VOLUME 1.

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, SATURDAY, JUNE 27, 1891.

NUMBER 27.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Washington, D. C., June 24.—Superintendent Porter denies emphatically the truth of the report that the census bureau's work is blocked and exhausted, and that its appropriations are exhausted, and that therefore he is discouraged and intends to resign. He says, in substance, that the census work of the eleventh census is completed. As to the work of the bureau being blocked, there is no truth whatever, he says, in the statement, but on the other hand it is in perfect condition, well advanced, with ample appropriations already made.

Superintendent Porter is more than pleased with the progress made thus far. Two volumes will be ready for the printer next month. The volume embodying the aggregate population of minor cities will be ready for the printer by August 1, and the first 100 pages of the population compendium will go to the printer about the middle of August. By July 31 the tabulating cards will be ready, and then it will be necessary to dispense with the services of about 1,000 clerks now employed in the population division.

The system adopted for collecting population statistics has given satisfactory results, and only a few days ago, after a careful examination by Canadian officials, it was adopted by their government for use in the taking of the next census of Canada. The Austrian and Australian governments have also after careful examination signified their intention of adopting this system.

Convention of Bishops.

Chicago, June 24.—For the next six days the bishops of the African Methodist Episcopal Church will be in annual session in this city. They represent the oldest and largest organization of colored Methodists in the world, dating back to 1787. The present council has the supervision of the church not only in the United States and Canada, but in San Domingo, Hayti, the British West Indies as well as Africa. There are eleven bishops in the council and their dioceses contain five thousand ministers and a round half million of church communicants. Among those who arrived to-day are: Bishops John M. Brown, Abram Grant, H. M. Turner, Benjamin F. Tanner, Arnet Ward and A. W. Wargman. They are accompanied by the general officers and secretaries of the general departments of the church work. The council will be formally opened with a welcoming meeting in the Olivet Baptist church which has been placed at the disposal of the committee. The business sessions will commence to-morrow morning.

Brooklyn Honors Beecher.

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 24.—The monument to the memory of the late Henry Ward Beecher will be unveiled this afternoon with imposing ceremonies. It is an appropriate day being the twenty-eighth anniversary of the birth of the noted divine. In accordance with the proclamation of the mayor the day is being observed as a public holiday. Large crowds of people have been coming from New York over the Brooklyn bridge and by the ferries this morning to participate in the event. The programme will be under the auspices of the monument committee and the Brooklyn Park Commissioners. The monument stands in the green plot in front of the City Hall about fifteen feet from the corner and midway between two immense floral urns. It is the work of sculptor J. Q. A. Ward and its cost will be fifty thousand dollars. Of this two-thirds has been subscribed.

The statue proper, which is of bronze, is about nine feet in height, and rests on a granite pedestal, which in turn stands on a sub-base having three steps, making the total height of the monument about eighteen feet. Mr. Beecher is shown standing erect, in an easy position, his head turned slightly towards the left. He is represented wearing the cape overcoat which the Brooklynites and others well remember. In his left hand he holds the familiar Kew-Forest hat. Leaning against the right side of the pedestal is the figure of a negro in an attitude of sorrow, the impression to be conveyed being the grief of the colored race over the loss of such an earnest worker in the cause of abolition. At the left of the pedestal are the figures of a boy and a girl, the former lifting the girl upward in his arms while she places a string of flowers at the feet of the statue. Mr. Beecher's attitude is one of fearlessness, and at the same time the bearing is suggestive of his genial character.

Bronze Statue of a Good Bishop.

New York, June 24.—The life-sized bronze statue of Archbishop Hughes, which has been erected by the contributions of Catholics and Protestants alike, was formally unveiled to-day. It stands on the lawn in front of St. John's College, at Fordham. There was a great gathering of priests and members of the laity and the exercises were simple but impressive. Archbishop Corrigan performed the act of unveiling and the eulogy was delivered by Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia. Among the subscribers to the monument which cost twenty thousand dollars were: Eugene Kelly, ex-Mayor W. R. Grace, ex-Mayor Cooper, Mayor Grant, and nearly every member of the New York judiciary. Hon. O. B. Potter, although not affiliated to the Catholic Church, subscribed the sum of $250, saying that he knew no man in his profession and few men in any profession, who had done more for the preservation of the government during the late struggle than the archbishop, and that in this no less than for his broad and liberal and republican views of the rights of conscience in all men, the community he so much benefited and helped owed it to itself to erect a memorial.

