DEATH OF JAMES O. BURLERSON IN EL PASO.

Just as we were going to press last week there was a rumor current in this town, which we were unable to verify, to the effect that Jim Burlerson, known to most people in this county, had died in El Paso, after three days illness. Later accounts confirmed the rumor to be only too true, and that he died on Friday, March 19, of pleuro-pneumonia.

James O. Burlerson was about 29 years old, and had lived most of his life in the town of Lincoln in this county. About four years ago he went to El Paso, where he had since been employed as conductor on the street railway. He was well thought of by the company and his associates, and was popular with all those who occasionally rode on his car, and those who came in contact with him. He was buried Saturday afternoon, and the cortege that accompanied the remains showed the esteem in which the deceased was held by those who knew him. One of the most touching tributes ever witnessed at a funeral occurred when the entire force of street-car employees attended the funeral, the night crews taking the places of the day crews, so that those who knew the deceased best might have the opportunity of paying their respects to his memory. Not the least touching spectacle at the funeral was a group of school children who had become acquainted with him while riding on his car to and from school.

Many floral offerings were laid on the grave by citizens who, for more than four years, were in the habit of riding with the genial conductor. The Mayor of Juarez, and many representative men from both sides of the river attended the funeral.

The deceased leaves a wife, mother, father, sister and a brother. His father, Peter Burlerson, resides at Lincoln, and his sister is Mrs. Frank English of this town. To know Jim Burlerson meant to respect him. He was of a quiet, unassuming, yet dignified personality, whose word was his bond. The News joins the community in tendering its sorrow and sympathy to the wife, parents and relatives of "honest Jim Burlerson."

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING AT CAPITAN.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Trade of Eastern Lincoln County was held last Saturday, 20th inst., at the Capitan.

The following officers were present: S. T. Gray, president; J. V. Tully, vice-president; Wm. M. Ferguson, second vice-president; Henry Lutz, third vice-president; W. H. Fisher, treasurer; J. W. Norton, secretary; W. H. Orme Johnson and Clement Hightower, assistant secretaries; D. J. M. A. Jewett, editor.

A constitution and by-laws was adopted, and arrangements made for the appointment of committees representing the several interests and trades.

It is the purpose of the board to collect and compile data of all the interests in the county, and to issue publications to meet the flood of immigration expected in the fall of the year, when the fields are green and yellow and when the county presents its most attractive appearance.

Representatives were present from all the districts east of the mountains, and the meeting was most enthusiastic. The enthusiasm was made manifest when the members voted to bear the expense of carrying out the objects of the board.

The personnel of the various committees will be announced when they have been appointed.

This the first time an effort has been made to show the outside world the advantages and possibilities of the old historic county of Lincoln for actual settlers. This county has been known in the East and South, up to the present time, only through the advertising it got as being the haunt of "Billy the Kid." But now the people of Eastern Lincoln county propose to show the outside public generally, and the actual settler particularly, that this is the farmer's El Dorado—the home of the apple, of alfalfa, of wheat, of oats, of corn, with as educated, progressive and law-abiding people as could be found in any county in the whole United States.

We still have a full line of Jack Rabbit Corduroy pants that we are still selling at reduced prices, also a line of SINCERITY SUITS at actual cost. The Carrizozo Trading Co.

WORK ON RESERVOIR CONTINUES

Watson lake, the railroad company's main reservoir, which has been leaking, is still undergoing a course of special treatment. Most of the water has been drained and pumped out, and forty mule teams and scrapers have been at work for sometime in an endeavor to remedy the defect. Almost the entire surface will be changed—filling in here, excavating there. Besides the mules, scrapers, and men necessary to handle them, there are from 200 to 300 head of cattle used in tramping down the ground.

It is said that the work will be continued for about six weeks longer, when it is thought the bottom will be so solidified that there will be little, or no leakage. Then the water from the South fork of the Bonito will be again turned in.

When the lake is full its surface extends over an area of about 60 acres. The company has put in a cement weir at the point where the water flows from the Bonito into the reservoir, in order to measure the amount of water going in and, after allowing for loss by evaporation, it can then be ascertained what the leakage is, if any. Previous to this treatment, the loss by evaporation and leakage was said to be five inches per day, which, estimated at 100 tons to the inch per acre, shows what an enormous loss of water the company suffered.

CORN-GRAHAM.

A quiet wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Skinner, on the Mesa beyond Nogal, at 6:45 p. m., March 24th, Justice Koonce, of Nogal, pronouncing the words that made Martin Corn, of Nogal, and Miss Mabel Louise Graham, of Roswell, husband and wife. The young couple will reside at the Watson lake, the groom being in the employ of the railroad water service at that point. The groom was born in this county, is well and favorably known, while the bride, a native of Kansas, is a young lady who readily wins the confidence and esteem of all with whom she comes in contact. The many friends of the young couple wish them much joy and happiness in their new relations. May success crown their every effort.

CARRIZOZO NINE WINS.

The Carrizozo baseball boys, the kid nine, went up to White Oaks last Sunday, and showed a similar nine of the mountain town how the thing is done. A gang of rooters went along to encourage the kids and to enjoy the sport. The game was a hard fought battle throughout, and when the smoke had cleared away Carrizozo was declared the victor by a score of 8 to 11.

The following table shows the players of both teams:

CARRIZOZO.	WHITE OAKS.
Reilly,	Leslie,
Skinner,	James,
Jones,	Treat,
Peck,	Ramirez,

IN THE JUSTICE COURT.

There was an interesting trial before Justice Perry Monday, in which "Madam" Mattie Smith was the defendant. She was arrested on the charge of conducting a house of ill-fame, and came into court with a number of other "lady" friends who also had been charged under the same statute with a kindred breach of the law. The defendant entered a plea of "not guilty," and the trial proceeded. A number of witnesses were examined and many adjournments taken, at which times the attorneys consulted witnesses, the magistrate shifted his judicial pose and a portion of the auditors took advantage of the adjournment to seek refreshments. The arguments of the attorneys held the crowd for another spell and then the decision was postponed until the next day, when the judgment was that the charge had not been substantiated; so the defendant was discharged. The other cases were continued until April 13th.

C. R. Booker, a merchant at Bonito, was over several days this week. Mr. Booker has just received his commission as postmaster at Bonito, and has moved the office into his store building. He succeeds H. Consbruch, who has been postmaster at that place for many years.

The First Year of Marriage.

One of the problems that develop out of that trying first year of married existence is the equal adjustment of the amusement question. To the average man, worn out with the work and worry of the day, tired of the babel of voices and confusion in which he has toiled, and weary of trying to make himself agreeable to those he must please, for business purposes, there seems nothing else on earth so desirable as the quiet and ease of his home. He doesn't want to talk or be talked to. He doesn't want to have to force himself to smile or to think, and least of all does he want to forsake his slippers. The woman, on the other hand, says the New York Weekly, has been shut up all day in the house, going through the deadly dull round of domestic duties without the distraction of seeing a fresh face. She has toiled in her own way as hard as her husband, and when night comes, she, too, feels the need of a change, and the opportunity to rest and refresh herself. She would like to put on her best dress and go to the theater, or even call on some friendly neighbor. To even suggest such a thing to her husband, however, is to bring on a glowing diatribe on woman's gadding, and the matter ends there, or bursts forth into a wordy quarrel.

