Firing on Flag Not Believed Act of Hostility

Administration Not to Be Drawn Into War

Apology From Constantinople Rulers is Expected Should Moslem Officer Exceed His Authority.

London, Nov. 18.—The latest official communications regarding the operations on the western battlefields are much the same as those of the preceding days. There has been fighting virtually all along the front, but without any appreciable change in the situation.

From the coast of Flanders to the river Lys, on the Franco-Belgian border, much of which has been flooded by the allies to hinder German attacks, there has been a repitition on a somewhat smaller scale of the bombardment which the invaders invariably resort to in the hope of braking down the allies' resistance before infantry attacks, and in isolated spots attacks in force, but according to the French and British reports, all these have been repulsed.

The Anglo-French forces, which have been holding the territory around Ypres, have been subjected to determined attacks, fresh German troops having attempted to force the allies out of their trenches, a task which the Prussian guards a few days previous failed to accomplish.

As was the case with the Prussian guard, the Germans who made the latest effort appear to have taken the first line of the trenches, but like the guards found themselves attacked on the flanks and were compelled to give back the ground they had gained after holding it for a short time.

Santa Fe de-Luxe Anniversary

Topeka, Nov. 18.—The fourth anniversary of the Santa Fe de-Luxe will be celebrated on January 5, when the first de-Luxe train of the season will leave Chicago for Los Angeles. Although only four years old this coming January it is a decidedly lusty infant and is rapidly gaining in popularity, according to J. M. Connell, general Passenger Agent of the Santa Fe. Advance reservations of space well into January, have already been made.

It is operated once a week in the winter time for those who like superior service and are willing to pay for it.

"It provides a long felt want," says Mr. Connell, "and is supplementary to our California Limited which runs every day in the year. The Santa Fe is not selling speed in connection with the de-Luxe, but service. Most extra fare trains in the East are operated with the idea of making the quickest time possible. The Santa Fe de-Luxe, while it is one of the fastest trains from Chicago to Los Angeles, making the run in about 63 hours, is primarily a train of service, with barber, valet, manicure and stenographer as typical examples of its conveniences. There are also bathing facilities; stock market reports are handy, and the latest news is provided it telegraphic bulletins. Instead of the usual custom of sending waiters through the train calling the hours at which meals are served, the steward in charge quietly announces this fact to each passenger as the meal proceeds".

The equipment is all-steel and consists of a ten section observation Pullman, two all-drawing-room Pullmans, one compartment Pullman, a Fred Harvey dining car and a buffet-library car. Air which the passengers breathe is automatically washed and cooled. An extra fare of $25 is charged.

United States Will Hold Customs Collections

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—The United States will hold the several million dollars in customs collected at Vera Cruz, until a stable government is established in Mexico, and will not turn it over to the French bondholders.

President Wilson said the money would be delivered to neither factions in Mexico under present conditions and indicated that only a government recognized by the United States would receive the money. He feels that responsibility for whichever faction gets control of Vera Cruz after its evacuation by American troops does not rest with the United States. No confirmation has been received of reports that Villa has promised to leave Mexico.

LO COMES BACK AND WANTS PALE FACE PINCHED

Red Man Decides That Sauce For The Goose is Also For The Gander

Santa Fe, Nov. 17.—The Red man has turned the tables on the Palefaces. Only recently a number of Pueblo Indians were arrested in the Black range and fined, although they had taken out hunting licenses, for hunting wild turkey out of season. Now the Indians will arrest all white men who hunt on Indian reservations or grants. The first victim is W. B. Richey of Laguna. Richey took out a state hunting license and as Indian lands do not look any different from state public on private lands, he started to hunt merrily on the Laguna grant. He felt secure in the license that Deputy Game Warden McCarty had issued to him.

But he did not reckon on the Indian policeman. One of these politely informed him he must quit hunting on Red man's land as Indian is prohibited from hunting on Paleface's lands, and the Indians mean it, for they cite Section 2137 of the Revised Statutes, of Section 625 of the Regulations of the Indian office, which read:

"Hunting on Indian lands by others than Indians except for subsistence in the Indian country, is prohibited. Any violation of this section will render the offender liable to a forfeiture of all his guns, traps, ammunition, etc., and to a further penalty of five hundred dollars."

These direful tidings reached Game Warden T. C. de Baca last evening and he forthwith gave the hard nut to Assistant Attorney General Harry S. Clancy, who is somewhat of a nimrod himself, to find a way to crack it, for the Indian lands stretch far and wide und are as a rule, no posted or fenced, and how is Pale face to know whether he is on Indian lands or state lands?

