BELEN, NEW MEXICO, AUGUST 7, 1913

NUMBER 34.

CONTRACT IS LET FOR BRIDGE

Structure near Belen to Cost $14,300. Repairs at Los Lunas will cost $985

The board of county commissioners at their meeting held on Monday, opened bids for the construction of the bridge across the Rio Grande near Belen, and for the repair of the bridge near Los Lunas, and let the contract for the same. The contract for the Belen bridge was awarded to the El Paso Bridge & Iron Company for the sum of $14,300. The repair work of the Los Lunas bridge will be done by the Pueblo Bridge Company at a cost of $985.

A meeting of the trustees of the Belen Commercial Club will be held tonight at 8 o'clock. On next Tuesday night, August 12th, a meeting of the Club will be held for the purpose of arranging the program for the year's work. All interested will please take notice and act accordingly.

The contract for the new Belen bridge was let yesterday by the Valencia county commissioners to the El Paso Bridge and Iron company for $14,355. This was the lowest of seven bids submitted. Those who had submitted bids were as follows:

Levy Constructing company, $18,321.
El Paso Bridge & Iron company, $14,355.
Missouri Bridge & Iron company, $16,500.
J. A. Harlan & Son, $17,839.
Pueblo Bridge & Iron company, $15,750.
Western Bridge & Construction company, $16,700.
Midland Bridge company, $16,999.

This bridge will replace a bridge washed out by the floods about two years ago, and connect the city of Belen with the east side of the Rio Grande, which contains many prosperous farms, whose occupants have been without a bridge between Los Lunas and San Antonio, and the latter is a railroad bridge. The new structure will be paid for by the county, under the new county bridge law, which provides that a levy must be made to pay for it, although the Valencia county commissioners have thousands of dollars in the bank. The plans for the bridge were prepared in the office of the state engineer, and J. W. Johnson, representing the state engineer was in Los Lunas at the opening of the bids yesterday.

The new bridge will consist of five steel spans 80 feet in length with pony trusses, and 270 feet of pile trestles.—Santa Fe New Mexican Local railroad officials report heavier traffic on the road, which is good news, and means the employment of more men and consequently more pay. This gradual growth of business on the road is expected to continue for some months, as the California fruit crop comes on. With the completion of the Coleman Cut-off this fall, the through trains from Galveston to the coast will be routed over the Belen Cut-off, which means the location of additional train crews here, and more business for Belen.

In Interest of Univerity

Prof. C. E. Hodgkin, Instructor in the Normal Department of the University of New Mexico, at Albuquerque, was in Belen yesterday, in the interest of the state university. He made special efforts to get acquainted with young people who are looking for school advantages higher than those offered locally. Mr. Hodgkin was a pleasant caller at the News office and impressed us as a genial fellow, who would aid and stimulate young people to exert their best efforts in their studies and class work. As the state university becomes better known, the young people learn that there is less need of their looking beyond the state for schools to take advanced work.

SWITCH ENGINE TURNS TURTLE

Engineer and Fireman Save Themselves by Jumping

While making up the second No. 33 at Vaughn last Sunday morning, the switch engine in the yards there, No. 2207 turned turtle, Engineer Mallow and Fireman Ormsby escaping serious injury by a hair's breadth. Mallow and Ormsby had been called at 8:30 to switch out their train preparatory to making the run to Belen. The only switch crew at Vaughn had put in their sixteen hours and were off duty, so it was up to the regular crew to switch out their train. Their Mallet engine was pressed into service to double the first 33 up the hill, so they were using the goat. When pulling out the yards onto the stock yard track, Engineman Mallow was keeping a look-out for the derail, but failed to find either the sign-post or the derail. After going some thirty car lengths farther down the track, he found the derail, by the engine suddenly raising up. Fireman Ormsby, who was putting in fire at the time, saw that the engine was going, so he jumped, being followed almost immediately by Engineman Mallow. The engine turned clear over on its back, being assisted in this by the cut alongside the track. Mallow was uninjured, but Ormsby was caught in such a way that his left leg is badly bruised up as a result. Both men claim that the derail had been moved some thirty car lengths from where it had been, but that the sign post had not been put in place.