Comparisons are proverbially odious when applied to persons; they are frequently misleading, especially if they deal with a part only of the facts, when applied to other matters. For example, here is the question of the comparative cost of keeping a horse and of running an automobile. A gentleman who prides himself on driving a "single cylinder" declares that when he kept a horse and trap he spent upon it fully $600 a year. Most of the money was paid to a servant; for, he adds, "a groom is, of course, essential, as one can scarcely look after a horse oneself." After he bought an automobile, he estimated his heaviest expense as tires, $80; his next largest, gasoline, $70, and his total annual outlay as only a trifle above $300. During the year for which figures are given, he traveled some 8,000 miles, and found that it cost him on an average less than four cents a mile. "I looked after the machine myself, entirely," he says. The question that the situation suggests is, Why not deduct from the six hundred spent on the horse and trap the cost of the man who took care of them, or why not add the expense of a chauffeur to the cost of running the automobile?

Admiral Cervera, who commanded the Spanish fleet at the battle of Santiago, was retired lately from active service at his own request. Americans will always have a warm spot in their hearts for the gallant and chivalrous old Spanish sailor. Our own heroes of the Spanish war hardly commanded more popular respect and affection than Cervera, whose life as a prisoner in the United States was a series of popular triumphs. His humanity and kindness of action in saving the lives of Hobson and his companions was never forgotten by the American people, of which fact he received the most gratifying demonstrations when he arrived here.

In England they think we have exacting and proud service men in this country and a number of them were at the funeral of the late Mr. Cervera.

OLD WILLIAMS INN

MASSACHUSETTS TAVERN WHERE WASHINGTON ONCE DINED.

First Established in 1652 and Scene of Some Notable Incidents—Has Been Remodeled But Still a House for Wayfarers.

Boston.—A rare old roadside inn indeed is the Williams tavern in Marlboro, Mass., on the shores of "the pond," in one of the most pleasant sections of the border city of Worcester county.

The venerable hostelry has been the scene of some notable incidents in local history, as well as the temporary residing place of the Father of His Country.

Just how many years old Williams tavern has been a public house for the entertainment of man or beast is not precisely known, but Abraham Williams, the pioneer of his family in Marlboro, located there as early, at least, as 1663.

He married Joanna Ward, a daughter of the original Ward family in town, and settled down in this Boston turnpike abode in that year.

The house is now the property of Mrs. Henry Carr, and the landlord is Eugene E. Pinkham. The pictures of Landlord Pinkham's predecessors would make a goodly group, if attainable, from Abraham Williams in Puritan days down to present incumbent.

The modernized top of the structure was added in 1883. The house has now 36 rooms. In the old days, when the Boston and Worcester stage drivers and teamsters made merry in the tap room, there were but 20 rooms. Part of the space, before Marlboro became a city, was utilized as a town courtroom, and two brick cells in the cellar, now filled with coal, were places of safe-keeping for unruly offenders.

The Williams tavern is mentioned in the report of Lieutenant, or Ensign D'Berniere of the British Tenth regiment, and who, in 1775, with Capt. Brown of the Fifty-second regiment, made a secret expedition to Worcester county, and had to fly from Marlboro on being discovered.

In the dining room of the old house President Washington, while on his way from Worcester to Boston, in 1789, partook of a noon repast.

In the diary of his trip Washington under date of Friday, October 23, 1789, says:

"On the line between Worcester and Middlesex counties I was met by a troop of light horse belonging to the latter, who escorted me to Marlborough (16 miles), where we dined, and thence to Weston (14 more), where we lodged."

The Massachusetts Spy of October

29, 1789, says that: "At the line in Marlborough, he (Washington) was met by Capt. Rice's company of horse, well mounted, and in complete uniform. They escorted him to Capt. Williams' tavern, where he was met by the marshal of this district, Jonathan Jackson of Boston, and where he dined."

At this time the landlord of the Williams tavern seems to have been Capt. George Williams, a son of Col. Abraham Williams. "Landlord George" died in 1813 at the age of 77.

Washington's retinue on this trip consisted of his two secretaries, the ever faithful Tobias Lear—the Secretary Loeb of the first administration—Col. William Jackson of Philadelphia and six servants.

United States Marshal Jonathan Jackson had already arrived at the tavern from Boston. There was, therefore, a party of four diners in the room shown in this illustration—the president, Secretaries Lear and Jackson and Marshal Jackson.

It is unfortunate for the natural and pardonable curiosity of the present generation that there is no record, printed or otherwise, of Landlord George's bill of fare on this occasion.

URGES MORE FOREST RANGERS.

Chief Pinchot Would Enlarge Picturesque Military Force.

Washington.—Immediate increase of the new semi-military force known as the Forest Rangers is earnestly urged by Chief Forester Pinchot in his annual report to congress.

This force came into existence in 1905 and at present consists of about 1,500 men, distributed throughout the forest area of the United States. It is proposed to increase the strength by several hundred men in order to give more adequate protection to the federal forests.

Chief Pinchot tells congress of the vast work accomplished by his bureau in 1908.

For the administration and protection of the 182 national forests in 17 states and territories and Alaska the government spent $2,526,098, or about 1½ cents an acre.

Permanent improvements, including the construction of 3,400 miles of trails, 100 miles of wagon roads, 3,200 miles of telephone lines, 550 cabins and barns, 600 miles of pasture and drift fences, 259 bridges and 40 miles of fire lines cost $592,169.19.

Last year the receipts from the sales of timber, grazing fees and permits for special use of forest resources amounted to $1,842,281.87, an increase of $271,222.43 over the 1907 figures.

In addition, the national forests yielded heavily to the public in free use. There were 30,714 permits granted for the free use of timber by settlers, schools and churches during the year, against 17,399 in 1907.

The total receipts from timber sales each year since the national forests have been under the administration of the forest service have been as follows: In 1905, $69,136.62; 1906, $245,013.49; 1907, $668,813.12; 1908, $849,027.24.

NOT AFFECTED BY DEPRESSION

One Big Industry That Makes Its Business Grow and Expand During Year of Business Depression.

When a manufacturing establishment reaches out in a year of depression and increases and expands its business, while others in the same line diminish their outputs or stand still, it is because there must be some unusually good reason for it. In this instance a splendid reputation and a more-than-ordinary meritorious product were responsible for the showing made.

The Mayer Boot & Shoe Company, Milwaukee, the largest shoe establishment in the Northwest, has just closed its fiscal year, and reports an increase in sales over the corresponding period of last year. This exceptional showing speaks volumes for the genuine merit of Mayer shoes, and is directly attributed to their high standard, and because of the fact that Mayer shoes have become universally and popularly known as "shoes of quality."

