Frank W. Gurney Dead.

A wire was received Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Gurney, of the Carrizozo Eating House, that her husband, Frank W. Gurney, had dropped dead on the streets of El Paso that afternoon at 4 o'clock, the result of heart failure. Mr. Gurney had gone down the day before to witness the ceremonies attendant upon the meeting of the presidents, and was in a cheerful mood and seemed to be in perfect health; and the announcement of his death came as a shock from a clear sky.

The deceased was walking along the street in company with his son, Frank, and Frank M. Clough, enjoying life and greeting friends, when, without a word of warning he fell, his son and friend supporting him to the pavement. A doctor was immediately summoned, but the vital spark of life had been extinguished, his inanimate body prostrate among thousands, his spirit had sought its Maker.

The weeping wife went on the first train, and was present at the funeral which took place in the Nagley & Kaster chapel, under the auspices of the Elks, assisted by the Knights of Pythias, in both of which orders he was a respected member. The remains were interred in the Evergreen cemetery, El Paso, and the many and beautiful floral wreaths that were laid on the casket attested the esteem of a large circle of friends.

Mrs. Gurney, accompanied by her son, returned Tuesday, and will continue the hotel business and take up the thread that has dropped from the nerveless fingers. The heart-broken wife and the sorrowing son have the sympathy of the entire community.

Frank W. Gurney was born in the city of New York 59 years ago last March, and was a distant relative of Abram S. Hewitt, former mayor of that city. In early life he came west, and was married in 1874, at Junction City, Kansas, to Miss Julia E. Carra, who with a son survive him.

Thirty years ago Mr. Gurney came to this territory, and most of that time had been engaged in the hotel business. He was with the Santa Fe, the Missouri Pacific and established the hotels along the line of the El Paso & Northeastern. He came to Carrizozo in April 1908, took charge of the Carrizozo Eating House, and by his industry, attention and courtesy made it one of the most popular places on the road.

He was more than a business man—he was a good citizen, an upright and enterprising member of the community. His hand was ever extended in charity, and no appeal in a just cause was ever by him disregarded. He was the friend of all; his genial smile, his warm clasp of the hand, his broad conception of life made it a pleasure to know him. We shall miss him, and long

"for the touch of the vanished hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still."

Judge Mechem to Preside Here.

We are informed, unofficially, that Judge Mechem, of the Seventh District, will preside at the November term of court here. Judge Cooley opened court at Tucumcari this week, and if he came here on the first the term of court in Quay county closed, of necessity, last only two weeks. The probabilities are that two weeks will not be sufficient to clear the Quay county docket.

Then, too, the regular Otero county term convenes the 22nd of November, and if Judge Cooley presided here the term could not last beyond three weeks, and it is not believed that our lengthy docket can be disposed of in that time. So that, if the present understanding is consummated it will give us a longer term, if justified by business. In other words, with an abundance of money and sufficient time the Lincoln county docket promises to be wiped out for the first time since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary.

When this is accomplished we can start on a new sheet, and we may be reasonably certain of two terms a year, and keep right along with the procession. Our finances warrant the belief that we will not again be troubled with a shortage of funds. We have a large amount of money in the court fund, our valuations are increasing and we are in good financial condition.

CONVICT RELEASED, MURDERS A JUROR

HANDSOME STRANGER SEEKS
HOTEL MAN AND WREAKS
VENGEANCE.

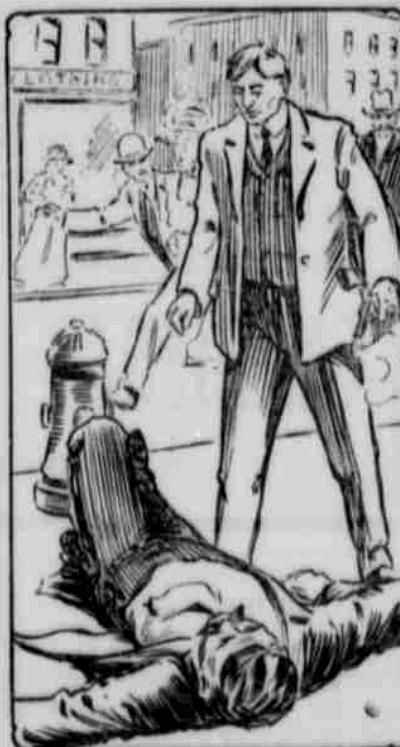

SWORE OATH WHEN SENT UP

Man, Arrested on Serious Charge and Sentenced Long Term in Prison, Finishes Incarceration, Satisfies Grudge, Kills Himself.

Middletown, N. Y.—Daniel A. Fenton, one of the best known hotel proprietors in this part of the state, was shot and wounded mortally on the street the other afternoon by an ex-convict, discharged recently from Sing Sing, named McSorley. Fenton was a member of the jury which convicted McSorley of the crime for which he was sent to prison. Both are dead.

