Sees Real Gem Market of Paris

In Dingy Restaurants Brokers Negotiate Sales Over Wine and Coffee.

25 SHOPS ON ONE STREET

American Travelers Advised to Leave Their Jewelry at Home-Ways of European Robbers-Many Work on Trains.

Paris,-"Some day," an American man in business in Paris advised, "I will show you the real diamond brokers' market of Paris. It is not, as you doubtless think, along Rue de la Paix. You would never dream it was the unofficial exchange where smaller dealers meet to trade. It is a very cheap-looking little restaurant in the Rue Lafayette. I go there some times at noon just to watch the trading in precious stones. Two hard-looking old chaps will sit over their coffee and cognac. One will take out a dirty leather purse tied with an old greasy string and will lay diamonds and rubies that make your hair curl on the table before them. They peer at them through microscopes, weigh them and haggle about the price. All around one, on the tables, are little plies of precious stones and the waiters are asked to pass them from one to another and no one is surprised. I hope to buy a good stone there some day, but think it will have to be by making friends with a waiter, who in turn will make me acquainted with one of the

25 Shops on One Street.

For the jewel mart of the world one has only to walk along Rue de la Paix, where there are 25 jewelry shops in its 250 yards of length, writes Laura A. Smith in the Indianapolis Star. One could spend days, yes, months, examining the exquisite designs of the necklaces, brooches, tiaras, crowns, bracelets, rings, articles for the toilet table and the thousands of thny jeweled boxes used in so many ways. Everything has its garlands, monograms or designs of tiny stones suspended in an invisible setting. But such stones! A little bit of the sun, of the moon, of a brilliant star, of the heart, of a coal of fire, of the ocean depths, of the greatest bit of verdure in the heart of the forest-these are enshrined in the dazzling jewels displayed against the neutral velvet background. The display is mostly in the windows. Customers who go inside the shops sit by green baize tables in one of a series of rooms with thick curpets while the gems are brought up from the strong rooms in the basement.

The diamond robberies in Paris seem to be by smashing the window and grabbing as many gems as one can before the police arrive.

Speaking of robberies-a very vital subject for travelers-I beg of you, if you are about to start off on an extended tour this summer, to leave your fine jewels at home in some safe deposit and to trevel sans valuables. If you are going to visit friends or to shine forth at some fashionable hotel in America, that is different. Wear all your finery, but take the precaution of consigning your jewels to the hotel safe each night and taking a receipt they are expected to bring when put for them. But leave them at home if up for sale as junk is $2,500,000. The you are starting on a trip about for- probability is that the net return will thon of the vessels. The treaty

Many Robberies on Trains.

Above all things, fellow countrywomen, do not put your money in your trunk or suitcase and leave it in a hotel. De not leave your handbag in your room and the door unlocked, as many women I know in hotels do. The There are approximately 550,000 tons place for your reserve fund of money, checks and papers is upon your person, Keep them in your safety pocket. One evening we were going for a little which, of course, is to be paid certain stroll when my companion, another costs of sale.

Tries Rattlesnake for Tuberculosis.

Hysham, Mont.-Having heard from Indians in Arizona while he resided there that the bites of a rattlesnake would cure tuberculosis, George Burke, a former sailor, now living here, deilberately let a rattlesnake bite his arm several months ago. Burke's tuberculosis has almost vanished, but physicians famillar with the case are slow to accept the snake-bite theory. They believe other causes, yet to be learned, effected the cure.

American woman, turned back, saying she did not want to carry all her money with her, but would hide it. When she came back I asked her where she hid it. "Oh, under the edge of the carpet of my room," said she. I made her go back and bring it along and promise never to do anything as risky as that. One would think it impossible for a thief to get past all the managers and servants that are found by the doors and on each floor of hotels, but every day some careless person is robbed of his money in hotels or on trains or from taking drinks with persuasive strangers. "I have been around the world twice," said an American woman, "and I have never lost a thing. I never take jewelry on my trip. I have a cheap watch and imitation pins. My papers and travelers checks and letters of credit are right on me in my safety pocket. I keep my door locked and I never show money before strangers. In consequence they think I am not worth robbing. It brings great peace of mind, I assure you, and I wish all American or other kind of women would follow my exam-

NAVAL BOARD RECOMMENDS SALE OF CRAFT UNDER CONSTRUCTION.

ESTIMATED COST OF TREATY FULFILLMENT IS $70,000,000.

(Western Newspeper Union News Service. )

Washington.-Recommendations that capital ships to be scrapped under the navni limitation treaty be disposed of by sale on the stocks in the case of those under construction, and by sale for junk or sinking by gunfire in the case of completed ships, are contained in the report of the board of naval officers appointed to consider ways and means of carrying out treaty provisions. A preliminary estimate of $70, 000,000 as to the cost of operation is included in the report.

The board recommends that the shipping board battle cruisers Lexington, under construction at Fort River, Mass., and Saratoga, building by the New York Shipbuilding Company at Camden, N. J., be converted into air plane carriers under the treaty terms, the other four battle cruisers to be sold on the stocks to the highest bidder.

The board in its report urged that the $70,000,000 be made available immediately, stating that a considerable saving on ships building under contract and to be scrapped could be made if the terms of settlement were worked out promptly with the contractors. It was pointed out at the Navy Department, however, that the figure of $70,000,000 was purely tentative.

Existing battleships, which the board recommends for sale or for destruction by gunfire, are the Virginia, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Georgia, Nebraska, Connecticut, Louisiana, Vermont, Minnesota, Kansas, New Hampshire, Michigan, South Carolina and the Delaware or North Dakota. One of the lest two ships, to be designated later, is to be used as a target ship under Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper. Advertisement.

