ARMORIES CAN- NOT BE TAXED

Important Opinion by Attorney General Frank W. Clancy.

LIEUTENANTS COMMISSIONED

Western Construction Company of Santa Fe Files Incorporation Papers.

A Washington dispatch, printed in some of the morning papers yesterday, stated that Third Assistant Postmaster General A. L. Lawshe of Las Cruces and Ormby McHarg, late assistant secretary of commerce and labor, had been slated for judgeships in New Mexico. No one in Santa Fe has had intimation of any such intentions on part of the appointing power, and the report is generally discredited.

E. C. Burke has gone to Washington, D. C., to look after his fences in the U. S. marshalship, but it is expected will be offered a land office position in place of it.

Commissioned Lieutenants.

Governor Curry, through Acting Adjutant General A. S. Brookes, today commissioned Charles D. Church first lieutenant and Bertram H. Schwerdtfeger second lieutenant, at Carlsbad, Eddy county.

Incorporation.

Incorporation papers were filed today in the office of Territorial Secretary Nathan Jaffa by the Western Construction Company. The New Mexico agent is F. C. Wilson and the New Mexico headquarters at Santa Fe. The offices of the company are at Wichita, Kan. It is capitalized at $250,000, divided into 2,500 shares. The incorporators and directors are: C. H. Rittenhouse, 937 shares; J. R. Detweiler, 936 shares; W. A. Vincent, 625 shares; A. M. Jack, 1 share, all of Wichita, and F. C. Wilson, 1 share, of Santa Fe.

District Court.

In the district court for Santa Fe county, suit in replevin was brought today by the National Mortgage and Bond Company vs. Sten Lund and the Acheson, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company, for four carloads of Iowa, Kan., cement, in all 670 barrels. A writ of replevin was issued.

Cannot Tax Armories.

Attorney General Frank W. Clancy has handed down the following opinion on the question of taxing armories that are hired for private dances, but from which the rental is used for public purposes:

Albuquerque, Nov. 24, 1909.

Major S. A. Milliken, Secretary, Silver City Armory Board of Control, Silver City, N. M.

Dear Sir:—I have to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 20th inst., in which you inform me that in order to meet the expenses of furnishing, heating, lighting, etc., the board of control of the Silver City armory decided to rent the hall for various purposes to which it is suited, and to give, occasionally, a ball or other form of popular amusement for which an admission fee can be charged, but that it has been notified that it will not be allowed to do so except upon taking out a license and paying a special tax as for a place of amusement.

I note also the fact that you further say, in the letter, that all funds obtained from the use of the armory building are applied to the expense of its equipment and maintenance.

I assume that the license and special tax required must be under the requirement of section 4146 of the Compiled Laws of 1897. I am of opinion that the board of control and the property under its charge, are not subject to any such tax under the circumstances and conditions stated in your letter. As a general rule, property of the government is not subject to taxation, even when there is no statute exempting it, but there is a specific statute in this territory, so much of which as needs to be considered in this connection is as follows:

The following property, and no other, shall be exempt from taxation: Property of the United States and of this territory, counties, cities, towns and other municipal corporations, when devoted entirely to public use and not held for pecuniary profit.

Where all funds obtained from the use of the armory are applied to public purposes connected therewith, I believe that it cannot be said, in any proper sense of the term, that the armory is held for pecuniary profit. I have known of cases in New Mexico where county commissioners have rented the court house for such purposes, the proceeds going into the county treasury, and I have never heard it suggested that, therefore, the county ought to pay a tax. The territory is the owner of large quantities of land donated by Congress, a great deal of which is leased, and the money paid for rental is devoted to the public uses for which the dona-

WOMEN KILLED DEFENDING MEN

Border Feud in West Virginia Results in Double Tragedy.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER DIE

Resisted Sheriff's Posse to Let Father and Brother Escape.

Williamson, W. Va., Nov. 25.—Firing from the doorway of their home on the sheriff's posse to give their father and brother time to escape, Mrs. Charles Daniels and her sixteen year old daughter were shot to death yesterday near Devon, Mingo county, by the officers. The shooting grew out of a family feud between the Christians and Daniels on the border of Kentucky and West Virginia. About three weeks ago, George Christian was slain by Jim Daniels. They were brother-in-laws and formerly had been allies. After the killing of Christian the two families and friends became involved. Christian obtained warrants for Jim and Charles Daniels and led the posse to Daniel's home. When the officers approached, Mrs. Daniels and daughter opened fire, one of the posse being shot in the arm. The Christians returned the fire. Mrs. Daniels was shot down in the doorway, but the daughter stood over the lifeless form of her mother and fired upon the posse until she dropped dead across her mother, pierced by three bullets. The officers then closed in, but by forfeiting their lives the mother and daughter had covered the retreat of the father and brother and the latter escaped.

JURISTS AND LEGISLATORS AS CHIEF EXECUTIVES.

Hon. William J. Mills Third Governor to Have Been Chief Justice of Territory.

The appointment of Chief Justice William J. Mills as governor, presents the second case in the history of New Mexico, of a person serving first in the highest judicial and afterwards in the highest executive position; the other instance being that of Hon. L. Bradford Prince. He was appointed chief justice in 1879 and Governor in 1889. Judge Mills was appointed chief justice in 1898 and Governor in 1909. Another coincidence is that Judge Prince had served in both Houses of the legislature of New York, and Judge Mills had served in both Houses in Connecticut; each therefore having experience in each of the other branches of the government before assuming the executive. In this respect, Judge Mills has an equipment which is very rare. In the case of Hon. S. B. Axtell, the order of appointment was reversed, as he was appointed Governor of New Mexico in 1875 and afterwards, in 1882, was made chief justice. He also had previous legislative experience having been a member of Congress from California.

26 CONVICTS GAIN LIBERTY

Dig Under Walls of Penitentiary at Tehuantepec, Mexico.

MANY OF THEM MURDERERS

Historic Structure as Old as the San Miguel Church at Santa Fe.

Gamboa, Oaxaca, Mexico, Nov. 25.—It was discovered yesterday that 26 prisoners in the penitentiary at Tehuantepec, many of them murderers, had gained their liberty by digging beneath the walls of the ancient structure. The prison was erected in 1540 and tunneling caused the crumbling walls to fall. It was built originally for a church and monastery, but during the church and state war, it was turned into a garrison and later into a prison.

SPEAKER CANNON IS DEFIANT

Next to Roosevelt the Most Popular Man in the Country.