County Commissioners Will Meet in Capital

Santa Fe, Nov. 17.—Of considerable importance is the meeting of the Association of County Commissioners and Assessors called for December 15 at Santa Fe. The convention will meet in the senate chamber and is expected to formulate legislative plans.

The subject of a complete new revenue law made necessary by the adoption of the constitutional amendment will be one of the weighty subjects to be discussed and there will probably be as many plans suggested as there are members. Incidentally, the salary question will be discussed, not officially, however, but merely informally.

It is possible that at least one complete draft of a revenue act

VILLA FORCES ARE MOVING ON MEXICO CITY

Armies of Convention Within Two Hundred Miles of Mexico City

Mexico City, Nov. 18.—It is reported here that General Carranza has declared Orizaba the new capital of the republic.

Mexico City, despite the dispatch of troops to the north to meet the forces of General Villa, is quiet, but a feeling of tenseness prevails.

No train arrived here from Vera Cruz last night. It is reported that the railroad traffic has been stopped at Esperanza, but the reason for it is not known here.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Gen. Francisco Villa, in command of the troops under the control of the Mexican convention at Aguas Calientes, is marching on Mexico City. His army took Leon, the first important railroad center south of Aguas Calientes, without firing a shot.

The forces of Gen. Pablo Gonzales, loyal to Carranza, are gathered at Queretaro and Irapuato, where the first important clash in the hostilities between General Carranza and the convention probably will occur.

These facts were reported in official messages received today from George C. Carrothers, American consular agent accompanying General Villa. Carrothers stated that Gen. Villa was well equipped for the march.

From American Consul Stillman came a dispatch saying conditions were far more serious in Mexico City than they had been since the parleys for peace began. He regards actual hostilities as inevitable, though some of the generals are still trying to patch up the differences that have arisen.

General Carranza, according to messages from Mr. Stillman and Leon Canova, special agent at Aguas Calientes, has declared that he has been misunderstood; that he never intended to deliver the executive power except to Gen. Pablo Gonzalez, or some other man of his own selection.

It is believed that Gen. Gutierrez, chosen provisional president by the convention at Aguas Calientes, had ordered a general attack on Carranza. Gen. Villa's advance guard is within 200 miles of the Mexican capital.

will be submitted by the office of the attorney general, who has made a special study of the taxation and assessment question and is president of the defunct state board of equalization, which has wrestled so valiantly with the problem despite lack of funds and lack of authority. Francis C. Wilson is also reported to be drafting a revenue measure for submission to the legislature.

Little Change Reported From Battle Fronts

Desperate Fighting In Russian Poland

Engagements of Most Desperate Character are Continuous, but no Decisive Action has Been Taken.

(Albuquerque Journal)

Washington, Nov. 18.—The United States government has directed Ambassador Henry Morgenthau at Constantinople to ask the Ottoman government for an explanation of the firing by Turkish land forces at a launch from the American consulate at Smyrna, Asia Minor.

Secretary Daniels, with the approval of President Wilson, simultaneously cabled the commanders of the Tennessee and the North Carolina, also on the Mediterranean, to take no action which might embarrass the American government and to await specific instructions from Washington concerning the general situation.

Those steps followed the receipt of a message from Capt. Benton C. Becker, commander of the Tennessee, which was paraphrased in this statement from the navy department:

"Capt. B. C. Becker, in command of the Tennessee, wired Secretary Daniels this morning that while proceeding from Vourlah to Smyrna, to make official calls, boat was fired at. Consul anxious for safety of consulate. Tennessee proceeded to and left Vourlah at request of ambassador and is now anchored in the harbor of Scio (Chios) Greece, from which Captain Becker's telegraph was sent. Secretary Daniels wired for further information.

Odd Bits of News

Jackson, Yy.—Arthur Roberts, serving a term in the Frankfort Reformatory for man-slaughter, was released on his honor to make a trip here to testify in a case. As soon as he had finished his testimony he returned and was lucked up.

Oberlin, O.—Oberlin students have passed a resolution condemning laws that prohibit students over 21 from voting while at college. The resolution was sent to the Governor and the Legislature.

Springfield, Mass.—The grandmothers of this town have formed a club for social service and pleasure. The chief requirement for membership is the status of grandmotherhood.

West Bend, Wis.—Great excitement was caused in church here recently when a mouse's nest was discovered in a woman's hat. The hat had been put away for the summer and the mouse had discovered how nice and soft the material of the headgear was and had settled down for the winter.

