Mrs. Paden's Funeral.

A large crowd from Carrizozo drove to White Oaks last Friday to attend the funeral of Mrs. M. G. Paden, and practically the entire population of her old home town went to the home to view the remains and to pay their last sad respects to the memory of the departed.

The room in which the casket rested was banked with flowers, wreaths festooning every available space. F. J. Sager, following a prayer by Rev. J. Southworth, delivered the funeral address and conducted the services. A choir from this place and also one from White Oaks, rendered some beautiful and touching songs. The pall bearers were:

John Y. Hewitt, Paul Mayer, John H. Canning, A. C. Wingfield, C. D. Mayer, and Charles Spence.

A long procession followed the corpse to the cemetery and the casket was lowered into its final resting place and a wealth of beautiful flowers were placed by loving hands on the casket. One of the most touching incidents at the cemetery was that of an aged Mexican, who had known the Paden family for a quarter of a century, and who deposited a wreath of evergreens, in which was entwined one little wild flower (at this season almost unknown) and the veneration displayed by this old friend was deeply affecting.

The large crowd, in which there was scarcely a dry eye, and the immense floral wreaths, all attested the esteem of the people for the departed.

The Carrizozo-Roswell Road.

Work continues on the Carrizozo-Lincoln-Roswell road. It will probably take two or three months yet before it is completed, but when it is, it will be one of the finest highways in the southwest, connecting the El Paso & Southwestern R'y. with the Pecos Valley line, and opening up one of the best shipping parts of country in the southwest. Lincoln county has contributed $2,500 toward the work, the territory has donated a similar amount, and last week at a good roads meeting at Roswell a further sum of $1,500 was subscribed. This should be sufficient to complete the road without drawing on the regular road tax, every dollar of which should be expended on the branch roads, or feeders, connecting with the main highway.

The Jicarilla Placers.

A. H. Norton was over from the Jicarilla Monday. Mr. Norton's chief business is placer mining, but he is justice of the peace and postmaster on the side. He stated that he looked for considerable activity there this spring. The Jicarilla placers have been worked for more than a quarter of a century, but the great obstacle to profitable mining there is the scarcity of water, but with the improved "dry washing" processes, constantly being put on the market, he believes they will yet be made to pay handsomely. He has mined there for sixteen years with varying success, and believes in the old proverb of King Solomon that "Silver and copper are found in veins, but gold is where it lies." It undoubtedly lies in the Jicarillas, but the problem is to separate it from the sand.

Former Capitan Citizen Suicides.

J. W. Craft, formerly a citizen of Capitan, committed suicide in El Paso Sunday morning, at the home of Joseph A. Gumm, a son-in-law. A knife was the means employed to end life, the windpipe having been severed. Besides the daughter, at whose home the rash act was committed, two other daughters reside at Salinas, Otero county, Mrs. E. J. Gumm and Mrs. Ray Gumm. Deceased was seventy-one years old, and had long been a sufferer from asthma.

The Baptist Church Building.

The foundation being laid a force of five carpenters commenced work Monday morning on the new Baptist church building on Fourth street, and from the rapidity with which it is assuming shape it should be finished and open for service within two months. The plans were drawn by Harry Little. It will be a modest little frame structure, 28x46 feet, the floor inclining two feet from rear to pulpit. The vestibule will be 8x8 feet, surmounted by a belfry and spire 46 feet high. The baptismal font will be situated at the rear end of the building, and partitioned

The Seventeenth of Ireland.

"Patrick's Day in the Morning" will be appropriately observed in Carrizozo on the 17th, if the plans of the local sons of the "Green Isle" do not miscarry, a committee of whom waited on Humphrey Bros. this week and requested them to advertise a grand ball for the occasion—just to help out. Having a considerable strain of Melisian blood themselves, they willingly agreed to the proposal, provided that all entering the hall on that occasion who could not trace their lineage back to the Emerald Isle, would be required to display a sprig of green. They anticipate a large crowd. There can be no question about the Lacey's, the the Loughreys, the Reileys, the Kelleys and the Kelseys, whose names are their passports, and who claim to be the true offspring of the "old sod." But wait and see the numbers who will sport the green on the 17th, and who will be prepared to make affidavit that their mothers' names were either Murphy, Moore, Mulligan Muldoon or Mulcaby, and therefore at least half Irish.

George Thorp, of Jicarilla, was in town a few days this week.

Get ready for a spring real estate boom.

Is there really such a thing as "slippery weather?"

Thuggery has become a hazardous occupation in Chicago.

The inventor of the pay-as-you-enter car could not have been a smoker.

Uncle Sam's warships do no honor to the navy when they spend all night on shoals or mud banks.

