New Mexico Mines Produced Over $18,000,000 During Last Year. Increase is 60 Per Cent.

MOGOLLEN DISTRICT LEADS IN GOLD-SILVER

The output of New Mexico mines for eleven months of 1915 with an estimate for December, as reported by the United States Geological Survey, indicates a yield of $1,500,000 in gold, 2,032,000 ounces of silver, 3,951,000 pounds of lead, 72,000,000 pounds of copper, and 24,540,000 pounds of zinc (in terms of spelter and zinc oxide) as compared with $1,171,696 in gold, 1,777,445 ounces of silver, 1,763,641 pounds of lead, 58,307,925 pounds of copper and 18,403,392 pounds of zinc in 1914. These preliminary figures compiled by Charles W. Henderson show an increase of $28,000 in gold, 255,000 ounces of silver, 2,186,000 pounds of lead, 12,763,000 pounds of copper and 6,247,000 pounds of zinc. With higher values for metals, except for silver, the total value was $18,277,000 against $11,058,932 in 1914, an increase of $7,228,068.

The Mogollon district, continued to be the most productive district in New Mexico in output of gold and silver. The production in 1915 was $512,021 in gold and 1,319,460 ounces of silver, as compared with $629,102 in gold and 1,410,327 ounces of silver in 1914. The Cleaveland and Weatherhead mine and custom mill were idle the entire year but the Socorro and Ernestine mines and custom mills were operated steadily on ore from each company's mine and from various other properties in the district by concentration, sliming and percolation in cyanide solution, the bulk of the product being cyanide precipitation the balance being high-grade gold silver concentrates. There was a smaller quantity of concentrates shipped in 1915 than in 1914. An important producer of gold was the Elizabethtown district, Colfax county, there being a small quantity of placer gold and an important quantity of high-grade metallic gold gold bullion and concentrates from the Aztec mine and Badly.

Another important district was the Cochiti (Bland) district, inactive from 1904 to 1914, but with a record from 1804 to 1904 of a production of $695,000 in gold and $1,345,000 in silver. The 100 ton cyanidation plant of the Coasak company which commenced operations in September, 1914, was operated nearly all the year of 1915, with a very considerable output of silver gold cyanide precipitates. Continuous output of gold bullion was made from the amalgamation mill on the North and South Home stake mines, at White Oaks, Lincoln county. This district has yielded a large quantity of gold. While the yield of metallic gold in 1915 from the Pinos Altos district was not equal to that of 1914, some high-grade shipments were made early in the year and work was active in the district on the base metals. The Lordsburg district, nearly doubled its shipments of siliceous gold and silver bearing copper and dry ores from fissure veins. The yield of this district in 1914 was $101,070 in gold, 232,647 ounces of silver, and 2,164,674 pounds of copper. A small yield of gold was made from the Gold Hill district, north of Lordsburg. With an increased output of concentrates, the small gold content of the concentrates of the Chino Copper Company in amount a sufficiently large in 1914 to be credited under smelting contract with 271 cents per ton of original crude ore, or 0.1 cent per pound of copper produced showed an increase. The reopening of the mines and matte smelter of the Santa Fe Gold & Copper Company, at San Pedro, Santa Fe county, in May, 1915, added a considerable quantity of gold to the New Mexico yield. Increased shipments of Gold copper ores from the Jarilla district, Otero county, also contributed to the gold output.

Copper has been an important metal in the production of New Mexico. The output from 1845 to 1910 was 92,232,163 pounds, and the total output to the end of 1915 was 318,027,798 pounds. Since 1910 the increased production was due principally to the activity of the Chino Copper Company, which mines with steam shovels a large acreage of low grade copper deposits at Santa Rita and mills the ore at Hurley in a wet concentration flotation plant of five sections. During 1914, this plant treated 6,300 tons a day, calculated on the actual running time, and in 1915 a larger daily tonnage was treated. The gross output in 1914 was 56,841,877 pounds. In 1915, the gross yield for the first three quarters was 49,733,648 pounds and the yield (partly estimated,) for the fourth quarter was 20,641,000, a total for the year of about 69,375,000 pounds. During the third quarter an average of 7,504 tons a day was treated, the highest average treated by the mill since the beginning of operation. The yield of copper from the Lordsburg district was nearly doubled and Orono also contributed an increased yield. The resumption of operation in May, 1915, of the Santa Fe Gold & Copper Company's mines and 122-ton matting plant at San Pedro, Santa Fe county (operated only one month in 1914) added a large quantity of copper to the output. The Burro Mountain Copper Company's new 1000 ton mill in the Burro mountain district, was operated only part of the time, but development of the mines continued on a large scale. A large tonnage of the low grade copper ore with calcic gangue was shipped from the Apache mine, Hachita. A considerable tonnage of copper ore was shipped from the Organ district, Dona Ana county.