THAT WAS 18 MONTHS AGO

Something Seems to Have Happened Since Then and Tariff is Blamed.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 25.—"Do you know that eighteen months ago, next to Roosevelt whom I consider a very great man and a most excellent President, I was the most popular man in the country. Yes sir, with news papers and magazines, I was the most popular man in the country." Thus spoke Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the National House of Representatives upon his arrival here today. "Oh, I know all right, what has caused the change," continued the speaker, "but I couldn't have done any differently. It was impossible to take any other stand on this matter of the tariff. I only wish I were a greater man than I am." Mr. Cannon said, "and I would kick such men as the Progressives off the face of the earth. I am an old man, seventy-three years of age and some day I will have to go to the scrap heap, but when I do, no one can say that there was an atom that was governed by any other atom."

CHICAGO HEALTH BOARD ADVISES TEMPERANCE.

General Frederick Grant Comes Out Openly for Total Abstinence in Army.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 25.—"Don't overeat." "Don't trifle with too many cocktails."

This in effect is the doleful warning issued by the city health department.

Pneumonia, said the city health officers, lurks in the succulent turkey and the alluring mince pie.

Eat if you wish, said the health department, but don't overeat and, above all, avoid alcoholic encouragement to digestion.

Also and thirdly and most importantly, if you should eat or drink to excess, don't be so foolish as to lie down and "sleep it off," but go out into the open air and "walk it off."

General Grant for Total Abstinence.

Washington, Nov. 25.—"I shall cheerfully aid your proposed temperance move in the army," promises General Frederick Grant, in command of the department of great lakes, in a letter addressed to the Rev. Willbur F. Crafts, of this city, superintendent of the International Reform Bureau. The letter was made public last night.

An invitation was sent to General Grant by Dr. Crafts inviting him to address a meeting to be held here on December 12, next, to inaugurate a movement looking to the establishment of a total abstinence association in the army and navy.

In his communication just received General Grant expressed regret at his inability to be present, but declared according to Dr. Crafts that he "is cordially in favor of the proposition."

Dr. Crafts said last night that it is proposed to establish an association similar to the one which has flourished in the British army for a number of years, with British generals, as its officers.

DISTRIBUTION OF COUNTY SCHOOL FUNDS.

One Dollar for Each Person of School Age or $5,677 Altogether—Santa Fe Gets $2406.

The City of Santa Fe today received $2406 for its public schools as the result of the distribution of school funds by County Superintendent John V. Conway. School District No. 18 received $16; No. 7 received $174; No. 20 received $162; No. 8 received $161; No. 11 received $158; No. 14 was given $138; No. 15 was given $116; No. 1 was given $110 and the other districts less than $96 a piece, there being 32 districts in the county outside of the city.

He was sentenced to ten years in the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth.

DEATH ENDS JOY RIDE

Five Dead, Two Dying and Fifteen Injured at Los Angeles.

AUTOMOBILE CRASHED INTO

Trolley Car Carrying the Injured Also Damaged in Collision.

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 25.—Five members of one family lie dead today at the morgue, two more are near death in a hospital, and three are suffering slight injuries, as the result of one of the worst automobile accidents in the history of the city. A suburban trolley car, running a mile a minute, struck the automobile containing the family of Nicholas Jacobs, ten in number, and Miss Sloan, the fiancée of one of Jacobs' sons. Jacobs, his two daughters, Katie, aged eighteen, and Mamie, aged sixteen, and two sons, Anthony, aged six, and Clements, aged four, were instantly killed; Mrs. Jacobs and infant daughter were seriously hurt. Frank John and Peter Jacobs and Miss Sloan escaped death by jumping. The trolley car carrying the injured collided with another trolley car half an hour later and ten more persons were injured, but none seriously.

Two persons were injured when the horse they were driving became frightened at the trolley collision and ran away.

Bisbee, Ariz., Nov. 25.—United States District Attorney Alexander in the name of the government has filed suits against Hoval A. Smith, the Warren Ranch Company, the Warren Realty and Development Company, Delia Williams and I. W. Wallace to recover possession of 80 patented mining claims upon which is situated the Warren ranch, the Country Club, and the townsite of Warren.

The papers filed are very voluminous and allege fraud in the obtaining of patents. This suit is the outcome of investigations which have been carried on here during the past two years by government experts and great interest is taken here in the outcome.

The trial of the case will be in January and the outcome will affect many other claims in this district.

STATE MUST CARE FOR THE WIDOWS

Thirty-Five Thousand Orphans Should Be Trained the Right Way.

JUDGE LINDSEY SPEAKS OUT

Private Charity Ought Not Be Asked to Do What is Duty of Community.

St. Paul, Nov. 25.—"State support of widows, their children and orphans, is inevitable and such a system is the only solution of the juvenile question. It will come during the present generation." This was the prediction made last night by Judge Ben Lindsey of Denver, while here on his way to Crookston, Minn. "We must change the environment of the child," he continued. "During the last juvenile generation, thirty-five thousand orphans have been created by such accidents as the Cherry mine disaster. These conditions appeal to humanity. Widows, forced to be bread winners, neglect their children who congregate in bad company. We cannot do away with the fatherless children, but we can take care of them. Widows should be state charges. Private charity is doing what is absolutely the duty of state."

COPPER SHOULD BE FIFTEEN CENTS.

U. S. Senator W. A. Clark of Montana Complains of Over Production.

New York, Nov. 25.—"Too much coping in and not enough going out, the European consumption of copper is not keeping pace with American production," said former U. S. Senator William A. Clark of Montana today shortly after arriving from Europe. "It is true copper is selling too low, but overproduction is responsible. The normal price should be fifteen cents. Thirteen cent copper is too cheap."

Butler, Mo., Nov. 25.—Hundreds of prominent men of Missouri and many from outside of the state, joined the citizens of Butler today in paying respect to the memory of the late Representative David A. DeArmond, who met so tragic a death here last Tuesday in a vain effort to save the life of his favorite grandson. The bodies of both victims of the fire which consumed the DeArmond home were buried in one casket following simple services at the Methodist church. The burial services were in charge of the Masonic lodge. The coffin was banked high with floral offerings and the streets leading to the church were literally blocked with mourners.

CORTEZ DIES AND WAS BURIED IN MEXICO.

American Finds Attest to Explorer's Will—Gets Other Evidence in Three Years' Hunt.

City of Mexico, Nov. 25.—Charles C. Gordon of Cincinnati, Ohio, has just found evidence which proves to his mind as well as to those of many of Mexico's historians, that Hernando Cortez, conqueror of this country in the sixteenth century, died and was buried here and not in Seville, Spain, as had been asserted by Parkman, Motley and other historians of Mexico.