An investigation was held on Monday morning and the testimony has been sent to officials higher up, who will fix the blame. In the mean time the engine crew are at their homes here in Belen Ormsby nursing his injuries.

Wheat is of Splendid Quality

The marketing of wheat goes merrily on, the local mill receiving large quantities daily, this product being brought from as far north as Peralta and as far south as La Joya, distances of forty miles. Mr. Simmons, who is looking after the buying at the mill, says the quality is above the average, that on account of the dry weather just before harvest and the dry ditch, the farmers could not give the crop too much water as is too often the case, and that the grain matured in fine shape.

HUNTING LICENSES REQUIRED BY LAW

Heavy Fine and Imprisonment for Violation upon Conviction. Possession of Game or Fish is Evidence

It has been currently reported that parties have been hunting and fishing near town without first having obtained the license therefor, as required by the laws of the state. The laws are very strict in this regard, and in order that all may be posted we publish the following sections of the law, relating to hunting and fishing, which will be of interest to those contemplating sport of this kind. In another column Deputy Game Warden L. C. Becker gives warning through a published notice that violations of the law will be prosecuted, the fine for fishing without a license being not less than $25.00 nor more than $50.00, or imprisonment for not less than 30 nor more than 60 days; and for hunting without a license not less than $50.00 nor more than $100.00 fine, or imprisonment for not less than 30 nor more than 90 days.

Sec. 4. It shall be unlawful for any person to catch, kill or have in possession, any species of trout or game food fish found in any of the public streams or waters of this State unless such fish has been taken with a hook and line attached to a rod or held in the hand, and unless such fish be so caught or taken between the fifteenth day of May and the fifteenth day of October in any year.

Sec. 6. Game fish, as defined by this act, are small and large mouthed bass, and speckled trout of whatsoever variety and species also catfish, croppies, and ring perch.

Sec. 12. No person shall at any time shoot, hunt or take in any manner any game which is by law protected in this State without first having in his possession a hunting license as hereinafter provided for the year in which such shooting or hunting is done. Hunting licenses shall be issued by the county clerks when duly authorized by the State Game Warden and such deputies as many be designated for that purpose by the State Warden.

(1) A general hunting license shall entitle the person therein named to hunt game quadrupeds and birds during the open season therefor.

(2) A big game license shall entitle the person therein named to hunt game quadrupeds during the open season therefor. (Wild turkeys are classified as big game under the meaning of the act.)

(3) A bird license shall entitle the person therein named to hunt game birds other than wild turkeys during the open season therefor.

Sec. 14. The possession of game or fish at any time unaccompanied by a proper and valid license, certificate, permit or invoice, as hereip provided, shall be prima facie evidence that such game or fish was unlawfully taken and is unlawfully held in possession, and it shall be the duty of every person having possession or control of game or fish to produce the proper license, certificate, permit, or invoice when one is required by this act, on demand of any officer, and to permit the same to be copied by such officer.

Sec. 54. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50.00,) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or by imprisonment not less than thirty days nor more than ninety days, or both, at the discretion of the court.

No Funds from County

Santa Fe, N. M., Aug. 6.—Judge E. C. Abbott, of the district court, today decided adversely to the San Juan County Fair association the suit brought against it on behalf of the citizens of Farmington to enjoin the association from applying all of the county fund of $500 for holding a fair at Aztec.

This suit is one which has amused the greatest feeling between the people of Aztec on the one hand and those of Farmington on the other, and there is intense rivalry between the two cities. Counsel for the fair association gave notice of an appeal to the state supreme court.—Albuquerque Journal.

Warning to Hunters

Complaints are coming in that various parties have been hunting without first having secured the license required by law. The law is very strict in this respect, and will be enforced to the letter. Secure your license before hunting and thus avoid trouble and expense.

Deputy Game Warden.

Some merchants depend upon their personality, business influence and their acquaintance in the community to draw trade, and these are desirable factors that every merchant needs, but the price and quality of the merchandise set forth in the local paper in convincing language and attractive style is far more overpowering and far reaching, and is the greatest asset a store can possess.

