VALENCIA COUNTY COURTHOUSE

Structure is nearing Completion and to be Dedicated next month

In company with Mr. Jacobson of this city, and piloted by Chairman Kempenich of the board of county commissioners and mayor W. G. Logan of the city of Los Lunas, the News-man took a look at the new courthouse of Valencia county last Monday.

The structure is of Santa Fe brick, with concrete foundation, two stories and basement. The brick of the walls are laid in "gingerbread" design, the mortar being compressed a fraction of an inch instead of being flush with the edge of the brick. Chairman Kempenich piloted us through the basement first. Here we found several rooms which may be put to various purposes, especially adapted to committee rooms at times of conventions, and the like; a large vault for the storing of documents, books and papers, not in actual use; a roomy boiler room for heating purposes, as well as lavatories, etc.

On the first floor proper, we entered a spacious hall, off of which is the commissioners room, sufficiently large for the comfort of the board while at work and all citizens having business before the body. Adjoining this are rooms for the county clerk, with a roomy vault connected, for the storage of records and documents.

On the same floor are rooms for the treasurer and assessor, these being also supplied with a vault of sufficient capacity to protect all records and papers.

Mounting to the second floor, we pass from the hallway, into the courtroom. On one side of the hall, are offices for the accommodation of the district court clerk and sheriff. On the other side are jury rooms, one for the grand jury work and two for petit juries. Chairman Kempenich led us across the "Bridge of Sighs," which he explained was built for the express convenience of Judge Mechem in making the "prisoners come across." This connects with the upper portion of the jail.

The jail, like the courthouse is two stories and basement. In this building are offices and rooms for the sheriff and his assistants separate apartments for female prisoners, lavatories, etc. In the basement a large room is arranged for a heating plant and storage of fuel. In the west end of the jail is the large cement room, where are to be placed the iron cages for the care of "los malos hombres." The cages or cells will be two stories in height, the room being so constructed that a third cage may be placed above this, if necessary. Light and ventilation are well prepared for, without taking from the strength of the walls. Chairman Kempenich divulged the secret to us that the weak places in the walls are known only to the commissioners. What we saw of the jail was sufficient that hereafter we shall want to view it only from the outside and the greater the distance between us and the jail, the better will we be satisfied.

Both courthouse and jail have been wired in anticipation of electric lighting, and telephones, and the plumbers are at work putting in the pipes for steam heating, connecting up the lavatories and sewers, etc.

Furniture has been ordered for the new buildings which will be in keeping with the structures themselves, and altogether Valencia county will shortly have a courthouse in which every one of her citizens may take pride.

The dedication of the building is to take place sometime in July, the program being in the hands of Judge Mechem. About all that could be learned at this time of the program is that there will be a "spread which will tickle the inner man" interspersed with speeches by various citizens of the county, and perhaps some from outside. In fact we were informed that every citizen of Valencia county would be welcome to make a speech, with the exception of one single man, just who this one is, we are not going to say, but Chairman Kempenich has the line already drawn.

We hope shortly to show our readers a picture of the new buildings.

TOME LAND GRANT CASE DECIDED

In a telegram received yesterday by Attorney Felix Baca, of this city, from the clerk of the United States supreme court at Washington, Mr. Baca was officially notified that the court of last resort had sustained the decision of the supreme court of New Mexico, holding that the "heirs of Barela," the first settler of the Tome grant in Socorro county, were the rightful owners of the Tome grant, comprising 121,000 acres of land. The heirs number about 1,000.

Barela, the original owner of the Tome grant, settled on the land in 1739. About five years ago Bond Brothers brought suit against the heirs, claiming title to the grant, for a partition of the same, and the case was tried in the district court of Socorro county. The court decided in favor of the heirs. An appeal was taken by the plaintiffs to the supreme court, and it sustained the decision of the lower court. Bond Brothers then carried the case to the United States supreme court, and the decision announced yesterday, closes the case.

The victory is regarded as a big one for the heirs. The suit has been one of the most celebrated in the history of New Mexico and its outcome is expected to have far-reaching effect on land grant litigation in the state.—Albuquerque Journal.