The leading brands are "Honorbilt" fine shoes for men, "Leading Lady" fine shoes for women, "Yerma" Cushion shoes for both men and women (these are exceptionally fine shoes for people troubled with tender feet); the popular "Martha Washington" Comfort shoes, which have the largest sale of any shoes of this kind in the world, and the "Special Merit" School shoes (a strong and sturdy line of seamless school shoes that wear like iron).

But Soon.

"Come, don't be foolish," said the pretty young wife, "he's merely an old flame of mine."

"Indeed!" cried her aged but rich husband, "I'll warrant you dream of his tender advances yet."

"No," she replied, with a faraway look, "not yet."—The Catholic Standard and Times.

SEEKS PAY FOR LAND

EX-QUEEN LIL OF HAWAII ASKS MONEY OF CONGRESS.

Is Child of Royal Line and Traces Ancestry Back to Princess Who First Introduced Christianity Among Her Subjects.

Washington.—Queen Liliuokalani, former ruler of the Hawaiian islands, who is still endeavoring to collect from the United States for the so-called crown land which became public property when this country took possession of the islands nearly 15 years ago, appeared before the house committee on laws the other day to urge her claim.

The former queen has aged a great deal in the last few years and broad white streaks have appeared in her coal black hair.

When the queen was dispossessed, what was then known as the crown lands amounted to about 1,000,000 acres. According to local residents these lands were in no sense the property of the monarch, but belonged to the state, and properly were turned over first to the republic, then to the United States, and then reverted back to the territory as ordinary public lands. The queen and her followers always have contended that these lands were private property belonging to the reigning family. When she was driven from the throne her income from this source amounted to about $65,000 annually in addition to a public fund of $20,000 a year for maintaining the royal household.

Since that time the deposed queen and her friends and associates have pressed vainly their claim for recompense before one congress after another. The present value of these lands is something over $10,000,000, but the queen has now scaled down her claim to the point where she is willing to compromise for about $250,000 in hard cash. There is a growing feeling in favor of generous action toward the former queen, whose years are now fast declining and many statesmen say a bonus direct to her would be worth a good deal more than the money involved, because of the good impression it would create among the Hawaiian part of the population of the islands.

Liliuokalani is a direct descendant of one of the most picturesque characters in the history of Hawaii, whose story has been told in a thousand missionary meetings and sent broadcast in a million Sunday school volumes. She is, in fact, a great-grand-niece of Kapiolani, the island princess or female chief, who did more than any other person to bring the natives to Christianity.

It was Kapiolani who dared to pluck the sacred berries which grow at the brink of the crater of Kilauea. The natives had been taught that a person who plucked those berries would surely die a most horrible death because of the supposed sacrilege directed against the goddess Pele. Kapiolani not only gathered the sacred berries, risking her life in securing them, but she led a picturesque procession of her retainers, some 200 in number, down to the lake of fire below the rim of the crater. With opened hymn book, singing praises to the God of the new Christian cult, she defied Pele and threw the sacred berries into the burning lake. Of course nothing happened, and the supposed sacrilege was not punished in any way.

Pele as an awe inspiring deity was compelled to go out of business and the simplenatives flocked to the Christian standard fully convinced that a new God had arisen who would surely punish unless he were followed with praise and thanksgiving. This was the beginning of the extraordinary conversion of the simple islanders, the like of which probably never has been seen or heard before or since in the history of missionary effort.

WILL GUIDE ROOSEVELT PARTY.

R. J. Cunningham Knows Well Interior of Africa.

London.—R. J. Cunningham, the English professional hunter, who will be the guide, manager, counsellor and friend of Theodore Roosevelt and his party on their African hunting tour, probably knows more about equatorial Africa than any other white man. Having spent most of his life there, he knew Africa before the Uganda railway made travelling easy and safe.

Mr. Cunningham is now organizing the Roosevelt caravan and gathering materials and supplies.

Besides being a hunter and guide Mr. Cunningham is an expert collector of natural history specimens, having made important collections for the British museum both in Norway and Africa.

He has guided numerous hunting parties in Africa and for a time was chief hunter for the Field Columbian museum.

R. J. CUNNINGHAM

Cosmopolitan University.

Statistics of the University of Pennsylvania show that it has the most cosmopolitan student body in its history. It has drawn more than 1,500 students from places other than within the borders of Pennsylvania; of these 350 are from foreign countries, of which 62 are from British territories; 47 from Europe, 33 from China and Japan, 15 from the foreign possessions of the United States, and 98 from Latin-American countries. The Latin-Americans come from 21 countries and represent at least 60 different towns.

Pardonable Crime.

"If I were to kiss you now, would you have me arrested?" "What would be the use? Any jury would acquit you."

Prof. Munyon has generously placed his Cold Cure with druggists throughout the United States and has authorized them to sell it for the small sum of 25 cts. a bottle. He says these pellets contain no opium, morphine, cocaine or other harmful drugs, and he guarantees that they will relieve the head, throat and lungs almost immediately. He gives this guarantee with each bottle of his medicine: "If you buy my Cold Cure and it does not give perfect satisfaction, I will refund your money." Prof. Munyon has just issued a Magazine-Almanac, which will be sent free to any person who addresses The Munyon Company, Philadelphia.

Why It's a Homely Beast.

Augustus Thomas, the playwright, told in a recent speech of a hunting trip they had taken in the south. They were after coons and possums, but the only trail the dogs struck was one which made them put their tails between their legs and turn for home.

"Just what does a polecat look like?" Mr. Thomas asked one of his negro guides.

"A polecat, boss? Why, a polecat's sometin' like a kitten, only prettier. Yes, a polecat's a heap prettier'n a kitten, ain't it, Sam?" he said turning to another negro for corroboration.

Sam did not seem so sure. He hesitated a moment.

"Well," he replied, scratching his wool, "it's always been mah contention dat handsome is as handsome does."—Atlanta Journal.

Not Afraid of a Ghost.

In a village in England, a month or so ago, a man came running into an inn at nine o'clock at night and cried out that there was a ghost in his back yard. There were 14 men in the inn, and not one of them dared to go home with the man and investigate. There was a person who dared, however, and that was the landlord's daughter, a girl of 14. Some of the men followed her at a distance, and she went into the yard and up to the ghost flapping its arms about, and discovered—what? That it was no more nor less than a man's white shirt flapping on the clothes line in a strong breeze. That's about the way all ghosts turn out.

NO MEDICINE

But a Change of Food Gave Relief.

Many persons are learning that drugs are not the thing to rebuild worn out nerves, but proper food is required.

There is a certain element in the cereals, wheat, barley, etc., which is grown there by nature for food to brain and nerve tissue. This is the phosphate of potash, of which Grape-Nuts food contains a large proportion.

In making this food all the food elements in the two cereals, wheat and barley, are retained. That is why so many heretofore nervous and run down people find in Grape-Nuts a true nerve and brain food.

