IGHTEEN MONTHS IN THE PEN.

In the Chinese smuggling case tried in the Federal court at Alamogordo last week, two of the defendants, Adamson and Sullivan, were convicted and sentenced to eighteen months in the penitentiary. The third man, Webb, was acquitted. It will be remembered that Sullivan and Adamson were arrested near Alamogordo last August while in charge of a covered wagon in which sixteen Chinese, who had not the necessary passports, were stowed. The Chinese were smuggled across the Rio Grande and were headed for New York, when the Federal authorities took a hand in the game and headed them back to the Flowery Kingdom.

AN OSCURA ROAD WANTED.

A number of people have spoken to the editor of the News concerning the opening of a wagon road along the railroad to Oscura. Some fencing has already been done that throws travel far out of the way, and it is suggested that if steps are not taken soon to establish a road between this point and Oscura more fencing will take place, which will make travel still more inconvenient. We would suggest that a petition be presented to the county commissioners, asking for a survey, and have a public road established now while the cost will be small.

AMATEUR DRAMATICS.

A dramatic club has been organized by the teachers and pupils of the public schools, and on December 23 the troupe will make its debut in an eight-character drama entitled "The Last Loaf." It is the intention of the club to stage a number of plays during the coming year. The purpose of the club is to raise funds to raise funds to procure some necessary articles for the school room. It is a worthy cause and should receive the hearty support of the people.

RECORD BREAKING 1908 CROPS.

The twelfth annual report of the department of agriculture, first issued by Secretary Wilson, shows a most extraordinary value for farm products for the year 1908. The total valuation as given by the secretary for this year is $7,778,000,000.

This sum is about four times the value of the production of all our mines, including mineral oils. The figures show that the farmer produced 42 per cent of all materials used in all industries.

The greatest single item in the list is Indian corn. This year's production is 2,643,000,000 bushels. The value of the crop is $1,605,000,000. This wealth, grown out of the soil in four months of rain, sunshine and some drought, is enough to cancel the interest-bearing debt of the United States and to pay for the Panama Canal and fifty battleships.

THE MINSTREL ENTERTAINMENT AT FORT STANTON.

A minstrel entertainment was given at Fort Stanton Monday evening, in honor of the departure of Surgeon P. M. Carrington for San Diego and the arrival of his successor, Surgeon H. S. Mathewson. The program was well rendered, and was a surprise to the new commanding surgeon, who did not expect to meet such musical and histrionic talent in the wilds of New Mexico.

H. C. O'Bannon and J. Ross Thomas were end men, R. P. McCoy and Charles Marsh, bones and tambo, respectively, and Dr. Carrington, interlocutor. They were assisted by a chorus of twelve voices.

The second part of the program was an olio, consisting of vocal and instrumental selections, ten numbers in all. The orchestra comprised a violin, cello, cornet, clarinet and piano, and a number of choice selections were presented to the delight of the audience. A new composition by J. T. Darby, entitled "Dr. Carrington's Farewell March," played by the orchestra, brought the entertainment to a close.

It is to be hoped that the new surgeon will take as lively an interest in the musical and dramatic features at the Fort as did Dr. and Mrs. Carrington during their long stay at that historic spot.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Miss McGill, who has charge of the Mexican school on the south side, has enrolled forty-three pupils, and under her management the attendance is still gaining. The board will make this a permanent department, and are planning a new building for next term.

The school in the main building is now down to heavy work, and a systematic arrangement of classes and grades has been effected.

The first bi-monthly examinations were held last week. Most of the pupils made "passing" grades, and some ran above 90 in general average.

The eighth grade deserves special mention while on the grade question.

The school board has put forth every effort to make the new school building comfortable, but has not been able to thoroughly equip it on account of lack of funds.

The teachers are sorely in need of maps, a globe, an unabridged dictionary and a few reference books; in fact a small library would not be out of place in the school. For the purpose of supplying these necessities a dramatic club has been organized. The club purposes to give a series of plays during the year. For the past three weeks its members have been busily rehearsing for the first number which will be given December 23. Make-ups and costumes have been ordered, and a stage is being erected in the hall, so that the final rehearsals may be given there. The entertainment will last about two and one-half hours, and will be headed by a bright little college play by five of the school girls. Following this an eight-character drama entitled "The Last Loaf," will be given. General admission will be 35 and 25 cents. A number of seats have been reserved at 50 cents each, and will be on sale December 19 at Rollins drug store and Ziegler Bros. The club extends to all a cordial invitation and hopes to give value received.