Mr. Gordon has been in Mexico for several years studying the people, conditions and the history from the old unpublished manuscripts. He has found the will of Cortez, in which he said he wanted to be buried here. Another paper is an attestation to the will by a friend of Cortez, who details the death here in 1550 of Cortez immediately after his return from Spain. The bones of Cortez, according to Mr. Gordon, are buried in the Temple d'Jesus, Mexico City. He has announced that he will immediately bring the matter to the attention of President Diaz and have the bones taken up and reburied in state. He is prepared, he says, to refute the statements of other historians that Cortez died in Spain, and says he has the records of his return voyage in 1550, as well as those of his death on his vast estate lying just outside the capital of Mexico.

PRESIDENT TAFT ENJOYS THANKSGIVING DINNER.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Sated with the "possum dinners and elaborate banquets he was forced to face on his recent trip, President Taft sat down yesterday to a family Thanksgiving dinner.

The piece de resistance was an enormous turkey raised on a Rhode Island farm. Mr. Taft smiled genially when the dessert was served.

"Thank goodness," he sighed happily, "I've had a dinner at which I haven't been compelled to make speeches and where no reception committee lurked in the back ground. I've enjoyed food—real food, and I haven't had to work to get it."

When the news of the President's satisfaction percolated below stairs there was another Thanksgiving ceremony. The White House chef is the proudest citizen of the District of Columbia, while his assistant sheds reflected glory. Only the family was present.

THE DAILY ROUND UP.

WHEN TIME FOR ME HAS CEASED
(By Viola Virginie Antley.)
When time for me has ceased, and I shall be
Within the great earth-mother's cradling arms,
Safe from the ills of life, the dread alarms,
Apart from all the pomp, the pageantry,
No echo from the careless world will come
To mar the fullness of that quiet sleep,
Nor tears of those who still remember
beking, weep.
Will break the seal on white lips that are dumb.
The dawn will flush with deepening tints of rose,
The noontide glow, the sunset trail its light;
But none of these will touch that deep repose,
Nor will the jeweled splendor of the night;
But if thy step upon the earth fall near,
I know that I shall waken, and shall hear.

I found them to be an excellent remedy and I have never hesitated to vouch for their merit since then when an opportunity has presented itself. For two years I was in bad shape from backache and kidney trouble and when Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice, I resolved to try them. I procured a box at Stripling, Burrows & Co.'s drug store and they not only drove away the backache, but regulated the passages of the kidney secretions and toned up my entire system. REDUCTION IN UNCLE SAM'S LUMBER PRODUCTION.

Nevertheless it Still Exceeds Half a Billion Dollars in Value Each Year—Yellow Pine Leads.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 26.—Washington, Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and Wisconsin, in the order named, constitute the big five in producing the country's lumber supply whose valuation for last year runs far above the half billion dollar mark. Texas, Michigan, Oregon, Minnesota and Pennsylvania came after the first five states and others followed in decreasing amounts down to Utah, the lowest on the list, with Nevada and North Dakota, having little timbered area, not rated at all.

While the total valuation of the lumber, lath and shingle production reached $541,545,640, this amount represents a decrease of twenty-three per cent under the previous year's output. The number of mills reporting was 31,231 and these manufactured 33,224,369,000 board feet of lumber, valued at $510,575,822 and 2,986,684,000 lath valued at $6,791,328, while the shingle makers turned out 12,106,483,000 shingles valued at $24,178,490. The average value of lumber at the point of manufacture was $15.37 a thousand feet, $2.27 a thousand for lath and $2.00 a thousand for shingles.

Yellow pine of the south which has been far in the lead in the lumber production for more than a decade, more than maintained its supremacy last year, contributing slightly more than thirty-three per cent of the total cut from all kinds. Douglas fir of the northwest ranked second and white pine third. Practically all kinds showed a marked decrease cut, and for the first three kinds of timber there was a falling off of fifteen, twenty-two and thirty per cent, respectively. Oak and hemlock maintained their relative ranks, but showed decreases of twenty-five per cent each in amount produced, and spruce dropped eighteen per cent.

Louisiana was the heaviest producer of yellow pine lumber, supplying nearly one-fifth of the total production. Texas, Mississippi, Arkansas and Alabama followed in the order named. The state of Washington, alone, supplied more than three-fifths of the Douglas fir cut, while the bulk of the remainder came from Oregon, Minnesota produced about a third of the white pine, followed by Wisconsin with about fifteen per cent and New Hampshire with ten per cent. An interesting feature of the report is that two New England states, Maine and Massachusetts, produced more white pine than Michigan, which for many years led the country in producing this valuable timber.

Oak lumber manufactured new centers in Kentucky, West Virginia and Tennessee. Wisconsin comes first in the production of hemlock, taking the position held by Pennsylvania for so many years. Although the lumber report bulletin, which is free, by the SUPERINTENDENT PERRY WILL MAKE PEACE.

Factional Trouble Among the Hopi Villages is of Several Years' Standing, it Seems.

Albuquerque, N. M., Nov. 26.—Superintendent Reuben Perry of the United States Indian school here has been ordered by the Indian department to go at once to the Hopi villages in northern Arizona to try to effect a settlement of the factional trouble that has made Oraibi and neighboring pueblos so unsafe for white men that a number of missionaries and traders have been compelled to take their families and leave the country. Te-wa-quap-te-wa, or the Rising Sun, the chief troublemaker, has returned from a three years' exile at Sherman Institute whither he was sent to get him out of the way three years ago and educate him into more peaceable ways. Instead this, the Indian has threatened Ke-wa-nimpt-e-wa, leader of a small faction that he drove out of Oraibi three years ago, with dire results unless he and his band leave at once; and the white men have been threatened with violence if they interfere in the election.

Three years ago, Ke-wa-nimpt-e-wa and his followers were driven forth from Oraibi in the dead of winter and were about to freeze to death when Perry, who has great influence with the Hopis, appeared on the scene and by dint of his authority and the pre-emptory stand we took in the matter forced the sullen victors to allow the half frozen braves of Ke-wa-nimpt-e-wa to come back to the pueblo. Seventeen of the malcontents were sent to for three years; seventy bad ones were sentenced to seventy days hard labor on the reservation and eleven were sent to Carlisle Indian school, one of these men being Carlisle's crack marathon runner. The children were placed in school, the education of the youth being one of the rocks on which the natives had split. This was believed to have permanently settled the trouble but incarceration and exile appears to have had no effect on the hostiles who have returned home more determined than ever to put a crimp in the innovations of the white men to whom Ke-wa-nimpt-e-wa and his band are favorable. The third faction which was actively hostile to the white men three years ago is composed of the followers of Yu-ke-oma who lives six miles from Oraibi.

Superintendent Perry leaves in a day or two to see what effect his good offices will have a second time in bringing about a peace agreement between the factions which will be carried out more faithfully than the last past.

