CARRIZO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, OCTOBER 9, 1908.

NUMBER 31

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Following is a report of the proceedings of the board of county commissioners of Lincoln county, in regular session, held October 5, 1908, at Lincoln, N. M.

Present—R. H. Taylor, chairman; R. A. Duran and P. L. Krouse, members; W. E. Kimbrell, clerk; J. W. Owen, sheriff.

The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

In the tax matter of Watt (Hilmore, erroneous assessment to the amount of $200, the treasurer and collector is hereby ordered to strike same off the tax roll for 1907.

The petition of citizens at the town of Oseuro and surrounding country praying for the establishment of a new precinct to be created out of precinct 14 as now constituted is hereby laid over for action at next regular meeting, for the reason that the boards of registration have been appointed as required by law, and any favorable action that might be taken at this late day in establishment of a new precinct might create confusion and perhaps a contest between the candidates to be voted for at the coming November election.

In the matter of the White Oaks and Lincoln road in which the board ordered the road supervisor of district 3 and precinct 9 to have George A. Titeworth to remove the fence which he established across said road the above action is hereby rescinded. This order is made for the purpose of getting further information regarding said road, and the matter will be taken up at the January 1909 meeting.

In case of assessment of Brink and Nolan, now on this 5th day of October, 1908, same being the regular session of county commissioners, comes on for hearing the above styled cause, on the application of Brink and Nolan by their attorney, H. B. Hamilton, of the rebate of the raise in their assessment for 1905 of 10,000 head of sheep made by the assessor, the board having heard and considered said application, being fully advised in the premises, wherefore it is ordered by the board that said application be denied and that said raise in assessment made by said assessor remain the same.

Board adjourned till Tuesday, October 6th, 1908, at 8 a.m.

In re Bond No. 2276, Ramaldo Duran, county commissioner of Lincoln county. Whereas Ramaldo Duran did on or about the first day of January, 1907, execute and deliver his bond as county commissioner of Lincoln county, in the sum of $5,000 with the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company as surety, and whereas the said Ramaldo Duran desires to secure the release of the said Fidelity and Guaranty company as such surety, and whereas the said Fidelity and Guaranty company desires to be released as such surety, and whereas the said Ramaldo Duran did on or about the first day of January, 1908, file a new and substituted bond in the sum of $5,000, which said bond was intended by the said Ramaldo Duran to be in lieu of the bond aforesaid, and whereas said substituted bond has been approved by the proper officer and is now in force and effect; wherefore it is ordered adjusted and decreed by the board that the aforesaid bond of the said Ramaldo Duran as principal and the said Fidelity and Guaranty company as surety has been cancelled and is of no force and effect since the first day of January, 1908, and that the said company is not liable and is hereby discharged from all liability from that date for the official acts of the said Ramaldo Duran as such county commissioner.

Witness the seal of the board of county commissioners of the county of Lincoln, N. M., and the hands of its chairman and clerk, this 5th day of October, 1908.

ZIEGLER BROS.

TO RETIRE FOR LIFE

THOMAS F. RYAN PREPARING TO QUIT WALL STREET.

Will Leave Turmoil of New York
City for Quiet of His Beautiful Virginia Estate—Planning Million-Dollar Residence.

Richmond, Va.—Wall street and the Stock Exchange are full of men of obscure origin. Horace Greeley once said that if the stream of fresh country life which each year is poured into

Thomas F. Ryan.

New York from the rural sections were stopped, in 50 years grass would be growing in Wall street.

Among the men who have thus gone
from the country and attained prominence in the great center of finance
Virginia and the south have furnished more than their shares. Of southern men prominent in financial circles in New York, Thomas Fortune Ryan, born in Nelson county, Virginia, and still a resident of that county, is the leader. Had the genius of Ryan been turned to politics, literature or the law, instead of money-making, he no doubt would have obtained prominence in any one of them, for the same qualities that have brought him such a large measure of success in the financial world also would have brought him success in any of these professions.

The announcement has recently been made that Ryan is now making his preparations to retire from active business life for the purpose of devoting his remaining years to his native state. In this connection it is interesting to note that he has had under way for several months plans for the erection of a million-dollar residence in Richmond, his idea being to spend his winters in this city and his summers on his Oak Ridge estate in Nelson county.

A million-dollar office skyscraper for Richmond also is in contemplation by the financier. Plans for both these buildings are believed to be now in the possession of Ryan, who is expected to come to Richmond in the early fall for the purpose of looking over possible sites.

Ryan always has taken a deep interest in Richmond and in Virginia.

Thomas Fortune Ryan was born in 1851 in a modest brick building, which still stands at Lovington, Va., the county seat of Nelson county. The building is a hotel, and is known as the Virginia house. His father, George Ryan, was a tailor, and at one time plied his trade at Amherst courthouse, in the adjoining county to Nelson. His mother was a Miss Fortune.

A brother, William, died several years ago. His mother died when he was 14 years old.

