A Man Found Dead.

Last week the dead body of a man was found north of the Capitan mountains, in Carrizo Draw. His skull had been crushed with some blunt instrument, club or stone. An investigation by the parties who found the body revealed the fact that he had been killed by a blow or blows from a rock.

The scene of the killing was some distance from where the body was found, which had been carried or dragged to the arroyo. Following the trail made by blood and cigarette papers which had fallen from the pocket of the dead man, the searchers discovered a blood-stained stone, which had evidently been the means by which the man was killed.

The body was badly decomposed, and death had probably occurred a month previous. Nothing was found on the body to indicate who the deceased was, except that his spurs were found close by. On one of the spur straps was a brand, DK. This brand is said to be given by a ranchman in Chaves county. The little hair remaining on the dead man's head was of a reddish color, and it is therefore believed that he was an American.

A saddle, bridle and spurs were found at an abandoned sheep camp, and a strange horse was discovered near the scene of the killing. Officers are endeavoring to locate the sheep herd that occupied the grounds about the supposed time of the killing, and when found some light may be thrown on the perpetrators of the crime.

Commissioners' Proceedings.

The board of county commissioners met at Lincoln, N. M., on Monday, August 30, 1909, at one o'clock p. m., pursuant to adjournment on August 23, 1909.

Present: R. H. Taylor, chairman; R. A. Duran, member; J. G. Riggle, clerk; C. A. Stevens, sheriff.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

This meeting being for the purpose of receiving and examining the assessment rolls of 1909.

The assessment rolls were, on examination, found to be incorrect, and were rejected by the board.

The board adjourned sine die.

Apples Grow Here.

The Carrizozo valley is not the "Home of the Apple;" and yet the apple, when given an opportunity, thrives here. There is a specimen on exhibition at J. R. Humphrey's jewelry store, which was grown on the Carrizozo ranch, two miles north of town, which measures thirteen inches in circumference and weighs almost a pound. This suggests a thought: "Can the apple be grown at a profit in this valley?" Some one may answer by saying: "Yes, but the ranch has a large spring from which the orchard is watered." That is true; and we are not prepared to say that an orchard may be grown without water, but do assert that a flowing stream is not essential to fruit production.

As a proof of the foregoing assertion, a visit to the homestead of Joe George, seven miles east of town, will be sufficient proof. There is to be seen a beautiful orchard, about five acres in extent, containing principally apple trees, yet having a few plum and pear trees. These trees are in full bearing, and are loaded this season, and Mr. George will realize a neat sum from the sale of this year's crop. This orchard has been grown by the aid of water from a well which is raised by means of a small windmill. This one well, added to the patience and labor of Mr. George, produced a ten fold increase in the value of his place. How much more valuable would an additional well and larger windmills have made the place? This is a question for the serious consideration of the settlers in this valley. It is well to remember that what one man can do may be duplicated by another.

A Run-Away.

Joe Adams, the lightning drayman for the Carrizozo Livery Stable, has been sporting a fancy dray, and had a little run-away one day this week. The new, shiny dray was too much for a fresh team, and they took a spin during Joe's momentary absence. Joe, however, is nimble of foot and quick of eye, and soon had them in hand, and never slipped a cog when a customer called for him. The old rig was too slow for Joe, anyway, hence the spanking new one.

The Carrizozo-Roswell Road.

A corps of surveyors under Territorial Engineer V. L. Sullivan will soon begin work on the Carrizozo-Lincoln-Roswell road, and within very few weeks thereafter the dirt will begin to fly, and it is expected that the road will be finished early in the coming year. The territory will assist in the work either by an appropriation or convict labor from the penitentiary at Santa Fe. The big hill east of Nogal will be surveyed, and a first-class road of easy grade built; also the big hill at Picacho will be surveyed and a good highway made. This road when completed will be of inestimable benefit to the county, as it will bring the towns along the route into closer business relations, and enable the farmers on the east side to market their produce without the inconvenience of hauling it over five or six miles of a steep hill to reach a market. The Good Roads Commission will have charge of the work, and the county will do its share, as a one-mill tax has been made for that purpose. Good bridges will be built across the Bonito and Hondo streams, and at all other places where necessary. The road will follow the line of the old road from Carrizozo through the towns of Nogal, Capitan, Lincoln, Hondo, Analla, Picacho, and onto Roswell, but will deviate at any points considered necessary at the discretion of the engineer in charge.