La Fiesta de Belen

The „Fiesta of Belen,, will be celebrated next week commencing with Vespers at the local Catholic Church on Thursday evening. On Friday morning early mass will be said, followed by high mass and sermon. The usual procession will occur shortly before noon.

During the afternoon, games of various kinds will be arranged, and a good time generally is promised. Secretary Wetmore of the local Baseball Association is arranging for a ball game for Friday afternoon on the local diamond. It is not sure just what team will be here but that a good game will be had is assured.

CHAUTAUQUA NEXT WEEK

Historical Days Promise Entertainment for All

Two days are to be devoted to the study of history at the Mountain Chautauqua. One was mentioned in an issue of a few days ago and the other is of equal interest and value.

On August 13 a very excellent program is to be presented with lectures touching a period in which we are all especially interested, as they take up those times and subjects that are close to the hearts of us all.

The forenoon of this day is devoted to the regular routine of the work, including the normal department beginning at 7:00 a. m. Then comes the Boys and Girls club and Bible study.

At 10 a. m. Household Economics and Domestic Art will occupy the attention of the students and at 2 p. m. a lecture will be given by ex-Governor L. Bradford Prince, on the subject, "Old Missions of New Mexico." This will be of very great interest to all students and to those interested in the early days of this section of our country, and they are to be given by a student of the same.

At 8 p. m. Hon. John R. McFie will give a lecture on the subject, "General James H. Carlton and the California Column." Here again is a topic of intense interest and the lecture will touch upon a topic that is but too little known. This lecture will close the program for the day.

The opening day is on August 12, but the exercises will not begin until evening, when at 8 o'clock Colonel Ralph Emerson Twitchell will lecture on the subject: "The Confederate Invasion of New Mexico—1862."

There will not be a dull day in this whole series lasting through the week and the programs presented will be of the most gripping interest from the first day to the last.

Those who have had the opportunity to hear these choice lectures and to have the privilege of the study offered ought to be encouraged, as it has required no small amount of work and a great deal of effort to bring about results that have been achieved by the Mountain Chautauqua association.

William LeBrun returned Saturday from Jemez Springs, where he spent a short time recuperating, and has again taken up his duties in the shipping department of the John Becker Company.

SAN MARCIAL WINS FROM BELEN

Will Play Return Game here next Shnday. Coming in Special Train

The ball game last Sunday at San Marcial between the Greys of that city and Belen team, was indeed a Battle Royal, neither side scoring except in the sixth and seventh innings. The San Marcial team had secured the services of McGrath, who has pitched in the Western League, in order to give our boys the drubbing they thought we deserved. But this did not phase our boys, Mc has twelve strike outs to his credit, in nine innings, while Burford has ten in seven. Our boys got seven hits off of McGrath, while they had only four off Burford. Burford was not up to his usual standard Sunday, his arm giving way on him, and Voelker was substituted in the eighth inning.

The score was a double row of goose eggs up to the last half of the 6th, when McLellan found home, making the first score of the game. Our boys could not stand anything like a score of 1 to 0, so during their half of the seventh, Hill and Gilbert completed the circuit, just to show their hosts that they knew how it was done. In the eighth Pelton got away base, Vail came to bat, who walked the game for San Marcial by knocking a home run, bringing in Pelton as well. During the rest of the game nothing but goose eggs were added, leaving the score 3 to 2.

There were several errors on both sides, due largely to the condition of the grounds. Our boys are accustomed to the firm home grounds, and when the ball came down the line stirring up the dust and alkali, they were at a loss to tell where they would find it.

A return game is promised to be played here next Sunday, which will be interesting from the very start. Without a doubt our boys will make a better showing on their own grounds, while San Marcial will do their utmost to retain the score.

Those who went to San Marcial from here are: Dr. W. H. Dempsey, manager. The members of the team: Burford, Gilbert, LeMaster; Gonzales, Moore, Branch, Hill; Voelker, Hall, and Quintana. H. R. Wetmore, secretary of the local association. Mrs. C. O. Hill, Miss Smiley of Socorro, and Messrs. L. Mandell, B. Jacobson, R. Castillo, James Gallup, Victor Duran, Jr., Wm. LeBrun; Oscar Goebel, Jr., P. H. Kremer, Fred Kroenig and J. McColpin.

