KILLED AT LOGAN.

At about eight o'clock on the morning of the Fourth a rancher named Jack Hittson shot and killed a man named Bob Craig at Logan, a small town about 20 miles east of Tucumcari, the bullet entering the lower part of the stomach. The wounded man was taken to Tucumcari, but died the same evening, eleven hours after the shooting, and was buried at Tucumcari. Hittson was arrested and taken before the justice of peace who, after hearing evidence, remanded the accused without bail. Craig was unarmed, and the only way the tragedy can be explained was an old grudge rekindled by bad whiskey. The deceased was 40 years of age and had been employed on the Bell cattle ranch for about nine years. He was a brother of Will Craig of Capitan, and cousin of Sam Craig, formerly of this town but now of El Paso, both of whom were notified by wire, but failed to reach their relative before death closed his eyes.

THEY LIKE THIS COUNTY.

Messrs. Kopley and Post, of Oklahoma, whose arrival was mentioned in our last issue, after visiting various portions of Lincoln county, left on Friday's No.

4 for home. They were quite well pleased with the farming and stock possibilities of this county, particularly that section east of the divide, and opened negotiations for a farm and stock ranch before returning. They were especially pleased with the opportunities offered the sheep man and regard this as an ideal sheep country. These gentlemen have money, brains and energy—three requisites to success—and their coming means something to this section. Others will follow.

A BALL PLAYER INJURED.

A regrettable accident occurred during the progress of the ball game on the Fourth, in which Clay Van Schoyck, one of the best players on the local team, suffered a fractured leg. The accident happened by one of the Fort Stanton team colliding with him. He went down in a heap, the Stanton boy turning a complete summersault. The injured player was gently placed in a wagon and conveyed to his home, where his suffering was relieved and the injured leg, which was broken four inches above the ankle, set and put in a plaster cast. He is reported to be resting easy, but it will be two months before he can use it, and he may never be able to take his place on the diamond again. The visiting players seemed sincerely sorry for the poor fellow, and proposed that the purse be donated to him, a proposition which was immediately seconded by the home team. A considerable sum was voluntarily subscribed that evening to help to defray his expenses while laid up. Dr. Frick, J. M. Bell, and J. Van Zant, of the Fort Stanton team, stated that on their return to the Fort they would get together and make up a respectable purse for the injured ball player. Van Schoyck had been married only four days previous to the accident.

A MAN AND DOG FIGHT.

On the morning of the Fourth, while peaceably walking along Alamo avenue, a man generally known as "Scotty," tried to make friends with a vicious-looking dog that barred his way. The dog objected to the stranger's familiarity until better acquainted, grabbed him by the chin and proceeded to shake him. Both went down, rolled over a few times, the dog holding fast and "Scotty" trying for the strangle hold. It was with difficulty that the combatants were separated, both being game and anxious to continue. Two ugly holes in "Scotty's" lower jaw showed that he had been engaged in a deadly combat with a vicious fighting dog. The dog won on points, but "Scotty" believes he can turn the trick should they meet again. The wound was later cauterized, and no ill effects are anticipated.

GOING SOME.

Ira O. Wetmore drove his Reo machine from Lincoln to Carrizozo via Nogal on Monday in three hours and six minutes. Walker Hyde, the chauffeur on the larger car, returned the same day via White Oaks in a fraction over four hours. When the nature of the roads are considered, a portion being difficult even for heavy wagons, we are ready to confess that this is going some.

AN AMENDED PLAT.

Ira O. Wetmore, president of the Carrizozo Townsite Co., informs us that he has filed an amended plat of the townsite in the office of the county clerk, opening up the streets leading to Main street of the McDonald addition. This is in accordance with an agreement reached some months ago, wherein the people successfully sought to harmonize differences between townsite owners. That's right, Carrizozo is just one town, with one people.

You need the P. & O. Potato Digger not only as a matter of economy, but for results. The potato digging season comes when help is scarce and expensive, at a time when they leave the farm for the winter's work in the towns. Then is when you need labor-saving implements. At such times the P. & O. Potato Digger, on a fair-sized potato patch,

Will Pay for Itself In a Single Day.

One man with a team, and this Digger will plow up more potatoes than a dozen men with hoes, and do it better, cleaner and more thoroughly. As this digger plows deep, it goes right under the hill, and turns up all the potatoes without cutting, bruising or loss.
 The track in front is adjustable either way, and holds the digger in line. The revolving leader prevents vines from clogging the beam. The shaker under the grate causes a continuous vibration that thoroughly sifts the potatoes from the soil, leaving them all exposed on the surface. The runners under the shaker carry the digger along evenly and smoothly, and prevents the jerking so common on other diggers, and makes them so hard to control. The P. & O. Potato Digger is the only one made with these runners. And last but not least, it is strong enough to last a lifetime.
 It is a low-priced digger within the reach of every farmer, and you cannot afford to be without one. Now is the time to see about it. Ask your dealer for the P. & O. Potato Digger, and test it so getting it. Write for Beautifully Illustrated Pamphlet No. 37, of interest to every farmer, and a P. & O. Catalog, which will be Mailed Free.