There is also under consideration a branch road from the Hondo up the Ruidoso to the Charley Wingfield ranch, from which point, it is said, the Indian Bureau will continue the road across the Mescalero reservation to Tularosa.

Eagle Mining Company Property Sold.

On Monday of this week, Dr. M. G. Paden, commissioner under the authority of the Sixth Judicial Court, sold the Eagle Mining Company's properties at Parsons. The sale was to satisfy a mortgage held by J. H. Fulmer, Jr., of Chicago, amounting to $120,900.50. Mr. Fulmer purchased the property on a bid of $35,000, leaving a deficiency of $85,900.50.

Mr. Fulmer was treasurer of the Eagle Mining company, and had advanced this sum of money, taking a mortgage on the company's holdings. Later on he expects to reorganize the company and begin operations on a larger scale.

Among the stockholders of the old company present at the sale were: J. H. Fulmer, Jr.; A. B. and A. G. Graham, David Gilder, J. C. Tronc, R. C. Dryden, Capt. P. L. Krouse and Col. G. W. Prichard, attorney for the mortgagee. The parties accompanied Col. Prichard to Santa Fe, leaving Tuesday evening for that point.

Found Dead Near Town.

J. T. Hodo, an employe of the Bar W company, came in Tuesday afternoon and notified Justice Scoggin that he had found a dead man in the Bar W pasture, about two miles northwest of town.

Constable Adams summoned a jury, which immediately went out to view the body, and the following verdict was returned:

We, the undersigned justice of the peace and jury, who sat upon the inquest held this 31st day of August, 1909, on the body of Charles Payne, found in precinct No. 14, of the county of Lincoln, find that the deceased came to his death from causes unknown.

N. M. Scoggin, J. P.,
A. H. Harvey,
A. T. Roberts,
E. F. Gray,
W. L. Gumm,
S. J. Woodland,
Jno. G. Scoggin,
Jurors.

The body was badly decomposed, and appeared to have lain in the position found for a week or more. A certificate was found on the body, issued by the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union, of Fort Worth, Texas, which furnished the only clue to the dead man's identity.

The following is a description of the deceased and the apparel found on him: Age about 40; height about five feet ten inches; weight about 150 pounds; sandy-gray beard, four or five days growth; hair dark, mixed with gray; full set of teeth; first joint of second finger of left hand missing; wore black clay worsted vest; dark gray worsted trousers; blue striped Denham shirt; black derby hat, and a number 8 shoe.

The body was turned over to Howard W. Hall and E. F. Gray, who interred the remains in the local cemetery, Tuesday night.

Mr. Stintwalte—Tut, tut. It's that boy been loitering again. I assure you, when that joint left the shop it was the sweetest little leg of lamb you could set eyes on, and I gave him strict orders to deliver it at once because you wanted it young.

"Ther' ain't no trouble, gentlemen," calmly answered Mrs. Grogan, who had her husband down and was sitting on his head. "Gwan!"

"You bet!" answers the man with the big scarf pin. "He feels just as punk as he does when he misses the owl car and has to stand on the corner an hour for another one."—Chicago Post.

He frowned in perplexity on hearing she was out again.

"I wonder, Jimmy, if your sister realizes," he said bitterly, "that I have treated her to three taxi rides and four open-air concerts this month?"

"You bet she realizes it," said the small boy, grinning. "That's why she's keepin' her engagement to Joe Johnson a secret."

SCRAPED NOTED MEN

Jacob Hysler of New York Has Shaved Five Presidents.

Has Strict Rules on Subject of Conversation for His Men—Generous and Well-Known Persons Who Have Patronized Him.