Schools will close for the Christmas vacation on December 24, and will re-open on the first Monday in January.

The Poor Rich.

During the past eight months the rich have had a hard time. A railroad director said recently that "It is a great deal harder for a man who has been living at the rate of two hundred thousand a year to get down to a fifty-thousand-a-year standard than it is for a man who has been living on $15 a week to get along on $10." This must be so because the fifteen-dollar man has got along on ten so often that it is easy, like any habitual privation. The multi-millionaire is a green hand at economizing, and should be pitied by the expert poor. But he gets no sympathy, and in one respect deserves none. Only this summer a Newport tradesman announced publicly that he would not give his rich customers more than 90 days' time in which to pay for the corned beef, prunes, salt codfish and other delicacies that bend their tables. The curse of the rich is their poverty, and it is a pity to see them ground down by tradesmen. Of course it is hard that in summer, when the rich are taken from the slums and sent for fresh air to Newport and other resorts, they have to be troubled with bills. But holidays have their responsibilities as well as their relaxations. A story comes to the Youth's Companion of a wealthy man to whom a bill was brought on Christmas morning. This seemed to him an outrage, but when he went to the door, fuming with protest, he found a boy, who said: "Sorry to trouble you, boss, but I jest have to have that seven-fifty for our Christmas dinner."

Ever since the passage of the pure food law, manufacturers have complained of the injustice of denying them the use of the small amount of preservatives necessary to keep certain kinds of food products from fermentation or other form of deterioration. Prof. Wiley of the bureau of chemistry in the department of agriculture has appointed a pure food committee, to represent the different states having pure food laws, the object of which will be to harmonize the state laws with the laws of the government. The committee will also, without doubt, define what is a safe amount of preservative to be used. It is said that there has been an increase of ptomaine poisoning since the pure food law went into effect, but perhaps the statement, like some of the food products, can best be taken with a grain of salt—or of boracic acid.

Although apples have been raised in the east a good deal longer than in the west, it is the west which leads off with the first national apple-show, which will open in Spokane, Wash., in December. The $35,000 in prizes are to be open to the world. For the best car-load of standard commercial winter apples a prize of $1,500 will be given, and for the largest apple an apple of gold.

"Life, color, demonstration and motion" will be, the managers say, characteristics of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exhibition, which is to be held next year at Seattle, Wash. But if an added promise is fulfilled, that "everything will be in readiness at least a month before the opening date," June 1, that will be distinction beyond all other such fairs.

The first football accident has happened in Massachusetts, where a student in a class game had his back broken. This looks as if the human sacrifice to the game will be normal.

GREAT MAN HONORED

ANNIVERSARY OF BIRTH OF NOAH WEBSTER CELEBRATED.

Famous American Lexicographer and Educator Remembered in Connecticut—His Grammar Still a Standard Work.

New Haven, Conn.—The one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the birth of Noah Webster, the great lexicographer, was generally observed by the educational institutions throughout the state the other day. Yale university, with which he was closely although not officially connected, honored him by appropriate classroom exercises.

Webster gave the schoolboy of America his dictionary, his grammar and his spelling book, and, while his fame might rest imperishably on any one of the three achievements, the triple accomplishment establishes his title as the greatest American educator. His dictionary, the first since that of Dr. Johnson, nearly a century before, unified the English language in America and made it impossible for sections of this country to fall into dialect. His spelling book fixed firmly the pronunciation and spelling of common words, and his grammar has remained a standard work for a century.

Born in 1758, in Hartford, of a family distinguished in colonial history, Webster was sent, at the age of 14 years, by his father, a farmer, to the parish clergyman to prepare for Yale. In 1774, when 16 years old, he was admitted. His studies were interrupted by the war of the revolution, and in his junior year he shouldered his musket and joined in the campaign which wound up in the defeat of Burgoyne.

On his return from college in 1778 with a Yale sheepskin his father presented him with four dollars and told him that in the future he must rely on his own exertions. Webster pursued his ideal of a legal education, although compelled to read law as an accompaniment to his school teaching in Goshen, N. Y. With the country impoverished by the long war, Webster found the schools without textbooks. He composed a spelling book, a grammar and a reading book the first of the kind published in the country.