Archbishop Ryan in his eulogy said that Archbishop Hughes was one of the most prominent dignitaries of the church in America forty years ago, and that his memory is revered to-day by clergy and laity alike. He was born in Ireland in 1797 his father was a small farmer and emigrated to this country in the early part of the present century. Although the boy had but a limited education, being compelled to labor in the fields as a farm hand for several years, his ambitions were strong and he applied himself so ardently to the task of improving his mind that he was finally enabled to take his ordination vows as a priest. Fifty years ago to-day he opened the doors of St. John's college in the founding of which he had been the principal mover. He was a warm champion of the right of Catholic and parochial schools to a share in state appropriations. He was created an Archbishop in 1850. When the Mexican war began President Polk offered him the mission to Mexico in the belief that his talents would encourage the restoration of peace. He however declined. So popular did he become that in 1852 the Catholics in the United States asked that he be created a cardinal and during the administration of President Lincoln the officials of the government made the same request in recognition of his valuable services in behalf of the Union.

At the request of President Lincoln and Secretary Seward in 1862 he visited Europe in behalf of the government. His health began to fail on this trip and on January 3rd, 1864, he passed away.

He is a Candidate.

Chicago, June 25.—Senator Clinton of Illinois is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1892, and he makes no secret of the fact.

"If the nomination is tendered me, you can bet I won't throw the honor over my shoulder," were the words he used to a reporter at the Auditorium hotel. "And if it is going to be a free-for-all fight," he added, "and the Illinois delegation is for me, why then I'll be in the field."

"Blaine can have the nomination if he wants it," continued the senator, "but I doubt if he will encourage any movement to put him in the field. Harrison stands the best chance in my opinion and will doubtless be named."

"The tariff will be the issue and the silver and the other minor issues will be sort of tacked on to the tariff as side issues. McKinley will be elected governor of Ohio for three reasons: First, he is personally a very popular man, having the magnetic attractiveness of Blaine; second, Campbell, who will doubtless be his opponent, has succeeded in dividing his party; and third, the Republican party in Ohio was never so strong as now."

The senator is en route to Europe, where he expects to spend most of the summer.

Knight of Labor.

Columbus, O., June 25.—In the large club room of the Neil House were gathered this morning the members of the executive board of Knights of Labor. With them were the master workmen and secretaries of the principal "locals" not only of this city but from different parts of the state. The proceedings are being conducted with closed doors. Right worthy Foreman Kavanaugh and others of the participants, insisted that the purpose of the meeting is simply to take measures for increasing strength of the order in the buckeye state, but it is pretty generally understood, that the real object is to decide what action, if any, the order should take in the present political campaign in Ohio in view of the refusal of Secretary Foster to re-instate the Knights of Labor who some months ago were dismissed from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. This view of the matter is confirmed by dispatches from Washington which say that the men involved in the trouble are anxiously awaiting the outcome of to-day's conference.

Great Boat Race.

New London, Conn., June 25.—The great triangular two mile race between the Yale, Harvard and Columbia freshmen crews will take place at 1 o'clock this afternoon and the city is crowded in anticipation of the event. Several special trains from New York and Boston arrived here in the forenoon. It promises a pretty event. Yale will try some new tactics this year and its freshmen propose to start the race at the rattling pace of forty-two strokes a minute. Bob Cook, their trainer, has come to the conclusion that a rapid stroke is a necessary thing for a short race, and consequently, Yale will depart from its traditions in this particular. The Columbia crew is in good shape and has been active in practice. The betting favors Yale.

The following item clipped from the Ft. Madison, (Iowa), Democrat, contains information well worth remembering: "Mr. John Roth, of this city, who met with an accident a few days ago, spraining and bruising his leg and arm quite severely, was cured by one 50 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm." This remedy is without an equal for sprains and bruises and should have a place in every household. For sale by Thos. H. Burgess & Son, druggists.

They Decline to Orate.

Washington, D. C., June 25.—Some time ago Secretary of the Treasury Foster made an engagement to deliver an address on July 10th before the Lake Side Assembly of Findlay, Ohio, which is a sort of Western Chautauque, upon the subject "how to deal with the liquor question" and more than ordinary interest has been excited in Ohio and elsewhere, regarding the position on the liquor traffic which this prominent politician would assume. The secretary, however, now authorizes the statement that his official duties are such as will compel him to cancel the engagement and notification to that effect was sent to-day to Rev. Dr. Belt who has charge of the programme. It is also announced that owing to a press of duties, Postmaster-General Wainwright will probably be compelled to cancel his engagement to speak at the annual Fourth of July celebration at the residence of Henry C. Bowen at Woodstock, Conn.