TEXAS TEACHERS START OLD AGE PENSION FUND.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 26.—Teachers of San Antonio and Bexar county are in favor of creating for themselves an old age pension fund. At a meeting held in Brackenridge grammar school the matter was extensively discussed and preliminary steps were taken. The movement is supported unanimously and it is hoped by the pedagogues that ultimately every teacher in the state will join it.

FRIEND STOLE COFFIN, FLOWER AND CANDELABRA.

Poor Felipe Vasquez Had to Have a Second Funeral Outfit Before He Was Buried.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 26.—Here is a little story that comes from the capital of Mexico, the city in which strange things have happened. Felipe Vasquez, mixture of two of the proudest races that ever designed to honor Earth, except Castilian and Aztec, had after a life of more or less usefulness, decided to say good-bye to the vale of tears, and the Mexican federal district. As he lay in state in a room that had for many years been his domicile, his friends regaled themselves in an adjoining apartment. Though the occasion was a rather sad and lugubrious one, merriment ran high. Many a cup was quaffed, and quiet La Carrapata street, as the casa in question is named, echoed with the peals of laughter. Not that the mourners were glad that Hermano Felipe had at last said adios to them. Far from it. But with the sons of Castile and Montezuma any occasion is fit to be honored with merriment.

All went well until the mourner who had mourned loudest, quietly disappeared. Bye and bye the merriment and the lamentations which had alternately been indulged in grew somewhat stale to the palates of the wakers. The cups were set aside and everybody repaired to the mortuary chamber to bid the deceased good-night. Horror met their sight. The chamber had been a bower of flowers, the coffin had been nicely decked and candelabra threw a flickering light over the whole. But now, flowers, candelabra, coffin and most of the vestments of poor Hermano Felipe had gone. Instead of reposing peacefully in the wooden contrivance that was to be his last resting place, Felipe sat in a chair. His widow looked at him and fell into a swoon of some duration, while the other female mourners gave way to hysterics.

Even the men did not feel very reassured but being hombres of steel nerves they began to search every nook of the house, thinking that some one, perhaps, had played a practical joke on poor Felipe. But of casket, candelabra, flowers and vestments not a trace was found. The only clue to their disappearance was furnished by a gendarme who had seen two men carry the outfit past him, up the casa. There was nothing else to do but a new funeral outfit. This was done and Hermano Felipe was two hours after schedule time, gathered to his forefathers. Poor Felipe.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

The comments of the press, should be an indication of the views of the people on the appointment of Chief Justice Mills to the governorship. Even the Democratic Albuquerque Tribune-Citizen, although it salts its comment with slurs on the present and past administrations, speaks well of the new appointee. It says among other things:

"The wheel has rolled around, and Dame Fortune has cast her lot in the choice of governor of New Mexico, causing the President of the United States to select Hon. William J. Mills, chief justice of the territory for 12 years past, as the executive head of the territory, to succeed Governor Curry.

"Governor Mills is a good man, non-pretentious, stands high, especially so as a true, steadfast friend. He believes in the law that a man who cannot be a true friend is not a good citizen, and much less a patriot. In this respect he is very much like ex-President Roosevelt; he will stick to his friends.

"He is a very strong man in New Mexico, also very influential at headquarters in Washington. He may have his enemies, like anybody else, but we believe he is going to give New Mexico a good administration and will not do anything against the best interests of the territory and her upbuilding to the highest standard of good citizenship on account of political prejudice.

"Governor Mills is a man of affairs, a business man in the highest sense of the word, and understands the value of a business administration, as well as a successful one in other respects.

"It has been more than sixteen years since a man who had been a judge on the bench has been governor of New Mexico. L. Bradford Prince, who had previously occupied a position on the supreme bench of the territory, was appointed governor of the territory by President Harrison more than twenty years ago and was succeeded over sixteen years ago by Governor Thornton. Ten years before he was appointed, Governor Prince was made chief justice of the supreme court of the territory and now another chief justice of the supreme court of the territory is to become governor. The determination of the President to appoint a man of judicial training to the position of governor eliminated most of the aspirants to the position, some of whom would doubtless have made good executives. The advantages of a legal training in a position like that of the governor of New Mexico are apparent and, other things being equal, the man who has served on the bench should make the best executive.

"Judge Mills has the ability and the experience to make a good governor. The opportunity is here for him to make a record. The undertaking is not an unimportant one. It is not one for a weak man or a man who is not experienced in the affairs of government.

"The judicial mind of the governor will serve him to avoid all these petty pitfalls and snares and will assist him in giving the territory a clean and business like administration which is needed more than anything else at this time. A business like administration of the affairs of the territory would be of more value to New Mexico now than statehood or anything else. It is needed to assist in the development of the territory and the development of the territory means statehood.

"Judge Mills has an opportunity before him. He has the ability to make the most of it. We believe he will be the governor who puts New Mexico on a business basis."

The Las Vegas Optic, Chief Justice Mills' home paper, which ought to know him best, says editorially:

"In conversation with certain citizens of New Mexico, Secretary of the Interior Richard A. Ballinger is understood to have stated that he considered the present as a most critical period in New Mexico's history inasmuch as the approach of statehood brings new problems and novel responsibilities, and that for that reason both he and President Taft were particularly anxious to select as governor a man whose character, training and experience fit him to serve as guide through the hitherto unexplored paths of political independence. President Taft, it is reported, further added that the new appointee should be a man of legal training and with judicial experience. Both of them saw clearly the importance of naming a man whose hand would be steady on the helm, whose vision clear, and whose character would inspire respect and confidence in the people he is to lead.

"In selecting Judge Mills as the man who meets these requirements President Taft has made no mistake. His long residence in the territory, commencing twenty-four years ago, has made him perfectly familiar with the people of New Mexico. Collectively, he knows their needs and wishes, their merits and shortcomings. Individually he knows their character and reputation, political and otherwise, their ambitions and their desires. He is not an outsider coming among strangers, unknowing and unknown, but a friend with a list of acquaintances equalled by but few, if any, of the public men of the territory. He has always taken that interest in politics that should be found in every man who aspires to be called a good citizen, though, of course, political activity has been denied him during his long years of service on the bench. His legal training and experience at the bar, rounded out by three successful terms as chief justice, have taught him to weigh public questions, to judge between the real and the false, to differentiate sincerity from hypocrisy, honest approbation from sycophancy. His legal ability is a matter of common knowledge, his integrity has never been questioned. He is pre-eminently a business man, a man of affairs, familiar with and well able to handle financial matters. It is in large part due to his suggestions and advice that the counties embraced in his district are today on a sound financial basis and his administration will certainly be marked by a businesslike management of territorial affairs.