He began the practice of law in 1782, in Hartford, but in 1793 removed to New York to found a newspaper in support of President Washington's policy. The Daily Minerva was his first venture and then came a semi-weekly, the Herald. In 1798 Webster removed to this city and continued to write for his newspapers, which were continued under another editor, but he soon disposed of them and devoted himself to the work on which his fame was to rest, the preparation of a new dictionary of the English language.

The first edition of the dictionary was published in 1828. Only 2,500 copies were printed in the United States. Then came an issue of 3,000 copies in England. Dr. Webster was at this time 70 years of age and announced that he considered his literary labors practically ended. Yet he revised many of his former works, and in 1841 the second edition of the dictionary was published, containing several thousand new words and many revised definitions. His papers, read before many learned societies, were published in 1843. The revising of the appendix to this edition was his last labor, and after a four days' illness, starting with a cold, he passed away, May 28, 1843.

SALEM HOUSE 228 YEARS OLD.

Well Preserved Specimen of Colonial Architecture of Seventeenth Century.

Boston.—One of the best preserved specimens of domestic colonial architecture of the seventeenth century is the Narbonne house on Essex street, Salem, Mass., which was built in 1680, and is sound to-day and good for another century at least.

Belonging to a period in which the colonists had very little money to lavish on their homes the house represents the conservative tastes of the thrifty resident of Salem 100 years before the revolution.

It was built by Thomas Ives, and its title passed through many hands before coming into those of Nicholas Narbonne, a sea captain in the East India trade, to whom it was left by an uncle in the early part of the last century.

The captain died here, and so did his wife, who lived to the ripe age of 95, passing away in 1890. They had a daughter, Mary A. Narbonne, who was born in the house and lived in it all her life, dying in it at the age of 81, in 1905.

Miss Narbonne was well known in Salem, chiefly for her aversion to meeting strangers. She was a great reader and was content to live entirely by herself. In fact she rarely suffered anyone to remain long under her roof, although she greeted callers on their arrival at her door with stately courtesy.

One story told of her is that she required the few friends who came to take tea with her to fetch their own teapots and cups, as she did not care to have them use hers.

The house was well filled with old furniture and curios, collected chiefly by her father, and she was greatly annoyed by collectors, for whom she entertained a cordial contempt.

On Miss Narbonne's death the collection was taken away by her heirs.

The obedience of the heart is the heart of obedience of the mind.—Hugh Black.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Time's Wonderful Changes.

Harry Lauder says that when Sir Alexander Ramsay was constructing upon his magnificent estate in Scotland a piece of machinery to drive, by means of a small stream in his barnyard, a threshing machine, a winnowing machine, a circular saw for splitting trees, a hay press, an oat roller, etc., he noticed an old fellow, who had long been about the place, looking very attentively at all that was going on. "Robby," said he, "wonderful things people can do nowadays, can't they?" "Ay," said Robby; "indeed, Sir Alexander, I'm thinking if Solomon was alive now he'd be thought naething o'!"

PUZZLE SOLVED.

Coffee at Bottom of Trouble.

It takes some people a long time to find out that coffee is hurting them.

But when once the fact is clear, most people try to keep away from the thing which is followed by ever increasing detriment to the heart, stomach and nerves.

"Until two years ago I was a heavy coffee drinker," writes an Ill. stockman, "and had been all my life. I am now 56 years old.

"About three years ago I began to have nervous spells and could not sleep nights, was bothered by indigestion, bloating, and gas on stomach affected my heart.

"I spent lots of money doctoring—one doctor told me I had chronic catarrh of the stomach; another that I had heart disease and was liable to die at any time. They all dieted me until I was nearly starved but I seemed to get worse instead of better.

"Having heard of the good Postum had done for nervous people, I discarded coffee altogether and began to use Postum regularly. I soon got better, and now, after nearly two years, I can truthfully say I am sound and well.

"I sleep well at night, do not have the nervous spells and am not bothered with indigestion or palpitation. I weigh 32 pounds more than when I began Postum, and am better every way than I ever was while drinking coffee. I can't say too much in praise of Postum, as I am sure it saved my life."

"There's a Reason."

Looked That way.

"S-s-say, ma," stammered Bobby through the suds as his mother scrubbed and scrubbed him. "I guess you want to get rid of me, don't you?" "Why, no, Bobby dear," replied his mother. "What ever put such an idea as that into your mind?" "Oh, nuthin'," replied Bobby. "Only it seems to me you're tryin' to rub me out."—Harper's Weekly.