ASSESSMENT GROWING

While exact information and figures on the subject are as yet not obtainable, it has been learned from authentic sources that the assessed valuation of Valencia county of this year is upwards of four million dollars. This is quite an advance over that of last year, which figures well ahead of the year previous.

This year's figures include the assessments against the property of the Indians in this county. The board of county commissioners held that under the decision of the Federal Courts to the effect that the Indians were citizens, their property should be taxed the same as that of other citizens.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

A special session of the board of county commissioners was called to meet in the school house at Los Lunas, N. M., June 2nd, 1913, there being present Eugene Kempenich, Chairman, Perfecto Gabaldon and Fermin Marquez, Commissioners, J. M. Luna, Clerk and Melquiades Otero, Assessor.

Thereupon the Board adjourned and met as a Board of Equalization to hear complaints of citizens of the county as to matters of taxation.

MEETING BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

The Board of Equalization met in the school house at Los Lunas on this 2nd day of June, 1913, same parties being present as above. Claude Hutto was engaged to take the proceedings of the board and aid the board in its work.

Thereupon various citizens appeared before the board and presented their claims in form of affidavit which were filed with the various tax returns to be acted upon later by the Board. This meeting lasted the entire day and adjourned at 5 o'clock P. M. to meet in the Court House tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

And now on this 3rd day of June, 1913, the County Commissioners, sitting as a Board of Equalization, met in the court house at Los Lunas for the purpose of canvassing the tax returns, at which time the following proceedings were had, to-wit:—

The Board proceeded to canvass the various returns and acted on them as follows:

MEETING OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

June 3, 1913.

The following resolution was adopted by the Board:

Resolved, That the Board of County Commissioners hereby declare their intention to provide funds for the construction of the proposed Western Extension of the Camino Real in conformity with House Bill No. 130 passed by the last session of the legislature and that the Chairman of this Board is hereby authorized and empowered to draw a warrant on any available fund for this purpose. Should no fund be adequate for this purpose the Board of County Commissioners hereby agrees to make an adequate levy to provide the same at the time of making the levies for other county purposes for the year 1913.

TO TAKE UP PETITION AT JULY MEETING

At the meeting of the county commissioners last week, the petition asking for an election to decide the question of a County High School at Belen, was tabled indefinitely. This was on account of the fact that the law enacted by the legislature of 1912, had been amended by the legislature of 1913, and this amendment does not become effective until the 12th of this month. On Monday of this week, the attention of the commissioners was called to the fact that the amendment in no wise affected the calling of the election, but merely the manner of making the levy to maintain the school. At the latter meeting the board adopted a resolution instructing the clerk to verify the signatures to the petition and in the mean time to take the matter up with the district attorney, and promised to consider the matter further at the regular meeting of the board in July.

BALL GAME STOPPED BY RAIN STORM

Last Sunday afternoon the Los Lunas Ball team accompanied by a number of "rooters" from the county seat came down to get the scalp of the local team. Although the visiting team was strengthened by the addition of two players from the Indian School at Albuquerque, they did not take the trophy back with them as they anticipated. Just what would have been the result had the rain not interfered with the game, can not be told. But it was a pretty game while it lasted. The first inning resulted in goose eggs for both sides. The first half of the second, Los Lunas scored once, the only time any of their players passed home during the game. The second half of this inning, our boys seemed to have no trouble connecting with the ball, both Dempsey and Burford knocking runs, the former bringing in Hall who was on base. A fourth score for the home team during this inning was the last made.

The rain forced the team to call the game off, the score still standing 4 to 1. The Los Lunas boys showed that they have a good team, and played good ball. It is hoped that another game may be arranged shortly, and the strength of the two tested to a finish.

JOLLY PICNICKERS

Last Sunday the employees of the John Becker Company enjoyed the day picnicking at the Beardsley ranch north of town. Several wagons were necessary to transport the crowd and lunch baskets from town, the lunch baskets being an important adjunct. The morning was whiled away, strolling about the fields, picking strawberries and mulberries. At noon dinner was spread on the grass under a large mulberry tree. Several who had attended the morning services at the churches arrived in time for the feast.

During the afternoon games were enjoyed until the rain drove all in doors. Late in the afternoon the party returned to town, the latter part of the trip through the shower, which ended a most pleasant day.

