Weekly Citizen

(From the Daily, January 1.)

An iron awning is being put up in front of the west market of Andrew Romero.

Walter F. Crosby, of Colorado Springs, who has some friends in the metropolis, is at the Santa Fe.

Vivian Caraball, mayordomo, and Felipe Garcia, assistant mayordomo, were elected in old town yesterday.

Jas. N. Fish, late station agent at Coolidge, is now third "trick" dispatcher at the Atlantic & Pacific office here.

E. A. Levy, of the office of Nabinal, is here to replenish his stock of goods by making purchases from our wholesale merchants.

G. C. Wagner, a friend of Mr. Fetsch, of the First National bank, is at the Armijo from Denver. The gentleman will probably locate here.

E. J. Curran, of Los Angeles, one of the directors of the Crescent Coal Company, came in from the west last night and is here on certain business.

L. E. Young and wife, of Kansas City, are among the late arrivals at the European. They are very much pleased with the city and its delightful climate.

Little Willie Martin, reading with his parents on South Broadway, was not expected to live last night, but he is reported slightly better today. He is suffering with membranous croup.

The funeral of Mrs. James B. Armijo was well attended, in fact one of the largest that has taken place here for a long time. The services were solemnly conducted at the old town Catholic church.

Joseph Goldstein is doing some needed repairs on his property on Tipton avenue between Fifth and Sixth streets, the place for the work being drawn by H. D. Johnson. The improvements will cost about $2,000.

Traveling Engineer Fones, of the San Antonio & Aransas Pass railroad, is here on a visit to old friends. Mr. Fones a few years ago was in the employ of both the Santa Fe and Atlantic & Pacific railroads, and he is a well liked railroad man.

Miss Leta Cogswell, the good looking and competent stenographer at the office of Judge Story, took last night's east bound train for Laredo, Kansas, on business. The young lady will be absent from her machine about ten days.

James A. Lang, bookkeeper for the John A. Lee Lumber company, yesterday received an important telegram that demands his attention and presence in New York. He left for the east last evening, and will be absent about two weeks.

Jay Hubbs received word last night that his father, C. L. Hubbs, was dangerously ill at Prescott Junction. The Old Fellows' lodge here was also notified, and Frank T. Newton left on the morning train to attend to him as nurse. Mrs. Hubbs is now with her husband at the Junction.

Otto Berger will not go back to Texas as H. Kinding, the business corpus proceedings in his case yesterday afternoon before Judge Lee resulting in his discharge, the same question having been decided by the courts here six years ago. Officer Keith and Inspector Backebush left for home without any citizen.

Mrs. M. S. Campbell and her son, R. H. Campbell, arrived last night at the Armijo, registering from La Harpe, Ill. Mrs. Campbell is in poor health, and has come to the Rio Grande valley to breathe some of the pure air this citizen has spoken so kindly of in previous issues. The son is a musician of considerable reputation back in Illinois.

No word has been received here of the whereabouts of Sam Stern, although Doc Bledsoe is using every effort to find him by telegraph, and if apprehended he will be brought back to face the people to whom he gave bogus checks. The departure of Mr. Stern from the city has caused many sensational rumors to pass from lip to lip. Mr. Bledsoe has Sam's check for $250.

Jay Hubbs, who for several years was the outside ruttler for the I. X. L. laundry, has been granted an excellent opportunity by the proprietor to make a "good stake" for rainy days. He has secured the horse and wagon at a great discount, showing the appreciation of the proprietor for his excellent services and will have entire charge of all outside business from this date on. He knows from whom to rustle washing and you can bet that he will not have many bad bills in his monthly list.

Live Stock Interests.
At a meeting of New Mexico stockmen held at Santa Fe Thursday evening, under the auspices of the territorial cattle sanitary commission, President J. E. Seint presided and Geo. L. Brooks acted as secretary. Among those present were Hon. M. S. Otero, Hon. T. D. Burns, Col. Motherill, Judge S. E. Booth, Representative Hinkle, Representative Hopewell and others interested in both the cattle and sheep growing industry.