Brazil, Ind.—Fishermen, wearying of playing casino and checkers, have constructed large looms in fire headquarters and are weaving shawls, table-covers and other articles.

Cambridge, Mass.—Although in the hub of the pie universe, several Harvard men have threatened to go on strike unless the amount of apple pie served at Memorial Hall is cut down.

The Rock Pile for Speeders

In these days of freak legislation, fanatical laws and attempts to regulate habits and personal affairs by legal rules, it is refreshing to come across a new idea in city ordinances which, hurting no one, acts as a means of saving lives and reducing the number of accidents.

Portland, Ore., is the city which is to be complimented upon writing into its code a law which has made the place unique in one respect. There are 300,000 people in Portland and there are countless automobiles.

Yet in the last nine months there has not been one person injured, much less killed in an automobile accident in that city.

And why is this so? Because in Portland the driver of an automobile who exceeds the speed limit is put to work on the rock-pile, for from two to thirty days. No fines accepted. If the driver is convicted he must do his time at hard labor and no exceptions are made. Portland's streets are safe to pedestrians.

Here is an idea which ought to spread eastward.

War Weary

The obligation that rests upon decent newspapers to tell the truth is ever a sacred and responsible one. At no time should it be more honored in observance than during the continuation of the tragedy that is being enacted upon the European continent.
A period like the present stiffens the demand of veracity made by the public that takes journalism seriously.

Right-minded people have weared of the unending procession of tales of horror, cruelty and destruction. They are eager even anxious, to address themselves to the constructive policies of peace. The distorted prespec-tive presented them by many newspapers gives them just offence. The plain truth is, the reading public is sick and tired of the monotony of the war diet served up to them.

Yet how many sensational newspapers disregard their duty to their readers, and careless of the obligation, deliberately invent horrors for the sole purpose of claiming supremacy in the publication of exclusive news.

Never in the history of the newspaper has there been such a demand for Truth; yet never in the history of the newspaper has Truth been so carelessly handled.

No wonder the reading public is weary of "war news".
So are we.

Form in Line, Please

We are doing a superior line of printing in our job department just now, and our sale bills are the talk of the county. Week before last we got out an order of bills for a farmer north of town and they were so attractive and nifty that he couldn't begin to take care of the crowds that flocked to the sale. After getting the top price for every animal, implement and article on the bill, the auctioneer simply couldn't stop. The people just clamored for more. The farmer, in the hope of driving them away, put up his mother-in-law.
She brought $160 on the hoof.
Then he offered his mortgage for sale. A lifelong friendship between two old neighbors was shattered as each tried to outbid the other. It was finally knocked down to the richer man who was promptly knocked down by the poorer. He sold the weeds along the roadside. He sold a gold brick that he bought in Chicago during the World's Fair. He sold the ruts in the road in front of his place and then offered to sell the secret of where he had the sale bills printed. We cannot give the results as the returns are not all in.

They are bidding yet. That's the kind of sale bills we print.
Give us a call.

The News would like to see a free night school opened in Belen, a school in which foreign ers desirous of an education in English and those born in America, but who for one reason or another have not received the rudiments of education may feel welcome. A course in reading, writing, arithmetic, American history and civil government with perhaps hygiene and dietetics added should make for real usefulness in the lives of many of our people. The News would like to see in addition to this night school several classes in home economics opened in the various neighborhoods where there is need for such. Care of children, food values, methods of marketing, cooking, etc., could be made of wonderful interest and value to many.

Sic Transit Gloria Tango!

Last winter, in a period of rash-ness and inconceivable folly, we took a few dancing lessons. We learned the tango, the one-step and the hesitation, with all the dips, drags, grape-vines and lame ducks thereunto appertain-ing and in such case made and provided. We thought we had Terpsichore lashed to the rudder of a Zeppelin. As we glided about the hall of ricocheted from divan to davenport, just missing the piano lamp in our mad flights through some friendly parlor, we used to feel sorry for poor Mr. and Mrs. Castle.
We were the dancing demon of the day. We were. But last night we happened to drop in on some friends, whose victrola, as we entered, was tearing off "By the Sea, By the Beautiful Sea." We shall forever hate that tune, for it is inextricably intermingled with the wreck of our fondest conceit. We learned last night that we can't dance.
No more than a rabbit, we can't dance. There was a young fellow in that parlor who had brought with him, from the city, a slew of new steps and motions and gestures and poses and by the time we got there he had taught the young ladies such delicatessens as "half and half,"
"the fox trot," "the silo slip" and "the Ford Flop," or something like that. Why, we didn't even know the holds any more.
Everything we did was passe or Aisne or przemysl. We were Major-general Dub. Last year if you didn't hesitate, well—you needn't come around. This year if you hesitate you are lost and no reward offered.

