NATIONAL LIVE STOCK ASSOCIATION ADOPTS RESOLUTIONS.

The National Live Stock Association which met at Los Angeles, California, the latter part of last month, adopted a series of resolutions, some of which are of interest to the general public. The Association is very strong numerically and financially, and when it speaks even Uncle Sam gives respectful attention. The following is a synopsis of some of the resolutions:

Resolution No. 1. Memorializing Congress to prohibit any railroad company from advancing interstate rates, fares and charges, except upon approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission after due notice has been given.

Resolution No. 2. Endorses what is known as the Culberson-Smith Car and Transportation Service Bill, which declares it the duty of railroads as common carriers, fixing a penalty for failure to do so, to furnish sufficient facilities for performing with dispatch cars and transporting all freight, including live stock, and for properly transporting same; and giving the shipper the right to recover in any court of any state or territory having jurisdiction his damages and attorney's fees, and in case of failure to furnish cars for shipping live stock, double the damages sustained.

Resolution No. 3 deals with speed limit of trains. The resolutions recommends 20 miles an hour as the minimum for trains transporting live stock and perishable freight, allowing for reasonable exceptions over mountain roads and on branch lines.

Resolution No. 4. deals with the tariff on hides, wool and live stock, and the resolution is herewith given in full:

RESOLVED, That we are in favor of adequate and needed protection to all live stock and its products, including hides and wool; that we also approve such modification and adjustment of tariff relations with foreign countries, especially with Europe, as will increase our export trade in live stock, meat and meat products, by authorizing the Executive to make commercial agreements under maximum and minimum duties, to be fixed by Congress; and the Executive should have the aid and advice of an expert tariff commission in preparing and negotiating such agreements, on which commission the live stock interests should have fair representation.

Resolution No. 6 urges an increased appropriation for the Bureau of Animal Industry, to aid in stamping out diseases; and resolution No. 7 endorses the efforts of the Bureau to eradicate scabies among sheep and cattle.

Resolution No. 8 recommends that all western states and territories empower sanitary boards to condemn, apprise and slaughter diseased live stock.

Resolution No. 9 approves the leasing of unappropriated public lands, while resolution No. 10 endorses the forest service and the water preservation policy of the Federal government.

NO INTENTION TO OFFEND.

An old bachelor friend of the News, who is known to have the highest regard for the weaker sex, was in Carrizozo sometime ago, and he and a friend, who accompanied him took lodgings in the same room at a local hotel. Our friend, who has lived in this county for almost thirty years, and knows everyone and is friendly to all, went to his room at night, at about the hour graveyards are supposed to yawn. Upon reaching his room, not waiting to light the gas, he immediately began to make preparations to retire. All at once, from under the covers of a bed in the far corner of the room, came a cracked female voice saying:

"I would have you know, sir, that there is an unprotected female in this room!" Our friend at once declared his presence there to be a mistake, and urged the offended lady, for God's sake, to make no outcry, and that as soon as he could get into his clothes he would retire. This he did, and has not been seen in town since: in fact he broke an engagement with the News man for the next day, which is still chalked up against him; and if he does not do the amende honorable we shall state to our readers that he came from beyond the Alleghanies.

Forestry and Fire.

Some reflections that were given much publicity about the time the congress of governors met last spring now comes back to memory, bearing a twisted look. We were all very virtuous just then. We had learned to our surprise and horror that our progenitors had been unparagonably reckless in their dealings with the property they should have left intact to us. We scolded them vigorously because they had cleaned off our forests until we were within a quarter of a century of national baldness. The ghosts of those pioneers must be holding their sides when they look down on their successors in this supposedly inexhaustible region of natural affluence and behold us figuring up our fire losses for this summer. The bureau of forestry at Washington estimates that the destruction in the forests so far would equal the cost of a whole fleet of first-class battleships. That would probably amount to more than $100,000,000. Either our forefathers were not as extravagant as we have been calling them, or we ourselves have not profited by their example. The offence is the more grievous on our part since we realize how easily our forests may be exhausted. Our predecessors thought they would last forever.—Detroit Free Press.