I think that I am entitled to be called a charter member of the Edgeworth Smokers Club, as I have used the Edgeworth Shokers Club, as I have used the Edgeworth Sliced Plug between twenty and twenty-five years.

When I commenced using it I was selling hardware on the road. One of my customers who kept a general store told me that he had just received a new to-bacco and wished that I would try it. He gave me a box for which he charged me 20c. He made a mistake, as it was selling at that time for 25c. I liked it so well that I made! the point to ask for it in every store in the different towns that I made; but few had it. The next time that I called on this customer I bought six boxes, which would last until I got around again. I still continued to ask for it in the different towns and tried to induce the dealers to stock it.

In 1906 or 1907 I went to Sc. Carollna and stayed there three years. I was surprised not to be able to get it there. At that time I was in Beaufort, S. C., and made frequent trips to Savannah, Ga., and Charleston, S. C. and was unable to get time sither of these clims. Finally I ordered some direct from you and also induced a dealer in Beaufort to stock it. I have used it always for over twenty years except occasionally when I could not get it. I figure that I have smoked over 1000 of the 25c boxes, which have cost for the last few years 36s. For at least five years I have not bought a cigar. Have had some given to me, but they do not take the place of the old pipe filled with Edgeworth.

I am sixty-one years of age and still think that it is the best tobacco on the market. I don't think there is a man living who has smoked any more Edgeworth than I. What do you think?

Yours truly,

Be Used to Advantage.

Many Embroideries Used on Afternoon and Evening Dresses-Suits Also Embroidered in Places.

Dresses from Paris have so many fine points of distinction that it is interesting to follow their devious and various ways, observes a Paris fashion writer in the New York Times. Perhaps the silhouette does remain practically the same, but that only increases the expression of loveliness of

From many of the French gowns, which are perhaps too exaggerated or too elaborate for actual American wear, one can derive hints and notes that only go to make one's own gowns more beautiful.

There are many embroideries on all the French gowns, both those for afternoon and those for evening wear. Even the suits are embroidered in places. In fact, this is the trimming, above all others, which the French have decided to use for the adornment of the spring

For evening, there are numberless crystal embroidered motifs, and many of these are being used on all-white gowns, while others are placed in conjunction with very brilliantly colored chiffons and crepes and satins.

The girdles and waistline arrangements continue to be important features, and whenever the gown is quite plain it is bound to have some embroldered motif placed at the waistline in some spot, even when the trimming does not extend all the way around.

The necklines here, as a rule, are rounded and are trimmed with scalloped collars finished with rows of

DRESSES FOR THE KIDDIES

Dotted Swiss and Pongee Are Among the Favorite Materials for the Little Folks.

For very little folk, ranging from two to six-year sizes, dotted swiss and pongee are two well-liked fabrics.

Dotted swiss, either in white with pastel colored dots or darker shades, like red or brown, speckled in white, appears with marked frequency. In the lighter colored numbers a popular mode of embellishment is the smocking in colored mercerized threads matching the color of the dots, forming yokes. One dress noted in brown, dotted in white, was trimmed with rows of insertion and edging of filet lace, insuring the laundering possibilities of the frock.

Striped handkerchief linen or dimity, in rather broad and bold stripings, also appear in the group for small people. When these stripes are selected for the fabric, the choice is invariably for tucked devices.

In the pongees, worsted embroideries are the favorite usage, forming yokes and accenting pocket contrivances.

Panels and Eyelet Inserts.

A showing of summer frocks features handkerchief linen and organdle with panels and insets of eyelet embroidery. The frocks are in the pastel shades and white and on them rich and heavy eyelet embroidery is most effective. Lace insets and panels, as well as lace-edged girdles and flounces. also are to be noted. Except that often the sleeves are a mere pretense and the waistline remains long, these flounced and eyelet-embroidered frocks are a hark back to the summer gowns of by-gone days.

The matter of trimmings, even in a trimmingless season, is something that concerns the Parisian dressmakers most sincerely. For, whatever they are or wherever they are placed, they must be perfectly done. And it is these touches which ravish us as we see them appearing on the new French frocks. They are so very original and so inspiring to the creation of dress in this country, no matter what may

American Has Won That Reputation In Cuba.

Colonel D'Estrampes Is Remembered With Gratitude by Many Foolish and Unfortunate Visitors.

If you ever go down to Havana, run into a rum den, tipple a bit and wake up in jail-as many an American does you'll want to meet Jose d'Estrampes. Since Rowan carried the message to Garcia there has never been on the whole island of Cuba a figure more picturesque, more romantic, more genuinely flavored with tropical adventure and romance than this man D'Estrampes, avers a New York Sun writer.

Colonel D'Estrampes-for he was a colonel, right beside Roosevelt at San Juan—is not a native. Born in New Orleans, he there picked up his first splutterings of Spanish, the language that later facilitated his passage on board a fruiter to Havana.

In Havana, always a hotbed of pol-itics, D'Estrampes, tall, handsome and courtly, was soon recognized as a friendly American and effective orator. It wasn't long before his chair was drawn up every night among those other chairs clustered around the small, marble-topped saloon tables over which Cubans wage their bitter political campaigns. He was elected to congress and later to the senate and for his services in the war against Spanlards was commissioned the

He'll arrange to house her temporarily with one of the many wealthy families who always welcome D'Estrampes and whomever he intro-

An extensive campaign of education among the Indians of Mexico, which promises to do away with their illiteracy, has been mapped out by the department of public education of the Mexican government. Preliminary to the establishment of schools in Indian communities an inspection of the different tribes will be made by Prof. Lauro Caloca. It is stated that the work will be started with the appointment of 100 instructors, and that in making these selections preference will be given to those teachers who speak the Indian language. An appropriation of 500,000 pesos, equivalent to $250,000 money, will be used to get this new educational work started.

