The only Pure Cream of Tartar Powder.—No Ammonia; No Alum.
Used in Millions of Homes—40 Years the Standard.

Weekly Citizen

ALBUQUERQUE, - OCT. 14, 1899.

One thousand lives were lost in the recent great storm along the Gulf coast.

Dix's financial report says times are no better in the eastern cities.

Good times are coming, but the man that sits down and waits for them to come his way will have a life time of expectancy.

Sensation in Oregon, has gone over to the administration and public patronage will be distributed in that state without delay.

Sugar ought to be sold at 2 cents a pound. The sugar famine now being experienced by the trust is a shameful robbery of the people.

The town election in Connecticut last week showed big republican gains. The democratic candidates suffered on account of the hard times.

The goldbugs are on the run. They acknowledge defeat and concede that they are helpless. The silver men are the aggressive ones.

The worst enemy New Mexico has is the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. That paper allows no occasion to pass without slandering this territory.

The democrats of Arizona are severely criticizing Governor Hughes, and are already calling for his removal. The Phoenix Gazette is leading the revolt.

The Iron Age denies that Krupp, of Essen, Germany, is the greatest producer of crucible steel in the world, and gives that honor to a Pennsylvania concern.

It is unfortunate that religious issues have been allowed to obtrude themselves into Colorado politics. Political warfare should be kept clear of creeds and sects.

There are in this country 4,781,925 depositors in savings banks, who have deposited the enormous sum of $1,712,799,026, an average of $35.20 to each depositor.

The "evil" effects of the Sherman law, become less and less apparent, while the disastrous results which will follow the destruction of the American tariff system grow clearer.

The rate of political practice to date is that party platforms are to be carried out except in their tariff and finance pledges. There are to be either ignored or reversed.

There is one question as old as our government that apparently will never be finally settled and disposed of. It is that of state's rights under the constitution of the United States.

The government is having no end of trouble trying to find an army officer to assume charge of the Navajo Indian agency. Up to date two officers of the 10th Infantry have succeeded in escaping this assignment by vigorous protest.

There are Lieut. E. H. Plummer and Capt. Drumm.

Immigration has fallen off this year by 35,000 persons compared with the corresponding period of last year. In this there is occasion for self-congratulation on the part of the American people, for a great deal of the immigration which comes to this country now is of an undesirable character.

The United States senate is the one spot in the country where the constitutional guaranty of liberty of speech is not abridged. The senators have the courtesy to insist upon the full enjoyment of this privilege, even at the risk of offending the press of New York city, Boston and Philadelphia, and the entire banking fraternity of the land.

The American sportsman is giving a list of all trotting horses that have earned $3,000 and over in purses for their owners. It shows Walter K. is at the head of the list as having taken more money on the grand circuit than any other horse this year. Mr. J. H. Hanpman, the well-known railroad contractor, is the owner of this phenomenal trotter.

This defeated and merely disappointed majority of the army of boomers that raced into the Cherokee strip and battled for claims there a week or so since has been struggling out again in a sorry retreat into Kansas and Texas since a couple of days or so after the opening. Thousands have been brought out on the same cars that carried them in. Many hundreds have passed through Arkansas City in wagons and on horseback, while a great number of unfortunates have been and still are tramping it back.

The uprising of the Matabeles in South Africa may have some effect upon the working of the gold mines in Mashonaland, which is said to be the richest gold country in the world. The gold product of that region will reach the value of nearly $40,000,000 this year, and it is the hope of the gold monetarists. They count upon the product of Mashonaland to increase the volume of gold sufficiently to check the growing demand for the restoration of silver.

Much comment has been excited by the failure of Chairman Wilson, of the ways and means committee of the house, to have printed any of the testimony given at the series of tariff hearings which closed more than a week ago. Four years ago, when the McKinley tariff hearings were held, the testimony of each day's session was printed as rapidly thereafter as possible, and the whole of the testimony was in the hands of the committee in printed form within a few days after the hearings ended.

In referring to the celebrated interview in New York between Mr. Carlisle and the bankers, Mr. Blackburn scouted the talk of a conspiracy, but said where the conspiracy was and proceeded to make a statement that was in the nature of news to many, if not all, who heard him. He said that some days before Mr. Carlisle went to New York the agents of the Rothschilds held a meeting in Washington, and that as its outcome they demanded that the government issue bonds. This was refused and then it was, said Mr. Blackburn, that the conspiracy was hatched and these men began to sow the seeds of distrust in order, if possible, to force the government to issue bonds. They only wanted to start a squall, but had stirred up a financial storm that had engulfed them, and now these same men were crying to congress to help them.

This postoffice department at Washington has ruled that the writer has a right to regain possession of a letter, providing he can prove to the satisfaction of the postmaster at the office from which it was sent that he was the writer of it. Even if the letter has arrived at its destination and before it has been delivered to the person to whom it was addressed, it may be recalled by the writer by a telegram through the mailing office. The reason assigned is that the United States is only the agent of the writer while the letter is in transit. This decision is important to business men and to private individuals.

The cotton crop of the south for the year is estimated at various figures between 6,250,000 and 6,800,000 bales. It is, however, of normal proportions and the crop of the south is to be congratulated that they have not been "flooded" with another phenomenal crop such as that of a year ago, when the unpromised production of over 9,000,000 bales was reached, or even two years ago, when they, up to that time, unprecedented quantity of over 8,000,000 bales were grown.

These two years of enormous over production, in cotton, were the gloomiest in the south since the time of the rebellion.

The entire product of the diamond mines at New Jagersfontein, South Africa, was taken during the first half of this year by a syndicate whose contract expired at midnight June 30. Just before midnight on the last day of the contract the largest white diamond in the world was found. It is three inches long, from 14 to 21 inches thick, and weighs 3,111 carats or 71.25 carats. It is perfect in color, except for a black spot in the middle, which will probably make it valuable to cut it in two.

This September statement of circulation issued from the treasury department shows that at the end of the month the amount of gold, silver and paper currency in the hands of the people was over $1,700,000,000. This is $25.20 per capita, according to the official census, estimate of population—67,000,000. It is not far from $10 per head more than the country ever had in the days of state bank circulation. It is nearly $9 per head more than the country had at the time of resumption, Jan. 1, 1875.

Indication is the municipality of Colorado. There are 12,000 miles of main canals in that state that have cost $12,000,000, an average of $1,000 a mile. The laterals are even greater in total length and cover 3,000,000 acres, 2,000,000 of which are actually watered every year. There are 25,000,000 acres susceptible to irrigation, 12,000,000 acres of which are rich valley lands. The source of supply is almost wholly the living streams from the mountains.

According to the official estimate the cost of deporting the unregistered Chinese, to the number of about 7,000, would be from $6,000,000 to $10,000,000. In view of the severity of money in the federal treasury, it is quite certain that congress would not consent to appropriate any such sum to enforce the Geary act. The measure will be extended registration for six months will not be passed and become a law.