"Judge Mills did not seek the position. His appointment is a rare example of an office seeking the man. Not even his closest friends were aware until the last few days that his name was being considered in connection with the governorship. His re-appointment as chief justice was taken for granted. He will enter upon his new duties with the united support of his own political party and with the good wishes of the people as a whole. His appointment is an honor to himself and to the territory."

TWO OTHER GRAND JURIES SPEAK OUT.

A short time ago, the grand jury of the district court for Eddy county, raised a breeze by recommending that Carlsbad give its citizens an opportunity to vote on local option, at the same time pointing out that the saloon was the cause of the greater part of the crime, especially murders, in the county. Now comes the grand jury of Lincoln county, with a similar report, giving strong proof of the trend of public opinion in eastern New Mexico, a trend, which the political leaders that are wise, will recognize and not oppose openly. Says the Lincoln county grand jury:

"The grand jury of Lincoln county in its report to the court, recently delivered, has the following to say of booze and gun-carrying:

"The knife and gun, encouraged by the liberal use of strong drink, have been responsible for much crime and disorder during the period covered by our investigations. The practice of selling liquor to habitual drunkards and those already half drunk, who are a menace or a nuisance in the community, cannot be too strongly condemned. The man behind the crime is often almost as guilty as the miserable wretch who suffers the penalty of the law for his vicious weakness. We are of opinion that if the law had been enforced by the county and precinct officers, two homicides would have been averted, and the county spared the expense of investigating and prosecuting the offenders. One of these cases occurred on a Sunday."

The Chaves county grand jury is much of the same mind, although Eddy and Chaves counties are Democratic, while Lincoln county is Republican. Says the Chaves county jury in its report to Judge M. C. Mechem:

"We find after full investigation that the saloons of this county are indiscriminately selling intoxicating liquors to minors and pupils of educational institutions. On account of the disposition of the minors to shield the violators of this law we have been unable to find sufficient proof in any case to justify indictment; but the grand jury wishes to inform the people of Roswell that the saloons of the city are morally indicted for the corruption of the youth of the community, because they are wilfully aiding and helping the downfall of the children of some of the best citizens of the community. We desire the parents of this city to know the danger that lies in wait for their children in order that they can better protect them and we ask that the attention of the saloon keepers be called to the fact that these violations will not long be endured, so they may get their houses in order or take the consequences of corrupting the younger generation of the community."

ISOLATED CASE OF DESTITUTION.

Reports of sporadic and isolated cases of destitution continue to reach the New Mexican from eastern New Mexico. It prints two such letters today, but such cases are not typical of eastern New Mexico at all, except that they may be aggravated by the fact that the new settlers have not yet become homogeneous. Coming together from all parts of the country, it is a case of each man grubbing for himself. Similar cases of destitution have occurred from time immemorial in every city. In every rural district and even in the portions of New Mexico settled many years ago, but there each community, each neighborhood looks after its own poor; one case, or half a dozen cases, or even a dozen cases are not made the subject of an appeal to the government or an outburst through the newspapers. New Mexico, it is true, is behind other commonwealths in the matter of organized effort or in the authorities looking after the destitute, the indigent, the crippled, the paupers, but a start has been made by Governor Curry providing work on the roads for the men who can not tide over the winter on their farms and can not find work to do. The New Mexican also believes that rich counties, like those of Quay, or Union, or Guadalupe, or Eddy, or Chaves, will not let any worthy man or woman suffer for the immediate needs of the body, for food or warm clothing. Among the 50,000 or more homesteaders who have settled on the public lands in eastern New Mexico the past three years, there are necessarily some, perhaps, many, who came with a wrong idea of the difficulties they would have to face, who were without adequate means to give them the necessary start; who knew nothing of scientific farming and thought all they would need to do to become rich farmers is to file on 160 acres, put the seed into the soil in a haphazard manner, sit down and watch it grow until the harvest time and then put their crops on the market at top notch prices, living in comfort from the proceeds until the next harvest. But whatever the cause, there is enough charity, enough public spiritedness in New Mexico to prevent any one who is helpless from starving or from freezing and all that needs to be done by worthy subjects is to call upon the local and county authorities and the charitable organizations of the larger nearby towns for assistance. But this applies only to worthy cases, not to those who are needy because of laziness or shiftlessness or drunkenness, but those who need work and will take whatever work is offered them, and those women and children, who having no relatives, are sick and cannot work.

The lumber production of the United States annually exceeds in value half a billion dollars. New Mexico makes a modest contribution to the whole, but compared with the timber cut in states like Washington, Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, Wisconsin, Texas, Michigan, Oregon, Minnesota and Pennsylvania which rank in production in the order named, New Mexico cuts very little timber at all, although on the other hand, it cuts much more than do Utah, Nevada and North Dakota, the last two having hardly any timber at all. The average value of lumber at the point of production was $15.37 a thousand feet. More than one-third of all the lumber cut was yellow pine. Douglas fir ranked second and white pine third. Maine and Massachusetts, strange to say, produce more white pine than Michigan which until recently led the country in production. Of the hard woods oak and hemlock lead, Kentucky, West Virginia and Tennessee leading in the production of oak and Wisconsin being first in hemlock production, passing Pennsylvania which formerly led. But in all the lumber production, the noteworthy fact is that it is far less than it was the year before and that the nation is being to husband its resources in that given direction.

The report that a French colony is to locate on public lands near Santa Rosa is an encouraging one. The Frenchmen will be the right sort of colonists. In earlier days, French priests and French immigrants who settled at Bernalillo, at Santa Fe and in the southern Rio Grande valley set examples of industry and thrift that had a splendid influence on the resident population. They planted vineyards, imported fruit trees of the finest grades, planted orchards and demonstrated that a small farm intensively cultivated will yield greater returns than a vast acreage only indifferently tended.

The Albuquerque fair has paid every cent of its indebtedness. It cost more than $17,000, of which $7,000 was from direct subscriptions, but it was worth every cent of it to the city, its business men and to the Territory at large. A business man, who ought to know whereof he speaks, says that the fair was worth more than $100,000 this year to Albuquerque business men and it was therefore a good investment for the $7,000 directly subscribed.