Reforming the Deal.

Some one who has evidently been suffering from a succession of poor bands when playing whist or bridge has devised a pack of cards the backs of which are marked with numbers and indicators and the cards are dealt according to the Indicators, instead of in the usual way, by rotation. The result is that four absolutely equal combinations of cards are obtained by the four players. There are 12 sets of indicators on each pack of cards, making possible 12 entirely different hands or sets of combinations. After the cards have been dealt, the game is played in any of the ordinary ways.

SELL GRAIN THROUGH CATTLE

Farmer Who Puts Feed Into Steers and Returns Manure to Land Is One Who Succeeds.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

An investigation into methods and costs of beef production in the corn belt, conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture, covering three years, and 906 farms, shows interesting facts concerning the present status of the industry. The man who feeds cattle is marketing his crops as he feeds them, and, therefore, is justified in expecting a return equivalent to average market prices for the feeds. Even if he sometimes falls short of a return he has not necessarily experienced a loss. The corn belt farmer who sells grain sometimes receives more for his crop than the one who feeds it to cattle, but on the average, for a period of years, except in certain limited areas, the man who puts the feed into steers and returns the manure to the land is the one who comes out ahead. The conclusion is based on feeding in Iowa, Indiana, Illinois, Nebraska and Missouri.

The figures which contain the resuits of this investigation were obtained from a large number of farms and from several agricultural experiment stations in the Middle West. One phase of the work deals with the cost of maintaining a herd of breeding cows for producing feeder cattle. It was found that feed represented 69 per cent of the cost of keeping a cow for one year, while the other 31 per cent was for interest, labor, equipment and incidentals.

SWINE FOR HOME SLAUGHTER

Members of Shipping Association in Indiana Solve Problem of Having Pork Supply.

Members of the live stock shipping ssociations in Dekalb county, Ind., have solved the problem of having fat hogs on hand just when they are ready to do their home butchering. and the United States Department of Agriculture thinks the plan could be worked by other co-operatives. Many of the members of the association who do home butchering often found themselves with hogs ready for market or slaughter before the farmers were prepared for the work. Under these conditions they arrange with the manager of the association to ship their hogs to market at the time the animals are ready, and later, when the farmers are prepared to butcher, they buy the desired number of hogs from the association on the regular shipping day. The hogs are sold to them for the net market price returned to the members contributing hogs to the shipment. This practice is an accommodation to the members, as often a farmer who is raising hogs for home slaughter is not ready to butcher at the time the hogs are in best condition and he is not prepared to feed them as long as he desires.

KING CORN DISCOVERS RIVAL

Experiments at Nebraska University Show Dried Sugar Beet Pulp Is Valuable Feed.

Dried sugar-beet pulp will soon become a real rival of corn in livestockfeeding, declares the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

This statement is based on an experiment conducted by the college during which different rations were fed 12 lots of Utah lambs, 31 to each lot, for 100 days, to determine the food value of the sugar-beet by-product in comparison with some of the standard rations, such as corn and alfalfa or corn, alfaifa, and cottonseed cake,

The beet-pulp-fed lambs led with a profit of $3.80 per head at the end of the period, while the corn-and-alfalfa-fed lot showed a profit of only $1.83 a head. The experiment proved, furthermore, that either corn or dried beet pulp is necessary to produce a finished lamb.

Golden Pennies.

Sir Robert Horne's forecast of a return of the gold sovereign to common circulation may recall that the first regular gold piece struck in England was—a penny! This became part of the currency in 1257, and weighed about 45 grains, being the equivalent of 20 of the contemporary silver pennies. Its prototype was the benant, a gold piece belonging to Byzantium, which had been current for centuries, but the English penny was a far better executed coin than its original. It appeared but once in our coinage and only two or three examples have survived. No one in England will be sorry for the disappearance of the paper currency of war times.-Montreal Family Herald.

IRISH ARMY LEADERS SUGGEST PROPOSALS TO BRING PEACE.

AGREE TO AN ELECTION SPRAYER USEFUL ON SURFACE

DE VALERA ASSAILS COLLINS' ATTITUDE ON TREATY.

(Western Newspaper Union News Service.)

Dublin.-Representatives of the regular and irregular branches of the Irish Republican army at a conference have signed a statement suggesting proposals to avert a catastrophe which gives the following as a basis to free the situation:

"Acceptance of the fact, admitted on all sides, that a majority of the people of Ireland are willing to accept the peace treaty. "Agree to an election with a view to forming a government which will have the confidence of the whole country. "Army unification on the above basis." The statement adds:

"If the present drift is allowed to continue a conflict between comrades is inevitable. This would be the greatest calamity in Irish history and would leave Ireland broken for generations.'

Rory O'Connor, head of the Irregular army group, said that some of the signers of the statement hold minor positions in his forces. added that he might perhaps make a statement after he had considered the letails of the plans set forth in the agreement.

Eamon de Valera issued a detailed explanation of his attitude at the peace conference in which he calls the proposal made by Michael Collins for a plebiscite on the question of acceptance or rejection of the treaty, one for "stone age machinery."

Mr. De Valera in his explanation deals first with his objection to an election a a plebiscite, except for all Ireland. He renews his objection to the existing voting register. Further, he says, Arthur Griffith's proposal involves a breach of the Sinn Feln convention agreement that not only the treaty, but the constitution in its final form should be before the electorate when it

It is declared by Mr. De Valera that both he and Charles Burgess recognized in the labor proposals a basis by which an immediate peace could be procured, the army united and a stable executive set up which could enjoy the confidence of all sections of the people.

