DISTRICT COURT.

The first trial of a criminal nature heard at the present term of the Lincoln county district court, came up for trial Monday of this week. The defendants were Felix and Jose Perea, brothers, charged with assault to kill and assault with a deadly weapon. During the taking of the testimony the district attorney entered a nolle prosequi of the graver charge, and the case proceeded. The case went to the jury at 10 o'clock in the evening, and under instructions of the court returned a sealed verdict about one o'clock. The verdict was read next morning, and it was that Felix was not guilty and that Jose was guilty as charged, with a recommendation for clemency.

Practically all of last week was devoted to the disposition of civil matters, in which the services of the petit jury were not required. One civil case of a minor nature was heard before a jury last week a horse being the stake and replevin the nature of the case.

The grand jury has been running along, returning quite a number of indictments and turning off a large volume of business. When the News man left Lincoln Tuesday morning, thirty-five true bills had been returned, and nineteen no bills. A great number of the indictments are for minor infractions of the law. The grand jury expected to conclude its labors and adjourn yesterday.

A BOLD ROBBERY.

Sometime Friday night a room in the hotel annex, in which a large amount of painting material was stored, was broken into, and a considerable portion of the stuff stolen. The robbery was discovered the following morning, and on investigation it was found that 100 pounds of white lead, four bolts of canvas and about twenty rolls of wall paper were missing. The padlock with which the door was fastened was either picked or broken off and was missing. Wagon tracks showed that two trips had been made to the annex during the night. The tracks of a man wearing large-sized shoes, leading from the annex to where the wagon stood, were visible next morning. Where the stuff was taken to is not known, as all trace of the wagon disappeared when it reached the open street. The material belonged to the painting department of the railroad company, and was placed in the annex for the convenience of the painters who are painting and papering the railroad hotel. The thief might have helped himself to oils, colors, brushes, etc., but probably did not need them, and took just what he did need and no more. The officers are working on two different clues, one is that the stuff was taken out of town in a wagon, and the other is that the wagon was only used as a blind, and that the material is still here. In either case they believe they will recover the property and land the thief.

A PATHETIC DEATH.

The wife of F. M. Johnson died Saturday morning, aged 30 years, after a lingering illness extending over five years, and the remains were interred the same afternoon in the local cemetery. She came here from southeast Missouri about four months ago in the hope that a change of climate would help her, but became worse and sank gradually from her arrival until death ended her suffering. She leaves, besides a husband, a boy about seven years and an infant about eight months, who will have to start out on their journey through life heavily handicapped, without the influence and advice of a mother to guide their footsteps along the life's thorn-strewn highway. A father, no matter how good, cannot take the place of a mother. It is a pitiable case, and deserving the sympathy of some philanthropically-inclined person who would take charge of the children, educate them and give them an even start in life's race. The husband and father desires us to express his gratitude to the kind people of Carrizozo who assisted in looking after his helpless little ones and nursing his wife during her last illness.

FINE RAINS.

Almost every portion of Lincoln county has been blessed with good rains the past week, although in each instance they have been local, not general. On Monday a fine rain fell at Lincoln and below, and the Ruidoso country also had a good wetting. Monday night rain fell in various sections of the county, the lightest fall being around Capitan. A very heavy rain fell at White Oaks Tuesday, and at Carrizozo and the nearby mountains the fall was heavy. Almost every day a shower falls in some parts of the county, and the indications are that the general season of moisture has made its appearance, and all nature will smile.

CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO.

Some of the great Atlantic liners employ 150 firemen.

Japan is steadily increasing her exports of Jirikishas.

Everybody will rejoice to hear that the hens are laying only strictly fresh eggs this year.

Bulls created a scare lately in a street in Mexico. They do that regularly in a street in New York.

When a man says that he never objects to fair criticism he means usually that he doesn't protest against compliments.

We are glad to announce that in spite of the recent stringency the regular spring demand for fishhooks is as brisk as ever.

The famous automobile racers around the world seem to do pretty well when they are loaded into a railroad car or a steamship.

German leads the world in the production of beet sugar, British India in cane sugar and the United States in millionaire sugar refiners.

Judging by the thickness of the dust on the farmhouses so early in the season there appears to be no diminution this year in the popularity of the automobile.

At Maysville, Ky., high school students are striking because they do not like the new teacher. That unfortunate instructor should beware of juvenile night riders.

A large and very fine wildcat has been captured alive in eastern Ontario. This seems to put the quietus on the theory that all these animals are located around Cobalt.

Why not put the anarchists in a nice large field and give them plenty of bombs to play with? The field would be well plowed when they were through, not to mention such a thing as fertilized.

How is this for a verbatim copy of a personal in the Boston Transcript: "Italian duke, agreeable manners, desires continuous wireless correspondence with American lady of means. Object Maccaroni."

Announcement is made that the drought has so affected the Cuban sugar crop that the yield will show a marked falling off. As a result American refiners will be compelled to import large quantities of supplies from Europe, where the beet sugar industry flourishes. Is this not a hint to Americans? asks the Troy (N. Y.) Times. If the old world makes a conspicuous success of beet sugar production, why cannot our people do the same thing?

Plans are maturing for the erection of a statue of Alexander Hamilton in Washington. It is rather curious that the intellectual prodigy whom Mr. Bryce characterizes as "the greatest constructive statesman of the nation" should be represented at the capital by no monument, when so many lesser men appear in marble or enduring bronze. Perhaps, however, it will be hard to make a monument which would overtop his own great work, the "Federalist."