Between the ages of 14 and 17,
while he was living with the Fortunes, Ryan worked on a farm. One year he hired out, and the old man for whom he worked, and to whom he gave a year of faithful labor, still lives in the cove, near the Fortune place, containing 1,000 acres, which Ryan recently bought and is now rapidly improving.

In 1868, with his clothes and a railway ticket to Baltimore, $17 and a letter of introduction to some business people in Baltimore from Taylor Berry, of Amherst county, who was his guardian, Ryan left Nelson county for the Maryland city.

For three days he walked the streets in Baltimore looking for work. At last he went into the office of John S.
Barry, who employed him and afterwards promoted him. He married Barry's daughter, Miss Ida M. Barry.
After several years in Baltimore, he removed to New York.

THEN NO ONE WILL SNUB HER.

Mrs. Von Claussen, Who Couldn't Get Presented at Court, May Be Princess.

New York.—It was learned from New York friends of Mrs. Ida Von Claussen, the beautiful American who unsuccessfully attempted to get herself presented at the Swedish court in 1907, that she will soon be persona
grata at any court in Europe.

Mme. Von Claussen is now in Rome, and it is rumored that she will shortly become a princess. She can be either one of two kinds—Russian or Italian. Report has it that Prince
Paul Gourossoff of Russia and Prince Sforza Cesarina of Rome are in a close race for her hand.

Mrs. Von Claussen in April of last year besieged President Roosevelt and the state department in Washington

In an effort to have Charles H. Graves, American minister to Sweden, recalled
from his post for snubbing her.

Tallest Chimney.

The tallest chimney in the world is now under construction at the Great Copper Falls (Mont.) smelter
of the Amalgamated Copper Company. It has a foundation 74 feet in diameter and 596 feet high, with a 54-foot diameter top. Connections with the furnaces will be made by a flue 20 feet high, 48 feet wide, and 1,800 feet long. The tallest chimney hitherto built is that of the Halsbrucker
Butte, near Freiberg, Germany, 460 feet in height.

THE SAFE WAY TO BUY PAINT.

Property owners will save a deal of trouble and expense in keeping their buildings properly painted, if they know how to protect themselves against misrepresentation and adulteration in paint materials. There's one sure and safe guide to a pure and thoroughly dependable White Lead—
that's the "Dutch Boy Painter" trade mark which the National Lead Company, the largest makers of genuine White Lead, place on every package of their product. This company sends a simple and sure little outfit for testing white lead, and a valuable paint
book, free, to all who write for it.
Their address is Woodbridge Bldg.,
New York City.

SO LOGICAL.

Mrs. Sparker—Do you think she really prefers a horse to the motor car?

Mrs. Tyne—Well, any one must admit that a horse is more becoming to a woman with such hay-colored hair!

When the Minister Scored.

A country clergyman, while recently advocating the support of a charitable object, prefaced the circulation of the plate with the following address:
"From the great sympathy I have witnessed in your countenances, there is only one thing I am afraid of—that some of you may feel inclined to give too much. Now, it is my duty to inform you that justice should always be a prime virtue to generosity;
therefore, I wish to have it thoroughly understood that no person will think of putting anything on the plate who cannot pay his debts." The result was an overflowing collection.

Shower of Sulphur.

Charolles, a small town 30 miles from Macon, in France, has recently been visited by a shower of sulphur. The roofs, gardens, fields, vineyards, rivers and ponds were covered with a yellow dust, and for some time the peasants
in the fields were troubled by a sulphurous biting odor which made breathing difficult.

SECRETS OF THE SECRET SERVICE

CHIEF WILKIE TAKES PUBLIC INTO HIS CONFIDENCE

The only pull that can land a man in the employ of the United States secret service is that of successfully passing the preliminary examination, submitting to a personal interview with Chief Wilkie and showing his nerve and ability during a month of testing out in the real business of detective work for Uncle Sam.

Here is the civil service slip that must first be filled out:

"Sec. 79. Secret Service.—Application for positions in the secret service of the treasury department should forward, addressed to the secretary of the treasury and marked 'personal,' form 304, properly executed, and such evidence as to their experience, training, qualifications and personal characteristics as they may be able to obtain, without any reference to their political or religious affiliations, which may be considered as proof of their fitness for employment in this service. This examination shall be confined to experience and personal fitness. Applicants should give the names and addresses of the persons to whom they refer as to their character and qualifications for employment in this service."

If the answers are satisfactory the next test of the applicant is made and he is permitted a personal interview with Chief Wilkie, who is able after a few minutes' conversation to size up a man's possibilities pretty accurately. If he seems to be a likely man he is put on the eligible list, and when the appointment division certifies him he is assigned a 30-day try-out in actual service in the 26 districts into which the United States is divided. If the man makes good he goes on the rolls permanently, and in the course of his career there is no telling what great and important cases he may be asked to help unravel.

Chief Wilkie is proud of the character of the men he has under him. In speaking concerning the matter he said:

"The men of our service are gathered from greatly differing sources. We have college graduates, mostly the sons of criminal lawyers, who seem to have the appetite of their fathers bred in the bone; musicians, stenographers, linguists, bank clerks, identification experts, telegraph operators, a commissioned officer of the army, and non-commissioned or petty officers of both the army and navy, newspaper men, a couple of sheriffs, one or two wardens and in one case an ex-mayor.

