Employee Spotlight: Nancy Bennett

Nancy describes UNM as an "oasis in the desert, with trees and ducks, people and ideas from all over the world providing a strong community." Although, the transition to Albuquerque was difficult at times, especially after having lived in two metropolitan cities (15 years in Chicago and 3 years in Washington, D.C.), Albuquerque has managed to grow on her. She says the trick to making Albuquerque feel like home is to find "your community, whether it is skiing, rescuing dogs or sewing, when you connect to those groups and people, you feel more at home."

Cuddle A Canine

Nancy Bennett started coordinating the popular Cuddle-a-Canine event in October 2015. She says, "My favorite part of the event (other than being surrounded by dogs) is that students often tell wonderful stories about their own dogs at home and you can see them relaxing and leaving the stress of the moment (homework, tests etc)."

The Dean's Suite Bookshelves: Books, Books, and More Books

When guests and visitors walk in to the Dean's Suite, one of the first things that they notice is the bookshelves that line the walls throughout the space. The bookshelves and, of course, the books on them generally attract a lot of attention. People will often pull a book from the shelf and start browsing through it while waiting for an appointment or a meeting. There is quite a variety of books, and it is not difficult to find something of interest with topics ranging from history and art to poetry and classic works of literature and titles such as The Emergence of Man and The Hero with a Thousand Faces and Who Moved My Cheese?

The January/February Issue

Mystery Photo Follow Up

The Mystery Photo featured in the last issue of the Newsletter remained a mystery, as the photo was not successfully identified. Still wondering what the photo might be of and where it is located?

Employee Pet page

Do you have a photo of your pet(s) on your desktop? Do you often find yourself scrolling through your four-legged family members that are saved on your phone? Do you enjoy talking about your four-legged family members with your coworkers? If so, then the "Employee Pet Page" is for you.

Many of us are proud pet parents, and the pet page is an opportunity to share pictures of your cats, dogs, rabbits, fish, ducks, horses, birds, etc. If you would like to feature your pet in an upcoming issue of the newsletter, please email a picture of your pet along with his/her name to libadmin@unm.edu.

This first edition of the "Employee Pet Page" features some adorable pet pictures shared by the employees in the Dean's Office and OILS.
