Getting into Shape.
Col. Mills, who is determined that the New Mexico exhibit at the World's Fair shall be the equal of, if not better than, any of the territories, left this morning for Santa Fe, where he remains to-day, and thence goes to Las Vegas. He is hustling the commissioners of every county to exert themselves toward collecting exhibits, and as several local pride attached to such matters they are complying with his request to the letter. The colonel states that the ore exhibit of the territory will be something grand and marvellous, not only as to quantity but to worth and quality. He expects to have the coal exhibit collected together and ready to ship about the middle of next week. He will be in person to superintend the arranging of the car and to see that it leaves this point for Chicago in good order. The colonel expects to have the New Mexico exhibit in shape and ready to be viewed by the visitors not later than May 10, and he will have his corps of assistants also at Chicago on that date.
He Appears.
After a sojourn of several days with neuralgia of the jaw, until the troublesome tooth was yanked out, James A. Lang for the first time since his arrival from Washington appeared at his desk at the John A. Lee Lumber company this morning.
"If I don't get to be United States marshal for New Mexico," remarked Mr. Lang this morning, "I will have the gratification of knowing that I have the endorsement of some of the best people in New Mexico and some of President Cleveland's warmest and closest friends in New York. I did not have the great commission—the triumvirate—with me, but at one time in the proceedings I had them very much frightened that I would be appointed. Secretary Lamont had interested himself in my behalf, but I foolishly told the secret to one of the committee and he went to Mr. Lang with a long story about statehood and the native element and so on, and the matter was then taken. A short time afterward I received a very pleasant letter from Mr. Lamont, telling me that he would personally like to see me the marshal, but that he thought it was not to interfere with the wishes of the committee, who had stated some other person."

Mr. Lang stated that he regretted very much to say that Mr. Ferguson is not proving very successful in securing his friends position, allowing Delegate Johnson and Mr. C. to do almost all the work, and that he is not doing much. While east, Mr. Lang visited all the principal cities, and reports having the best time of his life. He was introduced to some of the distinguished politicians of the United States, shook hands with President Cleveland, Secretary Hoar, and had a very delightful five minutes conversation with Senator Lindsay, of Kentucky, who requested that he be remembered to Judge L. S. Trimble, of this city.
University News.
Yesterday Dr. Wright delivered the second lecture of his course on hygiene, and next Friday he will talk on the same subject. He made some experiments to show the various kinds of impurities contained in water, and as a result a number of students have decided to be very careful "about what they drink."
The school was also honored by the presence of Gov. Stover and Rev. Mr. Githens. The former addressed the students on the requisite qualifications of educators, and the latter promised to lecture, Wednesday, April 20, on the question of choosing an occupation.
The lectures are usually held on Fridays, from 11 to 12 o'clock, and the faculty have expressed themselves as being glad to welcome any who wish to attend.
Active preparations are being made for the commencement, which promises to be quite interesting.
A number of the students are preparing examination papers for the New Mexico educational exhibit at the World's Fair.
The gentlemen of the University quarter deserve special mention for their perseverance in the matter of social drill, even though they may not have the sympathy of some of the lady students.
A Grand Benefit.
The benefit entertainment last evening at the opera house of "Chimes of Normandy," for Miss Mabel Hawley, was a fitting testimonial of high standing of the young lady in this city—in the fact that every seat was occupied and that the audience demonstrated their approval by repeated encores. Miss Hawley was at home in her part, as she was in the two previous performances, and her singing was indeed a delight. J. C. Dupuy, of Los Angeles, was indeed a delightful feature. Miss Margaret Lee assumed the role of Germaine, in place of Miss Sloan, who is still sick, and the young lady did remarkably well, considering that she only had a few hours to learn to prepare herself. When Miss Sloan's sickness was first announced the services of Mrs. Pancher were solicited, and after her acceptance, she was also suddenly taken ill. Miss Lee indeed surprised her many friends, proving herself equal to the emergency and went through her part in good style. Messrs. Butler, Callahan and Burdett, in fact the whole company, were par excellence.
Land Court Records.
The New Mexican says that two hundred and sixty-nine cases have been filed with the court in New Mexico and nine cases in Arizona, making a total of 278. Of these there have been tried, Nov. 1, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, a total of 28; of which 19 have been finally decided; of them, Nov. 1, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, have been reported to the attorney general but not acted upon; and appeals were taken by the claimants in Nov. 12, 25 and 27 and by the United States in Nov. 1 and 27, being 5 in all. The surveyor general has been ordered to survey the following: Nov. 5, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, and 4 others; Nov. 6, 10, 37, 49, have been tried and not yet decided.
The surveyor general has heretofore acted on ninety-four of the grants filed; and fifty of the grants of the entire number fail to give an estimate of the number of acres claimed, and of four grants is situated in Colorado.
Exciting Runaway.
An exciting runaway occurred this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock. The big team of W. L. Trimble & Co., hitched to the sewer flushing wagon, got scared while standing in the alley back of the "Red Barn," and came tearing east on the alley, turned south on Third street, thence east on Copper avenue, and turned down Second street to the lively stables. The tongue of the wagon became detached at the Second street corner, and dragged on the ground. The horses made a dive for the stables, but the tongue struck the cement sidewalk in front of A. Horne's undertaking room, throwing the horse on the sidewalk, the head of one of the animals striking the lower casing of the large front glass. The horses were not hurt, but the tongue of the wagon was broken and Andy Horne got a scare he will not soon forget.

The Caledonia ships 240 tons and works forty-eight miners. One hundred and six day men are employed in this district. The Crown Point, Catalpa and Dun Canon are not working.

She has since used it whenever necessary and found that it never fails. For sale by T. H. Burgess & Son, druggists.