Are slovenliness and general lack of neatness in one's dress and person signs of irrationality and incompetence? If so, it behooves all testators to beware of their raiment and of their personal cleanliness. Future contestants of their last wills and testaments may be watching them and taking notes of their appearance and manner of comporting themselves. Besides, personal neatness in man or woman is an attraction, and it costs nothing but a little care.

ROUND THE CAPITAL

Information and Gossip Picked Up Here and There in Washington.

Attorney General Is a Stay-at-Home

WASHINGTON. — Attorney-General Charles J. Bonaparte is an American who never has passed out of the dominion of Uncle Sam and who has registered a vow never to do so. When Mr. Bonaparte accepted a position in President Roosevelt's cabinet he made known this limitation on his usefulness and took the place only on condition that his official duties should never oblige him to leave the United States. Just why the attorney general has determined never to visit an alien land no one can say positively, though it is easily surmised that he makes this protest against the way in which his maternal grandmother was treated by the great Corsican. During the lifetime of the elder brother, Col. Jerome Bonaparte, Charles Bonaparte frequently was invited to Paris by the head of the family, then in his prime, Napoleon III., but he always disdained to notice the invitation to join a family circle which frowned on American affiliations.

Mrs. Bonaparte has been a sufferer from a peculiar digestive trouble for many years, and she frequently has been ordered to the German spas for treatment. Mr. Bonaparte has urged her to go, but has refused to be persuaded into accompanying her. As she is a devoted wife of the old-fashioned type who would not appreciate a sojourn in Europe without her husband, Mrs. Bonaparte has been compelled to get what aid she could at American springs.

All the world knows how keenly disappointed the indomitable Elizabeth Patterson was when her only son decided to marry an American, Miss Williams of Baltimore, when she had chosen his princely cousin Charlotte Bonaparte for his consort. Rumor has it that Miss Williams, afterward mother of the present attorney-general of the United States, had reason to know of her august mother-in-law's sentiments regarding her. Charles Bonaparte emphasizes the fact that he at least of the American branch of the great Corsican's family is proud of being the only American, and he is so deep-dyed in his love of his native country that he will not leave her soil even for a brief visit.

Senator's Neck Broken 35 Years Ago

SENATOR MONEY of Mississippi has lived 35 years with a broken neck and did not know it until the other day. Not until he went to a physician for treatment for neuralgia, from which he suffered for years, did he learn of his real condition.

At the first battle of Franklin, in April, 1863, Mr. Money was a cavalryman in the confederate service. While riding through the streets he was struck by a bullet that circled around his ribs, doing no other injury. The shock was such that Mr. Money was thrown from his horse and struck on his head. Being helpless he was captured and taken within the federal lines. He did not ask for hospital treatment, was exchanged later, rejoined his troop and fought until the war closed.

Years passed and Mr. Money entered the senate. Neuralgia had taken a firm hold of him and his eyesight had grown so bad as to approximate blindness. He was advised to try osteopathy. He went to New York, accompanied by his son. Almost the doctor's first remark was:

"Why, senator, you have had your neck broken. I would say you were thrown from a horse and sustained the broken neck."

"That is just exactly what did happen," replied Senator Money, recalling the injury at Franklin.

"I can cure your neck," said the physician; "it will require but a moment's time."

The osteopath laid the senator on a table, took hold of the misplaced vertebra with both hands and put it into proper position.

The physician told Senator Money that he must take precautions until the weakened muscles regained their normal strength. He was cautioned not to turn his head in looking at anything, but to move his entire body. These instructions were observed and the neck apparently became as strong as it was 35 years before the operation.

LaFollette's Wife a Real Help to Him

IT is quite the ordinary thing to say that the wife of a politician is his adviser. The politician likes to have it said, for there is a sort of sentiment which attaches to it which appeals to the people. The statement is not always true, but in the case of Senator and Mrs. LaFollette of Wisconsin it is, for Mrs. LaFollette is a keen judge of conditions.

The wife the senior senator from the Badger state met the man who became her husband at the University of Wisconsin. She was Miss Belle Case, and her intellectual attainments first attracted Mr. LaFollette. A story told of their student days is as follows:

"Mr. LaFollette's great gift was that of oratory. He tried for all the prizes in sight, and had the air of a man who thought he could win. Miss Case had some oratorical talents of her own, and began to cultivate them early and late. She won in the end, for the special prize for oratory at graduation came to her and not to the man who later became her husband."

It was not long, however, before the would-be winner of the prize won the winner, and they were married shortly after their graduation from the university in 1879.

Mrs. LaFollette is very domestic, and the social life at Washington has little or no attraction for her.

The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

FASHIONS FOR THE FAIR

IN THE NEW GOWNS

ELABORATE TRIMMING A DISTINCTIVE FEATURE.

Soutache and Heavy Cotton Braid Much Used—Tassels and Laces Also Are Combinations Popular with the Fashionable.

"If the new summer gowns have a conspicuous note at all this year, it is in their trimmings, which seem to stand out in bold relief," says Grace Margaret Gould, in Woman's Home Companion. "Much soutache in all widths and heavy cotton braid are used, in white and dyed to match the fabric. In the skirt-and-coat suits the outline of the coat is shown by the line of braiding, and either braid or buttons not infrequently trim the back.