Milk, and nothing else, is the latest cure for stout people. Prof. F. Moritz of Strasburg, the pioneer of this new dietary, declares positively that an exclusive diet of milk is the simplest, the most comfortable and cheapest remedy for obesity. A limited quantity of water may be taken, but, with this exception, the patient takes absolutely no food or drink but milk. The allowance varies in individual cases, from a little over two pints to 3½ pints daily, taken at five separate "meal times." Milk is filling and satisfying, and the patient suffers neither from hunger nor thirst. The cure is easy for the doctor to direct, and makes no great demands on the patient to carry out. As for its efficacy, Prof. Moritz says that one patient lost 56 pounds in 81 "cure days," an average of more than half a pound daily. The cure is said to be especially beneficial in all cases when the patient has any heart or kidney trouble.

The loss of money through the defalcation of M. Alberti, former minister of justice in Denmark, heavy though it is, is not the greatest injury his course will cause. He was a tremendously popular man, the peasants in particular having confidence in his integrity and financial judgment. The failure of the bank of which he was the head, through his reckless speculations and embezzlements, means a total loss of about $5,000,000, much of which consists of small savings of poor people. These people will suffer for the lack of their money, but they will suffer a greater injury in the loss of confidence in one whom they trusted, a loss that will be manifested hereafter by distrust of better men than he. The evil that such a man does lives after him.

The declaration of the boss dressmaker that three years are required for the proper promulgation of a new fashion in women's dress will surprise more men who had supposed that the fashion changed instantly whenever the dressmakers took a whim.

Dizzy Drop of a Frenzied Financier

NEW YORK.—The conviction of Charles Wyman Morse and his sentence to 15 years at hard labor in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., removes from the financial belt of New York a man who has been characterized as the most dangerous menace to its banking system that this country has ever known.

Even if by any chance Morse should succeed in having his conviction upset—and the chances of his so doing are considered most remote—he could hardly be a factor of prime importance in the financial district again. To carry on the kind of operations Morse has put through requires more millions than any one ordinary multimillionaire has of his own. A bank or a chain of banks with their millions upon millions of deposits are necessary. It is safe to say that Morse will never again have a string of banks at his back. He is on the blacklist of both the national banking department and the state banking department.

The man who has been doomed to spend the next 15 years of his life in prison—with three years and nine months off for good behavior—is in some respects one of the strangest characters who ever broke into the downtown district of millions.

Personally he is an attractive man, with kindly, manly qualities, that have won him firm friends. His business methods have been called those of the guerrilla, the bandit, the buccaneer—tigerish and cold-blooded. The courts have just stamped them dishonorable and criminal.

Morse has been a natural money maker all of his life. He comes of hard-headed New England stock, which for generations have piled up money. He was born in Bath, Me., 52 years ago. In the summer of 1907, just before the autumn panic began to convert millionaires into paupers, he was worth $22,000,000. To-day he is probably worth between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000, and were he free to cut loose in the stock market he would probably add millions to his store in short order.

Mrs. Gould Needs $75,000 a Year to Live

HOWARD GOULD has filed his amended answer to the complaint of his wife, Katharine Clemmons Gould, who is asking for final separation and alimony. In response Mrs. Gould made answer through her counsel, Clarence J. Shearn. This answer is so detailed as to overshadow every former feature of the case, setting forth in exact items the expenses considered absolutely necessary by a New York society woman.

Mrs. Gould estimates bare living expenses, outside of traveling or necessary contributions to charities, at more than $70,000 a year. She declares that, although she has been having in charge the disbursement of about $75,000 a year for the last ten years, she is now in debt, her wardrobe held for a hotel bill, and her jewels held to secure money for their repairs.

Among the striking statements in her answer appear the following:

"It costs as much to furnish the table for one person as it does for two, and it costs more in proportion for one person to live than it does for two."

"I have been accustomed to horses and do not know why I should give them up simply because my husband has unjustly left me."

"It scarcely pays to keep an automobile longer than one year."

"No dress that any woman of means would be apt to purchase costs under $250."

"This jewelry bill ($57,000) cannot be called extravagant, either, for the wife of a man of my husband's wealth. It certainly will stand comparison with the jewelry purchased by the wife of the defendant's brother, George Gould, which I am credibly informed and believe to be valued at $1,200,000."

Mrs. Gould takes up in detail the allegations of her husband regarding her actions at various hotels and cafes. She denies them in toto and insists that most of the charges are made by discharged employees or others under her husband's influence.

City's Household Expense Bill Huge

THIS city's household expense for 1909 will be about $157,000,000, the tentative budget practically having been agreed upon at a recent meeting of the board of estimate. The figure for the current year was $143,000,000.

