WORKING FOR ENLARGED HOMESTEADS

Fall and Fergusson Working in Harmony to Aid the Settlers

That there is no politics in Senate Bill 4575, introduced by Senator Fall and that he is working with Representative Fergusson to secure the passage of the 640 acre homestead law is the tenor of a letter received by the New Mexican from Senator Fall regarding the bill, recently mentioned in this paper. An extract from the letter follows:

"You will note that the bill provides for the donation of all the lands in New Mexico to the state; grazing lands to be sold in amounts of not more than six sections at $1.25 per acre under the state laws; preferential rights of homestead entry to any resident of New Mexico to the amount of 640 acres at the cost of $40. (Some provision of this character must be put in to avoid difficulty with the reclamation service by reason of the fact that from the sales of public lands is created the fund expended by that service.)

"I am heartily in favor of any increased homestead bill, and if Mr. Fergusson can secure the passage of his 640 acre bill in the house, I will endeavor to secure its passage in the senate.

"I have discussed the matter of this donation of lands to the state and administration of the lands through the state machinery with a majority of the senators, and have been quietly working to create a sentiment in favor of such proposition ever since I came into the senate. The result of my efforts has been exceedingly satisfactory, and if the proposed bill meets with the approval of the people of New Mexico, I am convinced that I can pass it through the senate.

"Should you see fit to do so, I will be glad to have you ascertain the sentiment of the people through the columns of your paper, and your assistance in securing for this bill the support of the citizens residing in your section, and through those citizens of our state the assistance of those from other states with the representatives and senators whom they know now in the congress of the United States.

"Of course, there is no politics in this matter, and my proposition has been submitted to Governor McDonald, A. A. Jones and other New Mexicans, and I believe meets with general approval."

Senator Fall used several hours of the senate's time the other day in telling his reasons why Uncle Sam should intervene in the trouble below the border. He omitted one very significant reason, however, that the senator from El Paso is personally and financially interested in mining property down south. Had the senator instead of haranguing for several hours, offered to personally lead an army across the border, his speech might have been more effective.

The bright sunshine the first of this week has had its effect. Twice we were approached by parties desirous of making a loan—the object in question being the fish-hook of our boyhood days.

PERSONAL

Mrs. C. N. Cotton spent last Sunday in Albuquerque.

Mrs. Wm. McGrath returned home after spending several days in Las Vegas.

Mrs. Adolph Becker returned Sunday night from a visit in Mountainair.

John Becker, Jr., has been confined to his home for several days with a severe cold.

Miss Fannie Bowen is spending the week visiting relatives at Yeso, New Mexico.

Miss Edna MacEldowny, of Chicago, is here on a month's visit with Miss Lucie Becker.

Manuel C. Garcia, editor of El Hispano Americano, made a short visit to Albuquerque last Sunday.

Mrs. Martin Gilbert is enjoying a visit from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jose I. Salazar, of Albuquerque.

A. Morrison, representing the Publishers Music Company, of Chicago, was a Belen visitor last Saturday.

George Spooner leaves today for the Rio Puerco to bring in a well drill which was used in sinking a well there last summer.

Dr. Williams, formerly of Belen, now living in Albuquerque, was a visitor here last Sunday, a guest of Mr. Jones, the agent.

Mrs. Riley Edwards and son, of McCarty's, have spent the past week here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Kennebeck. Charley Clark, of Jarales, was in town yesterday securing timber for his pumping outfit. He reports the work as progressing nicely.

State Engineer French and Eugene Kempenich, chairman of the board of county commissioners, were in town Friday night looking over road conditions.

Mrs. Carl Frazier, of Belen, is here as the guest of Mrs. Evelyn Spicer, proprietress of the West hotel on North Second street. Mrs. Frazier will remain several days.—Albuquerque Journal.

Chas. Cunningham and bride arrived home Sunday, after a honeymoon trip to Chicago. They cut this short because of the cold wintry weather of the windy city and rushed back to the Land of Sunshine. The News wishes them long and happy married life.

J. M. Baca, proprietor of the the Spanish Bakery on South Main street, on last Friday sold his home to E. C. de Baca, of Jarales. Mr. Baca has not decided whether he will leave Belen or not. He will retain his present location for about two months.