After due discussion it was agreed to ask of the legislature several modifications in the existing stock laws. The New Mexican says: One of these proposed changes suggests the registry of all cattle brands with the secretary of the territorial cattle sanitary commission instead of with the several county clerks as now provided by law. Such registry is to be made compulsory. In this manner all conflict of brands, which is now responsible for so much of annoying disputes and litigation among stock owners, may be done away with. Take, for instance, the "7H1" brand; there are more than fifteen cattle owners in New Mexico whose herds carry this brand and when it comes to hunting down strays or locating stolen stock great confusion follows because of this fact.

Another suggested change enlarges the scope of the present commission, providing for changing its title to read "The New Mexico Live Stock Commission," and contemplating giving it a plain jurisdiction over the sheep interests of the territory. This feature is deemed necessary owing to the fact with which the scale law of two years ago has been dealt with. As matters now stand little heed is paid to the scale law, there is nobody to look after its enforcement, and as a result New Mexico sheep are under a cloud among buyers from northern and eastern states.

Bills embodying these and other modifications of minor import will be drawn and laid before the law makers for their consideration.

PASSENGER TRAIN WRECKED.
About a Dozen Passengers in a Week Near Hackberry.

No. 3 passenger train, leaving Albuquerque for the west at 3:30 o'clock Thursday night, was wrecked two miles east of Hackberry, on the California division of the Atlantic & Pacific at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

When the first news was received here yesterday afternoon, THE CITIZEN had gone to press, it was thought that the accident occurred from the track spreading, but a later telegram states that the accident was due to a broken wheel or a brake shoe falling.

Two first class Pullman coaches were derailed, and are now at the bottom of a twelve-foot embankment. No passenger was killed, about a dozen, however, were injured, but none seriously hurt.

At 12 o'clock last night the track was cleared, and the trains are now running as usual.

The east bound No. 2 passenger train, coming up to the wreck, the passengers injured were placed in a Pullman, which was turned back west, and sent on their way.

Superintendents Gabel and Denair, now on the road, were at the wreck, and rendered good assistance in caring for the injured passengers.

Mrs. J. E. Butler, wife of Superintendent Denair's chief clerk, with her little son, was in the forward Pullman, and escaped with only slight scratches.

Hackberry is 180 miles from Albuquerque, and is on the California division.

Readers can scan the two "scoping" morning papers, but they will not find an account about the wreck, although the accident happened yesterday afternoon.

A Masquerade Soiree.
The select masquerade ball given at Prof. Landrum's dancing parlors last evening was acknowledged by all those present the most successful affair of the kind ever given in Albuquerque. The following is a list of those present, as near as could be obtained, and the subjects they represented:

Dr. Hasler, the Turkish general; Dr. Smith, Indian chief; Miss E. M. Fox, Gypsy; Mrs. Sterry, baby; W. F. Hall, domino; A. H. Heyn, French gentleman; P. L. Sheardon, Uncle Sam; Floyd Bone, dragon; W. M. Donald, Turk; W. A. Sanders, morning; Mrs. C. H. Haies, Topsy; Ernest Spitz, Jackey; Frank Hys, domino; Eugene Leckley, English officer; Gus Thelin, Arab; Miss Lizzie Folson, flower girl; Miss Fortin, Gypsy; W. Cloutier, clown; Mrs. E. Cloutier, night; K. Zimmerman, sailor; Mrs. W. A. Sanders, flower girl; Mrs. Dr. Easterday, bride; Henry Goldberg, domino; M. F. Baker, jockey; Miss Long, "little maid from school"; Miss Rosa Jenks, college girl; H. McCue, old woman; Miss McCue, liberty; Sol Benjamin, sailor; Miss Matthews Benjamin, native daughter; Miss Vella Miller, "little maid from school"; Harry Weiler, duke of Las Vegas; Miss Sallie Sanders, tamborine girl; Mrs. Kohler, old woman; Miss Lilian Spitz, red bird.

The following were present unmasked: Capt. Horner, Dr. Easterday, A. W. Johnson, W. H. Harrison, Montague Stevens, M. Howard, Will, Montfort, Roy Stamm, Medames Spitz, Flournoy, Fox, Smith, Fortin, Keegan, Parks, Misses Wright, Fox, Wedner and Sloan.

The party continued dancing until 2 o'clock, at which time they bid farewell until the next Friday evening soiree.

Back Home.
L. W. Roberts and W. G. McCormick, railroad representatives from this city to the legislature at Santa Fe, returned home last night, well pleased with their work and the prospects of getting at the hands of the legislature some very needed and essential legislation for their benefit.