Out of the total for next year the borough president of Manhattan will receive $2,099,402, of Brooklyn, $2,329,935; of the Bronx, $1,288,538; of Queens, $1,286,357, and of Richmond, $772,069.

Bird S. Coler, president of the borough of Brooklyn, was the luckiest of the executives who asked for money. He received an increase of $309,073 over his budget of this year, which was $2,019,952. Mr. Cromwell of Richmond gets an increase of $35,000, but in spite of bitter protests Mr. Ahearn of Manhattan gets $46,000 less, and Mr. Raffen of the Bronx $22,437 less than they had at their disposal for this year.

Henry Bruere, head of the bureau of municipal research, showed much activity against Mr. Ahearn and Mr. Raffen, and in making up the tentative budget he was consulted by Mayor McClellan, Comptroller Metz and experts of the finance department.

The increase in the budget is due to the fact that the four per cent. increase allowed in the sewer and highway maintenance departments brought the amount in the former up from $1,284,068 to $1,335,431, and in the latter from $3,404,374 to $3,540,549.

NO SKIN LEFT ON BODY.

For Six Months Baby Was Expected to Die with Eczema—Now Well—Doctor Said to Use Cuticura.

"Six months after birth my little girl broke out with eczema and I had two doctors in attendance. There was not a particle of skin left on her body, the blood oozed out just anywhere, and we had to wrap her in silk and carry her on a pillow for ten weeks. She was the most terrible sight I ever saw, and for six months I looked for her to die. I used every known remedy to alleviate her suffering, for it was terrible to witness. Dr. C— gave her up. Dr. B— recommended the Cuticura Remedies. She will soon be three years old and has never had a sign of the dread trouble since. We used about eight cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment. James J. Smith, Durmid, Va., Oct. 14 and 22, 1906."

Immigration and Emigration.

In nine months of the current year 310,000 aliens came to this country and 570,000 foreign-born people went back to Europe. During the similar period of last year there arrived in America 1,135,000 aliens, while those who departed from these shores numbered only 330,000.

This woman says she was saved from an operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lena V. Henry, of Norristown, Ga., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I suffered untold misery from female troubles. My doctor said an operation was the only chance I had, and I dreaded it almost as much as death."

"One day I read how other women had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it. Before I had taken the first bottle I was better, and now I am entirely cured."

"Every woman suffering with any female trouble should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Mr. Allen, an Arkansas planter, who enjoys the distinction of being the only white Republican in his section of the state, has in his employ an aged negro known as Uncle Reuben, who "fit fur de union endurin' de wah."

For some time the old man had been endeavoring to secure a pension from the government for this service. A few days ago, as Mr. Allen was riding by a field where he was plowing, Uncle Reuben hailed him with the words:

"Marse, I've done got my pension, an' I wants to swar to it befo' you."

"Glad to hear that, Uncle Reuben, but you must do your swearing before a magistrate. Squire McCabe is the man for you to see."

"Now, marse, quit tryin' to fool ole Rube. My lil' gal who goes to school an' kin read writin' done read me from dose papahs dat I mus' swar to dem befo' a notorious Republican, an' dat's what you is, kase ever' one knows dat Squire McCabe am a Democrat."—New York Times.

RECIPES OF VALUE

DIRECTIONS FOR NEW AND AP-PETIZING DISHES.

Something New in the Way of Desserts Put Forward by an Expert Chef—Glass Shelves for the Bathroom.

Mountain Dew Pudding.—One pint of milk, yolks of two eggs, two tablespoonfuls of cocoanut, one-half cup rolled cracker crumbs, one teaspoonful of lemon; bake one-half hour;
make frosting of whites of the eggs and one cup of sugar, spread on top of pudding and put in the oven to brown.

Rice and Almond Cream.—Blanch
one-half cup of sweet almonds, cut them into thin strips, or chop them fine; put them in the double boiler with three cups of milk, one-fourth cup of sugar, and one-half teaspoonful salt and when hot add one cup of well washed rice. Steam it until the rice is tender; when ready to serve dip it out into frappe glasses or fancy cups, till half full, put on a teaspoon of apple jelly, then fill with thick whipped cream, with another bit of jelly on the top.

