

1-28-1893

Albuquerque Weekly Citizen, 01-28-1893

T. Hughes

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/abq_citizen_news

Recommended Citation

Hughes, T.. "Albuquerque Weekly Citizen, 01-28-1893." (1893). https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/abq_citizen_news/48

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the New Mexico Historical Newspapers at UNM Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in Albuquerque Citizen, 1891-1906 by an authorized administrator of UNM Digital Repository. For more information, please contact disc@unm.edu.

Albuquerque Weekly Citizen.

VOLUME 3.

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, SATURDAY, JANUARY 28, 1893.

NUMBER 12.

H. R. FARR.

ARTISTIC PHOTOGRAPHER.

EXTRA FINE WORK OUR SPECIALTY.

113 West Gold Ave., Over Citizen Office, Albuquerque, N. M.

ROBBER SMITH.

An Effort to Get Him Out of the Yuma Pen.

The Canon Diablo Train Robbery Graphically Recalled.

A WOMAN ON THE PANHANDLE.

J. Smith, one of the four men who up and robbed the Atlantic & Pacific passenger train, near Canon Diablo March, 1889, is attempting to get out the Arizona penitentiary through his lawyer, E. M. Doe, upon a writ of habeas corpus submitted to the supreme court of that territory last Tuesday. The application was accepted, but no action was taken. It is understood that Mr. Doe expects to free his robber client on some technicality of the law, made possible by a recent change in the revision of the statutes.

Readers of THE CITIZEN will remember that in March of that year the people of Albuquerque were thrown into a fever of excitement over the news that the passenger train coming this way was stopped and robbed by four men at Canon Diablo supposed to be cowboys and working ranchmen in that vicinity.

All the officers along the entire line of the Atlantic & Pacific from Albuquerque to California were notified, and several possees of determined men under the Sheriff O'Neill and his deputies, Navajo county, Arizona, started out in all directions from Canon Diablo. Carl F. Holton, a special officer of the road company, was with the posse led by Sheriff O'Neill, and they rode across the bleak, barren desert of Utah, which resulted, after one of the longest and hardest chases on record, in the capture of the entire party.

He passed through Albuquerque the worn-out officers, but in an interview with Sheriff O'Neill the latter gleaned the fact that Smith was one of the men in chains. He had been, and his escape was a most remarkable one.

On the return trip to Arizona, while the train was in motion, Smith hurried himself from the car windows and rolled down the steep bank of the railroad through mountains. He had taken from his pocket a revolver, and he had taken from his pocket a revolver, and he had taken from his pocket a revolver.

His escape was not observed until he got into Raton, and after upbraiding the officer for being asleep and allowing such an important prisoner to escape, Sheriff O'Neill left the officer to his fate.

Smith, a few hours later, came to a camp of four or five cowboys, and there the story of the woman on the panhandle was told. She was weak but still alive, and she was weak but still alive, and she was weak but still alive.

George W. Colby, of St. Louis, is at the San Felipe for his health. He is a friend of P. W. Riquelme, formerly manager of the Cerrillos Coal and Iron company. C. C. Hall, cashier of the Albuquerque National bank, was introducing the visitor to friends this morning.

When her condition admitted of traveling she was taken back to Yuma.

When Mr. Holton left Raton, the sheriff of Colfax county was told to keep a lookout for Smith, and to send out possees into the Panhandle. The sheriff did so, and the next morning the posse had left the woman at the windmill, and whom he had saved from a miserable, lonely death on the prairie, the sheriff's posse rode up. From the man and woman they obtained a description of Smith, which tallied with the description given the officers, and they put spurs to their horses and rode off at great speed after the fugitive.

By noon the officers discovered their man, and demanded that he surrender. Smith replied with a shot from his revolver, which he struck by a Winchester rifle ball and fell from the saddle. He then waved his handkerchief as a sign of truce, and after being taken to a town in the Panhandle, where his wound was dressed, he was turned over to Arizona officers, tried, convicted and sentenced to thirty years in the territorial penitentiary at Yuma.

The story of his escape, the killing of the Raton mountains, the manner in which he secured horses to make good his escape, the trip across the Panhandle plains and the "woman in the case" carry with it a great moral, for had he not stopped to give succor to an unfortunate woman, which entailed a delay of more than half a day, he would have doubtless escaped recapture entirely.

Going back to the robbery, the train slowed at the Canon Diablo bridge, when the four men mounted the platform of the first passenger coach and commenced to terrorize the passengers. After going through this coach, they continued to the others, and obtained from the passengers between $700 and $800 in money. Ed. Knickerbocker was the Wells Fargo express messenger. He had just made his exchange with the station agent, and on hearing the shots on the outside, closed the doors of his car and put out the lights. The robbers had the engineer and fireman in charge by this time, and marched the latter to the express door. The fireman was ordered to knock, and Ed. recognizing the voice of the terror-stricken fireman, opened the door, when several revolvers were leveled at his head. From the agent the robbers secured between $200 and $300.

School Warrants.
In response to an official inquiry the superintendent of public instruction has received the following:

Hon. Amado Chavez, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Santa Fe N. M.
Dear Sir: Your letter inquiring whether or not school districts have the right to issue orders when they have an indebtedness as great as their apportionment or income tax will amount to for the next year, is received and had my attention; and in reply would say: That section 22, of chapter 25, session laws of 1891 (the school law) is very explicit in its prohibition upon any school board in issuing warrants or certificates of indebtedness in excess of the amount of the levy for one year. It will be seen that such orders may exceed the money on hand in which cases they are to be interest, but under no circumstances can they exceed the amount of the levy, and any violation of this prohibition may be punished as provided for in the latter part of the section.

But this prohibition in terms only applies to the levy provided for in that section, and which it was the undoubted intention of the legislature that no warrant should be drawn for school purposes unless there was money in the treasury to pay the same, yet nowhere in the act except in this section (22) is there any such prohibition, and the only supervision which the county superintendent can exercise over school warrants appears to be in section 21, and is limited to orders drawn for payment of school teachers.

There is an undoubted omission in this school law in this respect, which would be well for the present legislature to correct and provide in express terms that no school order for any purpose should be drawn unless there were funds in the treasury to pay the same.

Very Respectfully,
Edward L. BARTLETT,
Solicitor General of New Mexico.

Corral the Kids.
For the past few days a lot of bad boys from the schools of the city have been stoning the Chinese laundry and even committing more serious vandalism on private residences. It seems that the parents do not care to correct their boys, or they are not aware of their wrong doings, and in order to let the kid element understand that they do not control the town, Acting Marshal Chavez has instructed his policemen to arrest allurching found on the streets after 9 o'clock at night, provided they can not give a good excuse for being out so late. It is a good idea.

George W. Colby, of St. Louis, is at the San Felipe for his health. He is a friend of P. W. Riquelme, formerly manager of the Cerrillos Coal and Iron company. C. C. Hall, cashier of the Albuquerque National bank, was introducing the visitor to friends this morning.

George C. Gansley will take the road for W. C. Leonard & Co. next week, and will be absent about a month.

CITY COUNCIL.

Action Taken on the Coal Avenue Viaduct.

The City Solicits Favor This Needless and Extravagant Burden

BLUNDERERS OF ALDERMEN

Upon the question of constructing a viaduct over Coal avenue, the board of aldermen of the city met in special session Tuesday evening, Mayor Esteyday in the chair, and the following aldermen were present:

Aldermen Amador, Chavez, Gabel, Medler, Miller, Pratt and Rankin; Clerk Grunsfeld; Alderman Bowman absent.

As soon as the board was called to order Alderman Gabel submitted the following resolution:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the members present that we should enter into a contract, as soon as practicable, for the construction of a viaduct over Coal avenue, and that we endeavor at once to secure the legislation, if necessary, to enable the city to pay for the same.

The reading of the resolution, which was seconded by Alderman Miller, brought forth considerable discussion, not only from the aldermen but other citizens who were invited to be present and participate in the discussions that such an important matter would surely develop.

The ordinance upon the subject, passed by a previous democratic city administration, and the contract entered into at the time between the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad company and the city, were both read, whereupon Alderman Childers began his remarks. He chastised B. S. Rodey for entering his protest in cold type in THE CITIZEN of yesterday, and attempted to belittle the gentleman for the reason that he had declared himself in opposition to the viaduct.

Mr. Rodey had several very strong intimations in his remarks that the only consideration in the viaduct question was the attorney's fees from the railroad company. He mentioned the fact that the railroad company would be liberal free of cost, and intimated that the members of the council were as honest in their dealings as Mr. Rodey.

When Mr. Childers had concluded, the board granted permission to Mr. Rodey to reply. He said that he had not and did not desire to charge any member of the board with dishonesty in this matter, but had a perfect right to offer his objections in the premises. He thought that the construction of a viaduct, especially where considerable money is expended, should be let to a vote of the qualified tax paying voters of the city, and the majority rule. Again, he thought that the railroad company should pay for that portion of the viaduct over their main and switching lines. He reiterated what he had published in THE CITIZEN, and openly stated that for some reason the viaduct had been kept so quiet to suit him, and he therefore opposed the adoption of such an important measure without the people's understanding and being granted full discussion.

Alderman Medler, who up to this time had kept quiet, remarked that the viaduct question was brought up in the board meeting last November, and therefore had not been kept as quiet as intimated by Mr. Rodey.

Mr. Childers, again taking a hand, informed Mr. Rodey that the matter had been discussed by the Commercial club, of which he was a member. Bringing the discussion into politics, Mr. Childers inferred that Mr. Rodey attempted to make a campaign matter of the question last year, and may possibly attempt to use it in the coming spring election.

H. B. Ferguson was the next speaker, and he spoke strongly in favor of the viaduct. He thought that a majority of the people wanted it, and stated that its construction would be the means of preventing serious danger to women and children. He opposed all antagonism to the Santa Fe Railroad company, and also remarked that the company, was lending its aid in the support of the proposed Albuquerque-Durango railroad.