NOT MUCH TRIMMING

BLOUSES BEING MADE WITH LITTLE ORNAMENTATION.

Are Tucked or Pleated According to the Liking of the Wearer—Stout Women Should Avoid Longitudinal Pleats.

Charming blouses are being made this season entirely of tucked batiste, the only trimming being the chemise, or perhaps only the collar of lace or embroidery. The omission of tucked or pleated depends largely upon the size of the wearer. The very slender woman looks very well in fairly broad pleats, and the soft batiste is always specially graceful when pleated. The stout woman, however, will find that even in such soft material when the lines are longitudinal pleats, in a blouse at least, they are decidedly menacing to a trim effect. Fine tucks, on the contrary, are becoming to all alike, and, moreover, the tucked blouse will usually stand laundering better than the pleated one. When the blouse is to be made of silk this of course does not have to be taken into consideration, and so silk blouses are being made up with these longitudinal pleats by way of obtaining a slight variation from the usual tub blouse.

The blouse shown is made in a very clever fashion to give the suggestion of the full shoulder drapery now so fashionable, and also so as to present somewhat the appearance of a jumper or surplice design. The material is laid in four pleats on each side, the outermost pleat coming so well over the shoulder that it looks almost like a cape. A round yoke is set in between these two groups of pleats. Beneath the yoke the material is also pleated.

The Button Craze.

Beware button trimming on your summer gown unless you have quantities of pretty buttons to use. Half a dozen buttons of ordinary style scattered on a blouse, and a dozen more on a skirt make no showing whatever. On the summer coat you may use two or three very large, showy buttons on the front, but if you are trimming a gown with them you must have dozens of small buttons arranged in groups or designs. Neither are plain buttons used except on severely tailored suits. The crocheted button is most popular.

Batiste and Lace Blouse.

trimming from the body of the blouse is quite a relief after such a tremendous overdoing of the heavily trimmed lingerie blouses to which we have been subjected.

As to whether these blouses shall be

DURING THE HOT WEATHER.

Special Attention Should Be Paid to Children's Garments.

Besides selecting proper material for clothing children and fitting the garments properly, it is an important matter to make them simply and of a material that will endure the frequent washing required. In hot weather, at least, no starch should be used. Care should be taken about washing children's underwear. Use good soap and thoroughly rinse before drying. No napkin or undergarment soiled by any excretion should be dried and worn again. In hot weather when the children play out-of-doors in the dirt, their garments need frequent changing and should be put on fresh each morning, at least the undergarments. They should never wear at night the undergarments worn during the day. White underwear is much more sanitary than colored, especially as there are so many cheap aniline dyes used at the present time. The special injuries to the skin from improper undergarments and poisonous dye stuffs are heat rash, pimples, boils, nettle rash and often severe itching. Cotton fabrics are so varied in texture that most of the wardrobe can be chosen from them. A few woolen outer wraps for cold weather will be required. When the baby frets from an apparent cause, examine his skin and all the creases of his body and his garments. See how happy he feels when you undress him and lay him down in a fresh clean sheet to exercise his muscles. The Master said, "The body is more than raiment;" therefore the little ones should not be made martyrs by improper clothing.—Housekeeper.

BONNET FOR SMALL GIRL.

This pretty little bonnet is made in embroidered silk, and looks best when it matches the coat with which it is worn. The ribbon strings are attached to each point under rosettes.

The Note of Green.

Green remains in the lead among the most chic wear, not as a whole costume, for instance, in a solid color, but as a single piece—a silk coat or a skirt—where the color perhaps is broken with white or those pale biscuit and pongee shades, also a parasol, as a hat or a hat trimming. When turned into pinked-out green taffeta ruchings for a hat trimming and worn with a tailor-made, green is a charming note of color for April and May. Nets and mousselines of green ruchings are used as well.—Vogue.

F. W. Brockway announces for sheriff in this issue, but his announcement came at the last moment, when space was exhausted. A more extended notice will appear next week.

A new Richmond is in the field. Judge E. A. Mann, associate justice of the territorial supreme court and presiding judge of this district, has shied his castor into the ring, and asks the nomination for delegate to congress, at the hands of the republican party. The Judge is a pleasant, affable gentleman, but we have no particular objection to him staying right where he is, and shall devote our efforts to the accomplishment of that end.

GOV. CURRY PAYS SHORT VISIT.