Baked Apple Tapioca.—One-half cup granulated tapioca, one quart boiling water cooked in a double boiler about 15 minutes. Add one cup of sugar, one tablespoon butter, little grated nutmeg; butter an earthen pudding dish; pare, core, and quarter six or eight tart apples, put in dish; pour the cooked tapioca over them and bake in oven until the apples can be pierced with a straw; when cool eat with sugar and cream.

Neapolitan Pudding.—Soak one-half box of gelatin in one cup cold water one hour. Bring to a boil three cups of milk and dissolve it in the softened gelatin and three-fourths cup of sugar;
add one cup cream or one small can cream; divide in three equal portions;
flavor with one-half teaspoon vanilla and color with melted chocolate. The second flavor with one-half teaspoon orange and color with beaten yolk of egg; leave the third part white and flavor with one-half teaspoon lemon; first put white in mold, when partly set add orange, then chocolate. Delicious served with whipped cream.

Beet Marmalade.—Pare ten large beets or 12 small ones, uncooked, and chop rather fine; grate the rind of two lemons, take off the white and cut the lemons up fine; five cents' worth of ginger root, one-quarter pound blanched and chopped almonds, 2½ pounds sugar, and one cup water.
Boil for two hours, or until thick.
When done remove ginger root. Counting the pieces when putting in makes it easier to take out.

Glass Shelves.—At very little cost one can have a neat glass bathroom shelf made with nickel or porcelain brackets to hold the collection of bottles, brushes and salve pots that the modern woman includes among her toilet requisites. These shelves are sold in an assortment of sizes and are made of thick plain glass with rounded corners. A few of the self-labeled drug and toilet bottles that are now offered at prices ranging from 35 cents up will be useful to hold toilet water, tooth wash and the other essential aids to cleanliness and daintiness.

Easy Way to Clean Silverware.

No housework is harder on the hands than the cleaning of silver in the old way. I have used the following method for ten years with perfect success. Pour into a tin dish-pan one and one-half gallons boiling water, add four heaping tablespoonfuls of soap power and washing soda twice the size of an egg; let it boil; then lay your silver in a square cloth, retaining hold of the corners, dip into solution, covering all parts of silver with the same; hold it there from two to five minutes, then remove and wash in soapy water; wipe dry.—Exchange.

His Information Was Accurate.

Mr. L—believes with Solomon that to spare the rod is to spoil the child, therefore he keeps in a certain closet a leather strap with which he administers punishment to his offspring when they commit any misdemeanor.

A few days ago he had occasion to need the strap, but it was missing from its usual place, and a thorough search of the entire flat failed to discover it. Then he offered a reward of five cents to whomsoever of his olive branches could tell him what had become of the lost article.

"Gimme the nickel," cried four-year-old Ben. "I knows where it is."

When the coin was safely stowed away in his trousers pocket he said,
with much pride:

"I frowed it down the air-shaft."

One of the Three.

"Well, there were only three boys in school to-day who could answer one question that the teacher asked us," said a proud boy of eight.

"And I hope my boy was one of the three," said the proud mother.

"You bet I was," answered Young Hopeful, "and Sam Harris and Harry Stone were the other two."

"I am very glad you proved yourself so good a scholar, my son; it makes your mother proud of you. What question did the teacher ask, Johnnie?"

"Who broke the glass in the back window?"

NEW LIFE

Found in Change to Right Food.

After one suffers from acid dyspepsia, sour stomach, for months and then finds the remedy is in getting the right kind of food it is something to speak out about.

A N. Y. lady and her young son had such an experience and she wants others to know how to get relief. She writes:

"For about fifteen months my little boy and myself had suffered with sour stomach. We were unable to retain much of anything we ate.

"After suffering in this way for so long I decided to consult a specialist in stomach diseases. Instead of prescribing drugs, he put us both on Grape-Nuts and we began to improve immediately.

"It was the key to a new life. I found we had been eating too much heavy food which we could not digest.
In a few weeks after commencing Grape-Nuts I was able to do my housework. I wake in the morning with a clear head and feel rested and have no sour stomach. My boy sleeps well and wakes with a laugh.

"We have regained our lost weight and continue to eat Grape-Nuts for both the morning and evening meals.
We are well and happy and owe it to Grape-Nuts." "There's a Reason."

"Yes, Robert," I answered.

"And did He make ma?"

"Yes."

"And did He make me?"

"Certainly, my boy."

"And did He make pa, too?"

"Of course He did."

THE CARRIZOZO NEWS

Published every Friday at

CARRIZOZO - NEW MEXICO.