Next Sunday's Game.

On Monday Secretary Wetmore received assurance from the San Marcial Greys that they would be here Sunday, August 10th, for a return game. They will run a special train Sunday morning, bringing a Brass Band with them. The rate from San Marcial and all intermediate points will be one fare for the round trip. With a first class game of ball as a drawing card, and so low a rate, there will no doubt be a crowd of visitors here next Sunday, and it behooves every loyal fan in Belen to be on hand and root for the home team. And don't forget that it takes some cash to pay the fiddler.

Say, that was some balgame at San Marcial, wasn't it? Think of our boys holding that Western League pitcher down for seven innings! And with all of his being a League pitcher, he only fanned two more than did our own Burford. Our boys deliver the goods, and the team that wins from them must get up and hustle, that's sure. That return game will be a cracker-jack and no mistake.

Had Col. Bryan gone to some of the noted resorts along the Atlantic to spend his vacation, as his predecessors had done, nothing would have been said of the matter. But because he chose to spend his time of rest and recreation delivering lectures at Chautauquas and similar places, he is condemned by a 2x4 Jayhawker, who charges him with loafing on the job. Some people are awfully careful about other people's business.

The Albuquerque Journal's picnic for the "kids" next Saturday makes us wish we were a kid again, we'd manage somehow to get in on that auto ride to the Mesa and get outside of some of those good things to eat. And then to think of a chance of winning a prize by eating pie! Say, if a fellow couldn't eat pie without a prize attached for doing so, he ought not have the chance.
Altho we've passed out kid-days, we're still willing to tackle that pie job—and we'll not be particular about the prize either.
Pass the pie, please.

Some of the mothers of children in Belen are apparently giving very little attention to the whereabouts of their children during the evenings. On several occasions recently, not only the boys but girls as well, have been straying about the streets till after nine o'clock at night, disturbing the neighbors, waking little children and making a general nuisance of themselves.
Do the parents know where the kids are and what they are doing?
Or do they not care? We are inclined to believe it is merely carelessness on the part of the parents. But the question naturally arises, what will become of the children in a few more years if this unrestraint continues? Whose fault will it be, if the children, now merely mischievous, grow into lawless men and women? Where is your boy and girl?

Home grown vegetables have supplied the local market in abundance for weeks past. The quality is above the average, as is also the size. This is a splendid thing for the summer and fall seasons. But why not have the same thing the year 'round? Why should we not have a canning factory right here in the valley of the Rio Grande and prepare these vegetables for use during the remaining months of the year? Why use home grown products a few months and then depend on imported canned goods, not onehalf so good the remaining months? The investment need not be great enough to be a bug-bear, and with local conditions above the average, the success of the venture would be assured. Lakewood, a small town in Eddy county, two years ago, put in a small plant which cared for the crop in splendid shape. But this has become too small, and already an addition has become necessary. Who will take the lead in such an enterprise here?

Don't Follow the Crowd

Don't wait for some other merchant to show you the great advantages the parcel post gives you! Grab them yourself while the others are standing around wondering what to do. The parcel post isn't meant to help the mail order concerns. It was intended to hold the small merchant and the consumer—the buying public.

Every small merchant's store is now the geographical center of a district extending fifty miles in every direction, wherein he can ship goods more cheaply and quickly than any one else. He has now a bigger field for trade than ever before. Once he realizes this fact he should not be slow to take advantage of it. The merchant who starts at once to make himself known to his bigger public will necessarily reap the biggest reward.

Don't wait for the other fellow to blaze the war for you.

An executive is a man who makes quick decisions and is sometimes right.

The original noise is what counts—most people are merely echoes.

Be Consistent.