CLEVELAND has issued his ultimatum. The repealers, under the leadership of Mr. Voorhees, have decided they will force the fighting this week, and the silverites have accepted the challenge and will compel the friends of the administration to shoulder the burden and assume the responsibility of having sufficient of its membership in the senate every minute of the time the senate is in session.

In response to a resolution of the senate the secretary of the treasury has sent to that body a statement of the amount of silver bullion exported during July and August, of this year. The report shows that for July there was shipped a total of 2,679,497 ounces. During August the amount exported was 3,117,447 ounces.

The wisdom of the Christian church, in establishing a day of rest, apart from the religious aspect of the question, is verified by human experience. Weekly rest is a necessity to the social, physical and mental well-being of man. Therefore, it becomes his natural right.

At the present time there are seventy-one public buildings in course of construction in the United States, and the plans for forty-nine new ones, for which appropriations have been made, are being prepared in the treasury department.

What will the city council do with those suits against the corporation franchise? Has the mayor any right to bring suits in the name of the city without authority from the council? There are questions of interest in the city just now.

The unconditional repeal idea has been given up even by the goldbug senators. If they had come to that conclusion a month ago the extra session might be at an end by this time, and all the wear and tear of the past four weeks saved.

Few persons realize the magnitude of irrigation interests in this country. According to returns of state census the value of irrigated lands and irrigation works in the United States is not less than $300,000,000.

THOMAS BRITAIN has declared war on the Matabeles, a savage tribe in South Africa. In view of recent backwash before France and Russia, the Matabeles seem to be of about the right size for British warriors.

Law Breaking Officers.

"From what I hear," said a lawyer yesterday to a Times representative, "some of the New Mexico officials are liable to get themselves into trouble with Judge Mackey. It seems that they have been coming to Texas and kidnapping people against whom they have charges, but without respect to the United States statutes made and provided in such cases. For instance, a charge of adultery is made against a man under the Edmunds act in New Mexico, and the man has moved into Texas. A New Mexico officer gets a warrant issued by a United States commissioner and at once proceeds to this state and arrests him. He probably puts him in jail here for a day or two and then takes him back to New Mexico. This is clearly against the law that it is most likely that Judge Mackey will call for a reckoning of such accounts."—El Paso Times.

Safety From a Periodic Scourge.

If you want to be insured, dwell in a malarious region, against the periodical scourge which threatens to assail you in the form of chills and fever or some of the forms of malarial disease. It goes without saying, that you do. Then instead of using quinine or other alkaloid and mineral drugs, which merely relieve and are always detrimental to general health, seek and where it is always forthcoming from the thorough preventive and remedy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which, in regions where malaria is far more violent and prevalent than it is on this continent, eradicates it completely from the system. Biliousness, dyspepsia, constipation, kidney and nervous complaints, neuritis and rheumatism, are among the maladies to which the national tonic and corrector is adapted. Physicians everywhere know its genuine worth.

A Deserted Town.

Utterly barren and inglorious is the ending of Quitova. Today it has but a single inhabitant, the watchman at the mill. Rows of houses, stores, hotels and saloons stand empty and deserted. Even these are disappearing under the hand of the ruthless Payago, who is tearing them away to build him huts in the more fertile valleys in the region about.

Quitova was once a scene of all that makes life in the west. Men by thousands, at one time the population being 5,000, excitement, big strikes, fortunes, shootings, capitalists and miners.

Today a honeycombed mountain, made by the warms of human bees, some empty dilapidated buildings and a stray coyote—such is Quitova. Tucson Citizen.

Friend of New Mexico.

The Santa Fe railroad company has been New Mexico's staunchest friend and never tires in good work for that promise. Work will probably be resumed in the near future.

Completion of all work is counted on by Nov. 5.

The funeral of the late Jacob A. Haenni took place from Montfort's this morning and proceeded to Fairview, the silent city of the dead, southeast of the city on the mesa. Carriages containing the friends of the deceased, who was well liked by all who knew him in life, followed the remains to their last resting place. Beautiful flowers in appropriate designs were laid upon the casket.

The Guards, numbering now about 70 members on the company roster, had a splendid drill last evening. The new uniforms promised by General Knobel, of Santa Fe, have not arrived yet, much to the disappointment of the boys, but are expected daily. Messrs. S. F. Jenkins, Harry Strong and James Bell were appointed sergeants, the outcome of the competition drills of last week for those positions. Sergeant Jenkins was detailed as quartermaster.

New Mexico Weather.
H. B. Hersey, government observer of the weather at Santa Fe, has issued the following weather and crop bulletin for September:

The temperature for the month of September averaged about normal and the precipitation above the normal. From the 5th to the 20th, generally clear, mild weather prevailed, with all conditions favorable for the ripening and curing, and harvesting all crops and fruits. From the 20th to the 27th, light showers were frequent, and on the 27th and 28th a steady general rain prevailed for more than 24 hours, causing many washouts on the railroads in the territory; this was followed by cooler clear weather. Not much damage was done by the rain of the 27th and 28th, to crops, as nearly everything was harvested except the 4th cutting of alfalfa, and this was generally benefited. Nearly everything is now harvested and we can observe the result of the season's work.

Wheat and other small grains a little below the average in the northern part, but fully up to the average in the central and southern parts in amount and quality. New Mexico wheat captured the first prize at the Columbian Exposition, competing with the world, and New Mexico secured the second prize, in same competition, on oats, being beaten only by Russia, thus winning over all other states and territories in this country on quality of both wheat and oats.

The corn crop was fully up to the average, except in a few localities, and in the southern part was above the average.

Alfalfa has given from three to five cuttings, and yield for the season will average about five tons to the acre, of good quality.

The yield of apples and pears was about the average and the quality very good. Peaches were not up to the average for the whole territory, though some localities report an excellent crop.

Grapes fell below the average, due to the unusually late frosts in the spring, most varieties giving about two-thirds of the usual amount and not quite up to the standard in quality.

The supply of feed on the cattle ranges is better than it has been for years and stock of all kinds are in better condition, and the outlook for the winter is very favorable.

The A. O. U. W.

Recorder Gravelle, of Bonifit Lodge, No. 2, A. O. U. W., received several important circulars from W. T. Boyd, grand recorder for this jurisdiction this week. One of the most important conveys the notice of a change in the initiation fee in view of the stringency of the money market. This change is a reduction from $10 to $3.50, to cover a period of 90 days, and is calculated to enable lodges to secure an additional membership, and to offer an opportunity to those who have dropped out to return. The circular in Mr. Gravelle's possession will fully explain its objects, which are so voluminous for publication in THE CITIZEN. The order is beneficial, and gives to lodges of deceased members $2,000, upon satisfactory proof of death. The fee is light and an assessment is made of $1.00 per capita in case death is reported within the jurisdiction, that of this district including Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona. The next session of the grand lodge occurs in February, 1905. The local jurisdiction has a membership of 5,000, and the number of deaths from July to January 1, 1903, was 298. In New Mexico the proportion was minimal, this territory being the healthiest in the jurisdiction. There are six lodges in New Mexico, two being organized within the past eighteen months. Of the grand officers holding office at present, H. V. Jackson, Florence, Arizona, is grand forman; J. W. Mason, Albuquerque, grand over-seer; N. L. Rosenthal, Las Vegas, member board of trustees. C. B. Hawley is Master Workman of Bonifit Lodge, No. 2, and W. Gravelle, recorder.

