APOLGY

We are sorry to state that our reporter's good faith was imposed upon last week by some "bel esprit" when given information of the organization in this town of a certain girls exclusive club. The young ladies referred to were offended and justly so. Therefore, they wish to let our smart informant know that if he would apply his smartness and devote his fervid imagination strictly to business, he may, provided he does not succumb before to a severe attack of meningitis, attain a great success in his own line of endeavor.

SCHOOL NOTES

The school is very glad to note that Prof. Osborne has returned from Washington, D. C. He came in Thursday afternoon after an absence of two weeks attending to business in that city. He brought some leaves from the trees at Mt. Vernon, and pictures of the mansion. We were very glad to see them and know the different places where President Washington spent the greater part of his life. His return has been very beneficial to us, as it helps us in our school work as well as in numerous other ways.

Motion made and carried that we employ the Las Vegas band and orchestra for $310.00 for the fair.

The manager appoints Otis Hofmann, C. D. Tyner and E. W. Howe, to look after the band, picture show, dances, and refreshments during the fair. Motion duly made and carried that we have a bean feast on Saturday October 4th at noon and that A. W. Wiest be appointed as a committee of one to look after the arrangements for the bean feast he to appoint his assistant. Mr. Wiest appoints Claude Wensell and W. M. Weigand to assist him.

The Commercial course of the High School department will begin again and the intentions are to make rapid progress to make up for lost time. The students consider this course very beneficial and are especially interested in it.

One of many tests for this week will be a test in music given by Mrs. Watt for both departments.

Clorinda Chavez and Adeina Esquibel were enrolled Monday morning in the high school department.

The tenth grade is studying Greek sculpture and painting, and in the recitations Prof. Osborne makes it quite interesting by explanatory remarks concerning the many things along this line which he saw in the museums in Washington, D. C. The students enjoy it very much and consider it a great benefit to them in their study of history.

The tenth grade has begun the solving of simultaneous equations by means of graphs.

The ninth grade finds the Algebra work quite interesting in the use of formulas for solving various equations.

The seventh grade is taking up the very interesting subject of longitude and time in their Arithmetic work. In their history they are beginning the study of the colonization of Virginia the "Royal Province" in America.

Mr. E. J. Cavender, representing the Burroughes Adding Machine Co., and Mr. Harris, were pleasant visitors at the high school last Wednesday. Mr. Cavender set up the new seven column Adding Machine which the high school recently obtained in exchange for the six column one they first had.

From every point of view—Wagon Mound has the best high school in its history.

LA EDUCACION BALUARTE DE LA NACION

Un escritor, en la revista "Inter-América," atribuye el triunfo de Francia en el último conflicto mundial principalmente al empeño de esta nación en desarrollar la educación de su pueblo. Esta declaración encierra en sí una profunda verdad.

La Tercera República Francesa, sucesora del nefando régimen imperial y nacida en la humillación y el desastre que había engendrado el dicho régimen, emprendió restaurar el orgullo nacional y se propuso fabricar el nuevo edificio sobre los cimientos de la educación.

El segundo emperador Francés, Napoleón III, a quien el famoso peta Víctor Hugo había con justicia dado el sobrenombre de "El Pequeño" en contraste de la grandeza de su tío el primer Napoleón, creía que la educación era buena solamente para la clase gobernante y no para las masas del pueblo, y que sólo por medio de la ignorancia los pueblos se podían mantener sujetos y contentos en su sujeción.

Bajo su administración no existía la escuela gratuita y compulsoria con el resultado que gran número de Franceses quedaban ileteratos. Alemania, al contrario, en vista del conflicto que se preparaba entre las dos naciones, había procurado educar a su pueblo, y de esta manera había puesto los cimientos del triunfo que iba a reportar en la guerra del año de 1870.

