BOYCOTTING THE FAIR.

The Churches Opposing Sunday Opening of Exhibition.

No Room in Chicago Big Enough to Hold Silver Convention.

Another Royal Visitor.

Chicago, July 14.—The religious boycott of the World's fair is attaining considerable dimensions, and the fact is demonstrated that the representatives of various denominations were not altogether chiding when they declared that Christian sentiment would not countenance open gates on Sunday. Down at Jackson Park there are half a dozen hotels that have been erected for the particular accommodation of members of various religious organizations such as the Epworth League and the Christian Endeavor, as well as for intending visitors identified with different denominations, advance inquiries prior to the opening of the fair developing the fact that there were many Baptists, Presbyterians and Methodists who preferred, if possible, to be under one roof, in order that they might arrange for evening services of song, Sunday evangelistic meetings, and in other methods carry out away from home the religious duties to which they have been accustomed. Large numbers of the intending visitors, however, are now canceling their provisional arrangements with the hotels, although in doing so they forfeit anywhere from five to fifteen dollars a head, according to the amount forwarded to bind the contract. In some cases entire parties of as high as one hundred have cancelled arrangements for two weeks' accommodations at a single hotel. Many of the proprietors who have been looking forward to a profitable business are in the dumps, and are giving their aid to the pressure being brought to bear upon the directory from various sources with the view to the abandonment of Sunday opening. So far, open gates on Sunday has been anything but a financial success, the attendance being small, and receipts being barely large enough to cover the running expenses.

Big Silver Convention.
Chicago, July 14.—Some difficulty is likely to be experienced in finding an auditorium large enough to afford facilities to the delegates to the great silver convention to be held here two weeks hence, if the supporters of the white metal come here in the numbers that are now indicated. The Auditorium, which will hold between four and five thousand people, now occupied by an extravaganza company, the stage being given over daily to rehearsals, while the work of getting the scenery in order commences at four o'clock. Central music hall will not seat more than two thousand people, while the halls of Washington and Columbus in the Art Palace will both be given up to the World's fair congresses in season that week. These are the only available auditoriums of any size in the city. The suggestion has been made that an immense tent be erected either on the lake front or one of the vacant tracts of land adjacent to the World's fair with seating accommodations for five or six thousand people. The duration of the convention is a matter of speculation, the call simply designating it to continue from day to day until the business has been disposed of.

Bringing his Diamonds.
New York, July 14.—The Sultan of Johore, accompanied by a royal retinue will sail from Liverpool next week for this city on route to the World's Fair. It has not yet been decided whether he will be given an official reception, but a movement is on foot to that end, and a faction of some kind is strongly advocated by the ladies of the four hundred who are anxious to see the nabob covered with the ten million dollars worth of diamonds which he wears on all important occasions, and which he is bringing with him to this country. The diamonds are in charge of eight members of the retinue, who take turns in watching the big zinc trunk in which they repose. Accompanying him in an executive capacity are his special World's Fair commissioner, Lord Abdul Rahman, and Harry Lake, an Englishman, who also holds a court position.

Salt Lake, Utah, July 14.—It was discovered by a prominent mining man here that insurance companies had decided to withdraw from the mining camps of the west. Representatives of all insurance companies in Utah were seen and admitted that nearly all companies are refusing to renew policies on mining property and in mining camps. The decline in the value of the properties on account of the silver panic is given as the cause.

Hercules Iron Company Fails.
Chicago, July 14.—The heavy financial loss caused by the cold storage pavilion fire caused the Hercules Iron works, owners of the plant, to make an assignment in the county court. The Chicago Title and Trust company is made the assignee. The Hercules company was incorporated in 1885 with a capital stock of $100,000. It owns a plant in Aurora, Illinois, covering seven acres. Its assets are estimated at $100,000, against $200,000 liabilities.
