To use the mobile app, create a BrowZine account using your @salud email address and then create a password. You will be asked to confirm your password via the email address you provided.

Make sure to connect to the UNM Health Sciences Library and add your HSCNet ID and password under the credentials. This will give you access to all of the ejournals that we subscribe to. This will also allow you to access personalized features on the app like My Bookshelf, where you can save your favorite journals and see when new articles have been published.