HE WAS MURDERED.
The Coroner's Inquest Finds that Operator Matthews was Murdered.
Late yesterday afternoon, the coroner's jury, sitting on the dead body of James Matthews, the operator, whose death was the outcome of sandbagging, concluded its labors, and brought in the following verdict:
We, the undersigned, justice of the peace and jury who sat upon the body of James Matthews, found in precinct 12, in Albuquerque, county of Bernalillo, territory of New Mexico, find that the deceased came to his death by a blow on his head, committed by parties unknown to the jury.
Signed—W. H. Burke, justice of the peace; Samuel Neustadt, foreman; A. C. Briggs, Daniel Leaser, Ben. Meyers, N. J. Hyde and W. Y. Walton, jurors.
John Judd and E. O. Rawson, the two suspected prisoners, and Mrs. Bachsch testified before the jury, and their testimony points to foul play but all conclude that the guilty party is Roy Keith, the painter, who is now a fugitive from justice.
Dr. Hope, the attending physician, presented written testimony, viz:
"The man's abnormally thin skull, in my judgment, made it possible that the injury might have been caused by a fall from the adjacent roof, but more probably from a direct blow on the head."
This morning, Rawson, and Judd were brought over from the county jail, taken before Justice Lockhart, and at the suggestion of Attorney Heacock, who has worked faithfully to secure a clue to the crime, the prisoners were turned loose on their own recognizance to appear when their services were needed. There was no evidence adduced upon which they could be held any longer.
Attorney Heacock informs THE CITIZEN that he received a message from Trinidad, which conveys the information that the officers there believe that they have arrested Keith. An accurate description of Keith will be sent to Trinidad to-night.

Senator Veeder, of San Miguel county, was a passenger on his way to the Las Vegas home last night. He was returning from Las Cruces, where he attended the meeting of the board of regents of the agricultural college there last Saturday.
He Returns.
J. E. Saint returned last night from California, where he has been for the past ten days. He spent most of the time at the Needles and the mining region about there. He reports a healthy and prosperous outlook for that country. He came direct from the New York district, which is now connected by rail with the Atlantic & Pacific at Gulf station, thirty miles west of the Needles. The Nevada Southern railroad was completed to New York siding on Saturday, while Mr. Saint was there, and the road will be hauling ore from the mines there very soon. Mr. Blake, of Denver, is the president of the road and his company own the mines at that place. The company have had 100 men taking out ore for some time and now have thousands of tons on the dumps ready to ship as soon as the road is ready to receive it. The mines will put on 100 more men in a few days. The road is to be built on the Vanderbilt district about eight miles further where it is reported that it will stop for a while. The country is very rich in gold, silver and the finest quality of white marble. The white marble is something that has not been found in paying quantities in the Rocky mountains, and it bids fair to develop a big industry. As most all the white marble from Vermont and is imported Albuquerque should profit by the opening of the country.
A Double Killing.
Word was brought in yesterday of a double killing at Canada Alamosa.
It appears that William Harden, the foreman of a ranch near Ojo Caliente was at Canada Alamosa with a companion and drank considerable wine. The wine undoubtedly had a bad effect on him, and he became very talkative during which Harden flourished a six shooter. His companion endeavored to take it away when one of the Mexicans interfered. The gun was, it is said, accidentally discharged, killing the Mexican.
The friends of the dead man became indignant and gave chase to the then escaping cowboy, completely ridding him with bullets.
The latter states that he had been shot "en times at el se range, the powder burning his face and body. When brought to Chloride for burial his head had been crushed with stones and his body literally mangled.
The burial took place at Chloride and the remains now rest in a grave adjoining that of Ralph Moore, who shot himself some two years ago.
Driven from His Claim.
A few weeks ago E. Kreamer, a carpenter well and favorably known in this city, located a claim on government land near the west line of the Chilli land grant, and built a house and made other improvements. While in this city last week purchasing supplies, his son, a fifteen year old boy being left in charge of the ranch, a party of Mexicans visited the ranch at night and fired into the house and drove the boy away by threats of violence. They then burned the house and all the contents including a valuable set of carpenter tools. The following notice was left in Spanish, tacked on a board, accompanied with a pencil drawing of a man hanging to a tree:
"You have to go out of this ranch, or if not, I will kill you another time if found in here and hang like this."
The men committing this outrage are supposed to live in the vicinity, and Mr. Kreamer is in the city for the purpose of calling on the United States authorities for protection from such outrages.
News from San Juan.
James Scott, of Aztec, N. M., was in town, says the Durango Herald. He says the people of Aztec, Jewett, Ojo and Farmington have secured the option on one hundred acres or more of their land at their respective towns, one of which will be selected by the regents of the agricultural station at Las Cruces. The land selected by the regents will be donated to the United States government by the town where they decide to locate. The citizens of the different towns are doing their level best to secure the location. An appropriation of five thousand dollars was made by congress for the purpose of buildings. The regents are to be on the San Juan on or before the 15th day of May. Mr. Scott says the apricots are in bloom and the prospect for a good fruit crop is quite flattering.
The Silver Convention.
The silver convention at Silver City, July 4 and 5, will be a great event, and will attract a large attendance from all parts of the southwest. The president of the executive committee, Mayor Fleming, of Silver City, is appointing committees in every town in New Mexico, Arizona and western Texas, to take charge of the work in the several localities. For this city a most excellent committee is named, as follows: C. C. Hall, chairman; E. J. Saint, M. S. Otero, C. F. Hunt and G. L. Brooks. Mr. Hall informs THE CITIZEN that his committee will push things and help make the convention worthy of the cause it advocates.
A Little Girl's Experience in A Lighthouse.
Mr. and Mrs. Loren Treasott are keepers of the Gov. Light-house at Sand Beach, Mich., and are blessed with a daughter, four years old. Last April she was taken down with measles, followed with a dreadful cough and turning into a fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain, she grew worse rapidly, until she was a mere "shell of bones." Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery and after the use of two and a half bottles, was completely cured. They say Dr. King's New Discovery is worth its weight in gold, yet may be got a trial bottle free at T. H. Burgess & Son's drug store.

