The Funding Act.

Appended is a correct copy of the county funding act which was passed at the recent session of the legislative assembly:

Section 1.—The county commissioners of the respective counties of this territory are hereby authorized and empowered to issue coupon bonds of the said counties in exchange for their outstanding indebtedness, as evidenced by the warrants or bonds of said counties duly issued, which has now accrued or may accrue up to the 1st day of July, A. D., 1889. Said counties are also authorized and empowered to refund any bonded indebtedness, with the interest thereon, where the same can be done under the provisions of this act, so as to enable such county or counties to refund at a lower rate of interest than is now being paid upon such bonds, and all bonds so exchanged or sold shall be exchanged and sold at their par or face value.

Sec. 2.—In order to enable the county commissioners to place the finances of any county upon a cash basis, such county commissioners are hereby authorized to issue coupon bonds, such as are provided for by this act, from time to time after the 1st day of July, A. D., 1889, to meet the current expenses of the county. Such bonds to be issued at such times and in such quantities as in judgment of said commissioners may be expedient and the same shall be sold or exchanged for cash at a discount of not more than 5 per cent on their par or face value. Provided, that no bonds shall be issued or sold by virtue of this section after the 1st day of January, A. D., 1890, unless there be enough money in the county treasury for all county purposes sufficient to meet the same. And hereafter all taxes annually levied for county purposes shall be appropriated and used exclusively to meet and pay the current expenses of the county for the year succeeding that in which such taxes have been levied, to the extent that such taxes have been collected prior to and during said last mentioned year. Provided, that all delinquent taxes of preceding years shall be applied when collected, to pay the current expenses of the county as they accrue. Provided further, that if at any time the taxes collected during any year shall not be sufficient to meet the current expenses of such county for the succeeding year, then it shall be lawful at the next annual levy of taxes for the county commissioners of such county, to make an additional levy not to exceed 1-2 of 1 mill on each $1 of taxable property in such county, for the purpose of making up such deficit in the current expenses of such county.

Sec. 3.—Any and all bonds issued under the provisions of this act, shall be of the denominations of $100 each or some multiple thereof, and shall bear interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of January and July of each year; both principal and interest shall be payable at the office of the county treasurer of such county issuing such bond or bonds, or at such place as the county commissioners designated; and all such bonds shall be payable, at the option of the county commissioners issuing the same, in ten years, and absolutely due and payable thirty years after the date thereof.

Sec. 4.—At any time after this act goes into effect the holder of any warrant or warrant outstanding on the 1st day of July, A. D., 1889, amounting with accrued interest thereon to $100 or more, may apply to the probate clerk, and ex-officio county clerk, of said county for bonds of the kind hereinbefore described in exchange for such warrants and interest accrued thereon, dollar for dollar, and any county taking the benefit of this act shall compute the interest of such warrants, from the date of their issue until taken up, at the rate of 6 per centum per annum. The county commissioners of each county shall then upon execute such bond or bonds and deliver the same to the holder of such warrants and for any balance of such warrants and interest as aforesaid, over the amount of bonds issued as aforesaid, the board of county commissioners shall issue to the owner or owners thereof a new warrant, similar to the county war-wants hereinabove issued, and bearing interest at a rate of 6 per cent per annum from the date thereof. All such warrants shall be reported by the county commissioners to the treasurer, and shall be registered and paid by him in the same order as though they had been presented to him for registration by the holder thereof upon the date such warrant bears; and in case of neglect or refusal of the county commissioners to deliver a bond or bonds of the county in exchange for county warrants, as is herein provided, then the probate clerk shall endorse such warrants as follows: "Presented, but not funded," which endorsement shall be dated and signed by the clerk, and, unless sooner converted into bonds, in accordance with the terms of this act, such warrant shall be paid in their peculiar order with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum such interest to be computed and paid in the same manner as though such warrants had received in exchange for bonds. Provided, that all warrants not exchanged or presented for exchange, for such bond on or before the 1st day of July, A. D., 1889, shall not bear interest after said date, and shall not be paid by any county treasurer, except when there shall be a surplus of county funds in the treasury of said county, over and above what is necessary to meet and defray the current expenses of said county.

Sec. 5.—All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with number one, and shall be signed by the chairman of the board of county commissioners, and attested by the probate clerk under the seal of the county. The county commissioners shall prescribe the date and form of such bond or bonds, and all coupons shall be signed by the chairman of the board of county commissioners and by the treasurer of such county, and the coupons attached, and shall show the date of maturity of such coupon bonds.

Sec. 6.—The county commissioners of each county issuing bonds under the provisions of this act shall provide a book and shall register therein, in order in which they are issued, the number, date and amount of each bond so issued, and the time when the same shall become due, together with the name of the person to whom issued, and a description of the warrants or bonds, as the case may be, taken up and canceled by issuing said bond or bonds; and they shall likewise keep a memorandum or record of all bond or bonds, or warrant or warrants, at any time taken up and paid by the treasurer, and all such bond and bonds, shall be registered on the back thereof by the treasurer of such county, who shall certify that such bond or bonds have been regularly issued in accordance with the laws of the territory of New Mexico.