The Clubman.

She—When a woman wants a husband, you don't suppose she goes and looks in a club for one, do you? He—Well, if she's a married woman and wants her own husband the chances are that she does.

No Sweets for Him.

A gentleman who had been visiting with the family for several days, became much attached to Margaret, the seven-year-old daughter of the host, so when he was about to depart he promised to send the little girl a box of candy. He asked her to write her name and address upon a card so that he would be sure to send the candy to the right place, and Margaret started to do this, but suddenly a thought occurred to her and she said: "I think you'd better send it to papa!" "Oh, but wouldn't he be likely to eat it?" objected the visitor, jokingly. "No, sir," replied Margaret quickly, "he wouldn't dare—papa's a dentist!"

Strictly Business.

Inquiring Friend—You've given up booze? How did you ever summon up enough fortitude and self-denial to do that?

Budger—I paid a high-priced doctor 25 to tell me what was the matter with me, and that was his sole prescription. By George, I couldn't afford to waste all that money!—Chicago Tribune.

All Depends.

"Do you believe in bleeding patients?" queried the young physician. "It all depends on the size of their ink account," replied the old doctor.

Paying the price of purity is the best prayer for paradise. The best legacy any man can leave his children is willingness to work.

METHODS OF COOKING MEATS.

Water Destroys Flavor of Roast Lamb—For Stewed Chicken.

Never pour water into the pan in which you roast lamb. Rub the meat with salt and pepper and scatter flour lightly over the top. Then cover with the "leaf" of fat which comes with the roast. Cover with a second pan of same size and baste with the juices of the meat. Water destroys the flavor.

When ordering Hamburger steak, select the meat. Do not permit the butcher to put in tailings and discolored scraps. Fresh rump or round is best. Have it first ground, then laid on the meat block and the onion chopped into it with a cleaver.

To get best results in stewing chicken according to the good old-fashioned methods, disjoint the fowl, wipe each piece clean and drop into water just coming to a boil. Cover tightly and set back on the stove to simmer very gently. When about half done add salt. When the meat is just ready to drop from the bone you will find your stock greatly reduced. Add an equal quantity of milk, thicken with flour and then add pepper and parsley chopped fine. Serve on crisp toast.

If you intend to serve cold ham whole parboil and then bake it. Scrub the ham thoroughly and soak over night in cold water. Next morning wipe off clean, lay in cold water in a granite iron pot and bring just to a boil. Pour off this water, add more cold and bring to a boil the second time; add a handful of bay leaves and some whole cloves. Simmer for two hours, remove from the pot, peel off the skin, lay in a dripping pan in which you have poured a cup of water and one of sherry. Cover with bread crumbs and pepper, bake until golden brown.

PRACTICAL HINTS for the HOUSEWIFE

A little flour sprinkled in the pan when eggs are frying will prevent the spattering hot fat that is so disagreeable.

Mud stains may be removed from tan leather shoes by rubbing them with slices of raw potato. When dry polish in usual way.

Finger marks on paint can be easily removed by rubbing with a clean white cloth dipped in kerosene. The wood should afterward be wiped with a dry cloth.

If muslin curtains are needed in a hurry for a kitchen or bathroom, they can be washed, slightly starched, shaken hard, pulled into shape and hung up without ironing.

Sheets, pillowcases, towels, tablecloths—all folded linens—should be laid upon the shelves with the open and hemmed ends toward the wall, the round folds outward. The effect is neater to the eye, and articles are more easily taken out.

Small punctures in hot-water bags or rubber gloves may be replaced by applying a small patch of tailors' mending tissue: moisten with common chloroform, lay on a second patch and moisten again, until four or five patches have been applied. The chloroform dissolves the tissue and when it evaporates leaves a firm patch.

Fish Roe Custard.

Parboil half a pound of fish roe for ten minutes, drain and drop into ice water for a few moments; drain again, dry lightly in a cloth, arrange in a baking dish, dot with small lumps of butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and cover with a cupful of boiling water to which a teaspoonful of beef extract has been added; cook for 20 minutes in a moderate oven. Remove the roe to a hot platter and break with a fork. Add a cupful of cream to the stock left in the baking dish, stir in three beaten egg yolks, and cook until slightly thickened, pour over the roe and serve with cereal crisp.