The labor proposals, says Mr. De Valera, obviously referred to the period during which the treaty would be left in abeyance, and the problem was to secure an agreement when this period should end. While Mr. Griffith insists on elections in June, the Republicans who believe the treaty means abandonment of the republic and acceptance of the British crown, think it should not be submitted to the electors while Great Britain's threat of warprevents the free will of the people from being expressed.

MODERN METHODS GARAGE-DOOR LATCH MADE BY IRISH KEEP AUTOS NEW

Several Excellent Liquid and Wax Polishes on Market Give Admirable Results.

Owner Must Not Assume That New and Helpful Alds in Beautifying Have Superseded Water-Cars Must Be Washed.

The present-day owner using modern methods may keep his car looking new all the time, nor will he have to spend more than a few moments a day to accomplish this end. For instance, there are now on the market a number of liquid and wax polishes which will give admirable results if they are used us directed.

In the use of wax polishes the first step is to clean the body of the car thoroughly. The polish is applied to the surface with a piece of cheese cloth and then another clean cloth is used to distribute the wax evenly all over the surface. Car owners commonly make the mistake of thinking that the more wax applied the better. As a matter of fact a very thin film is all that is needed. The polish will last for from four days to a week, and after it has been applied at the beginning of the week a little rubbing with a clean cloth will bring out the luster again. The wax polish may be used for body, fenders, hood and other lustrous surfaces and it will also be found that if the under side of the fenders is cleaned and given a good conting of wax less mud will be deposited and what is there may be easily removed.

Spray Polish.

The most recent type of body pollsh is that which is sprayed on the suface with a large sprayer. In using this polish the body must be thoroughly cleaned with water. If the body surfaces are merely dusty the polish may be sprayed on and then be wiped off with a clean cloth. After spraying the pollsh over the surface a piece of cheesecloth is used to wipe off the

The present-day owner must not ssume that these new and really useful aids to beautifying the motorcar have superseded plain water. The contrary is true. The car must be washed just as formerly, after which the new polishes will bring out the luster of the original finish. Soap should never be used on the body except for removing grease or oil spots. A small plece of soft cloth, well covered with castile soap suds, serves very well to remove grease from the panels. The hood should never be washed while it is hot, as this will result in discoloration. In cleaning the radiator send a stream of water from the rear instead of the front, to keep moisture out of the mechanism.

Use a Chamois.

In drying the body a clean chamois skin should be used, rubbing being done in straight lines. If spots of tar or road oil are found on the body it is best to treat them with salt, butter or kerosene. The butter softens the deposit so that it may be wiped off easily. Kerosene should be applied locally and wiped off within a minute,

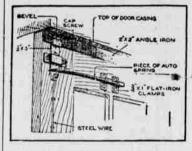

To keep pace with the improved appearance of the body it is necessary to give some attention to the top and the upholstery. A weekly brushing of the top inside and out will aid materially in its life. Fabric tops should never be cleaned with gasoline, kerosene or other oils, as they tend to destroy the rubber in the top. Castile sonp and water applied with a stiff ficient. Remove all the carbon from brush is the best cleansing medium the porcelain or mica by washing

POOR PACKING CAUSES LEAK

Excessive Squeezing of Candle Wick or Other Material Is Apt to Cause Trouble.

When the water pump begins leaking do not assume that necessarily it is because the nut is too loose. Fre quently the nut is not to blame at all, but poor packing is the real cause of the trouble. Packing for this part consists of candle wick soaked in tallow, heavy twine similarly treated, or special packing material. After the nut has been turned to press the packing down do not turn it further, as exces sive squeezing is apt to damage some part of the body of the pump.

USE OF MILKING MACHINES GAINS

Increased Number Being Employed Makes Cleaning Methods of Much Importance.

HOT-WATER METHOD IS BEST

To Keep Mechanical Devices Sweet and Clean All Parts Should Be Scrubbed at Least Once Every Week.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The increasing use of milking machines in the United States makes the method of cleaning and caring for them an important one. In studies of dairy sanitation the number of bacteria which survive various methods of cleaning and care enables investigators to determine the relative merits of various systems of cleaning machines. In addition to laboratory observations, the United States Department of Agriculture has tried out methods of cleaning and sterilizing mechanical milkers on a number of farms.

On 13 farms where only ordinary care was given, the highest bacteria count was more than 2,000,000 per cubic centimeter, and the average was more than a quarter of a million. After the machines had been kept clean and sterilized by the hot-water method, the average of 261 samples showed less than 20,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter, and one sample showed only one thousand. Of course, with careless methods, milk produced by hand milking may be badly contaminated; but the milking machine, being an additional piece of apparatus between the cow and the consumer, should receive special care.

Hot-Water Method Best.

* Sterilizing milking machines with a chlorine solution has been done on a good many farms, but the tests made by the department have shown that much better results come from the use of the hot-water method. Just after milking, the machines are rinsed with cold or lukewarm water drawn through by vacuum, the stream being broken occasionally by pulling the teat cups out of the water and immersing them again. This is done 10 or 12 times. The process is then repeated with hot soda solution, and the cups and tubing are washed with a brush at the same time. Then the parts are rinsed by drawing clean water through by vacuum.

After this cleaning, the long milk with the teat cups attached are detached from the head of the pail. the air tubes (on inflation types of machines) plugged, and the whole immersed in a tank of clean water. The water is then heated to 160 degrees or 170 degrees F. This may be done by setting the tank on a stove; by setting it up and building a fire under it; or by introducing steam from a boiler. The parts are left in this water until the next milking.

The effect of heating upon the rubber parts has not yet been fully determined, but so far the temperatures used have had little effect on the life of the rubber.