The yield of lead showed an appreciable increase. Lead ores were shipped from the Cooks Peak district, Luna county; from the Organ district, Dona Ana county, and from the Magdalena district, Socorro county.

DEMOCRATIC SENATOR FLAYS PARTY

Senator Newlands of Nevada Asserts That His Own Party is too Radical to Retain Power

CRITICISES THE BANK REFORMS, TARIFF

The following associated press despatch from Washington, D. C., which appeared in the El Paso Herald of Jan. 11, in which Senator Newlands, democrat, of Nevada, severely criticised his own party for its poor legislative achievements, is only another proof of the shortcomings of the present administration, and clearly points to the fact that after the November election, 1916, the democratic party will peacefully slumber in the cobwebs of oblivion. The despatch follows:

Washington, D. C., Jan. 11.—Senator Newlands of Nevada, Democrat, attacked his party's record in the senate today, delivering a long prepared speech, in which he criticised the tariff and banking reforms—the chief legislative achievements of the Wilson administration. He declared that there had been commercial and industrial depression with the Democratic control of legislation, the party would be in danger of defeat at the next presidential election unless the European war continued, and made the president's "sagacious and firm" handling of foreign affairs the overshadowing issue.

PARTY IS TOO RADICAL

Although he characterized the general trend of Democratic legislation as commendable the senator asserted that the party was too radical and expressed the conviction "that no political party can hope to remain in power which adopts radical instead of evolutionary methods of reform."

DANGER OF DEFEAT

Danger of a Democratic defeat in the congressional elections of 1914, he said, was "averied only by the European war, which brought into sudden contrast the president's policy of watchful waiting regarding Mexico with the madness of the European nations as they rushed into the war and made that policy as popular as it has heretofore been unpopular."

REPUBLICANS ARE UNITED

"We are about to face a united Republican party," he added, "chastened by adversity and eager to persuade, and the question is whether the Democratic party, having done much under this administration in the interest of genuine reform, is again to be thrown out of power and deprived of the opportunity of continued usefulness, simply because an intervening period of depression subjects us again to the charge of 'Democratic hard times,' with its accompanying loss of votes."

TARIFF HAS EXPECTED EFFECT

"The effect of the tariff legislation was what I feared it would be. The tying up of production in this country was the result, not of a malicious effort of the manufacturers to teach the country a lesson, but of the caution and timidity which in many cases, can be proved to be without reason, but which nevertheless always exists under like conditions."

BANKERS WERE ALARMED

"So also with the banking legislation; instead of providing some simple method for mobilizing the banking reserves of state and national banks under the control of a non-partisan board or commission resembling the interstate commerce commission, which would gradually through powers of investigation, publicity, correction and recommendation to congress, work out further reforms, we were intent upon legislation which alarmed the banks by the largeness of our proposals."

Senator Newlands said that while there was no need of hysteria upon the subject of national defence, he favored a rational scheme of preparedness.

HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

Mitchell Jefferson, the negro who is charged with shooting and killing his wife, in the kitchen of Senator A. B. Fall's home at Three Rivers last Friday afternoon, had a preliminary at Alamogordo Monday, to which place he was taken and placed in jail shortly after the crime was committed.

A complaint charging murder in the first degree was lodged against the defendant, and to this complaint he filed a plea of "guilty." He was remanded to jail without bail to await the action of the next grand jury. The weapon with which the killing was done was one of Mr. Fall's 32 caliber rifles. The bullet entered the body of the victim just below the shoulder blade on the right side, coming out through the left breast.

JOHNSON-THOMPSON

James C. Johnson of White Oaks and Miss Bell Thompson of Ancho were united in marriage in this city Monday afternoon, at three o'clock, Judge Edward Massie performing the ceremony. Mr. Johnson is an employe of the Alto Light and Power Co., at White Oaks and is an industrious and well liked young man.