M. P. Stamm stepped forward and denied that the viaduct question was a measure that had been kept quiet. When A. A. Robinson, second vice president and general manager of the Santa Fe railroad, was here last June, a number of citizens called on him and the question was fully debated. Mr. Stamm remarked that the contract was made, there was no way to escape it, and he was decidedly in favor of building the viaduct.

Mr. Childers informed the board that St. Louis, a city several thousand people larger than Albuquerque, had constructed viaducts out of its city money. He opposed hostility to railroads; declared that he had nothing to do with drawing up the contract, but wanted to see the viaduct built by the city.

Alderman Gabel stated that as Mr. Rodey had remarked that the railroad company in Topeka paid 60 per cent. of the cost of the viaduct there, he would state that the transportation of all the material for the local viaduct, free of cost, would amount to as much as 60 per cent.

Alderman Rankin moved, seconded by

Alderman Pratt, that a committee be appointed for the purpose of attempting to get a better offer from the railroad company.

The motion was lost by the following vote: Nays—Aldermen Amador, Childers, Gabel, Medler and Miller. Yeas—Aldermen Pratt and Rankin.

Alderman Gabel's motion, offered in the first part of the meeting, was taken up and passed by the following vote: Yeas—Aldermen Amador, Childers, Gabel, Medler and Miller. Nays—Aldermen Pratt and Rankin.

Alderman Rankin, knowing that Alderman Childers was the attorney for the railroad company, in the interest of the taxpayers, suggested that Alderman Childers be excused from voting on the important question, for the same reason that he was excused of voting on the Water Works question, when that matter was under investigation and discussion some few weeks ago.

Alderman Childers answered the gentleman in a very caustic manner, but it did not prevent Alderman Rankin from remarking that he had scored a great point on the lawyer.

Alderman Medler moved that the building of the viaduct be considered, whereupon Alderman Pratt and Rankin moved to be excused and left the council room.

Mr. Wude, of the King Bridge company of Cleveland, Ohio, who was present, asked that he be allowed to furnish the plans and bids for the viaduct.

Alderman Miller moved, seconded by Alderman Medler, that a special committee, consisting of the mayor and three aldermen, be appointed to prepare plans and specifications, and submit same to the board for approval, also advertise for bids for the building of said viaduct.

The mayor appointed on that committee Aldermen Gabel, Miller and Medler. The city attorney was instructed to inquire if any legislation was necessary, and to examine the validity of the contract.

The meeting was a red-hot one, and it was 10 o'clock before adjournment was taken.

Territorial Militia.
The report of the adjutant general which has been submitted to the council by the governor, and ordered to be printed in Spanish and English, will be of interest just at this time while the question remains unsettled as to whether there shall be a militia force in the territory or not, says the New Mexican. In times past it seems to have been necessary, and the volunteer militia of New Mexico have always responded to any call made upon them, with pay or without. The report shows that there are now in existence six troops of cavalry, and six companies of the infantry, and the report of the adjutant general to the war department gives the effective force as follows:

First cavalry, 280 officers and enlisted men. First infantry, 238 officers and enlisted men. During the past year the companies at Santa Fe and East Las Vegas have been disbanded on account of the lack of local and territorial support. Three new companies have been organized. Troop E, 1st cavalry, at Albuquerque, with forty-three members. Troop F, at Tierra Amarilla, with thirty-six members, and company H, first infantry, at Roswell, with forty members. Of the twelve companies mentioned perhaps six can be classed as in good condition, and the balance from fair to indifferent. The last legislature appropriated $50,000 per annum for the militia fund, including salary and office rent of the adjutant general and all other actual and necessary expenses incurred by the territory under the laws in reference to the militia, and perfecting muster rolls of volunteers, during the rebellion in New Mexico, under the direction of the governor and the adjutant general. Of the amount appropriated there has been expended: For the 12th fiscal year, $33,411; 13th fiscal year, $38,470. The balance, $11,119, is still due on unpaid accounts.

The United States appropriates annually $400,000 for arming and equipping the militia. This is now due New Mexico from this fund $5,548.75, and this money is only available for the purpose specified. Perhaps the most interesting portion of the adjutant general's report to the general public will be the exhibits showing the records of several thousand volunteers which New Mexico has furnished from the time in 1847, when Ceran St. Vrain organized his company in Santa Fe, down to 1893, when the last of the gallant defenders were mustered out of the service. These records are valuable and should be safely guarded.

English Skilled Labor.
London, Jan. 27.—A synopsis of the elaborate reports concerning the condition of skilled labor last year, gathered under the direction of the under secretary of state for the home department, indicate that with the close of the year the period of trade depression reached a low-water mark. Industrial affairs are looking bad and the prospects are exceedingly gloomy. The percentage of unemployed at the present time is double that of January last. The greatest falling off is in the ship-building engineering and other related trades, and in which the number of unemployed averages ten per cent.

A. L. Van Antwerp, the assistant live stock agent for the Santa Fe road, was a passenger to Santa Fe last night.

THE UNIVERSITY.

The Ventilating and Close Systems in the Building.

The charges made by Rev. Cristy has stirred up a lively controversy in this city. Following are a few of the comments made.

WHAT THE REV. CRISTY SAYS.

THE CITIZEN was called on G. W. Meylert, secretary of the board of regents of the University, and gleaned from him that he believed that if there is any fault in the heating and ventilating and dry closet systems, as used in the University, is that the ventilating stack was possibly not built high enough, as it was not built as high as the Rutten company required. The reason was that a stack of the height required by the company might possibly be dangerous, owing to the high winds some time prevalent in this latitude, and if it was found that it needed to be built higher this could easily be done at any time.

"Having heard of complaints in that direction," continued Mr. Meylert, "the board have given instruction that the closets receive attention every day while school is in session, making it impossible for anything offensive or unhealthy to occur. The same system has been adopted in the city public schools, with every requirement demanded by the contractors, which bind them to give entire satisfaction, they (the company) being abundantly responsible that it shall work strictly according to contract, which will give heat and good ventilation, and will be wholly free from any possible offensive elements through the dry closet system." Mr. Meylert also stated that he was surprised at the various and malignant attacks against THE CITIZEN and Rev. Cristy in a morning paper, after requesting the editors to forego comments, as he thought THE CITIZEN had been misinformed, and that any further remarks would be detrimental to the institution.

MR. MEYLER'S SAY.

Mr. McNish, agent for the Smead Warming and Ventilating company, called at THE CITIZEN office this afternoon, and here is produced his remarks verbatim:

"My attention," said the gentleman, "has been called to an article in your last edition entitled 'Poor Ventilating System,' coming from Rev. Cristy, Secretary of the University. I am under instructions from the Smead Warming and Ventilating company, of Chicago, to give the necessary instructions for the successful operation of the system of warming, ventilating and closets at the University. Some time ago I was informed that there had been a little trouble on one or two occasions in one or two of the rooms. I gave some further instructions to the janitor, Mr. Custer. Prof. Ramsey stated to me this morning that they have had no trouble since that time and that the system was giving perfect satisfaction. Concerning what Rev. Cristy says of sickness, I have been unable to find a single case of sickness which can be attributed to the system or any part of it. As for the building smelling like a Railroad avenue alley out house, this is false. If Rev. Cristy or anybody else can show me in any room of the building where an odor from the dry closets can be discovered I will make them a present of $100. As to the system in Chicago, I will say that the system has never been taken from a school building in that city. Rev. Cristy is laboring under a delusion, and if he cares to, I will gladly show him where he has been misled."

Dr. Winslow states that the Rutten ventilating system is all right, but the trouble comes from the Smead closet system.

Gov. Stover, president of the faculty and also a member of the board of regents, called at THE CITIZEN office and he did not deny the charge contained in the small item that caused the wrath of a very venomous writer. He stated that he thought the trouble rested with the flues, and considered the matter very trivial, which could be readily remedied. He considered the system a good one, and spoke in high praise of the company, who were anxious that the workings should be satisfactory.

In company with G. W. Meylert and others a representative of THE CITIZEN visited the University Thursday afternoon, and thoroughly inspected the building, and conversed with the teachers in regard to the ventilating and closet system in use. Prof. Ramsey was positive in his assertion that the building was healthful, having gained twenty pounds this winter. He said he never smelled the stench complained of by Rev. Cristy. Prof. Gaines also stated that the building was well ventilated, though he was of the opinion that it was a bad idea putting the closets in the building. Mr. Custer, the janitor, was on duty, and was sure there was no ground for complaint. The newspaper man found nothing wrong. In fact, after breathing the air of a printing office for thirty years, he did not appear that any improvement could be made in that direction, and the amount of business transacted at the office is not sufficient to warrant any increase of service at present. In the matter of Cuba and Cabezón, it is found that between Laguna, the railroad point, and Cabezón, there are three distinct routes, and the impracticability of making close connections between these various routes, delays the mail between the above points some three or four days, in either direction; it has therefore been decided to establish a continuous route from Laguna to Cuba, with three times a week service thereon, under a schedule of thirty-six hours running time, each way. The route will run via Sotavento, Juan Taya, Casa Salazar, Cabezón, and will pass through several settlements, where there are no postoffices. The postmasters at the proposed terminal offices will be instructed to advertise for proposals for service as above, to begin July 1, 1893. It is believed that the change will be found to furnish the best service possible in the section named, and will be productive of the greatest good to the largest number.

W. D. Hartman, formerly a passenger conductor on the Atlantic & Pacific, but for the past three years running on the San Antonio & Aransas Pass road in Texas, and the Mexican Central in Mexico, dropped in upon his many friends from the south last night. Billy, as he is familiarly called, has some real estate in the city, and he desires to see how it has advanced with the town. After remaining here for a few days, he will return to Mexico, where he still retains his position on the Mexican Central.

COPPER RIVETED

OVERALLS AND LEVI STRAUSS & CO'S SPRING BOTTOM PANTS EVERY PAIR GUARANTEED.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Friendly to Gresham.

