk tiles, no frock coats—just plain, everyday people assembled for the purpose of worshipping God in their own simple way, without ostentation, without display, without any frills and furbelows.

They had no preacher—they are poor—but song and prayer were not lacking and the enjoyment was distinctly visible in each face. They were close to nature, and nature's laws are so near God's laws that the thought occurred: if the Lord likes any one spot better than another in this old wicked world this is one of them, and these people are among his chosen ones; and when the service over we departed, memory would recall the sublime faith with which He was worshipped in that little log building and it produced, anew, a feeling of respect and reverence.

VAN-SCHOYCK-TINNON NUPTIALS.

Tuesday evening at 8:30, Mr. Clay Van Schoyck was married to Miss Irene Tinnon at the home of the bride's mother on Third street. Rev. J. Allen Ray performed the ceremony, using the beautiful ritualistic service of the M. E. Church, South. Only the immediate family and a few friends witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was daintily attired in a beautiful pure white costume, and the groom wore the conventional black. The young couple will reside in their new home, which is nearing completion. The groom is an employee of the Townsite company, is favorably known in this section, and enjoys the good will of his acquaintances. The bride was born and reared in Lincoln county, has a host of friends and deserves them. We wish this young couple long life, happiness and prosperity, and in their voyage down Life's stream that no tempest may arise to mar their tranquility, until Life's harbor bar has been passed and they are anchored in the port beyond the skies.

LOTS OF FISH.

The fishing party that John R. Patton chaperoned to the Ruidoso about two weeks ago returned this week. They report a catch of 400, and they brought back some fine specimens of speckled beauties as corroborative evidence. The party, so John says—the others say little—caught 20 that measured 14 inches, and the others were not so lengthy. John has fished every inch of that stream for a quarter of a century, and every summer when he goes there he imagines himself a boy again; and the lines of John Whitcomb Riley, or somebody else, which run something like this, spring to his mind:

"'Twas in a little swimming hole
In a covelet years ago
When my face was filled with freckles
And a stone bridge swelled my toe,
That I caught my first fish
With a pin hook and a worm.
My! how I did enjoy to see
That little sucker squirm."

E. P & S. W. SYSTEM CHANGES ITS NAME.

A circular just issued announces that what has heretofore been known as the "El Paso & Southwestern system" will in the future be called the "El Paso & Southwestern company," and employees and others are instructed to recognize it as such. This corporation will embrace the El Paso & Southwestern railroad company of Texas; the El Paso & Northeastern railroad company, the El Paso & Northwestern railroad company, the Alamogordo & Sacramento Mountain railway company, the El Paso & Rock Island railway company, and the Dawson railway company.

Delegates to Tuberculosis Congress.

Governor Curry has appointed delegates to attend the International Tuberculosis Congress at Washington, September 21 to October 12, and, in making the appointments, took occasion to say a good word for the territory's fine climate, and its beneficial effects to anyone suffering from pulmonary troubles. The delegates appointed from this county are: Dr. P. M. Carrington, surgeon in command at Fort Stanton Marine Hospital, and Dr. J. W. Laws, who conducts a private sanatorium at Lincoln.

TABLE 'DELICACIES

NEW AND APPETIZING WAYS OF SERVING EGGS.

Cooked in Spanish Style They Are Delicious—Made Up with Cream or in Cases—Sublimated Souffle Is Good.

Spanish Eggs.—Have ready a half pint of sauce made by frying a minced green sweet pepper and a medium-sized onion in a little butter. When turning yellow add half a pint of thick canned tomatoes, reserving the thin liquid for a soup. Stew and season.

Break six eggs into a porcelain lined pan containing a bit of hot butter and set in the oven for three minutes; slip off on a flat dish and pour the sauce over and around.

Egg with Cream.—Set over the fire a brown porcelain lined pan, capable of holding just the requisite number of eggs, so that they will be close together, the whites forming when cooked a layer nearly an inch in thickness.