While at Santa Fe an organization, to be known as "Legislative Board of Railroad Employees," was organized, and W. G. McCormick was unanimously chosen secretary. It is understood that other officers were chosen from among Albuquerque railroad employees.

The success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in effecting a speedy cure of colds, croup and whooping cough has brought it into great demand. Messrs. Pontius & Son, of Cameron, Ohio, say that it has gained a reputation second to none in that vicinity. Jas. M. Queen, of Johnston, W. Va., says it is the best he ever used. B. F. Jones, druggist, Winston, Miss., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is perfectly reliable. I have always warranted it and it never failed to give the most perfect satisfaction." 50 cent bottles for sale by T. H. Burgess & Son, druggists.

A Narrow Escape.
Roy Roberts, one of the bright little sons of Conductor Roberts, came very near meeting with a serious accident this morning. He was riding his pony alone Railroad avenue, accompanied by his brother, and the animal slipped on the icy street and fell to his knees. The little boy fell off the horse, rolled underneath him, but in a twinkling rolled out of danger. Roy got up without a tear in his eyes, but his steps showed that his right hip was slightly injured.

Accidents.
Teney Costello and Peter McFarland met with accidents.

Yesterday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, Teney Costello, one of the plasterers at the new N. T. Armijo building, met with a very painful accident. He was on a scaffold in one of the hallways at work, when he fell off, and the front of his face struck the hard floor, the lower lip being cut down to the chin for at least an inch. The right hand and wrist were so badly sprained that Dr. Hope placed the arm from the elbow down in plaster Paris. The fall was about six feet, and the injuries will prevent Teney from working for several weeks.

Yesterday afternoon a very painful accident, which came very near resulting fatally, happened in the warehouse of Gross, Blackwell & Co. Peter McFarland and several of the employees were piling up a lot of sacks of oats, and one of the piles, getting too heavy, rolled over on Mr. McFarland, completely burying him out of sight under a ton or more of oats. His associates rolled up their sleeves and worked the harder to rescue him, and when they rolled off the last sack, each sack weighing between 175 and 200 pounds, they discovered Peter tucked almost out of shape and unrecognizable. They tenderly took him to the out side platform, where the air could get a fair play, and soon life was rubbed back. He is resting easily to day, although pretty badly bruised and injured all over the body. It was a very narrow escape, and Peter will always remember his experience with oats.

These are a few important items that occurred after THE CITIZEN went to press yesterday. Neither of the morning "scoping" papers got these items.

(From the Daily, January 9.)
J. D. O'Brien, wife and child, are at the Windsor registered from the Rio Puerco.

Miss Mary Sheehan came in from the west last night and is registered at the Windsor.

Walter G. Marmon, of Laguna, was in the city yesterday, and left this morning for Santa Fe.

Leon B. Stern, the Los Cerrillos merchant, was among his Albuquerque friends yesterday.

Alex. Briereaux, manager of the Blanchard Meat and Supply, returned last night from Watrous.

A. Singer, one of the commercial tourists for Mandell Bros. & Co., returned last night from a trip south.

W. H. Hahn, the barber, who has been very sick with inflammation of the bowels, is reported better to day.

W. B. Childers and Neil B. Field went up to Santa Fe last night on business before the territorial supreme court.

V. Vizzetti, the excellent boss in the culinary line for Fred. Harvey, was at the depot yesterday from Williams, Arizona.

J. M. Colombarino, the artist, who has been almost constantly on the sick list for the past three months, is gradually recovering his strength.

George Booth and Thomas Booth, two brothers from West Chester, N. Y., are at the Armijo, one of the brothers being advised to come west for his health.

The right eye of Conductor Roberts is giving him considerable trouble. While at Santa Fe the other day he got a cinder in it, and the ball is therefore badly inflamed.

G. L. Webb, a young man from Philadelphia, is at the Armijo. The visitor would like to go into the sheep raising business, somewhere in central New Mexico.

W. A. Maxwell and daughter, Miss Gertrude Maxwell, with Mrs. Sarah Hall and Mrs. Emma Baileys, were at the European last night, but went west to their home in Gallup this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, of Washington, D. C., are in the city, and Saturday the gentleman presented himself to Lawyer Clancy. Mr. Henderson is an attorney, and was advised to come west for the benefit of his wife's health.