New York, Jan. 27.—John C. New may be succeeded as consul general at London, Jan. 27.—The information that comes from a source close enough to the political family of the president to warrant its being received with more consideration than usually attaches to a mere rumor. Owing to the independent attitude which he took at the last election Judge Gresham's name has been variously associated of late with a place upon the supreme bench of the United States in the event of a vacancy occurring after March 10th next, as well as with various foreign missions. Neither of these positions, however, would particularly commend themselves to the Indiana jurist simply because he is a poor man. The expense of living in style befitting the dignity of a supreme justice would amount almost every dollar of the salary attached to the position, while so far as the foreign missions are concerned, it is a notorious fact that the incumbents have to go down deep in their pockets to make up the difference between the government allowance and the actual cost of maintaining a legation in proper style. The consul generalship in London, however, while a post of considerable honor, is also a decidedly lucrative one; the salary being the same as that of a United States circuit judge, while it is more than doubled or trebled by the fees attached to the office. In fact four years of the consul generalship in London, would put the eminent jurist in decidedly easy financial circumstances, especially as his mode of life and tastes are exceedingly simple. Whether or not he has been mentioned on the matter is not known. He paid a sudden and unexpected visit to New York, however, about two weeks since, and it is believed that at that time he met the president-elect. If that should turn out to be the case, it would be one of the choicest plums that will be at the disposal of the incoming administration there will doubtless be a host from the straight-out democrats, but it is not likely to have any effect upon Grover Cleveland, who has already afforded evidence that he proposes to run things to suit himself.

Emperor's Birthday.
New York, Jan. 27.—A Berlin dispatch says: The Emperor William is celebrating today the 33rd anniversary of his birth. In honor of the event flags are generally displayed on public buildings throughout the empire, while in the city the display of hunting on business blocks and private residences is much more liberal than in previous years. Many festive gatherings will be held this afternoon and evening in different parts of the country in recognition of the event, and the officers of the various garrisons will give balls and banquets. The emperor received this morning a large number of congratulatory addresses and numerous congratulations by mail and telegraph. The queen and prince and princess of Wales were among the first to be heard from. And later a cordial dispatch was received from Mr. Gladstone. The emperor this morning received the congratulations of his family, and which were accompanied by several pleasing gifts. This evening he gives a state banquet at the castle, covers being laid for one hundred guests.

Celebrating Birth of the Pope.
Rome, Jan. 27.—The fact has developed that in the elaborate programme that has been arranged for the month of February in honor of the preconization of the Supreme Pontiff, no provision had been made for the recognition of the 33rd anniversary of the birth of his holiness, and which will be reached on March 2. The programme has therefore been arranged to provide for solemn functions in the various churches, while the Supreme Pontiff will celebrate mass in St. Peter's, and will also give a special reception to pilgrims. A banquet will also be held under the auspices of a large number of members of the Roman nobility. The venerable head of the church continues in remarkably good health and spirits, and looks forward with the zest of youth to the numerous ceremonies of the coming month.

The Historic Well.
Philadelphia, Jan. 27.—Sometime in April the Old Liberty Bell is to be taken from Independence Hall to Chicago, there to be placed on exhibition at the World's Fair, and a programme is being mapped out that will make the journey of the venerable relic a triumphal one. Stops are to be made at all of the large cities on the way to the west and Old Liberty will be welcomed and garlanded with flowers with as much heartiness as though it were a living, breathing thing, and capable of appreciating the homage paid to it. At Harrisburg the house and senate will adjourn, and an elaborate reception programme will be carried out.

Weekly Citizen

(From the Daily, January 21.)

D. D. Harkness, the hotel man of Cerillos, is at the Windsor.

Wm. McIntosh, the Sandia sheep raiser, is visiting Santa Fe.

W. M. Montfort is reported to be quite sick at home on south Second street.

R. C. Dryden, the Atlantic & Pacific surgeon at Winslow, is at the San Felipe.

Mrs. J. W. Greene, wife of an Atlantic & Pacific brakeman, is quite ill with pneumonia.

The little child of George Hofheimes, who has been severely ill, is reported much better to day.

The University team won the foot ball match this afternoon, beating the Academy team 8 to nothing.

T. N. Wilkerson, a young lawyer, who has been to Las Vegas on business, returned to the city last night.

W. A. Skinner, manager of the Albuquerque house of H. M. Hosick & Co., wool dealers, has returned from Kansas City.

Mrs. Hubbs and her interesting family of daughters have rented the house No. 200 on Gold avenue and gone to housekeeping.

G. L. Brooks, president of the Commercial club, who has been suffering with neuritis in his head, was out on the street this morning.

Col. W. S. Williams, of Socorro, was at the Armijo last night. The colonel is an applicant for re-appointment as prosecuting attorney for his district.

Mrs. Jas. Doyle, aunt of P. J. McCann, left last night for Oswego, N. Y., after a very pleasant sojourn in this city.

C. M. Doyle, her son, will remain among his friends of the metropolis.

Mrs. E. J. Sayre, who was recently called to Winfield, Kansas, in response to a telegram that her daughter was very ill, has returned home. Mrs. Sayre left her daughter rapidly improving, and no fears of a relapse.

T. G. Muller, the new trainmaster on the Santa Fe road between Albuquerque and Raton, with headquarters at Las Vegas, accompanied by his wife, came down from the north last night, and have a comfortable room at the European.

Charles and John Schroeder will soon start up a steam bakery. They will construct a bake shop in south Albuquerque, but will have their store near the center of the city. Both being capital bakers, there is no reason why they should not succeed.

C. W. King, whom Acting Marshal Chavez arrested on suspicion, of being one of the two men who held up and robbed F. C. Gaines, was discharged by Justice Madden on the charge of robbery, but as a vag he was sent to the chain gang for ten days.

H. T. McKinney, the old Sandia miner who gives up mining in the winter and follows some other occupation in the city, took his friend, J. P. Dennett, of Wisconsin, out to the Star and Malaga group of mines in Hell canon yesterday. Mr. Dennett formerly resided in this city, and he was pleased to see the work done on the mines during his absence.

J. T. Green, son of Dr. Green, of Howell, Indiana, died on the east-bound train this morning. Undertaker Strong was notified, and accompanied the remains up the road, in order to embalm the body en route. The deceased was in this city a few weeks ago, out feeling that he would fare better in Southern California left for the west, and now the train is taking his remains home.

The shooting in the Highlands on last Thursday night came from J. C. Marshall. He discovered in his yard a pole cat, and as the animal is not a very pleasant, sweet one to have around where flowers grow in abundance, Mr. Marshall got his revolver and commenced pumping lead into the animal. He finally killed the pole cat, and will keep the animal on exhibition as a sample of his marksmanship.

George C. Howland, the printer who signs his name to cards and five minutes later wants to apologize for so doing, is at Santa Fe. The other evening, while working on the Sun and while none of the editors were at the office, he and another printer laid down their sticks and quit. The Sun was stuck for several hours by such unfaithfulness, but George the next morning had a patched-up excuse and even begged to be taken back.

The Citizen understands that a few days ago $20,000 was offered by a company for a piece of corner property on the plaza of Santa Fe, and our informant incidentally remarked that the company making the offer, if the bargain was accepted, would erect a handsome opera house at an early day. Santa Fe is a good old town, with a lot of good people, who know how to entertain and please, and The Citizen would like to see such an enterprise going up in the capital.

Old Friends Meet.

E. H. Maoy, the accommodating and worthy manager of the Miss Marie Heath company, and W. H. Burke, familiarly known as "The Judge," were boys together over fifteen years ago back in Ottumwa, Iowa, that wonderful city where over a million gallons of iodine oil is used every twenty-four hours to oil the axle of the revolving world. Mr. Maoy's parents reside at Ottumwa, and he and "The Judge" played marbles together, fought each other with snow balls, and paid court to the same pretty Irish girl over fifteen years ago, and the meeting this afternoon between the two was indeed a very pleasant one.

Mr. Maoy likes the west and told many interesting stories about his career in the Rocky mountains and among the seasons of the western slope, but it is related by a few friends who overheard them talking that his stories were not a marker to those told by Mr. Burke. He everlastingly let himself loose, and he had more narrow escapes, thrilling adventures and clipping Indians with rifle balls from every bunch of oysters than is contained in the best ten cent novel ever written. Mr. Maoy also found an old Ottumwa friend in Capt. John Gray, of Santa Fe.

MARRIED UNDER A BELL OF FLOWERS.

Miss Nettie Blanche Lamm to Louis B. Mandell of Albuquerque, N. M.

The marriage of Miss Nettie Blanche Lamm to Louis B. Mandell, of Albuquerque, N. M., was celebrated beneath a gorgeous bell of roses, carnations and hyacinths at the Standard club at 7 o'clock last evening. The Rev. Dr. Emil Hirsch performed the ceremony. The bride, who is Miss Nettie Lamm, and Miss Rose Mandell, sister of the bride and bridesmaid respectively. Abe Lamm, a brother of the bride, was the groom's best man. Two little girls, Carrie Lamm and Bertha Mandell, relatives of the bride party, strewn flowers in the path of the procession. The guests, who included many of the bridegroom's friends from New York and Albuquerque, were entertained at supper, which was followed by dancing.

The above clipping is taken from the Chicago Tribune, and The Citizen gladly gives it space. Miss Lamm, now Mrs. Mandell, was a visitor to Albuquerque sometime ago, and it was while here that Louis "met, wooed and won" her heart and hand. She is a very pretty young lady, possessing in a marked degree the three happy graces, and to her and Louis Mandell, whom we all know, The Citizen extends its very best congratulations for an extremely happy married life.

The Deputy Sheriff.

It is now a positive conclusion that Jesus Garcia will remain in the sheriff's office. He is a most excellent office deputy, and during the four years he was with ex-Sheriff Perea he proved competent in every particular and accommodating to the public. Sheriff Yriarri can not find a better man, in a house to house canvass in the whole territory, for under Sheriff Perea, and The Citizen is really glad to understand that he will be found in harness for the next two years.