Gov. Curry arrived on the Capitan train yesterday, after spending several days in the lower end of the county. It was the intention to give him a reception last night, but a telegram came which caused him to take the first train to Santa Fe. While here the governor met many of his old friends and was given an automobile ride to the Bar W ranch.

PROSPECTIVE BALL GAMES.

Manager Adams of the Carrizozo nine received a letter yesterday from J. L. Van Zant, manager of the Fort Stanton team, inviting the Carrizozo boys to come to Stanton, at their convenience, to play a game of ball. Mr. Van Zant promises a good game, fair and just treatment; and the letter deals at some length with the difficulties of last Saturday's game here. The suggestion was made that the clubs agree on an impartial umpire, and also that there be little betting on the result of the game, as it has a tendency to excite partisan feeling.

Prior to the reception of this letter, however, Mr. Adams had written challenging the Fort boys to a game on the Nogal diamond on the 19th inst., for a good size purse. Which of these propositions will be accepted, or whether either will, is, of course, matters for the future; but we can frankly say, that we hope these two clubs may soon meet, more than once, too, and play the game in a sportsman-like manner, free from bickerings that characterized the last game and robbed it of all its pleasure.

In the meantime, the Carrizozo manager has matched a game, to be played on the local diamond Sunday, with the Internationals.

Zeigler Bros. have moved into their new store building on the corner of Fourth st. and Alamo-gordo ave., where they will be pleased to serve their customers.

Mrs. Lydia Cottrell and Mrs. J. S. Taliaferro left for Watseka, Illinois, on Saturday evening's Limited. Mrs. Taliaferro is the mother of Jones Taliaferro, of White Oaks; Mrs. Cottrell is her daughter, and a sister of Mr. Taliaferro.

A CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF.

In its proper place will be found the announcement of John Cole for the office of sheriff of Lincoln county, subject to the action of the democratic party. Mr. Cole came to this county from the Pecos Valley several years ago, having come to the Valley from Texas. He purchased a ranch at Picacho, engaged in the stock business, his life-long vocation, which he still follows in the Ruidoso Valley. He is recognized by all who know him as an upright, generous citizen, with a high regard for duty, and a man of incorruptible spirit. Mr. Cole has entered the race at the solicitation of friends, and promises, if chosen by the party as its standard bearer, if elected, a faithful performance of the duties of the office and a strict compliance with law and its enforcement. Lincoln county might go much further and fare worse, and we feel that if Mr. Cole is our next sheriff the executive affairs of the county will be in safe hands, and that all people will receive justice from him.

THE FOURTH AT CARRIZOZO.

A Interesting Program and a Good Time in the Grove.

From an early hour Saturday morning people began moving towards the Bar W Grove, the place selected to celebrate the Fourth. By ten o'clock there were probably five hundred people in the Grove. Automobiles, hacks, buggies, wagons, etc., were kept running all day moving people to and from the grounds. The day was an ideal one, partly cloudy, with an absence of wind, and the Grove the coolest and shadiest retreat imaginable. A brass band discoursed pleasing selections at intervals during the day. The grand feast commenced at 11:30 and lasted until one o'clock. Three fat beeves and seven muttons were barbecued to a turn, with an abundance of good coffee, bread, pickles and pies.

The bucking contest was the first event to be pulled off. There were four entries. Ed. Harris, Del Schultze, Walter Peck and Miles Peck. Harris, on a bay bronk, won first prize. Schultze, on a roan, won second. The Peck brothers gave a good exhibition of horse-taming, but their mounts lacked ginger, and they failed to win. One of them later did a bare-back stunt, for which he was awarded a special purse.

The next event was a free for all quarter mile dash. Three horses started. After considerable delay at the post, the horses were sent away on even terms. Henley on the Oswald horse took the lead which he held to the finish, winning in a walk from Gray's O V mare, ridden by A. Roberts, which beat the Barlow sorrel for second place by a substantial margin. Considerable money was wagered on the result.

The cow pony race brought out a field of five. Kelly's brown horse was first, Robert's grey was second, and the McNeil grey, which was the favorite in the betting, was third. The race was a good one, the first horse winning by a little over a length, the others coming out in a bunch. Al Roberts' grey took second money in running off the tie.

This ended the horse racing, and the crowd moved towards the diamond, where the Fort Stanton and Carrizozo teams were preparing for the fray, which ended in a draw after eleven innings, the last five being played without a score being made by either side. Considerable interest was manifested in the result, as the teams were evenly matched, and the many who backed their judgment with good and lawful coin of the realm, felt a little nervous towards the end, and were pleased when the umpire declared the game a draw and all bets off. An accident occurred in the fifth inning by one of the Stanton boys colliding with Van Schoyck, in which the latter sustained a broken leg.

