

University of New Mexico

UNM Digital Repository

Events & News

VIVA Connects

4-20-2018

National Park Service Rivers, Trails, and Conservation Assistance Program Call for Applications

University of New Mexico Prevention Research Center

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/prc-viva-en>

Recommended Citation

University of New Mexico Prevention Research Center. "National Park Service Rivers, Trails, and Conservation Assistance Program Call for Applications." (2018). <https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/prc-viva-en/9>

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the VIVA Connects at UNM Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in Events & News by an authorized administrator of UNM Digital Repository. For more information, please contact disc@unm.edu.

National Park Service Rivers, Trails, and Conservation Assistance Program Call for Applications

April 20, 2018 • Leave Comment

The National Park Service's (NPS) Rivers, Trails, and Conservation Assistance (RTCA) program supports community-led natural resource conservation and outdoor recreation projects across the nation. Its network of conservation and recreation planning professionals can partner with community groups, nonprofit organizations, tribes, and government agencies to realize your conservation and outdoor recreation vision by providing a range of services. National Park Service (NPS) staff can share their expertise to help your team turn an idea into reality. They offer assistance on an annual basis with extensions based on mutual agreement. No monetary grants are made.

VIVA Connects and New Mexico-based RTCA staff work closely together in many communities throughout the state. Applications are due June 30th. Please be sure to contact one of the two RTCA planners in New Mexico – Attila Bality and Marcy DeMillion – before submitting your application.