Disgruntled Dad.

"I see," said the Wall street man, "that you are engaged again." "I am," admitted the son and heir. "Just when violets and theater tickets are due for their fall rise. Why must you always fall in love on a bull market?"—Kansas City Journal.

It is easier and cheaper to lay out and build a road before the whole country is fenced than after. Good and straight roads lend attractions to travel, and bring the farmer and merchant closer together. Why not begin at once.

Republican papers throughout the territory are admitting one by one that there is little chance for statehood at the short session of congress. Who, except a bunch of misguided democrats in the campaign who were made to believe that statehood and Andrews were synonymous terms, gave the matter any serious consideration.

The question of good roads is always a live subject for discussion, and there is a continual cry for improvement of our highways. In new communities this question becomes a vital one; for as settlers come in fences are erected, roads changed and distances lengthened. The slogan should be good roads and straight as practicable. The citizens of the town of Carrizozo, and particularly the Chamber of Commerce, should immediately take the matter up with the proper authorities.

If you can help it. Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it. Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia.

Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it.

Ordinary pepsin "dyspepsia tablets," physics, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Pepsin is only a partial digester—and physics are not digesters at all.

Kodol is a perfect digester. If you could see Kodol digesting every particle of food, of all kinds, in the glass test-tubes in our laboratories, you would know this just as well as we do.

Nature and Kodol will always cure a sick stomach—but in order to be cured, the stomach must rest. That is what Kodol does—rests the stomach, while the stomach gets well. Just as simple as A, B, C.

S. W. Perry came to Carrizozo when the town was first platted, and established one of the most important concerns here, a branch of the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber company. He has grown with the town, invested the savings of careful business earnings, and is regarded as one of the most substantial men of the town. The people began to look around for a man to serve them as justice of the peace for the ensuing two years, and a number decided that S. W. Perry was the man. At the earnest solicitation of friends, Mr. Perry consented to make the race, and as he is a man who never does things by halves, he not only consented to become a candidate, but actively enters the race for the office and solicits the support of all. His attainments, coupled with equipoise, tranquillity and a high sense of right, peculiarly fit him for this position. His friends believe he will make an ideal justice, and are, therefore, using every effort to accomplish his election.

On account of the mild fall and winter weather, we are somewhat overstocked on quilts and blankets, and will make special inducements to intending purchasers.—Ziegler Bros.

The announcement of the candidacy of C. W. (Walker) Hyde or constable of this precinct appears in this issue of the News. Mr. Hyde has lived in Lincoln county for a great many years, the greater portion of the time within sight of the spot where Carrizozo now stands and has a most thorough acquaintance with very portion of the surrounding country. Mr. Hyde, while he has numerous friends and appreciates their support, is an applicant for the office of constable because he desires the office, and promises, if elected, to serve the people faithfully, without fear or favor. To do this, he makes no promise further than the one of duty, and asks the support of all who believe in his ability and honesty of purpose to perform the duties of the office without asking or extending special favors. His large acquaintance and fitness for the position make him a strong candidate.

P. C. Baird announces this week as a candidate for constable of precinct 14. Mr. Baird came here from Texas some two years ago, and during that time has been regarded as one of the town's most loyal advocates. Mr. Baird has seen much service as a peace officer in Texas, having served on the Ranger force of that state a number of years, and later served twelve years as sheriff of Mason county. Those who have known him as a public official recommend him as an excellent peace officer and capable. He is now serving as deputy sheriff in this precinct. His friends say he will be in the running and are urging his claims upon the people.

TO CLARIFY SOUPS

SPECIAL TREATMENT REQUIRED FOR CERTAIN VARIETIES.

The Shell and White of One Egg
Needed for Each Quart of Stock — Should Pass Through Strainer.

In the preparation of certain varieties of clear soup the stock may require to be clarified before it is sent to table, though, as a general rule, when ordinary "consommés" are concerned, if sufficient pains be taken with the earlier processes it is quite possible to dispense with the somewhat troublesome and hindering operation.

For each quart of stock the shell and white of one egg will be needed. Scrub the shells of the requisite number of eggs until they are perfectly clean, then break them carefully, reserving the yolks, if they are not immediately wanted for use, in a covered cup, and pounding the shells to a coarse powder in a mortar. Stir the powder into the whites, dilute with water in the proportion of a quart pint to each egg and beat all together till it foams.