"While all of our men must measure up to a certain standard, I believe experience has shown that our best operators are those who have done work in the claims department of a railroad or performed similar duties for a life insurance company.

"You see, what is needed in the secret service is initiative and ability to look far ahead and take into account all possibilities. It requires no little intelligence to work up a case without putting your foot into it and to weave together the strands so that they can be presented as legal evidence. The former experience of the railroad and insurance men who have come into the service makes them expert in such matters.

"There have been two or three instances in which failure to exercise a little caution has upset all the well-laid plans of the bureau. There was the case of Robyns out in Omaha, at the time of the Spanish war. To understand it you must know that the department takes the ground that we are organized for the suppression of counterfeit money, we shall not, even in the interests of justice, have a hand in its making or its floating. Well, this Robyns trouble came along when, in addition to our regular work, we had our hands pretty full with looking after Spanish spies and other secret matters connected with the war.

"Robyns was a German, and what we needed in his business was a man who could speak the language. I picked up a young fellow who could do this, and sent him out west. He wasn't the kind of operator I wanted, but he was the best I could get at the time. He did very well for awhile—got in with Robyns, saw him make his spurious dollars and all that sort of thing—but one day he tripped. Robyns wanted some acid and asked our man to buy it. The operator consented, and when his report reached the office he was recalled and the case against Robyns dropped. We could not afford to make the government's agents participants criminals. Three months later, however, we juggled Robyns on an entirely new charge.

"By the way," Chief Wilkie observed, as a new angle of thought struck him, "did you know that sleight-of-hand is figuring more and more in the operations of the secret service? I am trying to get the art down to a thoroughly practical working basis, and so far have had good results. Yes, it's a little hobby of mine—this 'hand is quicker than the eye' business—but I believe I have several men in this bureau who have me beaten at it.

"One of our men who is pretty handy with his fingers was trying to land a gang of counterfeiters and succeeded in establishing friendly relations with the bunch. Every newcomer is naturally looked upon with suspicion until he commits some overt act, and in this instance the gang determined to have a showdown. In floating bad money each man is given so much of it and keeps half of the good money he gets hold of, turning the remainder in to the makers. The operator was given a lot of one-dollar imitations and told to get rid of them, another of the gang going along to see that he made good. Each time he entered a store to make a small purchase, as the real crook thought, he came out with the proper change. But for some reason his companion was not satisfied and adopted the policy of entering the place with him, watching him closely as he bought. It was a pretty trying situation, but our man managed to do the sleight-of-hand trick so well that good American dollars found their way to the cash drawer, while the 'phony' ones disappeared somewhere on his person, as evidence against the counterfeiters.

"Shadowing and roping," said Chief Wilkie, "may seem mighty easy to an outsider; this thing of merely following a man, but any one who has ever turned his hand seriously to it will tell a different story. It's hardly putting it too strongly to say that it is an art in itself.

"Roping is accompanied by more danger than shadowing. The term embraces worming oneself into the acquaintance of a gang for the purpose of effecting arrests. Of course a man's life isn't worth much if he's caught at such a game and has the goods on those whose confidence he has won.

Petroleum for European Locomotives.

Consul General Norman Hutchinson of Bucharest reports that several high officials of the Austrian railways have arrived in Roumania for the purpose of studying the question of petroleum as a railway locomotive combustible. The consul general adds:

"If it is found that the use of petroleum as a locomotive combustible is working satisfactorily upon the Roumanian railways, it is intended to introduce the use of petroleum upon the Austrian railways.

"It appears to the writer that petroleum seems to answer the purposes for the making of sufficient steam, and does away with coal dust and cinders; on the other hand, the odor of the smoke issuing from the locomotives is offensive to many persons, while others consider it more or less healthy."

These Hard Times.

An economically-minded citizen stopped in a hardware store and asked:

"How much are children's bathtubs?"

"From three dollars up," responded the clerk.

"Whew!" whistled the customer "Guess we will have to keep on washing the baby in the coal-scuttle."—Judge.

"Did she join a chorus?"

Night Sweats & Cough.

E. W. Walton, Condr. S. P. Ry., 717 Van Ness St., San Antonio, Tex., writes: "During the summer and fall of 1902, my annoyance from catarrh reached that stage where it was actual misery and developed alarming symptoms, such as a very deep-seated cough, night sweats, and pains in the head and chest. I experimented with several so-called remedies before I finally decided to take a thorough course of Peruna.

"Two of my friends had gone so far as to inform me that the thing for me to do was to resign my position and seek a higher, more congenial climate. Everyone thought I had consumption and I was not expected to live very long.

"Having procured some Peruna, I decided to give it a thorough test and applied myself assiduously to the task of taking it, as per instructions, in the meantime.

"The effects were soon apparent, all alarming symptoms disappeared and my general health became fully as good as it had ever been in my life.