In this pan pour a gill of thin cream; have ready six eggs, broken one by one in a saucer and slipped into a larger dish, and as soon as the cream reaches the boiling point turn in the eggs. Season with pepper and salt. Simmer two minutes and set in the oven until the yolks show a tendency to thicken, but do not allow them to harden.

Eggs in Cases.—Mince four mushrooms and stew in cream; about a gill of the latter. Add six hard boiled eggs minced small and stir until hot, seasoning with salt and pepper. Serve in little china cases.

Eggs with Celery.—Lay a pint of celery, stewed tender and heated in a white sauce, in the bottom of an earthen baking dish. Break six eggs on top and set in the oven till the eggs are done.

Sublimated Souffle.—This is made by soaking two cupfuls of stale bread crumbs in two cupfuls of hot milk. To this is added salt, pepper, paprika, and three beaten eggs, with three tablespoonfuls of dry, rich cheese, grated. Beat until light. Set two omelet pans over the fire, placing in each butter the size of a walnut; when hot, divide the butter into halves; pour half the mixture into each pan and proceed as in cooking an omelet, except that the fire must be slower and the process a longer one.

It will rise to a thickness of two inches if the pans be not more than eight inches in diameter. Loosen the mixture here and there with a broad-bladed knife, and, after about five minutes, set in a hot oven for ten minutes to brown.

Baked Salt Cod.

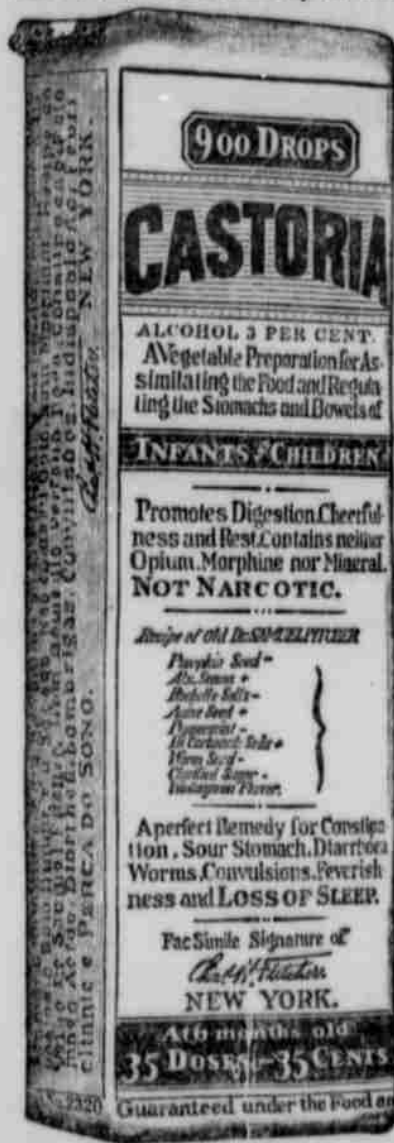

Soak salt codfish several hours in plenty of cold water, put into cold water, and simmer gently about 15 minutes. Pick into fine shreds and add the same amount of mashed potatoes. To one quart of the mixture add two rounding tablespoons of butter, one beaten egg, and beat milk to moisture. Put into a buttered baking dish, brush over with soft butter, dredge lightly with flour, and bake until brown on top. Serve with a sauce made from two level tablespoons of flour, four of butter, one cup of milk, and salt and pepper to season. Add a hard boiled egg chopped coarsely and heat well, then serve.

Date Fluff Duff.

Stone enough dates to make a cupful, stew until tender, then put through a colander. Mix with a cupful of sugar in which a teaspoonful cream of tartar has been sifted. Beat the whites of five eggs with a pinch of salt until perfectly stiff. Add the yolks of two and whip again. Now mix lightly, little by little, with the sweetened dates and turn into a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle over the top a half cupful finely chopped nut meats and bake in a moderate oven 15 minutes. Serve with cream, plain or whipped.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and A FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Truth and Quality

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing. Accordingly, it is not claimed that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the only remedy of known value, but one of many reasons why it is the best of personal and family laxatives is the fact that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts without any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

It acts pleasantly and naturally and truly as a laxative, and its component parts are known to and approved by physicians, as it is free from all objectionable substances. To get its beneficial effects always purchase the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

Selfish Etiquette.