Miss Lucie Becker entertained several of her girl friends Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Flossie Craig, who will soon leave for Denver to be married to Mr. L. E. Lee. The evening was pleasantly spent making things "useful as well as ornamental" for the bride-to-be, and delicious refreshments were served at a late hour.

Eduardo M. Otero, of Los Lunas, and Enrique H. Salazar, of Fort Sumner, were visitors in Belen last Friday, arranging for the purchase of the Belen News by the Hispano Americano Publishing Company, in which both are stockholders. Mr. Salazar is the only remaining Republican receiver of a United States land office in New Mexico, and is expected to hear of the appointment of his successor at almost any time.

CONCERT FAVORITES NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Next Monday night the Concert Favorites of Chicago will appear at the local Santa Fe Reading Rooms. This company comes very highly recommended and a treat is promised our people. The personnel is: Clayton Conrad, cartoonist and manager; Irene Marmien, reader and impersonator; Lillian Johnson, soprano soloist and accompanist.

The usual rules will prevail, the seats being reserved for employees of the Santa Fe and their families until 8 o'clock, when the room will be thrown open to the general public. Children will not be admitted unless accompanied by their parents or friends, with whom they must sit.

SAN JUAN COUNTY DRY

Farmington, N. M., March 2.—San Juan county has gone irrevocably, absolutely and entirely dry and the man with a thirst will hereafter find nothing but plenty of pure, sparkling water with which to slake it. In yesterday's local option election, nine out of eleven precincts gave 354 for prohibition to 107 against, and the two precincts not heard from are the smallest in the county, so they cannot affect the result. The incorporated towns of Farmington and Aztec previously voted dry, Farmington 79 to 56, in October, and Aztec, 74 to 4, in December. This makes every corner of the county dry as the Sahara desert so far as booze is concerned. The prohibitionists having been supported by over three to one, propose to enforce all anti-liquor laws to the full exclusion of the traffic in this county.

Lunar Eclipse

A beautiful sight last night was the eclipse of the moon, which was witnessed by a large number of our people. The night being clear, and the eclipse occurring early in the evening, the setting was most complete. The moon entered the shadow about eight o'clock, the obscurity increasing until after nine, when Luna again began showing her face little by little. About 10:30 the shadow had disappeared entirely, and apparently the moon's brightness had increased.

The Mule

By a Fort Sumner School Boy

A mule is a large quadruped with a stripe down its back. A mule has six legs; his two hind legs and his fore legs. A mule is a common noun, and the singular number, except his ears, and is always on the objective case, and ain't governed by nothing.

General Washington had many mules. Horses are superior to mules, and mules follow horses just like common people trot after big folks.

The largest mules in the world come from Kentucky, Daniel Boone killed bears in Kentucky. Kentucky is bounded on the north by the Ohio river, and the Ohio river flows into the Mississippi river and the Mississippi river flows into the Gulf of Mexico. There ain't no mules in the Gulf of Mexico. That's all I can think about mules, 'cepting my little brother's a mule, 'cause I heard my pa read a baby mewling in its nurse's arms.—Fort Sumner Leader.

BALL PLAYERS ARE URGED TO COME OUT

The leaders in baseball are anxious to have a good practice game next Sunday afternoon and urge all players to meet on the grounds between Becker's and Goebel's. There are a number of good players who have come to Belen, since last season, and these are invited to come out and take a hand, as well as all old players. It is intended to organize the best team possible, and with the material at hand this should mean a winning team. Don't wait for a special invitation, but come out and be ready to do your part.

L. B. Geimer is preparing to leave for California shortly.

Tried to be Stormy

The weather tried as hard as possible to be stormy yesterday, but succeeded only in wafting down a little snow, which disappeared as quickly as it fell. Before evening the sun was again on the job, and this morning is bright and clear again. No doubt we simply got the tail-end of a storm which passed farther north as usual. We should worry!

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Aztec has under consideration a franchise for the installation of a Public Water Works System.

Taos has organized a Commercial club with Fred D. Lewis as president, and Carlos Dunn, secretary.

The Republicans and Progressives of Union county failed to make good in their "get-together" meeting last week.

The Tularosa copper mines have been purchased by Colorado Springs capitalists, the consideration being about $5,000,000.

The new building, to replace that destroyed by fire some time since, of the Spanish-American Normal School at El Rito, is nearing completion.