When will the merchant, the banker and other business men learn that it is just as essential to the growth and prosperity of a town for them to patronize and held support the local paper, as it is for the people to help and support them. Without exception they think it is radically wrong for people to send out of town for the goods carried by them—and it is wrong—and yet we find them sending to the United States Government for their envelopes, and to mail order houses for their letterheads and other stationery.—Ex.

Against Free Advertising

Santa Fe Eagle.

We print an interesting communication in this issue from Mr.
S. A. Lindauer, one of the most enthusiastic as well as one of the most persistent boosters in New Mexico; concerning an article which was reprinted in these columns last week from the Carlsbad Current. We printed the article in order to show to what extent free advertising is asked of the newspapers. The Eagle has no quarrel with the University of New Mexico, or with the head of that institution, but there is no more reason why the newspapers of New Mexico should furnish free advertising for educational institutions than there is for the furnishing of free fuel by dealers in coal or the furnishing of free water by the water companies to such institutions.
The educational institutions of the state are not eleemosynary institutions. They have been liberally treated by the state legislature and the university has an appropriation this year of $45,000 for its support. The officers of that institution might ask a painter to paint the building free with just as much privilege as to ask a newspaper publisher to donate his advertising space to advertise the institution.
Advertising space is just as much the newspaper publisher's stock in trade as a stock of groceries is a grocer's stock in trade. If newspaper advertising is of benefit to an educational institution, it should be paid for; if it is not, it should not be asked free, because that would be asking for something that costs the publisher money and which would be of no benefit.

The great danger in trying to get something for nothing is that you may get what you deserve.

Honesty is the best policy, but too many people have allowed theirs to lapse.

Why Belen has Grown

The reason why Belen has grown is because there are men of push and energy in it, who are not afraid to spend their time and money in boosting the town. They have erected substantial buildings, organized stock companies, encouraged railroads, worked for public improvements, and used all legitimate means to induce people to locate in their city.
Wherever they go they tell of the advantages of their city, they write about them in every letter; they send circulars and newspapers to all whom they think they can get to visit the town, and, when anyone visits them, they treat him so kindly that he falls in love with them and their town at once.

It is this enterprise, in addition to the natural advantages and location, and all pulling together, that make a progressive town. If you are a "live wire" Belen offers you the glad hand. Come and investigate conditions for yourself.
Come and meet our people, breath our pure air, and enjoy our life-giving sunshine, and you, too, will become a booster for Belen and the Rio Grande Valley.

LIGHT OF OTHER DAYS

By O. V. NETTLESHIP.

"I don't see what in the world we shall ever do with all our things," sighed Mrs. Hemming when she and her husband decided, after much discussion, to move from their house, which was too lonesomely big now that the children had all gone away to homes of their own. "Our apartment won't begin to hold our furniture, to say nothing of all the things we have stored in the attic."

"Pick out the furniture you need and then turn a second-hand man loose in the house," suggested Hemming.

"But, Charles, you wouldn't want me to sell all our old keepsakes, would you?"

"Most assuredly. What earthly use to any one are a lot of old books, vases and pictures that no one ever looks at except at house cleaning time. Do they do anybody any good?"

"No, I don't suppose they do," reluctantly admitted Mrs. Hemming. "but I hate to part with some of them."

"That's just sentiment, my dear. The fact is, it will be a relief to you when you are rid of all that old lumber."

"Perhaps I could select just a few of the oldest things and we could put them in the storeroom of the apartment. You know there's a nice big storeroom, Charles."

"Yes, I know it, Harriet, and I'm planning to keep my golf clubs there and my fishing tackle. So if you please, we won't fill up that storeroom with a lot of useless trash."

After the second-hand dealer's visit Hemming said to his wife: "I hope you were sufficiently strong-minded to let everything in the attic go?"

"Well, nearly everything," answered Mrs. Hemming. "There are a few little articles that it seems a shame to sell, such as—"

"Never mind enumerating them, Harriet. I shouldn't be interested in a list of crippled furniture or ancient photograph albums."

"But what I thought of keeping was the two old—"

"Now, Harriet, we decided to get rid of all our old stuff. Don't let Hankins leave a thing tomorrow when he comes with his wagons."