Some rules in an old book on etiquette seem to encourage a practice commonly called "looking out for number one." Here are two of them:

"When cake is passed, do not finger each piece, but with a quick glance select the best.

"Never refuse to taste of a dish because you are unfamiliar with it, or you will lose the taste of many a delicacy while others profit by your abstinence, to your lasting regret."—Youth's Companion.

Saved From Being a Cripple for Life.

"Almost six or seven weeks ago I became paralyzed all at once with rheumatism," writes Mrs. Louis McKee, 913 Seventh street, Oakland, Cal. "It struck me in the back and extended from the hip of my right leg down to my foot. The attack was so severe that I could not move in bed and was afraid that I should be a cripple for life.

"About 12 years ago I received a sample bottle of your Liniment but never had occasion to use it, as I have always been well, but something told me that Sloan's Liniment would help me, so I tried it. After the second application I could get up out of bed, and in three days could walk, and now feel well and entirely free from pain.

"My friends were very much surprised at my rapid recovery and I was only too glad to tell them that Sloan's Liniment was the only medicine I used."

Washington Whisperings

Interesting Bits of News Gathered at the National Capital.

House Remembers Cannon's Birthday

WASHINGTON.—Speaker Cannon was 72 years old the other day, but being a presidential candidate, he was not aware of the fact until the anniversary came thick and fast, and brought tears of emotion from him. The first hint was contained in a telegram from a constituent in Danville, Ill., who is the family Bible expert for that part of the country.

"What day of the month is this, Busbey?" he asked of his secretary. "Here is a fellow who has the nerve to say I have turned another milestone."

A calendar was consulted, and "Uncle Joe" acknowledged that the boys back home had one on him. In a few minutes Mr. Busbey was called out to the corridor and notified that about the biggest floral piece ever seen in the capitol would arrive at four o'clock, and that there would be big doings in the speaker's room.

"Uncle Joe" was kept in ignorance of the arrangements, and when, at the appointed time, he was summoned from the floor of the house by the entire Illinois delegation, he was genuinely surprised.

Representatives Graff and Rainey, one a Republican and the other a Democrat, spoke felicitously and presented the floral piece, which was six feet high, of dogwood blossoms and American Beauty roses. As the speaker started to reply, a tear trickled as he said:

"The sweetest flowers of all bloom above the parting wall."

He then spoke of his long career in congress, thanked his 27 colleagues individually and collectively, and a few minutes later was called back to the floor of the house. A roll call was being taken on a motion to recess until the following day, but when it was half over Champ Clark jumped to his feet and said:

"It seems to me this is the speaker's birthday."

This was the signal for general applause, and the speaker blushed, smiled and bowed like a schoolgirl as he waited for it to subside. Then he gave voice to his appreciation.

"I move that in honor of the occasion the roll call be suspended," said Representative Macon of Arkansas. This motion was passed with a whoop and the Democratic filibuster was relaxed for a few minutes at least.

Tattooing Very Popular in the Navy

AN INTERESTING report on tattooing in the navy has been made to Secretary Metcalf by Surgeon Ammon Farenholt as a result of his observations while serving on the receiving ship Independence at the Mare Island navy yard in California.

The enlistment records of 3,572 men were examined by Dr. Farenholt, this being the enlistments on the Independence for eight and a half years. These records show that the percentage found tattooed on examination for second and subsequent enlistments was 53.61, and the percentage found tattooed on examination for first enlistment was 23.01. The opinion is expressed that about 60 per cent. of the sailors who have served over ten years in the navy are tattooed.

Dr. Farenholt says it is not fair to assume from the figures that 23 per cent. of the male citizens are tattooed, as a considerable proportion of applicants for enlistment are sea-faring men. He was surprised to find so many, probably eight per cent. of the recruits, who are tattooed and who denied having been at sea or even having lived in seaport towns. In Dr. Farenholt's opinion, the custom is more common in camps and in places where men are collected in large numbers than is imagined.