Clean Thoroughly Each Week. To keep the machines sweet and clean they must be taken entirely apart once a week and all the parts scrubbed with brushes and hot soda solution. The vacuum line should be cleaned every two weeks by drawing hot soda solution through it, but if milk is accidentally drawn into it the pipe should be cleaned immediately after mildig. #### CUCUMBER DISORDER SPREAD BY INSECTS

Mosaic Disease Is Widespread in the United States.

Wild Cucumber Vine and Common Milkweed Are Principal Host Plants of Malady—Eradica-tion is Strongly Urged.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) The wild cucumber vine and the common milkweed, as shown by investigations by the United States Department of Agriculture, are the principal wild host plants of the cucumber mosaic, or "white pickle" disease. This disease is widespread in the United States, but is most general and serious in the Middle West, where the major portion of the pickle-growing industry is located. Cucumber mosaic is caused by a virus, and the most common means of spreading it is by two kinds of insects, the striped cucumber beetle, the melon aphis, and by pickers. The disease is not carried through the winter in the soil or by insects, and trials have shown that seeds from diseased cultivated cucumbers rarely produce mosaic plants, It has been found, however, that seeds from mosaic fruits of the wild cucumber will produce a certain percentage of mosaic plants when planted and the disease may thus winter over on this wild host. Wild cucumber vines appear along fences and streams from three to four weeks before the cultivated cucumbers are planted, and the striped cucumber beetle feeds on these wild plants and then flies to the cucumber fields, carrying the mosaic virus if it exists. The common milkweed is also subject to cucumber mosaic and as it lives for many years the disease is reproduced each year from the diseased roots Insects, particularly the melon aphis, are also the agents which carry mosaic from milkweed to cucumber. Eradication of these wild hosts is strongly advised as the most effective control measure yet known. Field experiments indicate that such treatment not only reduces the amount of disease in the fields, but also its seriousness by delaying its appearance by two to four weeks just at the time when the plants are producing large

CORN FOR SILAGE PURPOSES

Early Planting of Well-Matured Seed of Large Variety Is Often Most Profitable.

In the north an early planting of well-matured seed of a large variety of corn is often most profitable when the crop is intended for silage pur-Of course, if a grain crop is desired, the corn variety must be chosen that has the best chance of maturing a good yield of grain. But if silage is the object, the same degree of maturity is not necessary. The production may be increased simply by choosing a somewhat longer season crop, one that will reach the proper ensiling stage at about the same time the Northern grain would have to be maturing. Here is one more place where the Northern silo owner can get the jump on some of his less fortunate neighbors,

BIG DANGER IN USING LIME

When All Acidity of Soil Has Been Used Up There Is Trouble in Raising Some Crops.

A test was made covering 15 years of growing truck crops with manure, at the rate of ten loads to the acre, and with other fertilizers. The fertilized plots yielded good crops for a few years and then falled. Doctor Hartwell of the Rhode Island experiment station does not advise any fertilizers in continuous crop rotation without green manuring. He said that Rhode Island was responsible for the use of lime, and now it ought to be responsible for saying that there is danger in using too much lime. When you have used up all the acidity in the soil you are in for trouble, especially with such crops as spinach. If you do not get any pink on blue litmus paper, the soil does not need more lime.

BIG VALUE OF ALFALFA

Alfalfa pasture is worth $25 to $35 per acre when it will feed 20 pigs per acre that will gain 200 pounds each during the season. If they are fed without pasture, they will need 1,500 pounds more of corn and 800 pounds of tankage. In addition to this we can cut a ton or two of hay from the same land and still have better grazing than if it were not mowed .- J. M. Evvard, Iowa Station.

C HICAGO.—Pretty lucky, Detective Sergt. Fred Tapscott! He came within one-sixteenth of an inch of death when he shot a pistol from the hand of an escaped convict and was awarded a $100 hero prize.

The stxteenth of an inch was the distance between the hammer point of the convict's gun and the detonator of the shell reposing beneath it. cording to Chief of Detectives Hughes and others who examined the gun, the hammer was in the act of descending on the shell when Tapscott's bullet knocked the gun from the bandit's

The bullet from the policeman's pistol drove squarely into one of the cylinder chambers of the bandit's gun, proving, according to Chief Hughes, that the convict's bullet was headed straight for Tapscott's brain.

The shot, described by Chief of Police Fitzmorris as "the most miraculous in police history," not only saved Tapscott's life, but probably also saved the life of Sergt. J. A. McCarthy, who was struggling with the bandit.

Tapscott, McCarthy and Sergt. Michael McFadden had entered the saloen of Dan Morrison at Thirty-first street and Cottage Grove avenue, when a colored man hurried out the rear door. McFadden started after him while McCarthy directed his attention to another colored man standing at the bar. Tapscott steped into a side room to search a third man. McCarthy recognized the man at the bar as "Willie" Webb, sentenced to Pontiac for robbery, who was paroled. returned for violation of parole, and finally escaped February 8.

McCarthy and Webb grappled. Webb drew a gun. At this point At this point Tapscott rushed in from the side room on hearing the sound of the struggle. Webb pointed his gun at Tapscott, but the policeman fired as the colored man's finger pressed the

When Quick Death Was True Kindness

STONE MOUNTAIN, GA.—When a man has a good dog and loves him It's pretty hard to have to shoot the faithful animal down in cold blood. Yet there can be circumstances under which sudden death by a bullet is true kindness.

Everybody's heard of Stone Mountain; it's that gigantic mass of solid rock on which a wonderful frieze depicting the heroes of the Confederacy In battle array is to be carved. Well, on a Thursday two foxhounds slipped while chasing a fox and slid into a crevice hundreds of feet down. They were practically uninjured.