"Tassels are very much used wherever a place for them can be found. The heavy and the fine laces are fashionable in combination for trimming both gowns and separate blouses.

"Very narrow satin platings are much used as a trimming for silk voile and net gowns. They are often introduced in some brilliant shade, such as empire green, on a gown of neutral tint. Platings of this style frequently simulate a bib effect on the bodice and outline a tunic effect in the skirt.

"Buttons are used not only where they are needed, but where they are not needed on the new gowns. For the tailored suits there are the fabric-covered buttons and the braid buttons.

"The white and colored cotton crochet button is extremely high style, and for lingerie waists there are the new pearl buttons."

BLOUSE FOR YOUNG GIRL.

Here is quite a simple little blouse of muslin veiling, smartened up by braces of chine ribbon; these are edged each side with narrow lace, and have revers turning over from bust to waist, which are also edged with lace. The sleeve bands are finished with three lace frills.

Materials required: 1 1/4 yard veiling 40 inches wide, 2 1/4 yards ribbon, about 1 dozen yards lace.

Our Daily Due.

No day can come or go without enriching us to the full extent to which we have developed our capacity to receive.—Charles B. Newcomb.

PINAFORE MODEL FROM PARIS.

Ideal Costume Adapted to the Needs of School-Girl.

It is small wonder that we cleave with unusual pertinacity to the two most convenient modes that we were ever favored to enjoy—viz: the kimono and pinafore styles of bodice.

For school-girls especially the latter is so perfectly practical from every aspect, that it will be a sorry day when it departs from us.

A very fascinating evolution of the pinafore idea is set forth in our sketch, which had its inspiration in a Paris model, and even in its simplified form as here shown, retains a chic that should charm.

TO BE WORN ON STREET.

Pongees and Rajas are to Be Favorites of Season.

Forenoon costumes permit far greater varieties of style, as well as scope, in making. Short skirts remain a settled fact in both transparent voiles or wool fabrics, as well as in washable materials, which more often are sent to the cleaners instead of the tub. Except for July and August days of scorching heat, cottons and linens will have to give way to pongees and rajahs, which are more to the fore than ever, both in robe styles and in the plain unfigured variety. The former are made up with short border skirts and furnished with all-over waists, either of lace or lingerie, with coat to match in the unfigured pongees or rajah. The coats have a narrow V-opening in front, and below three covered buttons follow for fastening, while from the third button the coat fronts are slanted off abruptly. A narrow turned-over collar of the robe patterned silk finishes the neck. It is seen also as inset for the narrow flat cuffs to the long sleeves, and a touch of the same defines the flaps of the side pockets, on the fronts, half way down the jacket skirt. The figure lines of this short coat depend upon the seams, which start from the shoulders, back and front. This same model answers for linens and twills.—Vogue.

MARK TWAIN ON MONEY.

Humorist Points Out What He Considers Some Wrong Conceptions.

Mark Twain said that the financial panic has caused a wrong idea of the use and value of money.

"The spendthrift says that money, being round, was made to roll. The miser says that, being flat, it was made to stack up. Both are wrong.

"Strangely wrong, too, in their ideas about money are the veteran Australian gold diggers. These simple old fellows, though worth perhaps a half million or more, live in the simple dug-outs and shanties of their lean early days.

"Once, lecturing, I landed at an Australian port. There was no porter in sight to carry my luggage. Seeing a rough-looking old fellow leaning against a post with his hands in his pockets, I beckoned to him and said: 'See here, if you carry these bags up to the hotel I'll give you half a crown.'

"The man scowled at me. He took three or four gold sovereigns from his pocket, threw them into the sea, scowled at me again, and walked away without a word."

HER PROTECTOR.

"Here, nurse! Who's that young chap that's always following you around? I he a beau of yours?"

"Oh, no, sir. Dat's Jimmie Hawkshaw, de detective. I hires him to protect me from kidnapers an' things!"

And the Moon Man Laughed.

They were jogging along the old road and cupid was so busy that the young man dropped the lines either side of the runabout. It was then that the wise old nag turned laxly around.

"What are you looking at?" queried the owl by the roadside.

"I am reading between the lines," laughed the old nag as she gave a horse laugh and showed her long yellow teeth.

FIT THE GROCER

Wife Made the Suggestion.

A grocer has excellent opportunity to know the effects of special foods on his customers. A Cleveland grocer has a long list of customers that have been helped in health by leaving off coffee and using Postum Food Coffee.

He says, regarding his own experience: "Two years ago I had been drinking coffee, and must say that I was almost wrecked in my nerves.

"Particularly in the morning I was so irritable and upset that I could hardly wait until the coffee was served, and then I had no appetite for breakfast, and did not feel like attending to my store duties.

"One day my wife suggested that inasmuch as I was selling so much Postum there must be some merit in it and suggested that we try it. I took home a package and she prepared it according to directions. The result was a very happy one. My nervousness gradually disappeared, and today I am all right. I would advise everyone afflicted in any way with nervousness or stomach troubles, to leave off coffee and use Postum Food Coffee." "There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

No man ever reaped any more happiness than he was willing to sow.

"Our Barbarous Fourth."

Mrs. Isaac L. Rice, founder and president of the New York Society for the Suppression of Unnecessary Noise, declares—basing her claim on reliable, if grim, figures—that our Fourth's statistics "probably furnish a sadder commentary on human folly than that afforded by any other celebration in the world." The June Century will publish her condemnation of "Our Barbarous Fourth," with her suggestions for a wiser and safer observance of the national holiday. Dr. R. O. Beard, of the University of Minnesota, will have an article in the same number on the pathological aspects of "Noise" and an editorial article will treat of "Offenses to Ear and Eye."