The ball game being over, the people moved towards town, well pleased with the day's program, for which the committee received due credit. A ball in the evening brought the day's proceeding to pleasant termination.

Carrizozo has furnished a large portion of its male population to carry on court at Lincoln this week. Some went as jurymen—of course the attorneys went—others went as witnesses, and still others because the court requested their presence. The names, so far as we have been able to ascertain, are: A. C. Wingfield, W. J. Doering, Ira O. Wetmore, Jno. A. Haley, P. C. Baird, W. C. McDonald, W. S. Kirby, John Adams, W. F. A. Gierke, Geo. Spence, F. G. Hall, Leo Oswald, Syl G. Anderson, C. W. Hyde.

Lincoln County District Court.

A special term of district court was formally opened at Lincoln Monday morning, Judge E. A. Mann presiding. District clerk Chas. P. Downs was at his usual post, affable and attentive to the wants of the people. District attorney Mark B. Thompson was there, looking after the interests of the territory.

The grand jury was empaneled soon after court convened, Sol C. Wiener appointed foreman and the Judge's charge delivered. The members of the grand jury are:

1. J. H. Hamilton, precinct 4
2. Arthur May, " 11
3. Salamon Sanchez, " 10
4. Manuel Aragon, " 1
5. Sol C. Wiener, " 8
6. Arch Parker, " 9
7. Ramon Maes, " 2
8. A. C. Wingfield, " 14
9. Wm. S. Bourne, " 9
10. John E. West, " 12
11. Manuel Zamora, " 1
12. R. D. Armstrong, " 8
13. Margarito Silva, " 9
14. Sam G. Beard, " 6
15. W. R. White, " 11
16. W. H. Sevier, " 1
17. E. C. Watson, " 12
18. W. R. Hunnicutt, " 9
19. W. F. Bingham, " 9
20. W. J. Doering, " 14
21. Joe Coleman, " 12

The petit jury was summoned to appear Wednesday, and it was organized at once. The court began hearing motions, setting cases, etc., and the mill started to grinding; and, judging from the number of cases on the docket and the number of bills that are likely to be returned by the grand jury, the grist will most likely be a heavy one.

A number of attorneys are in attendance from adjoining districts in addition to the members of the local bar.

The ice plant is again in operation, after a week's shut-down for repairs. A big eake of ice looks good these days.

Bennett Dingwall and wife were over from the Indian agency Saturday, celebrating the Fourth with homefolks.

Roy Gumm, formerly of White Oaks, but now postmaster at Salinas, Otero county, spent a couple of days in Carrizozo this week.

Miss Margaret Prude, of Tularosa, a neice of Mrs. Ira O. Wetmore, spent the Fourth in Carrizozo, returning home Monday.

James Lee, wife and children, of White Oaks, left last Friday night for Kirkland, Texas, in response to a telegram. Mrs. Lee's parents reside at Kirkland.

The county commissioners met in regular quarterly session at Lincoln Monday. The report of the proceedings will appear in our next issue.

R. Irminger and wife and Mrs. Boom and children came over from Capitan Saturday, and broke bread with the multitude at the barbecue that day.

The dance hall on the evening of the Fourth was crowded to the doors. The visitors were made doubly welcome, and all had a delightful time.

The celebration at the old Brewery site, on the Bonito above Fort Stanton, was highly enjoyed by the many that attended. The dinner was fine, everyone had an abundance to eat and still there was a surplus.

H. D. and Geo. R. Hyde were over from Capitan Saturday and helped swell the crowd at the barbecue. They returned to Capitan the following day.

Fred Ferguson went to work Monday morning in the painting department of the Southwestern. He will remain here for a few weeks, after which he expects to be transferred to Alamogordo.

Fred Crosby, who, in the years gone by, punched cows over the ground where Carrizozo stands, was in town yesterday. Fred now has a well-stocked ranch in the Three Rivers country.

Miss Bertha Mayer came down from White Oaks Wednesday and took passage on that evening's train for Cascade, Colo., where she goes as a delegate to the western conference of the Y. P. S. C. E.

J. A. Norman exhibited a lobo hide Wednesday, the result of his markmanship. He killed the wolf near the Double Diamond ranch. He shot and knocked another over, but while going after the second one the first one made his getaway.

Fred, the 13-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Brockway, has been suffering the past week from an attack of appendicitis.

It is thought that an operation can be avoided, as the little sufferer is improving; yet the danger point has not been passed.

Jim Lee, of White Oaks, left for east Texas Saturday night with his wife and family, Mrs. Lee having received an urgent telegram from her mother requesting her presence.

Geo. L. Ulrick, vice president of the Exchange Bank, and P. M. Johnson, range foreman of the Carrizozo Cattle Ranch Co., left yesterday overland for the Palomas hot springs. They expect to be absent about three weeks.

