THE WATER USERS MEET

A Report of the Business Transacted—Resolutions Read and Adopted.

The stockholders of the Pecos Water Users' Association met last Saturday at the court house and the roll call showed nearly all the water users present. President McLanathan of the Association stated briefly the objects of the meeting which were to discuss the affairs of the Association concerning the raise of rates of maintenance and said that Secretary Ballinger had promised a committee composed of L. A. Swigart, F. G. Tracy and himself that the matter should be fully investigated. Mr. Osborne stated that the Senate Committee on Irrigation would arrive in Carlsbad on the 19th and that a committee on arrangement had been appointed by the Commercial Club and had already taken some steps to provide entertainment. He suggested this Association take some steps in this matter. After some discussion the meeting adjourned until 2 p. m.

After recess the shareholders of the Pecos Water Users' Association continued their special meeting with the President, C. H. McLanathan, in the chair, and A. M. Hove, Secretary.

The committee on resolutions reported as follows through their chairman, Thomas J. Sanford:

"We, your committee, would respectfully report:

"1st. That we endorse the action of our Board of Directors heretofore taken in our behalf.

"2nd. That we instruct the Board of Directors to proceed upon the lines heretofore adopted, and to use their best efforts to secure a complete investigation of the entire expenditures of the Carlsbad Project.

"3rd. That they proceed to use their best efforts to secure the completion and extension of the project to include all lands that can be economically irrigated with the available water supply, properly stored and distributed.

"4th. That a committee of seven farmers be appointed to meet with the Senate Committee and to show actual conditions to said committee and to work for general relief, and that such committee meet the Senate Committee at Roswell and earnestly request that the Senatorial Committee extend their location to the farm lands under the Project, so that they may come in touch with the actual conditions and the real water users and suggest that the Committee be composed of T. J. Sanford, C. W. Beeman, W. H. Carter, J. C. Keith, E. E. Bryant, P. J. McShane, Will Galton.

"Respectfully submitted,
"T. J. SANFORD,
"J. W. LEWIS,
"J. BOYD ALLEN,
"C. W. BEEMAN,

T. J. Sanford moved that the above resolutions be adopted and E. P. Bujac seconded the motion. The resolutions were discussed for some time and among others the following took part in the discussion: N. T. Daugherty, T. J. Sanford, L. E. Foster, E. P. Bujac, F. G. Tracy, C. W. Beeman, Roman Ohnemus, W. H. Carter, J. W. Lewis, Spencer Faville, J. Boyd Allen, G. W. Witt, T. S. Webb. On a vote being taken on the motion to adopt the resolutions presented by the Committee, the motion was carried by a rising vote, Martin N. Cunningham voting in the negative.

C. W. Beeman explained that it was proper that the President of the Association C. H. McLanathan should be a member of the committee to meet the Senate Committee at Roswell. Mr. Beeman, therefore, withdrew from the committee and moved, which motion T. J. Sanford seconded, that C. H. McLanathan be elected to fill the vacancy in the committee. The motion being put to a vote by Mr. Beeman was unanimously carried.

The President, C. H. McLanathan, called the shareholders' attention to the necessity of paying promptly the charge for construction on December 1st. The Secretary of the Interior, R. A. Ballinger, had stated emphatically that the shareholders should make prompt payment of the construction charge.

After some general discussion it was moved and seconded that the meeting adjourn sine die. The motion was duly carried.

The Plunderbund Press.

The Plunderbund press of New Mexico has been telling the taxpayers of the territory for many moons about the "splendid financial management of the republican administration of the territory." In the language of Colonel Roosevelt the Plunderbund press has practiced "every form of mendacity known to man, from the suppression of the truth and the suggestion of the false to the lie direct." * * * When any given falsehood is exposed they simply repeat it and circulate another.