George Kellogg, the night man at the postoffice, who has been sick in bed at his room with typhoid pneumonia for the past few days, is recovering. He was out in the sunshine yesterday, and if he suffers no relapse he will be at duty again in a short time.

Senator Hubbell and Representative Meyers were among their Bernatic constituents Saturday and Sunday; likewise Senator Patterson, of Magdalena. The gentlemen returned to Santa Fe last night, and answered the roll call this morning.

Mrs. J. M. Dennis, wife of Saw Miller Dennis, and Mrs. S. L. Kewick, wife of one of the employees of Mr. Dennis, left for Coolidge Sunday morning, where their husbands are at work. Mrs. Stuart, daughter of Mrs. Dennis, is left at the residence here to take care of the little folks.

Yesterday morning Melquiades Martinez and Miss Barga Candelaria, two young people who have loved each other for years, were united in marriage at Jernallito yesterday morning. The CITIZEN extends congratulations. This is the season for marrying among our native citizens, and they are taking advantage of the matter in goodly numbers.

This morning THE CITIZEN received from W. S. Burke, the Commercial club writer, copies of a souvenir pamphlet of Albuquerque illustrated. The views are splendid and were made by the Vandercook Engraving and Publishing Co. of Chicago. The principal business houses and streets of the metropolis are represented in the souvenir, besides there are some fine views of fruit orchards and vineyards.

Phil S. Montague and wife, and Frank J. Wistach and wife, the gentlemen are members of the staff of the San Francisco Examiner, passed through the city last night en route east. Mr. Montague goes to Chicago, where he will represent him during the World's Fair, and Mr. Wistach to New York City. Mr. Montague was a visitor to Albuquerque during the regime of Capt. Friend, and Mr. Wistach visited the metropolis last year. They are very pleasant gentlemen.

Railway Employees Will Follow.
Following is the full text of the circular introduced in the assembly on behalf of the railway labor organizations:

Sec. 1. That it shall be unlawful for any railroad or railway corporation or company owning and operating or operating, or that may hereafter own or operate a railroad or railway shops and machinery and attachments thereof in this territory, to adopt or promulgate any rule, regulation or contract of employment, or to make or enter into any contract or agreement with any person about to engage in their service, in which, or by the terms of which such employee in any manner directly or indirectly, promises or agrees to waive, relinquish or surrender, in whole or in part, the right to sue for damages on account of an injury he may receive by reason of the care or negligence and attachments thereof belonging upon any railroad or railway shops or machinery and attachments thereof owned and operated or being run and operated by such corporation, being defective, any such rule, regulation, contract or agreement shall be of no effect.

Sec. 2. It shall be unlawful for any such corporation to use or operate any car or locomotive upon the machinery or attachments thereof belonging or being run and operated by such corporation, through no fault of its own, such corporation shall be liable for such injury and upon proof of the same in an action brought by such employee, or his legal representatives, in any court of proper jurisdiction, against any railroad corporation for damages, on account of such injury or received shall be entitled to recover against such corporation in a sum commensurate with the injuries received.

Sec. 3. If any servant or employee of any railroad corporation owning and operating, or operating, a railroad or railway shops in this territory while in the discharge of his duties as such servant or employee, or in the performance of some duty assigned by his superior, and being without fault himself, shall receive any injury on account of or by reason of the carelessness or negligence of a fellow servant or employee, such corporation shall be liable to such servant or employee for the damages sustained by him by reason of the carelessness and negligence of such fellow servant and employee.

Sec. 4. This act shall take effect and be in full force upon its passage.

A Dialogue for the Hites.
The following dialogue between a citizen of Albuquerque and Prof. Creager may be of some interest to the public. I am a democrat, but if I am I don't like to see such attacks on a man after he has been vindicated again and again. I believe in the doctrine that "to the victors belong the spoils." If the lawyer of whom you spoke in Saturday's paper wants the school, I say let him have it, yet I don't think he will be as successful as the professor. Prof. Creager's answers in the dialogue are well put, but take the table and judge for yourself.

Albuquerquean to Prof.: "What have you to say about the Hites?"

Professor: "My answer is found in St. Luke, 23 chap. 34 verse the first sentence."

"What would you say to them?"

