The report of the committee on resolutions was adopted without opposition, and is as follows:

RESOLUTIONS:

We, the Republicans of Valencia county, in convention assembled, hereby renew our faith in an allegiance to the grand old Republican party, and pledge ourselves to the principles promulgated in its last national and state platform.

We condemn the present democratic state administration. For twenty years the territory of New Mexico under Republican administration was always able to meet its indebtedness when due, pay its warrants at par and sell its bonds above par, but under the present democratic administration we find the reverse to be true.

We favor an economical salary bill, allowing county officers just compensation for their services, but at the same time looking to the interest of the taxpayer.

We are in favor of a just tax law whereby all the property of the state will bear its just proportion to the burden of taxation. We are in favor of good roads for New Mexico and urge upon the legislature to be elected, at its session to pass adequate laws to enable the state and counties to build and maintain good roads.

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God to remove the Honorable John E. Griffith, who lately filled the high judicial office of district attorney for the Seventh Judicial District of the State of New Mexico, of which this county forms a part.

Be It Resolved, by the Republican party of Valencia county, in convention assembled, that the county has lost an able and fearless prosecutor, who has left for all time as a monument to his honor, a record for mercy and justice in the conduct of the high office which he held.

Resolved, That the Republican party has lost an able adviser, and feel deeply his loss, and tender to his bereaved family the condolence of this convention.

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty to remove the Honorable Solomon Luna, who for many years by his wisdom guided the destinies of the Republican party in the county of Valencia, and indeed, whose good influences were felt no less here than in the councils of the Republican party in the state and nation at large, and to whom more than any one person this county owes its advanced position in the commonwealth;

Be It Resolved, by the Republicans of Valencia county in convention assembled, that the Republican party has lost its foremost leader, and the state and nation a wise and patriotic representative;

Resolved, That Solomon Luna, in his public and private character, was an example which all men may well emulate;

Resolved, That we deplore his untimely death as irreparable, and we tender to his bereaved family the sympathies of this convention.

Also the report of the committee of the nominations was adopted without opposition by which the following delegates were appointed to represent Valencia county at the State Republican Convention to be held in the city of Santa Fe, August 24, 1914, to-wit:

Miguel E. Baca, Manuel Maes y Aragon, J. M. Luna, Ed. M. Otero, Bernardino Sedillo, Eugene Kempenich, Teofilo Chaves y Luna, Fermin Marquez, John Becker, Adolphe Didier, Jesus C. Sanches, Geo. L. Kile, Manuel P. y Chaves, Silvestre Mirabal, Boleslo Romero, Carlos Baca.

The chairman called attention to the convention that the nominations for two candidates to represent Valencia county in the state legislature was in order.

Mr. Fermin Marquez presented the name of Narciso Francis, of Seboyeta, as a candidate to the state legislature and there being no opposition Mr. Saturnino Baca, made a motion that his nomination be made by acclamation which was adopted by the convention, and Mr. Narciso Francis was duly elected representative for said county.

Also the nomination of Mr. Teofilo Chaves y Luna, which was made by Jesus C. Sanches, as the other member to the house of representatives for Valencia county was made by acclamation and adopted by the convention, and Mr. Teofilo Chaves y Luna, was duly elected representative for said county.

Upon motion of Jose Artiga, and seconded, that the delegates appointed to represent Valencia county at the State Convention in the city of Santa Fe, N. M., be instructed to vote as a unit in any matter that may come before the convention, the motion was carried and adopted.

Mr. Silvestre Mirabal then made a motion that the chairman of the central committee is hereby authorized to fill all vacancies that may exist in the different precinct central committees, the motion was carried and adopted.

The convention then adjourned sine die.

EUGENE KEMPENICH,
Chairman.
JESUS M. LUNA,
Secretary.