A Feast of Memory.

Mrs. De Breeze (of Chicago)—"Now, that I am divorced again, I don't know whether to resume the name of my last husband, or the one before the last, or the one before him, or the one—"

Friend—"Why not resume your maiden name?"

Mrs. De Breeze—"That's a good idea. I believe I will, if I can remember it."

THE NOMINEES AND PLATFORM.

The democratic national convention finished its labors at Denver last Friday and adjourned.
W. J. Bryan, of Nebraska, as was announced in our last issue, was named for the presidency on the first ballot, receiving 892½ votes to Johnson's 46 and Gray's 59½. John W. Kern, of Indiana, was nominated for vice president by acclamation. A strong platform was adopted; yet its strength lies in its clear cut phrases with an absence of radicalism; and withal a plain, substantial declaration of principles, without dodging or equivocation, and barren of meaningless expressions. We may have occasion, from time to time, to quote from the Denver platform and compare the extracts with the expressions of that of the republicans adopted at Chicago; but shall not attempt to reproduce it in its entirety, as space will not permit.

The platform and candidates have been enthusiastically received by all sections of the country, with the exception of the extreme east, and even there the action of the convention has been ratified; yet the leaders are making few promises in that section. Labor leaders and laboring men are very much pleased with the declarations of the platform, and the candidates have been assured that labor will cast its fortunes with democracy. Capital, while dealt with in strong terms, has nothing to fear from the declarations in the democratic platform, if honestly acquired and legitimately directed; but unlawful combinations and trusts are denounced, and this class will bitterly oppose the election of the democratic nominees; for they realize that they must go out of business if the democrats succeed. They do not fear Taft, and herein lies the difference between the two men.

Every man who clings to the Roosevelt ideas can certainly say little against Bryan. The "interests" denounce both Roosevelt and Bryan, and yet Taft says he will carry out Roosevelt's policies. In view of the fact that the combinations of wealth that denounce Roosevelt and Bryan and are Taft's heartiest supporters indicates that the ex-secretary is just talking when he proclaims his intention of carrying out Roosevelt's policies. These "interests" and all men know where Bryan stands, and that is the reason corporations will try to defeat him. Their support of Taft must convince anyone open to conviction that Taft is not a sincere advocate of Roosevelt's policies. This seems the only logical conclusion.

The republican territorial convention will be held at Santa Fe on the 18th of August.

Chief Engineer J. L. Campbell was up from El Paso yesterday, looking after conditions along the line.

Cantaloupe shipments from California have about ceased, but trains are now passing through with similar shipments from Arizona points.

The material for ballasting the track will be slag from the El Paso smelter. The work train will begin hauling the material next week.

Firemen Gwin and Dozier were sent to Tucumcari yesterday. They will be chalked up on the extra board and run out of Tucumcari.

O. Sadler, special agent, came up from El Paso Sunday. He went to Lincoln Monday, returned the following day and went up the line.

The work train is still in the vicinity of Three Rivers, repairing bridges and raising the roadbed. The raise in some places is as much as ten feet.

C. E. Wheeler and his crew, who have been painting company buildings here for the past month, expect to complete their work and go to Alamogordo next week.

W. K. Collier, clerk in the general foreman's office, who is visiting at Childress, Texas, writes that he will return about the first of August. He says he is having the time of his life.

A WATCH PRESENTED.

The Daily Standard, published at Imperial, California, contains the following item concerning an old-time citizen of Lincoln county, who left here five years ago:

"Mrs. J. H. Weber left for the coast this morning to remain indefinitely, having disposed of her household goods. Before leaving Mrs. Weber presented through the Golden Rule Chapter Order of Eastern Star the gold watch and chain belonging to her deceased husband, Lieut. J. H. Weber, to Marshal John M. Keith. Mr. Keith was an intimate friend of Lieut. Weber's and the presentation was a token of friendship existing between the two friends. Mrs. Weber also desired to show her appreciation of the efforts shown by Marshal Keith in the part he has taken in enforcing the liquor ordinance of Imperial."

The ladies of the M. E. church will give an ice cream social on Thursday, July 23, afternoon and evening, in Wetmore's hall.

John Grayson came in on No. 1 from Tucumcari this morning. His family has been visiting Charles Henley's family the past month. John looks as jolly as of yore, but not quite as fleshy.

Mrs. W. D. Gray and children returned last night from Mineral Wells, Texas—one day late. The doctor was called in yesterday, but the old gentleman is better this morning, and the family feels confident of his ultimate recovery.

The American Title and Trust company—see their new ad in this issue—has filed articles of incorporation. The company's place of business is Lincoln and territorial agent is Peter A. Schmidt; capital stock $3,000, and the incorporators Wm. F. A. Gierke, Carrizozo; Peter A. and Minnie A. Schmidt, Lincoln.

SAVED BY A BURRO.

Sol C. Wiener, foreman of the grand jury, is maintaining his reputation as an entertainer of the fair sex, even though the cares of state hang heavily on his shoulders. An automobile went from Carrizozo to Lincoln Monday, the passengers intending to return that evening; but the foreman heard the honk, honk of the incoming car, adjourned the session of the grand jury, drafted the chauffeur and his car and commanded the former occupants to await his return, they protesting mildly.