Entered as second class matter June 12, 1906, at the postoffice at Carrizozo, New Mexico, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

INO. A. HALEY, - - - Editor.

The statehood bill for New Mexico passed the house of representatives Monday by a unanimous vote. Twenty years ago, and many times since, similar favorable news was flashed from Washington at the eleventh hour by the outgoing administration, but we are yet in the territorial class. We are now anxiously awaiting a report of its fate in the senate when Beveridge & Co., proceeds to dissect it. Another short week and we'll know where we are.

Eat What

You want of the food you need Kodol will digest it.

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it.

Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak.

You must eat in order to live and maintain strength.

You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly.

But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly.

When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach.

The proper way to do is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food.

Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help; you must help it by giving it rest, and Kodol will do that.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today, and purchase a dollar bottle, and if you can honestly say, that you did not receive any benefits from it, after using the entire bottle, the druggist will refund your money to you without question or delay.

We will pay the druggist the price of the bottle purchased by you.

This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family.

We could not afford to make such an offer, unless we positively knew what Kodol will do for you.

It would bankrupt us. The dollar bottle contains 2 1/2 times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is made at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

Geo. B. Barber left Monday for Lincoln, after a week's sojourn in the best little town in the county.

F. Theurer has purchased the Mexican school house, east of the railroad tracks, from John Y. Simpson.

The V V company recently sold all its cow ponies to a Roswell party, and are now entirely out of the stock business.

W. H. Lumbley and wife arrived Tuesday evening from Alamogordo on their regular monthly trip to Carrizozo.

Mrs. S. T. Gray came over from Capitan Monday, and spent the week on a visit with her children in this town.

L. C. Garver, a member of the American Well Drilling Co., of Oscuro, spent a couple of days in Carrizozo this week.

Sheriff Stevens returned Wednesday from Santa Fe, where he had been attending a meeting of the sheriffs of the territory.

B. R. Robinson, an old-time citizen of Bonito, where he owns an excellent farm, was in Carrizozo two or three days this week.

The regular term of school at White Oaks closed last week on account of lack of funds, but a subscription school will be run for a month longer.

D. del Curto, the sheepman of White Oaks, was doing business in Carrizozo the first of the week. Mr. Curto reports his flocks in good condition.

Tom McDonald was over from his San Andres ranch this week. Mr. McDonald has just finished his pipe line, which was necessary to connect his cattle with grass and water.

Frank Goodin, of Three Rivers, has purchased the remnant of the V V cattle. The consideration, we understand, was $1000. The number is estimated from 100 to 200 head, a great many of which are in the mountains and very difficult to round up.

The Pastime Club will give a ball at the Wetmore Hall next Tuesday evening. The members of the Pastime club are royal entertainers, and their guests are assured an enjoyable evening.

Robert Hoffman, who was injured in a wreck near Ancho last week, has returned from the hospital. Bob received some severe bruises, but is now around as though nothing had happened.

D. J. Cox was down Tuesday from Ancho. Since leaving this country, two years ago, Mr. Cox has been from Oklahoma to Mexico, and has returned, as all men do, to make his home in Lincoln county.

Frank Theurer and Attorney Gierke left yesterday morning for Lincoln—the former on business connected with the office of county surveyor, and the latter to attend a meeting of the American Title & Trust Co.

The Home Mission Society will give a social next Monday night at the school house. A feature will be presented that will, no doubt, be interesting, but to be appreciated needs to be seen; so go. Refreshments will be served also.

Engineer John F. Harris and Conductor D. E. Hale met with a painful accident at Coyote Tuesday morning. Both were struck by a water crane, and received quite severe cuts in the head. The injured men had their wounds dressed by the local company surgeon, and will take an enforced lay-off for several days.

Peter T. Long left Saturday for El Paso, from which point he went to Boston, Massachusetts, to enter the employ of the Queen Quality Shoe Co., Thomas G. Plant manufacturer. Mr. Long will travel for this shoe company, and will have for his territory Colorado, Utah, Nevada, California, Arizona and New Mexico. He expects to make his rounds twice a year, landing here about May. His family will make Carrizozo their home.

Joe Tatti of Capitan was in Carrizozo yesterday on land business.

CARE OF THE RUG

ARTICLE OF FURNITURE THAT NEEDS ATTENTION.

Services of Experts May Be Said to Be a Necessity if Beauty of Floor Coverings is to Be Kept.