Have the soup, from which every atom of fat should have been removed, absolutely boiling and pour two cups into the mixture, whisking steadily the while.

The clarifying medium is now ready and may be poured into the vessel containing the remainder of the stock, stirring quickly and regularly meantime and continuing to do so till the whole quantity comes to the boil, when the pan should be drawn to the side of the range, or, if more convenient, lifted off altogether and the contents be left to settle for 10 to 15 minutes.

At the end of this interval it will be observed that the white of egg, etc., is rising to the surface, bringing with it all the solid particles in the soup which tend to give it a cloudy appearance and which, collected and entangled by the coagulation of the albumen, can readily be eliminated by passing the stock through a strainer.

Soup can easily and entirely be freed from grease by allowing it to grow cold, when it will probably solidify into a more or less stiff jelly with a thin sheet of white or yellowish fat on the top. Cut round the edge of this with a knife, pass the blade carefully underneath, raise the crust and lift it off, subsequently wiping the surface of the jelly with a clean cloth wrung out in very hot water.

Ripe Cucumber Sweet Pickle.

Pare, seed and slice seven pounds of ripe, yellow cucumbers. Boil in vinegar and water (half and half) to cover, adding a little salt, until the cucumber looks clear, but not mushy. Drain in a colander. To one pint of good cider vinegar allow three and a half pounds of sugar, adding cloves, stick cinnamon, allspice, mace and a few whole black peppers. Let this come to the boiling point. Add the cucumbers and scald. Drain, cool and pack in glass jars. Cook the syrup a little longer, adding, if you like, a handful seeded raisins. Pour over the cucumbers and seal. This will be ready for use in a few days.

To Dry and Pack Apples.

Extremely acid fruit is best for retaining the flavor when dried. Cut in slices, string or merely place on shallow trays, drying in cool oven or sun. If dried in the sun heat over steam before putting away to destroy any possible insect eggs, and while drying cover with mosquito netting to protect from insects. In packing apples away for winter keeping or shipping, if older blossoms are placed between layers a delicious flavor is given.

KEPT GETTING WORSE.

Five Years of Awful Kidney Disease.

Nat Anderson, Greenwood, S. C., says: "Kidney trouble began about five years ago with dull backache, which got so severe in time that I could not get around. The kidney secretions became badly disordered, and at times there was almost a complete stop of the flow. I was examined again and again and treated to no avail, and kept getting worse. I have to praise Doan's Kidney Pills for my final relief and cure. Since using them I have gained in strength and flesh and have no sign of kidney trouble."

A Difficult Task.

An old Irish laborer walked into the luxurious studio of a New York artist and asked for money to obtain a meal, as he was too weak to work.

The artist gave him a quarter and then, seeing possibilities for a sketch in the queer old fellow, said: "I'll give you a dollar if you'll let me paint you."

"Sure," said the man, "it's an easy way to make a dollar, but, but—I'm wonderin' how I'd get it off."

15 YEARS OF SUFFERING.

Burning, Painful Sores on Legs—
Tortured Day and Night—Tried
Many Remedies to No Avail
—Cured by Cuticura.

"After an attack of rheumatism, running sores broke out on my husband's legs, from below the knees to the ankles. There are no words to tell all the discomforts and great suffering he had to endure night and day. He used every kind of remedy and three physicians treated him, one after the other, without any good results whatever. One day I ordered some Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent. He began to use them and in three weeks all the sores were dried up. The burning fire stopped, and the pains became bearable. After three months he was quite well. I can prove this testimonial at any time. Mrs. V. V. Albert, Upper Frenchville, Me., July 21, 1907."

The Good That Never Dies.

Dickens: There is nothing, innocent or good, that dies and is forgotten. Let us hold to that faith or none. An infant, a prattling child, will live again in the better thoughts of those who loved it, and will play its part, through them, in the redeeming actions of the world, though its body be burnt to ashes or drowned in the deepest sea.

WHAT'S IN A NAME

A GOOD DEAL WHEN IT IS THE NAME OF A NATIONAL FOREST

ROCK COLUMN ON CASTLE ROCK

NATURAL CAVE, OUTLET FOR CANYON

CASTLE ROCK FROM SOUTH EAST SHOWING HARD STRATH OF SAND

In the process of redistricting the national forests, which has just been completed, numerous changes of name were made. These changes were by no means haphazard or arbitrary. The new names have been chosen on account of their importance in local and national history, and they will serve for all time as reminders of men and events prominently connected with the country's progress from the pioneer days. Merely to read them understandingly is to trace the salient facts of western growth and development.