New York.—To have shaved five presidents of the United States is no mean distinction. This honor belongs to Jacob Hysler, who started in business at Ninth street and Broadway just 52 years ago. Thirty-five years ago he followed the course of business and moved his establishment to the Windsor hotel, where he remained 23 years, and for the past 12 years has been at one of the biggest uptown hotels. For many years he had the barber shop in the United States hotel at Saratoga.

Mr. Hysler is the sort of man who turns a trade into a profession and it is doubtless due to this fact that he has enjoyed an exceptionally distinguished patronage. He is a tall, well-built, genial man who carries his 75 years lightly, and whose face is adorned with silvery white mutton-chop whiskers.

Mr. Hysler's establishment requires the assistance of 17 barbers, who shave 300 men a day. He also employs a large number of manicures.

"One of my strictest rules," Mr. Hysler said, "is that no barber in my employ shall enter into conversation with a customer unless the man in the chair shows a disposition to talk. If the customer is talkative, the barber who is attending to his wants is privileged to take part in the gabfest."

The five presidents shaved by Mr. Hysler were Gen. Grant, Chester A. Arthur, William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt and William H. Taft. He has also shaved Vice-Presidents Fairbanks and Sherman and William J. Bryan and Alton B. Parker.

Among other notable men who have submitted to Mr. Hysler's razors are Moses H. Grinnell, who backed Elisha Kent Kane's search for the north pole; Sir Henry M. Stanley, the African explorer; Gen. Franklin Smith and Banks, and the present commander of the department of the lakes, Gen. Frederick D. Grant, also Gen. A. A. Chaffee, H. C. Corbin and Nelson A. Miles.

His older customers included Pierre Lorillard, Cornelius Fellows, W. C. Whitney, Jay Gould, William H. Vanderbilt, Cornelius Vanderbilt, and their sons, Harry Payne Whitney, George, Edwin, Frank and Howard Gould; Alfred, Cornelius, Reginald, Frederick, George W., William K. and Harold Vanderbilt continue to patronize him. The late John T. McCall of the New York Life Insurance Company, Paul Morton of the Mutual, and Henry M. Hyde of the Equitable, have sat in his chairs.

Other distinguished patrons have been Mark Twain, Frank Munsey, James Gordon Bennett, William Randolph Hearst, William and John D. Rockefeller, John D. Archbold, Andrew Carnegie, Charles M. Schwab, George Westinghouse, Thomas Edison, Joseph H. Choate, Whitelaw Reid, Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, J. Pierpont Morgan, George Perkins, Prince Auerperg, who married Miss Hazard; Frank H. Hitchcock, George B. Cortelyou, the late Bishop Henry C. Potter, Bishop Greer, Bishop McFall of Trenton, and Bishop Duane of Albany, Ogden Mills, A. H. Kissam, M. C. D. Borden, President Diaz of Mexico, Govs. Odell, Higgins, Flower and Hill of New York, and Douglas of Massachusetts.

Speaking of tips, Mr. Hysler remarked that the men in his employ are treated generously by customers. "The average tip is ten cents. Sometimes they get a quarter."

"One of the most generous men who came to me was W. C. Whitney, who, besides giving a present to his barber every month, presented him every summer with $100 for his vacation. Another very liberal man was H. H. Rogers, who, every Christmas gave a generous gift to each of the barbers and manicures."

LORD'S PRAYER ON A SHELL.

Can Easily Be Read Without Aid of a Magnifying Glass—Boston Man Owns Odd Piece of Work.

Boston.—To get the Lord's prayer into a space four inches square and still have the letters large enough to be easily read without the aid of a magnifying glass, is a task not easy of accomplishment under any circumstances, but when this small space is the surface of a brittle shell it seems well-nigh impossible. That it is possible, however, is proved by a small conch shell in the possession of L. J. Wyman of this city.

On this shell, in letters of legible size, are the words of the prayer, "Our father" and "Amen" being nearly three-quarters of an inch high.