T. W. Crow, who went to Carthage to play ball on the Fourth, returned on Tuesday. He pitched a ten-inning game for Carthage against San Marcial, for a purse of $150, and Carthage won. He was well treated by the coal diggers.

The residents of the Mesa spent a pleasant Fourth under the shade of the pines. Seven families, representing eighty people participated. A yearling was barbecued, ice cream, cold drinks and other good things were there in abundance, and an enjoyable day was spent.

A. C. Austin, an old friend of the News, was over yesterday from Angus. He met his son, who arrived on the Limited, and will visit with his parents for two or three weeks. Mr. Austin lost nearly all his fruit by the late frosts, but hopes to recoup that loss from garden and field.

CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO.

Our Guest, the Immigrant.

In the great immigration problem the main question, concerning requirements for admission, can never be satisfactorily answered, and no one can tell what the effect of immigration will be on our future national life. But on one point all are agreed—that everything should be done to make the immigrant's passage and reception as comfortable as possible. Years ago Dickens protested against the moral and physical conditions of the steerage. The worst abuses have been corrected by law and in the course of the general improvement of steamship service. The requirements of the new law, which is to go into effect the first of next January, fixing the amount of deck room and space between decks allowed for each passenger, have been met in advance in most of the ocean liners. Notable improvements also have been made in the care of immigrants after they land. At Ellis Island, the great immigration station in New York, a new dining room was opened last month, which is clean, light and cheerful. The kitchen is a model institution. There are pleasant sleeping rooms, tiled and painted white; and the newcomer is introduced to clean lavatories with the amenities of towels and soap, and has a perfect lodging for the night. Humane hospitality does not stop with material comforts, remarks the Youths' Companion. Officials are there to tell the laborer what part of the country most needs his services, to help him find his friends, to see that unprotected women are put in safe hands, to effect communication between the immigrant and the volunteer societies that are waiting to assist him and start him right in the New World. The Italian meets the agent of the bureau which his government maintains in New York. The man of other races finds that Americans from home have formed philanthropic organizations to welcome and guide him. The immigration station is necessarily a sad place; doubt, anxiety and grief are in the air. But much is being done by an efficient government and a generous people to make the reception room of the nation a hospitable, encouraging place.

Personal Equation in Success.

If you stop for a moment to analyze success in business you will see that it comes through contact with people. It is all hinged upon the manner of your contact. On every side you are surrounded by a multitude of persons, in every one of whom there exists a potential force that may be exerted, at one time or another, to add to your success. The oftener you cause that force to be exerted, says Edward Payson Hatch in the System, the faster your business will grow. You can attract these individual forces, if you choose, and get the most from them. Or you can repel them and suffer actual damage from having come in contact with them. Or you may take a middle course, as many business men do, and drift along in purely negative manner. Looking at business in this light, it is apparent that the underlying element which contributes most to the success of any undertaking, and to business in the aggregate, is the art of finding the vital points of human contact that will set in motion these forces. The personal element must be stamped upon your business.

At the National Capital

Gossip of People and Events
Gathered in Washington

Rapid Strides of Capital in Population

WASHINGTON.—The census taken recently by the police force of the District of Columbia indicates that the national capital is growing in population at an exceptional rate. The increase in inhabitants for the last year is reported as 9,812, which would mean a growth, if steadily maintained, of almost 100,000 for the current decade.

Of course such a rate of growth has not been maintained since 1900. According to the federal census of that year, Washington's population was 278,718. The population reported by the police in 1908 is 339,403, so that the increase in eight years has been 60,685. By 1910 Washington may be expected to gain at least 15,000 more inhabitants and its population to rise to about 355,000.

In its physical aspect Washington has gained enormously in attractiveness in the last eight or ten years. It is an ideal residence city, and its charms appeal most potently to Americans with leisure enough to enjoy them. It has become the winter home of families of wealth and refinement from all parts of the union, and its quiet, order and beauty make living within its borders constant satisfaction. It still has great potentialities in the way of architectural development, and its material prosperity is secured by ever-broadening activities of the great governmental machine.

Former Blacksmith a Power in Congress

BEFORE Jim Tawney got into politics up in Minnesota he was a blacksmith. He was so rough that they had to throw him down to put him into a boiled shirt, some of his warmest admirers say.

That blacksmith training proved mighty good experience for him, and, applying blacksmith methods to his congressional career, he has forged to the front so rapidly that they do say down here in Washington that if Speaker Cannon doesn't look out some day he will get run over, because Jim Tawney is coming with wonderful strides.

Tawney is the man who would be picked out at a glance as the real ward politician of the house. He is just the kind of a man the voter always finds ready to tell him how to vote at the primary; the type of man who always leads the revolt in a cut-and-dried convention—in short, the practical politician who gets out the vote.