One can never take too much care of handsome Oriental rugs, especially as we demand so much more service of them in this country than do the inhabitants of their own land. Here the chief foes are the boots and shoe nails, to say nothing of the heavy furniture that is moved about in our homes.

An Oriental rug often gives one the same satisfaction that a beautiful picture does on the wall, and it is deplorable that we cannot preserve the rug as carefully. There is no inanimate thing that enjoys and appreciates a vacation more than choice rugs. Two months is none too long, and one can surely dispense with their service for that time, knowing we are the gainers thereby. When the time comes, go to a reputable rug house and give them the care of your rugs. They alone know when they should be washed, and even when they should be mended. There are certain rugs that need to be washed every two years, and others that do not need it as often. Then, too, an Oriental rug house has means of cleaning, ironing, and caring for rugs that we know nothing of. They will return them in such condition that one will feel well repaid.

To Clean Fur Rugs.—One quart of water, two tablespoonfuls of ox gall, one-half teaspoonful of borax. Remove the oil cloth or lining from back of rug, then soak the skin (back of rug) with naphtha. This will keep the skin soft and pliable; when perfectly dry, wet with water and rub with hard soap. Now put rug over a large tub (with the above solution in it) with hair of rug down, so that the hair will be in the solution, then with fingers underneath wash hair as you would your own hair. Do not let skin get in water and keep the rug straight or the skin will crack. When perfectly clean rinse through a solution of half water and half naphtha; this gives hair a glossy appearance and helps it to curl up again. In drying squeeze water out of hair with hands, then have two people shake it. Now put sheet over two lines and pin rug to sheet, leaving hair hang down; dry in open air, comb lightly only on extreme edge. For black skin rugs add one pint of alcohol to the above solution.

Bangor Plum Pudding.

One cup suet (chopped) or two-thirds of a cup of butter, one cup molasses, one cup milk, one cup raisins (seeded and chopped), one-half cup currants, four cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon nutmeg, one-half teaspoon cloves. Mix thoroughly and steam in buttered pail for three hours. (Do not lift cover the first hour.)

Sauce.—One cup sugar creamed with one-half cup butter. Pour over it a cup of boiling water. When ready to serve pour over a well-beaten egg and add flavoring to taste.

Herb Vinegars.

Either green or dried herbs may be utilized for vinegars, though the former are best just before flowering in the summer. Look over carefully, to be sure they are free from insects, and wash, to clear the dust. Cover a bunch of any of the sweet herbs desired—mint, tarragon, savory, sweet marjoram, thyme, sage or sweet basil—with a quart of scalding hot vinegar, and let it remain thoroughly impregnated with the flavor of the herb. Strain the vinegar, to use at table or in sauces, and replace with more vinegar. A bunch of good herbs will flavor two or three quarts of vinegar.

ONE KIDNEY GONE

But Cured After Doctors Said There Was No Hope.

Sylvanus O. Verrill, Milford, Me., says: "Five years ago a bad injury paralyzed me and affected my kidneys. My back hurt me terribly, and the urine was badly disordered. Doctors said my right kidney was practically dead. They said I could never walk again. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. One box made me stronger and freer from pain. I kept on using them and in three months was able to get out on crutches, and the kidneys were acting better. I improved rapidly, discarded the crutches and to the wonder of my friends was soon completely cured."

ONE CALAMITY NOT FORESEEN.

And That, of Course, Was the One That Actually Occurred.

Mrs. Silas Bennett was a philosopher. On a certain dismal occasion some of the neighboring women were condoling with her. With commendable cheerfulness, says a writer in the New York Times, she replied:

"I've raised four girls and three boys, expectin' every time they'd be twins and red-headed like their Grandpa Bennett, an' yet they ain't."

"An' I've worried consid'ble over smallpox breakin' out in my big family. So far, 'tain't."

"Last summer, durin' July an' August, an' mebbe part of September, I was real meloncholle, fearin' I'd got an appendix; but I guess I ain't."

"An' through it all, it never occurred to me that I'd be the one to fall through them rotten old meetin' house steps an' break my leg in two places, but I be."—Youth's Companion.

Perfect Philosophy.

We read of a certain Roman emperor who built a magnificent palace. In digging the foundation the workmen discovered a golden sarcophagus ornamented with three circlets, on which were inscribed: "I have expended; I have given; I have kept; I have possessed; I do possess; I have lost; I am punished. What I formerly expended I have; what I gave away, I have."—From the Gesta Romanorum.