"If You'll Go, I'll Go."

Say that to some friend when you leave him, Saturday night.
Of course you will mean that you will go to church Sunday if he will go too. That's a fine way to start off. If you are undecided as to which church to attend, select the one your mother used to go to. You can't go far wrong. Any fellow's mother's religion ought to be good enough for him. So next Sunday give up the lazy hour in bed. Have your best clothes ready. Put 'em on and start out with your head up and your shoulders back. You're doing one of the best things you ever did in your life and if you keep it up you will never be sorry.
And you'll be surprised to see how good it feels to be in church.
And above all things, if there is congregational singing, SING.
Don't merely hold the book and bluff at singing. Fill up your lungs and let out the music.
You'll know it, all right. You may have forgotten the words, but the tune, never. Why, your mother used to sing it! She will be a happy woman when she knows that her boy was at church.

A Farm Woman's Exchange

Bayfield, Wis., will try out the experiment of a farm woman's exchange. Co-operative effort is well understood in Bayfield where the fruit growers have built an industry by organization. Now the farm women, encouraged by town women will apply the well known principles of a woman's exchange to the marketing of eggs, butter, poultry, vegetables, and even skimmed milk, cottage cheese and butter-milk.

It is purely a housekeepers' enterprise. Twenty-five farm women have enrolled in the informal association for a try out in comparison with the crude method of kitchen door peddling. They have agreed to cut the market quotations in consideration of the saving in energy and labor. The committee of town women will grade and inspect all food products.

There are visions of a permanent organization called a "Woman's Co-operative Association." And there are greater possibilities of foreign trade. It is even suggested that these farm kitchen factories may sell preserves to the city grocers in Minneapolis and St. Paul. Chicken asp-ic in glass jars may become a Bayfield export. Bottled vinegar from Bayfield apples is within the range of the possibilities of this women's enterprise.

Some notable examples of commercial success have sprung from pin money enterprises with no greater promise than this.
Deerfield, Mass., is famous because of its domestic made woven rugs. In Stevens Point, Wis., a woman has developed a world market for fish flies which she once manufactured in her home.
Heinz, of pickle fame, once peddled kitchen made products in a wheel barrow. Bayfield has a germ.

A Regular Sahara

Durham, N. C.—The executive committee of the Anti-Saloon League of this state is preparing to introduce a bill into the next legislature which will make it a crime for any resident of the state to have any sort of liquor in his possession or in his home. It will not be necessary to show that the citizen attempted to give away to his friends or to sell the liquor. The very fact that he has it in his possession or in his home will be sufficient to send him to the penitentiary. Therefore the new bill will be the more drastic ever offered for passage.
The present prohibition law of North Carolina is extreme in its provisions, but there is said to be more boot-legging in that state then in any other dry state. It is in the hope of destroying this boot-legging and the keeping of blind tigers that the Anti-Saloon League will work hard for the passage of the new bill.

HAS DONE GOOD WORK

RECORD OF THE "SAFETY FIRST" MOVEMENT.

Not Alone on Railroad Lines, but Wherever Hazardous Work is Performed, Employees Have Been Quick to See Its Value.

When the "safety first" movement, adopted a little more than two years ago by one of our great railroad corporations, has reduced by nearly 22 per cent. the number of fatalities on its line, is it any wonder that nearly all the railroads in the United States and Canada have kept it up and made it a watchword among their employees?
Not only on railroads but in factories and iron mills, and, in fact, wherever there is hazardous work to be performed, no matter what the nature of it may be, the movement is spreading.

The business of transportation requires that more than ordinary precaution should be taken to safeguard operation from accidents, and while in all railroad operation the safety of passengers is the first consideration, the problems presented in protecting employees in many respects are identical, and in safeguarding the latter the safety of the public is also largely secured. It is really not a question of safeguard, but more of intelligent caution constantly exercised.

The aim of the "safety first" movement is to teach each employee a sense of personal responsibility not attached for his own safety but also for the safety of his fellow employees. It teaches every man in the service so to safeguard the operation of the railroad that he works for that accidents of every kind shall be as few as human foresight can make them.

Workmen themselves are in a large part to blame for the many accidents when they do not exercise the care and caution required to prevent accidents. They should be taught to avoid carelessness at all hazards.