"I can say that Grape-Nuts food has done much for me as a nerve renewer," writes a Wis. bride.

"A few years ago, before my marriage, I was a bookkeeper in a large firm. I became so nervous toward the end of each week that it seemed I must give up my position, which I could not afford to do.

"Mother purchased some Grape-Nuts and we found it not only delicious but I noticed from day to day that I was improving until I finally realized I was not nervous any more.

"I have recommended it to friends as a brain and nerve food, never having found its equal. I owe much to Grape-Nuts as it saved me from a nervous collapse, and enabled me to retain my position."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

GOVERNOR CURRY RESIGNS.

Governor George Curry sent in his resignation to President Taft, by wire, on the 22d inst. The reason assigned for the governor's action was the refusal of the secretary of the interior to grant the governor permission to visit the national capital on matters concerning territorial affairs, the secretary instructing the governor to attend to the business by correspondence. Then, too, it is said, the governor felt piqued at press and public over his activities in statehood matters, and tendered his resignation on the spur of the moment, without consulting even his closest friends.

RESIGNATION WITHDRAWN.

President Taft sent Governor Curry a telegram on the 23d, asking the governor to reconsider his resignation and to withdraw the same, promising the support of the administration. On the receipt of this wire and at the earnest solicitation of friends, who in the meantime had not been idle, the governor withdrew his resignation, retains the gubernatorial chair, and the scramble for the position ceased immediately.

A meeting of the Cattle and Horse Protective Association of Central New Mexico will be held on Tuesday, March 30, at Magdalena, N. M. This convention is of vital importance to those engaged in the business of stock raising, and should be largely attended, if for no other purpose than to aid in the election of good officers for the ensuing year. Matters of importance to all concerned will be discussed.

In the District Court of the United States for the Sixth Judicial District of New Mexico.

In the Matter of
Taliaferro Mercantile and Trading Company,
Bankrupt.
No. 31.

Respectfully represents Wayne Van Schoyck, trustee of the estate of the said bankrupt and Exchange Bank of Carrizozo, New Mexico, the Carrizozo Trading Company, Paul Mayer, M. M. Ruddle, and Chas. Spence, creditors of said estate, that it would be for the benefit of said estate that all the property, real, personal and mixed, belonging to said estate, should be sold at auction, by first giving due notice of the time and place of such sale by five weekly insertions in some newspaper published in the county where said property is situated. That a part of said property asked to be sold, to-wit: Lot four in block thirty-three of the town of White Oaks, New Mexico, is under mortgage, now past due, a copy of which mortgage is filed in said cause and marked exhibit "A." That your petitioners ask that said mortgaged property be sold free from incumbrance with the right of the mortgage, Exchange Bank of Carrizozo, N. M., to bid up to the ascertained amount of said mortgage without advancing the money except for expenses, and the proceeds stand as a substitute for said property.

Wherefore, they pray that the Trustee may be authorized to make sale by auction of said property as aforesaid.

"THE CHEERFUL LIAR."

"The Cheerful Liar" will be given the 9th of April, as announced last week. The wigs and costumes have been ordered from Chicago and no effort will be spared to make it even better than the other plays. A full programme will be given in next week's issue.

At the close of the school the pupils will give the play, "Too Much of a Good Thing," together with other work in the dramatic line.

A CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express to express our sincere thanks, through the columns of your worthy paper, to the good people of Capitan and vicinity for their aid during the illness of our dear little baby who died on the 14th inst. Their many deeds of kindness and words of sympathy did much to mitigate our deep sorrow and we shall always feel under lasting obligations to them.

Sincerely,

M. AND MRS. E. J. COWART,

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it.

Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak.

You must eat in order to live and maintain strength.

You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly.

But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly.

When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach.

The proper way to do is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food.

Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help; you must help it by giving it rest, and Kodol will do that.

EX-GOV. HAGERMAN RESPONDS.

Sometime ago, to be accurate, when statehood received its death blow, Judge Fall rushed into print, in a long letter, defending territorial conditions and blaming Ex-Governor Hagerman, among others, for bringing about loss of statehood. This letter of Judge Fall's was addressed to the Albuquerque Morning Journal, and Gov. Hagerman replies through the same medium as follows:

"March 19, 1909.

"To the Editor of the Albuquerque Journal, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Dear Sir:—

My attention has been called to a communication from Judge Fall, written in El Paso, which appeared in your issue March 15.

In it Judge Fall has made certain incorrect statements concerning my administration as governor of New Mexico, which seem to call for correction.

As to the vague innuendoes and veiled allusions to unnamed persons contained in the article, they deserve no attention.

I am, of course, very grateful to Judge Fall for his endorsement as to the honesty of my intentions. As to my ignorance of political affairs and lack of statesmanship, I must plead guilty to the latter charge, at least, if one is to accept Judge Fall's ideals of successful statesmanship.

The ostensible object of Judge Fall's letter is to present the 'issue' clearly before your readers, which issue, he states, has been obscured by 'the factional political fights in New Mexico.'

That the issue has been obscured is true, but that Judge Fall clarifies it to any considerable extent by his presentation of the case is, at least, open to argument.

As to his summary of the main facts connected with the land and timber sales to the Alamogordo, the American and other companies prior to my administration little exception can be taken, but when he directly blames the activities of the government agents and by implication blames me for the unhappy condition of affairs in New Mexico, he himself further obscures the issue, and intentionally or unintentionally misleads the public as to the real situation at the time of my resignation.

Mr. Fall accuses me of acting in a way that would have disrupted my own party in the territory. I am grateful to him for admitting that I have a party. Without indiscretion, I ask you, Mr. Editor, after your long acquaintance with Judge Fall, what is Judge Fall's party?

Mr. Fall, while stating that there never was any fraud connected with the disposition of the lands and the timber, and acquitting me of any moral wrong in accepting payment of the Pennsylvania Development Co. note, still seeks to perpetuate the fiction that I 'delivered' the deeds to Mr. Hopewell, 'although,' as he states, 'the commissioner whose business it was to deliver such deeds distinctly refused to do so.'

Judge Fall must know, as everyone knows who has followed the matter, that these deeds were executed and delivered before I became governor, and that the whole Pennsylvania Development Co. transaction was consummated by my predecessor. He must know that for years Mr. Keen—whose probity was so generously exploited by my enemies—had accepted payment of principal and interest from the Pennsylvania Development Co., and that when Mr. Hopewell offered to pay the last note, it was my duty to accept such payment and surrender the deeds which were held merely as security, pending the payment of that note. All this is now ancient history, and for Mr. Fall to attempt to convey the impression, by implication or otherwise that I committed any administrative or political error in surrendering these deeds or in accepting payment of that note, only goes to prove that, despite his statements that no wrong was done the territory in effecting the sales of land and timber to all those purchasers, he still seeks to protect the men who used my action for the purpose of bringing about my removal from office. He knows that the results have shown that these men, in adopting this course, committed one of the most startling political blunders which any so-called 'practical' politicians or would-be statesmen have ever been guilty of in New Mexico. I acquit Judge Fall of being a principal in the original conspiracy, but I condemn him for attempting at this late date to revive a fiction, the flimsiness of which has long since been proven.