"I have resorted to the use of Peruna on two or three occasions since that time to cure myself of bad colds."

Cheerful, Anyhow.

"Hello, sport; I haven't seen you for 20 years. How are you getting on?"

"Oh, I'm a multi-millionaire. And you?"

"Oh, I'm a multi-failure."

Cast your vote for Larrazolo
and the full democratic ticket.

Many thinking Republicans say they will not vote for a looter of banks.

This is a democratic year—a democratic president, a democratic delegate to congress and a democratic house.

Vote the straight democratic ticket. It will win, and the larger the majority the louder the rooster will crow on November 3.

Larrazolo will be the next delegate to congress, without question. He is the choice of the people, will be elected by the people, and will represent all the people.

The republican machine and the plunderbund press undertook a big job when they undertook to elect Andrews. The machine can't elect him, and the people won't.

The registration books in the different precincts of the county are now open. See that you are registered, and don't take anyone's word for it. October 23 is the last day you can register.

The last year of Democratic administration in the territory the territorial tax rate was 7 3/4 mills.
Six years later, under a Republican administration, the rate was 15 mills. How is that for republican economy?

Howard Leland, who has been register of the U. S. land office at Roswell for more than ten years, died in that city last Friday after a long illness, at the age of 64 years. It may be several weeks before his successor is appointed and qualifies.

The letter rate between the United States and Great Britain and Ireland, but not including any other foreign countries, was reduced from five cents to two cents on October 1st. The distance between New York and London is 3,740 miles, and under this new postal rate it will cost no more to send a letter to these countries than to send one to the nearest postoffice. This is a small matter on a single letter,
but an important one to firms
having extensive business dealings across the seas.

The sheep and goat men of Lincoln county are enjoying a large dose of Republican prosperity (?) Wool is now selling for less than half the price it sold for the last two years. A letter received from a Republican in this county this week says: "The bottom has dropped out out of the price of goat's and mohair.
If this is Republican prosperity,
here's one who will vote for the other party this year. It can't make matters worse or prices lower." A great many Republicans will do likewise. The people are getting their eyes open.

Colfax county is not in as good condition, from a Republican standpoint, as it was in 1906.
The methods used that year in voting the pay-roll of the coal
camps in Colfax county gave Mr.
Andrews 1,700 votes, and these votes were counted without regard to legal residence or citizenship. It is a well known fact that a great portion of the coal camp laborers are foreigners, and have no right to vote; neither do they desire to do so; but it is easy to overcome that when elections are held on private property, the board is run by the owners and Democrats are not allowed on the ground, much less given an opportunity to vote. According to reliable figures, however, this year these camps will have less than 500 qualified voters, and if the Republican candidate does secure all of them he will have a thousand less than were counted
for him two years ago.

FOREST SERVICE CIRCULAR.

The District Foresters who will be in charge of the six field districts of the forest service, beginning January 1, 1908, have been selected by United States Forester Gifford Pinchot. For this, the third district, A. C. Ringland, Albuquerque, New Mexico, is the appointee.

Mr. Ringland was born in New York in 1882. After graduating from the Montclair High School
he became a student assistant in the forest service in 1900. He has since held the positions of assistant forest expert, forest assistant, chief of the office of reserve boundaries, chief of the section of settlement, chief of the office of lands, and assistant forester.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Chas. Peoples, of the Peoples' Mercantile store, met with a serious accident on Monday morning, which might have been a great deal worse. After opening the store, and while in the act of placing a loaded revolver on the shelf, the weapon fell from his hand, the hammer striking the floor and exploding a cartridge. The bullet entered his left leg about four inches above the ankle, took an upward course, passing through the fleshy part of the limb and coming out a few inches below the knee. A surgeon was phoned for and arrived at the store within ten minutes after the accident, and dressed the wound. No bone was injured, and the only danger anticipated is blood poisoning, the chances of which the doctor believes, are remote. If no evil effects result, Mr. Peoples will be able to attend to business as usual next week.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY AT NOGAL.

W. H. WEED DEAD.

At Chattanooga, Tenn., on September 5, 1908, William H. Weed, a pioneer of Lincoln county, died and was there buried the following day, aged about 85. The News is indebted to Harry S. Comrey for the above information. The past ten years the whereabouts of the subject of this sketch were unknown, and many of his old acquaintances believed him long since dead.

William H. Weed was born in the state of New York about eighty-five years ago. He made the overland trip to California in an early day, and his reminiscences of those days formed an entertaining topic when he could be induced to relate them. Later he went to the Panhandle of Texas, then a buffalo country, conducted a mercantile business and accumulated considerable property. In the early eighties he came to White Oaks, where he was engaged in merchandising and mining until about ten years ago. At that time he closed out his business, sold or transferred his property and this country has seen him no more. He was popularly supposed to possess a rather large sum of money when he left this country, but what became of it no one seems to know; as indeed few, if any, know where he went, and Mr. Comrey happened to meet an old friend of the deceased in Albuquerque who acquainted him with the date and place of Mr. Weed's death.