Of late these newspapers have been working overtime to get out of the tangle in which they have found themselves and now they are longing for a master hand to take the helm and save them. The inventive genius of the chief prevaricators has been taxed to the utmost and the general public is beginning to giggle at their discomfiture. Their crude attempts to show how the territory is being governed at no greater cost per capita than it was under a democratic administration with a population less than twice as great as it was then and the cost of government 3.4 times as great as furnishing incentive for the masses.

As soon as the able statesmen who direct the destinies of the Plunderbund press get their breath they might explain to an anxious public how the republican counties that contribute as little as possible to the expense of governing the territory under the "splendid financial management of the republican administration" get so much of the territorial school money.

An apportionment of the school funds was made this week by J. E. Clark, superintendent of public instruction of the territory. This apportionment was based on the recent school census of the territory and may be taken as a fair basis upon which to make comparisons.

The republican counties of Rio Arriba, Taos, Valencia and Sandoval receive an apportionment of $4,051.40. The value of property returned for taxation in these counties for the support of this year was $5,890,156.

The democratic counties of Grant and Luna were apportioned $1,629.36 of school money and the value of property returned for taxation in these counties was $6,481,888. These counties pay taxes for the support of the territory on about $600,000 more of property than the four republican counties named above, yet they receive but forty per cent as much money from the territory for the benefit of their schools.

Luna county pays taxes on $2,197,488 and San Miguel pays on $4,332,421, less than twice as much as Luna county. San Miguel county gets $2,133.88 of the school money and Luna gets $351.84. Luna county gets about one third as much school money in proportion to the valuation of taxable property as San Miguel, but San Miguel is a republican county and Luna is a democratic county. Luna county pays its proportion of the expense of the government of the territory and San Miguel does not.

The six republican counties of Bernalillo, Santa Fe, Rio Arriba, Taos, Valencia and Sandoval returned property for taxation this year valued at $13,942,903 and the apportionment of school moneys to these counties amounts to the sum of $7,795.20.

The four democratic counties of Chaves, Eddy, Grant and Luna returned property to the value of $14,152,996 this year and their share of the school money apportioned this week was $1,139.76. These four democratic counties pay taxes on more than a million dollars more than the six republican counties and the six republican counties include four of the most populous counties in the territory. Bernalillo, San Miguel, Santa Fe and Rio Arriba, either one of which has more people than Chaves county and Chaves county returns for taxation nearly four times as much taxable property as Rio Arriba, yet with all the taxes paid by these four democratic counties the six republican counties get nearly twice as much money from the territory for their schools.

The democratic counties of the territory pay the taxes and the republican counties get the benefit. Republican equalization of taxation in the territory is a farce and republican financial management of territorial affairs is a fine thing—for the Plunderbund.—Santa Fe Eagle.

Changes Coming.

The next few weeks will see some important changes among the officials in this territory. There are some who are doubtless convinced in their own minds that they will continue to hold the positions which they now occupy, but who are likely to wake up some fine morning in the not distant future to find that the president has dispensed with their services.

As far as positions that are filled by the president by appointment in the territory are concerned there is going to be a new deal. The Plunderbund will not dictate the appointments and it is safe to say, from present advices from Washington, that there will not be a member of the Plunderbund left in office in the territory at the end of three months from this time. That organization has had its day of power and its day of reckoning is in sight. Its day of reckoning is not going to be a round of pleasure either. It is going to be a serious matter for more than one of the members of the Plunderbund and a few of the bunch may break into the penitentiary before the work is entirely finished.

It has not been long since some of the members of the organization were jubilant at the removal of Governor Hagerman and the return of the good old days, but the rejoicing will be of short duration. The only consolation that we can offer to the Plunderbund is: Cheer up, the worst is yet to come!—Santa Fe Eagle.

A MISTAKE SOMEWHERE.