Villa Denies Reports of a Rupture

Wild rumors have been afloat on the border that General Villa is preparing to form an independent republic to be composed of the states of Chihuahua, Sonora, Sinaloa, Durango y Zacatecas, and that it is for that purpose he is holding his army in the north and is straining every nerve to secure for it a great supply of arms, ammunition, clothing and food stuffs. General Villa today is at Nieves, Durango, many miles from a railroad track or telegraph office, conferring with General Tomas Urbina and General Dominguez Arrieta, seeking to bring about a reconciliation between these two chieftains who have had a serious falling out. For that reason an expression can not be gotten from him direct. Gunter Lessing of El Paso, General Villa's attorney on the border, claiming to speak for General Villa, said tonight:

"You may deny as emphatically as you please that there is any danger that General Villa will set up an independent republic or that there is any rupture between General Villa and First Chief Carranza. It is a well established fact that Gen. Villa has no personal ambition. He realizes that the interests of Mexico will be best served by a complete cessation of armed hostilities. Whatever differences may have existed between First Chief Carranza and General Villa were settled by the Pacto de Paz of Torreon. The basis of the rumor that General Villa will set up an independent republic as published in scare headlines yesterday and today was the charge that First Chief Carranza had confiscated the cargo of the steamer Hatteras which reached Tampico several days ago laden with arms, ammunition and other supplies consigned to Gen. Villa. Nothing could be further from the truth. The entire cargo was delivered to Lieut. Col. Leopoldo Gallardo of the staff of Gen. Aguirre Benavides, one of Gen. Villa's most trusted lieutenants, and by him shipped from Tampico to Gen. Villa at Chihuahua. Col. Gallardo reached Juarez this afternoon and not only confirms this statement but says he was the bearer of a very friendly note from First Chief Carranza to Gen. Villa."

Gen. Eugenio Aguirre Benavides, chief of the Zaragoza brigade of Gen. Villa's army, is in El Paso undergoing medical treatment. Upon reading the alarming reports in an extra edition of an evening paper, he sent to the correspondent of the International News Service the following statement:

"In view of the alarming reports published yesterday and today, I feel it necessary in the unavoidable absence of Gen. Villa to state that the reports are absolutely false. No breach between First Chief Carranza and Gen. Villa exists. Gen. Villa is not about to set up an independent republic; neither does he contemplate an armed conflict with Gen. Carranza, as said in the alarming reports published in El Paso tonight. All of the constitutionalist chiefs and all of the men in the ranks of the constitutionalist armies are actuated by the same motive and inspired by the highest patriotism before and above everything else they are firmly resolved to leave nothing undone to bring about absolute peace in the republic of Mexico and to respect all guarantees and liberties. The circulation of the reports given currency yesterday and today is nothing short of criminal. Their authors should be numbered among the enemies of Mexico."

Suspended from Office

That County Clerk A. L. Awalt, of Clovis, Curry county, was suspended from office August 14 by order of Judge John T. McClure is the news received from Clovis by State Corporation Commissioner Hugh H. Williams. The suspension followed a report by the traveling auditor to the governor on alleged irregularities of Mr. Awalt's accounts. It is said that the case of John F. Taylor was considered by Judge McClure on August 15, but Mr. Williams denied today that he had received word that Taylor had also been suspended. Harry Crawford, who ran against Taylor for county treasurer, is said to be a candidate for the office of county clerk or treasurer, in case Mr. Taylor is suspended. The appointment would be made by the governor.

Union Republicans Harmonious

Clayton, N. M., Aug. 18.—The joint convention of Republicans and Progressives met here yesterday in what proved to be one of the largest and most enthusiastic political gatherings ever held in Union county. Judge Oscar T. Toombs and Candelario Vigil were nominated candidates for the lower house of the legislature and the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That we believe in a united Republican party in Union county because we have a unity of interest. We endorse the actions of our United States senators in congress. We commend their efforts in behalf of the 640-acre homestead bill; we also beg to endorse the actions of the supreme bench of the state; we also endorse the action of the majority members of the corporation commission.

We are greatly pleased to notice in our midst among the delegation the Hon. R. P. Ervien, present state land commissioner and one of the Republican fathers of Union county.

We most heartily endorse the administration of his office. We deplore the fact that under our present Democratic administration the burden of the taxpayers of Union county have been greatly increased as compared with the taxes under the Republican administration.

Maytorena and Calles Forces Are Fighting

Nogales, Sonora, Mexico, Aug. 17.—Fighting between the governor, Maytorena and Calles factions of Sonora, was renewed today in an encounter at Quijano, thirty miles south of here. The result is not yet known. Four hundred volunteers, reinforcements for the Calles side, left here today.

For shouting "vivas" for Governor Maytorena, who is generally believed to have Villa's support, Maria Huguiez, brother of the secretary of state of Sonora, was executed here last night.