The bride is a daughter of J. F. Thompson, a prosperous and well known ranchman living in the Ancho country, and has a wide circle of friends throughout the county. The young people will make their home in White Oaks.

TULAROSA P. O. ROBBED

Tularosa, N. M., Jan. 11.—The Tularosa postoffice, which is located in Albert Cloman's drug store, was robbed some time early Monday morning.

The safe was blown open, some very powerful explosives having been used, to judge from results. The door of the safe was blown literally through the wall of the building and the building itself partly wrecked. The amount of money secured was only about $50.

The extensive remodeling of the office and residence property of Dr. R. T. Lucas is well under way. The building both interior and exterior will be materially altered, greatly enhancing its comfort and general appearance.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was the principal business on hand for disposal. The following will act officially for 1916: Mrs. R. T. Cribb, unanimously re-elected; Mrs. S. L. Squier, first Vice president; Mrs. Chas. A. Stevens, Second Vice president; Mrs. Daniel, Secretary; Mrs. E. D. Lewis, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. L. E. Schaeffer, Treasurer.

BASKET BALL GAME JAN. 22

Don't forget that big basket ball game at Real's hall Saturday night of next week. The El Paso boys say they will be here in full force but those who saw the Carrizozo-Frisco game know that the team that takes the next game from Carrizozo will have a job on hand. The amount of good basket ball material was never so plentiful in Carrizozo and the opening of next week will see the beginning of real practice. So rest assured that your quarter will bring more this time than ever before. Talk the game up and come out and see our boys give the Pass City delegation a demonstration of the way basket ball is played in Carrizozo. Remember the time, January 22d, at Real's hall. Game called promptly at 8:30 p. m.

BUYS INTEREST IN GROCERY

An important business transfer was made a few days since whereby W. L. Hobbs takes over the interest in the firm of Patty & Adams formerly held by A. W. Adams. Mr. Hobbs is a brother in law of Mr. Patty, having moved to Carrizozo some time ago from Oklahoma. He has been acquainting himself with the business and trade for several weeks previous to assuming charge of an active partnership in the store and has made many friends. Whereas, the Outlook regrets to see Mr. Adams retire from the business, we feel sure that the policy of a square deal to every body which Patty & Adams have always observed will be able perpetuated by the new firm of Patty & Hobbs. Mr. Adams we understand, will give his entire attention to the raising of livestock on his ranch adjacent to Carrizozo and we wish him this usual success in this new project.

FROM ONE YEAR'S CROP HE PAID FOR HIS LAND IN WESTERN CANADA

Remarkable as are the reports of the yields of wheat in Western Canada, the marketing of which is now under way, they are none the more interesting than are those that are vouched for as to the value of this grain crop to the farmers of that country.

Some months ago the Department of the Interior, at Ottawa, Canada, wrote to those in the United States who were owners of land in Western Canada that was not producing, advising that it be put under crop. The high prices of grain and their probable continuance for some years should be taken advantage of. Cattle and all the produce of the farm commanded good figures, and the opportunity to feed the world was great, while the profits were simply alarming. The Department suggested that money could be made out of these idle lands, lands that could produce anywhere from 25 to 65 bushels of wheat per acre. A number took advantage of the suggestion. One of these was an Illinois farmer. He owned a large quantity of land near Culross, Manitoba. He decided to put one thousand acres of it under wheat. His own story, written to Mr. C. J. Broughton, Canadian Government Agent at Chicago, is interesting.

"I had 1,000 acres in wheat near Culross, Manitoba. I threshed 34,000 bushels, being an average of 34 bushels to the acre. Last Spring I sold my foreman, Mr. F. L. Hill, 240 acres of land for $2,000, or $7.50 per acre. He had saved up about $1,000, which he could buy seed with, and have the land harrowed, drilled and harvested, and put in stock or shock.

"As a first payment I was to take all the crops raised. When he threshed he had 8,300 bushels of wheat, which is worth in all $1.50 per bushel, thereby paying for all the land that was in wheat and more, too, there being only 200 acres in crop. If the 240 acres had all been in wheat he could have paid for it all and had money left."

That is a story that will need no corroboration in this year when, no matter which way you turn, you learn of farmers who had even higher yields than these.

G. E. Davidson of Manitou, Manitoba, had 36 acres of breaking and 14 acres older land. He got 2,186 bushels of wheat, over 43 bushels per acre.