Fenton was 50 years old on August 8 and entertained a party of friends at luncheon. At that time he told the story of his life. Among the incidents he mentioned that he had sat upon the jury which had convicted a man named McSorley, for which McSorley was sentenced to a long term in the state prison.

A stranger of handsome appearance entered the cafe of Fenton's hotel and after taking a drink of whisky asked if Mr. Fenton was around. The clerk said he had just stepped out. The stranger said he would call again.

He went down the street. Later the stranger retraced his steps to the Hotel Elberton. Just before he reached the hotel Fenton stepped out of the door and walked up the street. The stranger followed him.

Fenton turned into West Main Street. There were hundreds of persons in sight when the stranger walked up to him and tapped him on the shoulder. Fenton turned around and uttered an exclamation. Then he ran down the street. The stranger pursued him, darting in and out among the shoppers.

After running about 300 feet the stranger pulled a revolver and began shooting at Fenton. The first shot went wild, but the second entered Fenton's back and he fell to the sidewalk. The stranger then walked up to his victim and, looking down at him, fired another shot. This entered Mr. Fen-ton's head back of the left ear and passed out through his neck.

The stranger then stepped back a couple of paces and placing the revolver to his left temple—being left-handed—pulled the trigger, sending a bullet through his brain. He fell to the sidewalk within five feet of where his victim lay.

Both men were taken to a hospital and placed on adjoining beds. Ten minutes after their arrival at the hospital Fenton's assailant died without regaining consciousness. Fenton was placed upon the operating table immediately. Drs. Mills, Powelson and Purdy probed for bullets. He died soon after coming out from under the influence of the ether.

Information regarding McSorley is meager, but it is known he once ran a saloon at Coney Island.

McSorley, arrested on a serious charge, was sent to prison for a long term.

On being sentenced McSorley seemed to take especial offense because his neighbor Daniel Fenton, was on the jury which convicted him, and then made a threat, as he was being led away, that when he got out he would kill Fenton the first thing he did.

CAUGHT RATTLER WITH HOOK

Oregon Boy's Ingenious Device Proves Successful in Capturing Fear-some Reptile.

Hackensack, N. J.—The other day Mrs. L. S. Geer in passing around their house on the farm southwest of town came very near stepping on a huge rattlesnake that had come out from under the house to get a drink and was returning to his chosen lair, where he was an unwelcome visitor. Mrs. Geer was scared and called her two sons and the hired man, and the latter, armed with a hoe, nailed Mr. Rattler on the tail with the blade of the garden tool, but instead of pulling his snakeship back he succeeded only in getting the tail, rattles and all.

And now the dilemma was worse than ever. Relieved of his alarm clock the snake under the house was more unwelcome and dangerous than before. How to get him out from there was the question, but the first thing done was to seal him up and take time to concoct a scheme, so the house was tightly banked at the only opening under it. Later a boy's wits met the situation, for it's a cold day when a snake or any other serpent can get the best of a live Oregon boy.

Henry, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Geer, took a box, covered the top of it with wire netting and cut a hole in the bottom. Inside he placed a chunk of beef fastened on a stout hook tied securely to the box. Then he made a hole in the banking under the house, placing the "holey" side of the box tight up against it and bided his time. For nearly two days his vigil around the box was unrewarded, and then as he had almost lost faith in his plan he heard a noise in his "fishing trap" and there was the detailed rattler with the beef and hook stowed inside of his jaws, safely landed and unable to help himself. Henry quickly despatched his "fish" with a rifle and found it measured 3½ feet long, being as large around as a man's wrist. The family has slept with less nervousness since.

Sued for Kicking Cat.

New York.—Ernest W. Smellie, a wealthy manager of a glove manufacturing firm, has been sued for $100,000 by Emily Jones, his cook, because, it is charged, he kicked her cat through a window screen. His small daughter had complained that the cat scratched her. The cook says her eyes were filled with a shower of particles of rusty iron wire as the cat forcibly disappeared, and she estimates the damage to her sight and her lessened chances for matrimony at $100,000.

WOULD GET WEALTH QUICKLY

Farmer Had Nothing But Contempt for the Moderation of the Street Magician.

A patent medicine salesman upon the streets of a small Maine village was giving a free sleight-of-hand performance in order to collect a crowd. Presently he took a handkerchief from his pocket, held it by one extreme corner, shook it, tossed it into the air, caught it in his hand and took from it a 25-cent piece.

"There," he remarked, "you see I take this quarter from the handkerchief, although you saw for yourself that the handkerchief was empty. I can get another this way," he added, and apparently plucked one from the air.

"Gosh!" an old farmer in the little audience muttered; "that feller must not kee much for money. If I could do a thing like that, you bet I wouldn't stick at quarters—I'd take a half dollar every time!"—Exchange.

BABY HORRIBLY BURNED.

By Boiling Grease—Skin All Came Off One Side of Face and Head—Thought Her Disfigured for Life.