That January thaw did not bring the hens to a melting mood. Eggs continue just as high as ever.

The best proof of high or low prices is found by the average man in his cash balance at the month's end.

The man who invented that phantom airship is a genius either for inventing or for weaving fairy tales.

If Halley's comet must strike the earth somewhere, we hope it will show a sense of discrimination and land in Nicaragua.

A whole village in Italy is sliding down the hill on which it was built. The coasting must be unusually fine in that locality.

It has just been discovered that the earth has existed only 60,000,000 years. And this country is just beginning to realize its full possibilities.

Pay as you enter and pay as you go are good rules to follow whether applied to street cars of any other service or want in the way of living.

The fact that eggs refused to countenance a further increase in price probably is due to the fact that age has lent them at least some modesty.

The latest cure for tuberculosis is rattlesnake venom. There does not seem to the average individual much choice between the remedy and the disease.

While it is all right for a farmer to buy a motor car if he can afford it, he should not mortgage his farm in order to do so. It takes a fast motor to outrun a mortgage.

Unprecedented things are happening the world over. But do not get alarmed. Some things are just as before. For instance, a revolution is going on in Santo Domingo.

A man in New Jersey came near drowning in a tank in midair. Its citizens cannot even shuffle off this mortal coil in a conventional and usual way in that spectacular state.

When an aviator has his aeroplane pointed upward we see no reason why he should not keep on going. It would not be much worse to fall a mile than to fall half that distance.

From the way that war between Chinese Tongs in New York and elsewhere is raging it looks like a case of hammer and tongs. Cannot some one take a poker to the combatants?

China now wants railroads. The great wall between that empire and the civilized world is down at last. On the new railroads occidental ideas and institutions will be the principal part of the freight they will carry.

If, at the initiative of the United States, the world forms a general peace court, at which its differences can be arbitrated and arranged, it will be the greatest work a nation could ever perform. But its realization sounds too much like the establishment of an international millennium. It will require so many concessions from human nature to international politics.

Gossip of Washington

What Is Going On at the National Capital.

Oh My! Women Must Tell Their Age

WASHINGTON.—"Pardon me, madam, the government of the United States would like to know your age."

With that remark the census enumerator will politely display his badge and prepare to make an entry in the official census papers. The question is, will every woman in the United States when they start taking the census April 15 disclose her real number of years, or will she reply that it is none of the government's business? The sporting editors says the betting is about even.

Willard E. Hotchkiss, supervisor of the First district of Illinois, which includes Chicago, was in Washington recently to confer with supervisors of other large cities on this and other problems in taking the census.

Another question necessitating considerable tact is that regarding the "head" of the house. The man, of course, is the ostensible head of every household, but when it comes to making an official report to the government there may be a difference of opinion.

Supervisor Hotchkiss said another of the most important question discussed was that of fully acquainting foreigners of the real purpose of the census.

"A display of official papers and badges tends to frighten the foreigners," said Mr. Hotchkiss. "They fear it has something to do with deporting them or forcing them to give up money, and their instant refuge is to give untruthful replies to the questions put by the enumerators."

"To guard against this we decided to try to educate the foreigners beforehand so that when the enumerator calls they will know just what to expect. We are educating them through their children in the schools, through the churches, the foreign newspapers and settlements and societies in various parts of the country."

"A carelessly taken census shows a smaller population than a carefully taken one. An enumerator often finds people in his district are not at home, and instead of returning there later he passes them up entirely."

Senator Dick's Experience in a Bank

"WHEN I was a young fellow," says Senator Dick, "I worked in a bank. One day—a Saturday, when, for some reason or other, I was anxious to get away early—it was found that the cash was 25 cents short. We worked for an hour trying to find that money. My time was growing shorter every minute."

"At length I dug down into my pocket and pulled out a quarter. 'Here,' I said, and I tossed the money down on the counter. I didn't see why that wouldn't settle things. But my employer was very strict. 'Young man,' he said, 'take that money back. We will find that quarter if it takes all night.'

"Well, we worked till midnight. Then the banker told us to come back the next day—Sunday. We did, and it was noon before we found the error. Of course, I've since learned that it wasn't merely the fact that a quarter was missing that caused the concern; it was the fact that that one error might lead to others, which wouldn't be discovered possibly for a week. Then the confusion would have been almost endless."

A treasury official was at a function the other night and was presented to a charming young woman. As soon as she learned he was in the treasury department, she said:

"I want to complain to you about that inquisition over there."

"What inquisition?"

"The examination of baggage at the port of New York."

"But I'm not in charge of the customs."

Made no difference to the young woman. She forced the official to listen to her story. She had come over from Europe with a lot of ribbon in her trunk. An inspector ordered the trunk opened. He asked her what she was going to do with the ribbon. She told the truth, though she was a good deal embarrassed.