When the wagons drove away loaded with furniture and bric-a-brac, mostly of a peculiarly inartistic period, Mrs. Hemming laughed away her regrets. "Charles was right," she said to herself. "It would have been silly to keep that ugly trumpery."

About a fortnight after they were settled in their apartment, Hemming came home one afternoon carrying a large box.

"I have a little present for you, Harriet," he said with boyish pleasure.
"You'll be surprised when you see what it is. I was passing Devlin's antique shop this morning when something in the windows caught my eye and took me back about 40 years to the time when I was courting a certain pretty girl in her grandmother's best parlor, which was lighted with green glass lamps. There, my dear what do you think of these?" He triumphantly drew from the box two large green glass lamps of old-fashioned shape and decoration. "Do they make you think of anything, Harriet?"

"Yes, they do—they make me think of a lot of things," she answered.
"How much did you pay for them?"
"Devlin let me have them cheap.
You see, one of his collectors picked them up for little or nothing in an old out-of-the-way Vermont farmhouse where antiques aren't appreciated, as he sold me the pair for $20. Really Harriet, I'd have given $30 if he'd asked it."

"Well, I'm glad he didn't ask it," replied Mrs. Hemming. "for I sold these same lamps to Hankins three weeks ago for $1 apiece."

"Great Scott! Are you sure they're the same lamps?"

"Of course I'm sure. I'd know them if you bought them in Egypt. I was brought up under those lamps."

"A dollar apiece! And I snapped them up for $20 the pair!" mused Hemming, trying not to look sheepish.

"Yes, and I'm glad you did," responded Mrs. Hemming. "For they were what I hated to part with most.
I wanted to keep them and I'm awfully glad to have them back."

Turk With Wife Would Be Safe.

Montenegro is the only country in Europe where a wife may be regarded as a perambulating life insurance policy. The Montenegrin is intensely chiv-alous. Respect for women is carried to such a pitch that although the very word Turk affects the native as a red flag does a bull, yet a Turkish traveler finding himself in the wilds of Montenegro would be absolutely safe if he were accompanied by his wife.

Life is patriarchal. There are no towns, only villages. There are villages of half a dozen houses, in each of which three and sometimes four generations of a family live together.
Travels, in spite of this patriarchal life, find the men gloomy and taciturn, with their eyes open for treachery and their right hand on their revolver.— London Daily Mirror.

Make Living by "Poking Fires."

One occupation by which a score of Britons are said to earn their livelihood is that of "poking fires." By the rabbinical law no Jew is allowed to kindle or mend any fire on the Sabbath, and in certain places in England where Jews are very numerous this prohibition makes it necessary that persons shall be employed from sunset on Friday to the same hour on Saturday in going from house to house lighting fires and lamps and attending them.

A COLUMN FOR THE KITCHEN

Watermelon Preserves

2 gallons of rinds cut in 2 or 3 inch pieces; 1 heaping teaspoonful of salt; 1 heaping teaspoonful of alum; 4 oz. ginger root;
4 lemons;
3-4 lb. of sugar for each pound of rinds.

Citron

Rind that has had the green peeled off and the red scraped from the inside, soak in strong brine 2 nights. Then soak in fresh water one night before making citron.

To make:

Wash well in several waters; put on and let boil 20 minutes in fresh water; wash till cool. Put in kettle again and let come to boil in weak alum water. Boil again to take out the alum taste. Between times of boiling wash in cold water, and when all this is done make a thick sugar syrup and drop in citron to boil until tender. As there is so much water in the rind, each piece should be carefully squeezed before being dropped into the syrup.

A small bunch of peach leaves boiled with the rinds in the syrup will color them a pretty green. When they have boiled 3-4 of an hour the syrup should be thick and the rinds done. Place in the bottom of each jar three or four slices of lemon and as the rind is put in put in stick cinnamon, allspice and whole cloves in small quantities. When all jars are full of the rinds, boil up the syrup, pour into each jar until it is level full, and seal immediately. If there is not enough syrup left from the boiling of the citron, a fresh heavy syrup should be made and used instead.

This is a real southern recipe and is delicious.