"My baby was sitting beside the fender and we were preparing the breakfast when the frying-pan full of boiling grease was upset and it went all over one side of her face and head. Some one wiped the scald with a towel, pulling the entire skin off. We took her to a doctor. He tended her a week and gave me some stuff to put on. But it all festered and I thought the baby was disfigured for life. I used about three boxes of Cuticura Ointment and it was wonderful how it healed. In about five weeks it was better and there wasn't a mark to tell where the scald had been. Her skin is just like velvet. Mrs. Hare, 1, Henry St., South Shields, Durham, England, March 22, 1908."

Consumptives Need Not Leave Home.

Consumption can be cured, or arrested, in any section of the United States, and the percentage of cures in the east and the west is nearly the same. Any physician, therefore, who sends a person to the southwest without sufficient funds, or in an advanced or dying stage of the disease, is guilty of cruelty to his patient. Renewed efforts are being made to stop this practice, and to encourage the building of small local hospitals in every city and town in the country. Attempts are also being made in Southern California and in Texas to exclude indigent consumptives or to send them back to the east.

SERVE WITH CREAM

DELICIOUS METHOD OF PREPARING VEGETABLES.

Cauliflower Served in This Style Will Be Appreciated by All Who Care for the Good Things of the Table.

Cauliflower Creamed—Boil a cauliflower in salted water for half an hour, drain dry and set in a lined saucepan with one pint of milk, same quantity of hot water, and simmer for half an hour longer. Take up the vegetable very carefully, drain it, place on a hot dish and pour over it the following sauce. Place one-half pint of milk in a double saucepan and let it just come to boiling point. Wet a tablespoonful of flour with cold milk, season it with pepper, salt and a little vinegar (tarragon preferred), then mix gradually with the hot milk and boil for a few minutes, adding a little butter. Beat an egg till it is a light color, stir it by degrees into the sauce, and pour over the cauliflower, which is ready to serve.

Creamed Cabbage—Take a fresh, solid head of cabbage, shred rather fine and soak for one hour in cold salt water. Drain thoroughly and place in a kettle with one pint of boiling water to which a teaspoonful of soda has been added. Cook for 20 minutes and drain. Have ready a thin cream sauce in which hard-boiled eggs, chopped, have been mixed. Turn over the cabbage and let heat in double boiler for a couple of minutes and serve.

Creamed Sweet Potatoes—Wash thoroughly six or eight small sweet potatoes of uniform size and boil only until the skins can be easily removed. Cool slightly and quarter. Place in baking dish, season with salt and pepper, sprinkle well with sugar, spread thickly with butter, and cover with a cupful and a half of milk, into which a well-beaten egg has been stirred. Bake until creamy. These are delicious served with duck.—From The Housekeeper.

Lyonnais Tripe.

Cut the tripe into narrow strips, boil 25 minutes, then drain. Put a frying pan over the fire with two tablespoonfuls of butter, and when hot fry in it two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped onion until yellow. Add the tripe, a tablespoonful vinegar, a tablespoonful fine chopped parsley and salt and pepper to season. Stir lightly until the tripe is a delicate brown, turn on to the center of a hot platter and garnish with toast points and sliced lemon.

Egg Shells for Jelly.

Those who find the putting up of lunches a part of the daily routine may take comfort in the suggestion of one resourceful woman. When using eggs, she sees to it that only a small piece of the shell is broken off from the end of one egg. The egg shell from which the piece has been taken is then washed and kept as a receptacle for jelly or jam for the noon lunch basket, the open end being protected by a piece of paper dipped in paraffin.

To Clean Gift Frames.

When cleaning gift frames the important thing to keep in mind is to clean only a small piece at a time. Take a tencupful of good vinegar to a pint of cold water; after removing all dust from the frame brush it quickly up and down with a soft shaving brush dipped into this—squeeze each time it is dipped; finally wipe with a soft cloth and the result will be most gratifying.—From The Circle.

To Peel Oranges.

Pour scalding water over the oranges let them stand five minutes. You will save time in peeling them. The thick white skin that is so hard to get off will come off with the outside peeling and a fruit will be ready to slice.

White Steamers Use Kerosene as Fuel

THE WHITE STEAMER WHICH MADE A SUCCESSFUL PUBLIC DEMONSTRATION OF KEROSENE AS FUEL ON THE RECENT 2650-MILE GLIDDEN TOUR.

The most interesting announcement ever made in connection with the automobile industry was undoubtedly that made a month or two ago to the effect that the new models of the White Steam Cars could be run on kerosene, or coal oil, instead of gasoline. Everyone at once recognized that the use of the new fuel would add materially to the advantages which the White already possessed over other types of cars. There were some people, however, who were sceptical as to whether or not the new fuel could be used with complete success, and, therefore, the makers of the White Car, the White Company, of Cleveland, Ohio, determined to make a public demonstration of the new fuel in the 1909 Glidden Tour.