The national forests in New Mexico, with the significance and derivation of their names, are as follows:

The Alamo National forest is named from Fort Alamo, which received its name from the old Alamo mission of Texas. This fort is the site of the most memorable battle which has ever been fought on Texas soil, being the altar on which William B. Travis, Davy Crockett, James Bowie, J. B. Bonham and their heroic companions offered up their lives in the cause of liberty and popular government. The name Alamo signifies "cottonwood" or "poplar," and was probably given it by the troops quartered there who come from Fort Alamo de Parras, in the province of Coahuila, to which province Texas was annexed. This forest includes 1,184,908 acres, and is under the supervision of Acting Supervisor Arthur M. Neal, with headquarters at Alamogordo.

The Carson National forest takes its name from the city, pass, lake, river and valley in Nevada, all of which were named after the Rocky mountain guide, Kit Carson, one of the most picturesque figures of western history. His early life was spent on the plains, where he met Gen. John C.

Fremont, by whom he was engaged as guide in subsequent explorations. In this capacity he was eminently useful and to him is probably due much of the success of these explorations. He was perhaps better known to a larger number of Indian tribes than any other white man, and from his long life among them learned their habits and customs, understood their mode of warfare and spoke their language as his mother tongue. No man did more than he in furthering the settlement of the northwestern wilderness.

The Chiricahua National forest is named from the Chiricahua Apaches, who were one of the most warlike branches of all the Apache nation. They made their home in the depths of what is now the Chiricahua forest, and the Cochise strongholds, where Cochise, their greatest warrior of modern times, for years defied the white man. An important point for sight-seers in the region. The word means "mountain" or "lawless," that is, "Indians living in the mountains and having little respect for the white man's laws." This forest includes 466,497 acres and is in charge of Acting Supervisor A. H. Zachau, with headquarters at Douglas, Ariz.

The Datil National forest derives its name from a large mountain spur of the Rockies called the "Datils." There is no certain knowledge of the meaning of the word. It has by some been supposed to be the Spanish word meaning the fruit of the date palm, and various other explanations have been given as to its origin. One of the most probable is that it is an Apache Indian word, because there are several words similar to it in the Apache language. This forest includes 1,848,915 acres and is in charge of Acting Supervisor R. F. Balthis, with headquarters at Magdalena.

The Gila National forest is named from the county in Arizona and the river in Arizona and New Mexico. The name is said to be of Spanish origin, but the meaning is lost. The area of this forest is 1,762,621 acres. Supervisor W. H. Goddard is in charge, with headquarters at Silver City.

The Jemez National forest takes its name from the Jemez river, which derived its name from a division of North American Indians who occupied the pueblo of Jemez on this river. Supervisor Ross McMillan is in charge of this forest, with headquarters at Santa Fe. The area included is 978,720 acres.

Lincoln county, which was named after Abraham Lincoln, sixteenth president of the United States, gives the name to the Lincoln National forest. Supervisor J. H. Kinney is in charge of this forest, with headquarters at Capitan. The area included is 596,603 acres.

The Magdalena National forest is named from the mountains of that name. When the early Spanish explorers arrived in the region of what is now called the Magdalena mountains they saw in the distance upon one of the isolated buttes a striking representation of a woman's face, and with their simple religious enthusiasm they named it the "Mountain of Our Lady Magdalene." On closer examination the woman's face proves to be a rock formation. At the back of the head a dense growth of oak brush makes a good substitute for hair. At a distance the face and features are almost perfect. The area included in this forest is 558,445 acres. Supervisor John Kerr is in charge, with headquarters at Magdalena.

The Manzano mountains give the name to the Manzano National forest. This range of mountains is called the Manzano, from the Spanish word meaning "apple." In the heart of the Manzano mountains there are several very old and extremely large apple trees near the site of an old ruined mission. They were probably planted by some of the earlier priests who explored the country in either the fifteenth or sixteenth century. These trees are now surrounded by a fence, and every effort is being made by the people of that vicinity to preserve them because of their great age and historical associations.

THE NAIL OF DESTINY.