Unfortunately, Mr. Wyman does not know the circumstances under which the shell was decorated, nor even the name of the decorator, the only clue to the identity of the artificer being the initials "T. B." which appear at the end of the prayer.

Seamen off on a long voyage often spend their idle moments in making delicate carvings and objects of art, and perhaps this shell is the result of the labors of some sailor's spare time; or, perhaps, one of the inmates of some penal institution found enjoyment in making this strange piece of work as a present for some friend or relative.

The shell is of a pink color, with a purple tinge, while the letters are white.

"The most puzzling thing about the shell," says Mr. Wyman, "is how it was decorated. The letters are not dug out, nor scratched on the shell, but are raised as though embossed. It could not have been treated with acid without showing some traces of the process, and if it was engraved it must have taken a considerable time and an infinite amount of patience."

WHY PEOPLE SUFFER.

Too often the kidneys are the cause and the sufferer is not aware of it. Sick kidneys bring backache and side pains, lameness and stiffness, dizziness, headaches, tired feeling, urinary troubles. Doan's Kidney Pills cure the cause. Mrs. N. E. Graves, Villisca, Iowa, says: "I suffered from kidney trouble for years. The secretions were disordered, there were pains in my back and swellings of the ankles. Often I had smothering spells. I had to be helped about. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me five years ago and I have been well since. They saved my life."

The injunction against moving the county seat will be heard on the 13th inst., but whether at Alamogordo or Santa Fe we have been unable to learn.

Among the attractions at the Colorado Inter-State Fair on the 15th of September will be a head-on collision between two eighty-ton locomotives, which will dash into each other at top speed. This thrilling exhibition will be of interest to all, but especially so to engineers, firemen and railroad men generally.

As may be seen elsewhere in this paper, two gruesome finds were made in this county lately. Last week the decomposed body of a man was found on the north side of the Capitan mountains, who had evidently been foully murdered. This week the partly decomposed body of a man was found in a pasture within two miles of town. There were no marks of violence on the body, and the cause of his death will probably remain a mystery for all time.

The town seems to have taken on a new lease of life since it was declared the county seat. Business is improving all around. Merchants are increasing their stocks, contractors are looking forward to a building boom and a number of new buildings have just been completed or are in process of erection. These conditions invariably follow in the wake of a new county seat. Already there is a rising demand for real estate, and the finger of prosperity points to Carrizozo.

A most disastrous flood swept through Monterey, Mexico, last week, carrying death and destruction in its path. Something like 2,000 people lost their lives, and already over 1,200 have been recovered, and the search continues. The property loss is said to have reached the enormous total of $12,000,000. The damage resulted from a cloudburst in the mountains and the inability of the Santa Catarina river to convey the volume of rushing water through its proper channels. Appeals for aid have been sent to this country, and if quick relief is not forthcoming addition loss of life and suffering will follow.

We have recently received several cars of fine first-cutting alfalfa which we are offering cheap by the ton or single bale.—The Carrizozo Trading Co.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Peter Burleson of Lincoln was visiting his daughter, Mrs. Frank English of this town several days the past week. He stated that the apple crop in the Lincoln valley will barely be sufficient for home use, and that the same applied to the orchards in the Ruidoso valley, and his own orchard was no exception—about a dozen apples on each tree.

Reports from the White Oaks mining district to hand are of an encouraging nature. Considerable development work is being done, and several claims are ready to be surveyed for patent. The Wild Cat Leasing company are working a large force on the South Homestake, and are reported to be saving considerable gold. The South Homestake has produced considerable of the yellow metal in the past, and the present company, since adding cyanide tanks to their reduction plant, are getting handsome returns from the ore. It is very probable that White Oaks will again be known as one of the leading gold-producing camps in the territory.

NOTICE.

And it further appearing that the returns of said election held in said Lincoln county, pursuant to said order aforesaid, on the 17th day of August 1909.