Old and Inmate.

San Francisco, June 25.—Forty years ago there was no name more widely known in connection with the foreign missions of the Presbyterian Church than that of Rev. Dr. Augustus W. Loomis. He was one of the pioneers in the Chinese field and between the years 1841 and 1851 he did herculean work among the Mongolians and practically sowed the seed of the great success which the Presbyterian church has since reaped in that empire. Upon returning from abroad he was engaged in ministerial work for ten years in Illinois and thence came to this city. For the past thirty years he has had charge of the Presbyterian Chinese mission. To-day he is an inmate of a private asylum for the insane at Stockton, to which institution under an order of the court he was taken by his relatives a few days ago. His chief delusion is that the servant girls employed in his residence are in a conspiracy to murder him by poisoning his food with opium. On several occasions he has endeavored to induce the police authorities to order their arrest and his hallucination finally became so strong that his relatives were compelled to put him under restraint. His mental trouble had its origin in insomnia. He is seventy six years of age and his case is regarded as hopeless.

Cabinet Meeting.

Washington D. C. June 25.—A special meeting of the cabinet is being held to-day for the purpose of considering the financial situation and more especially in regard to the extension of the 4 1/2 per cent loan and the continued coupon of silver after Tuesday next. These matters were placed before the cabinet two weeks ago by Secretary Foster who asked them to decide whether the treasury department should continue the coupon of silver dollars after July first or discount them as the secretary has discretion to do. The opinion prevails that in order to meet the views of the treasury the cabinet will decide to continue to run the same amount that is now being done, two million ounces per month. On the other hand financiers desire the coupon cut off absolutely on the ground that it is of no use to any body because the coupon cannot be put in circulation. One of the arguments used in favor of keeping up the coupon is that it will result in a round profit to the government. The profit would come from the seigniorage or difference between the actual value and the nominal value of a dollar. It is understood, however, that Secretary Foster is reluctant to adopt this method of making money by coining debased money and pocketing the difference.

Imposters Making Collections.

Washington, June 25.—Secretary Delmonico, of the World's Fair has forwarded to Assistant Secretary Nettleton a copy of resolutions adopted by the board of control. These resolutions set forth that a number of individuals and corporations are stating in public prints that they are authorized agents in foreign countries to collect exhibits for the fair, and that the board denounce all such imposters, unless they can show that they received their authority from the commission or Director General Davis.

The Claims of Mormon Leaders.

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 25.—In an interview President Woodruff and Joseph Cannon, of the Mormon church, asserted that there was no truth in the charges that the so-called people's party of Utah, the membership of which was wholly Mormon, was dissolved by the church. President Woodruff said that he disclaimed the right to control the political action of the members of the church. He also said that he favored the separation of the church and state.

The German Emperor.

New York, June 25.—A dispatch from Berlin says that the emperor arrived at Kiel to-day en route for his visit to England. He will remain there until Monday, when accompanied by the Empress, he will make his departure via Hamburg. An official denial is given to the statement that the emperor has been renounced with the Prince of Wales on the part which he played in the recent baccarat scandal.

The Territorial Finances.

A territorial paper or two, for political or probably other purposes, in no way though for the benefit of the territory, are taking pains to misrepresent facts about the territorial treasury and the First National bank of Santa Fe; the papers in question could be had very cheap, were their support desirable; as it is, their opposition is preferable. In this connection, however, it might just as well be stated, that the official affairs of New Mexico are being honestly and economically administered; that at no time during the existence of the territory has the credit of the territory as a whole been as good as it now is; at no time has the financial system worked as well as it does now; the only hitch is in the matter of certain deficiency and court appropriations, which were with malice aforethought curtailed and reduced by the democratic white cap bodiless house of the 25th legislature and democratic ringleaders for no other purpose than to cripple the territorial government and the proper administration of the courts and to create dissatisfaction among people, to whom the territory owed money for services contracted during the past few years, in connection with the courts or as assessors and collectors. As attempt is now being made to mislead the people of New Mexico by false statements and innuendoes that have no foundation in fact and make believe a hocus pocus game is going on in the matter of the territorial funds; that warrants are bought up for speculative purposes at low rates and that money is being made illegally or dishonestly out of the territorial funds; these charges are absolutely and unqualifiably false, and the men and the papers making them so know it. Not a warrant is drawn unless there are funds to pay it, hence, there can be no speculation in warrants, the finances of the territory are being administered in strict accordance with the law, and every man to whom a warrant is issued has it promptly paid.—New Mexican.

