MEXICAN FRONTIER.

[From the San Antonio (Texas) Herald.]

The deaths of the young men, Pullman and Evans, call loudly for retribution—caused, as they have been, by the bold and audacious outlawry by the cattle thieves on that border, and the recurrences of such outlawry becoming of daily frequency can no longer be borne. The tocsin is being sounded—good and true men are called to the rally. See that you are properly armed and rationed, and that you have disreputable men. These are the requisites to the recovery of your cattle. We publish the following letter from a frontiersman, Mr. Pat Dolan, to Mr. W. C. Adams, which speaks to the point:

Fort Clark, October 8, 1872.

Mr. W. C. Adams:

Dear Sir:—I came up here, and have been making enquiries about the New Town affair. Felipe Luna told me that he was there, and saw the beginning of it. The alcalde fired out of his window on the Americans the very first thing; and from that it became general. It appears that the boys found two of your horses and two of Mr. Strickland in New Town, and demanded their. Mr. Strickland tells me, positively, that three days ago the Mexicans fired on two of his hands who were gathering cattle along the Rio Grande, and four Mexicans crossed to this side and chased them for some distance. He also tells me that the Mexicans had gathered 100 head of large cattle and crossed them the day before yesterday. All the above can be proved to be true.

It is reported that the Mexicans buried Strickland's ranch at the mouth of the Sacramento.

See all the men you can get from the Atascosa country, and try and get a lot of them to meet in Euvalde to go west. Use every exertion.

Find out the names of some good men, so I can let them know what time to start. There is no time set yet. Let me know how many men you think we can get. Yours truly,

PAT DOLAN.

Silver City, N. M., Nov. 30, 1872.

Editor BORDERER:

The District Court adjourned yesterday sine die. After a very laborious session of nearly two weeks, very little business was finally disposed of, although, the time of the Court was almost constantly occupied. A large number of indictments were found principally for gaming, which were continued till next term. An indictment for murder was presented against David Davis for the killing of Peter Hildreth. The attorneys for defendant, Messrs. Ashenfelter and Jones took a change of venue to Dona Ana county, and the case went over.

The great mining case of the Seneca & Dexter mine dragged along from day to day until at last the ejectment and replevin cases were finally set for trial. Public expectation was at the highest pitch of excitement, all kinds of rumors were afloat in regard to this important case.

The first week was almost entirely consumed in motions and counter motions, giving the attorneys on both sides ample opportunities for legal sparring. At last the day of trial arrived when the attorneys for defendants, Messrs. Zabriske, Ginn, and Ashenfelter walked into court and moved for a change of venue in both of these cases, and the showing made by these attorneys being conclusive the court was compelled to grant it. The cases were then transferred to Dona Ana county. The result surprised every one and was a source of great disappointment to the plaintiff's attorneys. The idea prevailed in some quarters that the jury were prejudiced in favor of the plaintiff. Thus the final decision of this important case will be rendered on another field from where it originated. On yesterday quite a spirited passage at arms took place between Mr. Ginn on the one side and Judge Bail on the other to show cause in the defendants for contempt. The court sustained the defendants on this motion after which Col. Zabriske, the leading counsel for defendants gave notice of a motion to quash the bond for insufficiency, and also presented a motion for the dissolution of the injunction on answer filed. The court agreed to decide these motions on written argument and briefs. The court emphatically decided that the plaintiff was bound by the plat filed in the ejectment suit. This point is considered very important from the fact that the bill in equity claimed the whole Dexter mine, whereas by this decision the plaintiff is now narrowed down to a small strip of disputed territory lying between the two mines and which had been nearly worked out prior to the suit.

As the defendants have recently struck a very rich deposit of ore off of the disputed tract the injunction does not affect them materially. The defendants in this suit were decidedly masters of the situation at the close of court, and their attorneys are entitled to great credit for the industry, vigilance and untiring energy and ability which they exhibited at every stage of the proceedings in defending the interests of their clients.

Judge Bristol is universally admired and highly appreciated by all classes of our citizens. His promptness and careful discriminations in all questions, raising for adjudication have won golden opinions and have established a confidence in his integrity and ability never before possessed by any Judge in this district.