It would seem that the attempt to produce something sensational by some one on the last grand jury has resulted in a very considerable of unenviable notoriety for Carlsbad and vicinity. Despite the fact that Carlsbad and the country adjoining has done much to relieve the distressed of other parts of this territory, it was thought best by the grand jury to accept the word of some one, that a horrible condition existed somewhere near Carlsbad in the Guadalupe and to show how far such stories can go the following clipped from the Albuquerque Tribune-Citizen is given:

"Dr. Charles F. Lukens, superintendent of the Children's Home society, returned yesterday from a trip to the southern part of the territory, during which he investigated the conditions of American families living in the foothills of the Guadalupe mountains, west of Carlsbad, and took steps to care for several destitute families in that vicinity.

"Dr. Lukens brought a 12-year-old girl from her home in that locality and will endeavor to find a home for her. The girl was dressed in untanned goat skins and her father wore only an old coat and a badly worn pair of trousers, while their home was in a hut devoid of furniture, bedding and even cooking utensils.

"The Eddy county grand jury recently investigated the condition of several families in the Guadalupe foothills and steps are being taken to assist the destitute people."

To show how far from the truth such reports can depart the facts have been run down and set as follows: When the report of the grand jury became known about the superintendent of the Children's Home at Albuquerque was notified by some one and came at once to look into the matter. J. E. McDonald was described by the sheriff of Eddy county and a warrant placed in his hands for the arrest of the man that was reported to be holding a little girl under such horrible conditions. McDonald in company with Lukens drove out to Mesley and there secured the services of Hardin Clark to find a goat camp owned by W. H. Light, the man reported to have the girl. When they arrived they found that the story was all imagination. Mr. Light who has a brother, a banker in Sheffield, Texas, was found with his goats, herding 1000 head, owned by himself and R. O. Duncan. Light stated that his step-granddaughter brought some food to his shack one day and was there when a party of men rode up. This little girl was poorly clad and the men supposed she lived there which was a mistake. The little girl is now attending a private school at the home of W. E. Thayer and stopping with relatives in the mountains and has as good an opportunity and good care as any child in a children's home. W. H. Light is a man of over fifty but has, from loss of his family, become somewhat worried and almost deranged. He goes about attending to his goats with scarcely enough clothes to cover his nakedness. His shack looks the picture of distress and in all he presents a sad appearance. However, he is well fixed financially and his brother down in Sheffield, Texas, has written offering assistance and a home but he will have neither. He once had a lovely wife and sweet little daughter, but his wife sickened and died and his daughter was bitten by a rattlesnake, while attending school in Texas, and also died. If Mr. Light would accept the numerous offers to relieve his condition he could dress well and live well.

If Dr. Lukens reported that he brought a twelve-year-old girl to Albuquerque from the Guadalupe near Carlsbad, he reported a deliberate lie. If the newspaper concocted the story it is also a lie and it is time the people here should take vigorous measures to discipline people who persist in spreading false reports concerning the country. No Carlsbad citizen should be a contributor to a home presided over by a man who will carry away and have published such stories, for the people of the Guadalupe are better off than most of the natives around Albuquerque.

The entombing and burning of over 200 miners at Cherry, Illinois, last Saturday will go down in history as the greatest mine disaster of this country. There are over 1,000 orphans and 200 widows caused by the calamity. The men were caught as if in a trap and their bodies burned, all hope of recovery of the remains having been abandoned. The suffering caused by the disaster appeals to the most frigid heart, and while thanksgiving is here it would be a good time to send our mite to the afflicted.

The Roswell Commercial Club has taken up the question of insurance rates for Roswell alleging that rates are too high and should be lowered. If this is the case in Roswell how much more is it true of Carlsbad? Carlsbad has never had a fire loss of any consequence, principally on account of the excellent pressure in the mains and the efficiency of the fire department. It would seem from past experience that fire insurance, except on inflammable material such as furniture etc., were unnecessarily high in Carlsbad. Certain it is that a very small per cent of any of the buildings or stocks of goods are insured for more than a fraction of cost. If rates were lowered many would increase their insurance and the companies would receive about the same amount from the town.

Loving Items.