Too many men in railroad service care nothing for the public's interest or their employer's; all they seem to think of is the least work, no matter how it is done. It is this class of men who are responsible for the awful statistics which show that one railroad employee out of every thirteen and one trainman out of every eight are killed in the United States every year.

The problem of personal injury is complicated by the multiplication of safety devices, for this average holds good even when perfect equipment is in use. Safety devices undoubtedly help, but it must always be remembered that the most important part of the train service is the man behind the steam power. It is the human element that counts most in railroad work.

It is the object of the "safety first" movement to reduce the number of personal injuries among railroad men by encouraging the spirit of co-operation between the men and officials of the railroad companies. When rules are drafted by railroad officials for the safety of its employees, it is in the long run to the advantage of the employee to obey them, although it may seem at the time to be a loss.

Famous Tramp Loves Home

A baby's voice has proven stronger than the call of the Wanderlust to "A-No.-1," the world's most famous tramp. For more than thirty years Leon Ray Livingston was on the road as a tramp; not because he was forced to take up the life, but because he loved the freedom of it all.

There isn't a traveling man in the country who hasn't seen Livingston's "mark" on railroad stations and water tanks throughout the country. Even now one can follow his latest trip through Georgia and Tennessee by watching for "A-No.-1's" arrow and initials.

His latest tramping trip, and he says it will be his last, led him into Erie, Pa., last January. A crowd was at the station to greet him as he slid from the rods underneath a railroad car. In that crowd was a young woman. She timidly shook hands with "A-No.-1." The "tramp" was interested in her and soon learned that her name was Miss Abigail Trohoski. For the first time in thirty years "A-No.-1" was interested in something besides his carefree life on the road. That "something" was Miss Trohoski.

In a few weeks the "Miss" was changed to "Mrs." and everyone wondered just how long "A-No.-1" could resist the call of the road.

But he settled down to writing the book he had long planned. A few days ago a uniformed nurse crept noiselessly from a room in A-No.-1's home and walked up to him.

"It's a girl!" she whispered. "Thank God for that," answered A-No.-1. "I'm glad it's not a boy for he might have decided to be a tramp, too; just like his father. The road has no more attraction for me now; for with a wife and a youngster at home, what use has a man for the life of a tramp?"—Hearthstone Magazine.

Peter Radford, who has just been re-appointed lecturer of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America, sounds a note of warning to the growing number of preachers who are mixing in politics.

submit their conduct to review and seek the counsel of those divinely appointed messengers of life, but the moment the minister closes the Bible and opens the law book, he becomes a menace to society.

"The greatest peril to the church today is politics. The temptation of the ministry to throw down the cross of Christ and pick up the club of the policeman; to substitute the penalties of the law for the power of the altar and to legislate religion into human hearts, never was greater.

New Indian Animal Stories

How the Deer Got His Horns

By JOHN M. OSKISON

Get Out Your Paint Boxes and Color the Animals.

(Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Long time ago the deer had no horns, and the top of his head was as smooth as the doe's head is today. He was a good-natured fellow, who liked to show all of the other animals how fast he could run and how far he could jump.

Now, the rabbit was also a great runner and a good jumper, and he liked to tell about what he could do whenever he could get anyone to listen.

One day the rabbit was sniffing around Mamma Bear, as she was taking the last of the corn cakes out of the fire, and begging for some of the hot and crisp pieces of the edge. "Give me two pieces, and I will show you that I can jump clean over your fire," said the rabbit.

"I declare," said Mamma Bear, "if you don't stop bothering me I'll pick you up and hold you over the fire until all of your fur is singed off!"

"Catch me first!" said the rabbit, and ran away to see what other mischief he could get into. After the rabbit ran off, Mamma Bear sat down and thought out a plan to stop the rabbit from boasting any more of his speed. She folded up her apron and went to call on the Great Beaver.

"I think we ought to fix up a race between the rabbit and the deer," said Mamma Bear, "and offer a grand prize to the one who wins. If we do that, I know that the deer will beat, and I won't have to listen to Mr. Rabbit talk about himself."

"And I know just the right prize to offer to the one who wins," said the Great Beaver. "I will tell my son to whistle out a fine pair of horns, and then I will set them up in front of my house. When the rabbit sees them he will want them, and we can get him to race with the deer."

"So that's settled!" said Mamma Bear, and she went back to her fire. Pretty soon the chipmunk came and told Mamma Bear that Young Beaver had finished the horns, and the chipmunk took a stick and drew in the ashes a picture of a fine, spreading pair of antlers.