DISTRICT COURT.
Important Cases Disposed of During the Past Week.
In the case of Geo. H. Gleason vs. T. S. Wade, judgment of lower court in plaintiff's favor was affirmed.
In the case of Henry Lockhart et al. vs. Ella Harris, judgment of lower court against defendant and bondmen.
The case of Barbara Aragon de Montoya vs. Julio Martin et al. was dismissed by plaintiff.

The case of Dunlap vs. James L. Patlen et al. was settled by defendant paying amount sued for.
On Saturday afternoon the case of Oscar Goebel vs. the New York Life Insurance company, was tried before the court. Mr. Goebel complains that the agent of the company came to his store at Helen some years ago and induced him to take $1000 in life insurance on the representation that the company would nominate him as one of a board of territorial commissioners for the company, by reason of which his premiums would be reduced from $500 to about $175 annually. Developments in the course of a year made it apparent that the representations of the agent of the company were false, and that the board of New Mexico directors was a myth, and Mr. Goebel brings suit to rescind the contract. The trial was not concluded.
Monday morning the case of the Territory against Jose Lopez and Severo Martin for assault and battery, upon John Miller, a justice of the peace, was tried. From the evidence it appears that Mr. Miller was hearing a case in his court, when he received Severo Martin, the advocate of Lopez, for his conduct toward a witness, a boy 15 years of age. Severo didn't appreciate the judge's position or heed his advice, and continued to intimidate the witness, when the judge severely lectured him again. Mr. Martin became enraged and hurled the statute laws at the judge's head, threw him from his chair and beat him, while his client helped the judge to his feet with a vigorous kick, which the judge testified sent him eight feet across the room.

A car load of "Lucky Baldwin's" thoroughbred horses, destined for St. Louis, arrived yesterday morning from the west and were unloaded for a day's rest. They left this afternoon for the east.
Thos. Gorman, an old time railroader on the La Santa & Pacific, was in the city renewing the acquaintance of old friends. He went to Chicago this morning to attend the sick chamber of a sister.
The friends of Miss Sloan are glad to see her out again, and it is likely that she will be able to accompany the party to Las Vegas and set her part as Germaine in the Chimes of Normandy, which she sings with such a delightfully sweet voice.
Gov. Prince came down from Santa Fe last night, and this morning left for the English colony on the Rio Puerco, with Col. A. F. Spaw, president of the Colonization company. It is intimated that the governor intends to purchase a section of land on the Rio Puerco.
Hon. H. B. Ferguson, who has been to Washington helping Delegate Joseph and J. H. Crist to single out the federal appointments in the territory, returned home last night. The reporter called at his office in the First National building several times to-day to see him, but he was out.
John P. McAfee, of Independence, Mo., brother in law of Samuel Salt marsh, after a very pleasant visit of several days in the metropolis, returned north last night. Mr. McAfee represents the Independence Woolen Mill company, and yesterday sold a big bill of goods to our merchants.
I. W. Cook will return to Iowa in a few days with his wife, who is not being benefited by this climate, and will be taken to her old home at Oaklawn, Iowa. Mr. Cook has been contacted with this paper for several months, and given entire satisfaction. A permanent, profitable position on THE CITIZEN is waiting him whenever he can return.

K. H. Wade, general manager of the California Southern railroad, headquarters at Los Angeles, was a passenger going to Chicago yesterday afternoon. He traveled in his special coach.
Charles Woodworth, formerly general yardmaster here for the Santa Fe road and was also a few years ago passenger conductor between this city and Silver City, is here from Oklahoma, as a witness in the case of the family of William Cody, the swiftness who was killed here several years ago, against the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad company. Mr. Woodworth is now freight conductor on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad out of Oklahoma.
Major Llewellyn came down from Santa Fe last night. He states that for lack of a quorum the meeting called for the Territorial Board of Managers for New Mexico for the World's Fair did not convene. He reports Commissioner Salazar somewhere in Mexico, and Commissioner Thornton still in Missouri. He says the board ought to get together, for there is a large amount of necessary business to be transacted before everything is ready for the New Mexico exhibit at the fair.
The Corporal's Luck.
Corporal Tanner, the legless orator and formerly commissioner of pensions, who lectured in Albuquerque some years ago, came out to New Mexico to rest and recuperate last August. He was the guest of Capt. Jack Crawford at Fort Craig, and with the captain visited Chloride and the Black Range, and while there he was so pleased with the Monte Cristo mine, owned by Captain Jack, that he agreed to spend $2,000 to run a tunnel and tap the lead at a depth of 135 feet. Two weeks ago the vein was struck and after cross-cutting five feet a fine streak of pay ore, running in gold and silver, was struck. Corporal Tanner immediately ordered a car and rails from Denver, and it is expected that the Monte Cristo will turn out to be one of the best properties in the Black Range. In his letter to Capt. Jack, the corporal said: "Strike it rich in that tunnel and I will be there with the coals to put up the necessary reduction works, and possibly become a resident of the sunshine territory."
Appoint Delegates.
The attention of Mayor Field is called to the fact that the Trans-Mississippi congress meets at Ogden, Utah, on the 24th of this month, and the delegates from Albuquerque have not yet been appointed. The city is entitled to five delegates, the matters to be considered are of more importance to us than to the people of any other section of the country, and we ought to be represented by a full delegation. There is no time to be lost. The congress meets next Monday, and as it will take about three days to go, the delegates should be named at once. A good delegation can accomplish a great deal for this section, and it can do more good in an indirect way by advertising our resources, than would ever all the cost and trouble a hundred times over. All other prominent points in the Rocky mountain country will be represented, and Albuquerque cannot afford to be left out.
P. S.—These appointments would not have to be confirmed by the council.
My wife was confined to her bed for over two months with a very severe attack of rheumatism. We could get nothing that would afford her any relief, and as a last resort gave Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. Our great surprise she began to improve after the first application, and by using it regularly she was soon able to get up and attend to her household. E. H. Johnson, of C. J. Knutson & Co., Kensington, Minn. 50 cent bottles for sale by T. H. Burgess & Son, druggists.
Trans-Mississippi Congress.
The Commercial club is entitled to representation in the Trans-Mississippi congress which meets at Ogden, Utah, next Monday, and we have seen no notice as yet of any appointments having been made by that organization. This is a matter that the club cannot afford to neglect. It will be an important convention, composed of prominent men from all sections of the country west of the Mississippi, and Albuquerque ought to have a full delegation of her strong men on hand to properly set forth the advantages and resources of this section. The club is entitled to five delegates and they ought to be named at once.