Colonel P. Elias Calles, commander of the Sonora garrison, has been upheld by Carranza in his past troubles with Maytorena.

Notice to the Public.

Santa Fe, N. M., August 13, 1914.

On account of the heavy movement of grain and other crops, the railroad companies traversing this state urge the necessity of all shippers expediting the movement of same by prompt releasing of cars at destination, and the loading of all cars to their maximum capacity, in order to prevent a scarcity of cars for shipment of crops and other freight.

All shippers will be rendering a commendable public service by complying with the desires of the railroad companies in this respect, and this commission would urge that this be done in every instance possible. On account of the war situation and the blockading of exports at water terminals, many cars are tied up for extensive periods, and those in service between inland points are urged to be released promptly, and loaded to capacity.

CABLE MESSAGES ARE IMPEDED BY WAR CONDITIONS

Censors at European Terminals Hold Up Every Word Until Judgment Is Passed Upon It.

New York, August 18.—Inquiry at the offices here of the three great trans-Atlantic cable companies developed the fact that on all fifteen submarine lines between North America and Europe traffic was still badly congested today, but primarily to the requirements and restrictions of the censors at the European terminals.

The Western Union Telegraph company's system of eight cables was in better condition than at any time since the establishment of censorship, it was said today.

The delivery of messages to the terminals in Europe, however, does not necessarily mean that they will reach their destinations immediately. One day last week the London office of the Western Union reported that 2,000 cablegrams had piled up there awaiting inspection by the censors. The entire system of the Western Union cables to the south of Europe is similarly affected, as practically all the terminals are in British possessions.

The abolition of code has worked great hardships on the Western Union as well as on other systems.

The Commercial Cable company's system of five cables to Europe was reported today to be working with all the dispatch that could be expected.

It was said at the New York office of the French Cable company which operates two cables, one to England and one to France, that the company had reduced the delay to twenty hours.

The English owned cable lines between England and central and southern continental Europe and Scandinavian peninsula were said to be interrupted, although under a censorship even more severe than that imposed on the lines to North America.

The lines through the Mediterranean to ports in Asia Minor and the Far East are also under strict censorship. The majority of these lines are English owned.

The Commercial cable company's trans-Pacific cable from San Francisco to Manila, via Honolulu, Midway and Guam and the lines between Manila and ports in Japan and China, with the exception of Hong Kong and points reached through that city which is under British control, and the lines between the United States and Central and South America are the only cables not under censorship.

Baca Loses Case Against Ed. M. Otero.

Elfege Baca lost his case against Eduardo M. Otero last Monday when Judge Herbert F. Reynolds, of the district court, sustained a demurrer entered by the defendant. Baca sued Otero for $25,000 for alleged malicious prosecution, he having been charged with libel for articles printed in his paper, La Opinion Publica, in connection with the death of Solomon Luna.

The final report on New Mexico crop conditions made by the department of agriculture at Washington shows the situation to be the best in the history of the state. With a total yield of two million bushels of wheat this year, and other crops in due proportion, the crop yield of the state this year is just about double the usual ten years' average and the farmers are enjoying the most bountiful harvest they have ever experienced.

Grant county, N. M., is fast coming to the front as a producer of copper. Four years ago the annual output was but a few thousand pounds, and last year the Chino company alone produced more than 50,000,000 pounds of the red metal. The first quarter of this year the Chino production was more than 18,000,000 pounds, and the indications are that the second quarter's production will exceed 22,000,000 pounds. A few miles from the Chino mines the Phelps-Dodge syndicate is installing a larger reduction plant than that of Chino and it is claimed that the Tyrone deposit is much larger and richer than that at Chino.

We Are Safe from Europe's War

With seven nations of Europe now engaged in the greatest war the world has ever known, this great nation of ours can afford to look upon the situation with complacency and as no affairs of our beyond the concern we naturally feel in the horrors of war.

We are from participation in the troubles of Europe, from the fact that the policy of the United States has always been to refrain from all entangling alliances in that quarter and to take no part in matters that were of no vital concern to this hemisphere. The attitude of the United States in matters of this kind was well reflected in Washington's farewell address, and those sentiments have fortunately been the guiding inspiration of this nation since the time of their enunciation. Washington said:

"Against the insidious wiles of foreign influence the jealousy of a free people ought to constantly awake, since history and experience prove that foreign influence is one of the most baneful foes of republican government. Europe has a set of primary interests which to us have none or a very remote relation. Hence she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns. Hence, therefore, it must be unwise in us to implicate ourselves by artificial ties in the ordinary vicissitudes of her politics or the ordinary combinations and collisions of her friendships or enmities."