The report contains statistics regarding the location of tattoo marks and the frequency of various designs. Letters, mottoes, initials and allied devices lead the list and constitute about 26 per cent. of all ink marks. Coats of arms and national emblems follow with about 25 per cent., then flags, anchors.

President Roosevelt a Good Churchgoer

THE president is not only a good churchgoer himself, but deserves the thanks of at least two Washington preachers for his aid in boosting the size of their congregations.

With his predilection for having everything reformed it is no more than natural that his church also should bear the magic label. It is Grace Reformed, a rather small, gray stone building on Fifteenth street, not quite a mile from the White House.

Grace Reformed is not a fashionable church. The congregation is unassuming in appearance and would be decidedly modest in size if it were not for the president. He fills certainly two-thirds of the pews. So far as audiences go the preacher may have to look for lean years after March 4, 1909.

While the president fills dozens of the pews by the mere fact of his expected presence he occupies his own seat in solitary grandeur. Once in a while he goes with his wife and family to St. John's, but they don't seem inclined to reciprocate the attention. St. John's rejoices in the local title of "the church of state," and always reserves a pew for the president of the United States, though it had not been in demand for a good many years when Mrs. Roosevelt became lady of the White House.

Whether he goes to his own church or not, no one but Theodore Roosevelt, unless it is some fiend or guest accompanying him, which rarely happens, is ever seated in the president's pew at Grace Reformed. Two secret service men always accompany him, but do not sit with him.

Changed Conditions.

Poet (to farmer)—See, what a beautiful prospect is unfolded in yonder billowy fields, and hark! the voice of the plowman!

Laundry work at home would be much more satisfactory if the right Starch were used. In order to get the desired stiffness, it is usually necessary to use so much starch that the beauty and fineness of the fabric is hidden behind a paste of varying thickness, which not only destroys the appearance, but also affects the wearing quality of the goods. This trouble can be entirely overcome by using Defiance Starch, as it can be applied much more thinly because of its greater strength than other makes.

Honorable Youth.

"Here, you, sir!" cried Miss Roxley's angry papa, "how dare you show your face here again?"

"Well," replied young Nervey, "I might have worn a mask, of course, but that would have been deceitful."

That an article may be good as well as cheap, and give entire satisfaction, is proven by the extraordinary sale of Defiance Starch, each package containing one-third more Starch than can be had of any other brand for the same money.

FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR.

The News is authorized to announce that W. R. Beatty is a candidate for re-election to the office of County Surveyor, subject to the action of the democratic party.

DEMOCRACY'S CHOICE.

That Bryan will be the nominee on the democratic ticket for president is as certain as that the national democratic convention will meet in Denver, and that he has an excellent chance for election is equally true. The only conditions that make the latter result doubtful are that all governmental machinery is in the hands of the republicans and Wall Street will go its length for Taft against Bryan, and by so doing throw some of the pivotal states of the north and east into the republican column. The people want a change; they want Bryan, and the representatives of half of the population of the United States will so declare at Denver next week. Bryan will have less opposition in the democratic convention than did Taft in the republican convention; and to secure this enormous lead over all opponents he has not had the aid of a federal machine, backed by a strenuous president.

Bryan has been the leading spirit in the democratic party for more than a decade, and the manner in which the republicans have adopted many of the theories he has advocated indicates that, in advanced thought, he is the leader of both parties. He told us twelve years ago that we needed more money; his declaration was derided. His triumph came when the republican party, after eleven years of uninterrupted control of every department and the unhampered enforcement of its policies, was compelled to pass an urgency currency measure to stem the depressing tide. Bryan said that corporations had become so powerful that the life of the nation was endangered. Roosevelt's popularity mainly rests with his ability to denounce these corporations in well-rounded sentences, which he has not failed to do, after seeing the light, and his public utterances have been applauded by the people. Bryan urged an income tax, Roosevelt endorsed it, but forgot to insert it in the republican platform. Bryan said the tariff was the "mother of trusts;" that the accumulators of ill-gotten fortunes had the tariff for a basis. Roosevelt admits that the tariff is a burden on the people, urges its revision, puts the word into the mouth of his man Friday and wrote it into the republican platform; yet, while proclaiming revision a necessity, postponed the happy day until the inauguration of a new president.