Would you know how Bryan stands on the great issues of the campaign—predatory wealth, class legislation, guaranteeing of bank deposits, gambling on the Stock Exchange, trusts, tariff, asset currency, imperialism, labor and capital, etc.? There is only one way to know Bryan's position accurately, and that is to get it direct from his own pen. He voices the sentiment of the rank and file of all parties without fear or favor. 320 pages, silk cloth, gold back. $1.25 postpaid.

The price of this great book is $1.25, but in order to place it in the hands of everybody, democrats and republicans alike, I will mail it, at the actual cost to me, on receipt of $1.00. Write for it today.

The "Real Bryan" is a marvel of eloquence, logic, inspiration, fire and simplicity. Every paragraph is eloquent; every sentence a gem; every page reflects the power of the man who has done so much to revolutionize the thought of the Nation and to purify the policies of the country.—Iowa Unionist, Des Moines.

THE CIRCUS WAS HERE.

The much advertised circus has come and gone, bringing large crowds from all parts of the county to Carrizozo, and taking large sums of money away with it. The show was fair, yet the prices were high. A stick of candy for the babies cost five cents, while a placard bearing the legend, "Andrews and Statehood," with an admonition tacked to its tail to "vote the straight republican county ticket," is said to have cost five dollars cash. The interest on the remainder, which will be heavy, is due on the third of November, and the presence of large numbers of Bryan and Larrazolo buttons makes it certain that the people will foreclose on that date.

ANNUAL SESSION K. OF P.

The grand lodge Knights of Pythias, of New Mexico, held their annual session in Albuquerque last Friday and Saturday. Las Vegas was chosen as the city in which to build a sanatorium. The following officers were elected to serve during the year:

CARRIZOZO PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The school on the south side of the railroad track opened Monday, in accordance with the published announcement, with Miss Bennie McGill in charge.

On the north side school will begin next Monday, the 12th, but, owing to the fact that the school building is incomplete, school will be conducted for a time in the two buildings used last year for that purpose.

Professor Collins, the principal, requests us to announce that children in grades 1, 2, 3 and 4 should attend at the McDonald building, and that grades 5, 6, 7 and 8 should attend at the tent, near Mr. Joe N. White's.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

A warrant, sworn out in the justice court of this precinct, charging T. Hemphill with assault to murder, was executed Saturday at Alamogordo by Deputy Sheriff P. C. Baird, of this place, and Hemphill brought into court, he was arraigned before Justice Tompkins, who, after hearing the testimony, remanded the prisoner to await the action of the grand jury. Sheriff Owen took the prisoner to Lincoln Sunday. Hemphill made an attack on Harry Little about six weeks ago, using the buttend of a billiard cue as a weapon, and inflicted several severe scalp wounds before he was disarmed. Hemphill left town immediately after the attack and his whereabouts only ascertained last week, which led to his arrest with the result stated above.

Friday night, October 16th, the people of White Oaks will give a ball, and the News has been requested to announce that the general public will be made welcome. A good time is anticipated; for White Oaks is noted for its capacity to entertain.

A party consisting of Mr. O. Wetmore and wife, Charles Mc-Masters, Miss Georgia Nesnet and Miss Bennie McGill droye over to the Oscura mountains Sunday. It being the fourth day of the hunting season the gentlemen took their guns along and brought home forty-six quail. They report birds plentiful close to the mountains.

MARRIED:—S. A. Pearce, of Lincoln, and Miss Pauline Kimbrell, of Picacho, last Sunday at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kimbrell. Mr. Kimbrell, who is justice of the peace at Picacho, performed the ceremony.

Sunday being the first Sunday of the open season for quail, everyone who had a gun, could get a gun or borrow a gun, went hunting. Large bags of birds were brought back. Some of the hunters stated that if rabbits had been their game, they could have filled a wagon, as they are more plentiful than for years.

AFTER THIRTY-SEVEN YEARS.

Two brothers met here Saturday for the first time in thirty-seven years—an average life time. Notwithstanding the intervening thirty-seven years, they are both boys—one seventy-seven the other eighty-one—and they gamble on the greensward at the Bar W ranch and ramble over the wide prairies at will. They are Mr. Thurston Tarbell, of Guilford, New York, and Mr. G. D. Tarbell, of Carrizozo, father of Mrs. W. C. McDonald. The New York brother's visit will probably extend throughout the winter.

Carrizozo News

CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO.

Wild Birds and Millinery.

