McRae Chosen
Fine Arts Dean

By TIM McGALLAGHER

Donald McRae has been chosen as the new dean of the College of Fine Arts. McRae was formerly director of the University of Arizona's Department of Communication Arts and Sciences, and will replace Editor in Chief Fred Haney, who is leaving UNM.

“It’s exciting to think about the possibilities that lie ahead for the College of Fine Arts,” McRae said. “I look forward to working with our faculty, students, and staff to ensure that the College continues to provide a world-class education and creative experiences for our students.”

McRae has been active in higher education for over 25 years, having served as a professor and administrator at several institutions, including the University of Arizona, University of Southern California, and the University of California, Los Angeles. He is also a noted scholar and author in the field of communication studies.

The search for McRae's replacement began in the spring of 2018, and the position was advertised nationwide. The selection committee received applications from over 100 candidates, and a shortlist of six finalists was chosen in the fall. McRae was selected from this list after a series of interviews and site visits.

McRae will take over the position of dean on July 1, 2019, and will receive a three-year contract with an option for renewal.

$5,000 Cut From PIRG

Senate Slashes Budgets

The PIRG-funded government watchdog organization has revealed that state budgets are being slashed, with $5,000 being cut from the 2017-18 budget. This comes after the budget was approved unanimously in the legislature.

The cuts were made in response to a request from the Governor's Office to reduce state spending. The Governor has stated that the cuts are necessary to ensure that the state can meet its financial obligations.

In a statement, PIRG executive director said: "These cuts are a clear example of how state governments are failing to prioritize the needs of their constituents. We will continue to monitor these cuts and ensure that they are not detrimental to the state's economy."

How to Tap a Keg.

Few things in life are as rewarding to an eager keg of solids doughed brew as getting your lower five rules.

1. Do not roll the keg down a hill before attempting to tap it.

2. Do not pump in too much pressure after tapping. This can cause the solid doughed liquid to blow out of the keg, making it worthless.

3. The persons tapping the keg makes either of these mistakes, published on the cover of The leek. Of course, we can tap 300, plays together, and games by the thousands of sous. In this case you should simply say "Okay, good, Mouse.

To get a keg for your next party, call Sigala's Beer Person on Campus, or look in the yellow pages under "Brewers." Class dismissed.
An American Dream
by Christians on Campus

Did you read Josh Ancken's article “What is Happening to the Hero” in the Daily Lobo last week? The article revives an old debate about the American role as a world leader and crime: where the kids are at the film public school which disapproves their films & quotes them to be irresponsible; where God is working and I've a week to live bringing home, with enough left from me. We are all impolite and rude for no particular reason, where we are all impolite and rude for no particular reason, where we are all impolite and rude for no particular reason.

If you find the theater in which the performance took place, you might want to consider the use of the theater. The performance was held at the Native American Center of Theater and the staff members would also like to wish us a Happy Easter, Rick, 29, Registration Center Staff.

Death Prompts Proposal for Speed Bumps On Campus

By RACHEL DIXON

Promoted by the deaths of a UNM student in a hit-and-run accident, the UNM Safety Committee is urging the administration to install speed bumps in several locations around campus.

The committee said the proposal would provide a safer environment for students and staff by reducing the speed of vehicles on campus roads.

The proposal would include speed bumps on the main thoroughfares of campus, such as Central Avenue and Camino Del Rey.

"We want to make sure that our students and staff are safe on campus," said committee member John Smith.

The proposal is scheduled to be discussed by the UNM Board of Regents at its next meeting.

"We hope to have the speed bumps installed by the start of the next academic year," said Smith.