The Board, acting as a board of canvassers, duly proceeded to carefully examine the poll books and certificates of each precinct in said county, and continued in session for the purpose of such examination, canvass and ascertainment continuously.

That said board having duly canvassed and ascertained the results of said election as shown by the face of said returns from the voting precincts of the county upon the question whether the county seat should be removed from Lincoln to Carrizozo in said county, do find as the result of said canvass and ascertainment that 900 votes were cast for Carrizozo, and 613 for Lincoln, and that the total number of votes cast upon the proposition was 1,513,—a majority of 287 of the vote—cast being for the removal of the county seat to Carrizozo. It is therefore considered, ordered and declared by the Board of County Commissioners that Carrizozo is the county seat of the county of Lincoln, territory of New Mexico.

Eat What

You want of the food you need
Kodol will digest it.

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it.

Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak.

You must eat in order to live and maintain strength.

You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly.

But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly.

When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach.

The proper way to do is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food.

Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help; you must help it by giving it rest, and Kodol will do that.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today, and purchase a dollar bottle, and if you can honestly say, that you did not receive any benefits from it, after using the entire bottle, the druggist will refund your money to you without question or delay.

We will pay the druggist the price of the bottle purchased by you.

This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family.

We could not afford to make such an offer, unless we positively knew what Kodol will do for you.

It would bankrupt us. The dollar bottle contains 2½ times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is made at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

CARRIZOZO NEWS

CARRIZOZO - NEW MEXICO

TRADE IN REPTILES.

The trade in snake skins does not at first thought suggest itself as one requiring large capital or very complicated organization, at least in this country. But in the far east things are different, says the Boston Herald. The Java Reptile Skin Company has been incorporated in the island of that name, with a capital of $40,000. Branches will be established in a number of places throughout the island, where live snakes will be purchased from native hunters. Great stress is placed upon buying the reptiles alive, since the skin is much more valuable if the snake is skinned while yet alive. Live snakes 12 to 18 feet in length bring good prices; while dead snakes are a drug in the market. The woman who wears with pride a daintily bound snake skin card case will probably not give a thought to the fact that the material was stripped from a living snake. Ever since the episode in Eden some few thousands of years ago snakes have apparently had no right to having their feelings considered.

Statesmen in America realize, says the Spectator, "that it would be little short of a national disaster if the command of the sea were lost by Britain and were to pass into German hands." The English, we are told, are our silent partners in the Monroe doctrine, which a Germany that ruled the sea would not respect. But what danger is there of Germany's ruling the sea? Her navy is not yet half as strong as the British, says the New York World. No foreign army has brought war to English soil for 800 years. The German emperor has done some warlike talking, but Germany has kept peace for nearly forty years. The present frantic condition of British nerves is pitiful. It is, as Dr. Butler told the Mohonk peace conference last week, "the greatest present obstacle to the limitation of armaments and the chief menace to peace."

The Chicago judge who held the other day that a woman who has obtained a decree of divorce and has not remarried is entitled to alimony whenever her former husband becomes capable of paying it, delay in making the claim being no bar, may start other proceedings of the same sort, for lawyers generally approve of the decision as good law. Of course where a woman has accepted a stipulated alimony at the time of the divorce she is bound by her stipulation. But the man whose wife is glad enough to get rid of him without asking for alimony, and who has since acquired wealth, even if he has married again and raised a second family, will now be worried by the bugaboo that "heavy, heavy hangs over his head." Perhaps the situation may incite good conduct which in some cases will avoid provocation for divorce.

One college professor having declared that he can signal Mars, another one is convinced that he can talk to that planet by means of an artificially constructed rarefied atmosphere. But, even if the last dream is realized, experiment may get another drawback by the discovery that the Martian language may be something on the order of Volapuk or Esperanto.

MONKEY SCARES SOCIETY WOMEN

GREENWICH (CONN.) SIMIAN TRYING TO BREAK INTO EXCLUSIVE CIRCLES.

PICKS HOUSES WITHOUT MEN

Leaps Through Windows Where Ladies Sit and Spreads Terror—Grabs Plate of Fudge Runs Up a Tree.