Walter Tukner of Darlingford, Manitoba, had 3,514 bushels off a 60 acre field, or over 58½ bushels per acre. Forty acres was breaking and 20 acres summer fallow.

Wm. Sharp, formerly Member of Parliament for Lisgar, Manitoba, had 80 acres of wheat on his farm near Manitou, Manitoba, that went 52 bushels per acre.

One of the most remarkable yields in this old settled portion of Manitoba was that of P. Scharf of Manitou, who threshed from 15 acres the phenomenal yield of 73 bushels per acre.

These reports are but from one district, and when it is known that from almost any district in a grain belt of 20,000 square miles, yields while not as large generally as these quoted, but in many cases as good, is it any wonder that Canada is holding its head high in the air in its conquering career as the high wheat yielder of the continent? When it is pointed out that there are millions of acres of the same quality of land that has produced these yields, yet unbroken, and may be had for filing upon them as a homestead, or in some cases may be purchased at from $12 to $30 an acre from railway companies or private land companies, it is felt that the opportunity to take part in this marvelous production should be taken advantage of by those living on land much higher in price, and yielding infinitely less.—Advertisement.

LET THE COURTS DECIDE

Under date of December 31, 1915, the Outlook published a complaint that had been filed against John B. McManus, warden of the state penitentiary at Santa Fe, charging him with wantonly, unlawfully, violently and maliciously assaulting Vellie Musgrave, a convict serving a five years' sentence. The Outlook published this complaint without any comment whatever and gave it credit to the paper from which it was taken, namely, the State Record, published at Santa Fe, where the complaint was filed.

Whatever the Carrizozo News has had to say in its columns regarding any subject from time to time, we have refrained from making any reference to it, even though we were not in accord with everything it has published editorially, much less to attempt to place the wrong interpretation on its news matter, and especially a legal document.

Just why the News editor in his defense of the warden should refer to us as attempting to "take the naked charge as a proof of guilt," is something we are unable to understand, and is far from being a fact.

We did not express an opinion as to the outcome of this case as did the News editor, when he said: "It is therefore reasonable to conclude that the court will give little heed to such charges when a partisan committee, after dredging to the very depths, could not hang anything on the superintendent."

The Outlook believes that it is up to the courts to decide this case and that it should not be tried in the newspapers. Therefore, we have refrained from offering an opinion until the court renders a decision.

It is true that Mr. McManus is silent regarding the case, but according to the State Record, when interviewed, he denied only certain of the allegations, saying he would give his side when it comes to trial.

All that we have to say now is, that we hope the warden will be in a position to establish his innocence when the case comes up. It would certainly be a disgrace to our fair state if any person should be found guilty of such inhuman charges as those that are now facing John B. McManus.

THE VOTE IN NEW YORK

From a Republican standpoint the vote of New York in this year's election is most reassuring. The only statewide test involving party strength was in the choice of members of the legislature; and the aggregate of pluralities received by Republican candidates was nearly 118,000. The total Democratic vote for these officers increased 35,000 over the strength shown in 1914; while the Republicans cast a vote 65,000 in excess of that secured a year ago. In New York City, where the reaction to Tammany was an interesting feature of the returns, Democratic legislative pluralities aggregated 82,000; as against which the fifty-seven counties in the up-state section gave total Republican pluralities of 200,000. Only six Democratic members of the Assembly were elected north of the Bronx and they received total pluralities of only about 1,200; so that some 600 votes' change, properly distributed, would have left the Democracy without representation outside of Greater New York.

The Republican successes extended to the Congressional elections held in three districts. Of these two were up-state localities always overwhelmingly Republican. In the Twenty-third Congressional District in New York City, where the late Joseph A. Goulden has been elected with a Democratic plurality of 6,000, William S. Bennett the Republican candidate this fall, won by approximately 1,000 plurality.

In the Judiciary and local elections, too, the Republicans were generally successful, and according to the leaders there are more Republican Mayors, Aldermen, and Supervisors in New York State today than at any time within the last ten years.

These figures and facts mean that Republican reason in New York is complete, that New York will give its electoral vote next year to the Republican national candidates; and that as goes New York so goes the Nation.

THEN AND NOW

Now, says President Wilson, the top of national defence is at the very front of his thought. A year ago it was holding the very back seat.