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics. Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child, if there's feverishness, night or day. S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

Removing the outward symptoms is not all that is necessary to cure Contagious Blood Poison. The virulent germs which produce these external manifestations must be completely driven from the blood before a real cure can be effected. The least taint left in the circulation will sooner or later cause a fresh outbreak of the trouble, with all its hideous symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc. Only a blood purifier can cure Contagious Blood Poison. Medicines which merely check the symptoms for a time, because of their strong mineral nature, and leave the poison smoldering in the system, have brought disappointment to thousands. The disease always returns after such treatment. S.S.S. cures Contagious Blood Poison and cures it permanently. It goes into the blood, and removes every particle of the poison, making the circulation pure, rich and healthy, nor does S.S.S. leave the slightest trace of the disease for future outbreaks. S.S.S. does not contain any mineral ingredient, but is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, which are most valuable in their blood-purifying properties, and at the same time specifically adapted to building up the entire system. If you have Contagious Blood Poison S.S.S. will cure you because it will thoroughly purify your Blood. Home Treatment Book and any medical advice free to all.

HARK, THE ANGELS WEEP!

(Matthew White, Jr., in Munsey's Magazine, for December.)

Unless the receipts of the New York theatres take a decided turn for the better between this writing and the end of December, the managers—or shall I say the backers?—will have little cause for holiday joy.

The plaint this year is not one so easily remedied as when non-attendance is due to poor plays. Although everybody knows that it is difficult to find good ones, yet, when the critics and the public unite in proclaiming the play bad, your manager at least knows why he is not doing any business. But when the newspapers and the people who do go enthusiastically declare that the show is a winner of the first water, and the box-office showings fail to match up with the expectations thus awakened, then indeed is the poor manager at his wit's end. And such is, for the most part, the state of things just now prevailing in the opening weeks of the new season.

I have in mind at least three new comedies that have received very high indorsements, and that are unquestionably good entertainments, and yet they are not doing anything like a turn-away business. Indeed, as I come to read this in the proof, two have been retired from the boards.

Now, this is not only very awkward for the manager—or, again is it the angel who will suffer?—but also most discouraging for the playwright. Hitherto the latter has felt that all he needed to do was to write a good play and get it produced, and wealth would be his almost instant portion. Now he is obliged to fact not only the hazard that his play may be condemned on the first hearing, but the prospect that even if it is well received, there will be no occasion to requisition a special policeman to keep ticket-purchasers in line. In fact, I should not be at all surprised if Eugene Walter were to be the last—for the present, at least—of the line of playwrights who amassed a fortune from their art.

LADIES OF LAREDO VOTE FOR COOK.

By Overwhelming Majority Decide That He, Not Peary, Discovered the North Pole.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 26.—That Dr. Cook is really the discoverer of the north pole has been settled to the satisfaction of the ladies of Laredo. Things are somewhat quiet in that historic burg when the onion crop is in and to enliven things somewhat the ladies decided to form some sort of a debating society. But debating was and long a scarcity of subjects was soon felt, and although it was realized that discussing the north pole question was treading on thin ice courage enough to do this was finally mustered. The modus operandi employed to dispose of the mooted question: Who Discovered the North Pole? was simple enough. The debaters voted on it. Cook got away with 22 votes in his favor and Peary managed to pull a lonely 2. Had it not been that several ladies of Fort McIntosh were present and from sheer crops despite voted for Commander Peary he would not have had even these. As it was Peary lost three other army votes.

APPEALS FOR HELP FROM QUAY COUNTY.

Isolated Cases of Destitution That Demand Relief from the Authorities.

Quay County, Nov. 22, 1909.
Mr. Editor of the New Mexican:
Could you through your paper get help for these starving people? On account of drouth in the greater portion of this county, many have grown no crops for the last two years and are crowding into the towns leaving the claims. I have been here since this town started and don't believe there are six families making a living within a radius of twenty miles on their claims. Please do not publish my name.

MRS.

Montoya, N. M., Nov. 22, 1909.

Editor of the New Mexican:
A sad case of destitution is reported from the drouth-stricken region near Montoya. Four families having grown no crops and starvation staring them in the face stole calf, butchered it and divided the meat among them. Two of the men have been sent to the penitentiary for a year. Unless help is given these wretched women and children, among them the aged grandmother of one of the convicted men, who is over 90, helpless and bedridden over 30 years, they must die of starvation. For her, at least, death would be a happy release.

An aged woman upon her bed
Worn and wearied and poor and old,
Longing to rest with the happy dead
And thus the story of life is told.

EUROPEAN IMMIGRANTS TO SETTLE IN MEXICO.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 26.—La Sautena, the property of the Pimental interests of Mexico City and on which now $10,000,000 (Mexican) are being expended for the purpose of bringing it under irrigation, will as far as possible, be settled with European immigrants. During a number of years it has been demonstrated that the Caucasian does better in Mexico than the offspring of the Aztecs. Fernando Pimental, mayor of the City of Mexico and the most successful banker of the republic, is at the head of the enterprise. The property fronts on the Rio Grande and has a very fine soil and climate.

Cottolene Comes from Dixieland!

The source of lard is against it. Lard-cooked food may not cause indigestion and throw your stomach out of kilter, but it will be only a matter of luck if it doesn't.

The source of Cottolene is pleasing—the product is healthful. The oil is extracted from the cotton seed grown in the fields of the Sunny South. It is then refined and rendered odorless and neutral in taste. From Cottonfield to Kitchen—human hands never touch the oil from which Cottolene is made.

Cottolene is an absolutely pure product—of pure origin and ancestry, and will make palatable, digestible, healthful, wholesome food. It is the best frying and shortening medium made to-day. If the best is none too good for you, ask your grocer for Cottolene, and do not let any prejudice stand in the way. The only way to know Cottolene is to test it yourself.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed

Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

ARMORIES CANNOT BE TAXED.

tions of land were made. These lands are held for pecuniary profit quite as much as your Armory, if used as stated in your letter, and yet the suggestion that such lands should be taxed would not find any support from any one. The board of control of the Armory is a mere agency of the territorial government and cannot be subjected to taxation any more than the Territory itself.

It is to be admitted that in some jurisdictions in the United States, there may be found decisions of the courts not entirely in harmony with my opinion, but, so far as they are well-founded, I believe that investigation will show that they are based upon local constitutional provisions unlike any which are in force in New Mexico. If the Armory should be used for the purpose of gain, which would not be applied to the legitimate expenses of the board of control, a different question would be presented. If, for instance, the board of control should undertake to lease the building to any person for use as a place of amusement, so that he would hold it as a means of pecuniary profit to himself, by attempting to make more out of its use than he would have to pay to the board of control, then that person might be subject to the occupation tax prescribed in the Compiled Laws.

Yours very truly,
FRANK W. CLANCY,
Attorney General.

Acks for School Information.

Superintendent of Public Instruction J. E. Clark has asked county school superintendents for reports on the number of schools they have visited and also sent them the following circular of inquiry:

We are completing the manuscript for the Annual Report of the Public Schools of the Territory for the year 1908-1909.