Greenwich, Conn.—A wild monkey that has been going about for two days and nights trying to break into polite society has frightened the people into closing their doors and windows and braving the stifling heat rather than play host to the little brother of the African slain.

This, be it understood, is no hand organ variety of monk. His size, species and fighting disposition all indicate that he formerly belonged to a family of gladiatorial monkeys in the native jungle, whence he was kidnapped some years ago.

With the true instinct of a tramp the monkey had picked out houses where the men were away from home, and a trail of scared women has been left where the animal sought entree into the most exclusive circles.

The living room of Mrs. W. T. Buchelle, a wealthy New York widow, whose husband was an official of the New York Telephone Company, first attracted the monkey. Mrs. Buchelle was entertaining a lady who had called when the window was darkened by the strange intruder.

The monkey ran toward the women, chattering in ganry simian dialect and showing its teeth. The two women ran, shutting the door so as to leave the monkey in possession of only one room. The door was made of screen wire. On the other side faithful Towser, the family bulldog, rushed to the attack.

Whether the monkey knew about the properties of the screen and was putting up a bluff or not may not be stated, but the intruder showed fight and the dog held his championship reputation by reason of the wire guard.

From this house the monkey ran to Nathaniel Webb's home. There he imagined himself a policeman and went into the kitchen, where he grabbed a plate of fudge from a servant girl and leaped into a nearby tree, screaming a warning to the girl to keep away while he enjoyed the family food.

At the last stop where the monkey was seen a child was eating a stick of candy. The monkey took the candy and left the child unharmed. There is no indication as to whence the monkey came, but the people of the neighborhood are thoroughly terrified and are afraid to open their windows.

MEPHISTO, PARROT, FLIES INTO LOCOMOTIVE STACK

CHAMPION SWEARING BIRD FRIGHTENED AT IRON HORSE DIVES DOWN SMOKE FLUE.

Montclair, N. J.—If the hostler in the Delaware & Lackawanna railroad roundhouse who wipes up the locomotive that drew the 4:30 o'clock train from New York to this city Thursday hears cuss words coming from the inside of the big machine he need not be surprised. Somewhere in the interior of the iron horse is Mephisto, the prize swearing parrot of Paul Sorrenson. He flew down the smoke-stack in a moment of panic at the station here. The last heard of him he was coughing and sneezing and cursing the smoke, cinders and heat. It may be by this time he is breathing a profane benediction on the crown sheet of the firebox or telling the steam-charred boiler tubes what he thinks of them. On the other hand, he may be dead.

From the strictly profane point of view, Mephisto was the best educated parrot in this section of New Jersey. He could swear with fluency in five languages and also in several dialects. Every noun, verb, adjective, conjunction, preposition and article in the vocabulary was either tainted or tinged with profanity. Not one of his many friends expressed any hope for his future. He was beyond reformation and redemption.

Sorrenson, who lives in New street, took Mephisto to the station Thursday evening. The parrot was drawing with energy upon his vocabulary and delighting one part of a big crowd and shocking others when the New York train rolled in. Mephisto became panic stricken at once. He flew from the arm of his owner, circled twice above the locomotive and then dived down the smoke stack. The astounded spectators heard a volley of oaths coming out with the smoke, and then there was silence. There is a division of opinion as to what produced it.

Those who were shocked by the language the parrot had used say the silence was caused by suffocation. The bird's friends assert, however, that Mephisto simply was racking his brains to find words to fit the new situation in which he found himself.

Hoosiers Fish for Rats.

Petersburg, Ind.—Walter Darnall, proprietor of a fish market, has been annoyed lately by hundreds of rats. Fearing the stench raised by poisoning them would injure his business, Darnall tried a new plan. He baited fishing hooks attached to strong lines and dropped the baited hook into the rat holes. Only a few minutes' wait brought a tug on the line and the novel fisher landed his prize. The rats are all sizes, and Mr. Darnall's success as a rat exterminator has caused a number of others to put into practice his idea, with the result that hundreds of rats are being caught.