By the time the auto had received its burden of fair freight, by the way, the only kind the foreman really likes to please, the evening sun was sinking; but nothing daunted, the intrepid foreman ordered the driver to turn the machine down the river. Notwithstanding the severe strain on the the machine, going from Carrizozo to Lincoln, it obeyed the hand of its operator and struck a gait that made the foreman smile and the ladies gasp for breath.

The beautiful Fritz ranch was reached in safety, and the foreman got busy showing his fair friends the fields of waving grain and alfalfa, the fat, sleek stock, dispensing with lavish tongue his knowledge of rural life. These sights, in the growing darkness, however, began to pall; and the foreman, ever ready to please, shouted "All aboard for Lincoln!" The nose of the machine was turned up the river—there dates the beginning of the foreman's troubles. The chauffeur coached the machine with crank and lever; he also used gentle language to persuade it to move; but to no avail; its overworked mechanism would not respond to the touch of the driver, and things began to take on a sky blue color. The crowd was up against it; it was dark; it was raining, and Lincoln, their destination, was somewhere in the distance. They were confronted with a condition and not a theory. What was to be done?

The fertile brain of the foreman was working over-time, and he at last announced a solution. They would go to the Fritz home, seek shelter for the night and in the morning secure some means of reaching Lincoln. In response to their request for shelter, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Fritz, who are among Lincoln county's best people, replied, that, out of consideration for ladies and their plight, they would house them for the night, notwithstanding the doubtful standing of their escort; but that under no condition would the foreman be accommodated in their home. The ladies accepted the offer and the foreman, crestfallen, turned away, thinking a reclining position in the auto would be his for the remainder of the night. The dulcet tones of a Rocky Mountain canary—colloquially a burro—perforated the mist-laden atmosphere and afforded an inspiration. Cutting a club, for both a guide and persuader, the music-making animal was easily caught, mounted and the start made for Lincoln. He reached Lincoln, safe, if not sound, before the sun showed his head, and appeared among his compeers smiling, as though the events of the night had been only a passing dream; yet acknowledged to a few intimate friends that that portion of his anatomy which came in contact with sections of the songster's vertebra was devoid of small portions of the epidermis. Emil Fritz hitched a pair of big bays to the machine and towed it into Lincoln, bearing only its fair cargo of the night before; the batteries were recharged and the machine ready for business; but not for the foreman—he had donned his official robes and entered the portals of the grand jury room.

The treasury statement July 1st shows a deficit of $60,000,000. It is too much, perhaps, to hold the republican party responsible for a long eleven years' rule; yet we remember some kind of statement having been made at the beginning of that rule to the effect that deficits and panics were connected with democratic administrations only.

Who said Carrizozo was dull? Geo. Roslington has just platted a new addition—the Highland Park—and placed the lots on sale.

STETSON HATS — BOOTS & SHOES — HOG FENCE

WAGONS — IRON ROOFING — CHICKEN NETTING

J. H. Greer, well known here, has over from Capitan this week, renewing acquaintance.

Miss Abbie Meek is reported to be quite sick, and under the care of a physician.

Mrs. Mack McKinney, who has been ill for several weeks, is very much worse this morning.

P. G. Peters went to Capitan on yesterday's train, to look after his interests at that point.

Robert H. Taylor, chairman of the board of county commissioners, was down from White Oaks two or three days this week.

George Murray is building an addition to his house on his homestead south of town. S. J. Woodland is doing the work.

Mrs. J. H. Skinner returned yesterday from Capitan, where she has been for the past week visiting with her mother, Mrs. L. W. Bourne.

Hon. A. H. Hudspeth, Lincoln county's delegate at the democratic national convention, returned from Denver Tuesday and left for his home at White Oaks the same evening.

Chas. A. Fox, John H. Canning and Jno. A. Haley made a trip to Lincoln this week in the auto wagon. They were the innocent cause of Foreman Wiener's downfall while at the county seat.

Will Rawls took a party of four to the upper Ruidoso on Monday on an outing and fishing trip. The party will remain several weeks. From the amount of fishing tackle and "bait" taken along there is liable to be something doing in the piscatorial line.

Mrs. T. H. Craig and her two daughters, of Roswell, are visiting Mrs. E. S. Long, and will remain during the month. Mrs. Craig is a sister of Mrs. Long and this is their first meeting in eight years.

Hon. J. E. Wharton of Alamogordo returned from the Denver convention Sunday, and went to Lincoln Monday to attend the session of district court where he will look after the interests of his numerous clients.

The Epworth League will give its monthly musical entertainment in the Bank building Wednesday evening. The success that attended the League's last entertainment insures a large audience on evening of the 22nd. A select program has been arranged.

W. W. Arnold is sporting a beautiful black eye this week, the result, he says, of coming in forcible contact with a stick. Mr. Arnold's statement as to the character of the weapon is not doubted—the only question is, in what manner?

The board of directors have not yet chosen a corps of teachers for the Carrizozo public school. They have a large number of applications, and are making haste slowly. They expect to employ four teachers, and conduct an eight or nine months term of school.

Ira O. Wetmore, president of the townsie company, says he did not voluntarily engage in the rooming house business, but he found one of the company's buildings occupied this week which he thought was unoccupied. Some tourists had taken possession and were making themselves comfortable.