Mental Assault.

Last Monday morning at Peach Springs a Mexican half-breed got filled up with forty-rod and started out on the warpath. He was after blood and nothing but blood would satisfy him. He wanted to do up one of the saloon keepers of the town, but contented himself with mauling in the head of Harry Foulke, a young barber of the town, with a rock. The young man was felled to the ground by the blow and remained in a semi-unconscious condition until the next day, when he became totally unconscious. The Mexican was arrested and lodged in jail at this place where he will be held to await the result of the injuries inflicted by him. This young man was brought to Kingman Thursday night and taken to "Monte" Penberthy's place. He has not regained consciousness yet, and we think he cannot possibly survive. An operation will be performed to-morrow, but what the result will be is uncertain. Kingman Miner.

The subordinate branch in this city, Hugh Sullivan, president, and O. N. Marrow, secretary, held a regular meeting on Thursday evening. No business of importance was transacted. The lodge has twenty-three members and is growing in numbers every year. The Council has the approval of the archbishops and bishops of the United States, including Archbishop John B. Salpente, at Santa Fe.

The objects are fraternal and beneficial. The sick and distressed members are relieved and $2,000 is paid to families of deceased members. It is part of the object of the order to establish libraries within each subordinate lodge and to hold instructive lectures. Meetings are held on the first and third Thursdays in each month.

Judge Lockhart's Court.

In the case of an attachment suit of the Santa Fe road to recover freight charges of $65.00 on a lot of fruits and honey, from Las Cruces to this city, H. C. Waddell defendant, testimony for the prosecution was taken last evening at 7:30 o'clock. Attorney Hancock's motion to quash the attachment was overruled. The case will be continued at 7:30 this evening.

Suit of Medler and Easterton against H. C. Waddell to recover $47.00, an account made in November last at the City Restaurant, was taken up and part of the testimony for the prosecution was heard. Continued until 7:30 this evening.

Ahead of The Citizen.

The Denver News is the most fashionable paper of the Queen city in that it has a $25,000 line out on its lands. The aggrieved party is one Tynedale Palmer, who claims to have been libeled in a dispatch from Philadelphia, dated October 24, headed "A Magnificent Thief." It was stated that the plaintiff stole $440,000 from the Auer Incandescent Light company. Palmer says the accusation is false in every particular and without any foundation in fact, and the publication has ruined his business and good name.

TOOK POISON!

Engineer Lemon and Wife Weary of Life.

They Take Poison and the Wife Dies.

A Sad Case of Domestic Infidelity Ending in Death.

DETAILS OF THE TRAGEDY.

When the round house engine No. 713 Third Street at three o'clock Sunday morning he found it impossible to arouse Engineer Clayton Lemon, and accordingly summoned another to take out No. 1 for the west, due to leave at 4:25 a. m. At eleven o'clock Mrs. E. W. Davis, residing two doors north of the Lemon house, was called by Mr. Lemon to come to his house reporting that he had found his wife dead. Mrs. Davis responded, and with other neighbors, entered the house and found Mrs. Lemon lying upon the bed in the front room, her body resting on the right side, the feet hanging over the side of the bed. The woman was fully dressed, except that the dress, a black one, was open in front to the waist, revealing the corset, which was not quite fastened to the top. The bed clothes were not disturbed and there was no evidence of a struggle. A bottle of sulphate of morphia stood upon the stand, beside a partially empty glass of water. From the fact that the bottle was only partially filled the indications were that Mrs. Lemon had taken a dose sufficient to cause death and that in a matter of fifteen minutes after swallowing the deadly poison she fell into a drowsy condition and then upon herself upon the bed, remaining in the position in which she was discovered. Mr. Lemon upon returning from the neighbors had stepped into another room and laid down on an open folding bed, without removing his clothes. Dr. Prance was summoned and arrived at twelve o'clock and examined the body of Mrs. Lemon, pronouncing her as being dead several hours, and from all appearances death was caused by a dose of the morphia. Going to Lemon's room he found him conscious and able to converse, but that he could not give any clear statement. The doctor then retired. Meantime, Undertaker Montfort arrived and awaited the action of Judge Burke and the coroner's jury, who merely viewed the remains and adjourned until nine o'clock this morning. Mr. Montfort then prepared the body of Mrs. Lemon, prior to their disposition at his hands after the jury could hear testimony and render a verdict.

The jury met but it being found impossible to secure witnesses it was adjourned until 1:30 p. m.

Various rumors were about as to the motives which brought about the death of Mrs. Lemon and that of Lemon taking the deadly poison. From all that could be gleaned it appears that they were married in May, 1892. Mrs. Lemon's maiden name being Fannie Bell and that she came here some years ago from St. Louis with something like $5,000, out of which she purchased the property at 713 Third Street, where stands a frame dwelling and a vacant lot to the south where a neat dwelling was constructed, and which has been occupied by the couple for over a year past. There has been more or less strife between the pair, and evidently seriously so since Mrs. Lemon number one returned, after an absence of many years. This happened while Mr. Lemon and wife No. 2 were absent on the coast about three weeks ago.

The lady, Matt, her son, went with his mother to the home she has established near the San Felipe. No. 1 was divorced as the plaintiff in the case and is said to have subsequently married, but her new husband is not here. It was presumed that owing to the presence of Lemon's former wife and that he had paid undue attention to the woman by assisting, that this led to wife No. 2 in a state of frenzy committing the act by taking poison. No letters or papers have been found to show cause.

Lemon, who has been an engineer on the passenger train of the Atlantic & Pacific road for eight years past, is a member in good standing of Division No. 446, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. While at Gallup, some years ago, he met with an accident, from which he has never fully recovered. He came into prominence last June, in connection with a "hold-up" at Dodge, when he opened the throttle and pulled the train out for Albuquerque, leaving the fireman and Conductor Cruise to parley with the high waymen. For this act he received a medal, elaborate in design and of considerable value, from the railroad company.

His Story.