He further states that I 'freely joined in the criticism of the former administration which was being made by special agents.' The few federal agents who came to this territory while I was in office made their investigations and reached their conclusions independently. Under orders from my superiors in Washington I gave them every facility for making the inquiries they were ordered to make, believing then, as I do now, that to continue a policy of suppression and concealment in regard to land or any other matters in the territory would only result in an indefinite postponement of that adjustment of our affairs which is essential before we shall be considered fit for or, in my opinion, obtain statehood. I did not criticize my predecessor. I did deplore that in selecting the lands granted by the Fergusson Act so much inferior land was chosen, and the institutions so greatly in need of capital were thereby deprived of a large patrimony.

The statement that a 'certain special agent' 'proposed to furnish ammunition for the war which Mr. Hagerman was then waging upon H. O. Bursum' and 'that upon information furnished by this special agent, not as to the United States accounts, not even as to the land funds belonging to the territory, Mr. Hagerman declared Mr. Bursum a defaulter,' can have been made by Mr. Fall only in an attempt to prove his theory that the whole course of the government's investigation of our affairs was controlled by men who had no intention whatever of honestly performing their duties, but were simply out to make spectacular reputations for themselves. It incidentally may have been made to magnify Mr. Bursum's pose as a victim of persecution. The statement is not in accord with the facts. I was not aware before that I had declared Mr. Bursum a defaulter. The investigation of the penitentiary accounts, which resulted in a report subsequently published, was made by me quite independently of the federal authorities, and would have been made if no special agents had ever come to the territory. Combined with the repayment to the territory of a considerable sum of money by Mr. Bursum, it was sufficient to convince me that there had been the grossest sort of irregularities (to put it mildly) in the management of that institution; a conviction which the subsequent proceedings at Silver City, in which Attorney General Fall took so conspicuous a part, has never in the slightest degree shaken. I venture to say that there are many others who feel the same way about this matter, and in this, as in any other public matter, everyone has a right to his own opinion and the privilege of expressing it.

It is significant that on almost the same day on which Judge Fall wrote his letter to you there should have appeared in the Santa Fe New Mexican, the acknowledged organ of the Andrews-Bursum organization, an editorial quoting a letter from former Secretary Garfield to Representative Gaines (Congressional Record of Dec. 9, 1908, p. 91). In this letter, Mr. Garfield, speaking of the New Mexico land matters, is quoted as saying that no evidence had been found of bribery or corruption of any territorial or federal officials; that the evidence showed that the action of the territorial officials in selling the lands was to get money for accomplishing the various objects for which the grant was made; that no criminal intent or intentional evasion of the law was apparent against the territorial officials or the purchasers of the land; that the prices contracted for were reasonable. This letter is published in the New Mexican with its highest approval as an official vindication of all who took part in those land sales. And still the New Mexican is the paper which two years ago was vigorously upholding Mr. Bursum's controlled majority in the lower house of the 37th legislature for its report finding a governor guilty of 'depriving the territory of a large area of its valuable timber lands at a totally inadequate price,' of 'committing a fraud upon the people of this territory and its institutions,' when that governor had merely obtained for the territory the payment of what was generally considered a bad debt. It is important to remember that this particular transaction was the one in which Mr. W. H. Andrews himself was originally a principal—that, in spite of that fact, he used the report of the legislative committee to the full extent of his ability to discredit me with the president and to lend credence to the charges which Judge Fall so strenuously deplores, that New Mexico was reeking with land frauds, which charges, as is admitted by Judge Fall and his friends, have had much to do with our failure to secure statehood.

This may be the kind of 'statesmanship' Mr. Fall admires. The kind of statesmanship which disregards every consideration of the public welfare in an effort to perpetuate the political control of a few unworthy men may be praiseworthy from Judge Fall's point of view. But he cannot successfully stigmatize as incompetent or unpatriotic those who differ with him in this regard.

It is significant and interesting that Mr. McIlarg, whom Mr. Fall so vigorously assails, is the same man who, in October, 1907, as an assistant to the United States attorney general and under order of that cabinet officer, directed Mr. Ervien, the new commissioner of public lands, to distribute the $10,000 which I, as governor, had accepted for the territory, and which Mr. Keen, under pressure from Major Llewellyn, Mr. Bursum and others, had refused to distribute. And it is significant that immediately after this action on Mr. McIlarg's part, he was subjected to the most biting criticism and most bitter attack by Mr. Fall himself.

It is to be remembered that, as is now generally admitted, Mr. McIlarg and his colleagues were sent out to the territory for the purpose, particularly, of investigating me and that their advent was at first hailed with delight and satisfaction by some of the very people who later so viciously attacked them, and who secured their withdrawal from the territory.

It may be 'good politics' for the chief law officers of a territory to use their position and influence to squelch all investigations when they wake to the realization that such investigations may result in harm to themselves or their own political friends and allies. But no amount of bluster can convince me that, in the long run, such kind of politics 'pays' even from the most cold-blooded point of view. Moreover, there are still some people who believe that fair dealing is as wise in politics as in the other affairs of life.

This kind of statesmanship and this sort of politics were successful in accomplishing the immediate object in view, that of getting rid of a governor who could not be whipped into line. But in bringing this about, results infinitely more disastrous than the personal fortunes of any individual were necessarily involved. It has ever since been the constant endeavor of Mr. Bursum, Mr. Andrews, Judge Fall and others to avoid the consequences of this disastrous policy, and when any person, or newspaper, as much as lifts a finger to show what those consequences really were, they are overwhelmed with vituperation, misrepresentation, calumny and abuse.

I am glad to know that Judge Fall is not a political follower of Mr. Andrews. It does credit to his discernment. He, however, pronounces as ridiculous my theory that Mr. Andrews' malodorous reputation and his probable election as senator was one of the principal causes of the senate refusing us statehood. It is, however, a theory which papers even in Mr. Andrews' former hunting ground, Pennsylvania, do not hesitate to advance. Nor do I believe that Secretary Knox would relish being heralded as one of "Bull" Andrews' supporters.

'Mr. Hagerman,' says Judge Fall, 'cries for further investigation. Investigation of whom—investigation of what?' This answering cry of Judge Fall's has unhappily been echoed by a majority of the territorial council and by certain newspapers.

It is possible that Judge Fall, Major Llewellyn, Mr. Bursum, Mr. Andrews or any one else fears for a moment—now that these timber and land matters have been disposed of to their evident satisfaction—that any further investigation would result in the revelation of anything discreditable in other fields. If they or some of them had no such fears in the past, why such a vigorous fight on the former investigators? If they or some of them have no such fears now, why such an indignant cry of 'hands off?' Unless there is some such lurking fear somewhere, it is not unreasonable to ask why they would not have welcomed the completion of the former investigation, initiated, even though it was, for the purpose of discrediting me. If they had, and there was nothing wrong, then the investigation would long since been completed and the territory cleared of stain. If there were wrongs, they might long ago have been remedied. If there are wrongs now, let them be investigated, let them be exposed—let the people remedy them, no matter who may be 'discovered' and no matter who may be 'vindicated.'