J. J. Harrison, A. S. Simpson and their two boys came down from Tucumcari Sunday, outfitted here and went to the South Fork for a few days' fishing. Mr. Harrison is a real estate man in Tucumcari and a kinsman of our fellow townsman, J. H. Boyd, and Mr. Simpson is vice-president of the First National Bank of Tucumcari.

E. S. Long, the tinner, returned Wednesday from Parsons, where he has been doing some sheet metal work for the Eagle Mining company. Mr. Long says Eagle company is endeavoring to get its machinery ready for operation by the first of August, at which time the mills will begin grinding on the ore from the Hopeful mine.

W. C. Stacy, whose home is in Ackerman, Mississippi, was in Carrizozo yesterday, delivering a number of large wall maps, or survey of the world. The map is 4x5 feet; on one side is a map of the United States and every county in each state is printed in colors. On the reverse side is a map of the world, showing the different grand divisions, sub-divisions, steamship lines, the differences in time, etc. Eighteen copies of the map were delivered to Carrizozans.

A NEW ARRIVAL.

Word was received here this week from Capitan that a daughter and heiress was born to W. H. Orme-Johnson of that place last Monday. Mr. Johnson is a six-foot-two Englishman, engaged in stock raising, and is blessed with a fair share of worldly goods, but feels richer than Croesus since Monday. Report says that at the time of the arrival he was perched on top of a wind-mill fixing the halyards on which to raise the national flag in honor of the event. In about 17 years hence some of his countrymen from beyond the herring pond, looking for an American heiress, may come along and deprive him of his treasure. The News tenders congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Johnson.

To the Public.

Having purchased the interest and good will in the old livery stable, situated half a block west of the railroad hotel, of Bourne & Reilly, I solicit a share of the public patronage. I will conduct therein a wagon yard and feed stable. It is not my purpose to become a competitor of the men to whom I sold my livery business some months ago—I am not re-entering the livery business—I am simply opening a feed stable only.

SOME GOOD DISHES

METHODS OF COOKING AND SERVING MEATS.

Colorado Roast Venison Something New to the Average Housewife—Veal Birds an Appetizing Addition to Menu.

Lamb Scalops.—One cup cold lamb, one cup stewed tomatoes, one cup bread crumbs. Arrange in layers in a buttered dish, having crumbs on top with bits of butter; put salt, pepper, and bits of butter between the layers; bake.

Beef Loaf.—Chop or grind together two pounds of the round of beef and one-half pound bacon, crumb one-half loaf of bread, and beat two eggs. Mix the meat, bread and eggs together and season with one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon pepper, teaspoon poultry dressing. Pack firmly in a baking dish and bake 1½ hours.

Colorado Roast Venison.—Cover the venison roast on all sides with white paper; secure firmly with cord. Then make a thick batter of flour and water; spreading same all over the paper; dredge with flour; bake 25 minutes to a pound; take from the oven and crack off the batter, which has formed a crust.

Remove the cord and paper, salt and pepper to taste, lay strips of fat pork cut thin on top, and dredge meat with flour.

Place in oven until well browned; make brown gravy and serve with currant jelly. Many who dislike game enjoy it if prepared thus, the cooking of the game in this way extracting the strong taste sometimes objectionable.

Veal Birds.—Use slices of veal from the loin cut thin. Remove the bone, skin and fat and pound till one-quarter of an inch thick. Trim with pieces 2½ by four inches. Chop the trimming fine, with one square inch of fat salt pork for each bird.

Add half as much fine cracker crumbs as you have meat. Season highly with salt, pepper, lemon, cayenne and onion. Moisten with one egg and a little hot water as for veal loaf.

Spread the mixture on each slice nearly to the edge, roll up tightly, and tie or fasten with skewers. Dredge with salt, pepper and flour.

Fry them slowly in hot butter till a golden brown, but not dark or burned. Then half cover with cream and simmer 15 or 20 minutes. Remove the strings and serve on toast. Pour the cream over them. Garnish with points of toast and lemon.

Florentine Loaf.

The Housekeeper considers a Florentine loaf a dessert worth trying. Take one pint of orange juice, the juice of one lemon and add to this one pint of sugar; stir until the sugar dissolves, then boil for ten minutes and turn into a quart brick mold and cool. Season one pint double cream with one teaspoonful of grated orange and lemon peel mixed, add half a cupful of pulverized sugar. Whip until thick and then pour into the brick mold; cover with buttered paper, butter side up, and large enough to come over the edge when the cover is placed on. Tie down securely and bury in crushed ice and salt for three hours; when ready to cut into slices, wipe off the mold, remove paper, run a warm cloth over the sides and bottom, invert the mold onto the dish.

Beef Mirouton.

One can of tomatoes, piece of butter the size of an egg in stew pan, one sliced onion, about six cloves, and the same amount of whole peppers, three laurel leaves, a little thyme, pepper and salt to suit; boil slowly from three to four hours. Take a piece of cold beef, sliced in thin slices, add them to the tomatoes, then have some browned flour, and let all simmer for about 20 minutes. Serve in hot dish with chopped parsley on top.

FOUND THE CAUSE.

After Six Years of Misery and Wrong Treatment.

John A. Enders, of Robertson Avenue, Pen Argyl, Pa., suffered for six years with stinging pain in the back, violent headaches and dizzy spells, and was assured by a specialist that his kidneys were all right, though the secretions showed a reddish, brick-dust sediment. Not satisfied, Mr. Enders started using Doan's Kidney Pills.