Sec. 7.—It shall be the duty of the county commissioners of any county issuing bonds under the terms of this act to levy each year, at the time of making the levy of other taxes, a tax sufficient in amount and no more than is sufficient to pay the interest on said bond or bonds, warrant or warrants, for each year, such tax shall be kept separate from the taxes levied for other county purposes, and shall be payable in money, and shall be devoted exclusively to the payment of such interest.

Sec. 8.—After the expiration of the year 1889, and annually thereafter or until paid, the county commissioners of each county, shall provide a sinking fund by taxation, and shall levy a tax equal to, at least 10 per cent and not more than 20 per cent of such bonds; whenever funds to the amount of $1,000 shall come into the hands of the county treasurer, he shall give notice by publication once a week for at least four consecutive weeks, in some newspaper published in his county, and if there be no newspaper published in such county, then in the nearest adjoining county, that upon presentation of certain bonds, designating them by number, date and amount, he will pay the same, and interest upon such bond or bonds shall cease thirty days after the last publication aforesaid; and all bonds shall be called for redemption in the order of their number, beginning with No. 1.

Sec. 9.—Any funds remaining in the hands of the county treasurer after the redemption of such bond or bonds shall be transferred to the proper fund for the redemption of county warrants, or to the fund for the payment of the current expenses of said county.

Sec. 10.—Whenever any bond or bonds, or the interest thereon or the coupons attached thereto, issued under the provisions of this act, shall become due and unpaid they shall, on

A Terrible Misfortune.

It is a calamity of the direst kind to feel that one's physical energies are failing in the prime of life—to feel more nervous, less disposed, and less inclined to exertion than in the ordinary lot of hundreds who surround us. A source of reserved strength which seems approves, in behalf of which multitudes of debilitated have and are every day testifying, and which, in countless instances, has built up constitutions supplanted by weakness and infirmity and long undermined by other means, surely commands itself to all who need a tonic. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is such a medicine—pure bitters, soothing to the nerves, promotive of digestion and a fertilizer of the blood. The pep and nervousness—the first a cause, the second a consequence of lack of stamina—depart when a course of the Bitters is tried. All forms of maladies, rheumatism, sciatica, and bladder trouble, constipation and giddiness are annihilated by this standard family medicine.

DEMOCRATIC MUSIC.

Base is the slave who pays—Shakespeare.

On Tuesday of this week the case of Gamble vs. Forward came on for trial in the District Court before Judge Henderson. Mr. Gamble is the leader of the Neills band and furnished the music that led the mob who defaced the Sabbath day and violated the Sunday law on the occasion of the Joseph reception during the late campaign. It will be remembered by our readers that on said occasion a procession, headed by Mr. Joseph, Judge Henderson and various other Democratic Federal, Territorial and county officials paraded our streets preceded by a band of music disturbing religious services, that they marched to Mesilla, had a political meeting in the plaza of that town (on Sunday) and that when they returned to Las Cruces the procession had become a howling mob making day and night hideous with drunken yell and curses. For having furnished the music on this occasion and the previous day, Mr. Gamble demanded forty dollars, which small sum the Democratic leaders failed to pay, they had enjoyed their狂妄, but the sequel was not pleasant to contemplate; they declined to pay the fiddler, and so Mr. Gamble brought his suit in Judge Henderson's court against Mr. Forward, the deputy clerk, who, Mr. Gamble alleged, was the master of ceremonies on the interesting occasion mentioned.

Mr. Gamble proved that he had furnished the music and was of the opinion that Mr. Forward had ordered him to furnish it, but of one thing he was certain, he had not been paid, neither Mr. Joseph, nor Judge Henderson, nor any other Democratic office holder who, on that occasion, had exultantly marched to the inspiring and exhilarating tune of "Four, Four, Four Years More" as they floated from Mr. Gamble's horns on the still air of that beautiful Sabbath morn, had contributed any of the spoils of office towards remunerating the horn blower; the Democratic office holders had enjoyed their狂妄 and now ther declaimed, in defiance of the proverb, to "pay the fiddler." It was a case to arouse the sympathies of a stone, and Judge Henderson, in his charge to the jury could scarcely restrain his emotion, he said substantially: "Gentlemen, there is absolutely nothing in the evidence which shows any promise either express or implied on the part of Mr. Forward to pay this money, the interest which he took in the matter was simply as a member of the Democratic party. Mr. Gamble however is entitled to his pay, and ought to be paid, and most be paid." A subscription ought to be taken up among the members of the Democratic party for the purpose of paying him, and I, as a member of that party am willing to go down into my pocket here and now and contribute for that purpose. Gentlemen of the jury, you will find a verdict for the defendant in this case." The jury promptly returned a verdict for Mr. Forward and Mr. Gamble has to pay the costs. Our reporter has reliable information that the subscription taken up by the Democratic office holders on Judge Henderson's suggestion to pay Mr. Gamble for his music has already reached the enormous figure of $100.00.