I can see no other way. 'What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander.'

H. J. HAGERMAN."

A DWELLING BURNS.

I. I. Cavender lost his dwelling and practically all its contents, by fire, Tuesday morning about ten o'clock. Only the sewing machine, a feather bed and a chair were saved. Mrs. Cavender and her mother were sewing in the front room, when Mrs. Cavender had occasion to go to the kitchen to look after some victuals she was boiling for dinner. Opening the kitchen door, she found the walls aflame and the room full of smoke. The open door created a draft, and the flames rapidly enveloped the building, which was a frame structure, and there was no time to save other articles of household furniture, other than those mentioned. The total loss of house and contents is estimated at $1,400, and had insurance to the extent of $800.

A NOTED VISITOR.

Ex-Vice President Fairbanks, wife and daughter passed through here on Wednesday's No. 3, on their way to California. The distinguished son of Indiana stepped from the train for a few moments, and was immediately recognized by those who saw him, as his six-foot-six made him conspicuous, and everyone that had ever seen a cartoon of him recalled his familiar features. Yet, none of the by-standers had the temerity to ask the gentleman if he had a cocktail concealed about his person.

Accident at White Oaks.

Jules Kelt, while engaged in mining in a stope in the North Homestake mine, at White Oaks, Wednesday night, fell a distance of 125 feet. Strange to say, he was picked up alive, and still stranger, when Dr. Paden, who had been called from this place, and reached the injured man several hours after the accident, the discovery was made that no bones were broken. The head and face contained some serious cuts, and the body was a mass of bruises. If not internally injured, the injured man will soon recover. It seems improbable that a man could fall 125 feet and escape with his life and sound bones, but that such a thing happened in this case is stated on the most reliable authority.

Don't be deceived by imitations of DeWitt's Carbolyzed Witch Hazel Salve. When you ask for DeWitt's be sure to get it. The name is stamped on every box. There is just one original. It is especially good for piles. We sell and recommend them. Sold at Paden's drug store and Rolland Bros.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

All able bodied men over the age of twenty one years are subject to a poll tax of one dollar for the support of the public schools of the territory of New Mexico. After February 1st, 1909, this tax is due and payable. This is to notify all persons who are liable, to come forward at once and adjust this matter and thus assist in lengthening the present term of the public school, and also relieve the School Board of the necessity of enforcing the collection of this tax.—Respectfully,

WELCH & TITSWORTH.

CAPITAN.

W. H. Cavanaugh, postmaster at Eichel, Tecelote station, was down a couple of days this week. Try Winfield for your next grocery order.

Oliver Peaker was down Saturday after a load of supplies for his ranch in the White Oaks country.

Winfield is making a nice display of Easter supplies—the best candies and the prettiest dyes.

John H. Canning and Ira O. Wetmore went to Capitan and Lincoln the early part of this week.

The Carrizozo Meat Market is now handling Kansas City meats.

C. M. Estes, formerly of Carrizozo, but now at Duran, was down this week for a day or two, looking after business matters.

If you want good, corn-fed beef, W. G. Rawls, of the Carrizozo Meat Market, can supply you.

Attorney Hamilton and family have been here this week from Capitan, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ira O. Wetmore.

W. E. Dudley, a member of the territorial mounted police, whose home is in Alamogordo, was in Carrizozo Wednesday.

Attorney J. E. Wharton, of Alamogordo, was in Carrizozo Wednesday, looking after the interests of a client in some chancery proceedings on that date. He returned to Alamogordo yesterday morning.

John R. Patton, chef at the — W ranch, returned Saturday from a week's visit with his son and family at Bent, Otero county.

Thos. W. Henley, postmaster at Nogal, was in the city yesterday, and made this office a pleasant call while here.

Edgar D. Park, of the Realty Syndicate at Santa Fe, left here Monday for Capitan and the lower end of the county, in the interest of his company.

Walter E. Winfield opened up a staple and fancy grocery store here, has been running the past thirty days and asks a share of the patronage of town and community. His goods are all fresh and new and his prices are reasonable. Note his ad elsewhere in these columns.

Judge Edward A. Mann was up from Alamogordo Wednesday, hearing some chancery cases. Judge Mann has recently been reappointed as judge of this district, which is a distinct pleasure to the legal fraternity and to the numerous friends the Judge has in this county. Judge Mann has presided in this district the past five years, and his judicial opinions have won for him the confidence of the people.

Lisha Leslie, who was sentenced to the penitentiary from this county in 1905 for a term of five years, on a charge of cattle stealing, passed through here Wednesday on his return to his home near White Oaks. A deduction of time allowed for good conduct lessened his term more than a year. Most of our readers are familiar with this case, which attracted a great deal of attention at the time the charge was presented and the arrest made.

A number of prospectors from the Nogal district, who were a little late in the rush for the opening of the Mescalero Reservation, were caught in the recent snow storm, and when they reached the Promised Land they found only snow, with no ledges of the glittering mineral in sight. They probably found a good Mark Twain tunnel site, but they refuse to enlighten their friends on the matter.

Felix Braune, who conducts a fish-hatchery on the Bonito, but who otherwise might be termed a gentleman of leisure, spent a few days in our burg this week. He was accompanied by his brother, George, who lives with him, since the latter's return from the Fatherland. Visitors to the Rio Bonito from all parts of the country make it a point to stop at Felix's place and see his pond of educated fish.

Mrs. A. J. Rolland was taken to the Alamogordo hospital Tuesday. She was very ill for a time, but is now reported much better.

Robt. A. Hurt, county assessor, is in town today, interviewing the taxpayers. Mr. Hurt tells us that his loss of goats, in the late storm, was not as heavy as reported, but that he did lose 700 head.

Lois, the little four-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Skinner, of this place, is dangerously ill with pneumonia. She rested fairly well last night, but does not seem to be doing so well this morning.

Hon. Jonh Y. Hewitt returned Saturday morning last from Santa Fe, where he had been the past sixty days serving the people of this district in the territorial council. Mr. Hewitt comes back to the people of this county with a clean record, and one of which his constituents are proud.

Have you seen the new colors and shapes of men's hats that we are showing? The Carrizozo Trading Company.

WITH CHAFING DISH

SOME RECIPES THAT WILL GIVE SATISFACTION.

Oysters Always Easy to Prepare in This Way—Tomatoes and Mushrooms—Always Good Lobster a la Newburg.

Oyster pan roast—Put tablespoon of butter in chafing dish. When it melts add 12 large oysters and half-pint juice with salt and pepper. Cover and cook two minutes. Serve on hot toast moistened with juice.