From the standpoint of the public, no test more satisfactory could have been selected. First of all, the distance covered on the Glidden Tour, from Detroit to Denver and thence to Kansas City, was 2650 miles. This was certainly more than sufficient to bring out any weaknesses, if such had existed. Still more important was the fact that the car was at all times while on the road under the supervision of observers named by those who entered other contesting cars. Therefore, it would have been impossible for the driver of the White to have even tightened a bolt without the fact being noted and a penalty inflicted. At night the cars were guarded by Pinkerton detectives and could not be approached by any one

The complete success of the new fuel while on the 2650-mile public test and the advantages gained through its use were well described in the following dispatch which the correspondent of the New York Sun sent to his paper at the conclusion of the tour:

"A feature of the tour which was watched with special interest was that the White Steamer used kerosene, or 'coal oil,' as fuel instead of gasoline. The new fuel worked splendidly throughout the 2650-mile journey, and all claims made in its behalf were fully proven. First of all, as regards cheapness, the White driver secured kerosene all along the route from 6 cents to 10 cents cheaper per gallon than was paid for gasoline. Secondly, the new fuel was handled without any precautions, and it was not unusual to see kerosene being poured into the fuel tank while the crew of the car and an interested crowd stood by with lighted cigars and cigarettes. At the finish of the tour, the White was the only car permitted by the authorities to enter Convention Hall, where the technical examination took place, without draining its fuel tank. Thirdly, the new fuel proved to be absolutely without smoke or smell. Fourthly, kerosene could be purchased at whatever part of the route was most convenient, and not once during the trip through the ten States of the Middle West was there found a grocery store where kerosene was not readily and cheaply obtainable. Finally, the amount of fuel used on the trip showed that kerosene is at least fifteen per cent. more efficient, gallon for gallon, than gasoline. The car in other respects made a most creditable showing, and there was the usual rivalry among the observers to be assigned to the White so that they could ride with the maximum of comfort. The only adjustments or repairs charged against the car during the long trip were tightening a lubricator pipe and wiring a damaged mud guard. These penalties were not inflicted until more than 2000 miles had been completed with an absolutely perfect score."

A particularly interesting feature of the new White Steamer is that either kerosene or gasoline may be used as fuel. The necessary adjustments so that the fuel may be changed from kerosene to gasoline, or vice versa, may be made in a couple of minutes; but so completely successful has kerosene proved to be, that it is not believed that any purchasers will care to use gasoline.

The White Company report that the demand for their new steam cars—both the $2000-model and the $4000-model—exceeds their most sanguine expectations. It is evident that the combination of steam—the power which everyone understands and has confidence in—with kerosene—the fuel which everyone has on hand and can handle without any danger—is thoroughly appreciated by up-to-date purchasers of automobiles.

TAFT ON STATEHOOD.

President Taft spoke at Albuquerque Friday, and, of course, his subject was statehood. While he promised, in a perfunctory way, to do what he could to advance the cause of statehood, he intimated very broadly that we should not be in too much of a hurry, and his speech, as a whole, must have been a distinct disappointment to all earnest advocates of statehood. The following excerpts are taken from the address:

"I am glad to see you. I am glad to be here to say what I am going to say about that thing which is uppermost in your minds. You seem to be able to guess what it is. Every baby in this territory seems to be trained to speak the first word: 'Statehood.'"

"Now, in as far as lies in me as the chief executive, recommending legislation to congress and exercising a legitimate influence in that regard, the constitutional function being to recommend and veto, I first will say that I will not veto a bill letting New Mexico in."

"And second, that I shall recommend that the promise of the republican platform, upon which I had the honor of being elected as president, should be carried out in good faith, and that the territories of Arizona and New Mexico shall be admitted to the union so that we shall have nothing but states between the Atlantic and the Pacific."

"Now my friends, with respect to New Mexico. You have here, in a sense, the oldest community in the United States; you have been struggling since the 15th or 16th centuries for statehood, but you were promised statehood, if I recollect it, in the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo; at least there was a provision there looking to taking this country and making it a part of the United States, as a state. You have a population large enough, but, my friends, when you think of statehood it is like the aspiration of a boy to become a man, and to become the head of a family, and all the independence that it gives."

"But it also entails some burdens. When you become a man you have got to support your wife, your children, if you are lucky enough to have them. So it is as to statehood; you have got to select your own officials. You think that is easy, and you do not like to have them selected by somebody else, but perhaps the time will come when you will get some officials selected by somebody that differs with you."

"The majority might be such that you won't like the majority. That sometimes happens. Then you will have to stand it. You cannot then put it on to Washington. You cannot say if they only understood what the needs of New Mexico were then we would have good officials all the time, you have got to do the selecting yourself. You have got to pass a constitution that shall serve as a fundamental law, for a hundred years, it may be, because constitutions are not easily amended."

"And you are going to have introduced into that convention a great many men who are going to try to make people good and just by statute; that are going to accomplish everything by law and who intend to put so many limitations on your legislature that it cannot move at all."