The British parliament will probably not pass Lord Avebury's bill for the protection of wild birds, although the house of lords has passed it to a second reading. There is general agreement as to the need of action and as to the purpose of the bill; but doubt is expressed whether the proposed measure is wisely devised. The bill prohibits the importation into the United Kingdom, for the purpose of sale or exchange, of the plumage, skin or body of any wild bird except ostriches, emus, ducks and wild fowl used for food. Specimens may be gathered for museums, but only under special license; and penalties of five pounds for a first offense and £25 for subsequent offenses are provided. To American travelers in England the situation is not so startling as it appears, says the Youths' Companion, for out of consideration for the tastes of foreigners it is provided in the bill that parts of birds not included in the list of exemptions may be worn by those entering Great Britain, provided that a written declaration that the plumage is not for sale shall be given upon request. An understanding of the causes which led to the introduction of this bill ought, however, to restrain every right-minded woman from availing herself of such a privilege. There were sold last year at the London plume sales the scapular feathers of 190,000 egrets, and the skins of more than 28,000 birds of paradise. The plumes of the egrets are "nesting plumes;" that is, they appear only when the birds have young, and of course the young starve when the parents are killed. Another sad feature of the situation is the sale of the tail-feathers of hundreds of lyre-birds, and of quills of the albatross; the one a representative of a single genus of birds, the other a wanderer, which, as Mr. James Buckland puts it, "adds dignity even to the ocean." The woman who goes to church and bows in prayer a head "decorated" at such cost is a fit subject for investigation by the new psychology.

Elevating the Filipinos.

What American precept and example may do in the Philippines is indicated anew by what is going on in Mindanao, regarding which the Army and Navy Journal says the quarters of the army officers there may result in the abandonment by the natives of the nipa huts and the sort of civilization that goes with such primitive structures. The Army and Navy Journal adds: "Gov. Johnson, in installing a stable and practical government over the non-Christian tribes, has arranged for every family to have its hemp field, and is urging the natives to give up their huts for wood houses. He has used the dwellings of army officers as an illustration of the value of such habitations. The people, who have a high respect for the big American soldier, are abandoning their shacks and building real houses." This marks a long step forward, and assures most gratifying results. The native huts of the old order are not only objectionable as typifying a low order of life, but are too often the breeding-places of disease. The first act when an epidemic breaks out is usually to burn the nipa huts as one of the best means of destroying the deadly germs. The new and better way of living taught by the Americans is certain to add in raising the race to a higher level.

IS AN EARNEST MAN

JUDGE CLELAND, FATHER OF CHICAGO PAROLE SYSTEM.

Municipal Court Jurist Has Horror of Prisons—Believes Our Penal Plan Is Mere Machine for Making Criminals.

Chicago.—Municipal Judge McKenzie Cleland, father of Chicago's parole system, is an earnest man. He was an earnest boy, and he has taken life seriously since the days when he pitched hay on a Minnesota farm.

Nobody is altogether good and nobody is altogether bad, but most people stand in need of reformation.

That is the creed of Judge Cleland, and he has made up his mind that part of that reforming must be done

Judge McKenzie Cleland.

by himself. There is a strong strain of rugged Puritanism in the man, which, however, is softened by a certain kindness and tolerance which was conspicuous by its absence from the characters of those stern old warriors who rode the chivalry of England into the dust and made the new world possible.

Judge Cleland was born with a horror of many things—a horror of irreligion, a horror of intemperance, a horror of vice, and, above all, a horror of prisons. He is inclined to condemn the whole penal system as a mere machine for the manufacture of criminals.

To the general public Judge Cleland is best known as the man who introduced the parole system. When he left his private practice to sit on the bench at Maxwell street he had before him an unequalled opportunity to put into practice some of the theories which he long had held in regard to criminals and offenders against the laws. He was called upon daily to decide the temporary fate of dozens of the inhabitants of one of the most polyglot and poorest sections of many tongued Chicago. The great majority of those who came before him were guilty of minor offenses, such as drunkenness and petty thieving, and consequently formed good subjects for the reform judge.

Drink, drugs, and physical defects: In these causes Judge Cleland believes he has discovered the root of nearly all wrong doing. His process of reasoning is simple. The causes first must be removed, and then the state must see to it that the offender has a chance to mend his ways. That punishment rarely corrects is the belief of Judge Cleland, and so he set about to give those who fell into the clutches of the law a chance of redemption without stripes.

To one of the simple and direct methods of thinking which characterized Judge Cleland precedents were of no importance.

Judge Cleland was born in Delhi, N. Y., in 1860, but his family moved to Minnesota when he was three years old and he spent his boyhood on a farm. He graduated from Monmouth (Ill.) college in 1882 and went to St. Louis, where he graduated from Washington University Law school in 1884. He worked his way through the law school by doing newspaper work. The next year he came to Chicago and started to practice law, first as partner with D. H. Pinney, ex-justice of the supreme court of Arizona, and later with Delos P. Phelps, formerly assistant United States treasurer.

When the municipal court system was inaugurated he offered himself for election and received the hearty backing of the churches and law and order leagues of Englewood, where he has lived for 20 years and where he is universally respected. He is married and has four children.

The judge is not a man who has much time for amusements. All his life he has been a hard worker and more than ever at present when in addition to his judicial duties he takes an active part in the work of so many religious and other organizations.

MEXICAN RAINCOATS.

Made from Native Grasses and Are Very Serviceable.