The deputy sheriff, who will do the outside work—the same as was performed by ex-Deputy Sheriff Tom Hubbell—is Pablo Anala. The gentleman came to Bernalillo county from one of the northern counties a few years ago, and has proved a capital interpreter, being a ready scholar in both the English and Spanish languages. He is conservative in his views, is not a bo-ho-head or mean in disposition, and The Citizen has every reason to believe that he will prove very acceptable to the people.

Until Sheriff Yriarri gets fairly indoctrinated into and acquainted with the office, ex-Sheriff Perea will render valuable assistance.

Old and Valuable Paper.

Yesterday, Major Rankin had photographed a valuable document, upon which is written the following words, the writer being the major's great grandfather:

I hereby certify to all whom it may concern that I, Sam'l W. Doab, of Greene county and state of Tennessee, the only lawful owner or proprietor of the following people of color named Ned and Jude, are hereby permitted to go free from servitude. Also Japs, Nancy and Lucinda are to be free on their fully, decently and comfortably supporting Ned while he lives and burying him decently at his death, and also on their paying a note I hold on them for one hundred and fifty dollars; also Elnelene, the wife of Edward Gladden, a free man of color, is to be free on his or her paying a note I hold on them for one hundred dollars.

As witness my hand and seal this 18th day of December, 1834.

SAM'L W. DOAB, (SEAL).

The major states that the notes alluded to were for teams that took them from Tennessee to Ohio. In 1837 the old gentleman freed all his colored help, and sent them to Ohio.

The Night Maid of Workers.

W. F. McLaughlin, the post trader, and Clark M. Carr, the ranchman, two young, active and progressive gentlemen who have been watching the doings of the territorial legislature for the past few days, came down from Santa Fe last night and are at the European.

They state that the house yesterday wrangled almost all day over the county bill, and adjourned without accomplishing anything of interest to the people. These two gentlemen are made up of the right kind of vim and vigor to be sent as workers among the legislators, and as they are favorable to a new county out their way, The Citizen would like to see them successful. We will pull the strings; let the others do the work. The gentlemen will remain in the city to day, leaving this evening for their homes at Wingate.

Ditches and Dams.

C. W. Lewis, who has the contract to build eight or ten miles of ditch and two dams for the Fruit Vale colonists on the Rio Puerco, drove into the city last evening for some supplies, and returned to his work this morning, accompanied by Col. A. F. Spaw, president of the Colonization company, and W. F. Behrens, the civil engineer and surveyor. Mr. Lewis informs The Citizen that at present there is plenty of flowing water in the Rio Puerco. He expects to complete his contract in about sixty days, when the colonists will no doubt arrange for more ditch construction. Mr. Lewis has twenty men and fifteen teams at work.

The success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in effecting a speedy cure of colds, croup and whooping cough has brought it into great demand. Messrs. Pontius & Son, of Cameron, Ohio, say that it has gained a reputation second to none in the world. Jas. M. Queen, of Johnston, W. Va., says it is the best he ever used. B. F. Jones, drugist, Winona, Minn., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is perfectly reliable. I have always warranted it and it never failed to give the most perfect satisfaction." 50 cent bottles for sale by T. H. Burgess & Son, druggists.

THE FACTS.

A Retarded Traveler Tells About the New Gold Fields.

As everything written about the San Juan gold fields is of interest, whether it is upholding the supposed wealth of the placers, or telling straight facts about them, The Citizen reproduces the following from the Denver Times, which is no doubt truthful in every respect:

"I have just returned from the San Juan gold fields in Southern Utah," says Harry S. Morton, as he stood in the Union depot lobby, "and if you will allow me I will quietly tell you about the land of cold weather and frozen potatoes. I'm going to Winnipeg, that's my home; I'm going to stay there. Early last fall I took a trip down the east side of the Mississippi river, intending to stay in Louisiana or Florida during the winter; instead I left the California river and left for Los Angeles. I went to Yuma, Ariz., and stayed a few days, and from there made for Flagstaff. I stayed in Flagstaff until rumors of the great gold fields came to my ears and being fond of a little excitement, I pulled out for the diggings where the field was comparatively new. There were 15 in our party, and we journeyed most of the way by wagon, taking with us provisions to last us, as we thought for three months. About six weeks ago we arrived right at the center of the alleged gold fields and found enough men on the grounds to gubble all the good claims in sight. The whole scheme was a put up job to boom the place and make money. Men were sent in there and would work this scheme. These men would locate claims side by side; after filing their claims, the last two to locate would sell out to the first for a mere song and work the same thing over again. In this manner each man acquired from eight to ten claims, and then when the whole business had been out and dried they located the field. There is gold there, lots of it, but no man could wash out more than $10 per day, and even if you did, with board costing from $15 to $20 per day and flour $10 a hundred, ham $2 a pound and salt pork cheap at $30 a barrel, what can a man expect?"

"Things are boomed all out of proportion. If a fellow were a millionaire he might invest in real estate in some of the camps, and reap some benefit, but as a placer miner, he would not be in it. By the way you have a fine climate in this country for this time of the year. I should like to stay for a few days, but must go north, as business is pushing me. Thanks, good bye, this is my train."

(From the Daily, January 23.)

A. M. Berger, of Los Lunas, was in the city yesterday.

F. G. Bartlett, a business gentleman of Magdalena, is in the city.

H. D. McCarty, who has been to Denver on business, returned home last night.

Will Montfort, who had a slight attack of pneumonia, is reported much better this morning.

The Citizen received a number of Columbian half dollars this morning, and every employee of the office was presented with one.

Mrs. W. E. Martin and Miss Carrie Fisher registered last evening at the Armijo from Socorro.

O. F. Reubens, formerly of this city, now at Ash Fork, is in the city, and has a room at the Armijo.

James B. Fraley, the quarryman at Fraley's station, near San Antonio, came from the south last night, and is registered at the San Felipe.

A. C. Baxter, manager of the "50" outfit, a cattle company near Deming, passed through the city last night for home. His trip east is on business.

A. Staab, father-in-law of Nos. 11 and 12, and the Santa Fe wholesale and retail merchant, is in the city taking in the delightful winter of the Rio Grande valley.

J. Van Pease, representing the St. Louis, Mo., Republic, is making a tour of the southwest country. He is here to day, and has his name on the San Felipe register.

A. M. Anderson, the champion duck hunter of Cerillos, who came to the coal mining town from Kansas, is in the city and is at the Windsor. Mr. Anderson runs the Rustler.

Mrs. S. T. Mills and two daughters arrived from San Bernardino, California, this morning to take care of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Green, who has had a severe attack of pneumonia fever.

J. H. Matthews, who sells merchandise to the country people in the vicinity of Cuba, up in the Jemez mountains is here laying in a stock of goods. Mr. Matthews will remain for a few days, and is at the San Felipe.

Judge J. R. McFie, of Las Cruces, one of the associate judges of the territory, went north last night to attend the session of the territorial supreme court which convened at Santa Fe this morning. Judge McFie is also in attendance.

Sheriff Sanders, of Sierra county, who is making as good a sheriff for his county as Joe Perea made for Bernalillo county in the way of collecting taxes and accounting for every cent to the proper officials, passed up the road last night for Santa Fe.

The White Ox "Old Abe" says: "J. F. Gooch left yesterday for—well, it's hard to tell. He said he didn't know just where he would locate, but thought that either Albuquerque or El Paso would strike him about right. Case of chance with him. Heads or tails?"

The city park is needing attention. A small expenditure each year would keep the park in trim condition. It is said that A. C. Shears, the tree dealer, offers to donate 100 ornamental trees to be planted in the park. This is liberal, and the city council should accept the offer.

John Barralough and wife, who went to Chicago with Miss Nettie Barralough, returned home last night. Miss Nettie was left at Chicago to attend school. She was at the Kenwood Institute when that school was destroyed by fire a few days ago, and had the misfortune to lose by fire several trunks of clothing.

A small fire occurred at F. Valentini's on north Third street yesterday afternoon. The stove pipe of the stove in one of the police rooms was red-hot, and wood around the pipe at the point where

DEATH OF E. H. HATE.

An Atlantic & Pacific Brakeman Dies of Pneumonia.

Last Saturday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock at the Atlantic & Pacific hospital, E. H. Hate, a well known and popular freight brakeman between this city and Gallup, died after a brief illness from pneumonia. A few days before he was taken down with the fatal disease, he had just been released from the hospital, being cured of a hurt he had received in a wreck, and although the very best medical attention and care was bestowed upon him, the pneumonia carried him away to that everlasting peace and sleep. He was a member in excellent standing of Mineral lodge, No. 1, K. of P., and was also a member of the Albuquerque lodge, No. 442, B. of R. T. These two lodges were very solicitous of his case, and E. D. Fluke, of the Mineral lodge, telegraphed his sickness before death to his parents at Dyersburg, Tenn., and also broke the news to them when death closed his eyes. Today Messrs. Fluke and Homer, the latter gentleman a member of the B. of R. T., received a dispatch from the father to have the remains embalmed and shipped to him at once for burial. The body will leave this evening on No. 2 for Dyersburg, Tenn., having been embalmed by Undertaker Montfort, and W. G. McCormick, a brother brakeman, will accompany the remains to the sad Tennessee home. The deceased was only 27 years of age, and was well liked among the railroaders and others who knew him. The lodge provided the corpse with a handsome black cloth covered metallic casket.

(From the Daily, January 24.)

M. P. Dalton and wife register at the San Felipe from Denver.

Simon Neustadt, of the Los Lunas Mercantile company, is in the city.

J. B. Petrie, a miner and business gentleman of Magdalena, is at the European.

Louis Solzbacher, the lawyer, is in the city on business, and is at the San Felipe.

Mrs. E. B. Soper and daughter and T. L. Watson, of Emmetsburg, Iowa, are at the European.

W. H. Hahn, the Second street barber, was out walking yesterday. He has been sick the past few weeks.

E. A. Watkins and wife, of Superior, Wis., and A. H. Frost, of Chicago, are eastern people visiting the Rio Grande valley.

Ed. Lavalle writes to The Citizen from Big Springs, Texas, that he and wife will return to this city some time this year, when Ed will renew old friends. He is getting along finely.