"Why," said the official, "he only wanted to know if you were going to sell the ribbon or use it yourself. You need have given him no more information than that."

Pictures of Ex-Speakers Like Chromos

NEXT to the Hall of Horrors, where the marble and bronze and plaster effigies of dead and gone statesmen, jurists and warriors speck the walls around what was once the old house of representatives, the painted effigies in the lobby back of the house of representatives arouses the risibilities of every lover of real art who passes through. That gallery of equal horrors is now up for attack.

Hanging upon the walls are rows and rows of pictures of former speakers of the house of representatives.

That is, they are called pictures.

Many of them are flamboyant things in colored crayons, that would make a kindergarten kid weep to gaze upon them. A lot more of them are done in black crayon, and they are certainly the limit. A few of the latter ones are done in oils, and the poor speakers whom they represent look as though they had been boiled in oil while sitting for those same portraits, so pained and injured is the expression on the faces of most of them.

In the latter class are Speaker Reed and Speaker Crisp. Speaker Reed, when gazing upon the canvas that represents him one day, turned to a friend and said: "Sa-ay, I don't wonder the Democrats hate me if I look like that to them." The picture of Charles S. Crisp is a smug, fat-looking customer as little like the genial-faced, clear-eyed Speaker Crisp as anything could well be imagined.

An Exploded Theory.
"Do you believe there is anything in mental suggestion?"

"Not a thing."
"Don't you think it is possible if one person keeps his mind steadily fixed on a certain thing which he wishes another to do that the other will be influenced so that he will eventually do it?"

"No, I don't believe in the theory at all. I've been wishing for a week that you'd pay me what you owe me without making it necessary for me to ask you for it."—Sunday Magazine of the Cleveland Leader.

Paradoxical.

"It is a wonder that a hot-headed man is generally thought to be one of mettle."

"Why a wonder?"

"Because metal is usually well tempered."

For Sprains

Sloan's Liniment is the best remedy for sprains and bruises.

It quiets the pain at once, and can be applied to the tenderest part without hurting because it doesn't need to be rubbed—all you have to do is to lay it on lightly. It is a powerful preparation and penetrates instantly—relieves any inflammation and congestion, and reduces the swelling.

Here's the Proof.

Mr. L. ROLAND, Bishop of Scranton, Pa. says:—"On the 7th of this present month, as I was leaving the building at noon for lunch, I slipped and fell, spraining my wrist. I returned in the afternoon, and at four o'clock I could not hold a pencil in my hand. I returned home later and purchased a bottle of and used it five or six times before I went to bed, and the next day I was able to go to work and use my hand as usual."

Sloan's Liniment is an excellent antiseptic and germ killer—heals cuts, burns, wounds and contusions, and will draw the poison from sting of poisonous insects.

SOME FAMOUS ENGLISH TARTS

Ideas from Across the Water That Are Worth Copying by American Housewives.

Pastry in English assumes various forms; but the one pre-eminently favored is the tart with top crust only. This is baked in a deep oval pudding dish, in the center of which is placed a small inverted cup to support the crust. The edge of the dish having been previously covered with a strip of pastry and moistened, the top is then firmly pressed down upon it. Next in favor is the tartlet. Patty pans, lightly greased, are lined with paste, and a piece of buttered paper filled with raw rice, kept for this purpose, is placed in each tartlet to prevent the center puffing up. The paper and rice are replaced by fruit when the pastry is partially or quite done. Open tarts, much larger, are made in the same manner.

Cream Paste.—Cream paste is much in vogue for special occasions. The ingredients called for are one pound of flour, one-half teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful sugar, one-quarter pound of fresh butter, one-half cupful of cream. Sift the flour, mix in salt and sugar, rub in the butter; add cream, gradually forming into smooth paste. The flour may take up more or less cream. The yolks of two eggs beaten in a little milk may be substituted for cream. Roll out paste three times and use at once.

Queen's Apple Tarts.—One cupful of apple sauce three tablespoonfuls of currant or other jelly, four eggs, sugar to taste. Line a deep pie plate with puff paste and bake a delicate brown. Have ready a boiled custard made from the yolks of the eggs and milk sweetened to taste. When the pastry is baked put into it a layer of half the apple sauce, one of jelly, one of custard, then the rest of the apple sauce. Whip the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth, beat in two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Spread over tarts, and bake a light brown.

FOR DELICIOUS BLANC MANGE

Try This Method the Next Time You Have a Few Friends in for the Afternoon.

A good dish to serve as a change at an afternoon affair is a chocolate blanc mange or sponge cake. Make ordinary plain cake or sponge cake in layers, having but two of them, and fill and cover with the blanc mange, which in turn must be covered with whipped cream. Serve with tea,iced tea or coffee.