Orizaba, Mexico.—In the tropics of Mexico where torrential rains fall during a part of each year raincoats are a very necessary part of man's apparel. Owing to the intense heat which prevails during the summer season the ordinary rubber raincoat cannot be worn. The rubber would soon become soft and disappear from the cloth texture. A rain-proof coat is made from native grasses and is worn by the men of the middle and upper classes. This coat is of light weight, notwithstanding its heavy and cumbersome appearance.

The grass is woven close together and it is impossible for the rain to beat through it, no matter how great the storm may be. Some of these coats are made with a hood attached which protects the head as well as the body. The wearer of a raincoat made of this material presents a grotesque appearance, but they are such a serviceable piece of wearing apparel that Americans in the tropics readily adopt them for use. These straw raincoats are made with sleeves and are usually worn in long lengths, the bottom almost sweeping the ground.

In making the coats the natives select only the finest and highest grade of a kind of wiregrass which grows abundantly all through the tropical region of Mexico. The blades and straws of the grass form a thatch which protects the body from the rain. At the same time the coats are not excessively warm. They are peculiarly well adapted to a hot climate.

TEN YEARS OF BACKACHE.

Thousands of Women Suffer in the Same Way.

Mrs. Thos. Dunn, 153 Vine St., Columbus, Ohio, says: "For more than ten years I was in misery with backache. The simplest housework completely exhausted me. I had no strength or ambition, was nervous and suffered headache and dizzy spells. After these years of pain I was despairing of ever being cured when Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice and their use brought quick relief and a permanent cure. I am very grateful." Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Two Versions.

At a dinner during the recent Episcopal convention at Richmond a young lady sitting near the bishop of London said to him:

"Bishop, I wish you would set my mind at rest as to the similarity or dissimilarity between your country and ours on one point. Does the butterfly because the tomato can?"

The bishop laughed heartily at this vivacious query. Not so a young Englishman of his party, who, after dinner, sought his host.

"I want to know, you know," said he, "about that joke of Miss B's. She asked if the butter flew because tomatoes could. Pray tell me what the point is."—Lippincott's Magazine.

EYESIGHT WAS IN DANGER

From Terrible Eczema—Baby's Head a Mass of Itching Rash and Sores—Disease Cured by Cuticura.

"Our little girl was two months old when she got a rash on her face and within five days her face and head were all one sore. We used different remedies but it got worse instead of better and we thought she would turn blind and that her ears would fall off. She suffered terribly, and would scratch until the blood came. This went on until she was five months old, then I had her under our family doctor's care, but she continued to grow worse. He said it was eczema. When she was seven months old I started to use the Cuticura Remedies and in two months our baby was a different girl. You could not see a sign of a sore and she was as fair as a newborn baby. She has not had a sign of the eczema since. Mrs. H. F. Budke, LeSueur, Minn., Apr. 15 and May 2, '07."

IN THE LIMELIGHT

OPPOSITION TO NEGRO

William H. Lewis is to be appointed assistant attorney-general of the United States, according to the unofficial statement that has reached that department in Washington, and the news has created something of a tempest in official circles. Washington is pretty nearly a southern city, anyway, and a great share of its population is made up of former office-holders from southern states who have been loath to tear themselves away from the national city when their official salaries stopped. Moreover, many of the present office-holders are men of southern birth and ideas.

Mr. Lewis is thoroughly qualified for the office. At present he is assistant United States attorney for the eastern district of Massachusetts, where he has made a good record. He is Harvard graduate, and on the football team during his college days made a record which Massachusetts devotees of the gridiron game still recall with pleasure.

Born of slave parents in Virginia Lewis had some school opportunities of which he made the most. His father, after receiving freedom, became a Baptist preacher, and this gave the lad a chance to gratify his thirst for reading. When he came north he entered Amherst college, and went thence to Harvard.

Locating in Cambridge City for the practice of law, he was elected to the city council and then to the state legislature. He obtained his appointment to his present position through the recommendation of President Roosevelt himself.

TO JOIN "CLOSE CORPORATION"

Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of the United States bureau of corporations and hence a "near-cabinet" member, has acquired so much knowledge of the habits and benefits of corporations that he is about to become interested in one himself. It is not expected that the new alliance of the commissioner will make it necessary for him to relinquish his position under Secretary Garfield, although it may be said that he is to control nearly 50 per cent. of the holdings and stock of the new concern. The other half—or a trifle more—will be held by the other partner in the prospective combination. She is Miss Gertrude Elizabeth Dietrich, daughter of former Senator Dietrich of Nebraska. The wedding will take place during the fall, of which season it will be one of the notable events in Washington society. The groom-to-be finds time during his never-ending trust hunt to keep himself in good standing as a member of the president's famous "tennis cabinet" and is a trusted adviser of the executive as well as an intimate friend. He is a millionaire and his public career began when, as a young lawyer of Hartford, Conn., he succeeded one "Bill Jones" as a ward captain. That aroused his thirst for political honors and he proceeded to achieve new honors in an unbroken list, beginning with chairman of the town committee and state legislator. In the latter position he won some attention for his uncompromising attitude toward the corporations and their lobbyists and attorneys.