Adolfo Garcia, when arrested in Albuquerque, last Saturday night, confessed to having committed a number of burglaries in that city recently.

Margarito Candelaria, who with Hilario Ruiz escaped some time ago from the State Penitentiary, is again behind the bars, having surrendered to the officials.

The Volcanic Soap Manufacturing Company, with headquarters at Tucumcari, has filed articles of incorporation. The capitalization is $100,000, of which $3,000 is paid up.

Two school districts of Sandoval county, San Ysidro and Placitas, have asked for state aid to continue their schools the necessary term. The total amount requested is less than $60.

Farmington had a $50,000 fire last week, in which the Pierce Mercantile Co., J. M. Johnson, Miller & Robertson, Alex. Bowman, W. A. Hunter and B. F. Westbrook were the losers.

P. F. McCanna, of Albuquerque, has been named by Governor McDonald as a member of the board of regents of the College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts to succeed A. H. Hudspeth, resigned.

Petitions for a county high school at Santa Fe are in the hands of the county commissioners. There is some opposition to the project in the northern part of the state, but it is expected that this can be overcome.

The nomination of A. P. Hill to be postmaster at Santa Fe, has been rejected by the senate. At present there are four other candidates in the field for the job, these being C. F. Easley, Karl Greene, Adolph Seligman and C. F. Kanen.

The new federal building to cost $125,000 at Las Cruces will be commenced at once and the work rushed to completion. The deeds for the site, which is 127x135 feet, have been received in Washington. The site cost the government $125,000.

Alamogordo has its periodical saloon fight on again. Only one saloon is permitted in the town by the deeds to the lots. This saloon has been paying $1,800 per year for the privilege of selling booze, which the owners claim is too high a tax, and threaten to close the place if the tax is not reduced.

WORKING ROADS IN ABO PASS

Both Valencia and Torrance Counties Aid in the Work

Active work has commenced on the road between Belen and Mountainair, both Torrance and Valencia counties taking a hand. The business men of Mountainair have raised funds to use in the work, while John Becker, of this place, has furnished a lot of dynamite, which will be used in removing rock from high grades along the route. An outfit of three teams and an auto load of workmen left Mountainair Tuesday morning, provisioned for ten days to work in Abo cañon.

The first will be done at Scholle, near the Abo ruins, where the work is badly needed. A road grader, drag, plows, shovels and all the necessary equipment is at hand to do good work, at the least expense. Dr. T. W. Chadwick, road overseer of southwestern Torrance county, is in charge of the work, and hopes to have the road in good shape within a fortnight. It is expected that the Valencia county road board will take up the work at this end, connecting at Sais with the Albuquerque road.

With this stretch of the road in condition, an earnest plea will be made for the transcontinental auto-tourist travel, with good chance of success. The road has already been logged and sign posts will be erected along the route.

School Election

The district school election will be held on Monday, April 6. Two directors are to be chosen, one to succeed Antonio Gilbert, whose term expires, and one to succeed H. B. Kennebeck, who resigned some months ago.

School Notes

Attendance in the 8th and 9th grades has been good.

Fred Dils, who was hurt by a baseball, is again back at his place.

The measles scare seems to have blown over without any more cases.

A track meet is being talked of between Belen and the schools across the river.

The pupils of Mrs. Trimble's room entertained the High School with some songs last week.

Volumes I and II of Twitchell's Spanish Archives of New Mexico have just been placed in the school library.

The eclipse of the moon last night was watched with much interest by the members of the 8th and 9th grades.

Gerald Trimble is back in school again and it is reported that Maurine will be in her place in the 9th grade soon.

COLLECTION OF CURIOS
By BARBARA BOYD.

They had just returned from Europe; and like all returning tourists, they had a lot of what their friends privately called junk, but which they enthusiastically referred to as a valuable collection of rare curios.
"Aren't these the quaintest things?"
said Anne, exhibiting some brass hooks picked up in Holland.
"She would have brought a whole hardware shop of them, if I hadn't stopped her," laughed her husband.
"But just imagine how stunning they'll look on the hall to hang hats on, or—in the bathroom for towels."
"I don't believe the flat owner will let you put up hooks," objected a friend.
"Goodness! I never thought of that," replied Anne. She put the hooks away thoughtfully. Then she dived into another box.
"Did you ever see anything so hor-ridly charming as these?" she raptur-ously exclaimed, producing several specimens of leering gargoyles. "They are so ugly they are fascinating."
"What are you going to do with them?" asked a friend.
"Well, of course, they aren't intended so much for houses. That is, I don't think so. Are they?" she asked her husband.
"Oh, I don't know. They'll look all-fired queer, no matter where you put them."