Gained Their Point.
A few weeks ago the painters of the city held a meeting and desired to call upon the "boss" painters for nine hours' work for ten hours' pay. The deliberations of that meeting were presented to the bosses, and on the 10th of this month W. J. Tray granted the request. On the 20th of this month C. A. Hudson and Jacob Schwartz will also put into effect the schedule. The nine-hour clause of the carpenters will go into effect on the 1st of May.

DEATH OF JOHN A. HILL.
An Old Pioneer of the Territory Joins the Silent Army.
John A. Hill died at his residence in Old Albuquerque at 8 o'clock last evening. The deceased was stricken with paralysis last Friday night, and was unconscious till death. Mr. Hill was born at Booneville, Mo., March 6, 1824, and was 69 years of age. He came to New Mexico in 1848, and resided in Old Albuquerque since 1850, and was one of the pioneers of the territory. He held many offices of trust, and was beloved by all who knew him. The city loses one of its landmarks by Mr. Hill's death, and his remains will be followed to the grave by a large circle of friends and relatives.
The funeral of Mr. Hill will take place tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from the family residence in old town, and friends are invited to attend. The interment will take place at Santa Barbara cemetery under the supervision of Undertaker Strong. The pall bearers will comprise Mr. Hill's old friends, namely: Gov. Stover, Capt. Wm. Borchert, Major H. R. Whiting, H. V. Harris, A. M. Codington and A. M. Whitcomb. The Citizens extends its condolence to John A. Hill, the only relative of the deceased in the territory.

The Lucky Ones.
The election of Edward Dodd for city marshal by the new board of aldermen last night was indeed a surprise, for Mr. Dodd's name was not considered until yesterday morning, and a few hours before the meeting of the council he was in doubt whether to accept or not. Intimate friends, however, prevailed upon him to accept the office, and when the mayor sent in his name he was honored by a unanimous vote. This Citizens has every reason to believe that Mr. Dodd will prove a good marshal—one whom the people will have confidence in, and who will do his duty in a manner befitting an intelligent guardian of the peace.
John Geach, who was nominated in place of Policeman Krieglsteiner, was confirmed. He is a young, active gentleman, and will make a good policeman.
Summers Burkhardt, who is the new city attorney, came to the metropolis a few years ago from Santa Fe, and is one of Albuquerque's rising young attorneys. His office is with Mayor Field's, and THE CITIZEN congratulates him upon his appointment.
The Reason.
Col. J. G. Albright called at this office yesterday afternoon, and pleasantly related the incidents of his sojourn in Washington, and gave the reason for his not securing the appointment of governor of New Mexico. He thinks the opposition of H. B. Ferguson knocked him out. Before leaving Washington, Cleveland granted the colonel an interview, and the great man talked pleasantly and without regret or shame to the democratic editor, and cheered up the drooping spirits of the defeated aspirant. The colonel has a worn appearance, and his hair is more gray than when he left for the national capital with high hopes of presidential preferment.
Slaughtered by Friends.
After working hard for the success of their party, G. M. Candiff, Donald McKee and John Jacoby were slaughtered by the very men they contributed so much to elect. Last night Mayor Field nominated Mr. Candiff for the office of city jailor, and six faithless democrats recorded their votes against his nomination. The mayor then named John Jacoby for the same position, and six aldermen voted against Mr. Jacoby. Donald McKee was nominated as a policeman, and not a democrat voted for him, not even Alderman Grande, of Ward 1, where Mr. McKee worked faithfully and hard all day on election day.
The many cases of rheumatism cured by Chamberlain's Pain Balm during the past few months have given the people great confidence in its curative properties, and have shown that there is no preparation that can be depended upon for that painful and aggravating disease. Car Thieves.
A. B. Colton, G. C. Buford, John Foster and Thomas King were brought in from Gallup last night by Constable Strachan and lodged in the city jail. This morning they had a preliminary hearing before Justice Lockhart on the charge of breaking into merchandise cars, and the justice, in default of bail, sent them to the county jail to await the action of the next grand jury.

OFFICE NO. 118 WEST GOLD AVENUE
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., APRIL 22, 1903.

From the Daily, April 21:
F. W. Clancy took the delayed passenger train for Santa Fe.

Johnny Carroll, who buys wool for Gross, Blackwell & Co., is in the city.

Chas. Galabodon, a prosperous merchant of New, N. M., is here buying goods.

Mrs. R. M. Hatcheller, of St. Joseph, Mo., is paying her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Moore, a short visit.

Joseph Heston, the insurance and real estate agent, who has been to Las Vegas on business, returned home last night.

Mrs. M. McCue and son, Harry, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Keegan, of Gallup, several days of last week. They have returned home.