Spectacular Oil Fire.

The most spectacular fire ever witnessed in the oil industry was at one of the Des Bocas wells in Mexico. About 60,000 barrels of oil were burned up daily for nearly two months. The flames rose to heights of 800 to 1,400 feet.

A Case for Sympathy.

Two matrons of a certain western city, whose respective matrimonial ventures did not in the first instance prove altogether satisfactory, met at a woman's club one day, when the first matron remarked:

"Hattie, I met your 'ex,' dear old Tom, the day before yesterday. We talked much of you."

"Is that so?" asked the other matron. "Did he seem sorry when you told him of my second marriage?"

"Indeed, he did; and said so most frankly!"

"Honest?"
"Honest! He said he was extremely sorry, though, he added, he didn't know the man personally."—Lippincott's Magazine.

According to Taste.

Discussing missionary work, Mme. Helene Vincente, the well-known Congo missionary, said at a dinner in Cleveland:

"A Chinese heaven strikes you as ludicrous. Yet here in your own country you are careful to fit heaven and the—er—other place to your people's dislikes."

"Thus, on my recent southern trip, I heard a Georgia negro divine describe hades as ice cold, a place where the wicked shiver and freeze through all eternity. I asked the divine why he altered in that radical manner the usual description of hades, and he replied:

"'Ah don' darst tell mah people nuffin' else, marm. Why, if Ah sed hades wuz wahn, some o' dese ole rheumatic breddern an' sistern o' mine would be wantin' ter staht right down dah come fust frost.'"

After Specialist Failed to Cure Her Intense Itching Eczema—Had Been Tortured and Disfigured But

Was Soon Cured of Dread Humor.

"I contracted eczema and suffered intensely for about ten months. At times I thought I would scratch myself to pieces. My face and arms were covered with large red patches, so that I was ashamed to go out. I was advised to go to a doctor who was a specialist in skin diseases, but I received very little relief. I tried every known remedy, with the same results. I thought I would never get better until a friend of mine told me to try the Cuticura Remedies. So I tried them, and after four or five applications of Cuticura Ointment I was relieved of my unbearable itching. I used two sets of the Cuticura Remedies, and I am completely cured. RECIPE FOR CHOCOLATE ROLL

Confection Good Any Time; Particularly Appropriate for Summer Garden Parties.

This is a particularly nice variety of Swiss roll, and is excellent for garden parties and "at homes."

Required: Three ounces of flour, three ounces of butter, four ounces of sugar, three ounces of plain chocolate, three eggs, apricot jam, a few drops of vanilla, two tablespoonsful of milk.

Line a baking tin with a sheet of greased paper, arrange it so that it comes an inch above the tin all all around.

Beat up the eggs, then add the sugar and put the basin over a saucepan of boiling water over a gentle heat, and whisk the mixture until it becomes thick and rosy; then take it off and whisk it for five minutes longer.

Grate or chop the chocolate finely, put it in a pan with the milk, and let it dissolve gently. Heat the butter until it is just melted and sieve the flour.

Stir the butter and flour lightly into the eggs, then add the chocolate and vanilla.

Pour the mixture into the prepared tin and bake it in a moderate oven for about a quarter of an hour, or until it feels spongy when pressed with the finger.

Lay a clean piece of paper on the table and dust it with sugar. Heat the jam slightly, so that it will spread easily. Turn the roll downward on the paper, spread it with the jam, then place the bands under the paper and roll it up neatly.

Note—If liked, use in place of the jam some nicely flavored and slightly sweetened whipped cream.

STARCHING AS A FINE ART.

Experience and Care Required if Finished Collars and Cuffs Are to Look Their Best.

Even the good laundress sometimes has trouble in making her collars and cuffs exactly right. It is, indeed, a fine art to starch well, and it needs much experience. Potato starch is said to be the finest of all starches, and to make the very best finish on shirt fronts and collars, while for those who like glazed linen a little turpentine added to the starch will make a gloss to vie with the mirror. Starching is an art brought from Holland by the wife of good Queen Bess' coachman, and it has lost rather than gained during the century or so that it has been in use among English-speaking races.