About six months ago the city council ordered water mains laid on Fourth street from Copper avenue to the mountain road. Does any one know that such work has been performed?

"The band always takes the lead?" is a saying the boys at the San Felipe are remarking to Maylett Bruner, S. W. Stryker, the Stetson hat man from Philadelphia, is responsible for the joke.

Mrs. W. F. Kuchentoecker and son came down from Santa Fe last night, and this morning went on to her home at Gallup with Mrs. T. N. Hinch. They stopped between trains at the European.

Tom Wade, who with Boyd, conducted a black coked show in this city in the early days, has opened a variety show in Motley's opera house, Santa Fe. Tom is a thorough showman, and he will succeed.

S. H. Chavez, a brother of Adolfo Chavez, will leave tomorrow morning for Clinton, Mo., to visit relatives and friends. After his visit there, he will go to Parkville, Mo., where he will attend school.

Col. Walt G. Marmon came in from Laguna last night, and is around talking militia with Capt. Hennershaets and Baldrige. He will return home this evening, but expects to be in Santa Fe in a few days.

Mrs. Graham, the well known and competent milliner on North Third street, will leave in a few days for the eastern cities, for the purpose of replenishing her stock with the latest spring and summer millinery.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. Pearce, while cleaning and fixing one of the glass cells of his electric battery, run the sharp point of the instrument he was using into the left thumb, severing the artery. The wound is very painful.

He deserves the office of mayor, and will receive the unanimous nomination. Reference is made to A. E. Walker. In addition to his many other excellent qualifications, this morning he was presented by his excellent wife with a twelve pound boy. May the youngster inherit the many good traits of both father and mother.

The Citizen learned yesterday afternoon that Jos. Barnett, the junior member of the St. Elmo firm, contemplates at an early day the tearing down or removing away of the small frame houses on the lots at the corner of Second street and Silver avenue, and erecting thereon a handsome two-story brick business building. Such a building would improve that popular street immensely.

A. L. Van Antwerp, the Santa Fe company's assistant live stock agent, was a particular admirer of Bishop Philip Brooks, the Boston divine whose death is announced in the telegraphic columns of this morning's Democrat. Mr. Van Antwerp states that Bishop Brooks was the most powerful preacher he ever listened to, and his church lost a valuable exponent of God's word.

S. B. Higgins, of the Arizona Sandstone company, headquarters at Los Angeles, came in from the west last night and is here on business. It is understood that Mr. Higgins learned at Prescott Junction that United States officers had C. L. Hubbs under arrest for violation of the Edwards' act and that as soon as he was well enough to travel he

DEATH OF E. H. HATE.

An Atlantic & Pacific Brakeman Dies of Pneumonia.

Last Saturday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock at the Atlantic & Pacific hospital, E. H. Hate, a well known and popular freight brakeman between this city and Gallup, died after a brief illness from pneumonia. A few days before he was taken down with the fatal disease, he had just been released from the hospital, being cured of a hurt he had received in a wreck, and although the very best medical attention and care was bestowed upon him, the pneumonia carried him away to that everlasting peace and sleep. He was a member in excellent standing of Mineral lodge, No. 1, K. of P., and was also a member of the Albuquerque lodge, No. 442, B. of R. T. These two lodges were very solicitous of his case, and E. D. Fluke, of the Mineral lodge, telegraphed his sickness before death to his parents at Dyersburg, Tenn., and also broke the news to them when death closed his eyes. Today Messrs. Fluke and Homer, the latter gentleman a member of the B. of R. T., received a dispatch from the father to have the remains embalmed and shipped to him at once for burial. The body will leave this evening on No. 2 for Dyersburg, Tenn., having been embalmed by Undertaker Montfort, and W. G. McCormick, a brother brakeman, will accompany the remains to the sad Tennessee home. The deceased was only 27 years of age, and was well liked among the railroaders and others who knew him. The lodge provided the corpse with a handsome black cloth covered metallic casket.

(From the Daily, January 24.)

M. P. Dalton and wife register at the San Felipe from Denver.

Simon Neustadt, of the Los Lunas Mercantile company, is in the city.

J. B. Petrie, a miner and business gentleman of Magdalena, is at the European.

Louis Solzbacher, the lawyer, is in the city on business, and is at the San Felipe.

Mrs. E. B. Soper and daughter and T. L. Watson, of Emmetsburg, Iowa, are at the European.

W. H. Hahn, the Second street barber, was out walking yesterday. He has been sick the past few weeks.

E. A. Watkins and wife, of Superior, Wis., and A. H. Frost, of Chicago, are eastern people visiting the Rio Grande valley.

Ed. Lavalle writes to The Citizen from Big Springs, Texas, that he and wife will return to this city some time this year, when Ed will renew old friends. He is getting along finely.

About six months ago the city council ordered water mains laid on Fourth street from Copper avenue to the mountain road. Does any one know that such work has been performed?

"The band always takes the lead?" is a saying the boys at the San Felipe are remarking to Maylett Bruner, S. W. Stryker, the Stetson hat man from Philadelphia, is responsible for the joke.

Mrs. W. F. Kuchentoecker and son came down from Santa Fe last night, and this morning went on to her home at Gallup with Mrs. T. N. Hinch. They stopped between trains at the European.

Tom Wade, who with Boyd, conducted a black coked show in this city in the early days, has opened a variety show in Motley's opera house, Santa Fe. Tom is a thorough showman, and he will succeed.

S. H. Chavez, a brother of Adolfo Chavez, will leave tomorrow morning for Clinton, Mo., to visit relatives and friends. After his visit there, he will go to Parkville, Mo., where he will attend school.

Col. Walt G. Marmon came in from Laguna last night, and is around talking militia with Capt. Hennershaets and Baldrige. He will return home this evening, but expects to be in Santa Fe in a few days.

Mrs. Graham, the well known and competent milliner on North Third street, will leave in a few days for the eastern cities, for the purpose of replenishing her stock with the latest spring and summer millinery.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. Pearce, while cleaning and fixing one of the glass cells of his electric battery, run the sharp point of the instrument he was using into the left thumb, severing the artery. The wound is very painful.

He deserves the office of mayor, and will receive the unanimous nomination. Reference is made to A. E. Walker. In addition to his many other excellent qualifications, this morning he was presented by his excellent wife with a twelve pound boy. May the youngster inherit the many good traits of both father and mother.

The Citizen learned yesterday afternoon that Jos. Barnett, the junior member of the St. Elmo firm, contemplates at an early day the tearing down or removing away of the small frame houses on the lots at the corner of Second street and Silver avenue, and erecting thereon a handsome two-story brick business building. Such a building would improve that popular street immensely.

A. L. Van Antwerp, the Santa Fe company's assistant live stock agent, was a particular admirer of Bishop Philip Brooks, the Boston divine whose death is announced in the telegraphic columns of this morning's Democrat. Mr. Van Antwerp states that Bishop Brooks was the most powerful preacher he ever listened to, and his church lost a valuable exponent of God's word.

S. B. Higgins, of the Arizona Sandstone company, headquarters at Los Angeles, came in from the west last night and is here on business. It is understood that Mr. Higgins learned at Prescott Junction that United States officers had C. L. Hubbs under arrest for violation of the Edwards' act and that as soon as he was well enough to travel he

DEATH OF E. H. HATE.

An Atlantic & Pacific Brakeman Dies of Pneumonia.

Last Saturday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock at the Atlantic & Pacific hospital, E. H. Hate, a well known and popular freight brakeman between this city and Gallup, died after a brief illness from pneumonia. A few days before he was taken down with the fatal disease, he had just been released from the hospital, being cured of a hurt he had received in a wreck, and although the very best medical attention and care was bestowed upon him, the pneumonia carried him away to that everlasting peace and sleep. He was a member in excellent standing of Mineral lodge, No. 1, K. of P., and was also a member of the Albuquerque lodge, No. 442, B. of R. T. These two lodges were very solicitous of his case, and E. D. Fluke, of the Mineral lodge, telegraphed his sickness before death to his parents at Dyersburg, Tenn., and also broke the news to them when death closed his eyes. Today Messrs. Fluke and Homer, the latter gentleman a member of the B. of R. T., received a dispatch from the father to have the remains embalmed and shipped to him at once for burial. The body will leave this evening on No. 2 for Dyersburg, Tenn., having been embalmed by Undertaker Montfort, and W. G. McCormick, a brother brakeman, will accompany the remains to the sad Tennessee home. The deceased was only 27 years of age, and was well liked among the railroaders and others who knew him. The lodge provided the corpse with a handsome black cloth covered metallic casket.

(From the Daily, January 24.)

M. P. Dalton and wife register at the San Felipe from Denver.

Simon Neustadt, of the Los Lunas Mercantile company, is in the city.

J. B. Petrie, a miner and business gentleman of Magdalena, is at the European.

Louis Solzbacher, the lawyer, is in the city on business, and is at the San Felipe.

Mrs. E. B. Soper and daughter and T. L. Watson, of Emmetsburg, Iowa, are at the European.

W. H. Hahn, the Second street barber, was out walking yesterday. He has been sick the past few weeks.

E. A. Watkins and wife, of Superior, Wis., and A. H. Frost, of Chicago, are eastern people visiting the Rio Grande valley.

Ed. Lavalle writes to The Citizen from Big Springs, Texas, that he and wife will return to this city some time this year, when Ed will renew old friends. He is getting along finely.

About six months ago the city council ordered water mains laid on Fourth street from Copper avenue to the mountain road. Does any one know that such work has been performed?

"The band always takes the lead?" is a saying the boys at the San Felipe are remarking to Maylett Bruner, S. W. Stryker, the Stetson hat man from Philadelphia, is responsible for the joke.

Mrs. W. F. Kuchentoecker and son came down from Santa Fe last night, and this morning went on to her home at Gallup with Mrs. T. N. Hinch. They stopped between trains at the European.

Tom Wade, who with Boyd, conducted a black coked show in this city in the early days, has opened a variety show in Motley's opera house, Santa Fe. Tom is a thorough showman, and he will succeed.