"And now you have got to meet that issue, and if you want to get in with a constitution that bucks and gags you, and ties you in every way, that is the kind of a responsibility you have got to assume, but I hope you won't."

"The trouble is when you are making a constitution you will take any old thing if you can only get statehood. I know that. Well, there ought to be a provision by which you should first vote on your constitution, and then vote on your officers, and I hope you have the strength of character enough to vote down a poor constitution and wait until you can get a good one by a new constitution."

"Anxious for that I ask you to be most careful when you make up your constitution and when you select your first state officers."

"Now my friends, you have got a great state here. I would not guess it by passing through it as I have today—it looks to be very much like a desert with a few scrubby growths on it."

"How statehood will come, it would be unwise for me to prophesy. Of course, you want it tomorrow morning. I sincerely hope that you will get an enabling act, and I intend to use all the influence I can to secure the passage of an enabling act at the next session of congress."

"I am in favor of deliberation with respect to the process by which you come into the union. I am so convinced that it is better for you to take a little time in getting up your constitution and determining among yourselves whether it is what you want, that you can well afford to delay six months or a year in the course of coming into the union, better than to be hustled in and find yourselves hampered by ill-digested fundamental law."

"Now, you do not like that, but I am just telling you the truth, and if it turns out that you are hustled in and do not have a fundamental law such as you ought to have you cannot say that I did not warn you against that trouble. But that in the course of this administration you will come in as a full-fledged state, and come in with a good constitution—I sincerely and profoundly hope—and I mean to bend every effort that I can to bring it about."

Some Punkins.

We have on exhibition in our front window a fruit that is common to a great many countries, but this one is uncommon in that it was grown on the sky-line, 7,000 feet above sea level, and on a dry land farm. This is not the only uncommon feature about this fruit—popularly known as a punkin—but it also has size to recommend it. It is 2 feet long and measures 4 feet and 2 inches in circumference. It was grown by H. E. Keller, on the mesa beyond Nogal. Mr. Keller also brought a sample of his potatoes, a sight of which makes an Irishman's mouth water, and excel or equal the famous Greeley potato.

Clark Hust was down from his ranch yesterday.

Mrs. J. W. Craig went to Capitan yesterday, and will return today.

Milton Read, a substantial citizen of the Capitan country, was in Carrizozo yesterday.

The big crowd that went to El Paso last week has returned full of — — joy, hope and inspiration.

Paul Mayer was in Carrizozo a short time Monday, on his return to White Oaks from the upper country.

Dr. Walker's office building on Tularosa avenue is just about completed. It is quite a neat, comfortable building.

Demetrio Perea is making preparations to open up an eating house across the track. He will be ready for business next Monday week.

E. H. B. Chew was down from White Oaks a short time Saturday. Mr. Chew informed us that the White Oaks public school would begin next month.

A number of our citizens went to Oscura Saturday to attend justice court, Judge Scoggin, of this precinct being disqualified, as he was a party to the action. The case, we understand, was dismissed.

A. J. Rolland made a business visit to Alamogordo yesterday, returning last night.

W. E. Schei, representing the Denver Post, is here in the interest of his publication.

Hon. John Y. Hewitt returned from El Paso Sunday night, and went to White Oaks the following morning.

H. B. Dobbins and family returned last week to their home near Capitan. They have been at Lampasas, Texas, the past six months.

Judge Cooley passed through Sunday night, on his way to Tucumcari, where he opened the regular term of court for Quay county Monday.

W. L. Gumm has contracted to deliver the Capitan coal slack to El Paso parties. He has secured a rate from the railroad company that will justify its shipment. The amount on the dumps at the old workings is estimated at 4,000 tons.

Skaters and dancers are notified that the Rink will be at their disposal for only three nights before court. Tomorrow night and Tuesday night will be given to skating, while next Thursday night the last dance in the Rink before court will take place. The building is undergoing alterations for a temporary jail, and, for a time, merry-makers will steer clear of its precincts.

Attorney Geo. B. Barber, of Lincoln, came over on Monday's Capitan train, and left that evening for Tucumcari to attend the Quay county district court.

The extra tiling for the Dr. Paded drug store and hospital have arrived, and the walls are almost finished. It will have one of the most beautiful fronts of any building in town.

R. Irminger and daughter, Mrs. Boone, who have their ranch near Capitan, delivered two car loads of stock cattle to J. H. Charles here this week. They sold their steers to Mr. Charles also, but instead of shipping them they were driven to the V V pastures.

Charles McMasters, Gordon Gunn, L. R. Wade, Vic Jones and Wm. Kahler left Tuesday morning for the Capitan mountains, in search of recreation and sport. The quintette contains some good marksmen, and they should not return empty handed.

The hunting party, that went out above the head of the malpais last week, returned Tuesday with the carcasses of three deer. There were four in the party and not enough deer to go round; the claims of Gray and Goff to one each not being questioned, but Little and Adams could not agree as to who slew the third. At any rate, they and a number of their friends had venison.