Friday W. O. and Ronald Venable, owners of the hounds, took 400-foot ropes and let themselves off into space in an effort to reach the crevice. They falled. Saturday they tried again, in spite of a high wind that swung them time and again against the almost vertical surface. Thousands watched the masters at their work of rescue, thrilled over the dangers of their attempt and grouned in disappointment over their failure.

For it looked as if the two hounds could not be reached. And it was certain that their lot was lingering death from thirst and starvation, if Thierry from going on to Paris. they couldn't be reached. So Saturday night little was talked about in | death!

Sunday big crowds gathered againexpecting they knew not what, but certain of a thrill. Would the Venables try again? Could food and water be got to the hounds in any possible way? Would the two masters abandon their hounds to a lingering death? On this last proposition the crowds were a unit in the negative.

WEARS FIRST LONG PANTS IN PRISON

Sixteen-Year-Old Boy Gets Life Sentence for Murder of His Foster-Mother.

Laporte, Ind .- John Mollick, sixteen-year-old orphan of this city, has realized every boy's ambition to don the raiment of a man. He is now wearing his first long pants. But his new suit is that of a convict and he has been sentenced to wear it for life. John, attired in knee pants, entered the gates of the Indiana state prison, nt Michigan City, under a life sentence for murder.

Never in the history of the prison had a boy in knickerbockers crossed its corridor of sighs. Warden Edward Fogarty and his aides received a distinct shock as the boy stumbled into the warden's office to be questioned and assigned a number and convict's garb.

Mollick had been convicted of shooting and killing his foster-mother,

St. Louis.-Policemen are an emoset, much given to extravagan notions, but the actions of Margot, a prize black beifer, on Olive street here, certainly were unusual and there may be something in what Partolman Flaherty says.

Margot broke loose from a young man leading her to a slaughter house and chased a negro fanitor of an apartment building in Olive street up three flights of rear stairs. The janitor escaped into a flat, slamming the door in the helfer's face. She retaliated by crashing through the door, the glass panels hanging on her horns. Cowboys from the stock yards were called and Margot led them a dizzy pace, falling only when she was riddled with bullets.

"She was going along peaceful enough until she saw a white-haired old lady with skirts up to her knees, said Patrolman O'Flaherty, "She gave one snort and away she went."

SAVED BY 7 MINUTES

Governor's Reprieve Comes Just in Nick of Time-Gets New Trial and is Freed-Describes Horrors of Awaiting Death.

New York .- After two years at the door of death—the grim, green door in Sing Sing-Joseph Cohen has come back.

Freed from the charge of murder which had been hanging over his head for nearly five years, he is hard at work on his old job-unloading chickens in the Washington market. But he is no longer the same powerful, fearless "King Joe."

"Once," he says with a rasping voice, I was within seven minutes of the chair. The governor's reprieve came just in time. If it had been delayed I wouldn't be here now."

Cohen had been convicted of instigating the Baff murder, which rivaled the Resenthal case in popular interest. In 1917 he was sentenced to the death house.

In Daze at Trial. "I was in a daze from the start of the trial," said Cohen. "The whole business was so unbellevable. But when I found myself in the little gray house up the river I knew that it was real-all too real.

"I couldn't bear to look at the bars So I slept with my head toward the door. One night I heard a buzzing noise on the other side of the wall. It was the electric chair. I was nearly frantie.

"Thirteen men passed by my cell on the way to their death. As each would go by, there would be a noisy good-by from the other men.

"Suddenly we would hear the buzz of the motor. It's the most terrible sound in the world-absolutely indescribable. We would lose our heads and scream. But-soon everything was quiet again. "It is not the man in the chair who is being punished," Cohen said earnestly, "but the men who are left behind. Theirs is a living death. Any of them would rather die immediately than linger in the death house. "I wanted to die. The only thing that kept up my courage was the thought of my innocence and the stigma that would have been left on my family.

"One day a youngster broke loose from the keeper's grasp as he was being led to the chair. He ran down in front of my cell screaming. The boy was only eighteen. We began to yell. It was all over in a little while. The kid went through the little green

"None of us slept that night. I was taken from my cell and put in a dungeon. It was punishment for catcalling with the rest. For three days and four nights I lay in solitary. When I got out I couldn't talk.

Couldn't Forget Door.

"Sometimes the men told jokes. Sometimes they laughed. But it wasn't often. They couldn't forget that little door and the buzzing noise." Cohen shuddered.

After Cohen was reprieved his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, and he was taken from the death

"I was so weak that I couldn't walk," he said smiling for the first time, "After a couple of weeks in the hospital I began to come to and my courage returned. From then on I never gave up hope.