S. H. Chavez, a brother of Adolfo Chavez, will leave tomorrow morning for Clinton, Mo., to visit relatives and friends. After his visit there, he will go to Parkville, Mo., where he will attend school.

Col. Walt G. Marmon came in from Laguna last night, and is around talking militia with Capt. Hennershaets and Baldrige. He will return home this evening, but expects to be in Santa Fe in a few days.

Mrs. Graham, the well known and competent milliner on North Third street, will leave in a few days for the eastern cities, for the purpose of replenishing her stock with the latest spring and summer millinery.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. Pearce, while cleaning and fixing one of the glass cells of his electric battery, run the sharp point of the instrument he was using into the left thumb, severing the artery. The wound is very painful.

He deserves the office of mayor, and will receive the unanimous nomination. Reference is made to A. E. Walker. In addition to his many other excellent qualifications, this morning he was presented by his excellent wife with a twelve pound boy. May the youngster inherit the many good traits of both father and mother.

The Citizen learned yesterday afternoon that Jos. Barnett, the junior member of the St. Elmo firm, contemplates at an early day the tearing down or removing away of the small frame houses on the lots at the corner of Second street and Silver avenue, and erecting thereon a handsome two-story brick business building. Such a building would improve that popular street immensely.

A. L. Van Antwerp, the Santa Fe company's assistant live stock agent, was a particular admirer of Bishop Philip Brooks, the Boston divine whose death is announced in the telegraphic columns of this morning's Democrat. Mr. Van Antwerp states that Bishop Brooks was the most powerful preacher he ever listened to, and his church lost a valuable exponent of God's word.

S. B. Higgins, of the Arizona Sandstone company, headquarters at Los Angeles, came in from the west last night and is here on business. It is understood that Mr. Higgins learned at Prescott Junction that United States officers had C. L. Hubbs under arrest for violation of the Edwards' act and that as soon as he was well enough to travel he

HINKLE'S DEFENSE.

He Has a Perfect Right to Talk With-out Being Abused.

Hon. H. B. Ferguson, the democratic lawyer who has many friends on our side of the fence for his fair, open manner of fighting

Weekly Citizen

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE COUNTY.
THOMAS HUGHES, Editor.
ALBUQUERQUE, - JAN. 28, 1905.
PUBLISHED DAILY AND WEEKLY.
Entered as Second Class Matter at the Albuquerque Post Office.

Terms of Subscription:
Daily by mail, one year $5.00
Daily by mail, six months $3.00
Daily by mail, three months $1.50
Delivered in city by carrier, per week $1.00
Weekly, by mail, one year $2.00

Advertising rates made known on applying at office of publication.
Office—No. 113 West 10th Avenue
Address, THOMAS HUGHES, Proprietor.

(From the Daily, January 27.)
J. Placido Romero is in the city from Peralta, Valencia county.

D. W. Underwood, a sheep buyer from Shelton, Neb., is at the San Felipe.

The Armojo now has a night clerk. It is Elmer Armojo, and he is competent to fill the place.

Eutonio Montoya, a business gentleman of San Antonio, Socorro county, is at the Armojo.

Leon Lamm, a brother-in-law of L. D. Mandel, is again with us. He likes the climate here.

The funeral of Dr. Henriquez at Las Vegas this afternoon was conducted by the Knights Templar.

C. M. Taylor, master mechanic for the Santa Fe road south of the city, is at the European from San Marcial.

M. S. Otero, Dr. Harrison and others from this city, are in Las Vegas today, attending the funeral of Dr. Henriquez.

A full dress party was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hostetter last evening. It was a splendid affair, and hugely enjoyed.

Mrs. Lizzie Bernard, in order to escape the frigid climate of Port Huron, Mich., is at the European, arriving from the north last night.

The mother and sister of Felix Bion, the young Spanish lawyer, are expected in the city in a few days from Trinidad, when they will become permanent citizens of the metropolis.

W. S. French, the junior member of the live stock commission firm of Manby & French, Trinidad, came down from the north last night, for the purpose of purchasing a lot of sheep.

Chas. Zeiger lingers out on his Arizona cattle ranch. During his absence, Messrs. Geach and Coleman are arranging all details for the early opening of the wholesale liquor store.

Judge H. L. Warren and B. S. Roddy went to Santa Fe this morning on legal business. Mr. Roddy will do some talking among the legislators in regard to the passage of the act giving women the right to vote upon certain measures.

Mrs. C. G. Lett, wife of Col. Lett, the Second street second hand dealer, received a telegram this morning informing her of the death of her father, George F. Wilson, of Freeport, Illinois, last night. The deceased was 95 years old.

H. J. Robbins, a prominent sheep owner of Shelton, Neb., who shipped out of the territory a large number of cars of sheep last year, is again in the city to superintend the shipping of a great many sheep from Albuquerque and Magdalena in the next few weeks.

An insane woman in old town is in a deplorable condition and needing attention. The Sisters of Charity are doing all they can for the unfortunate, but the woman is so violent that it is hard to do anything to help her. The insane asylum is badly needed.

Judge H. L. Waldo, the railroad counselor for the Santa Fe company at the territorial capital, came down from the north last night. It is supposed the judge is here on the viaduct matter, for his company is interested in the construction of it. He is registered at the San Felipe.

The New Mexican says: From various quarters there seems to be increased appreciation of the future of Santa Fe real estate. It is understood that Gov. Prince has received a very substantial offer from Albuquerque parties for his property on Palace avenue, and also for some lots that he owns near the depot. The transaction, however, has not yet been concluded, it being still in the state of negotiation.

Major D. L. Shipley, the excellent Navajo Indian agent at Fort Defiance, accompanied by his wife, came in from the west last night and they have a room at Mrs. Perrin's. The major and wife are on their way to Santa Fe, to visit their daughter, Miss Florence, who is attending school there. The major reports everything quiet among the Indians, and also states that the weather, while it has been cold, has not been disagreeable out on the reservation.

H. U. Mudge, formerly division superintendent for the Santa Fe road south of the city, now stationed at Pueblo, Col., is here, and is arranging to remove his household effects to Pueblo this afternoon. The superintendent, Mrs. Mudge and children will go north this evening in Division Superintendent Drye's private coach No. 105. The residence on south Arno street vacated by Mr. Mudge will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Healy. Mrs. Healy is at present visiting at Topeka, but will return home in about a week.

General Weaver.
P. H. Smith, editor and proprietor of the Colfax County Democrat, registers at the European from Haton, and made a pleasant call at THE CITIZEN office this morning. Mr. Smith attended the New Mexico Press association at Santa Fe the other day, and came here to meet Gen. J. B. Weaver, the late People's party candidate for president of the United States, who is expected to arrive from Tucson, Arizona, this evening. The general has been down in Arizona speaking upon the silver question and the issues advocated at the late general election by his party, and is now on his way to Iowa. Mr. Smith states that the general would like to stop over in the metropolis, and make a few speeches in the territory upon the great issues at stake, but pressing business at his Iowa home will prevent him this time. About twelve years ago, when General Weaver was the national candidate for the presidency on the Greenback ticket, Mr. Smith was publishing the State Tribune at Topeka, Kansas, and the two canvassed that state together in the interest of the Greenback party.

His Domestic Success.
Surveyor General E. F. Hobart, passed through the city of Washington, where he will make a personal canvass of the eastern interest of the bill making certain amendments to the act establishing the court of private land claims. Gen. Hobart makes this trip because he feels it his conscientious duty to do all in his power to bring about the change whereby the thousands of poor people now and for twenty five years or more past occupying lands, which they firmly believe their own, shall not have such homes placed in jeopardy. The whole trouble has arisen from the inability to make the men of congress understand that Mexican holdings cannot be conformed to the square divisions of land which the American government has adopted. It will be the crime of the age if the law shall be so changed as to allow of these long and narrow holdings being saved to the native people.—Las Vegas Optic

Robbers Caught.
After an exciting chase of six hours Constable McClintock, Monday evening captured the authors of Sunday night's robberies in the vicinity of Florida station, together with the greater part of the stolen property. The robbers were making their escape along the road, carrying their plunder in a large sack. They were arrested and brought to Deming, and Tuesday committed to Silver City to await trial at the coming term of court.

The robbers as was surmised, were tramps, and gave their name as Frank Brann and Frank Johnson. Early Tuesday morning they made a desperate attempt to cut their way out of the city lock up, tools having been furnished them by some companions on the outside. McClintock appeared on the scene and foiled the scheme. Both are citizens of the toughest stamp, and are entitled to the full extent of the law.—Silver City Enterprise

Albuquerque Air Line Speculations.
The presence of Donald Allen, general manager of the Pecon valley railway, at this time, is considered significant. Mr. Allen was for many years division superintendent of the West and Northwestern and Texas Central, when those two roads constituted the northwestern division of the Houston and Texas Central. He is intimately acquainted with the railway geography of the region traversed by those lines and "he may be here" said a railway manager this morning, "with a view to looking after the extension of the Pecon valley railway to Albany, there to connect with the Texas Central, with a view to creating an air line in connection with Mr. Huntington's road from Galveston to Albuquerque, New Mexico."

Troubled.
Last night, Siegfried Grunsfeld, city clerk, attended in his capacity as clerk the lively special meeting of the city council, and when he went to his room in the Yonahri lodging building at 11 o'clock he discovered that some person had called previously and stolen three suits of clothes from the rack, one of the suits being brand new. He values the loss at $125. The colored woman who occasionally cleans up the rooms, was suspected, but a search of her premises showed no grounds for suspicion. Siegfried is very disconsolate to-day, but as he is well flushed with ready cash he will not materially miss the loss.

Foot Ballists.
When will the Albuquerque team get ready to play foot ball with Santa Fe's crack eleven? This is what the local kickers want to know, you know.

The above item is clipped from the New Mexican, and is referred to Lieut. Salmarsch, who had charge of our team, for some definite action. If the lieutenant hasn't the time to devote to the exercise, THE CITIZEN suggests that Harry Owen and Hugh Morrison take charge of the local kickers, and get them in shape to meet the Santa Fe boys.