Mr. Wilson does not refer to the reasons which have led him to change his mind; indeed, he does not admit that he has changed his mind. But the people understand. They know, as Mr. Wilson knows, that the Administration's policy is not satisfactory to the country. So the President essays, smoothly in language but clumsily in fact, to shift his position. What Mr. Wilson really believes on the subject is best to be found in his utterances of a year ago—when his party was all powerful in Congress and when he was not hampered by the thought of an approaching contest at the polls. What he now says is said under stress of political circumstances.

"When the Devil was sick,
The Devil a monk would be,
But when the Devil was well, the Devil a monk was he."

THE OPEN DOOR TO PHOTO PLAY WRITING

(By H. H. Hanner, of White Oaks)

A few years ago the motion picture business was fighting an uphill battle for its very existence. The reformers' hand were raised against it, and but a few old store buildings were used as theatres, while the entertainment which was given to the public was of the crudest nature. The outlook of the business was perhaps the poorest of any industry of the day.

Today there are thousands of theaters filled daily with enthusiastic patrons. Many of these theaters are better than any used for the showing of stage plays ever in the brightest days of the legitimate drama.

It is estimated that there are thirty thousand theaters devoted exclusively to the showing of moving pictures in the United States alone, and that the annual attendance at these theaters is well over twenty-five millions of people.

Thousands of dollars are spent to make a single picture, and the price of admission has steadily been raised until owners of some of the finest feature plays have come out boldly and demanded the same price for their attractions as that asked for the best stage productions.

What is the reason for this sudden and almost miraculous change? It is due to the coming of the photoplay—that form of drama which tells an interesting and gripping story by action alone. The early moving pictures were no photoplays. They were merely disconnected pictures of moving objects, such as a train, a horse, or the scenery seen from the observation platform of a railroad train etc. They had a certain appeal, due to their novelty, but this novelty soon wore off, and the producers were at their wits end to provide a form of moving pictures which would hold the attention of the public.

Then came the photoplay. It struck one of the deepest chords in human nature—the love of a story told in the simplest way—told so it can be seen.

From the first the photoplay was successful, and the public which had almost turned from the moving picture as a form of amusement, now flocked to see it in the new and appealing form.

Since the showing of the first drama telling a story of life, the rise of the motion picture has been continuous.

The reformer no longer opposes it but rather regards it as his most efficient ally in providing clean and inspiring entertainment. This has all come as the result of photoplay and with the coming of the first play, which told a story of real life, by means of the natural action of the players, the moving picture men discovered their true usefulness in the amusement field.

The remarkable success of photoplays produced a demand for men and women to invent them.

Authors discovered a new market for their work, and a great vital profession came into existence—that of the photoplay writer—or scenario writer as he is usually called.

The success of the photoplay solved not only the question of the future of moving picture, but its tremendous success has decided the future of the scenario writer.

The producers recognized that they must depend on the scenario writer not only for the plays of today, but still more for the plays of the future, and they are using every method of encouragement to gain new writers.

The Stock Industry and the Telephone

No single industry derives more benefit from a comprehensive telephone service than does the stock business.

Telephone service unites the breeder, the shipper and the market in a community of interest.

The market uses telephone service in canvassing the territory of supply.

The breeder uses telephone service in keeping in touch with demand.

The shipper uses telephone service to keep himself informed as to market conditions.

The ranchman uses telephone service in the economical handling of his stock on the range—in feeding, in negotiations with buyers and in securing cars and making other shipping arrangements.

Altogether, comprehensive telephone service is a valuable factor in the growth and development of the stock industry.

Scenario-writing is the most important end of the business. There will come a time—and it is not far distant—when all photoplay producers will pay large sums of money for the right kind of "stuff" for the simple reason that it will mean either their continuing in or retiring from business.

In learning to write photoplays, I found the road long and the way not easy, yet there is the open door to creative writing that will emerge you from its stumbling blocks, and produce themes of a hazy mixture, that by continuous efforts you will find yourself in possession of novelty and moral inspiration among fields of new appeal and interest, as though a cloud with a silver lining had left you standing on top of a mountain spiral, looking down in the valley of its shadow into the possibility of new experiences, life and knowledge.

The average person dreams not of nor do they understand the unlimited productive power of scenario writing until they once earn the nomination of that methodically formulated training of homological science.

An Old Indian's New Year Greeting

That you may always have a tent and no sorrow as you travel.

That you may always have a cache for your food and food for your cache.

That you may never find a tree that will not give sap nor a field that will not grow grain.