"See first half of 13th verse, 13th chapter, St. Luke."

"How do you think I and other citizens should treat them?"

"You are referred to Job, 6th chap., 14th verse."

"What, in your judgment, is her sincere delight and wish at present?"

"I call your attention to Job, 19th chap. 21st verse."

"Has any one told you of their character, if so what is it?"

"Read Romans, 1st chap., 28th and 32d verses, inclusive."

"Why have you been so patient?"

"See Romans, 2d chap., 7th and 11th verses inclusive."

Prof. Creager is no special friend of mine, but I know enough of him to report him for the good he has done our city. I wish the Hites would stop their racket and stop publishing the Times.

A DEMOCRAT.
Albuquerquean, January 7.

Married.
At the Catholic church last evening at 7 o'clock Father Fied joined in marriage Joseph Schwartzmann and Miss Hestene With, and after the ceremony the happy couple with their friends repaired to the Turner hall where they were the recipients of many elegant presents and numerous congratulations for a happy, prosperous married life. Among the presents there was none more appropriate than the elegant parlor lamp the bride party received from Tonye Michelbach, of the San Jose meat market. Mr. and Mrs. Schwartzmann have gone to housekeeping in a cosy residence on South Broadway in the Highlands.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.
From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Ironton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I was lost. I gave it a trial, took it all, eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman. Trial bottle free at T. H. Burgess & Son's drug store, regular size, 50c, and $1.00.

Giant Cactus.
The officials of the Southern Pacific and Atchafalca, Tupika & Santa Fe railroads have consented to transport from a carload of giant cactus from Arizona to the world's fair, where they will be placed to offset the collection of trees and ferns which arrived from Australia. The giant specimens from Arizona will not be forwarded until early spring, as they are very sensitive and might be frozen in transit.

Mineral in Grand Canon.
A rich strike is reported in the Grand canon, about 70 miles north of Flagstaff. A prospector named Frank (Pouke) has discovered ledges of very rich quartz bearing free gold in large quantities. Some magnificent specimens of quartz have been brought to Flagstaff and are declared by old prospectors to be the richest yet discovered in this country. The vein is said to be a very strong one and has been prospected to a depth of 100 feet in the walls of the canon. Several Flagstaff parties are interested in the new strike.

"For the past two or three years I have been subject to cramping pains in the stomach," says Mr. W. H. Baldwin, a hardware merchant of Boonville, Dallas, Co., Iowa. "I have tried a number of different remedies, the best one being Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. One or two doses of it always cures me." Sold by T. H. Burgess & Son, druggists.

By the Telegrams he is Captured in Denver.
The following Associated Press dispatch is taken from the Democrat:

Denver, Colo., Jan. 8. Sam Stern, said to be wanted in Albuquerque, N. M., for some heavy forgery, was arrested this morning by Detectives Reno and Cook at Sixth and Arapahoe streets, while forging two checks of $250 each, but the detectives think his work with the pen was heavier than that. Stern has a record of similar work done in Silver City, N. M.

As soon as Sam was known to have been caught, Doc Bledsoe, to whom he gave a bogus check for $250 consulted with Attorney Hestene, and they at once began a vigorous telegraphic attempt to bring back the young man. Every town on the Santa Fe system of roads, north, south, west and east of the metropolis, was notified of the departure, and the officers, having a good description of him, were requested to watch carefully, arrest and make inquiry in reporting. Chief of Detectives Howe, of Denver, was among the first to be notified, and the result of the work of that telegram to him is plainly seen in the above dispatch. A private telegram was also received by Mr. Hestene last night, and last night J. Edward Priest was dispatched as special officer to go after Sam. He is in Santa Fe today getting the proper requisition papers, and will be in Denver to-morrow night.

Chas. Stern, the brother, who feels badly over the affair, emphatically denies that Sam was guilty of any wrong doings while they resided in Silver City. He does not care to talk about the matter, but is positive that should Sam be brought back he would soon be liberated and vindicated as far as the charge of forgery concerned. An effort is being made to effect a compromise with the proprietors of The Office, as Mr. Bledsoe being the manager, but it seems that the only hitch now is the amount of costs entailed in the affair, over and above the amount of the check.