Sunday afternoon Lemon was driven from his home to Engineer Morris', on the Highlands, and there he went to bed. Coffee was given him and he was taken for a walk, the morphia he had taken during the night causing him to fall into a drowsy state, at intervals. He went to his sister's, Mrs. H. S. Nones, on Broadway, and in the evening became worse again. Dr. Easterton was called, who administered proper remedies. This morning a representative of THE CITIZEN called at the house and heard Mr. Lemon's explanation, he being apparently in a good state of preservation and fully prepared to go about as if nothing had happened. From his statement it appears that while on the recent trip to California he purchased a bottle containing 60 grains of sulphate of morphia and that he had not advised his wife of the fact. On Saturday morning he came in from his western run and during the day visited the round house, the grocery for fruit, and at the steam laundry for wash, then going home. Company was in during the evening and supper was of no moment, not caring to indulge. He went out and returned, after a visit to the auction sale, at 10 o'clock, went to his wife's room and found her lying on the bed in a reclining position, and she simply looked at him, but did not speak. He then went to his room, pulled down the folding bed and laid down, first taking the bottle, the contents of which had not been disturbed, he said, and took a small dose to relieve pain. An hour later he took another dose with suicidal intent, and in explanation said that the reason was of his many troubles; said he had spoken to his wife of taking the morphia to give rest, nothing more, and that while in her room there was no indication of her having taken anything to produce what might appear as poison. Nothing was out of the usual routine as it had happened the same way before, she not deigning to speak to him, at times.

After the second dose he had taken he fell into a slumber and did not awaken until 11 o'clock in the morning, and then he went into his wife's room only to find her dead and that she was quite cold. He did not know that she had taken morphia. Said further that they had frequent disagreements but none on Saturday evening, and that the fact of his former wife returning had nothing to do with the taking of his first wife. He did not seem to care to talk further, and only by plying questions did the reporter gain the above. Rumors were flying about as promiscuously that it would be difficult to cite the motives of Mrs. Lemon, for taking the poison. The coroner's jury evidently will sift the matter and much will come to light through testimony. These gentlemen are: B. Boyer, W. M. McCallum, John Lindsey, H. Brockmeyer, F. C. Graham, John Dismore, who met again at 1:30 in Judge Burke's office.

The witnesses summoned were Dr. Prance, Clayton Lemon, Mr. H. Hase, Mrs. W. F. Behrens, Matt Lemon, son of Clayton Lemon, Dr. Easterton, M. C. Nettleton, Mrs. E. W. Davis, Will and M. Moore, W. H. Norris. The husband, Clayton Lemon, was called and made about the same statement as published above except as to his relations to his first wife, whom he said he aimed to assist, she being destitute. His second wife knew of the first wife's presence here but objected to her coming to Albuquerque. She, the first wife, has been living in Flagstaff for years. Lemon was moved to tears upon relating the finding of his wife dead, and tried to raise her. He told of many quarrels with his last wife.

The witnesses were all examined and nothing particularly new was elicited. During the recess occasioned by a want for Dr. Easterton, the jury asked that the court room be cleared in order to consult. After Dr. Easterton's testimony the jury will go into secret session and their deliberations made known thereafter.

The Courts.

The district court was busily occupied in the trial of the case of the Territory vs. Ernest Hart, one of the alleged murderers of Nicolas Sanchez.

The prosecution is fast forging a chain of evidence, which it looks as though nothing could break around the prisoner. He appeared this morning bright and cheery, and paid the closest attention to every detail of the testimony.

The case closed on Saturday evening with the territory having traced the defendant from this place to Colorado, where they were arrested, and this morning was spent in identifying the horses belonging to the three men, Hart, Childers and Mitchell, as the same horses which they took with them to Colorado. Mr. W. H. Whitehead testified that he was a frequent visitor to their horsecamp about three miles below Albuquerque, during the early days of July, 1892, described the horses which they had in their possession, and related their attempt to secure him as an accomplice in the proposed robbery of Sanchez. Mr. Whitehead refused to have anything to do with the matter, and went to Corralles.

Sheriff Lowery, of Montezuma county, Colorado, was called and told about the capture of the defendant in Colorado. The most important witness produced was George Owings. He testified that he was in Rico when the three men arrived there; that he met Hart and Mitchell first and identified the horses as the same which were described by witnesses who saw them here. He said Hart told him they were suffering for want of food and described the hardships they were experiencing and asked his assistance.

After a few days stay there Hart made confession to him about the trouble he had gotten into down here, and the substance of the confession was that Hart and his accomplices, after a futile attempt to rob the circus, carried out their plan to rob Mr. Sanchez, that they demanded Mr. Sanchez to open his safe, which he refused to do, and that they then found it was necessary to kill him, which they did, and immediately fled to Colorado. The defense endeavored to weaken this witness' testimony by showing that he had been convicted of a crime in Colorado, and was but recently liberated from the penitentiary.

Assistant Sheriff Duncan, of Montezuma county, Colorado, also testified to a confession made by Hart, to the effect that he, Hart, had participated in the affair by holding the horses outside while the others went inside to commit the robbery.

The prosecution at 3 o'clock announced its case closed, and the defense then asked time for consultation as to the course they should pursue. An hour was granted.

The Best.

The Albuquerque CITIZEN is the best paper published in the territory of New Mexico. It has been improved in many respects in the past few months and is now giving the best afternoon press report. We are glad to note this evidence of the prosperity of our old-time friend, Tom Hughes, the able editor of the CITIZEN—Kingman, Arizona, Miner.

DISTRICT COURT.

Hart and Mitchell Sentenced to the Penitentiary for 90 Years.

This morning the case of Ernest Hart was given to the jury. Mr. Fleish, on behalf of the territory, made a very forcible speech. His analysis of the testimony must have been very effective in the minds of the jurors, and his closing remarks were characterized by the softest pathos for the accused, and charged with strongest pleas for vindication of the law. No innocent man should be made to suffer, he said, but for the murderers of Nicolas Sanchez he wanted to see erected in the court yard a scaffold that would hang to the death their worthless necks and end their infamous lives. The court charged the jury at 11 o'clock the law, his honor said, made an accomplice in crime equally as guilty as the principal, and that under the evidence in this case, the jury must either return a verdict of murder in the first degree or acquittal.

The jury in the Hart case were out only a few minutes, when the prisoner concluded to plead guilty and was sentenced to the penitentiary for ninety-nine years. Thos. Mitchell, his partner, plead guilty, and was given a similar sentence.

BALD HEADS!

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

Skookum Root Hair Grower

Is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the diseases of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. "Skookum" contains neither mineral nor salts. It is not a dye, but a delightful cooling and refreshing tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it stops falling hair, cures dandruff and grows hair on bald heads.

Keep the scalp clean, healthy, and free from irritating eruptions, by the use of Skookum Root Soap. It destroys parasitic insects, which feed on the scalp, and keeps the hair cool and moist. It is sold in bottles of 50c and $1.00. If your druggist cannot supply you send direct to us, and we will forward you a bottle of "Skookum" for 50c. Write to: THE SKOOKUM ROOT HAIR GROWER CO., 37 South Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y.

SPEAKERS AND SUBJECTS.

Some of the Prominent Men who Will Address the Irrigation Convention.