The weather for the past week has been ideal for this season of the year, and is doing much to help the growth of young alfalfa, oat and wheat crops. Mr. Sam Hughes reports a fine stand of the latter.

Among the topics of importance around Loving this week the most important is the water question, and how can the water users best meet the coming payments. Groups of anxious faces have been observed discussing the problems confronting them and all agree that some measure of relief is needed.

The Smith family are busy moving their household and other effects to their temporary town residence, which is conveniently located to church, business and social surroundings.

Mr. Nymeyer has completed the necessary repairs on his threshing machinery preparatory to fall and winter work. The people of this community made a big crop of corn, maize and other products and are getting ready to greet Mr. Nymeyer and his modern machinery. Generally speaking, good returns are looked for all over the Loving district.

The Water Users of this valley generally, and the Loving end in particular, are taking a keen interest in the deliberations which we hope will be intelligently handled by our authorized representatives, and we trust, a plain synopsis of facts will be put to our Washington committee on their visit this week.

Owing to the harvesting of our crops, digging of wells and the multitude of other improvements going on in our district, the continued building of our churches has been temporarily suspended, but from our brothers who have been instrumental in this great and good work we are assured of an early return to completing these sacred buildings. It is needless to add that we earnestly request and respectfully solicit the support of all our Loving friends.

Mr. Small, from Mayfield, Ky., who purchased a tract of valuable farming and fruit land, has shipped his first consignment of farming stock and cattle. Some fine hooded animals are noticed among the bunch, brought here especially to improve upon the present breeds so much used in the Valley.

On account of the contract having been changed and the contractors permitted to make the sewer shallower the saving to the town on the rock work was $525.00 on the main sewer, $45 on lateral No. 6 and $22 on lateral No. 11. The contractors left Wednesday morning for San Antonio, where they are at work on a big contract.

The "Pea Vine" Wrecked.

Last Friday's train from Pecos met with what was almost a serious wreck. Down at Otero, about fifty miles south, the train parted and the front end composed of freight cars ran off and left the passenger coach which as it happened had the brakes set. When the engine missed the passenger coach he backed up and it was again attached. When the train started at Otero, about six miles south of Carlsbad, it again pulled away from the passenger coach on starting. This time the brakes were not set and the coach ran along behind and when it was discovered by the engineer he stopped and the coach ran into the front end with such force as to almost kill several passengers. Among them Mrs. F. A. Wright, a lady about fifty years, who was thrown with such force against the car as to fracture her ribs and lose so much pain as to make her faint. She was carried home on reaching town and has been very seriously ill since. Several others were injured but made no complaint, the injuries being confined to serious bruising. Mrs. Wright will probably be confined to her bed for two or three months from the accident and it is quite certain will never fully recover.

There has been, up to date, $1,000 subscribed by the mountain men toward the erection of a saw mill, and they hope in a short time to add a planing and shingling machine and furnish Carlsbad with all the building material that they need.

Dog Canyon, a very fertile tract of land, is on the biggest boom in the history of the country. Settlers are rushing there at the rate of one every two weeks.

Dolph and Ned Shattuck, Walter Thayer and John Stewart took all the persuasive eloquence packed their horses and turned of Dr. Black and others to keep their faces toward Camp Lane—the four animals from cutting off some. When three days out, a new state from this end of the Dolph Shattuck and Walter Thayer county and calling it Beeville.

The health of the community came upon a herd of bear. After twenty-one shots had been fired, at a distance of 400 yards, and the smoke had cleared away, three bear lay dead. Walt Thayer shouted and laughed till he dislocated his Adams apple. Dolph Shattuck, who is somewhat of a semibarbarian, sneaked out of camp that night and setting behind a pine tree, kept his gun pointed down the mountain until John Stewart and Ned Shattuck rescued him and gave him the grand old hat!

The aggregate weight of the three bear was 1,116 and one of the number cut 63 lbs. over the limit. It was a record for the county.