A Wonderful Engine.
Cannot Be Surpassed.
An engine exerting surpassing power is always a source of wonder, and yet how many are entirely forgetful of the evidence which themselves of an engine more powerful and enduring than any ever invented. Not perhaps until they experience irregular pulse, heart fluttering, tenderness in shoulder and arm, swollen neck, asthmatic breathing, weak and hungry spine, and "berie," short breath, or pain in side, when its existence is no longer to be denied, as the possessor must know he has heart disease. Mrs. LeBar, Fitchburg, Mich., had heart disease fifteen years; had to hire house help; lived on liquid food, used Dr. Miles heart cure and all symptoms left her. Continued use cured her. Sold by T. H. Burgess & Son, on a guarantee, who will give a doctor's book free.

Spot Cash.
This afternoon Cristobal Armojo, the rich old town citizen, purchased through Borradaile & McClellan a portion of the Armojo house—that portion occupied by the hotel saloon and bar saloon—from the Armojo's heirs for $10,000 spot cash. Francisco Armojo had something to do in persuading the purchaser that he was getting a bargain.

By a very ingenious and original process, Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., of Lowell, Mass., are enabled to extract the essential properties of the materials used in the preparation of their famous "Ayer's Sarsaparilla," thus securing a purity and strength that can be obtained in no other way.

SAVAGES ON THEIR RAMP.

A Party Driven Out of the Carrizos by Black Horses.
G. L. Todd of Mancos and Ed Nolan of Nolan's trading post, with six others, started recently on a trip to the Chusca mountains, below the Carrizos, but were met at the lower end of the Carrizos by Black Horses and his band and ordered out of the country.

On demurring to his orders the gentlemen were flatly informed that they could either return immediately or consider themselves under arrest. Black Horse claimed that he had orders from his agent and from General McCook to arrest all invaders and take them to Fort Wingate.

Noting that Black Horse was inexorable, the party concluded that it would be either return, go to Fort Wingate or fight, so they returned.

Black Horse does not seem to be satisfied with Gen. McCook's unfavorable report as to the non-mineral character of the Carrizos, and being also grumpy on the Indian school question, is inclined to be ugly.

He stated to Messrs. Todd and Nolan that he had just driven another party of prospectors off the reservation, and had also encountered the trail of a third party which he proposed to follow up and treat in a similar way.—Durango Southwest.

(From the Daily, January 26.)
Thos. Moore and wife, of Santa Fe, are at the European.

John James, the merchant tailor of El Paso, is at the Armojo.

J. B. Hume, an official of the Wells-Fargo express company, passed up the trail to Chicago last evening.

The traveling passenger agent for the Michigan Central road, H. H. Marley, passed through the city going north last night.

Judge H. L. Warren, B. S. Roddy and Jesse M. Wheelock who have been to Santa Fe on business, returned home last night.

Major A. Henley, one of the leading business men of Lawrence, Kansas, is in the city, visiting with his old friend, Major W. A. Hankin.

Judge Lee came down from Santa Fe last evening. He states that the territorial supreme court adjourned yesterday afternoon until Feb. 27th.

Engines Nos. 33, 41 and 43, which have been in the Topeka, Kan., machine shops for repairs, were returned to the Atlantic & Pacific yesterday afternoon.

A. I. Eaton, well known in this city, was a passenger to Wichita, Kansas, last night. He was the southwest passenger and freight agent of the Vandalia line, headquarters at El Paso, but recently transferred to Kansas.

Major W. H. H. Llewellyn, live stock agent; J. H. Baird, assistant live stock agent, and F. C. Gay, general freight agent, all officials of the Santa Fe road, were passengers from Las Cruces last night. They continued on north.

R. H. Harlow, foreman of the Atlantic & Pacific machine shops, is out with the boys to-day, and he is the center of attraction. At 9:30 o'clock this morning a brand new girl baby arrived at his house, and that is the cause of "papa's smiles."

Supt. Creager received a dispatch from the commissioner of Indian affairs, which stated that the Albuquerque Indian school might go to the World's fair in May. This will be a delightful trip for the teachers and pupils of this excellent school.

Col. S. H. Hillman, of this city, received a letter this morning from his son, K. A. Hillman, Denver, that he had been appointed clerk of the printing committee of the Colorado house of representatives. The appointee is a bright young gentleman, and the colonel is pleased to note the popularity of his son.

William Frazer, the sheep raiser, came in from his ranch in the Sandia mountains this morning. He has just sold to J. B. Manby, of Trinidad, Col., 2500 head of sheep, which are to be delivered at this point. Mr. Frazer regrets very much that he could not reach the city last evening, in order to take part in the Robert Burns celebration.

The Armojo heirs, including Col. Borradaile, accept the purchase of a portion of the Armojo house property by Cristobal Armojo for $10,000, notice to that effect being published in THE CITIZEN yesterday, in the nature of a huge joke but Lawyer Frank Armojo considers the proposition of Cristobal Armojo for $10,000 a valid one, and states that he does not see how the heirs can go back on the bargain.

Policemen May Inform THE CITIZEN that a man was "sand-bagged" on Railroad avenue some time last night. He states that he did not know the man who was "sand-bagged," or even the name of the vag who was arrested on suspicion of being the fellow who administered the blow, if a blow was delivered. Justice Madden knows nothing about such an affair, and probably the whole thing will rest in mystery until Policemen Kriegermeister gets up late this afternoon.

At the San Marcial opera house last Monday night the railroad boys south of Albuquerque, on the Rio Grande division, tendered a grand reception to E. U. Mudge. He received from them over $500 in elegant presents, among the list being a solid silver set and a diamond stud button. Dr. G. C. Cruikshanks delivered the presentation speech, which was responded to in a very feeling manner by Mr. Mudge. The ad-division superintendent, who is now located at Pueblo, Col., numbers his friends by the legion on the Rio Grande division of the Santa Fe.

At the Commercial Club.
Ladies' night and the special meeting at the Commercial Club last night was well attended, and besides dancing and duplicate whist, which were a part of the evening's enjoyment, some serious, important matters were attended to by the members.

President Brooks was present with the telegrams of Jesse M. Wheelock and the one from the Santa Fe board of trade, and in regard to the dispatch of the latter, a resolution was introduced to the effect that the officers of the club memorialize congress to pass the omnibus territorial bill.

Messrs. Childers, Ferguson and Stover were appointed a committee to draft a memorial, requesting the territorial legislature to make no changes in the present public school law, and accepting no compromise in regard to diverting the revenue.

It was thought advisable that upon the subject of county division no action should be taken.

In accordance with the desire of the Commercial club, the following telegram left Albuquerque this morning:

Albuquerque, N. M., Jan. 26.
To Hon. Levi P. Morton, President of the Senate, Washington, D. C.:
Dear Sir:—The Commercial Club of Albuquerque, embracing in its membership nearly all of the business men of this city, in special meeting, memorialize the senate, through yourself as its presiding officer, to admit to the union New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Oklahoma, especially if an omnibus bill to that effect is reported favorably from the committee on territories.

G. L. Brooks,
President Commercial Club.

ROBERT BURNS.

The Great Scottish Poet Royalty Member.

When it comes to remembering the birthdays of those whose works shine in resplendent colors after death, the citizens of Albuquerque always come to the front in grand style.

Yesterday morning, a few of the royal Scotch of the city, and those who are known as Scotch-Americans, thought of Scotland's greatest poet, Robert Burns, and decided forthwith to hold a banquet in honor of the 134th anniversary of the bard last evening upstairs at the Metropolitan.

A small crowd, but it was a happy gathering, congregated per request, and at 10:30 o'clock a repast, fit for the gods, was commenced.

Kenneth McLean, who is well stored with all the popular sayings of the poet, was toast master, and in announcing the occasion of the gathering, spoke feelingly of Robert Burns.

J. K. Brown then sang one of the favorite Scotch songs, when Lawyer Baker delivered himself of a very pathetic address.

Donald Barkley, just from the old country, was called upon for a song, which was followed by a few appropriate remarks from Chas. Whiting.

Dr. Macbeth, happy as a summer bird, sang an old fashioned song, when Kenneth McLean made the whole party giggle by reciting a very humorous dialogue.

THE CITIZEN man was called upon for a few words, agreeing with Mr. McLean that Robert Burns was indeed a great poet, and adding to the list of Scotland's great men the names of William Wallace and Robert Bruce.

Peter Isherwood, though hoarse and slightly under the weather, pleased the party with several happy songs, after which a toast was said and drank to the health of William McIntosh, the Sandia sheep raiser.

T. A. Finical, in a brief address, went into a history of the poet, which was followed by another old Scotch song from J. K. Brown.

By this time, everybody feeling inspired, everybody had a word to say, when C. W. Danvers was called upon and made a few pleasing references to the great bard.

B. W. Jones, in his allusions to the subject at hand, complimented the local Scotchmen and hoped that they would be able to take a trip on the Algodones, Albuquerque railroad in the next few years, and H. S. Knight, in his remarks, favored that they all become property owners, or something of that sort, so that he could get in his sugar as the county deputy assessor.

J. W. Macrum, of Socorro county, made a few happy references to the poet, which was followed by a rip roaring song from Dr. Macbeth.

John Feeney, the horseman, and A. H. Radway, the carpenter, attempted to be excused, but Toast Master McLean would not have it that way, so they made brief addresses upon the subject of the anniversary of the great poet.

Songs were then sung by Messrs. McLean, Macbeth, Brown, Isherwood and Barkley, after which Messrs. Etnis and Roberts added a few words to the already well remembered great poet.

After the midnight hour the party was joined by others, and the clan did not break up for home until about 3 o'clock this morning.

The elegant repast was handled skillfully by two colored waiters, John and Joe, and the gathering was a happy one, adjournment being taken after "Three cheers and a tiger" reverberated through the air for Robert Burns, the immortal poet of Scotland.

(From the Daily, January 27.)
Mrs. John Trimble is on the sick list. Rev. Thos. Harwood, of Socorro, was at the Windsor last night.