Dr. V. F. Ward and wife, father and mother of Mrs. G. H. Fancher, after visiting here for six months, left last night for their home at Port Madison, Iowa.

"Lucky" Hamilton's thoroughbred horses went north this afternoon. Julius Freeman made an offer of $750.00 for the horse Santiago, but the offer was refused.

G. L. Brooks, S. M. Folson and Jesse M. Wheelock left last night for Denver and Colorado Springs, Col., on railroad matters of great importance to the metropolis.

Flourish Stevens, son-in-law of J. B. Tarbox, will leave tomorrow morning for Chicago, accompanied by his wife. Mr. Stevens came to the city about a month ago, and has invested considerable money in Albuquerque real estate.

Wm. Shores and wife, who have been sojourning at Mrs. H. J. Hawley's during the winter, expect to leave for Chicago, their home, in a few days. Mr. Shores has been employed at Hild's dry goods emporium, and is the artist who arranged the much admired front show windows.

Peter Schack and Henry Kausner, who left Massachusetts, Ill., some years ago for this city and have lived here ever since, will leave about the 5th of next month for their former Illinois home. After a visit of several months with relatives and friends and also the World's Fair, they will return.

Ed. Rosenbaum, proprietor of the City hat store, Marion, Ind., is at the Arizona for his health. He passed through the city about two weeks ago for California, but soon discovered after his arrival there that California did not suit him. He thinks Albuquerque is the place to regain his health.

J. R. Lincoln, ranch boss at the Antelope Springs cattle ranch, is still in the city, but will go out to the ranch to morrow, accompanied by Frank Lower, of Council Grove, Kansas, and W. H. Wilder, of Trinidad, Colorado, cattle buyers. Judge Polce, the superintendent, is expected in from the ranch this evening.

Hon. H. B. Ferguson was seen at his law office this afternoon, but he has nothing especially to say. He did what he considered fair to his party while at Washington, and if he made a few enemies he undoubtedly made a host of warm political friends. He does not pay any attention to the remarks of J. G. Albright, Santiago Baca and a few others.

John A. Hill, familiarly known as "Uncle Johnny," the old town veteran, was buried this morning in Santa Barbara cemetery, the funeral services being conducted at the old town home and there were a large number of sincere mourners present. Undertaker Montfort supervised the burial, and properly lowered the remains of the old veteran in his final resting place. Peace to his ashes.

THE CITIZEN has received notice that a young son, named Ralph Stewart Wright, weighing 85 pounds, was born to Rev. Stewart Conrad Wright and wife, formerly of this city, now of Bradford, Ohio, on Friday, April 11, 1903. The mother and child are reported doing nicely, and on the Sunday following the event Rev. Wright preached more vigorously than ever.

THE MINING COMPANY.
A few weeks ago the Albuquerque Mining company, with Jacob Weinmann president, Simon Baum vice president, Joseph Goldstein secretary, and M. Levy treasurer, was organized here, and on yesterday Mr. Baum received a letter from Mr. Weinmann, now in New York, stating that he had negotiated for the sale of $100,000 worth of stock in the company. The mines of the company are located near Magdalena, in Socorro county, and this sale will enable the company to commence operations on the properties at an early day.

Bonds Accepted.
This morning Mayor Field and the board of aldermen held a special meeting for the purpose of receiving the bonds of City Treasurer Meehan and City Marshal Dodd.

The bond of Mr. Meehan was first presented, read by the clerk and approved by the board. It was in the sum of $50,000, and the names of John A. Lee, S. M. Folson, M. P. Stamm, Wallace Hesselein, J. E. Sant and J. M. Wheelock appear as sureties.

The bond of Mr. Dodd was then presented and approved. Chas. Zeiger and James M. Morrison as sureties in the sum of $500.

Portugal Arrigo, O. R. Neher, Ed. Ward Miller, Sr., and Ernest Grunfeld are sureties on the bond of City Clerk Hesselein in the sum of $2,000. This bond was accepted at the meeting of the board Monday night. Mr. Hesselein informs THE CITIZEN that he will have his office at the city building, in the council room, and his office hours will be from 10 a. m. to 12 noon, and from 2 to 4 p. m.

Land Officials.
Gen. J. A. Williamson, land commissioner of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad company, headquarters at Chicago, and its respective bookkeeper and secretary, May W. E. Talaferro, arrived last night from the north, and are registered at the San Felipe. The general will remain in the city for several days, when he will visit Flagstaff, Prescott and other points along the road and out west in the interest of his department, which he has partially neglected owing to pressing business that kept him for the past year in California in the east. He will visit San Francisco before returning to the city, and after resting up here for several days more he will proceed to Chicago. He reports Mayor J. W. Donnelly, who is located at the Chicago office, in the best of health and spirits. He has his Albuquerque friends call on him during the World's Fair.

Mayor Talaferro's coming was heralded in advance, and although the passenger train was several hours behind time, not arriving until nearly midnight, half a dozen of his former old chums met him at the depot with a warm hand and proceeded to talk up important business. Mr. Talaferro was once located in this city, and now returns to assist Mr. C. H. Fancher to conduct the Albuquerque office of the Atlantic & Pacific land department. He is the same jolly, good natured "Daddy," and his return is well received.

A Spirited Runaway.
A horse's transfer team got frightened near the baggage house at the depot this morning, ran south to Oak avenue and thence to the Atlantic & Pacific addition, where the horses skidded at a lively race through several streets, and then came north up Second street, running at a Ten Horse speed. W. L. Trimble & Co.'s furniture wagon team was standing in front of Trotter & Bell's, and one of the runaway horses slightly touched one of Trimble's horses and the latter followed the frightened team north on Second street. R. B. Elder, the telephone manager, caught the Trimble team and stopped them near Railroad avenue, but the horse horses kept on and at the corner of Second street and Copper avenue straddled a telephone pole, the pole breaking off at the ground and falling across one of the horses, bringing the runaway to a halt. It was a lively runaway, with but slight damage. It is not often Mr. Trimble's horses take a notion to run, but when they do they show that they are spirited and made of good material.