LOCAL IMPROVEMENT

Value of Organized Effort in Beautifying a Town.

SIMPLE PROGRAM ADVISABLE.

What Betterment Societies With Successful Careers Have Undertaken at First—Excellent Objects For Which a Massachusetts Organization Stands.

There is a world of common sense and wisdom in the following remark, which was made concerning a Canadian town: "The lack of united effort retarded the beautifying of the place as a whole." Individuals working alone have accomplished much, but they inevitably need help. A community should have an organized effort, and when this conclusion has been reached, by the conference steps should be taken to effect one.

The organization completed, what next?

A very simple program should be organized after a study of local conditions. Here are some of the "first things" undertaken by organizations that have had successful careers:

Enlisting the children in keeping the streets clear of papers and other rubbish.

The maintenance of rubbish barrels for the litter of the streets.

The caring for the space between the sidewalks and the curb and for the gutters themselves, that they may be kept clean and free from rubbish.

The elimination of weeds.

Cooperation with the tree warden, if there is one, or whoever may have charge of the trees. If there is no one in charge there is no more important first step than to have some one official charged with this duty.

Preventing telephone and electric companies from backing off and mutilating the branches and tops of trees.

The enforcement of ordinances relating to expectation, the throwing of papers and circulars on the streets.

Keeping the individual premises in good order, including the back yard.

The erection of window boxes and their proper maintenance summer and winter.

Having the city keep the streets between the curbs clean. If its officials don't know how, show them. Lots of organizations have, and it has meant a new era for the community. If you can only begin with a small block, do so, but make the beginning. That is the important thing.

Framingham, Mass., has an improvement association that will repay careful study. Here are some of the objects for which it stands:

To encourage the beautifying of private places, however limited in extent.

The betterment of parks and other public grounds.

The proper naming of streets and roadways.

Streets and roadside planting.

Improving street signs, poles and lights.

The removal of unsightly fences and buildings or concealing them by vines and shrubbery.

The regulating or removing of offensive billboards.

Regulating or limiting public dumping places.

The preservation of groves and other natural features.

To provide opportunity for the public discussion of all important questions the solution of which may affect the vital interests of our community.

Finally not only to create "a more beautiful Framingham," but to promote "all the higher interests of our town."

This program could be adopted in its entirety, and the new society would not go far astray. Many successful organizations have created wide-spread interest through the maintenance of departments in the local papers, which almost without exception have been willing to cooperate in civic improvement. Such publicity has both an educational and a corrective value. The Framingham Tribune has been a great force, not only locally, but throughout the country, so effectively has the work there been done.

Another way to promote interest is to foster competition. Many communities now offer prizes for the best kept front or back yard, for the best garden, for the best kept lawn, for the most effective single bit of local improvement. Such contests stimulate interest not only among those who take part, but likewise among onlookers, who are very apt soon to become contestants themselves. Moreover, such methods create additional publicity, which is always helpful.

Another effective way of increasing public interest is through lantern slides. These can be had so arranged as to show what has been accomplished in progressive communities, and then pictures can be secured to show what is allowed to remain unchanged or unimproved at home. The Municipal League of Los Angeles and the Seattle Post-Intelligencer stirred up the people of their respective communities by "showing up" the worst side of the cities and thus making them ashamed—Designer.

Keep Curbstones in Repair.
The town or the landowner that economizes in the matter of curbstones will sooner or later have to be extravagant in the repair of sidewalks. Faulty curbstones let the rainwater flow in and undermine the pavements and lawns, and a "slitch in time" in repairing curbstones will save hundreds of dollars in a single summer.

MULES ARE VALUABLE.

They Are Not More Vicious, Eat Less and Outwork the Horses.

Much may be said in favor of the mule as a faithful, economical adjunct of the farm and in the tireless performance of farm labor for a period of possibly twenty-five years. Mules have been underestimated in the northern states, but the fact is they are sturdy, tireless, long lived workers. They require less and coarser feed than the horse. They can outwork the horse season after season—are still young after the horse has succumbed. They are not more vicious than horses. On the contrary, they will endure abuse more patiently.