The arrangements for the coming irrigation convention are being rapidly gotten into shape.

At a meeting of the executive committee held Wednesday evening the following speakers were invited to address the convention on the subjects mentioned:

Governor Thornton—"The Possibilities of New Mexico Under Irrigation."

Governor L. C. Hughes, of Arizona—"The Necessity for Action."

Hon. A. C. Shelton, of Phoenix, Arizona—"Practical Irrigation and Possible Methods Thereof."

Governor E. G. Ross—"Adaptability of the Semi-Arid Region to Irrigation Enterprises."

Governor Hogg, of Texas—"Necessity for Organization and Wide Concert of Action in the Promotion of Irrigation."

Judge Albert B. Fall, of Las Cruces—"Our Rights and the Remedies for the Evils of Drought."

The city of El Paso will be requested to select a speaker and assign him a subject and a similar request will be extended to the city of Juarez, in Mexico. The committee is in correspondence with Governor L. Bradford Prince, now absent from the territory, and is also seeking to make arrangements with Hon. J. Stuart Fassett and Hon. J. W. McCaslin, of Chicago, with a view to addressing appropriate to the occasion.

A circular especially requesting the aid and cooperation of prominent citizens throughout the southwest has been prepared and ordered printed and will be sent out some time during the coming week.—Deming Herald.

OF for Chicago.

W. W. Pope, wife and the three bright children—Willie, Cora and Charley—take their departure for Chicago this evening at 7:45 o'clock, that point being regarded as the most satisfactory place of residence for one in Mr. Pope's condition. The gentleman has been a sufferer from dropsy for many months, and for this reason was compelled to send in his resignation to General Auditor Gillette at Chicago. Mr. Pope has held the position of auditor of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad since April, 1887, his family residing here during the period of his holding office. Previous to his taking charge of the auditor's office, he was auditor of the magnificent Hot Springs hotel, six miles from Las Vegas, and in earlier years resided at Richmond, Va. In April, 1892, he was chosen a school director on the democratic ticket, for the second ward, and served until a few months ago, when he tendered his resignation. For over a month past, the Pope family have lived at the San Felipe. Their departure will be regretted by a host of friends, and especially his associates in the auditor's office, where Mr. J. F. E. Phillips, chief clerk, has had charge for some time, and will continue under Mr. Walsh, the new auditor, assumes control next week.

Adieu.

Quite a large number of young ladies and gentlemen called on Miss Madeline Stevens at her home, west Coal avenue, last evening, to say good bye to the young lady. An enjoyable evening was passed in singing, music and dancing, and it was quite late when the last of the merry crowd left the house for the needles to-night at 9:30, where she will teach music. More than likely many of the Orpheus club will be present to sing sweetly before the train departs. Those present were: Misses Maggie Lee, Lora and Mabel Fox, Edith Stevens, Lizzie Wiley, Madeline Stevens and Miss Hegeman; Messrs. Arthur Barney, G. W. Johnston, W. H. Morrow, Chas. M. Doyle, N. L. Kemmerer, Frank and Harry Lee, M. O. Wuerker, Hugh Morrison, Floyd Bone, J. P. Dupuy, Edwin Bird, Thos. Wright, F. H. Newman, Robert Snell.

From Cassel Unknown.

Such was the verdict rendered yesterday by the coroner's jury, empaneled by Justice Burke to take testimony in the case of the death of Mrs. Clayton Lemon, which occurred during Saturday night. A number of witnesses, including experts, and also a most important one in the husband of the deceased, who told a long story of his own attempt at self destruction, but did not say that he saw his wife take morphia or other poison. This ends a case full of mystery—one that has created more talk than probably any that has preceded it in this city.

Bonds for Sale.

Thos. Hinch, one of Gallup's town council, spent Monday in the city and passed east to Chicago at 7:45 p. m. He said he would endeavor to sell the town bonds in the "Windy city," $4,700 being voted by the citizens of Gallup in September last, and bonds issued. The pumping station is ready for operation and there are yet pipes to be laid, fire plugs and reservoirs to construct.

ALBUQUERQUE, OCT. 14, 1920.

(From the Daily, October 14.)
The case of the United States vs. Mrs. Peters Chavez de Barracino, which has been on trial since last Wednesday noon, was closed late yesterday, the jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty.

Attorney Foley made one of his speeches which drew the attention of all present during its delivery and had an effect on the jury as above.

Jose Aramaria Atencio charged with fornication and adultery, is on trial this afternoon, Attorneys McMillan and Tomas Montoya for the defense.

Joseph Hoffner and Geo. Kruecker were admitted to citizenship.

The grand jury returned three true bills yesterday; one for assault with a deadly weapon, one for murder and another for burglary and larceny.

Francis Sager, indicted for murder, Failure to appear and bonds were forfeited.

The young men composing the Browns base ball club have every reason to feel proud of their record for the season just closed. The dates of games played were irregularly kept, so none are stated. The list is presented in the order played, and the percentage is 800. The first column represents the Browns' tally, and they won 16 of the 20 games:

Browns vs. Picked nine, 13-8.
Browns vs. Maroons, 13-9.
Browns vs. A. & P., 35-10.
Browns vs. A. & P., 21-11.

Browns vs. Gallups, 17-14.
Browns vs. Gallups, 11-10.
Browns vs. Santa Fe, 32-16.
Browns vs. Indian School, 10-10.
Browns vs. Gallups, 17-8.
Browns vs. Gallups, 18-5.
Browns vs. Gallups, 35-6.
Browns vs. Gallups, 25-14.
Browns vs. Maroons, 28-22.
Browns vs. Gallups, 34-4.
Browns vs. Gallups, 10-21.
Browns vs. Santa Fe, 11-16.
Browns vs. Las Vegas, 15-9.
Browns vs. Las Vegas, 12-13.

The Browns, with good management, will be a strong local team. A New Mexico league should be organized, with Gallup, Santa Fe, Las Vegas and Albuquerque in the circuit. There is plenty of time to talk it up, so get down the rules and make plans for the spring and summer season of 1921.

The coast league for 1921 is divided into two divisions, Oregon and Washington in the north and California in the south.

Premiums to Arizona.
Among medals awarded by the judges at the World's fair are the following to Arizona: Exhibit of gold and silver ore; Arizona collection of gold, Hubbard; silver and copper, Peabody mine; United Verde, copper; copper ores, Detroit copper company; Graham collection of copper ore, Arizona Copper company; United Globe Copper company, Gila county, copper ore; Jules Baum, collection of copper ore; Old Dominion Copper company, Gila county, copper ore; Christmas Canyon, silver ore; Copper Queen Mining company, copper ore; A. A Tannery.
J. M. Dennis, of Coolidge and this city, was inquiring yesterday for the address of some persons who are engaged in the tannery business in the east. Mr. Dennis said he had "words of canals" to use his own language, and that he was anxious to dispose of the root, or the extract thereof. While the subject is in hand, what is the matter with establishing a tannery here, all conditions being satisfactory? One by one we can have factories, a tannery, a wool scouring establishment, a cannery, a fruit cannery, and many other local industries, too numerous to mention. More attention to these and the introduction of many and more than named above will be the correct idea.