Bryan, in a word, has proven to be a safe leader; one, it must be admitted, that was ahead of his time; and yet because of his advocacy of these measures, since made popular by almost universal endorsement of the people, he was called radical. Bryan represents the people, and has practically forced his theories of government on the republican party, notwithstanding the fact that a democrat has not even swept an office in a federal building for the past eleven years. Taft represents the office-holders, who were bidden to nominate him, and it is said that J. Pierpont Morgan smiled—a thing J. Pierpont is not often guilty of—when he heard of Taft's nomination.

The national democratic convention meets at Denver on the 7th, and will name the winning ticket. It will be Bryan and Johnson, or Bryan and Gray, or Bryan and Douglas, or Bryan and somebody else, you may bet your life.

Charles A. Spies, of East Las Vegas, has announced as a candidate for the republican nomination for delegate to congress. Andrews wants the renomination, and how can the "Black Eagle of San Miguel" hope to make headway against the man who claims the credit for "doing things?" The republican convention, we opine, will be run on the Pennsylvania.

The Capitan News plant is to be removed to Carrizozo at once, and the publication continued at the latter place. Carrizozo has the making of a hustling little city, and with a newspaper controlled by home people, whose policy is not directed by Santa Feans, the city will forge to the front.—Estancia News.

Thanks, brother, for the compliment, to both Carrizozo and the News.

An eclipse of the sun occurred between eight and ten o'clock on Sunday morning. The eclipse was caused by the moon passing between earth and sun. The sky was clear, and the dark shadow was easily visible through smoked glasses. Numbers of people observed it in this way, but a few who took a squint at it through colored beer bottles claim they saw several moons and two or three suns, which goes to show that it depends a great deal on the kind of glass an eclipse is observed through.

The officer got them out of the car and started them off up the track, but one of them refused to go and mixed things with the officer, downing him and striking him till his face turned black. A friend went to Kirby's assistance, pulled the hobo off, and gave Kirby a breathing spell. Kirby then went after his antagonist with a gun and more than med matters, as the hobo had several serious cuts on his head. The injured man's wounds were tended to, and a complaint filed against the officer. The case was heard before Judge Tompkins Tuesday, and at its conclusion the defendant was acquitted.

Monday morning last Ed. Harris, lives about two miles west, and killed a large lobo wolf close to his home. The old fellow apparently was pressed with hunger, wandered too far from his den in the Mal Pais in quest of food, lingered too long after sun up in the hope of running on to something good before returning, got within range of Ed's deadly weapon, and thereby hangs a tale. The scalp will net Ed. $20 and the hide about $5, and the district is benefitted by one more "good" lobo.

POTATO SCAB.

Some Suggestions for the Treatment of the Disease.

The true potato scab is a skin disease, and develops from a germ. A picture of scabby seed is shown. There will be no scab on the crop unless these germs are either in the soil when the crop is planted or on the seed. Prevention therefore depends upon two things. We should avoid planting in soil where the germs are found. If this is impossible we should handle the soil so that the germs will not be active. It seems to be settled that sulphur acts to destroy the germs. Some potato growers in places where scab is bad put sulphur in the hill or drill. When potato planters are used the sulphur is mixed in the hopper and dropped with the seed into the furrow. It helps destroy the scab and prevents the seed pieces from rotting, especially in a damp season. The scab germs develop best in an alkaline soil. Lime, wood ashes and manure are all alkaline, and will usually cause trouble when the soil is known to be well supplied with the germs. When a green crop is plowed under the soil is soured more or less, and this condition is best for scabby ground or seed. We have known farms where a five-year rotation is followed to show some curious results. One field would show far more scab than another and some seasons seem to favor the growth of scab. On those farms potatoes follow corn, and we think there is less scab when crimson clover is seeded in the corn and plowed under in spring. This seems to show that the theory about a sour soil is sound.