He is just and impartial, and allows no side-shows out of court, as has been the custom with so many of the judicial magnates of the frontier. The people feel secure in their rights as long as Judge Bristol presides; and it is a source of sincere congratulation that this district so long hampered with politico-judicial barmecides is at last represented by a Judge worthy of the name and who adds honor to the position instead of subtracting honor from it as formerly.

We are now looking anxiously for the new "Pope" mill. Business is reviving and a general feeling of financial security pervades the community.

A terrible accident occurred a few days ago at Chillicothe where Franklin Whittier, a worthy young man was instantly killed by a premature blast from a shaft. His companion was frightfully injured by his side. The affair caused a pall over the citizens generally as both young men were highly respected. The funeral of young Whittier was very largely attended. The Masonic Fraternity officiated. The scene was mournful and impressive and drew tears from many an eye accustomed to scenes of danger and suffering.

The weather has been balmy and delicious for some time past. The climate is the "ultima thule" of atmospheric perfection and for healthfulness and vigor is unsurpassed.

The diamond fields are rapidly spreading out. From Arizona they now reach over Colorado, Utah and the latest discovered are in Wyoming, all pure, and of the first water.

A terrible snow storm in Minnesota has cut off eight hundred laborers from supplies and it is feared they must starve before the drifts can be cut through and supplies reach them.

Prussia is about to fine and imprison any clergyman who issues a decree of excommunication.

Jay Gould has been arrested on a charge of misappropriating $2,500,000 of the funds of the Erie R. R.

It is said the San Domingo scheme of annexation will be again brought forward.

The Prescott Miner thinks it is not possible long to remain at peace with Mexico and concludes if trouble has to come the sooner the better. The wrongs suffered by our citizens along the whole line of frontier it believes compels our government to action for redress.

The jolly local of a western paper says: "Come where my love lies dreaming, and see how she looks without any paint on her face."

A sailor looking serious in a chapel was asked by the clergyman "If he felt any change," whereupon the tar put his hand in his pocket, and replied, "Not a cent!"

"Excuse haste and a bad pen," as the pig said when he broke out.

Mrs. O'Leary wonders "if thim Bosting spalpeens will be after swearing that it was her poor baste of a cow that burned our city."—Boston Globe.

The Titusville Press fastens this on that much-abused Kansas man:

A Kansas man was "set back" the other day by a couple of squaws entering his house whom he had forgotten he had married a few years ago on the plains. What cheers him up is the fact that a Kansas court has decided that when a white man marries a squaw after the Indian fashion the same is legal and binding upon the husband.

ANNEXATION.

The Commercial Advertiser has information that colonists of British North America are preparing to hold a mass meeting in favor of annexation to the United States. There are said to be ten organizations in the Dominion whose wish is annexation.

A rich joke was perpetrated on the Mayor, who was holding court last Sunday by a party who were fined one dollar and costs for being "half seas over." A ten dollar Confederate bill was tendered and three dollars and fifty cents in specie given in change. As "a few more of the same sort" are left in this county, we would suggest that our city taxes be paid in good Confederate. All those in favor of the motion will signify it by saying aye! and all are expected to vote.—Exchange.

A dancing master with an eye to business has introduced for the season a quadrille called the "Kiss quadrille," in which the gentlemen kiss the ladies as they "swing the corn cobs." The young people of this city are anxiously inquiring whether or not this dance will be the style here this winter.—Exchange.

We wish some dancing master would come to Cruces if that's the dance he teaches.

The Miner is anxiously inquiring why service has not been put upon mail route from Albuquerque to Prescott. Mr. V. S. Shelby writes that the route has been changed since the contract was awarded making the distance greater, and he is awaiting some arrangement by the department for extra service.

The Union contains an interesting letter this week from Thys. H. Hopkins, in regard to the Public Schools of Santa Fe. The amount of the funds collected in that county amount to $2872.79 and schools have been put in operation, and from the tenor of the letter are doing well. We are glad to note such facts for the good of the Territory. We hope to hear more such items from the other counties, as nothing we can produce will give a better impression of New Mexico abroad than to know that our educational interest are being cherished by our citizens.