FIGHTING KINGS

Blood Relationship Exists Between the Royal Houses That are Battling for Supremacy in Europe

Analyze the blood relationship existing between the monarchs of the warring nations of Europe, and the great conflict now in progress becomes strictly a family quarrel, involving particularly the children and grandchildren of the gentle Victoria.

George V. of England, William II. of Germany, and the Czarina of Russia, are all grandchildren of Victoria. So are the Kaiser's brother, Prince Henry of Prussia; the Duke of Saxe-Coburg, the Grand Duke of Hesse, Prince Albert of Schleswig-Holstein, and the three princes of the house of Battenberg, both of whom are officers in the German army. On the English side is another of Victoria's grandchildren, Prince Arthur of Connaught, who will oppose his cousin, the Kaiser.

Should Norway become involved, another grandchild, Queen Maud, sister of King George, would be brought into the conflict. Greece would add another in the person of Queen Sophia, sister of Kaiser Wilhelm. Spain would add one more, Queen Victoria Eugenie.

Czar Nicholas and his empress are both first cousins of King George and his whole family has intermarried so thoroughly with the German royal houses that in blood the Romanoffs are as German as is the kaiser. Franz Joseph of Austria is connected by many blood ties with the kaiser and the czar and by both blood and marriage with King Leopold of Belgium. France alone, as a republic, has no blood ties with the other nations, though the Bonaparte and Bourbon pretenders should be counted, she would be related to all the other royal families.

Each of the four great emperors at war—George, William, Nicholas and Franz Joseph—finds himself now in the position of a soldier fighting against his own regiment and his own commander-in-chief. Each of them bears military rank in the armies and navies of the others. The kaiser is a colonel of the Imperial Russian bodyguard, Admiral of the Russian fleet, Colonel of the First British Royal dragoons, and fleet admiral in the English navy. Nicholas is colonel of the Prussian Grenadiers of the Guard and a German admiral. George is also admiral in the German navy and colonel of the Prussian Cuirassiers. Franz Joseph holds similar titles on the military establishments of his present enemies.

Here are some of the ties of kinship that do not bind the European nations together:

King George V. is first cousin of Kaiser Wilhelm, the Czar and Czarina of Russia, King Haakon of Norway, King Christian of Denmark, Queen Victoria of Spain, brother of Queen Maud of Norway, and nephew of King Constantine of Greece.

Kaiser Wilhelm is first cousin to King George, brother of Queen Sophia of Greece, nephew of the English Duke of Connaught and second cousin to Czar Nicholas.

Czar Nicholas is first cousin to King George, cousin of the kaiser, nephew of King Christian of Denmark, and King Haakon of Norway, brother-in-law to the Grand Duke of Hesse, and cousin by marriage to Franz Josef of Austria, King Nicholas of Montenegro, Queen Helene of Italy, and first cousin to Crown Princess Cecile of Germany.

King Haakon of Norway and King Christian X. of Denmark are brothers, first cousins of King George and King Constantine of Greece, uncle of the czar and nephew of the King of Sweden, as well as related in many ways to the kaiser.

King Albert of Belgium is related by blood to Emperor Franz Josef and King Alfonso of Spain.

King Victor Emmanuel of Italy is son-in-law to the king of Montenegro.

Emperor Franz Jose is a third cousin of King Alfonso, and related in many ways to Kaiser Wilhelm and Czar Nicolas.

European War and Frisco Exposition

There is a general fear extant that the outbreak of war in Europe is going to prove disastrous to the Panama-Pacific exposition scheduled to be pulled off in San Francisco next year, and the cancellation by Italy of its promise to participate may be the first move in general action of that kind. The San Francisco Chronicle takes a very hopeful view of the situation, however, and says:

"A consensus of opinion of those who give the most of their thought to forwarding the interests of the Panama-Pacific exposition is that its fortunes will not be marred by the war now in progress in Europe.