Sure enough, the rabbit wanted the horns as soon as he saw them.

"I thought maybe they would look well on the deer," said the Great Beaver. But after he had sat and smoked for a while, he said: "I'll tell you, the thing to do is to fix up a race between you and the deer, and the one who beats shall have the horns!"

So, the animals all got together and fixed it up to have the deer and the rabbit run through a thicket and back. They were to start at the same mark when the Great Beaver thumped his tail hard on the water, "Plomp!" like that, and the first to get back should have the prize.

While every one was admiring the horns, the rabbit said, "I don't know this part of the country, so I'm going to take a look through the bushes where we are to run." They said that was all right, but he was gone so long that the fox said he must be up to one of his tricks.

"I'll go and see what he is doing," said the fox, and pretty soon he came back and said that he had found the rabbit gnawing the bushes and clearing a path to run over. When the rabbit came back at last to start the race, the Great Beaver told him that the horns would go to the deer, for they could not allow a tricky fellow like him to try a race for them.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE OF WARTAX REVENUE STAMPS

The register and receiver of the U. S. land office at Santa Fe have received a letter from Clay Tailman, commissioner, concerning the use of stamps under the new internal revenue law. The letter is as follows:

Gentlemen:

Your attention is directed to the act of congress (public No. 217) entitled An act to increase the internal revenue, and for other purposes, approved October 22, 1914, and especially to the provisions of schedule "A" of said act.

By said schedule, stamp taxes are provided in the following cases, on and after December 1, 1914:

1. Bond for the due execution or performance of the duties of any office or position, or to account for money received by virtue thereof, 50c.

2. Certificate of any description required by law not otherwise specified in this act, 10c.

3. Conveyance or deed by which lands, or other realty sold shall be granted, assigned, transferred or otherwise conveyed; when the consideration or value of the interest of the property conveyed, exclusive of any lien or incumbrance thereon, exceeds $100 and does not exceed $500, 50c, and for each additional $500 or fractional part thereof in excess of $500, 50c.

4. Power of attorney to sell and convey real estate or to rent or lease the same, or to perform any and all other acts not heretofore specified, 25c.

Adhesive stamps issued by the internal revenue service appropriate for the payment of the stamp tax provided for in said act, can be secured from collectors of the several revenue districts, any assistant treasurer of the United States, or designated depository thereof, postmasters, and probably at most banking houses.

Internal revenue stamps will not be required to be placed upon official registers' certificates, receivers' receipts, disbursing officers' checks, or in general upon any official paper which the party receiving is entitled to receive because of his compliance with the requirements of the law.

I didn't like to do it,

But the editor he got too smart,

And I allow he'll rue it.

I am a man who pays his debts,

And will not be insulted,

So when the editor gets smart

I want to be consulted.

I took the paper 'leven years

And help him all I could sir, But when it came to dunnin' me I didn't think he would, sir.
But that he did, and you can bet It made me hot as thunder; I says, "I'll stop that sheet, I will,
If the doggone thing goes under."

I hunted up the editor
And fer his cunnin' caper I paid him 'LEVEN years and quit!
Yes, sir, I stopped the paper.

German Cruiser Disarmed in Norway.

Christiana, Norway, Nov. 17.--(Via London)—It was officially announced here today that the disarmament of the German cruiser Berlin, which was put in at Trondjhem, a port of Norway, has been commenced.

The Berlin appeared off Trondjhem, which is on the northwest coast of Norway, and well outside of the North Sea, yesterday. It was then reported that she was endeavoring to escape from the North Sea to act as a commerce raider in the Atlantic, very much as the cruiser Emden did in the Indian ocean.

The Berlin, with a crew of 450 men, arrived at Trondjhem yesterday. Her commander was given the choice of putting to sea within 24 hours or of submitting to disarmament. He chose the latter, apparently preferring to have his ship disarmed rather than risk going out to sea.

THE WASTE OF WAR

The war that now engulfs Europe is only a preface to the story of sorrow and desolation that will follow.

The lives that are lost, the cities that are destroyed and the resources that are wasted will have their greatest effect upon future generations.

Untill the last chapter is reached there will be a story of stagnant industries, desolate homes, barren fields and fatherless children.

While this great conflict of waste is being waged we Americans are fighting the Battle of Peace.

An army of 150,000 men and women enlisted in the ranks of the Bell System serves the telephone wants of the American public.

Over 6000 of these people work right here in the seven mountain states every day of the year.