Visited Fruitvale.
G. L. Bradford Prince, who is interested in the Rio Puerco Colonization and Irrigation company, visited the Fruitvale settlement of English colonists yesterday, returning to the city late yesterday afternoon in company with Cal. Sperry, president of the company. The governor is pleased with the prospects at the Rio Puerco, and states that in a short time, as soon as the snow melts in the northern ranges, the colony will have plenty of water the whole year for all purposes. He found the colonists in a happy frame of mind, and all anxious to grow up with the country. The governor is sorry that he is not in Santa Fe to day, for he is working day and night to get his office in apple pie and to be turned over to his successor, Gov. W. T. Thornton. The delay of the passenger train from the west prevents him from being at the capital to day, but he will leave for the north this evening.

The James Ditch.
Wiley Weaver, C. W. Kennedy and N. E. Cavalier, the civil engineer, returned last night from San Ysidro, on the James river, where they were looking over the James ditch line. This ditch line runs along the south side of the James river and to a point just west of Albuquerque, a few miles across the Rio Grande. This is the ditch which P. A. Simpson has been surveying for the past few weeks. Mr. Simpson is now in the city, but expects to leave for his camp at San Ysidro, with a new corps of assistants to morrow morning. Messrs. Dyer, Middleton and Kinsley, who were with him and are now in the city, will not join the party to morrow morning.

Headache and Dizziness.
Frequent causes of Apoplexy and Paralysis.
The most recent and profound researches in this direction by specialists have developed conclusively that the above disorders frequently result in death or permanent disability. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is the greatest remedy for either of these apparently insignificant causes. Nothing approaches it in merit. Mrs. W. E. Burns, of South Bond, Ind., who had suffered from constant headache for three months, was cured by it. The daughter of Daniel Meyers, Brooklyn, Mich., had been insane for ten years, and was having from 15 to 25 fits a day. Nervine cured her of both fits and insanity. Sold by T. H. Burgess & Son, the druggists, on guarantee. Get a book free.

District Court.
The case of W. L. Trimble & Co. vs. Peter A. Simpson, was tried and a verdict for plaintiff for $175 rendered.

The case of Isabel Brow. vs. Jose L. Peres, sheriff, and W. L. Trimble & Co., was tried by jury, and a verdict for $280 rendered for plaintiff.

The case of John D. Torlina vs. Chas. Zeiger is on trial. The suit was brought by plaintiff to compel Mr. Zeiger to pay balance on account of purchase of a quantity of lignite, which Zeiger refused to pay, claiming that the stuff was not as represented.

EARTHQUAKES

Frightened Inhabitants Sleep Out of Doors.

Editor Times.
As requested I herewith send you an outline of the recent earthquake at Helen.

During Thursday and Thursday night April 6, Helen experienced seven earthquake shocks and the following day three more took place—one in the morning, one at noon and another at 8:30 in the evening. The latter was the most violent and caused walls to crack, dishes to be rattled and window glasses were even broken; also goods were shaken from shelves in the stores.

It frightened the inhabitants to such an extent that many slept out of doors that night for fear that harder and stronger shocks might come and bury them beneath falling walls.

At 4 o'clock Saturday morning, April 8, another shock came, but this one was not as strong as the preceding ones, nevertheless it was of considerable force. There were two more that morning—one at 5:30 and the other at 6 o'clock. During the day several slight shocks were felt.

The wave of shocks seemed to come from a southeasterly direction and were of about ten to fifteen seconds duration, and after passing a low, rumbling noise could be heard for several minutes.

The earthquakes were evidently confined to only a narrow strip of country, as points north of Las Lunas and south of Sabinal were not disturbed.

It has been reported that a hot spring has sprung up in the mountains east of Helen, and is still flowing without any sign of giving out.

Friday morning April 14, at 5:45 and 6 o'clock, Helen was again shaken up, but only slightly compared to those of the week before, and did not cause much alarm.

These phenomena are very strange, the cause of which has not yet been explained. Several citizens claim that slight shocks have been taking place nearly every night for the past three weeks, but were of no consequence as they were noticed by only a few, who did not know what they were until the more severe ones of the past week took place.

Part B. Dallas.
Helen, N. M., April 18.

(From the Daily, April 21.)

P. P. Simon and family have returned from their trip to El Paso and south.

Gideon Bourgoin is representing one of his business houses on First street.

M. H. Keesee, the old old miner, who was located at Gorrillon a few years ago, in the city and is registered at the El Paso.

Johnny Burke, who came to Albuquerque from Kokomo, Indiana, some years ago, died recently in the insane asylum at Indianapolis, Ind.

Trinidad Alard, the assessor of Santa Fe county, is here to day on business. He was for years the territorial auditor, and he made a capital official.

A. S. Burr, a partner in the cattle business with Montague Stevens, came down from the north last night and is registered at the San Felipe from New York.

Ned Gould is here from Santa Fe. He stated that the fire department of the capital town, which was disbanded a short time ago, will soon be reorganized.

Jacob Gansley, who, with W. C. Lason, has been on a business trip to San Pedro and Gorrillon, returned home last evening. Mr. Leonard remained at Gorrillon for a few days.

Wm. Baird and wife, of this city, having business in Santa Fe, left for the capital this morning. Mr. Baird is one of the mixologists at the St. Elmo, and will be absent several days.

M. F. Savage and wife are Coloradans here on the lookout for a home in the sunshine southwest. They came down from the north last night and are registered at the European from Como, Col.