Better Than Refrigerator.

It is well known that food can be preserved without undergoing decomposition for a much longer period in a container, from which the air has been nearly exhausted, than in the customary refrigerator. In a nearly absolute vacuum milk, fish and meat have been preserved for months unchanged without further expense than that of withdrawing the air originally present in the receptacle.

Reached His Limit.

Little Henry had been very naughty and was shut up in a closet until he should express proper penitence for his misdeeds. Near by sat his mother, ready to extend pardon to the small offender at the first sign of sorrow. At last a faint sigh caught her ear. Creeping silently to the door, she discovered the child seated on the floor in a disconsolate attitude. "Poor me!" he muttered, with another sigh. "Why can't I get out? I've done sorrier all I can sorry!"—Delineator.

OUR RAVAGED FORESTS

PINCHOT DECLARES FIRES OF 1908 WORST YET.

GIFFORD PINCHOT

The nation may well pause in mournful contemplation of her ravaged forests—forests which have been blackened, and scarred and ruined in large sections by the fires which have raged within them.

This year's forest fire record eclipses that of any other year of which we have record, both in extent of territory burned over and value of timber destroyed. In speaking of the matter Mr. Gifford Pinchot, chief of the United States forest service, declares that in many ways this year's forest fires have been the worst we have ever known. The whole northern half of the country has been attacked, he says, and the losses which have been caused represent a serious drain on our timber supply.

Besides destroying valuable timber and other property, the fires which have been raging during the last few weeks in the east have caused an almost incalculable loss to watersheds of important streams supplying power for countless industries. In the Adirondacks the destruction has resulted in marring one of the nation's most useful playgrounds.

One of the earliest of the great forest fires which have attained historic importance was the great Miramichi fire of 1825. It began its greatest destruction about one o'clock in the afternoon of October 7 of that year, at a place about 60 miles above the town of Newcastle, on the Miramichi river, in New Brunswick. Before ten o'clock at night it was 20 miles below Newcastle. In nine hours it had destroyed a belt of forest 80 miles long and 25 miles wide. Over more than two and one-half million acres almost every living thing was killed. Even the fish were afterward found dead in heaps in the river banks. Five hundred and ninety buildings were burned, and a number of towns, including Newcastle, Chatham and Douglastown, were destroyed. One hundred and sixty persons perished, and nearly a thousand head of stock. The loss from the Miramichi fire is estimated at $300,000.

In the majority of such forest fires as this the destruction of the timber is a more serious loss, by far, than that of the cattle and buildings, for it carries with it the impoverishment of a whole region for tens or even hundreds of years afterward. The loss of the stumpage value of the timber at the time of the fire is but a small part of the damage to the neighborhood. The wages that would have been earned in lumbering, added to the value of the produce that would have been purchased to supply the lumber camps, and the taxes that would have been devoted to roads and other public improvements, furnish a much truer measure of how much, sooner or later, it costs a region when its forests are destroyed by fire.

The Peshtigo fire of October, 1871, was still more severe than the Miramichi. It covered an area of more than 2,000 square miles in Wisconsin, and involved a loss in timber and other property, of many millions of dollars. Between 1,200 and 1,500 persons perished, including nearly half the population of Peshtigo, at that time a town of 2,000 inhabitants. Other fires of about the same time were most destructive in Michigan. A strip about 40 miles wide and 180 miles long, extending across the central part of the state, from Lake Michigan to Lake Huron, was devastated. The estimated loss in timber was about 4,000,000,000 feet board measure, and in money over $10,000,000. Several hundred persons perished.

In the early part of September, 1881, great fires covered more than 1,800 square miles in various parts of Michigan. The estimated loss, in property, in addition to many hundred thousand acres of valuable timber, was more than $2,300,000. Over 5,000 persons were made destitute, and the number of lives lost is variously estimated at from 150 to 500.

The most destructive fire of more recent years was that which started near Hinckley, Minnesota, September 1, 1894. While the area burned over was less than in some other great fires, the loss of life and property was very heavy. Hinckley and six other towns were destroyed, about 500 lives were lost, more than 2,000 persons were left destitute, and the estimated loss in property of various kinds was $25,000,000. Except for the heroic conduct of locomotive engineers and other railroad men the loss of life would have been much greater.