Más tarde, pero demasiado tarde, Francia reconoció el mal de que adolecía. Se apuntaba entonces al Maestro de escuela alemán como al verdadero vencedor en la guerra. En consecuencia, la Tercera República puso la mano a la obra y estableció el sistema educacional de que es justamente orgulloso y él que acaba de producir su fruto en la victoria.

Bajo la administración del famoso ministro Jules Ferry, se declaró y se inscribió en los estatutos de la nación el principio de la escuela laica, gratuita y compulsoria.

Bajo el impulso de ese programa educacional surgió una generación nueva de hombres cultos, criados en la escuela de la democracia, soñadores de nuevos y más bellos ideales, hombres que ya no arreaba el temor mercenario del amo, sino el entusiasmo del más ascendido patriotismo. Ya sabemos a que altura subieron en la ascensión del Golgota de sacrificio y como, gratos a la República por los beneficios de ella recibidos gustosamente sacrificaron sus vidas en aras de la Patria para conservar estos beneficios para las generaciones venideras.

La Liga de Naciones no había de ser el blanco de las preocupaciones políticas. Tras el sangriento conflicto que a abamos de atravesar semejante organización de las naciones era inevitable, no importa cual partido estuviese en el poder en los Estados Unidos. Tampoco era posible que la Constitución de La Liga resultara ser del agrado de todos. Además, cualquier constitución es susceptible de cambios y mejoras y es el caso de la propuesta Liga: el tiempo nos dirá cuáles cambios son necesarios. El punto importante es: si o no queremos prevenir otras guerras. No cabe duda que el mundo concurre en este deseo, exceptuando tal vez algunos imperialistas. Si apetecemos ese fin, hemos de adoptar los medios para alcanzarlo.

La Situación en Europa

El tratado de paz entre los aliados y Bulgaria fué firmado el viernes pasado. Antes de firmar, el Delegado Búlgaro, Sr. Theodoreff, se dirigió a los Aliados en pro de su pueblo, alegando que la gran mayoría del mismo no tenían ninguna responsabilidad por la guerra, la cual había sido la obra de las intrigas del Rey Ferdinand y de algunos de sus ministros.

EN NUEVO MEXICO.

La Comisión de Sanidad del Estado en una carta dirigida a la prensa, anuncia que se ha de esperar otra epidemia de influenza durante este invierno, la que, aunque no tan peligrosa como la pasada, no dejará de causar estragos. Por lo tanto, aconseja que en cada comunidad se tomen desde luego pasos para combatir la contagión y se organízen sociedades cívicas para cuidar de las enfermos con suficientes recuerdos para prevenir la carestía de medicinas y otras utilidades.

Diez y siete personas fueron heridas el martes en la noche cuando el tren No. 1 chocó con una locomotora en la línea del Santa Fé como tres millas de Kennedy. El accidente resultó de un equívoco en órdenes, el que causó que la locomotora estuviera en el camino del No. 1. Entre los heridos se menciona a Onésimo Chavez, de Deming. Los demás heridos son de California y de varios puntos del Oriente. Todos fueron traídos inmediatamente a Lamy donde recibieron asistencia de los médicos.

Shuler, quien había estado a la cabeza de la administración de dicha ciudad por el espacio de 30 años, falleció el 20 del presente a consecuencia de una operación por apendicitis. El Dr. Shuler, dejó imperecederos recuerdos de su administración en las importantes mejoras que ha realizado en la ciudad de Raton.

EXEAT HATE!

Don't you think, gentle reader, it is about time for us to rid our minds of this hate stuff preached to us during the war and of all similar war hysteria, and resume our usual habit of christian thinking?

This Editor is not much of a Christian, if we mean by that a believer in a set of dogmas, we believe above all in the Golden Rule as altogether sufficient for right living (it is so hard at times to practice even that), but we hear so much nowadays the talk of boycotting and hating forever the Germans that we feel like living in a world of heathens, or at least that we are above the average in christian feelings.