There are three methods of treating the seed—dusting with sulphur, soaking with some chemical to destroy the germs, and fumigation. The dusting is easiest, but not always effective. We cut the seed into peach baskets and scatter three handfuls of sulphur over the seed as it is put in. The basket is shaken down at intervals. As it stands in a paper the sulphur which falls through can be saved. For soaking formalin is now generally used. This liquid chemical, also called formaldehyde, can be bought at drug stores. The proportion is one pint of formalin to 20 gallons of water. It can be put in a barrel or large tank, depending on the amount of seed to be soaked. We use two barrels, one with the soaking liquid and the other containing clear water. The potatoes are first rinsed in the water. They are put in a coarse sack and soured up and down in the barrel. An easy way to do this is to have a pulley fastened over the barrel so that the bags can be easily raised or lowered. After rinsing the bag is lowered into the solution and kept there two hours. Then the potatoes are taken out, dried and cut. The rinsing takes off the dust, thus making the solution cleaner. Farmers have different methods of doing this soaking. The principle is to keep the seed in long enough to kill the scab germs without hurting the sprouts.

Fumigation is now used by some large growers, says the Rural New Yorker. At first experiments were tried with sulphur fumes, as they are used for fumigating houses, but this did not succeed. Now the gas from formaldehyde is used with success. Instead of soaking the seed in a solution of this chemical it is turned into a gas and held in a close room with the seed. The process is described as follows:

"For a generator a small galvanized washtub about 15 inches in diameter at the bottom was placed in the center of the room about a foot from the floor, midway between the two lines of crates filled with potatoes. When ready to use 3 1/4 ounces of potassium permanganate was spread evenly over the bottom of the tub, then four pints and one ounce of 40 per cent. formaldehyde poured over this. The tub was given one rapid tilt to entirely wet the potassium permanganate with the formalin and then the door was quickly and tightly closed from without. The almost entire absence of the odor of escaping gas while the treatment was in progress indicated that the room was practically airtight. The door remained closed for 24 hours, and when opened the gas was still so strong that it was impossible to work in the room for from 20 to 30 minutes. In fact, three weeks after the disinfection was finished a distinct odor of formaldehyde could be detected in the room. The seed for the entire 20 acres was treated in this way, care being taken to place the treated seed in barrels which had never been used for potatoes before. This is to avoid contamination in taking to the field after treatment."

This amount of the chemicals was figured for the size of the room. The rule is to use 23 ounces of potassium permanganate and three pints of formalin to each 1,000 cubic feet. Under this treatment the seed potatoes gave about as good results as when soaked. The room should be arranged so that none of the potatoes are put directly over the rising gas. It is better to fumigate before the sprouts start. Do not wet the potatoes before fumigating, but pour a small quantity of boiling water on the floor just before starting.

A DURABLE PLANT LABEL.

One Which Will Withstand the Action of the Elements.

A necessity in gardening is a plant label and the best one I have found is made from sections of lath as shown in the accompanying illustration.

Durable Plant Label.

writes a correspondent of Prairie Farmer. The cover is fastened with a single clinched brad or shingle nail, so it will swing. It is quickly and easily made and only the part protecting the name need be smooth. The name may be written in pencil or the printed name from the seed envelope may be glued on. The markers may be used many seasons, gluing fresh names over, or erasing and rewriting.

Mulching is good for all kinds of fruit, especially strawberries. It keeps the moisture in the ground when most needed, and prevents the berries from getting sandy.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous membrane of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a running ear or the perfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; this condition of the ear is caused by catarrh, which is inflamed but an inflamed condition of the mucous membrane.

WRITER OF REAL TALENT.

Evidently the Bushby Clarion Had a Genius on Its Staff.