Messrs. Campbell, Anderson, Bell, Graham, Jones and another sportsman left Monday morning for a week's outing in the Capitan. They went loaded for bear, and if they return without bruin's pelt their standards as sportsmen will be lowered.

The celebrated Jap Coe fruit farm on the Ruidoso has been sold to George Poole, of Williamson, county, Texas; consideration $7,000.00. This farm does not embrace a large acreage, but is recognized as a most valuable piece of property.

J. Johnson, of Salt Lake City, and son, S. M. Johnson, of Charlotte, North Carolina, arrived last night. The younger Johnson came here seven years ago, and was at that time so favorably impressed with our healthful climate and undeveloped resources that the idea of establishing a school in the mountains of this county took root. He developed and disposed of some property in Charlotte, thus securing means whereby the present project may be consummated. He left today for the east side of the mountain and, if successful in securing a desirable location, will be followed later by a number of families from the east.

And All with Company There.
"Now, children," said the mother, as a whole roomful of company had come in, "suppose you run off and play by yourselves."

"All right, mother," replied Edith. "Can we go up and play Hamlet and Ophelia?"

"Certainly," smiled the mother, while her guests looked on at the tableau.

"Goody!" replied Edith; then, turning to her sister, she said: "Now, Maude, you run up to mamma's room and get all her false hair that you can find."—Judge.

Enough Till Eternity.

The biggest marble quarry in operation in the world lies almost within a stone's throw of the heart of West Rutland, Vt. Around its mouth is a stock of 12,000 pieces of finished marble. There is a great gap in the hillside. The marble crops out as bare of soil or vegetation as a billiard ball. You can walk over that hill and never step on anything but marble, and after two score years of blasting and drilling they don't know how deep the deposit lies. It seems there's enough marble in that one hill for an eternity.

Not Ambiguous at All.

The donkey is—or has been—associated with party politics in other countries besides our own.

In one of England's elections a candidate for parliament, the late Lord Bath, called attention to himself by means of a donkey over whose back two panniers were slung, bearing a ribbon band on which was printed: "Vote for Papa."

It must be added, however, that in each pannier stood one of Lord Bath's daughters.—Youth's Companion.

SENSE ABOUT FOOD Facts About Food Worth Knowing.

It is a serious question sometimes to know just what to eat when a person's stomach is out of order and most foods cause trouble.

Grape-Nuts food can be taken at any time with the certainty that it will digest. Actual experience of people is valuable to anyone interested in foods.

A Terre Haute woman writes: "I had suffered with indigestion for about four years, ever since an attack of typhoid fever, and at times could eat nothing but the very lightest food, and then suffer such agony with my stomach I would wish I never had to eat anything."

"I was urged to try Grape-Nuts and since using it I do not have to starve myself any more, but I can eat it at any time and feel nourished and satisfied, dyspepsia is a thing of the past, and I am now strong and well."

"My husband also had an experience with Grape-Nuts. He was very weak and sickly in the spring. Could not attend to his work. He was under the doctor's care but medicine did not seem to do him any good until he began to leave off ordinary food and use Grape-Nuts. It was positively surprising to see the change in him. He grew better right off, and naturally he had none but words of praise for Grape-Nuts."

"Our boy thinks he cannot eat a meal without Grape-Nuts, and he learns so fast at school that his teacher and other scholars comment on it. I am satisfied that it is because of the great nourishing elements in Grape-Nuts."

"There's a Reason."

It contains the phosphate of potash from wheat and barley which combine with albumen to make the gray matter to daily refill the brain and nerve centers.

It is a pity that people do not know what to feed their children. There are many mothers who give their youngsters almost any kind of food and when they become sick begin to pour the medicine down them. The real way is to stick to proper food and be healthy and get along without medicine and expense.

ONE OF THE FINEST OF CAKES

Orange Layers with Icing of the Same Flavor Is a Popular Confection Everywhere.

Cream four ounces of butter with four ounces of sugar, then add gradually four well-beaten eggs, sift in half a pound of flour and one teaspoonful of baking powder, then add the grated rind of one orange and two tablespoonfuls of milk. Mix well and divide into buttered and floured layer tins, spread evenly and quickly and bake in a hot oven for about fifteen minutes. Turn out to cool.

Now take the strained juice of half an orange and half a lemon, put them into a small saucepan, add a level tablespoonful of cornstarch, moistened with one gill of cold water, add the grated rind of half an orange and four heaping tablespoonfuls of sugar. Stir over the fire till thick. When cool spread between the two pieces of cake.

Then ice with orange icing. To make the orange frosting, pare the rind very thinly from one orange and soak it in the juice for one hour and a half. Sift eight ounces of confectioners' sugar into a basin, add the strained juice. Beat for a few minutes and spread on the cake. Cut into neat squares or triangles.

MAKES A GOOD SALAD BORDER

Rice, with Flavoring Ingredients, Goes Well with Any of the Season's Light Dishes.