He was called to the president's attention by President Hadley of Yale college and engaged to assist James R. Garfield, then heading the corporations bureau, to prosecute the naughty trusts. He did so well that when his superior was taken into the cabinet Smith succeeded to the bureau position. There he has made a great name for himself, his fight against the Standard Oil being a particularly spectacular and interesting campaign. He is 39 years old and is believed to have a great future.

FLAYS MONEY MAGNATES

Upton Sinclair, the irrepressible, has made his way into the limelight again with a new book, which seems certain to arouse as much comment across the country as have most of its predecessors—which is saying a great deal. This time Mr. Sinclair, in "The Money Changers," takes a fall of two out of Wall street and its group of all-powerful financial magnates. He has drawn a series of pictures of the money kings which are not the portraits those gentlemen are accustomed to seeing of themselves in the newspapers and magazines.

The author announces that he expects and is prepared for a volley of indignant protests from the men he has put in the pages of his book under gauze masks. "I have affidavits and other unquestionable proof to substantiate everything that I have written," he asserts. Before the book was put in type, according to Sinclair, he had placed these affidavits in the hands of his publishers, to insure them protection in case of libel or slander suits from those pilloried in the story.

Upton Sinclair has been called the original muck-raker. He is a socialist, and afflicted with that uncontrollable spirit of unrest and dissatisfaction which has been judged a blessing or a handicap by different people.

Born in Baltimore about 32 years ago, Mr. Sinclair paid his way through college with his pen. He has been a voluminous writer, having "done" an 80,000-word book at 17, and equaled Sir Walter Scott's entire output at 20.

BATHING AN INDIAN IDOL.

Curious Ceremony Attended by Thousands of Devout Pilgrims.

Thousands of pilgrims from the various outlying villages and other parts of the Hooghly district poured in from an early hour in the morning to the temples of Jagernath, says the Calcutta Statesman.

The image of the god is placed on a conspicuous part of the temple, so that it can be viewed at an advantage by the immense crowd of pilgrims, and there at a certain fixed hour the bathing ceremony commences.

The most curious part of the festival is that water is not poured on the image of the god until a certain small bird is found sitting on the topmost banner of the temple. There is a popular belief that the bird comes from Puri, the famous place of Hindu pilgrimage, to Mahech on the day of this festival, and his very presence is an indication that the ceremony should commence. Immediately after the bath the bird disappears.

Marine Insurance.

Marine insurance is the oldest kind of modern insurance. Its principles were first employed in the fourteenth century by the merchants of Barcelona, in Spain, when that city was the capital of the kingdom of Catalonia and when its hardy mariners were second to none in the world. About the same time, and also at Barcelona, the famous code of maritime laws known as the "consulato del mar" was promulgated, which is the foundation of the present shipping laws of every country.

Bought Crusoe's Firelock.

Hulda B. White of Philadelphia has purchased the firelock used by Alexander Selkirk, Defoe's original Robinson Crusoe on the island of Juan Fernandez, at a sale in Edinburgh. The relic has an authentic pedigree, and for a long time was in the possession of Selkirk's relatives in Fife-shire, Scotland. The price paid for the gun was $160.

"THE PALE GIRL."

Did Not Know Coffee Was the Cause.

In cold weather some people think a cup of hot coffee good to help keep warm. So it is—for a short time but the drug—caffeine—acts on the heart to weaken the circulation and the reaction is to cause more chilliness.

There is a hot wholesome drink which a Dak. girl found after a time, makes the blood warm and the heart strong.

She says:

"Having lived for five years in N. Dak., I have used considerable coffee owing to the cold climate. As a result I had a dull headache regularly, suffered from indigestion, and had no 'life' in me.

"I was known as 'the pale girl,' and people thought I was just weakly. After a time I had heart trouble and became very nervous, never knew what it was to be real well. Took medicine but it never seemed to do any good.

"Since being married my husband and I both have thought coffee was harming us and we would quit, only to begin again, although we felt it was the same as poison to us.

"Then we got some Postum. Well, the effect was really wonderful. My complexion is clear now, headache gone, and I have a great deal of energy I had never known while drinking coffee.

"I haven't been troubled with indigestion since using Postum, am not nervous, and need no medicine. We have a little girl and boy who both love Postum and thrive on it and Grape-Nuts."

"There's a Reason."

AN UNSPOTTED CHARACTER.

Money is a good thing, especially in these times, but there is something much more valuable. It is character—the consciousness of a pure and honorable life. This it should be a young man's aim to to preserve at any cost.

During the past year of commercial distress, while many were proved and found wanting, others came forth tried as by fire. Here and there one comes out of the furnace far more of a man than before. Amid the wreck of his fortune he stands erect—a noble specimen of true manhood. Let it be the aim of every young man, every business man, above all things else, to keep this purity sustained. This is the best possession—this is a capital which can never be taken from him—this is the richest inheritance which he can leave to his children.

Let every young man who reads this look at the list of wealthy, influential, respected men who, during the past year, have been placed behind prison bars—men who fell from prominence to disgrace simply because they permitted black spots to form upon their characters.