"For the want of a nail the shoe was lost,
For the want of the shoe the horse was lost,
For the want of the horse the rider was lost,
For the want of the rider the battle was lost,
For the want of the battle the kingdom was lost,—
And all for the want of a horseshoe nail!"

But this, my child, as you doubtless know,
Was a number of hundred years ago.

Brought down to date, the facts are these:
The general chooses to ride at ease
In a new six-cylinder automobile,
And he punctures the tire of his off-front wheel;
So the battle goes bump,—not for the lack,
But because of a smallish carpet-tack.
—Puck.

Derived from Old Mythologies.

"Pan" is named after the ancient god Pan, because of the sudden and unreasoning fear which the sight of this heathen divinity was supposed to inspire. Other common words with a similar source in the old mythologies are "vulcanite," from Vulcan, the blacksmith; "martial," from Mars, the warrior; "jovial," from Jove; "saturnine," from Saturn, and "mercurial," from Mercury, the nimble-heeled.

The Finish.

Said She—Do you think woman will ever be man's equal?

Said He—Why, she has been his sequel right from the start.—Chicago Daily News.

The Doctor's Fee.

The average man will give a lawyer $300 to $500, together with a lifetime's praise, to keep him out of the penitentiary for from two to ten years, and at the same time he will raise a phosphorescent glow and a kick that can be heard around the world if a doctor charges him $50 to $100 to keep him out of hell for a lifetime. We are the only people under God's ethereal tent to-day who keep open shop 24 hours each day and 365 days in each year. We are also the only laborers to keep on working for people who do not pay. I can carry my part of charity with as good a grace as most men. I can go through rain, snow or mud and do my best, provided the case is one of worthy need, but to reward continually downright rascality, willful drunkenness and wanton laziness is getting out of my line.—Texas State Journal of Medicine.

Great Art of Life.

The great art of life consists in fortitude and perseverance. The mischance of those who fall behind, though flung upon fortune, more frequently arises from want of skill and perseverance.—Sir Walter Scott.

I AM A MOTHER

How many American women in lonely homes to-day long for this blessing to come into their lives, and to be able to utter these words, but because of some organic derangement this happiness is denied them.

Every woman interested in this subject should know that preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by the use of

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. Maggie Gilmer, of West Union, S. C., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was greatly run-down in health from a weakness peculiar to my sex, when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. It not only restored me to perfect health, but to my delight I am a mother."

Mrs. Josephine Hall, of Bardstown, Ky., writes:

"I was a very great sufferer from female troubles, and my physician failed to help me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound not only restored me to perfect health, but I am now a proud mother."

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. VENEZUELAN VESSEL SEIZED.

Wilemstad, Curacao, Dec. 14.—

The Dutch cruiser Gelderland came into port yesterday morning towing the Venezuelan coast guard ship Alix with the Dutch flag flying and a Dutch crew on board. The Gelderland captured the Alix off Puerto Cabello on Saturday. At that time the Alix was lying in-shore, and notwithstanding the threat which the Venezuelan government had made to fire upon any of the Dutch warships committing a hostile act the Gelderland steamed at full speed to the coast guard ship and sent an officer and guard in a launch to seize her. This they did without resistance and no shots came from the forts on land.

STILL ANOTHER.

Wilemstad, Curacao, Dec. 15.—

The Dutch battleship, Jacob Van Heemskrek, arrived in the harbor at 8 this morning towing as a prize the Venezuelan coast guard vessel "23 De Mayo."

Word of its capture had already been received here and a great throng of people lined the quays to witness the entrance of the Dutch battleship conducting her capture within the harbor.

The capture of the "23 De Mayo" was effected Dec. 13 at a point a little north of Cumana on the gulf of Curacao. The battleship Van Heemskerk observed the "Mayo" in the offing, took possession of her and sent a prize crew aboard.

The Venezuelan crew was sent ashore in small boats of the captured ship. The battleship then proceeded back to this port escorting her prize.

The Dutch cruiser Gelderland left here yesterday for the Venezuelan coast. She had aboard seamen thoroughly acquainted with the bays and inlets along the Venezuelan shores.

Caracas, Ven., Dec. 15.—News of the capture of the coast guardships Alexis and 23 Mayo by Dutch cruisers, became known here today. A big crowd demonstrated in support of the government. A decree issued by acting president Gomez, places the republic in a state of defense.