The editor of the Bushby Clarion leaned back in his chair and surveyed his visitor with a solemn and unwinking gaze. "You want to know if there's any good reporter in this town?" he said, impressively. "Well, there is. There's Old Hobart."

"What sort of work can he do?" asked the visitor.

"His capabilities haven't had their full chance yet," said the editor, slowly, "but he's getting on, and I'm afraid we shall lose him before long. Why, last week that fellow wrote a two-column account of a fire that was thrilling, I tell you!"

"Farmhouse, old mother, grandfather born there, and so forth, I suppose?" said the visitor.

"No, sir!" said the editor. "It was a deserted hen-house, that's what it was. I can tell you, that takes talent! We can't expect to keep Old Hobart with us always."—Youth's Companion.

DR. TALKS OF FOOD

Pres. of Board of Health.

"What shall I eat?" is the daily inquiry the physician is met with. I do not hesitate to say that in my judgment a large percentage of disease is caused by poorly selected and improperly prepared food. My personal experience with the fully-cooked food known as Grape-Nuts, enables me to speak freely of its merits.

"From overwork, I suffered several years with malnutrition, palpitation of the heart and loss of sleep. Last summer I was led to experiment personally with the new food, which I used in conjunction with good rich cow's milk. In a short time after I commenced its use, the disagreeable symptoms disappeared, my heart's action became steady and normal, the functions of the stomach were properly carried out and I again slept as soundly and as well as in my youth."

"I look upon Grape-Nuts as a perfect food, and no one can gain anything but that it has a most prominent place in a rational, scientific system of feeding. Any one who uses this food will soon be convinced of the soundness of the principle upon which it is manufactured and may thereby know the facts as to its true worth." CHICKEN IN NEW STYLES.

Try the Fowl Stewed with Coconut or with Dough.

Chicken with Coconut.—Stew a chicken and remove the bones. Grate a coconut and cover it with water for ten minutes; strain it and add more water. This again should be strained through a bag of coarse cheesecloth, and the rich liquor resulting—about a pint—added to the chicken. Cook slowly a few minutes and thicken with two tablespoonfuls of flour mixed smoothly in cold water, one-half teaspoonful salt, and three teaspoonfuls of tumeric powder. Let all cook up with the chicken, then lay it on a platter surrounded by boiled rice and covered partly with gravy.

Chicken Stewed with Dough.—Another method is to mix spices, raisins, salt and butter through some partly boiled rice, and with it dress the chicken, then wrap it in dough rolled pretty thick and boil it in a cloth, not too tight, for half a day.

East Indian Pillau of Fowl.—For this is required one chicken, dressed as for boiling, and three cups of rice. Put the fowl in a stewpan with one and a half pints of broth and some spices tied in a bit of muslin. These spices may consist of two cloves, a wide stick of cinnamon, two dozen cardamoms, and one-half teaspoonful each of coriander seed, mace, and allspice—quantity and combination regulated to taste. Cook these with the fowl 20 minutes slowly. Place one-quarter of a pound of butter in a frying pan with one sliced onion, one dozen raisins, and some blanched almonds; fry till brown and strain. In the butter remaining fry the rice until brown. Strain off the butter, and by degrees add the broth until the rice is tender, then put it with the chicken and cook until it is nearly dry. Remove the spices and serve the fowl smothered in the rice, garnishing with the fried raisins and almonds, and, if liked, some hard boiled eggs and crisp slices of bacon.

TWO RECIPES FOR EGGS.

Beauregard and Japanese Are Both Recommended Dishes.

Beauregard Eggs.—Hard boil five eggs. Remove the shells; separate the whites from the yolks. Put the yolks through a sieve; chop the whites fine or put them through a vegetable press. Rub a tablespoon of butter and one of flour together; add half a pint of milk and stir until boiling; add half a teaspoonful of salt, a salt-spoon of pepper, and the whites of the eggs. Stand this over hot water while you toast five slices of bread. Arrange them neatly on a platter. Pour over the white mixture, dust over this the yolks and a little salt and pepper. Stand a moment at the oven door and after the yolks are warm send to the table.