This is a downfall of a young man whom THE CITIZEN has always held in high esteem, and we cannot but help lean to the opinion that Sam, although he got himself in a very "tangled up" condition, both financially and in a moral sense, would have sooner or later met all his obligations here. He was one of the best young fellows in the city; always civil, genial and pleasant to all. He possessed in a very marked degree a "good companion" disposition, and say what you will, Sam Stern had a good heart within his breast. The fascination of gambling, that desire to "win a pile" or get back what you have lost, has been the downfall of many, and Sam Stern is a victim.

D. H. SMITH DEAD.
The Well Known Attorney Dies Suddenly of Heart Disease.

Baronet H. Smith, died suddenly at 12 o'clock this morning at his room in the Hynes building on Palace avenue.

The sad announcement came like a shock to the community this morning for only yesterday, and even last evening, Mr. Smith to all outward appearance, was in his ordinary good health and cheerful spirits. He was out calling last evening in company with Mr. Currier and Mr. Grunfeld, and returned home about midnight. Toward morning Mr. Grunfeld was awakened by groans and found Mr. Smith to be suffering great pain, complaining that the seat of the trouble was in the left breast, in the region of the heart. Mr. Grunfeld insisted on calling a physician, but Mr. Smith would not consent to this, saying he thought the pain originated from a disordered stomach, and would soon pass off. The patient suffered till about 3:30 this morning when Mr. Grunfeld called for Dr. Hermida, but not finding that gentleman, summoned Dr. Sloan. While the latter was conversing with Mr. Smith at 7:30 another paroxysm of pain came on and he fell back upon his pillow dead. Death was caused by heart disease.—New Mexican.

Gold Ore.
"Kim Ki" Rogers, with a young gentleman, George Webb by name, and a new arrival in these parts from Philadelphia, drove in from the mountains this morning and they are at the Armijo. Mr. Rogers brought in with him a sample of gold ore from the John Thompson mine, which is claimed to assay $100 to the ton. The ore will be tested at the electric works south of the city. Mr. Rogers believes that the Sandia mountains will boom in mining circles at a very early day, and that all the old timers out there will soon be wealthy. Coming in he found young Webb at Selva's place, where he had gone to get work on a sheep or goat ranch. It was thought his experience at Selva's was wild enough for him, and that he will remain in the city hereafter.

Pelter Court.
The case of the Territory vs. Peter Balarace, accused of embezzling $51.85 from Chas. Moore, was called this afternoon at 3 o'clock before Justice Madden. The case was continued.

The City of Albuquerque vs. Jim and Dolly Nelford, colored, for disturbing the peace, are out on bond until 4 o'clock this afternoon, at which they will be tried.

The case of the Territory vs. Jose Chavez, assault upon Juan Sandoval, which was continued from the 4th of January, will be tried this evening at 7 o'clock.

Railway Employees' Organization.
B. of R. E. are the initials of a new order of railway employees now being organized along the Atlantic & Pacific road, and from information received it is learned that numerous applications for membership are being presented. If we have been correctly informed, the object of the new organization is to consolidate the different branches under one head, doing away with the numerous orders and thus creating one vast brotherhood of railway employees.—Williams News.

Central Americans, and last week he spent in Colorado. He will remain in the New Mexico metropolis for a few days, and then go south to Mexico. He is stopping at the San Felipe.

Andy Adams, the good natured clerk for B. C. Robertson, the enterprising Gold avenue merchant, has gone to Denver. A few months ago Mr. Adams won his lawsuit for the possession of some valuable real estate in the very heart of Denver, and it is intimated that Andy is going for the purpose of watching the litigants on the other side. He stated that he would probably return to the New Mexican metropolis in a few months.

A LIBERTINE.
C. E. Hubbs Proves True to His Good Wife.

A few days ago the news flashed over the wires along the Atlantic & Pacific from Prescott Junction that C. L. Hubbs, late of this city, but of recent date of San Diego, Cal., was living very ill at his high board rating at the stone quarry, covered up for pneumonia as man aged.

Mr. Hubbs being an Old Fellow, a member of the home lodge, the society thought of proper and meet that he should have brotherly attention, and Frank Newton was at once sent to his aid.

A message following the one received by the Old Fellows, stated that Mrs. Hubbs was on her way to attend her husband from San Diego, and it is from her THE CITIZEN today publishes to the world the heartiness of the man whom she has for many years loved to call "husband."