"The kidneys began to act more regularly," he says, "and in a short time I passed a few gravel stones. I felt better right away and since then have had no kidney trouble."

Mr. Newrich's Visiting Card Left Friend in the Shade.

Mr. Newrich, the dust contractor, having made a fortune, part of which he had invested in house property in the east of London, wished to rise, like a Phoenix, from his ashes into some sort of society. His golden key, applied to the coffer of an impecunious aristocrat, opened the way.

His new friend, among other things, advised him that visiting cards were a necessity, and, as a guide to drawing one up ready for the printer, handed him one of his own, which read, "Harold De Vere, Iona House, Portsmouth Square, W."

Two days later, as De Vere was sitting in his dressing room at breakfast, a servant brought in on a salver a visiting card bearing the following: "Ephraim Newrich, I Own 23 Houses, London, E."

SEVERE HEMORRHOIDS

Sores, and Itching Eczema—Doctor Thought an Operation Necessary—Cuticura's Efficacy Proven.

"I am now 80 years old, and three years ago I was taken with an attack of piles (hemorrhoids), bleeding and protruding. The doctor said the only help for me was to go to a hospital and be operated on. I tried several remedies for months but did not get much help. During this time sores appeared which changed to a terrible itching eczema. Then I began to use Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, injecting a quantity of Cuticura Ointment with a Cuticura Suppository Syringe. It took a month of this treatment to get me in a fairly healthy state and then I treated myself once a day for three months and, after that, once or twice a week. The treatments I tried took a lot of money, and it is fortunate that I used Cuticura. J. H. Henderson, Hopkinton, N. Y., Apr. 26, 1907."

The Way It's Said.

"These are the bridal rooms," announced the bellboy to the blushing young couple.

"O, what a sweet suite!" exclaimed the bride.

"I don't know anything about that," said the bellboy, "but the head clerk says he bones the suit suits."

With a smooth iron and Defiance Starch, you can launder your shirt-waist just as well at home as the steam laundry can; it will have the proper stiffness and finish, there will be less wear and tear of the goods, and it will be a positive pleasure to use a Starch that does not stick to the iron.

If an Advertisement Convinces You, Stay Convinced

When you read in this newspaper the advertisement of a manufacturer who has paid for the space used to convince you that it is to your interest to buy his goods, and you go to a dealer where such articles are usually handled for sale, do not let the dealer or any one of his clerks sell you something else which he claims is "just as good." If an advertisement convinced you, it was because of the element of truth which it contained.

ELEPHANT HUNTING WITH A SPADE

REMARKABLE WORK OF AMERICAN PROFESSORS IN AFRICA.

EXCAVATORS BENDING OVER THE JAW OF ONE OF THE ANCESTRAL ELEPHANTS

PROFESSOR OSBORN AND MR. FERRAR IN THE ZEUGLONDON VALLEY

Ever since the discovery of remains of prehistoric animals in the ayum desert in 1901 made North Africa the storm center of paleontology, men of science have been seeking to exhaust the secrets of that region, and to solve the problems of origin which the Fayum fossils suggested. By 1905 Mr. Beadnell, accompanied by Dr. Andrews of the British museum, had

The American museum authorities, so rich in the remains of the great monsters of their own country, could not fail to be interested in the Fayum discoveries, and Prof. Osborn longed to fit out an expedition to discover, if possible, and bring back to the New York treasure-house the African ancestors of the vast creatures which once inhabited the American continent. In due time the plan became an accomplished fact; the Egyptian government, in the person of Lord Cromer, gave the American explorers every help in its power, and Prof. Osborn and his assistants went to work. As their caravan crossed the desert, it amused Mr. Osborn to think that he was going with camels, the gift of the western American plains, to bring back the remains of elephants, which were the gift of Africa to all the other continents.

At first, the results of the American Museum's search were disappointing, but after ten days the explorers were rewarded with the jaws and teeth of the ancestral elephant which the expedition chiefly desired, and a fortnight later they found a complete skull of the Palaeomastodon, belonging to the second stage of the evolution of the elephant. A week later, the skull of a Moeritherium (the beast of Lake Moeris) came to light, and Mr. Osborn knew that he had found the representative of the first distinctive stage in the evolution of the elephant.

Twenty-seven species of land animals were discovered by the Egyptian survey, and now several new animals were discovered by the American expedition. These include the giant Arsinotheres, the smaller and larger ancestral elephants, the large and small rock-cones, and certain pig-like animals. With two exceptions, all these animals were short-footed and slow-moving, and they had a pair of front teeth as large as tusks, probably for defense against the actively running carnivora of the period. The Arsinotheres were one exception, and defended themselves by sharply pointed horns. Two million years ago the Mediterranean bordered on Eocene Libya, and was inhabited by whales known as the Zeuglodon, remains of which have been found in every part of the Fayum region. These creatures were extraordinarily long and snake-like, and were far more slender in body than any existing whale. Among other discoveries made in Eocene Libya are remains which go to prove that the Sirenia, or sea-cows, represent an aquatic offshoot from the very stock which gave rise to the elephant. This kinship was surmised by de Blainville long before Darwin, and it has now been confirmed by the extraordinary resemblance between the most ancient sea-cow, the Eotherium, and the most ancient of the elephants, the Moeritherium.

