UNM News Minute #494 – June 16, 2008

DISCOVER THE DIVERSE talents of UNM staff at the “Staff As Artists” exhibit, held June 16-20 at the John Sommers Gallery, second floor of the Art & Art History building. Past exhibits have included book art, drawing, painting, photography, pottery, quilts, sculpture and more. The UNM Staff Council sponsors the show as part of Staff Appreciation Week. <http://www.unm.edu/~market/cgi-bin/archives/002992.html#more>

HISTORY BUFFS, ROCK & ROLL and bluegrass music fans, as well as solar energy enthusiasts, will revel in this year's eclectic Greg Johnston Summer Concerts line-up. The first of three summertime concerts is scheduled for Friday, June 20 at noon at the University Honors Plaza. The New Mexico Territorial Brass Band will cap off Staff Appreciation Week with a mix of music popular before and during the American Civil War. As part of Staff Appreciation week, free ice cream bars will be provided. <http://www.unm.edu/~market/cgi-bin/archives/002994.html#more>

“CLAY MASHER: The Sculpture of Glenna Goodacre” will be airing on KNME-TV, channel 5, throughout June and in early July. As told by her friends, her family, her subjects and herself, KNME profiles this internationally renowned Santa Fe artist as a part of its Notable New Mexican documentary series. The show premieres tonight at 9 p.m. on KNME, Channel 5. <http://www.unm.edu/~market/cgi-bin/archives/002991.html#more>

DURING THE MONTHS of June and July, public television station KNME Channel 5 is presenting "The Musical Adventures of John Donald Robb." The 30-minute documentary, which premieres tonight at 9:30 p.m. on KNME, Channel 5, is part biographical sketch of an adventurous musician and part modern-day exploration with ethnomusicologists and folklorists that revives and celebrates New Mexico's disappearing folk music traditions. <http://www.unm.edu/~market/cgi-bin/archives/002988.html#more>

THE UNM CENTER FOR Southwest Research and the Office of the State Historian are sponsoring a series of summer lectures based on scholarly research into the CWSR and state records center archives. Hosted in conjunction with the Office of the State Historian, the lectures will be given in the Willard Reading Room at Zimmerman Library on the UNM campus, and at the State Records Center and Archives and other locations in Santa Fe. The lecture series continues through Friday, June 27. <http://www.unm.edu/~market/cgi-bin/archives/002987.html#more>