That your bees may not freeze in winter, that the honey may be thick and the comb break like snow in the teeth.

That your heart may always be like the morning, and that you may come slowly to the Four Corners where men say "Good Night!"

NEW YEAR RESOLVES

Don't Plunge Hastily, but Consider Carefully Promises
You Make.

By BILL VINES.

BEWAKE, gentle reader, for January 1 approaches. It is time for you to begin to pause in your wild and woolly career for the nonce and consider wisely and well, the particular style of good resolutions that it is your firm purpose to put into immediate and drastic effect on that date. Do not plunge hastily into the matter, and waste a perfectly good resolution. From my personal experience I know that it is a human weakness, in a moment of sentimental and saffron-hued regret, to tie oneself up so tight in an ironbound and ill-considered New Year's resolution that it takes frequently till January 15 to separate oneself from it, and it can be done then only with considerable mental anguish and a badly lacerated conscience.

I have on hand now a varied and general joblot assortment of shop-worn, good resolutions adopted unanimously by the committee on resolutions at its annual meeting sometime between the 25th and 31st of December. None of these resolutions has been used long at a time. They are not frayed on the edges or wabbly in the bushing from excess of use. They look awfully good at this gladsome time of the year when one's bank account appears delicate and remorseful.
This is the time for a good resolution to make its strongest appeal to you. You survey the field with an anxious and appealing eye, and looking for comfort and succor. The good resolution steps blandly forward with a smile; bright and cheerful looking, with an open, honest face like the insidious book agent it slips a blank into your ready and nerveless hand and says, "sign here." You are in no mental or physical condition to refuse. You can't turn anything down, much less a good resolution. It is likely the night before you could not even turn the bedclothes down, but probably rested your weary head on the pillow and spread your elastic form over the hand-worked, snow-white counterpane. You put your hand to your cold ivory, but throbbing out, and try to recollect your thoughts. You mentally review the past and see nothing in it to cheer you up, not a single bright spot.

On top of this someone sticks a package of letters under the door.
You open them slowly, and there you find the gas bill, the coal bill, the rent bill, the grocery bill and you vainly attempt to calculate at what time next spring by the strictest economy and by cutting out cigars and highballs, you can reasonably expect your bank account to be convalescent. Score, 10 to 9 in favor of the good resolution.

You try to remember if the good resolution now facing you looking so strong and vigorous has ever been introduced to you before. It looks familiar somehow. Can it be any possibility be the same good resolution that you fell for last year, which gave promise of carrying you through the good year 1915 holding you firmly on a permanent seat on the water cart and free from the nasty effects of King Nicotine? You recall with what joy you embraced said good resolution a year ago; how you fell upon its neck and clung to it in your hour of distress and brunette remorse. You reflect that it ought to be a good resolution, because it is "Made in America," but with more or less distrust you remember that something got wrong with it during the first inning, and it permitted you to "blow up" with the bases full and nobody out.

"Way," you mutter, "you are no good."
You failed me once, and you will do it again."

Then you turn your bloodshot eye, both of them being that way, to the dresser and you behold the necktie given you by the wife of your bosom, and with a broken sob you snatch the blank from the outstretched hand of "good resolution" and once more you are "on."

Listen—if you do it, and you will—shut both eyes and hold on to that good resolution till the Fourth of July.
Don't look it over, for if you do you'll observe its imperfections. Simply exercise the tenacity of a bull pup and hold on. If you last till the Fourth it will be easier—at least I am told so.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

AN ESSAY ON "NOO YEAR'S"

Little Eddie Gives His Reasons for the Annual Holiday and Its Celebrations.

Noo Years is the time when a man takes off enuf time ter think what a fine feller he mite be if he was only a littil different. Then he makes a lot of resoluashuns and stands in front of the mirror to see if there is a halo around his hed. The resoluashuns peepul make are like the toys you buy in the ten sent stoar; they don't last long.

Another objekt of Noo Years is to giv the wine sellers and the cellars a chanct ter celebrate. On Noo Yeer's eve everybuddy goes downtown, where the lites are brilest, and sit around tabuls to wate for the year to brake in. When the clocks get to the rite place and al the waiters have been pade, the year comes in, and then everybuddy stands up and hollers or else blows horns. Why peepul should do this I don't kno, unless it is that they don't want the year to think it has slipped in without ennybuddy knowing it. The feeling on the mornning after Noo Year's is responsible for meeny of the resoluashuns.
Pa sez that if evvury Noo Yeer's resolushun was kept, we wuddent hafta worry about wet and dry clectashuns, but as the matter stands nobuddy hears about eny bartenders being lade off the fust weke in Janyuary.