Mrs. Hubbs arrived here last night when she got to Prescott Junction, she told several parties that she was the wife of C. L. Hubbs, the quarry man, and as he was sick she desired to go to his assistance at once. They would not believe her words, and therefore she was unable to secure transportation, the people no doubt having been beforehand led to believe by Hubbs that the woman he was parading through that part of the country was none other than his true wife, and all others were impostors.

Mrs. Hubbs arrived at the Junction before Mr. Newton, but as soon as the gentleman got there she told her tale of woe, and they together visited the Hubbs cabin. They arrived in the night time, but a knock brought to the door Mrs. Johnston, wife of "Jack" Johnston, formerly chief clerk for the Santa Fe road at the local depot. The good wife saw through it all, but like a true, dutiful woman she resolutely remained that night and watched at the bedside of her false husband, who is stricken down with pneumonia. The next morning she bid adieu to the man she once loved, was driven to the depot at Prescott Junction, and came on to this city, arriving here last night. Mrs. Hubbs is one of the noblest types of true womanhood in the country, and after a married life, extending over a period of many years, after a family of children were born and raised, the "lord of the household" goes down to the depths of degradation, shocks the norms of the community where he recently resided, and brings the greatest of sorrow home to a good wife. The lady eyes this distinction, and the people of Albuquerque sympathize with her.

When Hubbs carried on a small grocery store on Gold avenue in this city a few years ago, the woman Johnston was his best customer, and it was quietly whispered in certain circles then that it was more than grocery trade Hubbs derived from his woman customer.

News Notes.
Heavy snow has fallen in Berlin and throughout Prussia.

Two white men were stabbed by two negroes at Decatur, Ala., but killed the negroes.

Brakeman Reiser slipped on ice at Falls City, Neb., and was literally cut to pieces by the cars.

Emmanuel Wolf, a clothing dealer of Marshall, Mo., has assigned with $10,000 liabilities and $12,000 assets.

The Bowie Lumber company of Texarkana, Ark., has gone into the hands of a receiver. The liabilities exceed $50,000.

In an ice gorge in the Ohio river in front of and below Cincinnati many barges were wrecked and $92,000 damage done.

The Leeds Land company of Sioux City, Ia., has failed with liabilities of one-half million dollars and assets of only $100,000.

The negotiations for the purchase of the system of street railways in the City of Mexico by a syndicate of United States capitalists have not been consummated, and it is probable that they will be broken off.

Good Looks.
Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a bilious look, if your stomach be disordered you have a dyspeptic look and if your kidneys be affected you have a pinched look. Electric Bitters is the greatest alternative and tonic, acts directly on these vital organs. Cures pimples, blotches, boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at T. H. Burgess & Son's drug store, 50c per bottle.

G. E. Bailey, one of the editors of the Chicago, Ill., Inter Ocean, made a pleasant call at THE CITIZEN office this morning. Mr. Bailey was a visitor to the city 4th of July last, being forced to stop over here from a visit to Mexico on account of a delay of trains on the Santa Fe road. Since then he has visited the Central Americans, and last week he spent in Colorado. He will remain in the New Mexico metropolis for a few days, and then go south to Mexico. He is stopping at the San Felipe.

Andy Adams, the good natured clerk for B. C. Robertson, the enterprising Gold avenue merchant, has gone to Denver. A few months ago Mr. Adams won his lawsuit for the possession of some valuable real estate in the very heart of Denver, and it is intimated that Andy is going for the purpose of watching the litigants on the other side. He stated that he would probably return to the New Mexican metropolis in a few months.

A LIBERTINE.
C. E. Hubbs Proves True to His Good Wife.

A few days ago the news flashed over the wires along the Atlantic & Pacific from Prescott Junction that C. L. Hubbs, late of this city, but of recent date of San Diego, Cal., was living very ill at his high board rating at the stone quarry, covered up for pneumonia as man aged.

Mr. Hubbs being an Old Fellow, a member of the home lodge, the society thought of proper and meet that he should have brotherly attention, and Frank Newton was at once sent to his aid.

A message following the one received by the Old Fellows, stated that Mrs. Hubbs was on her way to attend her husband from San Diego, and it is from her THE CITIZEN today publishes to the world the heartiness of the man whom she has for many years loved to call "husband."