OUR BALL CHAMPIONS.

The Maroons Doing Missionary Work for this City.

There never has been a time, in the history of this city, that Albuquerque received so much gratuitous advertising as now, and the present Albuquerque base ball club—the invincible Maroons—are helping along the free advertising. Our city's ball club is being known far outside of the confines of this territory, and clubs in other states are anxious to cross bats with the Maroons. Here are two letters; read them:

DENVER, COLO., June 18,

W. T. McCright, manager Albuquerque Base Ball Club.

Dear Sir: The "Sanden Electric" base ball team, who have derived considerable reputation in this state, leave here July 4th for a tour of Colorado and about the 10th will be on the southern branch of the Denver & Rio Grande. If you think the return would justify the trip I would like to extend it into New Mexico and play you one or a series of games, as I hear that Albuquerque has a present the best club of the territory. The team will be composed of strong semi professional talent, and will be the strongest ever sent out from here except the Western Association club.

Yours, truly,

M. A. McLAUGHLIN, Manager.

DENVER, COLO., June 24,

W. T. McCright, manager Albuquerque Base Ball Club.

Dear Sir: I was advised by W. A. York to write you and see if there was any show for a game, say July 4th and 5th, in Albuquerque. We have the strongest amateur team in Denver, having won eleven out of twelve games in Central City, Black Hawk, Idaho Springs, Greeley and at home. I am confident we could give you a good exhibition of ball playing. Mr. York is playing short stop on my team. Hoping to hear from you at once.

I am yours, WALLEY NEWINS,

Manager, Moore's H. C. Club.

It is to be regretted that Albuquerque, for the time being, will miss the opportunity on the Fourth of seeing her favorite club, the Maroons, tackle a Denver club. It would be a great drawing card for the city, but the Driving Park association will hold races that day, and thus the home club can not make satisfactory terms. However, later in the season, an effort will be made to get either the "Sanden Electric," or "Moore's" club to visit the city.

DENVER AND NEW MEXICO.

Some of our friends at Las Vegas seem to be very much provoked because the Denver papers insist that Denver's first connection with New Mexico should be by way of the Denver & Rio Grande, down the valley from Española to Albuquerque. And yet this is a proposition that certainly could not be questioned by any clear headed and fair minded man. The richest part of the territory would be tapped by such a road; it would come direct to the business and railroad center of the country, and would therefore have a fair chance to secure its share of whatever traffic the country produces, whereas a road running through the territory a hundred miles to one side of the business center, would have the benefit of any such local business as it could gather up along its line.

As we have said before, we believe the projected line from Trinidad, down through New Mexico to El Paso, is one that would be of great value to the country, because it would stimulate settlement and development, and would thus create business in a portion of the territory where but little exists at present, and being crossed north of White Oaks by the Pecos valley road, it would afford to the people of all that portion of the territory east of the mountains an outlet to Albuquerque. It is a road that would benefit the country, and one that would settle the country, but without any desire to prejudice the enterprise we are forced to admit that the scheme is not practicable at the present time. It is a long line, and it would require a great deal of capital to build it. When money becomes so plenty that people are willing to invest in enterprises from which no dividends are expected till the country has become developed, there will be a good chance of securing the capital necessary to build a line of that character. But such a plethora of money does not exist at present, and it is utterly useless to go on the market with the bonds of any proposed railroad or other enterprise that cannot show a reasonable probability of prompt returns. The proposed extension of the Denver & Rio Grande from Española to Albuquerque is one of the few enterprises that can comply with the present demands of capital, and show a profitable business ready and waiting for it. This would involve the building of only eighty miles of road. It would not be an experiment or an uncertainty. It would not have to wait for its business till the country might be developed, for the business is already here, and it would enter upon a profitable traffic as soon as its trains were ready to run.

We have no disposition to throw a straw in the way of any proposed railway enterprise in New Mexico. On the other hand, it is to our interest to encourage and assist all such undertakings, for they all help the territory, and whatever helps the territory helps Albuquerque, but we do not think it wise, nor an exhibition of good business judgment, to waste on impracticable schemes the time and energy that ought to be given to the accomplishment of something practicable.

The tenth semi annual convention of the National Association of general Baggage Agents will be held in Boston, beginning July 15.

A DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR.