Tawney, when he came to congress, wasn't welcomed within the big tent. He had to wait around on the outside. Then the blacksmith got busy. He just walked off the reservation, taking enough insurgent Republicans with him to spill the beans for the big five. And so it came to pass that the big fellows reckoned with Tawney, and now he is chairman of the most important committee in the house—appropriations. Hon. Jim is a fighter from Fighteraville. But he is that kind of a fighter who knows when to fight and when to let the other fellow do the fighting.

Only once has Tawney been whipped. That once came from Congressman Goebel of Cincinnati, when he got the mail carriers' pay increased, in spite of Tawney and Chairman Overstreet. The whipping didn't tickle Tawney. So, when the fight to hold down the appropriation on the agricultural bill came up Tawney quit guarding the treasury and let Scott of Kansas tackle the job. Tawney went to his committee room. The farmers wiped up the floor with Scott.

Senators Knox and Crane Real Chummy

UNITED States senators often become good friends, but somehow they are not prone to becoming real chummy with one another. Exceptions occur from time to time to prove the rule. One of these exceptions applies to Senator Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania and Senator W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts. If the afternoon wanes without their meeting, one is likely to start out to see where the other is and to learn what has happened.

Often the Knox automobile and the Crane automobile exchange honks in the morning. Not infrequently the senators ride to the capitol in the same car. When the luncheon hour comes, Senator Crane may descend to the committee on rules, perhaps herald his advent by turning out the lights in the vestibule, and then lead his crony off to the senate restaurant.

The fondness that Senators Crane and Knox evince for eating together is reminiscent of the fondness that former Senator Edmunds of Vermont and the late Senator Allen G. Thurman of Ohio used to have for drinking together. That was in the earlier days, when drinking at the capitol was not frowned upon.

All the oldsters in political Washington are fond of recalling that story, how the two senators kept a black bottle in the room of the committee on judiciary. They were certain to adjourn there twice or thrice every afternoon that the senate held a long session. It was at first a marvel why the two men seemed to have the same thought at the same moment, and began to make tracks simultaneously from different parts of the senate chamber—one being a Democrat and the other a Republican—toward that committee room.

It turned out that they had prearranged signals. The "Old Roman's" signal was to pull out that famous red bandanna handkerchief and to blow his nose with clarion loudness.

A KENTUCKY CASE.

That Will Interest All Suffering Women.

Mrs. Della Meanes, 328 E. Front St., Maysville, Ky., says: "Seven years ago I began to notice sharp pain in the kidneys and a bearing down sensation through the hips, dull headache and dizzy spells. Dropsy appeared, and my feet and ankles swelled so I could not get my shoes on. I was in misery, and had despaired of ever getting cured when I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills. One box helped me so much that I kept on until entirely cured."

BAD ITCHING HUMOR.

Limbs Below the Knees Were Raw—Feet Swollen—Sleep Broken—Cured in 2 Days by Cuticura.

"Some two months ago I had a humor break out on my limbs below my knees. They came to look like raw beefsteak, all red, and no one knows how they itched and burned. They were so swollen that I could not get my shoes on for a week or more. I used five or six different remedies and got no help, only when applying them the burning was worse and the itching less. For two or three weeks the suffering was intense and during that time I did not sleep an hour at a time. Then one morning I tried a bit of Cuticura. From the moment it touched me the itching was gone and I have not felt a bit of it since. The swelling went down and in two days I had my shoes on and was about as usual. George B. Farley, 50 South State St., Concord, N. H., May 14, 1907."

That Woman's Fault.

"That woman next door is really dreadful, John," said a young married woman to her husband. "She does nothing but talk the whole day long. She cannot get any work done, I'm sure."

"Oh," remarked the husband. "I thought she was a chatterbox. And to whom does she talk?"

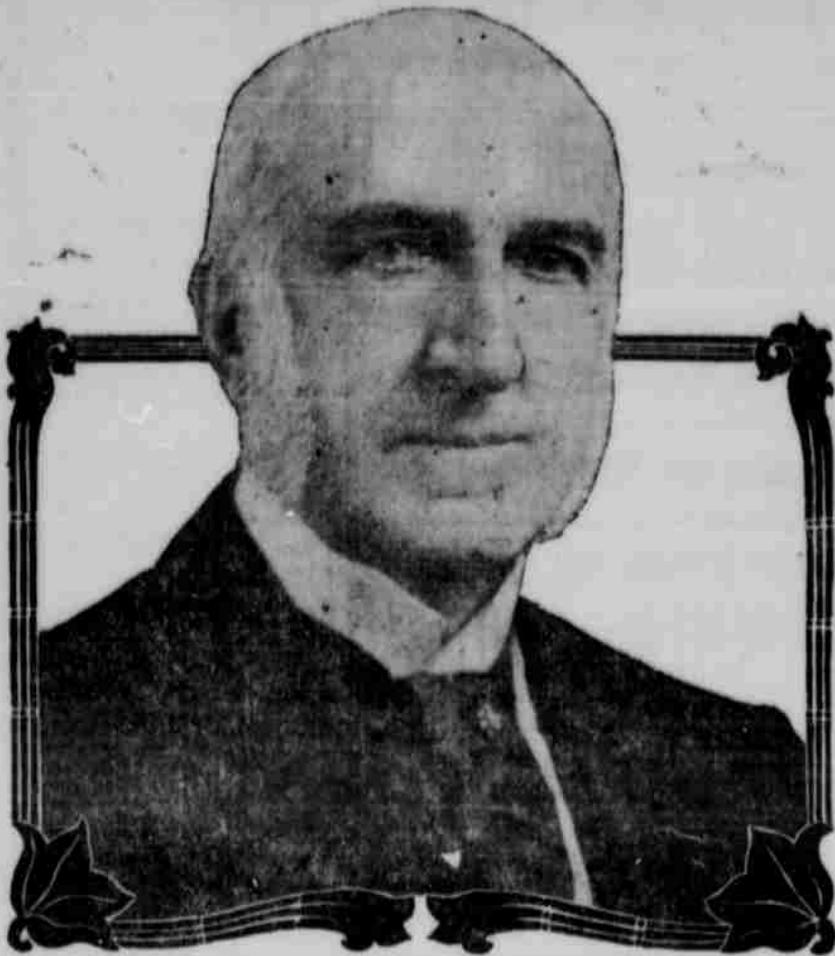

"Why, my dear, to me, of course," was the reply. "She talks to me over the fence."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, etc. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Ancient City of Thebes.

The city of Thebes had a hundred gates and could send out at each gate 10,000 fighting men and 200 chariots—in all, 1,000,000 men and 2,000 chariots.

SENATOR FROM NEW YORK

United States Senator Chauncey M. Depew of New York is perhaps more intimately known to the people than any other man, excepting those who have been elected president. Senator Depew, before his election to the senate in 1899, had represented the Vanderbilts in the huge financial affairs of that family for many years, and was president of the New York Central road for a long time.

M'KINLEY'S WATCH.

TIMEPIECE WORN WHEN HE WAS SHOT TREASURED BY NEPHEW.

Prominent Resident of Fort Worth, Tex., Falls Heir to Historic Relic —Is Magnificent Example of Goldsmith's Art.

Fort Worth, Tex.—It was discovered the other day that the heavy gold watch which was carried by President William McKinley when he was shot by the anarchist, Czolgosz, at Buffalo, is owned and in the possession of a Fort Worth man, a nephew of the victim of the assassin's bullet.

The nephew is A. J. Duncan, secretary and general manager of the Citizens' Light and Power company. He is a son of one of President McKinley's two sisters. His mother, Mrs. A. J. Duncan, was formerly Miss Sarah E. McKinley. She now lives at the family house in Cleveland, O., with the other sister. Both women are more than 70 years old.

It had long been the understanding in the McKinley and Duncan families that A. J. Duncan was to receive William McKinley's watch, as a cousin inherited the grandfather's timepiece, but none of the members of the two families had any idea of what tragic circumstances the watch would fall into Mr. Duncan's hands.

After the Buffalo tragedy and the subsequent death of President McKinley the watch was left in the possession of Mrs. McKinley until her death, more than a year ago. Then it was turned over to Mr. Duncan, as had been originally understood. The watch, until a few weeks ago, remained with Mr. Duncan's mother in Cleveland.

Shortly after his election to the presidency the first time Mr. McKinley had the watch specially made for him in Canton, O. While not a large watch, it is heavy, as it contains a large amount of gold decoration. The timepiece is open-faced, with gold numbers embossed on the face.

On the rear of the watch is the national emblem, an eagle supporting a shield bearing 13 stars. The figure is not engraved, but is embossed on the back of the watch. The whole watch is the result of careful and painstaking workmanship and is a magnificent example of the goldsmith's art. Attached to a beautifully rolled gold link chain is a black ivory seal with President McKinley's monogram.

Mr. Duncan is attached to the watch by many ties. Not only is it for him a family heirloom, but it is a relic of historic value. He keeps the watch carefully guarded.

All of President McKinley's personal effects are now in the possession of members of the Duncan family. Most of them are in their Cleveland and New York homes. The collection embraces the president's books, paintings, furniture, and everything which was intimately connected with his private life. In the course of time Mr. Duncan expects to have many of the books and art subjects brought to his Fort Worth home.

THREE-LEGGED COLT BORN.

Freak Foaled at Pittsfield Has Also Feet Like Deer's.

Pittsfield Mass.—A three-legged colt, with hoofs like a deer, was born in the stable of Charles H. Prout.

The head and body are perfect, but the left front leg is missing. The single front leg is in the usual place on the right side. It is shaped like that of a deer. The rear legs are like those of a deer from the hock down and they have cloven hoofs. The feet at the ankles are turned upward and backward, so that it will be practically impossible for the animal to stand.

Mr. Prout was offered $200 by a traveling salesman for the freak, but refused. It was put on exhibition at the Prout stables and an admission of ten cents is being charged. All day people from all parts of the city go to the Prout stable.

NEW WHAT THE JOB MEANT.

Angry Citizen Put Ordeal Up to Street Car Company.

Not long ago there entered the office of the superintendent of a trolley line in Detroit an angry citizen, demanding "justice" in no uncertain terms.

In response to the official's gentle inquiry touching the cause of the demand, the angry citizen explained that on the day previous as his wife was boarding one of the company's cars, the conductor thereof had stepped on his spouse's dress, tearing from it more than a yard of material.

"I can't see that we are to blame for that," protested the superintendent. "What do you expect us to do, get her a new dress?"

"No, sir, I do not," rejoined the angry citizen, brandishing a piece of cloth. "What I propose is that you people shall match this material."—Harper's Weekly.

"Helpful Hints" That Hinder.

Many of the "helpful hints" followed by our mothers are now proved utterly useless, if not more harmful than helpful. For instance, no one now uses moist tea leaves to clean a carpet or rug, because of the inevitable staining. And salt used on a carpet collects dampness and rusts the tacks. Newspapers, dampened and torn, answer the purpose much more satisfactorily. Rugs should be shaken from the sides, for the strain of the weight on the end is very apt to loosen the welt.

A Poor System.

Eustace Miles, the noted English athlete and food expert, said at a recent vegetarian dinner in Chicago:

"They who, with rich sauces and exciting meats, weaken their digestion in the effort to strengthen their bodies, practice a very poor system indeed.

"Such people are like the embarrassed motorist who pawned his automobile in order to raise $250 for a new set of tires."

THE FIRST TASTE

Learned to Drink Coffee When a Baby.

If parents realized the fact that coffee contains a drug—caffeine—which is especially harmful to children, they would doubtless hesitate before giving the babies coffee to drink.

"When I was a child in my mother's arms and first began to nibble things at the table, mother used to give me sips of coffee. As my parents used coffee exclusively at meals I never knew there was anything to drink but coffee and water.

"And so I contracted the coffee habit early. I remember when quite young, the continual use of coffee so affected my parents that they tried roasting wheat and barley, then ground it in the coffee-mill, as a substitute for coffee.

"But it did not taste right and they went back to coffee again. That was long before Postum was ever heard of. I continued to use coffee until I was 27, and when I got into office work, I began to have nervous spells. Especially after breakfast I was so nervous I could scarcely attend to my correspondence.

"At night, after having coffee for supper, I could hardly sleep, and on rising in the morning would feel weak and nervous.

"A friend persuaded me to try Postum. My wife and I did not like it at first, but later when boiled good and strong it was fine. Now we would not give up Postum for the best coffee we ever tasted.

"I can now get good sleep, am free from nervousness and headaches. I recommend Postum to all coffee drinkers.

PICTORIAL MAP OF DENVER.

Shows Important Buildings So That They Can Be Easily Recognized.

The new map of the city of Denver, copies of the original drawings of which have been on exhibition and which have attracted much attention because of the careful and accurate portrayal of the city, has just been issued from the office of the Bird's-Eye-View Publishing Company of this city.

The map, which is a pictorial representation of Denver, looking south from the Twenty-third street viaduct and printed in eight colors, is one of the most complete, accurate and artistic representations ever made of any city. Every building is so carefully and accurately pictured that no one living in the city need have any difficulty in finding on the map the exact house in which he lives.

In the downtown sections the principal buildings are so faithfully portrayed that they can easily be recognized from their appearance, but for the benefit of those who are unfamiliar with the city, the names of several hundred of the principal hotels, business houses, schools, churches and office buildings are designated on the buildings themselves. In addition to this there is a marginal index, with thirty-two reference figures at the bottom and top of the map and all the letters of the alphabet at the sides. By the aid of these about 500 of the principal buildings and points of interest in the city can be located in the shortest possible time.

The work is done in several colors, so carefully selected and placed that the perspective of the city is brought out in the best possible manner, considering the extent of the undertaking. The map is in reality a huge picture of the city.

In the margin are found thirty-four photographs of the most important buildings and places of interest in the city, including the new auditorium, the state capitol, the union depot, the Union stockyards and the City park. The picture map is printed on a sheet 64 by 44 inches in size.