A prominent breeder of horses and mules declares that three mules constantly worked will live upon the same amount of forage consumed by two horses of ordinary size worked in the same way and the mules will stand in better order than the horses so fed and worked. Still, it is not true economy to work or keep any animal on low fare, and the mule responds as quickly as any animal to good feeding and kind treatment. Friends of the mules, those who have bred and fed and worked these animals and are sure of their ground, for argument say that for steadiness and intelligence and for profit the mules on the farm will for burden bearing and drudgery more than hold their own.

In the far west mules are being rented at stipulated monthly sums. This is a queer business, but a necessary one in these days of high prices. This renting is now carried on in the southwestern corner of the United States principally. The charge for the use of a team of mules, with harness, is high—$20 to $25 a month, not including feed bills, which the renter must pay. The owner must stand losses by death through natural causes, but mules killed through negligence must be paid for by the renter.

Of some 250,000 mules sold annually in this country at present Missouri furnishes perhaps 70,000, Tennessee 60,000, Texas over 50,000 and Kentucky about an equal number, the sales being double the number foaled. The mules of the states in the northwest are very large of bone, body, substance and power, but have not usually the style, finish and fine sleek coats of southern mules. In the south mule breeding is a most important industry and has been for more than a century.

For general farm work it is preferable to breed heavy mares to a large, heavy jack, so that the offspring may be expected to show good weight and size. We want the larger class of mules in the northwest. A fine mule jack ought to be at least fifteen hands high, with a good accomplishment of the weight, head, ear, foot, bone and length, coupled with broad chest, wide hips and with a bold, upstanding style. The smaller jacks and their progeny often show finer coats and finer finish. Still, the largest type is preferable in the north. Color is not generally important in the relation to breeding qualities, but black, with light points, is perhaps the most favored color in jacks. The black jack will probably get the greatest proportion of good colored colts from mares of all colors.

Dipping is Profitable.

Dipping is profitable. Always dip when the wool is short, as less dip is consumed and ticks will be more apt to leave the sheep's body. Camphor dips are good, but some farmers make their own with tobacco, sulphur and carbolic acid.

THE VETERIN ARY

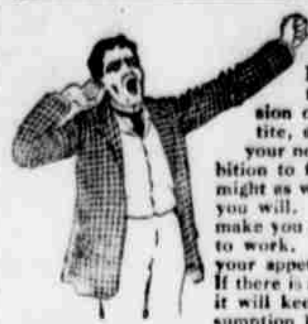

Be sure the bit is not too tight, to irritate and inflame the mouth of a horse. So a collection must be made, which means that the horse riding the bit to his eyes and feeling to stare the question.

Learning Exercise.
A good plan to pursue in dog training is as follows: The card that about the hands tell one to h. from the body. With a pair of pruning shears clip off the tail just below the cord. Rub carbolic vasoline on the wound and remove the string at night.

Vaccination For Blackleg.
Blackleg is contagious, being due to germs, and there is no special condition certain to induce the trouble. It usually is seen in young cattle that are thriving fast on rich feeding after a period of spare feeding. Vaccination is the only sure preventive. Medicines cannot be depended upon to ward off the disease, nor are acting offective.

Dehorn in Cool Weather.
If the animals are dehorned in warm weather it is well to apply some pine tar with a view to keeping flies from the wound. Some operators do this in nearly all cases, thinking that it facilitates healing. The dehorning operation should always, when possible, be performed in cool weather and upon animals which have at least attained the age of two years.

Do You Feel This Way?

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at night unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your lazy liver to work. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. It will purify your blood. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about a cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice. Don't be wheedled by a penny-grubbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good." Dr. Pierce's medicines are of known composition. Their every ingredient printed on their wrappers. Made from roots without alcohol. Contain no habit-forming drugs. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.