"Tom really hasn't much taste for quaint things," explained Anne. "But I thought they would look delightful sort of peeping over the eaves of the house, like they do at the tops of churches; or maybe—sort of sitting up alongside the water spout."
"But there aren't any eaves to a flat," objected the practical friend.
"Nor water spouts, either," chimed
in another.
"I never thought of that," replied Anne still more thoughtfully. "But I just couldn't resist getting them."
"If you only had a chicken house," said a cynical friend, "you might set them up there. I think they would be right on the job of keeping thieves away."

Anne ignored such irrelevancy, and very carefully brought out a huge box which she opened and tenderly drew forth therefrom one by one some door hinges, knockers, latches, locks and bolts, nail heads and a bunch of enormous keys.
"Aren't they just dear?" she said,
looking at them with kindly eyes.
"But what in the world will you do with a lot of scrap iron like that?"
obtruded the practical friend.

"Fix up the doors and make them look old-timey. Just imagine how distinguished a door will look with a latch like that," she said, picking up a piece of bent and rusty iron. "Most of these are Spanish. Some are German. But aren't they delicious?"
"But if you are taking the hardware off the doors of your apartment," chorused her friends, "you'll get a call-down from the janitor."
"I suppose I would," admitted Anne.
"I guess the only thing for us to do is to build."

So now, she and her husband are hunting a location that will be a proper setting for a house sufficiently medieval in design to bear up under French gargoyles, Spanish locks, German latches, Florentine nail heads and Dutch hooks. They feel there must be a deep, dark ravine, and embattled crags, and some melancholy trees such as artists put in Italian landscapes, and a church with chimes. And snuggled out of sight, so as not to interfere with this artistic harmony, they would like a well-oiled stone road, a good trolley and a town with a good show or two.

And while they are hunting this location an architect is having brain-storms trying to design a house that will be harmoniously French, Spanish, German, Florentine and Dutch, all at one and the same time.

Analysis of Hallstones.
The infrequency of their occurrence and the difficulty of keeping them for examination, have stood in the way of any careful investigation of the character of hallstones, but Prof. Boris Weinberg of Tomsk, Siberia, has just perfected an apparatus which is expected to obviate these difficulties. He will gather the hallstones as opportunity offers and preserve them by plunging them in a liquid of about the same density contained in a double-walled receptacle like a superior ice cream freezer, but "packed" with a mixture of ice and sulphate of copper.
As needed for study the stones can be removed, sliced in extremely thin sections and photographed by a polarizing microscope or autochromatic plates, as is done with anatomical preparations.

Rather Give Herself Away.
Parson White's precautionary measure of protecting his chicken coops with chilled steel bars was futile, for that very night four more of his choice Leghorns disappeared, leaving the severed bars as the only visible evidence of the theft. However, his suspensions pointed toward his next-door neighbor, whom he had seen prowling around his yard that day, and accordingly he had this suspect up in the police court next morning.
"If the prisoner can file an alibi I'll let him off with a suspended sentence," announced the judge at the end of the evidence. "Can you file an alibi, Ham?"
"I guess I can," eagerly replied the

JOHN BECKER, P. M.

The weather man may well be proud of himself.

The German emperor has composed the music for a ballet. He ought to stage it.

Violet is the mourning color of Turkey. Probably their hymn of death is "Sweet Violets."

If this country is too noisy how did the lady ever manage to live through all these years in it?

Consider the ways of the eggs, we are driven to the conclusion that this is a hen-pecked country.

A Duluth man held off a pack of wolves with four cigars. Gift cigars sometimes come in handy.

A Paris banker who "lifted" $30,000,000 again showed financial dexterity by jumping a $40,000 bail bond.

Can you brace yourself for a terrible shock? Pharaoh, says an English professor, was only a fat, old man after all.

Mr. Edison plans moving pictures that will talk, somebody having told him that we do not have talk enough already.

LOCALS

Can you afford to lose all you have in the world? Better see Simmons before you have a fire.