I would like to publish in this report a brief statement not exceeding one page of printed matter prepared by each county superintendent and touching the following points in particular:

The actual condition of the rural schools in the county; their difficulties; their obstacles; their chief needs; the definite plan of the county superintendent for improvement of the same.

Please call upon the various teachers of your county for an accurate report of the exact number of children reading in each of the eight readers used in the public schools: i. e., the number of boys and girls reading in the first reader, the number in the second reader, the number in the third reader, etc. Make this a true report for the schools of your county in session during the present fall. I plan to summarize the reports of the county superintendents touching the point of grading of the children and to print it under the following head: "Readers used by children of rural schools (excluding all schools of four or more teachers) December, 1909." Please make your report correct and file same in this office on or before December 24th, 1909.

SHE COULDN'T WAIT

WIFE OF BUSY MAN HAD TO HAVE MONEY.

And of Course She Came to Hubby's Office to Get It—Luckily Contractor Was a Busy Man.

The woman looked at her husband's stenographer and sniffed at the back of her shirtwaist. Then she wheeled and walked straight into her husband's office where he was talking with a red-faced, sun-blistered contractor. The man looked annoyed.

"I'll be through in a minute, dear," he said coldly and with meaning. The woman did not move.

"I'm in a hurry," she said, "and want to talk with you."

"I'm very busy," said the man, if possible a shade more coldly. "Just take a seat in the office. I'll be out in a minute."

The contractor looked uneasy. He shoved his feet back and forth over the polished floor, coughed huskily and got upon his feet.

"Say," he said, "I'll come back another time—"

"Sit down!" said the man with a snap of his jaws. "My dear, you will really have to wait until I have time." He got up and opened the door.

The contractor followed him to the door, and blushing, slid through. The man looked after him and the anger in his face turned to resignation.

"Well?" he said to the woman.

"I want some money," said the woman. "They're having a sale of linen at—"

"The man hopped up and down in his indignation.

"Linen sale!" he shrieked—"linen sale!" And you come here and interrupt business—"

"That—will—do," remarked the lady; "that—will—do. I don't believe I'd exhibit my temper before a type-writer—"

The man dived into his pocket and produced a roll of bills.

"How much do you want?" he demanded. "Never mind—here; here is $50—"

The door opened a crack and the red face of the contractor was poked in to be hurriedly withdrawn.

The man jerked open the door and seized him by the arm.

"Come right in," he said, leading him to the private office, as, folding up the bills small, the woman stalked toward the elevator. "Come right in. That was my wife—"

"Oh, that's all right," said the contractor easily. "I'm married myself. Is she gone?"—Galveston News.

Horrifying Discovery.

A certain Louisville social leader, whom we will call Mrs. Fayette County, to avoid identifying her, was told by her husband over the telephone that he would bring a number of guests home to dinner. The party was altogether unexpected and in all the house, which has become noted for the generous and sumptuous dinners spread in it, there was not enough food, says the Louisville Times.

Mrs. County got busy at once and instructed her cook to order certain supplies while she planned the rest of the dinner. A little later Mrs. County happened in the room where the telephone was and was horrified to hear her cook talking ferociously into the telephone, something as follows: "An' ah want six dozen sof' shell crabs and ef yo' doan get hem up here mighty quick ah'll skin every one of yo', ye low down —. 'Who is dis?' Dis is Mrs. Fayette County, dat's who dis is and ah means ebervy word ah say."

"Mandy," cried the mistress, "what do you mean? You must not."

"Law'sy," returned the cook, "that's all right, Miss Fay, ah talks to 'um like dat for yo' all de time."

Strange Doings at Munsey's.

Some years ago Frank A. Munsey, the magazine man, hired a private secretary. Speaker Reed dropped in to call on Mr. Munsey, who was an old friend of his. The secretary said that Mr. Munsey was engaged.

"All right," said Reed, "I'll wait." At the end of half an hour Munsey's door opened and the publisher appeared showing his caller out.

Seeing the speaker, he grasped his hand and dragged him into his office.

An hour later, when Reed had gone, Mr. Munsey called his secretary.

"Look here, Block," he said; "what do you mean by letting Speaker Reed wait unannounced half an hour?"

"Wa-wa-wath that Mr. Reed?"

"It certainly was."

"Why, I thought it wath Rev. Dr. John Hall," said the secretary.

"Dr. Hall has been dead two years," answered Munsey, severely.

"I know it," replied the secretary, "thath why I thought it wath the very peculiar."—Success Magazine.

A Waist Contraction.

"Laura," said the young lady's mother, not unkindly, "It seems to me that you had the gas turned rather low last evening." "It was solely for economy, mamma," the maiden answered. "There is no use trying to beat the gas company, my daughter. I have noticed that the shutting off of the gas is always followed by a corresponding increase of pressure." "Well, that lessens the waist, doesn't it, mamma, dear?" replied the artless girl.

One Explanation.

"Why is it easier for a man who has a job to get another job?" "Well, an employer will often give a man good reference in order to get rid of him."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

BROUGHT UP THE IRON BAR

Barnum's Heroic Method of Saving Elephant's Life, Told by Veracious Press Agent.

The late Clyde Fitch, at a dinner he once gave in his beautiful New York house, talked about the press agent.

"The press agent of today," he said, "has a dull and feeble imagination beside the press agent of the past. How Barnum would have scorned the press agent of today!"

"Barnum, you know, had a good press agent. Take his press agent's story of the elephant Alpha."

"Alpha fell ill—so the story ran—with gastritis. No medicines would relieve her. It was discovered that she had wrenched off an iron bar from her stall, and as the bar couldn't be found anywhere all saw that she had swallowed it. This bar was the cause of her acute gastritis sufferings."

"Mr. Barnum had a small colored lad named Rufe working for him. He sent for Rufe and said:

"I want you to take a rubber tube to breathe through, and we'll put a strong rope 'round your waist and send you down into Alpha's stomach after that iron bar she's swallowed. It's the only way to save her life."

"Little Rufe rolled his eyes in horror, but he knew Mr. Barnum. He knew he must obey."

"So he was well greased with castor oil, and Alpha being safely gagged, they thrust him headfirst down the enormous oesophagus, a long stick, well oiled, shoving him right down into the elephant's stomach. "He soon found what he sought there; he gave three lugs on the rope, and they drew him out with the indigestible bar of iron clasped in his hand."

"It is superfluous to say in conclusion that Alpha's life was saved, and that brave little Rufe was handsomely rewarded by his generous employer."

A NASTY ONE.

"Jack wants a quiet wedding."

"Give it to him; it'll be the last quiet day he'll ever have."

In the Book Store.

The man behind the bookstore counter was watching the fellow next to the magazine stand. As the latter started out, the clerk went after him.