"Their view is based on the belief that the conflict now raging will not last long, and there are many reasons which suggest its correctness. The so-called art of war has been developed so highly that its practice on a large scale must soon produce exhaustion and a cessation of hostilities.

"It is true that many think that bankruptcy on a large scale will follow physical exhaustion, but the recovery from such an evil is swift in countries in which industrialism is highly developed. The necessity for recovering lost ground is a spur to increased exertion, and whenever men put forth their energies in real earnest that object is speedily effected.

"History is full of examples of the rapid recovery of countries after wars loosely characterized as prostrating. It is doubtful whether there is any instance of a people being absolutely crushed by a war. A conquered country may be injured by the repressive measures of the conqueror, but the present difficulties are not likely to result in conquest. The defeated may be called upon to pay the penalty in the form of a heavy indemnity, but the experience of France after the war of 1870 shows that it is possible for such exactions to prove a benefit rather than an injury to the nation compelled to submit to the exaction.

"Every one at all familiar with the events of the past knows that France, after paying an indemnity of a billion dollars to Germany recovered with incredible swiftness, and, in a brief period, was more prosperous than she was before her humiliation. There is no ground for assuming that anything different will happen when the present war is concluded. The work of reparation will commence immediately, and industrial enterprises will be prosecuted with more vigor than during the period of uncertainty preceding the war, and, as all nations engaged in the struggle are in a large degree dependent upon trade with the outside world for their prosperity, we may reckon on their reaching out in every direction in the effort to restore what they have destroyed and recover what they lost.

"It is certain that the United States will not be a neglected field when this work of recovery is begun, and, as the Panama-Pacific exposition will offer the very best means of advertising to the whole world the degree of the completeness of the recovery of the combatants, we may be sure that they will avail themselves of its advantages. Meanwhile it is worth noting that no nation that has signified its intention to exhibit shows the slightest sign of abating interest; all are proceeding with their preparations just as though nothing out of the usual was happening abroad.

MARGESON'S MANNERS

By M. M'MASTER.

As many times as Margeson had called on Kitty Elsler he had never ventured to question her regarding the sister who sat sewing so quietly in the next room.

Often he had wondered at the constant plying of the needle, yet reserve prevented him asking if it was the usual trousseau she was working on.

While talking with the vivacious Kitty, Margeson's eyes wandered to the gold-crowned head of the girl in the other room. The light under which she embroidered cast her head into brilliant relief against the shadowed tapestry of her high-backed chair.

"One would think my little sister was going to be a German housewife from the amount of embroidery she does," Kitty had once said with a little laugh. "It almost flings me into nervous prostration to see her so industrious."

"Your sister doesn't seem to care much for us," Margeson had commented on one occasion.

"Evidently she prefers weaving dreams into her dower chest," laughed Kitty.

Again Margeson longed to ask who the lucky man might be, yet he realized that if confidence was not offered him he had no right to seek it.

So through the evenings of a long supposed courtship of her sister Kitty, Molly watched Margeson, all unknown to the young man himself.

It was not until Kitty announced her engagement to Dick Halsey that Margeson really became acquainted with Molly.

The rejected suitor found himself escorting Molly to all the theaters parties, dances and picnics given in honor of the engaged pair.

When the great wedding took place it was he who acted as best man, while Molly was the maid of honor.

"We want good-looking attendants!" Kitty had laughingly said. "You and Molly are an ideal pair."

"I wish we were a pair," sighed Margeson, when, after the ceremony, he and Molly stepped into the tiny brougham to drive back for the wedding breakfast.

"I don't believe you feel so dreadfully broken up over Kitty's marriage," ventured Molly.

"I am not," ventured Margeson. "But there is another wedding coming off one of the days that will mean the end of the world to me."

chest she was making," Margeson said a trifle unsteadily.

Ethel cast a swift glance at her brother.

"Goose!" she said affectionately. "That was just Kitty's way of keeping you boys to herself—by giving the impression that Molly was already taken."

Margeson was a man of rather quick action when once his mind was made up. He drove home, however, with his sister before returning to the Elsler home.

He found Molly still in the soft pink maid-of-honor frock. She glanced up in surprise when Margeson was shown into the drawing room.

"Molly," said Margeson, "I have been under the impression that you were engaged all this time. Are you?"

"Not that I am aware of," laughed Molly with a swift blush.

Margeson drew nearer and put his arms closely about her.