The scene of the researches, El Fayum, a name derived from the ancient Egyptian word "Phiom," meaning "the lake," lies 50 miles southwest of Cairo, and is the fertile alluvial bottom of a great natural depression, or basin, enriched by the Nile sediments, which have poured for ages into a large natural lake of late geological times, and subsequently into the more contracted Lake Moeris of the Ptolemies.

The brackish lake named Birketel-Qurun which bounds the Fayum to the north-west is the vestigial remnant of these two great sheets of fresh water. It lies 130 feet below sea-level, and receives such a meager overflow from the vast irrigation system of the Fayum plains that it is constantly diminishing in extent and increasing in salinity.

The rich historical associations of the northerly shores of these ancient and modern reservoirs begin with the Palaeolithic flint-makers. They include the irrigation works of Amenemhat I., 2200 B. C.; they cover the rise and fall of populous Greek and Roman cities, now represented by the ruins known as Dime and Mushim. But far, far back of this period of man, the discoveries of the survey on the northerly shores of these same lakes reveal the presence of a world of life so ancient that the pyramids seem as of yesterday.

INCREASED TRAVEL BY WATER.

Lake Vessels Carry Millions During the Summer Months.

It is often said that the palmy days of travel by river are over, but this remark applies only temporarily to certain streams that do not at this time afford the necessary conditions. Taking the world as a whole, there is more journeying by water than ever before. The figures for last year's passenger traffic on the lakes show that 7,500,000 passengers were carried out of Detroit by boat, 1,900,000 from Chicago, 530,000 from Milwaukee, over 400,000 each from Port Huron, Grand Haven and Marquette, with smaller ports getting a proportionate share. One feature to be noted is the exceptional safety of lake travel. Not a life was lost among the 7,500,000 persons who left Detroit by boat, and passenger casualties were few anywhere on the lakes. The vessels have increased in size until they are almost in the class of ocean liners. They offer roomy berths, cabins and promenade decks, with good fare on various plans, and the public comfort and enjoyment are carefully studied. Between some of the chief lake cities excursion steamers of the largest size run daily during the heated period as a means of refreshment to the crowded population, keeping in motion on the water as long a time as possible.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Color Scheme.

"I would like to know."
"What?"

Too Strong.

"The traveler in Ireland will do well," recently remarked an attache to our embassy at London, "when he engages a jaunting car to make sure of the step to which, in mounting, he must trust his weight. The carman does not help him to mount."

"I am afraid that step is loose," an American once said to the driver he had engaged.

"The man took hold of the step and shook it. 'Ah! sure,' said he, 'it's too astrong, it is. What are ye afraid of?'"

"As he was talking, the thing came off in his hand."

"This mishap did not, however, embarrass the Irishman, for, with the sunniest of smiles, he turned to his fare saying:

"Shure, now, I've saved yer honor from a broken leg!"—Harper's Weekly.

Starch, like everything else, is being constantly improved, the patent Starches put on the market 25 years ago are very different and inferior to those of the present day. In the latest discovery—Defiance Starch—all injurious chemicals are omitted, while the addition of another ingredient, invented by us, gives to the Starch a strength and smoothness never approached by other brands.

In the Free Vaccination Ward.

A Lithuanian woman was getting her fifth baby vaccinated the other day.

"I am glad," said the young surgeon, "that you recognize the importance of vaccination."

"Oh, yes," she said, "I often wonder," she added pensively, "what it's done for, though. It's to show you're a free citizen, the same as naturalization papers, ain't it?"

The extraordinary popularity of fine white goods this summer makes the choice of Starch a matter of great importance. Defiance Starch, being free from all injurious chemicals, is the only one which is safe to use on fine fabrics. Its great strength as a stiffener makes half the usual quantity of Starch necessary, with the result of perfect finish, equal to that when the goods were new.

Forgiveness.

"The state!" sneered the convicted anarchist. "What do I care for the state?"

"The state," replied the court, "is not inclined to repay your harshness in kind. It will care for you for a year."—Philadelphia Ledger.

proved that Africa, far from being a continent parasitic upon Europe, was a partly dependent, but chiefly independent, center of a highly varied life, "a great breeding place, not only of animals which subsequently wandered into Europe, but of animals belonging to types hitherto unknown." Before the work of Dr. Andrews had been even begun, Prof. Henry Fairfield Osborn of the American Museum of Natural History had prophesied that the original home of the elephants and of several other great groups would be found to be in Africa. These animals, he believed, in spite of the contrary opinion of science, had invaded Europe, Asia and North America from Africa.

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF.

Last week F. W. Brockway announced, through the columns of the News, his candidacy for the office of sheriff of Lincoln county, subject to the action of the democratic party; but, as stated at that time, the announcement came too late to receive mention, and we promised to take the matter up this week. Mr. Brockway is a native of Michigan, went to Colorado when a boy and came to Lincoln county in 1885, settling at Picacho. There he was married and resided for the greater portion of the time he has been a citizen of this county, engaged in farming and the handling of machinery. Two years ago he moved his family to Carrizozo, bought property, built a residence and has followed the profession of carpenter and builder. During all these years that Mr. Brockway has lived in this county, he has been regarded as an honest, upright man and an excellent citizen. In politics he is a loyal democrat. Mr. Brockway announced for the office of sheriff at the solicitation of friends who have confidence in his ability to faithfully, fearlessly and impartially perform the duties devolving upon the chief executive officer of the county. If nominated and elected sheriff, the News has no hesitancy in saying that it believes the statement of Mr. Brockway's friends will be verified.