Wash thoroughly three ounces of rice, then put it into a saucepan, cover it generously with water and bring to boiling point; then strain off the water, wash the rice well in cold water, return it to the pan with one pint of milk, add a bay leaf, an onion stuck with two cloves, salt and red pepper to taste.

Cook very gently till the rice is tender and the liquid is reduced to one gill, then lift out the bay leaf and the onion and dissolve in the rice half a teaspoonful of powdered gelatine.

When this is perfectly dissolved turn the whole into a basin and when cool mix in lightly half a cupful of stiffly whipped cream.

Have ready a plain border ring mold lined with aspic jelly and garnished with tiny sprigs of parsley and paprika; then pour the rice into this, let it set, then turn out on to a dainty dish and serve with any delicate salad and chopped aspic jelly.

Excellent Barley Water.

Wipe very clean, by rolling it in a soft cloth, two tablespoonfuls of pearl barley; put it into a quart jug, with a lump or two of sugar, a grain or two of salt and a strip of lemon peel, cut thin; fill up the jug with boiling water and keep the mixture gently stirred for some minutes, then cover it and let it stand until perfectly cold. In 12 hours, or less, it will be fit for use, but it is better when made over night. If these directions be followed, the barley water will be comparatively clear, and very soft and pleasant to drink. After the barley water has been poured off once, the jug may be filled with boiling water a second time, if desired.

Recipe for Wedding Cake.

Three and one-half pounds butter, four pounds sugar, 3½ pounds flour, nine pounds currants, 2½ pounds raisins, three dozen eggs, 2½ pounds citron, three ounces brandy, three ounces rose water, one-half ounce cloves, one-half ounce mace, one-half ounce cinnamon, one-half ounce nutmeg, two-thirds cup molasses; wash currants and raisins thoroughly before making.

Pea Salad.

One can of small peas, drained; one-fourth of a pound of cream cheese, one dozen small pickles, one tablespoonful of finely chopped onions. The cheese and pickles should be cut fine. Add mayonnaise dressing. Will serve 12.

PATIENT SUFFERING.

Many Women Think They Are Doomed to Backache.

It is not right for women to be always ailing with backache, urinary ills, headache and other symptoms of kidney disease. There is a way to end these troubles quickly. Mrs. John H. Wright, 606 East First St., Mitchell, S. D., says: "I suffered ten years with kidney complaint and a doctor told me I would never get more than temporary relief. A dragging pain and lameness in my back almost disabled me. Dizzy spells came and went and the kidney secretions were irregular. Doan's Kidney Pills rid me of these troubles and I feel better than for years past."

Care in Preparing Food.

In recent years scientists have proved that the value of food is measured largely by its purity; the result is the most stringent pure food laws that have ever been known.

One food that has stood out prominently as a perfectly clean and pure food and which was as pure before the enactment of these laws as it could possibly be is Quaker Scotch Oats; conceded by the experts to be the ideal food for making strength of muscle and brain. The best and cheapest of all foods. The Quaker Oats Company is the only manufacturer of oatmeal that has satisfactorily solved the problem of removing the husks and black specks which are so annoying when other brands are eaten. If you are convenient to the store buy the regular size packages; if not near the store, buy the large size family packages.

Brooklyn Flag Factory.

One of the biggest official flag factories in the world is in the Brooklyn navy yard. Between eighty and one hundred women work there all the year round making flags for the use of Uncle Sam's fighting ships. They use up 120,000 yards of bunting a year and fashion 418 different kinds of official flags. The flags cost $90,000 a year.

LOW COLONIST FARES TO THE WEST AND NORTHWEST.

Union Pacific Passenger Department announces that Colonist Fares will be in effect from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, 1909, to all points in the West and Northwest.

This year the West looks more promising than ever. Now is the time to secure land at low prices, and, at the same time, to visit the many interesting points in the West and Northwest, at which liberal stopover arrangements may be made.

A better estimate of raw lands can be made now than formerly, because these lands are in proximity to new farms that are producing wonderful crops.

"There's one good thing about husbands, anyway," says Mrs. Peatus, "and that's that most of them belong to somebody else."

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Willimantic, Conn.—"For five years I suffered untold agony from female troubles, causing backache, irregularities, dizziness and nervous prostration. It was impossible for me to walk upstairs without stopping on the way. I tried three different doctors and each told me something different. I received no benefit from any of them, but seemed to suffer more. The last doctor said nothing would restore my health. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see what it would do, and I am restored to my natural health."—Mrs. ETTA DONOVAN, Box 299, Willimantic, Conn.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

NOVEL PIN CUSHION

PRETTY DESIGN THAT CAN BE MADE AT HOME.

Crocheted on Small Celluloid Rings and Placed on a Square of Silk or Satin, Loosely Puffed at Each Corner.

Pretty pincushions for the toilet-table, are always acceptable, and here we show a novel and decidedly pretty one. The same idea might be carried out in a larger size for a sofa cushion.