TEACHERS ARE DOING GOOD WORK

Enrollment has Increased and Teachers are Showing great Interest

The Teachers Institute continues this week, the interest of the members increasing, if such a thing is possible. Three more have been added to the enrollment this week, the high school room being comfortably filled. Mrs. Brumback has arranged that the teachers themselves have charge of the opening exercises each morning, a committee of two being named the day previous. Pleasant surprises have been arranged and the rivalry of each committee to do a little better than the day previous has had good results. Short talks by citizens of the town and by the teachers, interspersed with music, have added interest. Among those outside of the institute taking part this week, have been Dr. John A. M. Ziegler, pastor of the Lutheran Church, H. B. Kennebeck, chairman of the local schoolboard and P. A. Speckmann of the News.

On Monday and Tuesday Professor Conway of the College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, was present and made several interesting addresses to the teachers. One of these, in which he explained the manner of grafting and budding fruit trees proved of especial interest to the teachers. All of his work has been helpful to the members of the institute.

Mrs. Brumback, in her usual way, is taking great interest in the work, and has the insight acquired by experience of seeing wherein the individual teacher is deficient and also the faculty of aiding that one of thinking the thing through for himself.

Miss Manette A. Myers, state director of Industrial Education, has written Superintendent Baca, that she will be here to assist in the work on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. The work of Miss Myers is perhaps the most vital of all departments of education as it comes more closely in touch with the home life. Her work covers a large field including as the name indicates cookery and housekeeping in all its branches. Her talks will be of interest not only to the teachers but especially to the ladies of all our homes.

Visitors will receive a hearty welcome at any hour during the daily sessions from 7 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.

This morning Hon. Jesus C. Sanchez, former superintendent of schools of Valencia county, addressed the teachers, his remarks being well received by the audience.

W. F. Fenley passed through Belen last Saturday with a bunch of horses in which he is interested with Howard Sweet and D. B. Sorrells of Socorro, to which place he was taking the stock. He reports some remarkable sales of cattle in western Socorro county recently. Among these were the cattle of Frank Knoblock, who sold his whole herd for July delivery, the price being $35.00 per head for everything except cows with calf by the side, which brought $70.00. Fenley claimed there were two hundred head in this bunch.

The County High School

A County High School at Belen will benefit the whole county of Valencia, not only the town of Belen. Under the law establishing county high schools, pupils from all over the county who have passed the eighth grade are entitled to enter the school without paying tuition. As it is at present, each district may fix and collect tuition as the board sees fit. At present pupils who have completed the tenth grade must look beyond the county for further education, as no school in the county is prepared to care for them. Shall it be said that Valencia county is not able to care for her children in an educational way?

With the present assessed valuation near the four million mark, the levy for the support of the County High School need not be more than one mill, and for the first few years less than a mill levy would suffice. On an assessment of one thousand dollars paying taxes as we do on a one-third valuation, this would mean paying a tax of thirty-three and one-third cents. Is there any taxpayer in the county who has property worth a thousand dollars who cannot pay thirty-three cents taxes a year to help educate our children? The majority of the taxpayers pay taxes on less than this amount. And at the one-half mill levy the taxes would be one-half or about sixteen cents on a valuation of a thousand dollars. Surely the excuse that the County High School will raise taxes, cannot stand in the way of education.

"There's Just two things that break up most happy homes," observed the Huerfano philosopher. "What's them?" inquired a listener. "Woman's love for dry goods and man's love for wet goods."

Nervous?

Mrs. Walter Vincent, of Pleasant Hill, N. C., writes: "For three summers I suffered from nervousness, dreadful pains in my back and sides, and weak sinking spells. Three bottles of Cardui, the woman's tonic, relieved me entirely. I feel like another person, now."

Why Belen has Grown

The reason why Belen has grown is because there are men of push and energy in it, who are not afraid to spend their time and money in boosting the town. They have erected substantial buildings, organized stock companies, encouraged railroads, worked for public improvements, and used all legitimate means to induce people to locate in their city. Wherever they go they tell of the advantages of their city, they write about them in every letter; they send circulars and newspapers to all whom they think they can get to visit the town, and, when anyone visits them, they treat him so kindly that he falls in love with them and their town at once.