Furthermore, being French by birth and American by adoption, we feel that we can give our bit of advice in this respect to our countrymen without being accused of pro-germanism, much less of sympathies toward the ex-Kaiser and his clique. We believe that the best policy is the one used in the times of Chivalry, that is, to extend a helping hand to a fallen enemy.

Hate begets hate, reprisals call forth reprisals and unending enmity between races as well as between individuals. How much better it would be to talk about reconciliation and love!

It may be true that if the fortunes of war had turned the other way, we could not expect any pity or consideration at the hands of the Germans, and yet, is it not worth the while for us to set a better example and not do unto them what they would have done unto us?

It may be true also that German minds still harbour the same thoughts of world conquest and ruthlessness as the best means to attain their end, and yet we believe that even German hearts can be renovated by education just as they were perverted by it. The last war has proved conclusively what a powerful factor in changing the minds of the people is the aim of propaganda used so skilfully by President Wilson. It can be made just as effective in times of peace.

Let us be magnanimous! The world shall be better to live in for that. Magnanimity and chivalry have been America's policy after our former wars; we extended our hand to conquered people and vanquished nations, and we have still to repeat for it. We will not err in following these precedents in our dealings with Germany and her Allies!

OUR BANKING INSTITUTIONS

You will find elsewhere in this issue of our paper a statement of the Mora Trust & Savings Bank showing a total of over $89,000.00 which is a good showing considering the short length this bank has been in operation. We published in our paper of last week a statement of the Farmers & Stockmen's Bank of this city, showing total resources of over $206,000.00. As a booster for Wagon Mound and vicinity we are naturally proud of the showing made by our home bank as well as the progress made by the Mora Bank. Mr. J. Andrew Myers the cashier of the Mora Trust & Savings Bank was formerly a citizen of our town and we wish him continued success in Mora. We believe these two institutions deserve the support of all the people in their respective communities as the policies of both these institutions are liberal and conservative.

We believe our bank at Wagon Mound is making every effort to accomodate the people of Wagon Mound and vicinity and we believe they are handling the situation a great deal better since they have moved into their present quarters and reorganized than it was possible for them to do with two banks here.

URGE SENATE TO HASTEN PEACE

Leaders in Forty States, Regardless of Party, Sign Ringing Appeal.

TREATY WITHOUT AMENDMENT

Say Every Day of Delay Puts World in Imminent Peril of New War—Point to National Unrest.

New York.—(Special)—Two hundred and fifty leading Americans, Republicans and Democrats representing forty different states and every prominent activity, have joined in a non-partisan effort to bring about the ratification of the Peace Treaty "without amendment and without delay." Their names are attached to an address to the United States Senate, which was made public today, through the League to enforce Peace, after it had been sent to every member of the Senate.

The signers, almost without exception, are men and women of national reputation. They include such prominent citizens as ex-President Taft, George W. Wickersham, Attorney General in the last Republican administration; A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard; Charles C. Moore of San Francisco, president of the Panama exposition; Judge George Gray of Washington, D. C.; President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor; Harry A. Wheeler of Chicago, retiring president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; Mrs. Lillian Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association; Cyrus H. K. Curtis, the Philadelphia publisher; President Heber J. Grant of the Mormon Church, and Spargo, leader of the Socialists who supported the war.

The signers declare that every day of delay in ratifying the treaty puts the world in "imminent peril of new war." Their statement follows:

In the Senate at Washington, now that the committee on foreign relations has reported the treaty, the lines are sharply drawn between the immediate ratification of the treaty of peace with Germany, and its amendment with a reassembling of the conference and a reopening of negotiations that would bring great delay and prolonged uncertainty in settling the great issues of the peace. No partisan plan can be made. Party lines are already broken.

Standing at a distance from the conflict in the Senate chamber, we plead for immediate ratification without delay. Our land requires it. A state of nervous strain, tension and unrest exists manifesting itself in disturbances, which in some cases have no self evident connection with the war, but which are, in fact, its aftermath. The world is put in imminent peril of new wars by the lapse of each day. Dissensions between us and our former allies are being sown. We firmly believe and solemnly declare that the states and cities in which we dwell desire immediate peace.