This fire was all the more deplorable because it was wholly unnecessary. For many days before the high wind came and drove it into uncontrollable fury, it was burning slowly close to the town of Hinckley, and could have been put out.

In reviewing the losses of this year, Mr. Pinchot says: "There is little or no difference between the fires of 1908 and those of other years, so far as causes are concerned. Unfortunately, there is also little difference in the way people have met them. In most states fires have been allowed to run until they threatened valuable property, and then efforts were made to check them. This eleventh-hour activity succeeded here and there, but even a cursory summary of the fire loss for the year shows that such methods result in almost inevitable disaster.

"This forest fire question resolves itself into one of the most important problems before the nation in the care of its natural resources. Success or failure in its solution by those having private holdings of timberland, means the continued use of the land or the perpetual burden of caring for vast barren wastes. The devastation following a fire is not realized by many people, and I sometimes think that the greatest thing that can be done in furtherance of the movement for the conservation of the forest resources would be to give as many people as possible a chance to visit a section of the country that has been thoroughly impoverished by a forest fire.

"The fire warden system has been fairly successful in places, but its fundamental weakness is that it is not a preventive system. To begin work after a fire has gained headway means that from the start the chances are against checking it before it has done serious damage. No fire-fighting system has shown itself effective that did not provide for ranger patrol. In the national forests we are meeting the proposition with a satisfactory system, although the number of men in the field is insignificant and the rangers' districts are so large that the fire risk is raised above the point of safety. The one secret of fighting fires is to discover your fire as soon as possible, fight it as hard as you can, and refuse to leave it until the last ember is certainly dead. The reason for the widespread destruction by large fires this year was the indifference of the people to the smaller ones."

BANK NOTES IN A DUST BIN.

How They Were Curiously Discovered and Returned to Their Owner.

Ten 1,000-franc bank notes, representing the savings of a woman who lived at Nanterre, near Paris, were hidden by her in an old envelope, which was placed in a drawer. In a moment of forgetfulness the envelope found its way into a dust bin.

In the morning the ragpickers turned out the bin, but tossed aside the tattered envelope without inspection. Some carters happened to pass that way. They picked up the now mud splashed piece of paper, one remarking to the other: "Perhaps there is a fortune inside!" They drew out the notes. "This is some fool's pious an entry," they said; so by way of revenging themselves on the unknown joker and not believing the notes to be genuine, they tore them to pieces and threw them aside.

Two market women came along shortly afterward. With the shrewdness of their class they recognized the scattered pieces of paper and gathered them up and took them to the commissary of police.

They were pieced together and it was found that none was missing. Two hours later the notes so curiously discovered were restored to their owner.

Somewhat Different.

"Most men get their walking papers when they are discharged," remarked the letter carrier, "but it was different with me."

"In what way?" asked his friend.

"I got mine when I was appointed," answered the man of letters.

A MATTER OF HEREDITY.

Agnes Had Only Followed in the Footsteps of Her Mother.

Even if there had not been kernels of rice on her hat and a glad light of love in her eye any bachelor could have told that she was a bride. And the manner in which she spoke to her husband showed they had not been married long.

A man in the passing crowd smiled the couple, and rushed over to greet the bride.

"Well, well, Agnes," he cried, extending his hand, "you don't mean to say that you're married?"

"Why—why, yes," the girl stammered, vivid color mounting to her cheeks, as she tried to defend her novel situation. "You—you know, it runs in the family. Mother was married, too."

PE-RU-NA AS A LAST RESORT

MR. WM. F. VAHLBERG.

Mr. William F. Vahlberg, Oklahoma City, Okla., writes:

"One bottle of Peruna which I have taken did more toward relieving me of an aggravated case of catarrh of the stomach, than years of treatment with the best physicians.

"I had given up hopes of relief, and only tried Peruna as a last resort.

"I shall continue using it, as I feel satisfied it will effect an entire and permanent cure.

"I most cheerfully recommend Peruna to all who may read this."

Peruna is usually taken as a last resort. Doctors have been tried and failed. Other remedies have been used. Sanitariums have been visited. Travel has been resorted to.

At last Peruna is tried. Relief is found.

This history is repeated over and over again, every day in the year. It is such results as this that gives Peruna its unassailable hold upon the people. We could say nothing that would add force to such testimonials as the above. That people who have had catarrh and have tried every other remedy available, find relief in Peruna, constitutes the best argument that could be made.