"See here, sir; you'll have to pay for that magazine or put it back," he said.

"I'm committing no theft," said the person accosted; "can't you see I am only taking an Outing?"

"Well, just let me tell you, my man," answered the dealer, "Success in Life depends a lot on Public Opinion, and I am any Judge. Everybody's apt to hold the Mirror up to you and let you reflect on your peculiar manner of taking an Outing."

Whereupon, musing that the Outlook was dark as a Black Cat if he didn't pay up, the culprit forked over.—St. Louis Star.

A Kick for Consistency.

The commuter with a grievance opened the door of the general passenger agent's department, pushed aside the boy at the railing, and stalked up to the chief clerk's desk and relieved himself as follows:

"Maybe I have no kick coming when I go to the station on time every morning for six weeks to catch the 8:08 train, only to find it from five to ten minutes late. Maybe I haven't. I say. But when I get there two minutes late on the first morning of the seventh week only to see the rear end of the train disappearing cityward, then, by thunder, I have a kick coming, and I'm here to register it!"

A Tale of Rapid Transit.

Did you ever hear Mark Twain's story about the Mississippi river steamboat that had to stop its engines in order to blow its whistle? I found a car line the other day that is run much on the same principle. It is a car line operating some ten miles beyond Plymouth and it boasts of two cars in the summer and one in the winter. I noticed that the car ran slowly, but at rare intervals would spurt ahead for a moment or two at a considerably faster speed. "What causes these bursts of speed?" I asked the motorman. He grinned. "That comes when the other car at the other end of the line stops to let off a passenger," he explained.—Boston Journal.

Who Esau Was.

One of a class in a certain Sunday school of Hartford is a lad whose father is a publisher.

During one lesson touching certain Biblical characters this boy was asked:

"Who was Esau?"

After a moment's reflection the youngster offered this unique answer:

"Esau was the man that wrote the book of fables. He sold it to Messrs. Pottage."

THE FUNNY STREAK

OTHERWISE KNOWN AS A "KEEN SENSE OF HUMOR."

Quality Every Man Insists, He Possesses, and, Worst of All, Persists in Inflicting it on His Neighbors.

A sense of humor is something which every man possesses in a superlative degree. Men will admit they have no reverence, they will flit their wives, outdo their neighbors—will own up indeed to every crime in the calendar, but not to being devoid of a sense of humor.

And, moreover, the sense of humor belonging to every man is invariably "keen." The most stolid, phlegmatic person, who never gets near enough to the point of a joke to throw his hat upon it, will tell you, with tears in his eyes, that he never would have been able to live through all the things he has lived through if it hadn't been for his sense of humor.

The worst offender, however, is the one who makes a business of exploiting this universally assumed trait. He takes you aside in a kind of joyous confidence.

"I couldn't begin to tell you," he declares, "all the funny things I see. I don't know why it is—this with an air as if it were a heinous crime, which he, modestly, is in no sense responsible for—but anything funny—real funny—appeals to me. If I could only remember to set them down! But somehow I never think of it at the time."

He then proceeds to tell you of an incident that happened to himself—personally. You have heard the story perhaps ten years back—so far back, indeed, that you have almost forgotten it. But you wouldn't let your friend know that for the world.

Why is it that a man, modest in other respects—who, if he saved another's life, would conceal it—boldly and unblushingly talks about his wonderful sense of humor without the slightest compunction?

Next to him comes the young girl of the family; let us call her dear Mabel.

You've seen Mabel, of course?

"Do you know," her mother declares, "that child sees the funny side of everything! You just ought to hear her! No matter where she goes, it is always the same! Why, last night we sat up listening to her while she entertained us with what she saw on the trolley car—just think of it—and—well, I thought I should certainly split with laughter. Mimic! Perfect! And you ought to see the poetry she wrote! She'd be awful mad if she knew I was showing it. I wanted her to send it to the papers, but I couldn't persuade her. Isn't it perfectly splendid. I suppose she ought not to be encouraged so much. I have a friend who's a writer, and he advised me to keep her down—but it does seem as if talent like that ought to be put to use. Oh, you just wait till you hear her. Such a sense of humor!"

You don't wait. You love dear Mabel—at a distance. You sneak away in the gloaming. You have been there before. Henceforth when Mabel heaves in sight you put your helm hard-a-port and "wear ship."

It has often been shyly intimated—by bachelors—that women have no sense of humor.

Yet think of the monumental joke every woman plays on a man when she marries him.—Success Magazine.

His Name Ruined Him.

George Highball of Chicago appeared before Justice Stein yesterday morning, says the Detroit News. The court advised him to have a falling out with his namesake.

"I can't, judge," pleaded Highball. "I always was a sociable fellow and when one of my friends says: 'Hello, Highball, have a highball,' I know I ought not to, but I do."

"I used to be a high-salaried baseball player with a high batting average, but the kids in the bleachers made my life miserable. Every time I got to bat they would holler 'Feed him highballs,' until every pitcher got my goat and I had to quit. It's awful to have a name like that."

The court dismissed him with the suggestion that he call himself "High."

Richard the Longhead.

"Up to the age of 16 Dick had retained the proper scorn of things feminine. Then he went to a dancing school and was smitten by the charms of several youthful Eves. Accordingly, Dick approached his father and required theater tickets for two."

"Father complied, and merely asked as he turned over the seats, 'Which girl is it?'"

"I'm going to take Mabel," Dick responded.

"Then she's the one you like best?" father continued.

"Dick turned a superior and pitying eye upon his parent. 'Oh, no. I don't like her best. You don't understand the situation, father. It isn't the girl I care about. It's the experience I want!'"

He Spoke Too Soon.

A well-known business man attended his daughter's commencement exercises at an eastern college recently. He had been greatly pleased with the beauty and dignity of the exercises, and was discoursing to his wife upon the refining influences of college life. Suddenly his impressive monologue was cut short. A girl, in cap and gown, came dashing down the steps of the main hall, waving her diploma and shouting: "Educated, by gosh!"—Ladies' Home Journal.

MANY SKELETONS FOUND OF EARLY SETTLERS.

Workmen at the Old Palace Make Discovery While Excavating for Boiler Room.

Workmen who have been excavating beneath the Old Palace to make room for the big boiler of the heating plant which is to be installed, have come across some very greswome finds in the shape of skeletons. At a depth of from five to ten feet the interesting relics of Santa Fe's early citizens are being daily uncovered. It is supposed that the skeletons are those of the early Indians. The digging is going on right beneath the floor of the Old Palace, and it has been suggested that the early inhabitants of the building were in the habit of using the space beneath the building as a burial place. The discovery is of great interest and is attracting large crowds.