The New Mexico Collegian is the name of a neat monthly paper issued by the students of the Agricultural college at Las Cruces. It deserves long life, and will be beneficial in many ways to the college.

Miss Lizzie M. Wilson, sister of W. J. Wilson, the bookkeeper at the Albuquerque National bank, left this morning for the north. She will attend the Chimes of Normandy at Las Vegas this evening, and then proceed to her home at Winfield, Kansas.

J. I. Roy, wife and son, H. W. Roy, will leave to morrow morning for Wichita, Kansas, where they will reside in the future. The senior Roy was employed in the car department of the Atlantic & Pacific for five years, and was one of the faithful employees of the railroad. The Citizens regret to part with such an excellent family.

Agent Gilbert, of the Wells Fargo Express company, received this morning a dispatch from J. G. Wines, messenger, that the express car No. 2 passenger train, due here at 7 o'clock p. m., was destroyed by fire last night at Hancock, siding, and was a total loss, with all the contents. Local Auditor Hatch left for the west on the delayed passenger to investigate matters.

An incandescent globe, with a 10 candle power light, is warranted to last and give good light for about 200 hours, but G. H. Moore, of the Windsor hotel, has one which has burned an average of fourteen hours per day, and for one year and a half. It was put up in front of the hotel, under the porch and on the outside, on the night of D. B. Robinson's reception, Oct. 19, 1901, and through all kinds of weather never failed to give light until last night.

At 11 o'clock this morning, Cade Selvy received a dispatch from Freight Conductor Frost to meet his train at the depot as a man was in a car of oranges. Special Officer Selvy was on hand when the train arrived, and he pulled out a man calling himself Lefe Claycomb. The fellow broke the seat of the car at Coolidge, got inside and was living in high elation on delightful California oranges when Conductor Frost apprehended him at Laguna. He will have a hearing at 4 o'clock this afternoon before Justice Lockhart.

A Whipping Dentist.
About ten weeks ago two young men, named Shaw and Miller, arrived here from the north, supposedly from Denver, and registered at the Hotel Columbus. They claimed to be dentists, and intended to revolutionize the business by doing work below eastern prices—so cheap that those who had no aches in their jaws, would do well to have some, just for the purpose of having them to operate on them. They had doggers printed, advertised quite extensively through the city papers, and secured considerable work, the revenue from which was enough to meet all their obligations for the first month. By that time the character of their work was beginning to show that they were not experts at their business, and work with them for the next month was very slack. Miller quit the firm, and was seen in El Paso a few days afterward bumming around the streets, and from his seedy appearance it looked like he was in the very poorest financial condition. Shaw hung on to the city until night before last, and skipped by the moonlight on the stairway of the Hotel Columbus, secretly stealing his trunk out of his room and leaving behind a very comfortable bill for lodging. It is understood that he owes others through out the city, and some borrowed money to Arthur Heyne. Mrs. Lockhart informs THE CITIZEN that Frank Shaw claimed to her to have a brother-in-law, named Dr. Chamberlain, residing at Colorado Springs, Col., and she has written to the gentleman telling him of Frank's bad break.

District Court.
This morning the jury in the case of J. D. Torlina vs. Chas. Zeiger returned a verdict allowing the plaintiff $100. The verdict is rather a victory for the defendant, and settles the fact of the superiority of inhuman over lignite. Zeiger's contract was for lignite, with the understanding that it was to be as good or better than a grade of inhuman which he had bought some years previously from Torlina, and after it had been on the floor some months he became convinced that it was inferior and refused to pay the balance of the bill rendered. Experts were examined who testified as to structure and the relative merits of the two materials, and it was shown that lignite is made of wood fibre and heavy canvas, and inhuman of cork and canvas, and that while a scuffing of the feet on the wood fibre of the unyielding lignite might break into the material, still on the inhuman the cork would yield and the material be unharmed. The verdict allows plaintiff the price at which he quoted inhuman to defendant, which added to the costs of the case will equal the cost of lignite.

The case of E. W. Cady vs. the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad company, is on trial. This is a suit brought to recover $5,000 damages for death of Michael Cady, a son of plaintiff, who was killed in the yards here in Jan. 1900.

Petitioner Court.
Michael Canning and James Woods, two vagabonds, attempted to hold up J. H. Briganza last night, but were arrested before they accomplished their purpose by Policemen Cooper and Geach. This morning the prisoners were brought before Justice Lockhart, and both fined $10 and costs, or twenty days on the chain gang. They took the latter sentence.

Jas. H. Gish, Wm. Raghtenberg and John Walker were up as vagabonds, and sent to the chain gang for ten days each.

Thomas Daley and C. R. Turner were also arrested as vagabonds, but were discharged.

Greek George Kicks.
There seems to be a plot among a gang of people here, among whom are a few who ought to be above such mean tricks, to do up "Greek George," the wrestler. He has been kicked and cuffed ever since he has been in town, and to day he came to the determination to put some of the plotters to a little trouble. Warrants issued against certain parties would bring out facts very discreditable to their reputations as good citizens, and at 1 o'clock George had one fellow around hunting up money to pay him for what he had unlawfully secured from him.

A Wonderful Engine.
Cannot Be Surpassed.
An engine exerting surpassing power is always a source of wonder, and yet how many are entirely forgetful of the existence more powerful and enduring than any ever invented. Not perhaps until they experience irregular pulse, heart fluttering, tenderness in shoulder and arm, swollen ankles, asthmatic wheezing, short breath, or pain in side, when its existence is no longer to be denied, as the possessor must know he has heart disease. Mrs. LeBar, Fitchburg, Mich., had heart disease fifteen years; had to hire house help; lived on liquid food; used Dr. Miles' heart cure and all symptoms left her. Continued use cured her. Sold by T. H. Burgess & Son, on a guarantee, who will give a doctor's book free.