Eugene Daniels, the old French bar tender, is at the Bess saloon.

J. W. Hall, living on North Second street, is sick with pneumonia.

Jacob Metzger, the sick man, was at his meat market this morning. He has had a long siege with his illness.

B. E. Rose & Bro. are doing the plumbing work at the new N. T. Armojo building. Eugene Murray superintending the job.

T. N. Hinch, of Gallup, who has been to Santa Fe lobbying for the creation by the legislature of Summit county, came down from the north, last night and registered at the European.

Twelve car loads of sheep, purchased by Messrs. Manby & French, of Trinidad, for Messrs. Robbins and Underwood, of Shelton, Neb., from William Frazer, were loaded here to day.

A gasoline stove was responsible for a slight blaze at the rooms of Mr. and Mrs. John Warren yesterday afternoon. The stove exploded, and before any damage was done, the blaze was extinguished.

The preliminary trial of C. L. Hubbs, on the alleged charge of infringement of the Edmunds act, took place at Prescott and he was acquitted. Mr. Hubbs is slowly recovering from a severe illness.

The team of Mr. Howe, standing on the Gold avenue side of Sammie & Stamm's, got scared at the engine, and came very near smashing up things generally. The timely arrival of Mr. Howe and Chas. Garling prevented any damage.

With a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, you have an effective remedy for all sudden attacks of throat and lung troubles. An hour's delay may lead to serious consequences. No household should be without this wonderful medicine.

Mike Moran is learning the workings of the heating and other apparatus of the public school ward buildings. He is an applicant for the position of janitor, and stands a very good show of getting the job, for he is both competent and accommodating.

A. B. McMillan, wife and child are here from Los Gatos, Cal., and will lo-

ROBERT BURNS.

The Great Scottish Poet Royalty Member.

When it comes to remembering the birthdays of those whose works shine in resplendent colors after death, the citizens of Albuquerque always come to the front in grand style.

Yesterday morning, a few of the royal Scotch of the city, and those who are known as Scotch-Americans, thought of Scotland's greatest poet, Robert Burns, and decided forthwith to hold a banquet in honor of the 134th anniversary of the bard last evening upstairs at the Metropolitan.

A small crowd, but it was a happy gathering, congregated per request, and at 10:30 o'clock a repast, fit for the gods, was commenced.

Kenneth McLean, who is well stored with all the popular sayings of the poet, was toast master, and in announcing the occasion of the gathering, spoke feelingly of Robert Burns.

J. K. Brown then sang one of the favorite Scotch songs, when Lawyer Baker delivered himself of a very pathetic address.

Donald Barkley, just from the old country, was called upon for a song, which was followed by a few appropriate remarks from Chas. Whiting.

Dr. Macbeth, happy as a summer bird, sang an old fashioned song, when Kenneth McLean made the whole party giggle by reciting a very humorous dialogue.

THE CITIZEN man was called upon for a few words, agreeing with Mr. McLean that Robert Burns was indeed a great poet, and adding to the list of Scotland's great men the names of William Wallace and Robert Bruce.

Peter Isherwood, though hoarse and slightly under the weather, pleased the party with several happy songs, after which a toast was said and drank to the health of William McIntosh, the Sandia sheep raiser.

T. A. Finical, in a brief address, went into a history of the poet, which was followed by another old Scotch song from J. K. Brown.

By this time, everybody feeling inspired, everybody had a word to say, when C. W. Danvers was called upon and made a few pleasing references to the great bard.

B. W. Jones, in his allusions to the subject at hand, complimented the local Scotchmen and hoped that they would be able to take a trip on the Algodones, Albuquerque railroad in the next few years, and H. S. Knight, in his remarks, favored that they all become property owners, or something of that sort, so that he could get in his sugar as the county deputy assessor.

J. W. Macrum, of Socorro county, made a few happy references to the poet, which was followed by a rip roaring song from Dr. Macbeth.

John Feeney, the horseman, and A. H. Radway, the carpenter, attempted to be excused, but Toast Master McLean would not have it that way, so they made brief addresses upon the subject of the anniversary of the great poet.

Songs were then sung by Messrs. McLean, Macbeth, Brown, Isherwood and Barkley, after which Messrs. Etnis and Roberts added a few words to the already well remembered great poet.

After the midnight hour the party was joined by others, and the clan did not break up for home until about 3 o'clock this morning.

The elegant repast was handled skillfully by two colored waiters, John and Joe, and the gathering was a happy one, adjournment being taken after "Three cheers and a tiger" reverberated through the air for Robert Burns, the immortal poet of Scotland.

(From the Daily, January 27.)
Mrs. John Trimble is on the sick list. Rev. Thos. Harwood, of Socorro, was at the Windsor last night.

Eugene Daniels, the old French bar tender, is at the Bess saloon.

J. W. Hall, living on North Second street, is sick with pneumonia.

Jacob Metzger, the sick man, was at his meat market this morning. He has had a long siege with his illness.

B. E. Rose & Bro. are doing the plumbing work at the new N. T. Armojo building. Eugene Murray superintending the job.

T. N. Hinch, of Gallup, who has been to Santa Fe lobbying for the creation by the legislature of Summit county, came down from the north, last night and registered at the European.

Twelve car loads of sheep, purchased by Messrs. Manby & French, of Trinidad, for Messrs. Robbins and Underwood, of Shelton, Neb., from William Frazer, were loaded here to day.

A gasoline stove was responsible for a slight blaze at the rooms of Mr. and Mrs. John Warren yesterday afternoon. The stove exploded, and before any damage was done, the blaze was extinguished.

The preliminary trial of C. L. Hubbs, on the alleged charge of infringement of the Edmunds act, took place at Prescott and he was acquitted. Mr. Hubbs is slowly recovering from a severe illness.

The team of Mr. Howe, standing on the Gold avenue side of Sammie & Stamm's, got scared at the engine, and came very near smashing up things generally. The timely arrival of Mr. Howe and Chas. Garling prevented any damage.

With a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, you have an effective remedy for all sudden attacks of throat and lung troubles. An hour's delay may lead to serious consequences. No household should be without this wonderful medicine.

Mike Moran is learning the workings of the heating and other apparatus of the public school ward buildings. He is an applicant for the position of janitor, and stands a very good show of getting the job, for he is both competent and accommodating.

A. B. McMillan, wife and child are here from Los Gatos, Cal., and will locate. Mr. McMillan is a lawyer, originally from Paulding county, Ohio, and he is so well pleased with the city that he thinks he "struck it rich" by stopping here. Lorion Miller had the gentleman in charge when the reporter met him.

President Marvel and General Manager A. A. Robinson, of the Atchison Topoka & Santa Fe road, are expected in the city Sunday morning. They are on a regular inspection tour.

Mrs. E. Abel, sister-in-law of D. J. Abel, and a friend, Miss Emma Hoffman, who have been in the city for the past two days, will leave the city to-morrow morning. Mrs. Abel visits in Denver.

M. S. Otero, and Dr. G. W. Harrison returned last night from Las Vegas, where they went to attend the funeral of Dr. L. C. Henriquez, which they state was attended by friends from all over the territory.

E. Davidson and J. De Hart, two railroad boys, are at the European from San Marcial. They attended the Mudge reception at the San Marcial opera house last Monday night, and state that it was the finest affair of the kind ever held or given by railroad employees.

Col. G. W. Parker, special land inspector and examiner, who has been taking testimony in a grant out near Tjeras, in which Bernardino Baca is interested, and a half interest of which was recently purchased by Hon. T. B. Catron, is at the European from Santa Fe. The colonel has been a United States official for a number of years.

The Atlantic & Pacific car repairers are agitating the question of asking the company for a general advance in their wages. It is known that a committee was out looking for General Superintendent Gabel yesterday afternoon, but it is stated that he was not found. What the car repairers intend doing, provided their demands are not acceded to, remains to be seen.

Colored People Organized.
Pursuant to notices published in THE CITIZEN, a large crowd of colored people assembled at the A. M. E. church yesterday afternoon for the purpose of organizing themselves into a Colored People's Territorial World's Fair club.

After the people had become seated, S. T. Ellsworth, per request, called the meeting to order.

Mrs. Black was chosen temporary chairman, and Rev. Sanders requested to officiate as temporary secretary.

Mrs. J. G. Albright, a member of the Territorial Lady Managers of the World's Fair, was present by invitation, and per request addressed the meeting upon the duties of such a club as they were about to organize. The lady's remarks were timely and appropriate, and she stated that she was glad to note the interest being taken all over the country in such affairs by the colored people.

After the address of Mrs. Albright, which was heartily received, the following permanent officers of the club were unanimously chosen:

S. T. Ellsworth, president; Mrs. A. R. Cassels, secretary; F. M. Simms, corresponding secretary; Mrs. S. T. Ellsworth, treasurer.

Upon taking the chair, Mr. Ellsworth made a few remarks and suggested that the members of the club get to work in good earnest and be in readiness for the opening of the big show.

He then appointed the following committees:

On press and finance—Rev. Sanders, Mrs. Black and Mrs. Crockett.

On stationery—Mrs. E. Buckner, Miss Louise Armstrong and H. F. Catlin.

On constitution and by-laws—Rev. Sanders, Mrs. Ellsworth, Mrs. Knox and Mrs. Watts.

On collecting women's work—Messrs. King, Sanders, Stokes, Bruce, Pullin, Simms, Turner and Miss Henderson.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at the church again next Thursday afternoon, February 2.

Mrs. Albright was accompanied to the church by Mrs. Borden, Misses Lucia Perez and Anna Allen, the latter lady acting as stenographer.

Installation of Officers.
At the meeting of Pilgrim Commandery No. 3, Knights Templar, last evening, the following Sir Knights were installed as officers for the ensuing year:

John L. Andrews, sainted commandery officer.

Arthur E. Walker, generalissimo. Frank McKee, captain general. James H. Wright, prelate.

Alphons A. Keen, senior warden. A. McKay Whitcomb, junior warden.