The Promenade Concert of the Guards, last evening.
The promenade concert of the Athlete Guards, now one of the crack militia organizations of the southwest, last night at the large Armojo, was a pronounced success in every particular, and the program, which had been prepared with a view to suit the wishes of all, was carried out, with only two exceptions, and the participants rendered their parts in admirable style. The singing of the quartette of the company, the flute playing of Chas. Stever, the recitations of Misses Virginia Doy and Winnie Hart, the music by the Mexican brass band, and the songs of Misses May Hawley and Maud Talbot, were indeed good and cheerful, especially as the evening was quite sultry.

All members of the Guards, except commensal officers, took part in the competitive drill for the Abright medal, and finally, after all had been retired except three, Louis Mangel, Jesse Robins and James Bell, the judges, Col. Borradaile, Capt. Gunn and Bono, in connection there will be a concert, the following taking part: Mrs. Karl Snyder, Mrs. Schollenberger, Miss May Hawley and Miss Winnie Hart, also the Guards' male quartette and mandolin club.

The colonel stated that other democrats will be given a lesson by their removal from office to which they were not elected.

The glorious Fourth of July will not be forgotten in Albuquerque this year. In old town a grand celebration will take place on the plaza. H. R. The Mexican brass band will dispense patriotic airs. In the afternoon at the fair grounds in old town there will be, under the auspices of the Gentlemen's Driving Park association, several exciting trotting and running races will take place, and the horses will not entirely be home horses. Several will come from Fort Wingate and other places. Patriotic people will not allow the Fourth to pass by without doing the day proper credit.

Lawyer Ferguson to the Rescue.
Please allow me to say that I am attorney for Mr. Harris, of Kansas City, protest against the attacks made upon him in our city papers. It is not true, as stated in the morning paper, that Mr. Johnson offered to deed back the Kansas City property to Mr. Harris and to make whole as to expenses incurred by him in his reliance on Johnson's contract. Nothing was offered to Mr. Harris but the bare deed, and that was rejected upon my direct advice, and Mr. Harris has not shown any shylock disposition at all. I do not propose to try this case in the papers, I think it should be tried in the court. I therefore call no names and make no statement of such facts as I know.

But I promise this: If the apparent preconcerted effort to drive Mr. Harris out of town by misrepresentation and insinuating epithet is persisted in, then I will be in the fight, and I will make some people wish they had left this matter to the courts where it belongs.

H. B. FERGUSON.

For the first time the boys will don their new suits and this evening will play at the promenade concert at the Armojo.

His Comments.
The sporting writer on the Las Vegas exchange says:
Manfue, behind the lat, didn't make a break; Mandel more than pitched a little; Rudolph, on first, was a daisy. Sears, on second, best man in the territory; Murray, short stop, too big a hurry; Timmons, on third, infield captain, is out of sight; McCann, left field, can chase a ball, enough; McCroght, center field, chased the ball and made a two base hit; Knight right field, dropped a fly, and slides bases on his chin, all same tologgan.

An Old Passenger.

From Chaves County.
The following self explanatory letter is received from W. S. Frager, of Las well, by President Hall:
Boswell, N. M., June 15, 1891.
C. C. Hall, President New Mexico Exposition, Albuquerque, N. M.

My Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your kind favor of the 8th inst, and cordially note what you say, especially with reference to the opportunity offered to visit the resources of our county.

In agriculture and fine stock raising, Chaves county may well be proud of the success she has attained in the short time she has had in which to develop her resources. With her broad valleys and immense water supply, she is well bound to rank second to none of any of the western counties. I shall be pleased to act on your suggestion and advocate and use every endeavor in having a good display of fruits, vegetables, grapes, etc., at the coming fair to be held in your city in September. Not having any direct railroad communication it will be inconvenient to make an exhibit of live stock.

I leave in a few days for an extended trip east but immediately on my return will give the subject my attention. In this connection I wish to thank you and your board of directors for the honor you have conferred in appointing myself as one of the vice presidents.

Joseph Clift was here yesterday from his cattle ranch near Pueblo, Colo., and has gone to Magdalena, from which place he will load and ship his steers from his Datid mountain ranch to his Colorado ranch.

A. Bauer, owner of a cattle ranch in Sulphur Springs valley, Arizona, passed through the city last night on his return home from Kansas City, where he disposed of two train loads of three and four year old steers, which he had previously shipped from his ranch, expecting to realize much better prices there than offered at home. Unfortunately the eastern market was dull, and the steers only brought $1.85 per hundred pounds, netting him the small sum of $4 per head. Before he had rounded up his steers to be shipped to Kansas City, he was offered $1.75 per head, a difference of $11 to him had he accepted the price. He is returning home a very sad man, but his experience is doubtless worth something.

Tell Mr. Sant to see Mr. Tobey.