It is this enterprise, in addition to the natural advantages and location, and all pulling together, that make a progressive town. If you are a "live wire" Belen offers you the glad hand. Come and investigate conditions for yourself. Come and meet our people, breath our pure air, and enjoy our life-giving sunshine, and you, too, will become a booster for Belen and the Rio Grande Valley.

MEETING OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

And now on this 4th day of June, at 3 P. M. the following proceedings were had:

The following resolution was adopted:

RESOLVED That the Chairman of this Board is hereby authorized to pay all bills for materials and labor used in the construction of the new court house and jail, when duly attested and requested by the Architect.

Petition was presented by various citizens of the county asking for an election under the high school law enacted by the last legislature. The petition was tabled indefinitely, the board holding that it had no right or power to call an election until this law became operative.

Petition of Desiderio Sanchez y Baca for money for river protection was tabled, awaiting report of the State Engineer as to the necessity of the work.

Thereupon the Commissioners adjourned until June 9th to meet in special session.

EUGENE KEMPENICH,
Chairman.

Attested:
J. M. LUNA,
Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners.

Don't growl because you think there is not news enough in your local paper. You can help a good deal if you will send in news items, or tell us about them.

Colonel Roosevelt testified the other day, in his suit against a Michigan editor, that he never drank but one glass at a time of wine, brandy or whisky. Well, nobody ever accused him of drinking two glasses at once. One glass at a time will make a man walk barefooted though December snow and climb a honey locust tree in his night shirt. —Western Spirit.

Purity Bakery for ice cream.

The grass just ahead always looks greener. The same may be said of other towns than this—they look better from here than Alamogordo. The press agent's beguiling stories are entertaining and bewildering, and you read and read and get the idea that just a few miles further on you will strike it rich, you will land flat-footed in a ready-made paradise where all you will have to do is to pick the urgent dollars from the bushes. Nix, brother, nix! You were put into this dreary old world to get your bread by work of some kind. You will find drawbacks to those other places fully as great as you find here. Those bewitching stories are not for the purpose of getting you over there in order to make it easy for the men behind the scheme to lay the money in to your pretty little hands. It will be found that the grocers, the bakers and the candlestickmakers there are built about like those doing business in Alamogordo; that the soil there needs water and working; that the seeds to make the melons must be injected into the bosom of old mother earth in some way; that money must be had with which to do these things; that jobs there are to be had if you are competent to fill the positions—maybe. Conditions are pretty much the same the world over. If you succeed you have certainly got to "hit the ball"; you have certainly got to work. If you have tried it, you are probably wise to the fact that cussing your luck has never earned you a dollar; that knocking on your town has not rapidly built it up; that refusing to work for a dollar a day because the last work you did you got two dollars a day hasn't bought you many loaves of bread. And if you have tried it, you have very probably discovered that by adjusting yourself to your surroundings you have done pretty well. —Alamogordo News-Advertiser

Keeping the Milk Sweet

The Santa Fe Product company has issued a little folder, as to the care of milk. It contains so many good suggestions that they should be given the fullest publicity. The folder reads as follows:

At a meeting held in Boston in the interest of pure milk, under the auspices of the State Board of Agriculture, the Woman's Municipal League of Boston, the Massachusetts Agricultural College and the State Dairy Bureau, nine good rules for the care of milk were given by P. M. Harwood.

1. Take in milk and cream as soon as possible after being left at your door and place in refrigerator.

2. Keep milk and cream cool until ready for use. The bottom of the refrigerator is cooler than the ice containers.

3. If ice cannot be had, wrap the bottle in a wet cloth and stand it in a dish of water by an open window, out of the sun; evaporation of water will cool the milk.

4. Keep milk or cream covered until wanted, and in the bottle in which it is delivered; in open bowls or pitchers they will absorb odors from food and collect flies and dust.

5. Pour from the bottle only what milk or cream is needed for immediate use.

6. Milk or cream that has become warm should never be poured back into the bottle of cold milk.

7. Utensils used for milk should be cleaned with cold water and then with boiling water, thoroughly drained and allowed to become cold before being filled with milk.

8. Wash and return all milk and cream bottles daily.

9. Have a separate quart of milk for the baby; what he does not use others may have.