Delegates to Irrigation Convention.
The national irrigation convention is in session at Los Angeles is well attended. The following is the list of delegates from New Mexico and Arizona, many of whom are in attendance:

New Mexico—R. J. Hinton, New York; C. B. Eddy, El Paso; J. P. Felt, El Paso; W. F. Kuchensacker, Gallup; Philip E. Harrison, Santa Fe; O. A. Hadley, Watrous.

Arizona—L. A. Hicks, J. L. Vanderwerker, Yuma; Alexander Trippel, Mesa; Jerry Milloy, Phoenix; J. M. Hurley, Florence; A. M. Buggs, Tucson; T. B. Clumstock, Prof. F. Gully, Arizona University.

School Law.
Section 42 of the compiled school laws of New Mexico, containing laws and parts of laws relating to public schools, dated 1891, gives school directors power to compel parents, guardians and all other persons having care or direction of children, to send such pupils between eight and sixteen years of age, unless they live more than two miles from a school house or unless such pupils are physically disabled to attend them for the labor required in school work, which disability shall be certified to by some practicing physician.

A Popular Teacher.
Miss Annie Bowie, of this city, is still in the lead in the Albuquerque Citizens' watch voting contest. Last Saturday she was the third from the top of the column, but that was owing to the delay of votes reaching Albuquerque on time, due to the washouts. Miss Bowie stands an excellent chance of winning an elaborate prize. —Gallup Citizen.

A Famous Camp.
News from Hillsboro is to the effect that an enormously rich vein of ore has been discovered in the Opportunity mine. It was tapped at the 400-foot level, is three feet thick and will run over $100 to the ton. This makes the twenty-seventh gold producer in the Hillsboro district.

inmate of that institution, No. 40. There were four detainees, in the persons of Sarah J. Watson, of Lincoln county, recovered from recurrent mania; Isaac Levy, a prisoner from St. Louis, received on July 30th, with confusion of the brain, condition improved, form of insanity, subacute mania; Felipe Weaver, of Colfax county, recovered, recurrent mania; Andres Lomero, of San Miguel county, upon request of family, unimproved, secondary dementia. The number of patients is 46, males 20, females 15.

Mr. Ramsey Retires.
After twelve years of faithful attention to the duties of manager of the Palace Hotel, Mr. Philip Ramsey retires from that institution today, and before many weeks will resume his residence at his old home in Omaha.

In the face of great odds, which would have long ago forced the retirement of a less determined man, Mr. Ramsey has always kept the Palace before the traveling public as a first-class hotel, and made it a credit to Santa Fe. His retirement from business will be a departure from Santa Fe, will be regretted by a large number of people. As to the future of the Palace hotel, little of a definite character can be said.

Some of the stock of furniture, belonging partly to the estate of the late Mrs. Hartmann, will be disposed of at public auction, to satisfy certain mortgages. The house remains in the control of the Santa Fe Hotel company and is understood, whereby, it will be again opened to the public. —New Mexican.

DISTRICT COURT.
J. F. Saint Appointed Receiver of the Savings Bank.

The court this morning rendered its opinion in the matter of the application by certain depositors for the appointment of a receiver for the Albuquerque Savings Bank & Trust company.

The court stated the bank had appeared specially in the case, that they denied the insolvency of the institution and any misconduct of its officers, informing the court that agreements agreed by depositors covering more than $50,000 of deposits, the time of reopening the bank not far distant, that for the interests of the stockholders, holders of debentures, depositors and the public generally, they should resume business at an early day, and do everything possible to the end to avoid the appointment of an unfriendly or imprudent receiver who might avoid the settlement of the bank, and therefore submitted the names of three gentlemen, viz: J. F. Luby, A. E. Walker and J. E. Saint, the appointment of any one of whom would be satisfactory to the bank, and if made, the complainants' bill would not be resisted.

The complainants had intimated that they would enter a protest against the appointment of either Luby or Walker. The court stated that many applications had been made to him for this appointment by particular friends and neighbors of his, and he had no doubt that all of the applicants had the ability and integrity to properly fill the position, and said he was somewhat in the predicament of the beautiful young lady who had a great many suitors, who said she could make a selection of one if all the others were out of the way, and this amiable arrangement between the parties, representing depositors, stockholders and other creditors, eliminated all but one man—Mr. J. E. Saint, who was, therefore, appointed, and his bond fixed at $100,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Longenbaugh, of Ohio, arrived last night, and will resume their old positions at the Indian school.

Geo. C. Bowman lost a valuable Jersey cow yesterday. The animal sickened and died from some unknown disease.

1560 Cruger would like to take the Indian band and a number of his pupils to the Malvern Fair at San Francisco.

The annex to the Sheriff Yrisarri dwelling, west Silver avenue, will contain a large parlor, bedroom, bath and closet. A porch will be constructed. Men are now at work on the foundation.

The county jail is not a pleasant stopping place, as a matter of fact, but it is well managed and properly conducted prison. The present jailer is doing his duty, and no prisoners are escaping.

Gentlemen from the vicinity of Navajo Springs report better prospects and that stock are fattening on the ranges. With better prices for wool all will do well out this way.

Judge Sloan, of Santa Fe, accompanied by H. C. Hodges, spent a day in the metropolis and are now at Gallup. Mrs. Sloan and daughter, Estella, will visit the east for an extended period among relatives, and of course the fair.

The Tjensland and Water company are still "in the swim," as they are looking for a loan from Chicago parties who are familiar with the prospects of the company. The funds are expected here within two months, and the receipt of this advance means the prosecution of the work to a finish.

Mr. F. E. Skel and wife, of Chicago, have taken up their residence in the city for the winter for the benefit of the latter's health. They were advised to come here by Dr. Waxman, the famous throat specialist. Mr. Skel is a musician of high attainments, having been for years the organist in one of the leading churches of Chicago.

Louis Kornberg, who was until recently the manager of the Mutual Life in this city, threw up his contract with that company a month ago, and went to work for Mr. Wm. A. Sanders, manager of the Equitable, as a special traveling agent. He leaves tonight for the north on a business trip, and he will remain there for some time.

M. C. Nettleton returned on the early morning train from Gallup. He brought back the major part of the jewelry which was stolen on Sunday, but the birds had escaped from the Gallup jail and are still at large. Mr. Nettleton has placed a description of the men, who were temporarily held in the cool city, in the hands of Marshal Isdel.

"Do you see those two cottonwoods nearly in front of the Baptist church? Well, I planted them when there were but three houses on the Highlands. That was in 1881." These remarks were made by Engineer Norris, who resides at 309 south Broadway. Mr. Norris was injured at Carrizo, Arizona, in November, 1892, in a wreck and while on duty, and has not fully recovered from the effects of the severe accident. He hopes to be on duty before the coming year.