String Beans (German Style).

String one quart of the beans and cut them diagonally into one-half inch lengths. Wash and drain. Melt one large tablespoonful of butter in a large saucepan, add one-half a teaspoonful salt and one-quarter of a teaspoonful of white pepper, and the drained beans. Cover closely and shake over the hot fire for five minutes. Add about four tablespoonfuls of hot water and draw a little to one side, where they will not cook quite so fast. As the water evaporates add more, but never more than a few spoonfuls at a time. If the beans are young they will be tender in 20 minutes; if older they may require as much as 45 minutes. Cooked in this way they are very tender and delicate. By way of variety a grating of nutmeg or a half teaspoonful of onion juice may be added in the butter at the beginning. —Old Correspondent.

Original Cake.

One cup sugar, one-half cup butter, well creamed together with two eggs; one-third cup cornstarch, one cup flour, one teaspoonful baking powder sifted three times. Add part of flour, beat until very creamy; one-half cup milk, add rest of flour and one teaspoonful vanilla.

Suggestion for Young Wives.

"How do you tell bad eggs?" queried the young housewife.

"I never told any," replied the fresh grocery clerk; "but, if I had anything to tell a bad egg, I'd break it gently."—Christian Guardian.

Profanity is wicked, vulgar and useless; yet a great many people can hardly speak a sentence without swearing.

Truth in a Headline.

Jacob A. Rlis was talking about witty newspaper headlines.

"As witty a headline as I know of said he, "was written by a youth of eighteen in a San Francisco newspaper office. There was a bill up to prohibit the sale of alcoholic drinks within four miles of the University of California, and this bill the youth headed: "An Act To Promote Pedestrianism Among Our Students."—Washington Star.

Mother as a Teacher.

The perception of beauty, dormant in the babe, is easily awakened with the other growing faculties. The kindergarden teacher's efforts in this direction are constantly bearing fruit, but let a word be given to mothers who have not had a kindergarden training. Gather about your children a few beautiful objects; talk about them; let the children come, as they will unconsciously, under their influence; let beautiful ideas and images grow into their lives. Perhaps you have a dainty head of marble; put it on a low table to be admired; on the window seat to cast a shadow; in the child's hand while he looks into the beautifully modeled face, at the smiling mouth, the wavy hair. Take time to read and reread a gem of poetry, or to sing a sweet song to your children. Above all take time to study with your children the shading of the leaf, the bird, the bee, the stone, the pearls of dew on grass blades, the frost glitter, the snow crystal; take him to watch the trees in their grandeur, the stretch of meadow, the sparkling stream, the cloud mountains, the sunset glory. Beauty will be revealed to you that you dream not of. Even from our crowded city streets to the eye that is open and the heart that is awakened, beauty has not fled. The flickering light and shade weave themselves into exquisite patterns on our walls and pavements, the trees throw their long dark shadows, the mist rise soft and grey, the sun pours its flood of golden light down the long dusty streets; to the ear that is attended, harmony rises from the discord of sounds. He who loves beauty and is looking for it will find it everywhere, and the mother who keeps her enthusiasm alive by working with her children developing their perception of beauty and love for the beautiful works of nature and art, and reverence for the beautiful truths divine, will give them a blessed inheritance which will lighten their burden as they grow beyond sheltering care, and bring more of cheerfulness, hopefulness and youthfulness into their lives.

Robt. A. Hurt, assessor of this county, returned Sunday from Abilene, Texas, and went next day to his home at Capitan. He was called to the home of his father, P. T. Hurt, about three weeks ago. old homestead at Ovalo, Taylor county, was an honorable and upright citizen who enjoyed the respect and confidence of a wide acquaintance. James E. Hurt, of this place, was also present at the time of his father's death, and will remain at Ovalo for some time to look after the estate.