The waging of war steadily and united the American people. Peace will bring prosperity and prosperity content. Delay in the Senate postponing ratification in this uncertain period of neither peace nor war has resulted in indecision and doubt, bred strife and quickened theupidity of those who sell the daily necessities of life and the fears of those whose daily wage no longer fills the daily market basket.

We beseech the Senate to give the land peace and certainly by a ratification which will not keep us longer in the shadows of possible wars, but give the whole world the light of peace. Reservations in the nature of clarifications in the meaning of the treaty, not inconsistent with its terms, will not require the reopening of the negotiations with Germany and with our associates in the war, which we all and each united to win.

But there is no possibility of doubt that amendment of the treaty, as is now proposed by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, would require negotiation and a reopening of all the questions decided at Paris. Months of delay would follow. The perils of the present would become the deadly dangers of the near future. All the doubt engendered would add the plots for violent revolution in this and other lands. The issues here and elsewhere between capital and labor, the conspiracy of speculator and profiteer, would all grow and become more perilous.

This cannot be. The American people cannot, after a victorious war, permit its government to petition Germany, which has accepted the treaty, for its consent to changes in the treaty. Yet if the United States should amend the treaty for its own purpose and policy, Germany would have full right to ask for concessions. Germany has agreed to make no claim in regard to enemy property seized in this country to an amount of seven hundred million dollars. Our recent foes would ask for a resounding of this issue and of the Justus claims. It could raise every question open before hostilities in regard to submarine warfare and the treatment of its nationals in this country. All the provisions for our trade in Germany raised by the economic clauses of the treaty, many of them vital to our industries and our farms, as in dye-patents, dye supplies and fertilizers, the working of the Reparation Commission, which superintends the trade of all with Germany, could all be brought up by Berlin for readjustment by our negotiators, acting for the United States alone and no longer associated with other victorious powers or supported by a victorious American army on the German border.

Peace itself, the peace of the world, is delayed until ratification comes. Any amendment postpones peace. Germany and England alone of the principal powers have ratified. The other principals necessarily await our action, influential and powerful as we are today in the world's affairs. The ravages of war on more than a score of fighting fronts are continued by any needless delay. Let the Senate give the world peace by ratification without amendment.

Even the amendment for which most can be said, the provision in regard to Shantung, will secure nothing which cannot be gained if China, backed by the powerful advocacy of the United States, addresses itself to the machinery for righting international wrongs and meeting just claims created by the struggle between nations. China, after eighty years of oppressive treaties and despised rights, by which all the great powers have profited directly or indirectly, has for the first time, in this covenant and treaty, the means and method to secure justice and the removal of the oppressive economic interference of stronger nations whose citizens are within her gates, protected by a long succession of international agreements. Moreover, it should be remembered that the clause regarding Shantung was made upon the statement by Japan that she will return the territory to China and, therefore, upon that condition, compliance with which protects the league can require.

The peace of the present and the righteousness of the future can be best secured by the ratification of the covenant and treaty without amendment. Let the Senate take no action that will delay any party to the treaty, and especially Germany, ground for maintaining that the ratification of the United States is not complete and that changes requiring a resumption of conference and negotiations have been made in it.

Is he only kidding us? Read the Claude Wensell Co's Ad. and then go and see for yourself.

A party of Indians from the Taos Pueblo were seen in town Monday. This was a remembrance to us of the great San Geromino fiesta which is to take place Sept. 29th and 30th and October 1st, in the Taos Pueblo and in Fernandez de Taos.

We would like for the people who intend to compete for sport prizes at the fair to be ready on the spot when called. Delays always create a great deal of annoyance for the waiting crowds. The Committee in Charge.

Two new operators are on duty at the local Santa Fe depot. They are: Samuel B. Holt, who was transferred from Koehler Junction and Kenneth White from French.