Locomotive Engineers.
Five hundred and fourteen lodges, representing a membership of 36,000, is the last report of the Grand Lodge B. L. E. P. G. Arthur, grand chief engineer, with headquarters at Cleveland, Ohio.

In New Mexico and Arizona there are four divisions, as follows: Las Vegas, San Marcial, Winslow and Albuquerque, the one at the Needles, California, being identified closely with those named above.

At Winslow, in 1881, Albuquerque Division No. 184 was organized, and in 1890 a number secured and organized, at Albuquerque, Rio Puerco Division, No. 449.

with twenty-seven members, that number still being on the roll, the losses by transfers and death being filled by accessions. The present officers of the local lodge, which is in session to-day, and regularly every Thursday afternoon, are: W. H. Norris, Chief Engineer, Oscar Frost, First Engineer; Chas. Ross, Second Engineer; J. E. Franklin, First Assistant Engineer, or Secretary; Andrew Pullar, Second Assistant Engineer, or Financier; Harry McCarty, Chaplain; George Parks, Insurance Agent.

The death losses on the road—Winslow and Albuquerque divisions, 286 miles—have been but five since the organization of these divisions.

The benefits are payable in three classes, to wit: $1,500, 3,000 and $4,500, dues ranging from fifty cents to one dollar and fifty cents. Ex-members pay $2.00 per year and active members, $10.00. Total disability of members entitles such to the death benefit for the class the member may be in.

The divisions everywhere are under the jurisdiction of the grand lodge.

The excellent management of the order is due to the strict rules governing the action of each lodge. Expulsions for good cause is known, not only to members, but to the world, through a monthly publication issued under the direction of the grand lodge.

Poultry Association.
In obedience to a call the following ladies and gentlemen were present in the parlors of the San Felipe hotel at 2:30 o'clock when the object of the meeting was announced by Secretary Lower Ferry Hall, president: W. Lowe, secretary; G. L. Brooks, Herbert Brooks, Mrs. M. E. Ross, Mrs. R. P. Hall, Dr. Winslow, C. K. Stevens and Mr. Gentry.

The association will consider the matter of holding a poultry and pet stock show.

Mr. Moore was present, the gentleman, who is a new arrival, being desirous of learning more of the progress made by breeders of poultry and pet stock.

The constitution and by-laws were read, and with some slight changes, adopted.

An interchange of views was expected from the members, which will benefit members, and others who may desire to join the association.

The initiation fee is $1, and a like sum as annual dues. At present the membership roll is 25.

It was decided to hold a poultry show in Albuquerque commencing the first Tuesday following the poultry show to be held in Denver January 20th, the show to continue for four days. The exhibits will include all kinds of pet stock, and the premiums offered will be liberal. A premium list will be issued immediately.

Wool Market.
Bradstreet's says: The market has flattened out again to a considerable extent, and sales fallen off. The few large buyers that recently visited the market have filled up, and no one seems disposed to follow their footsteps, for the present at least. Wool is in large supply, and the trade is free to sell at as low figures as have been seen this season, if they can find anyone to purchase. The bad outlook for woolens gives manufacturers little confidence, however, and they keep their purchases of the raw material close to their necessities. Fine fleeces are quiet and steady at 23c24c for XX and above Ohio, with No. 1 wools very slow, sales being made as low as 24c for clothing grades. Delaines are in moderate supply, and Ohio grades move hard about 24c, while sales have been reported as low as 23c24c. Territory grades are in large supply, and quoted on a basis of about 35c36c, secured. Australian wools are dull, and sell at a sharp loss to the importer.

El Paso Dam.
It begins to look like business—that dam project. Money has been raised to defray the expenses of a preliminary survey and to-morrow a surveying corps of thirteen men under City Engineer Campbell will take the field to commence the work. The surveyors will begin at Rincon and work down toward El Paso. It is proposed to have the dam near Rincon, and bring the water along down the valley by a canal sixty feet wide and ten feet deep. This survey is for the purpose of securing a basis upon which to figure the probable cost of dam and canal. And much depends upon the report the engineers make and their estimates as to cost.—Tribune.

From Maxwell.
Billy Trimble and C. J. Ennis returned overland last night from the recent fair and speed exhibition at Russell. J. J. Phelan, Harry Cooper, Jim Bentley, Doc Giff and others, with the flyers and paraphernalia, are due Friday. Mr. Phelan probably not until Sunday. Eisenman's Frank B. and Phelan's Billy, both driven by Trimble, took three races, enough glory for one week. Mr. Trimble, in summing up the trip, says there were no accidents, the people treated all handsomely, and the fair was a successful one.

Funeral of W. E. Smith.
The funeral of Wm. E. Smith was from the Catholic church at 10 o'clock this morning. The pall bearers were Richard Powers and James Vorhees of this office, W. T. McCreight, of the Times, and Geo. F. Wright. The Citizens office employees attended in a body as a mark of respect to a departed comrade. The burial took place at Santa Barbara cemetery.

Mrs. Wagner desires to return thanks to many friends, who rendered her so many kindnesses during the sickness of her son, W. H. Smith.

"During my term of service in the army I contracted chronic diarrhoea," says A. E. Bending, of Halsey, Oregon. "Since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found any relief, I gave me relief they would injure my stomach, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was brought to my notice. I used it and will say it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no bad results followed." For sale by T. H. Burgess & Son.

SECOND ANNIVERSARY.
Ferguson Hook & Ladder Co. Celebrate a Dual Event.

While last evening was set apart as a christening, it fortunately happened to be the second anniversary of the company's organization. Prior to October, 1901, the "hooks" were known as the Shenfield Hook & Ladder company, so named in honor of one who gave his support to the organization during his life as one of Albuquerque's pioneers. Being desirous of securing a change of name, the consent of Hon. H. B. Ferguson, one of our most energetic and progressive citizens, was obtained, and in his honor the present organization has borne his name since October 12, 1901. Its first foreman was W. T. McCreight, the present chief of the department, who was reelected several months ago, and was succeeded by P. F. McCanna, and later by John Arntsen, its existing leader. The members have always been the most active of the local department, and a full quota of twenty-five members has all along been maintained. After persistent efforts the company prevailed upon the city council to purchase a new truck, paying for the same $800 to an eastern firm. Of course an occasion of housing a new carriage could not pass without some demonstration, so the "boys" chose the company's second anniversary as an appropriate time, and it luckily fell at an opportune moment. Last night could hardly be called Ferguson's "red-letter night," if the expression is permitted, but it was that of the whole department.