Grand Means.
One of the most interesting of the many scenes used in the Spectator, "The World Under," which is to be presented in the Chicago "Spectator," will be the view of the three caravels of Columbus' fleet, on the morn of their departure from Palos. These three vessels are built on the same line as the three famous vessels, the largest one, the Santa Maria, being 42 feet over all, and a practical working boat. In the production each rope and sail will be managed by real sailors and all the maneuvering of the vessels will be shown.

SHE TOOK MORPHINE

A Woman of the Town Uses the Drug with Deadly Results.

Cold in body, but perfect as to sleep, lies the body of Lucie Dore at Undertaker Strong's, the result of morphine administered by her own hands.

She occupied the east room of the adobe house in the alley back of the opera house, and from several of her fallen companions, who occupy rooms in the house and just across the alley, the following account, briefly stated, is obtained:

Last night, about 11 o'clock, a man rapped at the alley door of the dead woman's room, but received no response. He then called at the room of a woman adjoining, and asked, "Where is Josephine?" by which name the woman was familiarly known. The woman just across the alley was also asked the question, and she replied that she was in her room a short time before. All three then tried the alley door, but found it locked. They then called at the back door, opened it, and discovered Lucie lying on the top covers of the bed, breathing heavily and apparently in the throes of death. She had not disrobed herself, but was unconscious. On the bureau stand, near the bed, was a 60 grain bottle of morphine, and out of it the woman had taken at least 40 grains, enough to kill a dozen people. This told the three that the woman was in a critical condition, and through them the news was given general circulation, which had a tendency to bring to the room quite a crowd.

Messengers were sent for physicians and the first to respond was Dr. De Luna. He got to the room at 11:30, and did all in his power to restore consciousness, but the woman breathed but a few moments after his arrival. Drs. Easterday and Hope followed Dr. De Luna, but after examination they found that the woman was beyond any possible chance of aid or relief. She was dead.

Policeman Cooper was present, and after death was pronounced by the physicians he ordered that the body be taken to the undertaker's. He discovered scattered through the top drawer of the bureau a $27.80 in money.

Several men, who are well acquainted with the suicide, state that last night at about 9:30 o'clock they observed the woman cross Railroad avenue and enter a drug store. It is thought by them that she purchased the deadly drug at that time.

A Mexican woman, occupying the second room from the deceased, reports that Lucie entered her room about 13 o'clock, pulled the wrappers off a bottle and took some of its contents. She asked the victim what she had taken, and received in reply the answer "that she (Lucie) had taken some medicine." Pieces of the wrappers around the bottle were found by the policeman and physicians in the room of the Mexican woman. After taking the poison, Lucie went to her own room, locked the front door, and threw herself on the bed to wait for death, which came easily and without any apparent struggle in an hour's time.

She has been here off and on for the past three years, and was regarded always in the very best of spirits. She was not in the least despondent yesterday, being full of life up to the moment she swallowed the poison. She was born in Spain, near the border line of France, her father being a Frenchman and her mother a Spaniard. On April 11, last Tuesday a week, she reached her 23d birthday. She has a sister in a convent at Juarez, Mexico, whom she is schooling, and a married sister residing near Chinahuah, Mexico. A friend, whom she thought a great deal of (she was not married) left the city a few days ago for Prescott, Arizona, to look up a business location, and to-day a letter came from him to her. He was going to settle in business, if not at Prescott, somewhere in Arizona, and would send for her. To him a telegram was sent this morning, informing him of the suicide.

Marshal Chavez states that the woman, who like the rest of her kind, had to pay a fine under a territorial vagrant law, was known on the police records as Mary Johnson, but her right name is Lucie Dore. She was a handsome woman in appearance, a perfect type of a brunette, and above the ordinary fallen woman in intelligence. She had a number of friends, who look upon her death in the nature of a mystery. She left nothing behind to indicate the reason why she committed the rash deed.

A coroner's jury composed of W. H. Burke, justice of the peace; Frank Van Leuven, foreman; Al. Morgan, Eugene Daniels, M. C. Zirhut, J. Ed. Priest and Ernest Krieglstein, met at 1 o'clock this afternoon, viewed the body at Undertaker Strong's and after examining Dr. Hope, adjourned over until to morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

There is a rumor to the effect that the woman possessed considerable money. This is denied, however, by a friend. She has a fine wardrobe of clothing, but very seldom appeared on the street with them.

THE SITUATION.
The following was handed THE CITIZEN this morning, the substance of a letter received by a railroader from Topeka, Kansas:

It is rumored here (Topeka) that a general strike up on the Santa Fe system will take place at noon on Friday, effecting all classes of railway employees.

It has developed that the Santa Fe system has inaugurated a war of extermination upon all labor organizations with the view of annulling all contracts and schedules now in force. United States attorneys are being served upon all striking employees, prohibiting them from going upon the company's grounds. This movement of extermination, it is rumored, is backed by an association known as the General Managers' association. Information is coming from terminal points reports of the ships deserting yards full of trains, and round houses full of disabled engines. Traffic is badly delayed and business interests are suffering.

The above is a very gloomy aspect of the present railroad situation, but it is hoped that matters are not as bad as reported. This morning there were rumors flying over the city that a general walk out on the Santa Fe system, from Chicago to Mexico, and from Albuquerque to Mohave, Cal., would begin to day, but an investigation proved that the trainmen are all yet at work, moving passenger and freight trains with as little inconvenience as possible. The trainmen at the depot, several of whom the reporter conversed with, deny that they intended to go out, but there is a well defined sympathy with those on the system who are striking.

It is true that the Atlantic & Pacific shops are still out, but Division Superintendent Taylor has a small force standing by him and the engines are receiving sufficient attention to propel trains.