"I love you, girl," he told her, "and I could not possibly wait while you make another trousseau. You can make it afterward—I will have a big amber light put in—just for you to sew under."

When Molly was permitted the use of her lips for vocal expression, all she said was, "I am glad I was not engaged, for I would have loved you anyway."

Just the Man He Wanted.

"I understand you got into jail," said the warden, "on account of a glowing mining prospectus." "I was quite optimistic," admitted the gentlemanly prisoner. "Well, the governor wants a report on conditions in my jail. I want you to write it."—Pittsburgh Post.

Beyond the Styx.

Plato—Let me see: They condemned you to die, but permitted you to choose the manner of your death. Am I right? Socrates—That's right. I told them hemlock juice was my poison. I said ice cream first, but they made me guess again.—Puck.

Hard to Steer Proper Course.

If you praise yourself your own little world, which thinks it knows, you will mock and gibe at you for a boaster, while if you say you have a poor opinion of yourself it will gladly take you at your own low valuation.

Like Many of the Rest.

"When I married you," said Mrs. Naggars, "I thought to reform you."

"Yes," answered the husband; "and like a number of reformers you seized the first opportunity to become a boss."—Kansas City Star.

Old, Simple Names.

Tabitha and Dorcas are both names that owe their origin to the gentle gazelle—although Dorcas in its meaning suggests nothing of the animal's gentleness, for the name signifies dark and beautiful eyes.

Conceit.

Conceit loses a man more friends and gains him more enemies than any other foible, perhaps vice, in the world. It makes him harsh to his inferiors and disrespectful to his betters.

Took His Chance.

"I suppose, my poor man," said the woman missionary, "that you never had a chance." "I certainly had none," replied the convict. "I took it, and that's why I'm here."

Daily Thought.

Never bear more than one kind of trouble at a time. Some people bear three—all they have now, all they ever had, and all they ever expect to have.

Information comes from Lubbock county that the crops of that portion of the Texas plains country will be record breakers this year. The acreage is the largest in the history of the country and the fine rains that have recently visited that section insure the greatest yields ever known.

War and Sugar Supply.

The outbreak of war in Europe has resulted in a sharp advance in sugar prices. On July 30, the lowest net cash quotation of the New York refiners for granulated sugar was 4.165 cents a pound, while raw sugar was selling at 3.29 cents. By August 10 refined had advanced to 6 cents and raw to 5 cents.

Germany, Austria, Russia and France, the nations actively engaged in conflict, are the chief sources of Europe's sugar supply, producing together some 7,500,000 tons of beet sugar. This is nearly 80 per cent of the entire output of beet sugar and more than one-third of the total sugar crop of the world. Ordinarily Germany, Austria and Russia export a million tons or more of sugar to other countries, largely to Great Britain. The largest production and the largest exportation is that of Germany. The harvesting of the German beet crop is carried on largely by labores from Russia Poland, and this labor will not be available if the war continues during the harvesting period. In all the countries involved in the war the labor supply is drained by military operations, and it is likely that the beet fields may be devastated by the movement of troops.

Great Britain is the chief sugar importing country of Europe. Her yearly importations are over two million tons, of which approximately 700,000 tons ordinarily is drawn from nations now involved in war. With this source of supply cut off, Great Britain has turned to New York market to secure sugar, buying 40,000 tons within the first few days of August and bidding up prices rapidly in order to obtain it. While the European war continues it will be necessary for the Britons to depend for sugar upon sources of supply on which usually they do not draw to any extent. It is evident from what has occurred already that they are likely to continue in sharp competition for Cuban sugar which ordinarily comes to the American market.

The supply of Cuban and American grown sugar in sight at the end of July was just about sufficient to meet the estimated demands of American consumption up to the time when the crops now growing will become available. Any considerable outside draft upon this supply, therefore, was bound to show its effect at once in advancing prices.

Fortunately for the United States, in spite of the curtailment of production in the cane and beet growing districts due to the reduction of the tariff, we still have a domestic production of sugar, including that of Porto Rico and Hawaii, which should amount to over one and a half million tons this year. This will serve as a great steadier of the market in case of a protracted war, and will prevent prices from going as high as they otherwise would, although the necessity of securing over two million tons from outside the United States in addition to the domestic supply will leave the American market under the influence of the general advance in world prices.