Oysters friend in batter—Make a batter of three eggs, three tablespoons of milk, one tablespoon of flour. Season with salt and pepper. Put one tablespoon of butter in chafing dish, and when hot drop oysters one at a time in the batter then into the butter and fry a rich brown.

Celeried oysters—Put teaspoon of butter in chafing dish and when melted add 12 large oysters and one tablespoon minced celery. Season with salt and pepper. Cook three minutes, add wineglass of sherry and cook two minutes. Serve on toast.

Tomatoes and mushrooms—Put into the chafing dish one pint of cooked tomatoes, half-pint mushrooms, tablespoon bread crumbs, tablespoon of butter, pepper and salt. When mushrooms are cooked serve on buttered toast.

Omelette—Put tablespoon of butter in chafing dish and when very hot pour in four eggs which have been thoroughly whipped with four tablespoons of milk. When done roll the eggs quickly over till all rolled up.

Lobster a la Newburg—Take the nicest part of a lobster, cut in small pieces, put in chafing dish with one tablespoon of butter. Season with salt and pepper. Pour one gill of wine over it. Cook ten minutes, add the beaten yolks of three eggs and a half-pint of cream. Let all come to a boil and serve immediately.

Rice croquettes—One-half cup of cold rice. Beat in two eggs, two tablespoons of sugar, one teaspoon salt. Form into balls, dust a little flour over them, roll in egg and fry in a chafing dish.

Petit pois—Melt two tablespoons of butter in chafing dish, add can of French peas, season with pepper and salt and cook ten minutes.

Rechauffe of fish—Put cold boiled fish, any kind, cut fine in chafing dish, with two tablespoons of butter. When melted add one cup of breadcrumbs, two eggs beaten slightly, two tablespoons of milk, one teaspoon of anchovy paste, pepper and cayenne. Stir constantly. Let simmer five minutes.

Scalloped oysters—Put two tablespoons of butter and one gill of cream in chafing dish. Drain oysters and lay in layers. Sprinkle with cracker dust, another layer of oysters, more cracker dust, a little butter, season with salt and pepper. Cook ten minutes, covered.

Stewed oysters—Put one-half pint of milk in chafing dish, when nearly boiling add 12 oysters, season with pepper and salt and small piece of butter.

Oyster sautes—Drain juice from 12 large oysters thoroughly, butter the chafing dish and when very hot place the oysters in single layers. When brown on one side turn and brown the other. Keep adding a little butter. This and the juice of the oysters forms a brown skin in the chafing dish. Season with pepper and salt and when browned serve oysters on skin very hot.

Kitchen Helps.

When cutting brick butter into small squares for use on the table bits of the butter will often cling to the knife and spoil the looks of the square. If a piece of paraffin paper is wrapped around the silver knife the butter will cut in sharp, clean squares and will not cling to the knife at all.

SKIN CURE A SIMPLE WASH

External Remedy for Eczema Sufferers Greatly Simplifies the Treatment.

If you are suffering from any burning itching skin disease, the only way to cure it is to go right after the real trouble—to cure the skin itself.

Thousands of patients have suffered for months in vain attempts to doctor their blood when the whole trouble was bacilli feeding upon the skin and causing the unsightly blotches and sores. Skin specialists now prescribe a simple liquid wash, easy to apply, which gives instant relief. This remedy is composed of oil of wintergreen to which are added healing vegetable remedies.

This compound is known as D. D. D. Prescription among druggists, and your own druggist can probably tell you more about it.

Original Wedding Cake.

It is said to be a curious fact that the wedding cake, that elaborate, indigestible compound so indispensable at the modern marriage ceremony, is the direct descendant of a cake made of water, flour and salt, of which, at the Roman high-class weddings, the married couple and the witnesses partook at the time of the signing of the contract.—Housekeeping.

MIX FOR RHEUMATISM

The following is a never failing recipe for rheumatism. To one-half pint of good whiskey add one ounce syrup sarsaparilla and one ounce Toris compound, which can be procured of any druggist. Take in teaspoonful doses before each meal and before retiring.

His Pleasant Visit.

"Why are you whipping that child so?" asked a man of a German who was belaboring a boy of ten.

"That's none of your business," replied the German. "Besides, I have a right to whip him. He is my sister's child, who is here for his pleasure."

Looking Forward.

Mr. Wiggins, being in a frivolous mood, was giving a burlesque imitation of palmistry—pretending to read his wife's fortune in her palm. Six-year-old Ruth was listening with intense seriousness, but neither of them was noticing her.

"And, finally," he concluded, after the usual recitals about a dark man, a light man, a journey, and a large fortune, "you will live to a great age."

"Thank God!" broke in Ruth, clapping her hands ecstatically. "Then my children will have a grandmother!"

Boston Profanity.

Katy, aged five, and a resident of America's seat of culture, ran to her father one morning, exclaiming:

"Father, brother George swore."

"Swore, did he?" inquired the parent, grimly, reaching for the slipper.

"What did he say?"

"He said 'ain't,'" responded Katy, solemnly.—Success Magazine.

ONE KIDNEY GONE

But Cured After Doctors Said There Was No Hope.

Sylvanus O. Verrill, Milford, Me., says: "Five years ago a bad injury paralyzed me and affected my kidneys. My back hurt me terribly, and the urine was badly disordered. Doctors said my right kidney was practically dead. They said I could never walk again. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. One box made me stronger and freer from pain. I kept on using them and in three months was able to get out on crutches, and the kidneys were acting better. I improved rapidly, discarded the crutches and to the wonder of my friends was soon completely cured."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Black Eye for Home.

It is a coming fashion to hire a hall to entertain your friends, to give dinner parties in a hotel, to be married in a church, to be taken to a hospital when you are sick and to an undertaker's as soon as you die, and left there until the funeral. The tendency is to conduct all public occasions away from home. The home is getting a black eye.—Atchison (Kan.) Globe.

Been There Before.

A new constable was on duty at one of the London police courts, and was conducting a prisoner to the cells.

"Mind the step," he said, as they came to a dark corner.

"All right," muttered the prisoner; "I knew that step before you were born."

In Book Form.

"He is going to put his play into book form."

"What does that mean?"

"Means he'll write 100,000 words, divide 'em into chapters and print 'em between covers."

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

OLDEST MAN IN ARMY

Dr. Samuel W. Service, senior veterinary, U. S. A., now stationed at Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., has applied for retirement. As there is no provision for the retirement of veterinaries on part pay a bill will be introduced in congress to grant Dr. Service compensation after he relinquishes his duties in the army.

Dr. Service to-day is the oldest man in active service in the army of the United States. He is oldest both in point of age and of service. He is 75 years of age and for 56 years he has been constantly in the army. He has been through one exploration expedition, two wars and numerous campaigns against the Indians.