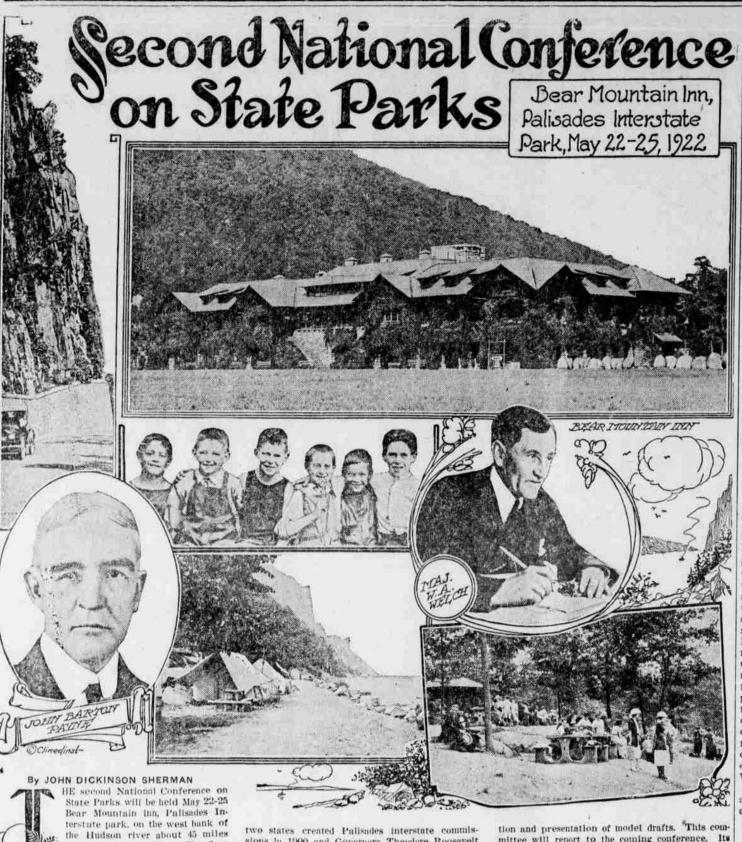

"And one day my dream came true, I was granted a new trial.

"Everybody in prison seemed to share my happiness. I was nursing diphtheria patients in the hospital when the doctor came in and told me to get ready. I was going to New York.

"It was the greatest moment of my life. I was released on ball. But it was only a few days ago that the courts finally freed me.

The funds appropriated and contributed to date are thus summarized: By New York, in cash, $5,793.525, in lands, $170.000; by New Jersey, in cash, 8727,983; by private contributors, in cash, $4,735,144; in lands, $1.692,765; total, $13,119,420. The park now contains 1,000 acres in New Jersey, extending for 12 miles along the Hudson (the Palisades); 550 acres in the Blauvelt tract west of Nyack; 780 acres in the Hook mountain-Rockland lake section, and 33.708 acres in the Bear mountain-Harriman section. Mrs. E. H. Harriman made one gift of 10,000 acres and $1,000,000. Over one million people visited the Bear mountain-Harriman section last summer; every summer 50,000 poor children spend an average of ten days in the camps. Every possible facility for even medical service, religious exercises and cooked-food distribution. As to the people who used the 12-mile strip under the Palisades, their number can only be guessed at.

The Des Moines conference was attended by 140 delegates from 50 organizations in 25 states The coming conference will be larger. This park question is of interest to a great variety of organizations. Here are a few samples: Save the Redwoods League of California; General Federation of Women's Clubs; American Society of Landscape Architects; Wild Flower Preservation Society of America; American Bison society; American Alpine club; American Committee on Preservation of Natural Conditions; American Civic association; National Park-to-Park Highway associntion; National Park Service.

The scope of this second conference is perhaps best suggested by the report of the committee or resolutions, Dr. Henry C. Cowles, University of Chicago, chairman, which was adopted at the first conference. This report includes the fol-

"The National Conference on State Parks, us. sembled in Des Moines, January 10-11-12, 1921, upon the call of the governor of Iowa, and at the suggestion of the secretary of the interior, and in co-operation with the national park service, declares its belief:

"That the public parks, local, county, state and national are necessary for the best development of patriotism, of efficient manhood and womanhood, and of business and civic life in the United

"That such parks should include not only ample and organized provision for recreation, but also for the preservation in their natural state of liberal areas embracing the varied types of prairie, forest, lake, river and mountain scenery America, as well as the natural wonders that distinguish our country.

"That it is incumbent upon our governments, local, county, state and national, to continue to acquire sites until eventually there shall be public parks within easy access of all the people of our

"That this conference, recognizing the fundamental value of forest recreation, recommends the establishment of further national, state, county and municipal forests and that the recreational use of such areas be correlated with similar activities in other publicly owned areas."

At the first conference a special committee was appointed to study the park laws of the several states and to confer with the executive committee of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, with a view to the preparation and presentation of model drafts. This committee will report to the coming conference. Its membership follows:

Everett L. Millard, Chicago, chairman; president Municipal Art league. Charles G. Sauers, Indianapolis, Indiana State Department of Conservation, Judge Asa K. Owens, Phillips, Wis. Chancey Hamlin, Buffalo, N. Y.

E. W. Allen, State of Washington. The attitude of the coming conference on questions of policy is probably pretty accurately indicated by a list of recommendations formulated at the first conference by the Round Table committee. This informal committee was made up of delegates actually engaged in the construction, supervision and development of existing parts. The recommendations include the following:

"It is recommended that any legislation for the establishment of state or municipal parks or forest preserves provide for the development and improvement of such areas in such a manner that they be freed entirely from all political ba-

"That all moneys given, appropriated or accru ing to such bodies, including those moneys earned by the utilities and facilities inside the areas, be placed at the disposal of such boards and expended by them without the further formality of legislative appropriation, but accounted for in accordance with the state's or municipality's finance laws.

"That wherever the necessary capital is available, all the utilities be operated directly by the controlling boards, and all construction and maintenance work be done by their forces without contracts or concessions, but if such capital is not available, that these utilities be let as concessions to concessionaires with sufficient capital and ability under proper restrictions and regulations by the board.

"That all buildings in such areas be the property of the board, and that no privately owned structures of any type be permitted except in the case of large forest preserves, where this policy does not interfere with some of the higher type of utilizations.

"That no long-term leases of clubhouses camps, or other buildings be made, and that a strict limitation be placed on private residences. even in large forest reservations, and that these should be permitted only with due regard to future public use."

inasmuch as the new interest in state and local parks is largely an outgrowth of the discovery by the people of the national parks, the national park service is giving its heartlest co-operation through Director Stephen T. Mather. The connection between national parks and state parks is often close, since it is sometimes difficult to decide the destiny of scenic areas ambitious for national park honors. Mr. Mather is likely to ask the opinion of the conference concerning a dozen or so national park propositions which raise the question: Are they not best fitted for state parks? These propositions include:

Mammoth Cave, Kentucky; Petit Jean, Arkansas; Grand Coulee, Washington; Bryce Canyon, Utah; Mississippi valley, Iowa and Wisconsin; Okefinokee swamp, Georgia; Yakima, Washington. Blue Ridge, Georgia; Sand Dunes, Indiana; Roosevelt Bad Lands, South Dakota.

Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall, in whose charge are the national parks, of course heartily endorses the coming conference. He says, in referring in his 1921 annual report to Des Moines conference and the increased activities in the state park movement:

"It is hoped this will in time result in a state park being available every hundred miles or so along the chief traffic arteries to the national parks which will contribute much to the pleasure of out-of-door camping."

PROBLEMS JUST NOW PRESS-ING ON AGRICULTURISTS

Farmer on Low-Priced, Fertile Lands, Still to Be Had, Is in Best Possible Position.

The economic problems connected with the advantageous marketing of farm crops and the financing of the movement of those crops are pressing upon agriculture most severely. They will be solved, however, and while that solution is being worked out it is simply good sense on the farmer's part to make his efforts toward production tell to the very maximum, as best carrying him through the period of depression and hard times and placing him in the best position to take the greatest possible advantage of the better times to come. We may repeat that the cheapest farm crop, whether from fields or from live stock, is almost invariably the largest crop which can be obtained. Or in other words, the greater the crop, the greater the net profit. To attain such crops and to place himself in the advantageous position referred to above, the farmer must study, and must apply the results of his study to such problems as soil fertility, its conservation and increase; soil moisture, its control; cultural methods, suitable and productive varieties, etc., etc.

The question is how can you best accomplish and secure these things? Can they be done on high-priced lands, by paying high rents, with the prices you get for your produce no greater than may be had from that grown and raised on much cheaper lands, whose production is fully as great as that of the high-priced lands? The answer is unquestionably in favor of the low-priced lands, when they are selected because of their soil fertility and the other requirements necessary. It is not the purpose here to point out merely that the lands of Western Canada would prove a splendid and ready solution, but to emphasize the fact that in order to overcome your present difficulty, to remove some of the burden that you are laboring under, you must secure some line of cheaper operation, whether it be removal to other parts in your own country where such opportunity may offer, or take advantage of that which Western Canada affords.

For information regarding these advantages apply to any Canadian government agent.—Advertisement,

Burned Forests Build No Homes,

Denver.-Every year forest fires in the United States destroy or damage sufficient timber to build houses for the entire population of a city the size of Washington, D. C.; New Orleans, La.; Denver, Colo.; or San Francisco, Calif. according to statement just issued by the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture, "Safeguarding America through Against Fire," the official bulletin of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. The area burned over each year, it is said, is equal to a strip ten miles wide reaching from New York City to Denver, Colo. The publication directs attention to the fact that fifteen years ago the bulk of public sentiment against forest fires was in the East. Today it is in the West, there 61 per cent of the remaining timber supply of the country is located. Over $1,000. 000 acres of forest land that were formerly covered with timber are logged off or burned and completely denuded of tree growth. The solution of forestry problems, experts say, lies largely in fire prevention and reforestation.

rends of the United States Department of Agriculture. A skew bridge is one in which the center line of the bridge is not perpendicular with the abutment on which the bridge rests, and is used when a bridge crosses a stream or railway track diagonally. The bureau is jointly responsible with the several state highway departments for the correctness of the design of all structures on federal-aid roads, and for this reason the problem is being carefully studied.

WIDER HIGHWAYS WIN FAVOR

Originally Engineers Considered 10-Foot Roadway Adequate-Now Urge 20 Feet.

Former Superintendent of Illinois Highways S. E. Bradt of DeKalb, Ill., who has done much to boost the good roads movement in his state, says engineers originally considered a 10-foot highway adequate to meet the needs of traffic between populous centers.

Then they learned the folly of this contention and boosted the width. It was finally made 16 feet. Roads are being built 18 feet in width and now come prominent engineers advocating a 20-foot highway.

The shoulder maintenance is a prominent factor entering into this problem. The upkeep of a shoulder usually exceeds the original cost of the extra two feet of pavement, it has been learned by experience. For this reason highway experts are going on record advocating the wider pavement for trunk line highways. The upkeep of shoulders is very high, especially where there is heavy truck truffic.

PAVED ROADS AND DAIRYING

As More Improved Highways Are Constructed Milk Routes Are Being Extended.

Paved roads and dairying go hand constructed, milk routes are extended and the farmer farther from the city is prodvided with a market for his milk. Over unimproved routes requiring wagon delivery, the longest route possible is only approximately 15 miles while over paved highways, traveled by motortrucks, routes covering as high as 40 miles are established. Large areas of prospective dairy country are waiting only the construction of more hard surfaced When these are built, many more farmers, now cut off from their market, will receive the benefit of the economical and rapid transportation made possible by the motortruck and the paved highway.

HIGHWAYS ON PACIFIC COAST

Various Western States and Government to Spend Immense Sum for Road Improvements.

Twenty million dollars, the largest amount of money expended in one year on the Pacific coast by the federal government on state highways and post roads, is to be spent during this season. The western states, Washington, Oregon, California, Wyoming, Colorado, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico will expend the same amount. Many of the reads will be 20 feet wide and of concrete six inches thick, much heavier than highways built by the states heretofore, Benefits of Good Roads.

Good roads in the country will do more to lower the high cost of living and more for the prosperity, comfort, culture and happiness of the people than things fought over in 12 presidential campaigns.

Good of Motortruck Lines. The establishment of motor truck express lines in every farming community will stimulate the production of more food, reduce the cost of living and probably will make public markets successful in American cities,