Last Noo Yeer's pa sed he would make a resolution and kepe it if ma would do the same, and that each could suggest the resoluashun for the othur, and ma sed all rite. Then you can resolve, sed pa, not to ask me where I hav been when I come home late at nite. I guess that is a good one, isn't it, Eddie, he sed to me. Then ma told him what to resolve, which was this—you resolve not to go owt at nites for a yeer. Pa got pritty sore, you bet, and went and got a loryer friend to get up an argumnt to prove that he didn't have to live up to the agreemnt, being as his resoluashun otymatically nullified hers, or sum-thing like that. There was a strained atmosphere in ovr howse for sum time, and now if there are eny Noo Yeer's resoluashun, they are voluntary affaires.

The wurst thing about Noo Yeer's for a boy is that it is the last day of Christmas vakashun, and for a man, that it is the day that the bills come in. I am too young to go to restaw-rants to welcome in the year, but I am old enuf to know that the best resolu-shuns to make are to resolve not to do things I wuddent do ennyway.

FACING THE NEW YEAR.

When the year is on the threshold,
Turn thee to the past;
Gather up its store of blessings,
Clasp and hold them fast.
Then go forth into the future
On a path unknown,
Braver, stronger, richer, truer
For the livelihood shown.
—Mrs. Mary B. Wingate.

In a Scotch Heaven.

Early in the last century an old Forfarshire aristocrat installed in the bedroom corridor of her castle an automatic organ. It was her delight of a morning to wake her guests with its strains. But it was not the delight of one of them, Miss Sophia Johnstone of Hilton, to be so awakened, and she said no, "Ye dinna like the music? Ye shouldna say that, Sophy," said her hostess, "Ye'll na win to heaven an ye dinna take pleasure in music; it's to be all music there, ye know." "Dead," said the incorrigible one, "an heaven's a place wi' auld wives playin' on hand organs at six o'clock in the mornin' it's no the place I tak it for; nor set the place I want to be in."

BROUGHT TICKETS WITH THEM

Mary Ellen Satisfied That at Least the Visitors Had a Right to Be Admitted.

Mary Ellen, the colored maid, had been carefully instructed by her new mistress in a number of things concerning which she appeared to be profoundly unenlightened. Particular stress had been laid upon the proper manner of receiving visitors and of informing the mistress of their presence in the house.

Perhaps altogether too much had been said about it, or perhaps Mary Ellen had stage fright at the crucial moment, for when the first callers came, after Mary Ellen's advent into the family, she "ushered" them only as far as just inside the hall door.
Taking the cards they gave her, and leaving the visitors standing there, she went to the foot of the staircase and shouted:

"Mis' Gallatin! Oh, Mis' Gallatin!
Der's two ladies down here dat's come to see you and dey's fotch dere tickets."—Harper's Magazine.

SCHOOL NOTES

A well patronized candy sale was held at the school Thursday noon under the auspices of Mrs. Massie and Mrs. Cather's rooms. The large quantity of excellent home-made candy found an immediate sale, with a large demand for more. This method of raising funds was revived to purchase some needed books for supplementary reading connected with the regular course outlined in the course of study, and all books so purchased will become the permanent property of their respective rooms.

An informal recital will be held at two-thirty next Friday afternoon at the school building in which the pupils of Mrs. Chinn both of the regular eight singing classes from the several rooms and special pupils in piano will take part. A number of interesting numbers will be given and an interest in this important phase of the local school work are urged to attend and see what has been accomplished in this line of endeavor. No admission fee will be charged and all parents, patrons and interested townspeople are urged to be present on this occasion.

The regular mid-term examinations in the high school department are in progress today, since the completion of this week's work marks the close of the first semester of our one-half months. The number of exemptions from examination is noticeable, exemption in any subject being conditioned upon a standing of 90 or better in deportment and a grade of 90 or above in a certain subject studied. Seven pupils were successful in earning exemption from all subjects taken by them. Their names follow: Ethel Hoffman, Dan Mayes, Allie Graham, Margie Brannum, Mae Kennedy, Bessie White and Homer Donaldson. The following, in addition to the above named pupils are exempt from examination in the subjects indicated:
