CARRIZOZO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, JANUARY 21, 1910.

NUMBER 20

COMMISSIONERS' PROCEEDINGS.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of County Commissioners of Lincoln County, New Mexico, was held at Carrizozo, the county seat of said county, on the 17th day of January, 1910, at 9 o'clock a. m.

Present: R. H. Taylor, chairman; C. W. Wingfield, member; R. A. Duran, member; Wm. F. A. Gierke, deputy probate clerk; Leo Oswald, deputy sheriff.

Mr. Taylor presented the following resolutions providing for the issuance of $28,000.00 Court House and Jail Bonds of the County of Lincoln, and moved their adoption:

RESOLUTIONS PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF $28,000 COURT HOUSE AND JAIL BONDS OF THE COUNTY OF LINCOLN, TERRITORY OF NEW MEXICO.

WHEREAS, pursuant to the favorable vote of more than a majority of the voters voting upon the proposition at an election duly and legally called and held in Lincoln County on the 17th day of August, 1909, the county seat of Lincoln County has been removed from Lincoln to Carrizozo; and

WHEREAS, a conveyance has been made by the Carrizozo Town-site Company conveying to Lincoln County by good and perfect title Block eight in said town of Carrizozo, containing not less than three-fourths of an acre, which conveyance has been duly accepted by the commissioners of Lincoln county to be used as a site for a courthouse and jail and other buildings for said county; and

Whereas, for the purpose of constructing a courthouse and jail upon the site so provided, the county commissioners of Lincoln county have heretofore resolved to issue negotiable coupon bonds of said county in the amount of $28,000, or as much thereof as may be necessary for said purpose, and said bonds have been duly advertised for sale and sold at a price in excess of the par value thereof; and

Whereas, it appears from plans and specifications on file with the county board that the cost of the construction and furnishings of such courthouse and jail will be not less than $28,000; and

Whereas, all acts, conditions and things required by law precedent to the issuance of said bonds have been performed in due time, former and manner as required by law;

Now, therefore, be it resolved, by the board of county commissioners of Lincoln county, New Mexico, that for the purpose of providing funds to construct a courthouse and jail for said county, there is hereby ordered and directed to be issued the negotiable coupon bonds of said county in the aggregate to amount of $28,000, consisting of 28 bonds of the denomination of $1000 each, numbered from 1 to 28 inclusive, to be dated January 1, 1910, accrued interest from date of bonds to date of sale to revert to county; to become due and payable thirty years from the date thereof, with the option on the part of the county to pay the same at any time after 20 years from their date; to bear interest at the rate of 4½ per cent per annum from date until paid; payable semi-annually on the first day of January and July in each year; both principal and interest payable in lawful money of the United States, at the Central Trust Company of Illinois, in the city of Chicago, Illinois.

Be it further resolved, that said bonds and coupons shall be in substantially the following forms respectively:

United States of America,
Territory of New Mexico,
County of Lincoln.

COURTHOUSE AND JAIL BONDS.

No. .... $1,000.00

Know all men by these presents that the county of Lincoln, in the Territory of New Mexico, hereby acknowledges itself indebted and for value received promises to pay to bearer the principal sum of $1000, thirty years from the date hereof, or at the option of the county at any time after twenty years from date, together with interest thereon from the date hereof until paid, at the rate of 4½ per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of January and July in each year upon presentation and surrender of the annexed coupons as they severally become due. Both principal and interest hereof are to be paid in lawful money of the United States of America at the banking house of Central Trust Company of Illinois, in the city of Chicago, Illinois. And for the prompt payment of this bond and coupons, the full faith, credit and resources of said county of Lincoln are hereby irrevocably pledged.

This bond is one of a series of bonds of like date and tenor issued for the purpose of providing funds for the construction of a courthouse and jail at Carrizozo, the county seat of said county, and is issued pursuant to resolutions of the Board of County Commissioners of said county duly passed and adopted, and by virtue of and in strict conformity with the laws of the United States and of the territory of New Mexico, including sections 630-34 of the Compiled Laws of New Mexico of 1897, and the amendments and supplements thereto.

A SPORT-LOVING PEOPLE.

The Anglo-Saxons love sport. No matter in what part of the world they are found, the spirit is strong among them. Wherever the restless Anglo-Saxon dominates, the love of sport is dominant. The Americans are—at least, the most of them—descendants of this virile race, and nowhere is the love of sport so much exhibited as in this country. Our people are patrons of horseracing, of baseball, of golf, of football, of all out-of-door sports as no other people. The English are great sportsmen, but not to the extent that Americans are, for the reason that the opportunities are greater here. Nor does the nation suffer from this propensity. We are told, of course, by some of our college thinkers that our young men indulge too much in athletics, that this indulgence is a detriment rather than a benefit to the boys; that because of the "fad," as these wiseacres term it, we are injuring the physical powers of the boys. We do not take much stock in this sort of pessimism. Here and there a few may overdo themselves and fall by the wayside; but athletic competition has never, in our judgment, seriously injured American youth. On the contrary, it has developed in them muscle, courage and self-reliance, requisites to good health and ultimate success when they are called upon to lay aside athletics for the more serious cares of life.

Evidence accumulates that Bering sea covers a center of great seismic and volcanic activity. The commander of a revenue cutter reports to the treasury department that he has investigated Bogoslof Island, the frequent changes in which have been of much scientific interest, and that he steamed all around the island, taking soundings the entire way and finding bottom only at one place, where the lead touched at a depth of 45 fathoms. Steam jets arise from a lake in the center of the island, and the conclusion is that the island is the summit of a volcano and that the lake is the crater. Bogoslof Island has perpetrated some curious stunts from time to time, and volcanic origin seems to explain them. Uncle Sam came into possession of many interesting things when he acquired Alaska.

The news that the old mining camp of Virginia City, Nev., is sinking into the deep canyon along the side of which it was built indicates an inglorious end for a town which once attained some prominence. Virginia City grew out of the opening of the Comstock lode, and the Comstock lode formerly was among the greatest silver producers in the world. Considerable gold was also found there. At one time the lode yielded wealth at the rate of $10,000,000 annually, and it made great fortunes for the "bonanza" owners. Altogether, between $300,000,000 and $400,000,000 in gold and silver was taken from the mines.

College professors calculate that if the birth-rate decrease continues for 150 years there will be no births at all by 2060 A. D. In that case few will survive to the time when men will live 120 years—and those who do will be lonesome.

To make the trip a complete success the president would need as many stomachs as a camel.

DONS MAN'S SUIT TO BE SOLDIER

GIRL TRIES TO ENLIST IN MARINE CORPS TO JOIN HER SWEETHEART.

REVEALS PRETTY ROMANCE

Young Woman Is Detected when She Seeks to Enter Ranks and Go to Nicaragua—Given Ticket to Meet Sweetheart.

Chicago.—A remarkable romance, whose dramatic and thrilling incidents can hardly be duplicated in the pages of historical novels came to a climax in Chicago several days ago. It is a story of a loyal and daring young woman who, disguised as a man, sought to enlist in the navy in order to join her warrior lover, who was then in Philadelphia, waiting to be sent with his company to Central America, supposedly in connection with the Nicaragua troubles there. The young woman took in two experienced recruiting sergeants and by her persistent daring so won the hearts of the officers that they gave her a ticket to Philadelphia.

The hero is Corporal James L. Dixon, United States marine corps, who recently inherited $100,000 upon the death of his father, a well-known citizen of Toronto, Ont.

The heroine is given as Miss Adelaide Portwood of Decatur, Ill., where her family is declared to be of some consequence.

Girl Dons Man's Garb to Join Navy.

Subordinate actors are Sergeant John A. Holman, U. S. M. C., in charge of the recruiting station at 260 Clark street; Capt. William Brackett, commanding the department of Illinois and Wisconsin, U. S. M. C.; Dr. William H. Daly, 4101 Washington boulevard, examining physician, U. S. M. C., and Sergeant Arthur E. Seeley, in charge of the new recruiting station at 6315 South Halsted street.

It was Sergeant Holman who told the story.

"I was awakened at 2 a. m. by a telephone call at my home, 1236 West Adams street," he said.

"Hello," said a deep, ringing voice, "is this Sergeant Holman?"

"Yes."

"Do you take recruits for the marine corps?"

"Yes."

"Well, I want to enlist right away. I want to go to Nicaragua. Can you come to your office at once?"

"Why, my dear sir, you can't expect me to come downtown at this time of night."

"But this is urgent," pleaded the voice. "I'm afraid if I'm not sent right away I won't get to go. There's going to be trouble down in Central America and I want to be mixed up in it. I can't stay out of a fight if I know there's going to be one."

"It was cold and dark when I reached the office. But there was a tall, well-built figure in a long overcoat, with the collar turned up, and a fur cap pulled low. It was my recruit. We talked for a couple of moments, until the others arrived. Then we went upstairs. In the better light it seemed to me there was something peculiar about the recruit's face, but I didn't know what it was. On the whole, I was struck with the candidate's handsome and manly appearance and straight talk.

"All right," I said, opening the door of the dressing room, "just go in here and take off your clothes and get ready for the doctor to examine you." "My recruit gave me a peculiar stare and then entered and closed the door. She escaped through a window, and I didn't see her again until Sergt. Seeley brought her in from the South side office where she tried to enlist."

SURE DOGGIE'S IN HEAVEN

Baby, Saved from Death by Brave Canine, Is Comforted by Assurance.

Reading, Mass.—Three-year-old Arthur Croteau is being comforted for the death of Rex, his pet beagle, who died to save his little master, by assurance that Rex had gone to the dogs' heaven. Arthur was dragged from the path of an automobile by the intelligent dog. Arthur's 11-year-old cousin, Dolla Riley, picked up the dog's body and a sad little procession returned to Arthur's mamma.

"Rex was a year-old English beagle. We had another beagle, Trix, but Trix was poisoned about a year ago. Then we got Rex to console the baby."

After Rex was killed Arthur said to his mamma: "Will Rex go to heaven where Trix went?"

"I told baby that Rex had gone to the dogs' heaven because he was a good, brave doggie. That made Arthur feel a little better. But he is very lonesome for his playmate."

Unexplored Arabia.

The announcement that the British Royal Geographical Society of Copenhagen is fitting out an expedition to explore "the countries round the Persian gulf" will surprise many who imagine that there is little of the earth outside the polar regions which now needs exploring. As a matter of fact, the interior of the great Arabian peninsula is still waiting to be discovered, and not even the poles offer such almost insurmountable obstacles to those who seek them as the unknown land lying around the Persian gulf. Some portions are, doubtless, as void of human beings as the frozen apex of the earth, and will probably always remain so, for the heat experienced there is fatal to almost every kind of life.

In a Quandary.

"Was that your father who was trying to get in the back door last night?" questioned the nose woman next door.

"Couldn't say, ma'am," replied the little boy. "Since ma has joined all the clubs I never know which of them it is that comes home late."

Last, But Not Least.

Roarick—The landlord of this mountain hotel says his parting guests should stop on the front porch and see the "finishing touches of summer."

Van Albert—Yes, that is where he sends you his bill.

Same Results.

Tae One—I married at the age of 21. It was a case of "marry in haste and repent at leisure."

The Other—I didn't marry until I was 40—and it was a case of "marry at leisure and repent in haste."

Her Mistake.

A lady overtook a little girl of her acquaintance on her way to school. "Do you like decimals, my dear?" she asked.

Now the little girl had not gone very far in her arithmetic and she was unfamiliar with the word decimals. She shrank from acknowledging her ignorance, so, after a minute, she stammered: "Yes'm, I like them pretty well, but not as well as peaches."

MEAL THAT ALL MAY ENJOY

If These Edibles Are Prepared for Late Supper No Bad Results Will Follow.

The late supper is as often a sorrow as a pleasure. If the edibles and drinks are cold it will lie heavy on nine stomachs though the tenth escapes. But though the good hostess may know this perfectly well there is the other nut to crack: What are the correct hot things to serve which are not too expensive and bothersome? The following simple recipes will solve this problem and prove themselves very acceptable for any little evening entertainment:

Mulled Ale or Cider.—If the previous recipe appeals to the ladies, this one will seem to men folks the right thing: With two quarts of old English ale put a half a lemon peel and three cloves and bring the concoction to a boil in a porcelain-lined vessel. Or, with an equal amount of cider put several baked apples, three or four cloves, and two bay leaves. Proper accompaniments to either drink would be hot toast sandwiches made of white bread, with a filling of grilled ham or bacon put between shreds of tender lettuce. A hot salad made of newly boiled white potatoes, seasoned with splinters of broiled red herring, would likewise flank either deliciously. If the whole dried herring cannot be found, get the ones in jars or boxes and soak them for an hour before broiling. If they are sauteed in a pan with a little butter, the herrings would have an even more delicate taste.

HAVE THE POTATOES CLEAN

Most Important Point That Seems to Be All Too Frequently Overlooked by Cook.

Beginners in cookery wonder why the homely paddies of the dinner course so frequently turn black and look unappetizing without apparent cause.

This is because they are boiled immediately after peeling. Potatoes, particularly the mid-season tubers which we have to contend with before the arrival of the new crop, should be peeled at least a couple of hours before they are to be cooked, and should be allowed to stand in a pan of cold water during that time.

Scrub thoroughly before peeling, and rinse well afterward. Then let them stand in more fresh, cold water.

The scum which is seen to rise on many a pot of boiling potatoes is principally dust and dirt which has not been thoroughly washed away.

A well-cooked—boiled or baked—potato is a rare avis. One of the principal points of failure is not having them perfectly clean.

Angel Food Pudding.

One pint sweet milk, four tablespoonfuls sifted flour, four tablespoonfuls sugar, four tablespoonfuls butter, six eggs, lemon extract. Heat milk in double boiler, wet flour smooth in cold water and stir into hot milk until it thickens. Take off fire, add sugar and butter. When cool add eggs, whites and yolks beaten separately. Flavor. Pour into buttered pudding dish, set in pan of hot water and bake about 45 minutes in moderate hot oven. Top should be light brown. Eat with sea foam sauce. One cup sugar, half cup butter, one egg. Beat well together. Just before serving pour on one pint boiling water. Flavor with lemon extract and pinch of nutmeg.

Rice Dumplings.

Boil one cupful of rice until tender. Wring from cold water squares of cheesecloth. Spread rice in the center of each about one-half inch thick and as large as a saucer. Lay on it slices of apples that cook quickly. Gather up the corners of the cloth and tie in a ball. Drop them in boiling water for ten minutes. Remove cheesecloth carefully and serve with cream and sugar.

A LITTLE COLD.

He caught a little cold—
That was all.
So the neighbors sadly said,
As they gathered round his bed,
When they heard that he was dead.

He caught a little cold—
That was all. (Puck.)

Neglect of a cough or cold often leads to serious trouble. To break up a cold in twenty-four hours and cure any cough that is curable mix two ounces of Glycerine, a half-ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure and eight ounces of pure Whisky. Take a teaspoonful every four hours. You can buy these at any good drug store and easily mix them in a large bottle.

Temperamental Toilet Table.

A very aged Englishman many years ago gave this advice to his daughter in a letter as to what a lady's dressing table should contain:

The best beautifier a young lady can use is good humor. The best renovator truth; the best rouge is modesty; the best eyewater is the tears of sympathy; the best gargle for the voice is cheerfulness; the best wash for smoothing wrinkles is contentment; the best cure for deafness is attention; the best mirror is reflection, and the whitest powder is innocence.

BOY TORTURED BY ECZEMA

"When my boy was six years old, he suffered terribly with eczema. He could neither sit still nor lie quietly in bed, for the itching was dreadful. He would irritate spots by scratching with his nails and that only made them worse. A doctor treated him and we tried almost everything, but the eczema seemed to spread. It started in a small place on the lower extremities and spread for two years until it very nearly covered the back part of his leg to the knee.

"Finally I got Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Pills and gave them according to directions. I used them in the morning and that evening, before I put my boy to bed, I used them again and the improvement even in those few hours was surprising, the inflammation seemed to be so much less. I used two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, the same of the Pills and the Soap and my boy was cured. My son is now in his seventeenth year and he has never had a return of the eczema.

"I took care of a friend's child that had eczema on its face and limbs and I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. They acted on the child just as they did on my son and it has never returned. I would recommend the Cuticura Remedies to anyone. Mrs. A. J. Cochran, 1823 Columbia Ave., Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 20, 1909."

The Difference.

"Our continental marriages are just as happy as those made in your country," explained the foreigner. "We all admit that marriage is a lottery."

"Well," responded the American, "we prefer to let a girl select her own ticket."

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

INEQUALITIES OF TAXATION.

The question of taxation is always a live one, and the most difficult thing to do is to secure a just valuation—each class of property bearing its fair share of the burden. In some counties of this territory a large portion of railroad and corporate property escapes taxation—this class of property rendering about ten per cent—and the Territorial Board of Equalization turns a deaf ear to every appeal made by the people for relief. On the other hand, there are counties which secure practically all their revenue from corporate interests—not that the corporations pay more on like property in one county than another—but because in some counties the corporations are about the only ones returning property for taxation. Either proposition is unfair.

The most stiking example of the latter proposition is in the "Kingdom of Valencia," where Solomon Luna both reigns and rules. The assessed valuation, as it appears on the tax rolls of that county for the year 1909, after allowing for exemptions, was $1,707,674. The railroad, telegraph and lumber companies rendered $1,270,546.45 of the total. This leaves a balance for taxation of $437,127.55, to be divided among a voting population of 2,000. When it is remembered that the Rio Grande flows through Valencia county and gives it thousands of acres of the finest agricultural lands on the continent; that a number of the biggest sheepmen in the territory, including "King Sol," live there, and that the county is plastered over with land grants, which are covered with valuable forests, it can readily be seen how pitiable a figure the citizens of that county cut in the payment of taxes. It must not be forgotten, either, that the taxes on that valuation of $1,270,549.45 rendered by the corporations are paid, while much of the remainder is never collected and little attempt made to do so. In other words, the corporations of the "Kingdom of Valencia" render 74 per cent of the taxable property there, and pay on that rendition, whereas, as a matter of fact, they pay about 90 per cent of all taxes collected; for of the the amount assessed against the citizens only about one-third is collected.

Valencia, then, seems to have reversed the usual conditions, and by some means gets a tax roll through so that the corporations pay all, or nearly all, the taxes. But, laying aside the republican declaration wherein they "point with pride to grand old Valencia," does the public generally regard that county very highly, notwithstanding this most astounding piece of high finance? It is one of the oldest counties in the territory, and until recently did not have a brick school house within its confines, and the territory paid for the one it now has. It has only one newspaper, and that began publication after the Belen cut-off brought in new ideas. Yet, it must be admitted, that the people of Valencia have a practice in which they excel—that of suffrage—voting alphabetically, whether the registered voter is present or absent. Ah, there is system in old Valencia!

ADDITIONAL LOAN.

R. A. Duran, commissioner for the first district, came over from Lincoln Sunday to be present at the meeting of the commissioners the following day. It was Mr. Duran's first visit to Carrizozo in two years, and he expressed himself as being very favorably impressed with the advancement the town has made during that period.

Mrs. A. J. Rolland and Mrs. J. F. Kimbell entertained the Carrizozo whist club Wednesday evening at the Rolland home. The ladies of the club graciously allowed their husbands to participate in the fun and partake of the feed. Mrs. J. H. Canning won the first prize offered the ladies, and Mrs. F. Jones the consolation prize. W. C. McDonald was awarded the first prize for the gentlemen, while O. M. Moody succeeded in winning the one that wasn't. The position of each player was designated by a card, the card containing the ambition, supposedly, of the individual player. Some unique ambitions were disclosed, and there is even a hint that the ladies juggled the cards on the gentlemen. The club will next meet at the Canning home.

Geo. A. Tittsworth, S. T. Gray, Thomas Sebre, H. B. Hamilton and W. H. Johnson, of Capitan, and Father Girma, of Lincoln, were over Monday night conferring with the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce on matters of serious import to the people of this county. A committee was appointed by the Chamber to investigate conditions reported by the gentlemen, and instructed to do everything in its power to bring about the desired results. Representations were made that conditions at the Fort Stanton Sanatorium were far from what the people had a right to expect, and the Chamber willingly took up the matter with the view of securing an investigation by the proper authorities, with the hope of assisting in maintaining and strengthening the institution at Fort Stanton. The government spends about $100,000.00 annually at the Fort, and, besides being a means of advertising our matchless climate, becomes a matter of more than passing moment to the people of Lincoln county, and especially that section in the vicinity of the sanatorium.

LINCOLN LOCALS.

Arrangements are under way for the organization of a Sunday School at Lincoln. Quite a number of the christian people have signified their willingness to lend a helping hand.

Sheriff Charles Stevens came in last Friday and left Monday for Alamogordo to be present at the preliminary hearing of John C. Trapp and his two sons before Judge Cooley at Alamogordo on the charge of killing W. J. McAdams at Corona.

The work on the Picacho hill is progressing nicely and things look quite changed since Engineer Lewis and his men went to work a few weeks ago.

Mrs. John H. Cole gave a party last Saturday night for the benefit of the younger set, and from reports received nothing was left undone for the entertainment of the guests.

Fred Pfingsten of the Nogal mesa was in town Saturday.

The United States mail route inspector paid Lincoln a visit during the past week inspecting the different routes in this end of the county.

CAPITAN.

Hon. John Y. Hewitt was a visitor from White Oaks yesterday.

Andy S. Mayes was in Wednesday from his ranch beyond the mal pais.

A nine pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Hall, at Douglas, Ariz., on the 13th.

A telegram came Monday announcing the death of Mrs. Lula Wingfield at Globe, Arizona. Two daughters are here with their father.

A night switch engine was put in service Wednesday night in the local yards. The increased traffic on the line necessitated the extra engine.

Isidro L. Analla, former probate clerk of this county, arrived yesterday from Mexico, and took the afternoon stage for his old home below Lincoln.

W. A. Connor and Paul Burton returned this week from Estey City, where they have been engaged in some mining operations the past two months.

Rev. R. P. Pope, district missionary of the Baptist Church, was in Carrizozo from Alamogordo the early part of the week. He preached Sunday morning and at night in the Baptist hall.

E. R. Cline, formerly a resident of this county, was among the unfortunate ones in the Farmington, New Mexico, fire last week. His stock of merchandise was destroyed, valued at $4,500.00, and was insured for only $600.00.

Activity in the railroad shops and along the line give promise of better times for the surrounding country for the coming months.

The paint crew of the El Paso & Southwestern arrived Tuesday night from Tucumcari, and is engaged in touching up things on the Capitan branch.

A number of new men have been placed on the pay roll at the shops recently. Extra passenger and freight trains give more employment in shops and round-house.

John E. Bell has purchased an interest in the grocery business with Walter E. Winfield. Both these gentlemen have many warm friends, and will, no doubt, enjoy a good patronage.

A report comes from Corona this week of the death of C. C. Maloney, a young man of that town. Death resulted from a self-administered quantity of strychnine. No cause is assigned for the rash act.

The ladies of the Home Mission Society will an oyster supper at the White House Café tomorrow, January 22, serving from 2 p. m. until midnight—35 cents. Other dishes will be served, and everyone is assured a bountiful repast.

The mid-winter examination for teachers in this county was held at the school house Friday and Saturday. There were nine applicants in all grades, divided as follows: one for the first, three for the second and five for the third.

A head-end collision occurred Sunday night above Ancho. No damage was done, however, except the smashing of a pilot. Both trains were freights.

Business has picked up along the line and more men are employed on railroad work than for many months. Fruit shipments from California furnish a large portion of the tonnage.

A boiler explosion on the Dawson branch one day last week resulted in the death of Engineer J. C. Elkins and the serious injury of Fireman W. B. Osbourne. The engine was pulling a train and was moving twenty miles an hour.

Deputy Sheriff P. C. Baird and A. J. Atkinson came down from Corona yesterday having in custody four prisoners from the Manzanita mountains, accused of stealing and slaughtering cattle. In default of bond, they will rest in the Lincoln jail until court.

Have you seen the comet? If you have not, look in the southwestern horizon between five and six in the evening, and you will have no difficulty in seeing it. It was visible last night to the naked eye for half an hour or more, a star on end with tail flaming high in the heavens directly above it.

Cleve Hibler, who was badly cut up in a little frolic with John Yates, at Corona, last week, was taken to the county jail this morning to await the action of the grand jury, his bond having been fixed at $2,000.00. Hibler carries a scar extending from the temple to the point of the chin, but his most serious wounds are in the body. Yates, the other combatant, who received a bullet in the encounter, is also in jail.

The Great Leons, in their exhibition of hypnotism, mind-reading, etc., will be in Carrizozo for three nights, 24th, 25th and 26th. Those who wish to see one of the best entertainments of its kind should not miss this opportunity to witness the performance of these artists on the dates mentioned at Humphrey Bros. hall. From the favorable press reports given this company in the various towns of the territory the Leons are most wonderful exponents of the occult on the road.

The Trapps Are Bound Over.

Yesterday, at Alamogordo, J. C. Trapp and two sons had a preliminary hearing before Judge M. C. Mechem, of Tucumcari, who was acting for Judge A. W. Cooley. The defendants were arraigned on the charge of shooting W. J. McAdams from the effects of which death resulted. W. W. Gatewood, of Roswell, represented the defendants, and made a strong plea of self-defense. At the close of the hearing the judge bound the father and younger son over to await the action of the grand jury in the sum of $5,000.00 each, and the elder son was denied bond. Sheriff Stevens and Deputy Baird went to Lincoln today to place the prisoners in jail.

Don't Weep At The Ice House.

Some people swell up on "emotion" brewed from absolute untruth.

It's an old trick of the leaders of the Labor Trust to twist facts and make the "sympathetic ones" weep at the ice house. (That's part of the tale further on.)

Gompers et al sneer at, spit upon and defy our courts, seeking sympathy by falsely telling the people the courts were trying to deprive them of free speech and free press.

Men can speak freely and print opinions freely in this country and no court will object, but they cannot be allowed to print matter as part of a criminal conspiracy to injure and ruin other citizens.

Gompers and his trust associates started out to ruin the Bucks Stove Co., drive its hundreds of workmen out of work and destroy the value of the plant without regard to the fact that hard earned money of men who worked, had been invested there.

The conspirators were told by the courts to stop these vicious "trust" methods, (efforts to break the firm that won't come under trust rule), but instead of stopping they "dare" the courts to punish them and demand new laws to protect them in such destructive and tyrannical acts as they may desire to do. * * * The reason Gompers and his band persisted in trying to ruin the Bucks Stove Works was because the stove company insisted on the right to keep some old employees at work when "de union" ordered them discharged and some of "de gang" put on.

Now let us reverse the conditions and have a look.

Suppose the company had ordered the union to dismiss certain men from their union, and, the demand being refused, should institute a boycott against that union, publish its name in an "unfair list," instruct other manufacturers all over the United States not to buy the labor of that union, have committees call at stores and threaten to boycott if the merchants sold anything made by that union. Picket the factories where members work and slug them on the way home, blow up their houses and wreck the works, and even murder a few members of the boycotted union to teach them they must obey the orders of "organized Capital?"

It would certainly be fair for the company to do these things if lawful for the Labor Trust to do them.

In such a case, under our laws the boycotted union could apply to our courts and the courts would order the company to cease boycotting and trying to ruin these union men. Suppose thereupon the company should sneer at the court and in open defiance continue the unlawful acts in a persistent, carefully laid out plan, purposely intended to ruin the union and force its members into poverty. What a howl would go up from the union demanding that the courts protect them and punish their law-breaking oppressors. Then they would praise the courts and go on earning a living protected from ruin and happy in the knowledge that the people's courts could defend them.

How could any of us receive protection from law-breakers unless the courts have power to, and do punish such men?

The court is placed in position where it must do one thing or the other—punish men who persist in defying its peace orders or go out of service, let anarchy reign, and the more powerful destroy the weaker.

Peaceful citizens sustain the courts as their defenders, whereas thieves, forgers, burglars, crooks of all kinds and violent members of labor unions, hate them and threaten violence if their members are punished for breaking the law. They want the courts to let them go free and at the same time demand punishment for other men "outside de union" when they break the law. * * * Notice the above reference to "violent" members of labor unions. The great majority of the "unheard" union men are peaceable, upright citizens. The noisy, violent ones get into office and the leaders of the great Labor Trust know how to mass this kind of men, in labor conventions and thus carry out the leaders' schemes, frequently abhorrent to the rank and file: so it was at the late Toronto convention.

The paid delegates would applaud and "resolute" as Gompers wanted, but now and then some of the real workmen insist on being heard, sometimes at the risk of their lives.

Delegate Egan is reported to have said at the Toronto convention:

"If the officers of the federation would only adhere to the law we would think a lot more of them."

The Grand Council of the Provincial Workingmen's Ass'n of Canada has declared in favor of severing all connections with unions in the U. S., saying "any union having its seat of Gov't in America, and pretending to be international in its scope, must fight industrial battles according to American methods. Said methods have consequences which are abhorrent to the law-abiding people of Canada involving hunger, misery, riot, bloodshed and murder, all of which might be termed as a result of the practical war now in progress in our fair provinces and directed by foreign emissaries of the United Miners of America."

That is an honest Canadian view of our infamous "Labor Trust."

A few days ago the daily papers printed the following:

(By the Associated Press.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—Characterizing the attitude of Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor in the contempt proceedings in the courts of the District of Columbia, in connection with the Bucks Stove and range company, as "a willful, premeditated violation of the law," Simon Burns, general master workman of the general assembly, Knights of Labor, has voiced a severe condemnation of these three leaders. Mr. Burns expressed his confidence in courts in general and in those of the District of Columbia in particular.

APPROVED BY DELEGATES.

This rebuke by Burns was in his annual report to the general assembly of his organization. He received the hearty approval of the delegates who heard it read at their annual meeting in this city.

"There is no trust or combination of capital in the world," said Mr. Burns, "that violates laws oftener than do the trust labor organizations, which resort to more dishonest, unfair and dishonorable methods toward their competitors than any trust or combinations in the country."

Mr. Burns said the action of "these so-called leaders" would be harmful for years to come whenever attempts were made to obtain labor legislation.

"The Labor Digest," a reputable workman's paper, says, as part of an article entitled "The beginning of the end of Gompersism, many organizations becoming tired of the rule-or-ruin policies which have been enforced by the president of the A. F. of L."

"That he has maintained his leadership for so long a time in the face of his stubborn clinging to policies which the more thoughtful workmen have seen for years must be abandoned, has been on account partly of the sentimental feeling on the part of the organizations that he ought not to be deposed, and the unwillingness of the men who were mentioned for the place, to accept a nomination in opposition to him. In addition to this, there is no denying the shrewdness of the leader of the A. F. of L., and his political sagacity, which has enabled him to keep a firm grip on the machinery of the organization, and to have his faithful henchmen in the positions where they could do him the most good whenever their services might be needed."

"Further than this, he has never failed, at the last conventions, to have some sensation to spring on the convention at the psychological moment, which would place him in the light of a martyr to the cause of unionism, and excite a wave of sympathetic enthusiasm for him, which would carry the delegates off their feet, and result in his re-election.

"That his long leadership, and this apparent impossibility to fill his place has gone to his head, and made him imagine that he is much greater a man than he really is, is undoubtedly the case, and accounts for the tactics he has adopted in dealing with questions before congress, where he has unnecessarily antagonized men to whom organized labor must look for recognition of their demands, and where labor measures are often opposed on account of this very antagonism, which would otherwise receive support."

"There is no doubt but what organized labor in this country would be much stronger with a leader who was more in touch with conditions as they actually exist, and who would bring to the front the new policies which organized labor must adopt if it expects to even maintain its present standing, to say nothing of making future progress."

We quote portions of another article, a reprint, from the same labor paper:

"Organized labor, through its leaders, must recognize the mistakes of the past if they expect to perpetuate their organizations or to develop the movement which they head. No movement, no organization, no nation can develop beyond the intellects which guide these organizations, and if the leaders are dominated by a selfish motive the organization will become tinged with a spirit of selfishness, which has never appealed to mankind in any walk of life at any time since history began."

"It can be said in extenuation of certain leaders of organized labor that the precarious position which they occupy as leaders has had a tendency to cause them to lose sight of the object behind the organization. The natural instinct in man for power and position is in no small measure responsible for the mistakes of the leaders, not necessarily in labor unions alone, but in every branch of society. This desire for power and leadership and personal aggrandizement causes men who have been earnest and sincere in their efforts in the start to deteriorate into mere politicians whose every act and utterance is tinged with the desire to cater to the baser passions of the working majority in the societies or organizations and this is undoubtedly true when applied to the present leaders of the Federation of Labor. We mention the Federation of Labor particularly in this article, because that organization is the only organization of labor which has yet found itself in direct opposition to the laws of the land. There are other organizations of labor whose leaders have made mistakes, but they have always kept themselves and their organizations within the bounds of the law and respected the rights of every other man in considering the rights of themselves and their constituency; whereas, the motto of the Federation is just the reverse, and unless the leaders conform themselves and their organization in accordance with the laws of the land, the leaders and the organization itself must be disintegrated and pass into history, for in America the common sense of mankind is developed to a greater extent than in any other nation on the earth, and the people, who are the court of last resort in this country, will never allow any system to develop in this country which does not meet with the approval of the majority of the citizens of the country."

"This must have forced itself upon the leaders of the Federation by this time. If it has not, the leaders must be eliminated. The organization which they head has done many meritorious things in times past and the people are always ready and willing to acknowledge the benefits which their efforts have brought to their constituency as a whole, but at the present time labor organizations in general, and the Federation of Labor in particular, stand before the bar of public opinion, having been convicted of selfishness and a disposition to rule all the people of the country in the interest of the few. The people are patient and awaiting to see if the object lesson which they have been forced to give to these leaders is going to be recognized and if they are going to conform themselves and their future work and actions in accordance thereto."

Let the people remember that comment, "The Federation of Labor in particular stands before the bar of public opinion having been convicted of selfishness and a disposition to rule all the people of the country in the interest of the few."

The great 90 per cent of Americans do not take kindly to the acts of tyranny of these trust leaders openly demanding that all people bow down to the rules of the Labor Trust and we are treated to the humiliating spectacle of our Congress and even the Chief Executive entertaining these convicted law-breakers and listening with consideration to their insolent demands that the very laws be changed to allow them to safely carry on their plan of gaining control over the affairs of the people.

The sturdy workers of America have come to know the truth about these "martyrs sacrificing themselves in the noble cause of labor" but it's only the hysterical ones who swell up and cry over the aforesaid "heroes," reminding one of the two romantic elderly maids who, weeping copiously, were discovered by the old janitor at Mt. Vernon. "What is it ails you ladies?"

Taking the handkerchief from one swollen red eye, between sobs she said: "Why we have so long revered the memory of George Washington that we feel it a privilege to come here and weep at his tomb."

"Yas'm, yas'm, yo' shore has a desire to express yo' sympathy but yo' are overflowin' at de wrong spot, yo' is weepin' at de ice house."

Don't get maudlin about law-breakers who must be punished if the very existence of our people is to be maintained.

If you have any surplus sympathy it can be extended to the honest workers who continue to earn food when threatened and are frequently hurt and sometimes killed before the courts can intervene to protect them.

Now the Labor Trust leaders demand of Congress that the courts be stripped of power to issue injunctions to prevent them from assaulting or perhaps murdering men who dare earn a living when ordered by the Labor Trust to quit work.

Don't "weep at the Ice House" and don't permit any set of law-breakers to bully our courts, if your voice and vote can prevent. Be sure and write your Representatives and Senators in Congress asking them not to vote for any measure to prevent the courts from protecting homes, property and persons from attack by paid agents of this great Labor Trust.

Let every reader write, and write now.

Don't sit silent and allow the organized and paid men of this great trust to force Congress to believe they represent the great masses of the American people. Say your say and let your representatives in Congress know that you do not want to be governed under new laws which would empower the Labor Trust leaders with legal right to tell you when to work, where! For whom! At what price! What to buy! What not to buy! Whom to vote for! How much you shall pay per month in fees to the Labor Trust! etc., etc., etc.

This power is now being demanded by the passage of laws in Congress. Tell your Senators and Representatives plainly that you don't want them to vote for any measure that will allow any set of men either representing Capital or Labor to govern and dictate to the common people, who prefer to be free to go and come, work or not, and vote for whom they please.

Every man's liberty will disappear when the leaders of the great Labor Trust or any other trust can ride rough shod over people and mass their forces to prevent our courts from affording protection.

"There's a Reason."

GREAT DANE A HERO

Prince, Giant Canine, Saves Life of Poodle.

Drags Dog from Street Car Tracks and Carries Him to Doctor for Treatment—His Second Rescue.

Chicago.—Prince, a great Dane dog, may take his place among the best of men as a hero. He faced death and suffered injury recently to save a fluffy little poodle from being run over by a street car.

And, cut and bruised though he was, he carried the poodle safely out of danger to a drug store, set his burden down before the clerks and pleaded in dog language until a doctor was called and bandaged the broken leg of Prince's rescued charge.

Prince has saved dog lives before. His master is Leo C. Klein, 640 North Clark street. Prince takes long strolls about Chicago, but his place is usually on guard at his master's door, where he can watch the world in action.

He was doing sentry duty, leaving for a romp in the slush and snow, now and then, when his chance to prove his courage came.

A poodle, quite too aristocratic to be walking the tracks in Clark street, danced about in the street. Cars were passing north and south. Bells clanged, horses stumbled, drivers shouted and policemen tried to order the traffic so that human beings could cross the streets in safety.

No one noticed the frisky little poodle. He did not seem to care much about the rumpus around him.

Swiftly a street car bore down on him. It came from the north and swept up behind him. The poodle was gayly prancing while Prince sat quietly at attention 20 yards away.

Prince knew that motormen do not ring for dogs. He knew the danger. Ordinarily he has little respect for poodles, for they can neither run nor fight. They are only pets, despised little pretty things, toy dogs.

Like an arrow Prince shot from his post. Between couples, against pedestrians, but straight for the poodle, he sprang. He made the 20 yards in an instant. He was a big brown flash.

It was a race with the street car in the lead. As the platform of the car came over the poodle Prince streaked under it and picked up the little white thing in his mouth. There was a yelp of pain and fright from the poodle. There was a swirl and a whirl of brown and white before the car rolling along the track, as the motorman, himself alarmed by the unusual sight, threw on the air and slowed down the car.

Prince still had his jaws clamped on the nape of the poodle's neck. The two rolled until Prince rolled onto his feet. He limped as he took a few steps.

He raised his head, looked back at his master's front door and then started across the street. The crowd was watching by this time. They saw the big Dane carry the whimpering bundle of slush-covered white down to the corner of Ontario and Clark.

He entered the corner store, the Malone drug store—laid the poodle on the floor and sat back. Whines and barks brought the clerks to him. They saw the Dane nosing the poodle, who lay on his side, with one leg in the air, broken and twisted, with the bone sticking out.

Dr. G. S. Malone, the proprietor, came from the rear and, while he washed and bandaged in splints the little dog's broken leg, Prince looked on, evidently overseeing the work and showing his approval.

Prince was hurt, himself. He was cut on the legs and side and the skin was torn where he slid on the pavement. But when Dr. Malone turned his attention to him Prince merely growled his dislike, took the poodle by the nape of the neck again and carried him back to his master's door. He crawled under the swinging doors and laid the poodle, his second known rescue, at his astonished master's feet.

cracked and it necessitated the casting of a new one. It was then decided to renovate the whole set. Trinity's chimes consist of ten bells, the largest of which weighs 3,000 pounds.

Wheat Brings Much Money.

Canadian reports show that the wheat crop in western Canada this year increased the tide of trade beyond all previous reports. The Winnipeg bank clearances for the week ending October 31 were $24,355,858, an increase of $8,000,000, compared with the corresponding week last year, despite the fact that farmers generally are holding back grain in the hope of higher prices.

American Tobacco.

The tobacco grown in the United States is of two general types or classes: (1) cigar tobacco, and (2) chewing, smoking, snuff, and export tobaccos. In 1908 something more than 150 million pounds of cigar tobacco was grown in the United States and nearly four times the amount of the other types.

BUILT UP GREAT BUSINESS

Frederick Mayer Boot and Shoe Company a Monument to German Thrift and Industry.

That the key to real business success is often based on a sound principle, rather than money, is best illustrated by the reproduction of the following biographical sketch of Frederick Mayer, founder of the F. Mayer Boot & Shoe Company, reproduced from an issue of the German American National Alliance:

Frederick Mayer, founder of the factories at Milwaukee and Seattle now bearing his name, came to this country from Niernstein, Hessen Darmstadt, in May, 1881, and immediately proceeded to Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where he entered the employ of R. Sulm as a journeyman shoemaker.

The spirit that prompted him to seek his fortune in the new world was soon responsible for another change, and in 1882, a year later, he embarked in business on his own accord, making boots and shoes to order as only a German apprenticed artisan knows how. Subsequently a stock of goods was carried and a retail business conducted until 1889, when the manufacture of shoes was engaged in at wholesale to the trade.

In 1890 the business was well established, the foundation firmly laid and the policy well determined. From that time on the growth was more rapid. The capacity of the present Mayer factories at Milwaukee and Seattle is 9,000 pair per day, giving employment to an army of people, paying annually over six hundred thousand dollars in wages, and employing sixty-five salesmen who travel 24 states in the interest of Mayer shoes.

Frederick Mayer died on March 16, 1893, after building up a large and successful business. He is succeeded by his sons, George P. Mayer, Fred J. Mayer and Adam J. Mayer, who, by rigidly maintaining the policy of the founder, have succeeded in bringing the business up to its present magnitude, where it stands as a monument of German thrift and industry.

PREFERRED WALK ON STREET

American Tourist Indignant at Seemingly Imputation That He Had Feline Proclivities.

Senator Depew was asked by a reporter as he was having his luggage examined last month, if he had brought any stories back from Europe.

The senator laughed and replied: "Well, in the smoke-room of the ship I heard an interesting thing about a Montanan in Chester. Chester, you know, is walled. Its wide walls, on which you could drive a horse, are famous. You can circle the town on them.

"But the Montanan knew nothing about Chester. He had only arrived in Liverpool that afternoon. And as soon as he finished his quaint dinner, he said to the waiter in the quaint Chester Inn:

"What is the best way for me to amuse myself here for an hour or two before bedtime?"

"Well, sir," said the waiter, "it's a fine evening, the moon is full, and I think you'd find a stroll on the walls most enjoyable."

"The Montanan, ignorant of the popular promenade upon the wide walls of Chester, thought he was being guyed. He frowned at the waiter and said bitterly:

"What do you take me for? A tom cat?"

Reason Enough.

The Chief Requisite.

Richard Watson Gilder had a dry wit of his own. He once received a call from a young woman who wished to secure material for an article of 3,000 words on "Young Women in Literature."

"It was a fetching subject, full of meat," explained the young woman afterward, "and I saw not only 3,000 words in the story, but at least 6,000. But I never got any further than the first question. Mr. Gilder's answer took the very life out of me. I asked him: 'Now, Mr. Gilder, what would you say was the first, the chief, the all-essential requisite for a young woman entering the literary field?'"

"I waited with bated breath, when he answered, 'Postage stamps.'"—Boston Globe.

His Discovery.

The small son of the household had just been initiated into the art of cleaning his own teeth with the soft little brush his mother had bought him. Hearing the baby cry lustily a few minutes later the mother ran into the nursery, only to find the nursing bottle upon the floor and Johnny, toothbrush in hand, leaning over the crib of the screaming infant.

"Oh, mummy," he cried anxiously, "baby must have been born without any teefs!"

No. ....

Probate Clerk & Ex-Officio
Recorder of Lincoln County, N. M.

Be it further resolved, that each of said bonds shall be signed by the chairman of the board of county commissioners, countersigned by the clerk of said board, attested by the seal of said county, and endorsed by the treasurer of said county, and the coupons thereto attached shall each be executed with the lithographed facsimile signature of the probate clerk and ex-officio recorder of said county; and said officers are hereby authorized to cause said bonds to be prepared and to execute the same for and on behalf of the county substantially in the manner and form aforesaid; and when so executed said bonds shall be delivered to Messrs. Coffin & Crawford, the purchasers thereof, upon payment, on or before March 7th, 1910, to the treasurer of said county of the purchase price thereof. And in case of failure to make such payment in the manner and within the time aforesaid, the bid and proposition of said Coffin & Crawford for the purchase of said bonds shall be held for naught and considered cancelled. The proceeds of said bonds shall be deposited in a special fund and used solely for the construction of said courthouse and jail.

Be it further resolved, that for the purpose of paying the principal and interest of said bonds as and when the same become due, there shall be and there is hereby levied a direct annual tax upon all the taxable property in Lincoln county sufficient to produce the sum of $1,400, which is to be used to pay the semi-annual interest coupons as they become due; and in addition thereto a tax shall be levied to produce a sufficient amount to create a sinking fund to pay the principal of said bonds as and when they become due.

And be it further resolved, that the treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the interest due on said bonds July 1, 1910, which interest will become due before the tax herein provided for has been collected, out of any unappropriated funds in his hands, to be reimbursed out of the proceeds of said tax when collected.

Be it further resolved, that all former resolutions of this board which may be inconsistent with the provisions of the foregoing resolutions are to the extent of such inconsistency amended and repealed; and the foregoing resolutions shall be irrevocable until the indebtedness hereby provided for shall be fully paid, satisfied and discharged.