At 8:00 o'clock the master of ceremonies, Geo. M. Cundiff, one of the most active members of the company, called the assembly to order and announced the object of the occasion, supplementing his remarks with a statement to the effect that the Albuquerque fire was the donation of Mayor Field; the case of champagne by Alderman Ed. L. Medler, who duplicated the supply later in the evening; cigars by L. B. Putney, also a great friend of the fire-boys, and the bourbon by Ernest Meyers. This comprised the liquids and the accompanying smoke, to which was added a lunch.

Hon. H. B. Ferguson was called and made a few pleasant remarks, referring to the record of the company and the department, the dangers and risks encountered by firemen, and the debt of gratitude that was due the men who fight fire.

Hon. N. B. Field's letter of regret was read, and then Chief McCreight referred to the fact of his having held the foremanship of each company, of which he was proud, as also of his present elevated position as head of the department affairs. Two bottles of champagne were then broken over the new truck by Messrs. Ferguson and McCreight, and this constituted the christening of the elegant and serviceable truck. To many this act seemed a waste of good material, but it was on the program and that must be carried out, even if the "best in the house" had to be sacrificed.

A few remarks by Foreman Arntsen were offered, followed by a song by Frank Hye. Louis Mandell, assistant chief, spoke briefly, and then the violinist and harpist entertained, as they did throughout the evening at intervals.

Refreshments were served in plenty and again the program was taken up. A toast was offered to the visiting firemen of these companies Nos. 1 and 2, to which Mr. Ferguson responded, aptly quoting from Roman history to illustrate his idea of the situation.

Alderman Medler, chairman of the first committee of the council, being called, was reminiscent and talked of his experiences at the age of 16 in a town where the thermometer crawled down to 40 degrees below zero and the snow was often three feet deep. Those were the days of "brake" engines, and it was work of the hardest kind. He referred to being one of Albuquerque's first firemen, and of his leadership of No. 2, now held by Will McLaughlin. His remarks were quite lengthy, but it was plain that he was "with the boys," even though he was up in the fifties. He often opened the way to give his auditors a chance to retaliate, which "brought down the house" at such times.

A toast to the father of the company brought Mr. Ferguson to his feet, and he paid the little band of twenty-five a high compliment. This was followed by a recitation by B. Ruppe, which was a fine effort. A toast to the chief was responded to by his boon companion, Scott Knight. Alderman Schwartz spoke briefly, after an urgent plea. A toast to Alderman Medler was responded to by Mr. McLaughlin. Mr. Medler acknowledged the compliment.

Judge Burke was urged to recite the "Mad Butcher," but being unprepared spoke in his usual happy manner, referring to his experience of thirty years ago as a fireman, and also in this city, closing with complimentary remarks paid to Mr. Ferguson.

Lou Mandell was toasted by W. G. McCormick, and then Robert Peters sang a comic song. Mike Ryan's rendering of "O'Brien," which followed, was applauded loudly. Billy Mason sang one of his own compositions, and John Lindsey gave "Casey at the Bat" in a style that established for himself a high reputation as a reader. The effort was warmly applauded.

Already the program was long drawn out, but still there was much to offer. B. Ruppe showed his skill as an accordion player, following which that prince of vocalists, J. P. Dupuy, after an urgent appeal, sang "The Carbine Band," and on recall rendered "Black Wing," both of which have only been heard by his associates here. It is needless to say that his singing elicited the closest attention.

A toast to the secretary of the department, R. E. Shannon, was responded to by B. Ruppe, who spoke highly of that official. Cy Jenkins, of Arkansas, sang a comic song, and then Mr. Medler was toasted, to which Judge Adams spoke in his happiest vein. The judge was at home, and every sentence drew forth a heartily laugh, especially when it hit the councilman. A duet by Knight and McLaughlin came next, and as a close to an evening of genuine enjoyment, Messrs. Dupuy, Smith, Knight and McLaughlin sang collectively. It was now 11 o'clock and the lights were turned off. Ferguson, Hook & Ladder company did themselves proud, the occasion will long be remembered, and if the company's register would admit, its membership would now reach beyond a hundred. Messrs. Cundiff, McCanna and Arntsen deserve credit for their excellent management.

Mayes took a grouping of the Browns recently, and it is good.

The Hooks have made several tests of the new trucks with good success.

Twenty-three years was recorded yesterday in the life of Robert Fetter, called at the Santa Fe depot.

H. C. Hartshorn has resumed charge of the Singer agency, Mr. Chas. Row having moved to Boulder, Colorado. Brainard, who was agent a year ago, is in Mexico.

Livery men say that Albuquerque is the best city in the territory for their business and the number of private rigs, and fine animals, is larger than will be found in any other town in New Mexico.

Joe E. Saint has completed his bond as receiver of the Savings bank, and the document will be filed with Judge Lee today. He will at once take charge and proceed to close up the business as rapidly as possible.

A quiet wedding took place last night. The contracting parties were Harry Herod, of the Headlight saloon, and Miss Minnie Butler, of Oswego, Kansas. Only a few friends were invited, and Judge Burke officiated.

The Poultry association closed its labors yesterday afternoon, after a brief session of one hour. From the interest taken it is evident that the association will exercise a powerful influence in the cause. With Mr. Perry Gall at the head of the association, its future is assured.

Judge Lockhart handed down an opinion in the attachment suit of the Santa Fe road vs. B. C. Wandell, the bill of freight charges being $65. The judge dismissed the case as to the full amount, leaving the company to secure the payment of freight on 1,500 pounds of honey from the defendant, who offered a preponderance of evidence in his favor.

Y. Escobar, a young musician from Mexico, and later the leader of the Williams, Arizona, band, an organization he made almost perfect in a matter of less than six months. Lack of support led Mr. Escobar to relinquish the leadership, and to-day he drifted into Albuquerque, an entire stranger. He is a competent player of a high order, and has a knowledge of other instruments, and is a thorough leader.

Baldwin's Stable on Wheels.
This morning three coaches were side-tracked just east of the freight depot, and south of Railroad avenue. The outfit is Lucky (E. J.) Baldwin's stable of running horses, numbering 22, and handled by seven men under the direction of Low Williams. The animals have appeared at Latonia, Ky., in the spring, and recently at Chicago, Sheepshead Bay, Louisville and Saratoga, winning for the owner $40,000. They were taken off the cars and driven to the fair grounds to exercise two days. To-morrow evening they will be returned to their stalls, which are padded to prevent bruises, and the three cars, one of which is Baldwin's personal property, will be attached to No. 3, going west. Upon reaching the coast part of the stock will go to Baldwin's ranch, the remainder to San Francisco for the races. The same animals passed over the Santa Fe east-bound, in the spring.

A cock accompanies the party, who live altogether on the cars while en route and during stops.

Joe Malin's Bond.
Joseph E. Saint, who was appointed receiver of the New Mexico Savings Bank, filed his bond in the sum of $100,000 today, which was approved by Judge Lee. The sureties are W. B. Slaughter, Wiley M. Weaver, A. M. Colington, Jesse M. Wheelock, A. M. Whitcomb, A
