University of New Mexico

UNM Digital Repository

Spring 4-17-2023

20230417_Meet Our Student Monday

Amy Weig-Pickering
University of New Mexico, Health Sciences Library and Informatics Center

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/blog

Recommended Citation
Weig-Pickering, Amy. "20230417_Meet Our Student Monday." (2023). https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/blog/68

HSLIC News - LibGuides at University of New Mexico

Meet our Student Monday

by Amy Weig Pickering on April 17th, 2023 | 0 Comments

Ha Can is a Student Assistant in Public Services who has worked at the library for about five months. She is studying Medical Laboratory Sciences and would like to go to medical school one day. Ha would also like to travel around the world and help people who don't have as many opportunities as others. She has a strong faith and would like to share that with others as she travels.

One accomplishment she is really proud of is that she has had the chance to come here and study in the United States. She has not only gained academic knowledge but has learned about American culture and beliefs as well.

Ha's favorite about working at the library is meeting and helping different people every day. She feels a sense of purpose when she is working at HSLIC. Ha says that sometimes she encounters challenging situations, but it helps her to grow and gain knowledge that she did not have before. She really enjoys Tech Time, saying, "It teaches me a lot every time we hold it."

When Ha is not at the library, she enjoys singing and playing her keyboard. She appreciates all foods (except for spicy), and she likes to bake apple pie which she just learned to do when she came to this country.

 Add a Comment

0 Comments.