Japanese Eggs.—Hard boil six eggs and boil carefully one cup of washed rice. When the rice is done drain in a colander and stand in the oven to dry. Remove the shells and cut the eggs into halves crosswise; take out the yolks; rub thin, adding gradually four boneless sardines, half a teaspoonful of salt, a salt-spoonful of pepper, and two tablespoonfuls of melted butter or olive oil. Roll the mixture into balls and put into the space from which the yolks are taken. Take off a little of the convex end of the whites so that they will stand. Put the rice in the center of a platter, making it flat, like a little plateau. Stand the eggs down in the rice; pour over them half a pint of cream or tomato sauce and serve.

Clean Tan Shoes.

An excellent way to clean tan or yellow shoes is to dip a woolen cloth into a small quantity of benzine or gasoline and rub same on the spots and gradually over the whole surface of the shoe to obtain an equal appearance and gloss. This will make them look like new and the benzine not only removes the spots but keeps the leather soft and pliable.

WALK 2450 MILES

BIGGEST WEST TO EAST WALK EVER ACCOMPLISHED.

Win Fifteen Hundred Dollars.

Over mountains and through snow, through wet, slush and mud, freezing at times, and oppressed by heat at others, William Jackson and R. T. Hay, two sturdy Scotchmen, walked every mile of the way from Seattle to Chicago, just arriving within a few hours of the time limit, thereby winning a purse of Fifteen Hundred Dollars given by the Seattle Athletic Club, for accomplishing this feat within the prescribed time.

Jackson and Hay left Seattle with but Five Dollars in money, were obliged to earn their way as they went and leave no unpaid bills, and complete the journey in ninety days.

An interesting incident in connection with the walk, was that each of the contestants wore a pair of the well-known Mayer shoes, that neither ripped nor lost a stitch during the entire trip of 2450 miles—the hardest test any shoes could be put to—speaking volumes for the extraordinary wearing qualities of the shoes manufactured by the F. Mayer Boot & Shoe Co., Milwaukee.

NO SKIN LEFT ON BODY.

For Six Months Baby Was Expected to Die with Eczema—Now Well—Doctor Said to Use Cuticura.

"Six months after birth my little girl broke out with eczema and I had two doctors in attendance. There was not a particle of skin left on her body, the blood oozed out just anywhere, and we had to wrap her in silk and carry her on a pillow for ten weeks. She was the most terrible sight I ever saw, and for six months I looked for her to die. I used every known remedy to alleviate her suffering, for it was terrible to witness. Dr. C— gave her up. Dr. B— recommended the Cuticura Remedies. She will soon be three years old and has never had a sign of the dread trouble since. We used about eight cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment. James J. Smith, Durmid, Va., Oct. 14 and 22, 1906."

Disposing of the Baby.

Little Freddy was the only child in the family. He had no little sisters or brothers to play with him, so when he was told that a baby sister had come, he was very happy. But he soon found that father and mother did not pay so much attention to him as they formerly had, and that baby seemed to be considered of more account than he. This worried Freddy; but he suddenly thought of something which would help him out of his trouble. Some weeks before his father had put a sign up: "Ashes to Give Away; Inquire Within." Freddy remembered that a man had come and taken the ashes away. So he got to work, and one day surprised his father by displaying another sign, hung in a prominent place: "A Baby to Give Away; Inquire of Freddy."

The extraordinary popularity of fine white goods this summer makes the choice of Starch a matter of great importance. Defiance Starch, being free from all injurious chemicals, is the only one which is safe to use on fine fabrics. Its great strength as a stiffener makes half the usual quantity of Starch necessary, with the result of perfect finish, equal to that when the goods were new.

"Whom did you say she was going to marry?"

"A Hungarian count."

"Oh, I thought you said 'hungry.'"

"My good man," said the customer, "if you hadn't mentioned it, I should never have known there was a razor on my face."

The tonsorial artist smiled delightedly. Here was a good omen indeed. "Thank you, sir," he said.

"No," added the customer, reflectively. "I should have thought you were using a file."