For the crochet rings, which form the ornamentation, use those of celluloid that can be bought in various sizes from most dealers in fancy work. Those used for the model were covered closely over with double stitches in crochet worked with cream crochet cotton, the number to be regulated by size of ring. For the small rings for pincushion, 32 stitches should be worked, then draw through the first, for the scallops, pass over the first two doubles, *, into the next work three trebles, three double trebles, and three trebles; pass over two stitches, one double into the next, pass over two doubles, and repeat from * seven times more; draw through the first stitch and fasten off the cotton.

The patterns may be joined by needle and cotton, or may be connected by drawing through the edge of one pattern, when working the corresponding part of next. Work the spun stitches in center of ring with a needle and cotton, as you would in point lace; that is, the threads are crossed from side to side, and are then darned through in a circle; the end of the cotton must be carried down one strand and fastened off at back of ring.

The rings are connected to form a square, six rings in each line. A square pincushion is covered with silk or satin, loosely puffed out at each corner.

The crochet square is then laid on so that the corners come in the center of each side, where they are fixed tightly down under a bow of ribbon matching the silk that covers the cushion.

REVIVAL OF THE "1880" HATS

A becoming model in navy blue chip, with dark red poppies and navy blue wheatears.

DRESS FOR LITTLE GIRL

Made Up in Butcher Blue Linen and Has Panel Up Center of Front.

A dainty little dress is made up in butcher blue linen, the gathered skirt is trimmed at the foot by a piece of insertion embroidery, and has a panel up the center of front, continued to the neck of dress and cut out of piece embroidery. The collar is edged with insertion, which also forms the cuffs.

Hat of embroidery with a colored ribbon taken round the crown and tied in a bow at the side.

Materials required: Three yards 36 inches wide, one yard piece embroidery, four yards insertion embroidery.

New Coiffures Coming.

A change of coiffure lines is stirring French women of fashion and will doubtless make itself felt here in the autumn. The hair is dressed flatly at the sides instead of being puffed out in the fashion which has become so distressing a caricature, and the hair is coiled or braided round the head or dressed low in loose chignon fashion. A tiny fringe may or may not appear across the middle of the forehead. It will be hard for women to accustom themselves to the flat side lines, and millinery will have to be adapted to the change, but after all the mode is merely tentative.

The Recamier Coiffure.

The fashionable hair arrangement, with its center parting and very wide sides and back, is called the recamier. The little curls dropping from the back and pinned to the hair are growing more in fashion each week.

Silks for Autumn.

Silk serge and some of the heavy Ottoman weaves in silk are to be made up into dressy street costumes for autumn wear.

VALUE PAINTED ON.

Well painted is value added whether the house be built for one thousand dollars or ten thousand. Well painted means higher selling value, and higher occupying value—for there's an additional pleasure in living in the house that is well dressed.

National Lead Company assist in making the right use of the right paint by sending free upon request to all who ask for it, their "Houseowners' Painting Outfit No. 49." This outfit includes a book of color schemes for either exterior or interior painting, a book of specifications and an instrument for detecting adulteration in paint materials. Address National Lead Company, 1902 Trinity Building, New York City, and the outfit will be promptly sent to you.

A Question of Grammar.

Hetty's uncle, who was a school teacher, met her on the street one beautiful May day and asked her if she was going out with the Maying party.

"No, I ain't going."

"Oh, my little dear," said her uncle, "you must not say 'I ain't going,' and he proceeded to give her a little lesson in grammar. "You are not going. He is not going. We are not going. You are not going. They are not going. Now, can you say all that, Hetty?"

"Sure I can," she replied, making a courtesy. "There ain't nobody going." —Lutheran.

Adjustable.

Aunt Anne, an old family dandy, was sitting with knees crossed in the kitchen, when the young daughter of the house entered and, impressed with the hugeness of the old woman's feet, asked what size shoe she wore.

"Well, honey," replied Aunt Anne, "I kin wear eights; I generally wear nines; but dese yer I'se got on am twelves, an' de good Lawd knows dey bu'ts me!" —Everybody's Magazine.

How England Got New Zealand.

How New Zealand became a British possession is one of the romances of colonization. Seventy years ago it was a sort of no man's land, but it leaked out that France contemplated annexation. There was a race from Sydney between a British and a French man-of-war, the former winning by a few hours and securing New Zealand for the British crown. A few years previously a French adventurer, Baron de Thierry, at the head of 100 followers, whom he had recruited in Sydney, had proclaimed himself "king of New Zealand," but the baron had not sufficient funds to maintain a monarchy. His subjects deserted and his reign collapsed.—London Chronicle.

Not So Wide of the Mark, Either.

The class had taken up the subject of the rulers of the world. The president of the United States, the king of England and their powers and functions had been discussed.

Suddenly the teacher said, "Now, Willie, what's a kaiser?"

"A kaiser," replied the absent-minded Willie, whose long suit was geography instead of political history, "is a stream o' hot water springin' up and disturbin' the earth." —Lippincott's.