Dr. Service was born in Herkimer county, New York, January 1, 1834. He received his early education at home and at the age of 17 took up the study of medicine and in two years assumed the practice of his instructor, who had died. In 1853, to go with Fremont's fifth and last expedition to the Pacific coast, Dr. Service joined the detachment of United States soldiers who were to form part of the company. He was the youngest man connected with it. When it reached San Francisco Dr. Service, with the United States soldiers, returned by sailing vessel to New York. Dr. Service next entered the United States detective police, a body of men under direct charge of the adjutant general. He continued as a detective until the opening of the civil war. All through the war Dr. Service was employed as a surgeon.

In 1871 the doctor was appointed to the Tenth cavalry, with station at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. Although up to that time he had been an army surgeon, he then took up the veterinary branch, which he has since followed. Dr. Service went through several Indian campaigns. The frontier pleased him and Indian warfare appealed to his adventurous taste. At the time of the Custer massacre he was with this regiment at Fort Custer, 12 miles away.

In the Spanish-American war he served with the Tenth cavalry. He was in a few skirmishes and for three years was in charge of a patrol on the island. During this time he made many friends with prominent Cubans and among other relics of the war he has a fine set of flags presented to him by Maximo Longoria, president of a village. In the name of President Palma of Cuba for service done.

NEW RAILROAD PRESIDENT

Newman Erb, the new president of the Wisconsin Central, is a railroad executive and financier. He is 58 years of age, having been born in 1850. He entered railway service in 1881, as general attorney of the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Gulf road. In 1886 he was appointed receiver of the Memphis, Selma & Brunswick road, which later became the Kansas City, Memphis & Brunswick, and completed the line from Memphis to Holly Springs, Miss., when he was made general manager. He later was appointed vice-president and general manager of the Kansas City, Wyandotte & Northwestern, now part of the Missouri Pacific system. He completed that line from Kansas City to Virginia, Neb., with a branch to Leavenworth, Kan.

In 1880 he was elected president and general manager of the Leavenworth Rapid Transit and the Kansas City & Beatrice roads, and in 1894 was made president of the Leavenworth Electric Railway Company. A year later he was elected president of the Southern Missouri & Arkansas road.

Rapidly changing railway conditions in the southwest, which resulted in the absorption of many small lines with the larger systems, resulted in Mr. Erb moving his base of operations, and in March, 1903, he was made assistant to the president of the Pere Marquette road. The same year he was advanced to the vice-presidency of that road, which position he held until in 1904. He then retired from railway business for a year, and at the annual meeting in Milwaukee, in October, 1905, he was elected a director of the Wisconsin Central.

SUCCEEDS SECRETARY BACON

John Callan O'Loughlin, Washington newspaper man, who has succeeded Robert Bacon as assistant secretary of state, has been in newspaper work, chiefly in Washington, 15 years. Mr. Bacon succeeds Secretary of State Root, who resigned to accept the toga of senator from the state of New York. Mr. O'Loughlin has resided for short times in Paris, London, Berlin and St. Petersburg, and has worked in various other countries; making special investigations in Venezuela and Santo Domingo. When the United States commission to the Tokyo international exposition was organized last spring he was appointed secretary, and went to Japan, having only recently returned. Mr. O'Loughlin served as a war correspondent during the Russo-Japanese war, being with the Russian forces some and in St. Petersburg. He also "covered" the Portsmouth peace conference. He has received decorations from the emperors of Japan and Russia, the king of Italy and President Castro of Venezuela. It was believed that there would be trouble in the senate over the confirmation of both these nominations but none developed. Mr. Bacon antagonized influential senators by the reception he gave them at the state department and Mr. O'Loughlin aroused opposition by articles he had written.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Louisville, Ky.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has certainly done me a world of good and I cannot praise it enough. I suffered from irregularities, dizziness, nervousness, and a severe female trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored me to perfect health and kept me from the operating table. I will never be without this medicine in the house."—MRS. SAM'L LEE, 3523 Fourth St., Louisville, Ky.

Another Operation Avoided.

Adrian, Ga.—"I suffered untold misery from female troubles, and my doctor said an operation was my only chance, and I dreaded it almost as much as death. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me without an operation."—LENA V. HENRY, R. F. D. 8.

Thirty years of unparalleled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases. The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

INAPPROPRIATE.

"I am glad that Washington's birthday is a holiday; it gives me chance to lie in bed in the morning."

"George wouldn't like to have you celebrate his birthday by lying."

CHILD HAD SIXTY BOILS,

And Suffered Annually with a Red Scald-Like Humor on Her Head.

Troubles Cured by Cuticura.

"When my little Vivian was about six months old her head broke out in boils. She had about sixty in all and I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment which cured her entirely. Some time later a humor broke out behind her ears and spread up on to her head until it was nearly half covered. The humor looked like a scald,

I with a sticky, clear fluid coming from it. This occurred every spring. I always used Cuticura Soap and Ointment which never failed to heal it up. The last time it broke out it became so bad that I was discouraged. But I continued the use of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent until she was well and has never been troubled in the last two years. Mrs. M. A. Schwerin, 674 Spring Wells Ave., Detroit, Mich., Feb. 24, 1908." Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

Uncomplimentary.

"I didn't think he was a singer when I saw him."

"That's what I thought when I heard him."

IN MEMORY OF THOS. SHORT.

The following sketch of the life of Thomas Short, an old Texas peace officer, scout and warrior, who recently died here, is contributed by P. C. Baird, who knew him many years ago in Texas:

Thomas Short was born Jan. 28, 1831, in Dallas county, Ala., and died at Carrizozo, Feb. 23, 1909, aged 78 years, after a brief illness of pneumonia and la grippe. The remains were laid to rest in the local cemetery. Grandpa Short, as he was familiarly known, moved to Texas with his parents when five years old, settling in Fayette county, near Lagrange; he there grew to manhood, enlisted and served in the Mexican war in '46 to its conclusion under Capt. Tom Green, rendering valuable and distinguished service. From '61, for many years, he served as a scout and home guard on the Texas frontier under the famous Indian fighter, Capt. Nowlin of Kendall county (father of Dan Nowlin, once sheriff of this, Lincoln, county). Under command of Captain Nowlin he saw much service on the frontier and Rio Grande border. He also had the distinction of being the uncle of the noted scout and Indian fighter, Captain John W. Sansom, now of San Antonio, Texas, originally of Currie's Creek, Kendall county, with whom he participated in many Indian scouting expeditions and hard-fought battles. Only those that knew this old warrior and veteran could appreciate him. In '97 he broke up his long residence on Currie's Creek and started west in search of a new country, establishing a residence in Alamogordo, where he had since made his home. In 1854 he was married to Miss Margaret Overton of Baldwin county, Ala., who survives him. To them were born eleven children, seven of which are living, viz., Mrs. Matilda Worcester, of Baldwin county, Ala.; Mrs. Olive Poler, Everett, Wash.; A. B. and J. B. Short, Kendall county, Texas; E. J. Short, Los Angeles, Cal.; F. L. Short, Socorro county, N. M., and Mrs. L. I. Cavender of this town, in whose arms he breathed his last while he and his dear wife were here on a visit with her.