For the blanc mange scald two cups of milk with one teaspoonful of butter and a dash of salt; add two tablespoonfuls of arrowroot dissolved in a little of the milk and two tablespoonfuls of melted chocolate, or more; cook 10 minutes; now turn into this two yolks mixed with half a cupful of sugar and return to double boiler and cook for a moment. Pour this into a bowl and beat a few minutes, then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs and flavor with a teaspoonful of vanilla. This should be very cold before it is spread upon the cake and it should be just stiff enough not to run and yet not as stiff as a jelly.

Cream Tomato Soup.

One-half can tomatoes, one teaspoonful of sugar, one-quarter teaspoonful of soda, one quart milk, one slice onion, four tablespoonfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper, two tablespoonfuls of butter. Cook the tomatoes with the sugar and onion 15 minutes, add the soda and rub through a sieve. Scald the milk in a double boiler and thicken with the flour, the amount given above, wet with water to make a paste. Cook 20 minutes, stirring constantly at first, then combine the mixtures, add the butter and season and serve.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; since cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE CARRIZOZO NEWS

Published every Friday at CARRIZOZO - NEW MEXICO.

Entered as second class matter June 12, 1906, at the postoffice at Carrizozo, New Mexico, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

INO. A. HALEY, . . . . Editor.

The senate recently passed an appropriation of $25,000 for a fish hatchery for New Mexico. The site for the hatchery is to be selected by the Secretary of Commerce and Labor. At the rate the waters of the streams of New Mexico is being monopolized by individuals and corporations, there will not be enough water left for a fish to navigate in.

Tree Planting Time.

Arbor day, the day set aside by proclamation for planting shade trees, is approaching, and everyone in Carrizozo who owns a home should make it a point to set out a number of young trees around their residences. One day out of 365 devoted to beautifying the home is a small space of time and could not be spent to better advantage. Trees in full leaf are pleasing to the eye, and when the song birds later take up their abode in them, and make the air resonant with their sweet notes, the finer feelings will be pleasantly touched. The Arbor day law is especially applicable to school children—it develops in them a love of the beautiful, which increases as they grow older. Companies and others who own real estate in and around Carrizozo should do their part by supplying those owning homes thereon, with young trees. The scarcity of water to nourish them is the greatest draw back, and yet it takes but a little water and a little care to keep them growing. In a few years, when this town will have doubled in population, and perhaps be incorporated, with metropolitan aspirations, those who fail to set out shade trees now will regret it. The trees set out two years ago are now from ten to fifteen feet in height, the buds are already forming and in another month will be leafing out.

An Important Meeting.

Probably the most important meeting of the board of county commissioners in the history of Lincoln county was held here this week. The contract for the construction of a new court house and jail was let, which may be found in the commissioners' proceedings. The bonds were signed and forwarded to the purchasers, although the signatures of the clerk and treasurer had to be secured at Lincoln, those officials failing to attend the meeting here.

The contractor, Mr. Bechtel, expects to have material on the ground in a few days; and will soon be here himself, accompanied by a member of the firm of architects, and begin work on the foundation for the buildings. Work will be pushed as rapidly as material arrives, and men can be used to put it together. The expectation of the board and the architect and contractor is that the buildings will be ready for occupancy in six months.

Bursum Loses Out.

Albuquerque, N. M., Mar. 9.—According to National Republican Committeeman R. O. Bursum, who has just returned from the hearings of the senate committee on territories at Washington, the committee will insist in its report on Friday on the retention of the clause providing that office holders in the new states shall speak, read and write English. Changes will also be made in the power sites provisions of the bill, giving the new states a certain control over them.

LINCOLN LOCALS.

Isidore McKinley and Teodoro Chaves, of Capitan, spent last Saturday here on business at the Clerk's office.

Fount A. Miller, an old time citizen of Lincoln county, came in last Saturday to shake hands with his old friends and incidentally transact some business at the Clerk's office.

A dance was given last Saturday night by Mrs. C. A. Stevens at the Stevens' home, for the benefit of all children, large and small, at which the well known Stevens phonograph furnished the music. All participants had a glorious time.

Mountain climbing has become popular in Lincoln. Last Sunday two parties made a successful attempt to climb the highest peaks surrounding the town, and were amply rewarded for their efforts after reaching their goal, for the view of the Bonito valley from said point is well worth the attempt. This story is not "Cooked," for your correspondent can vouch for its truthfulness, being one of the party himself.

The financial committee of the Lincoln County Good Roads Association, consisting of Messrs. Dr. J. W. Laws, Dr. T. W. Watson, Geo. A. Tittsworth, P. D. Southworth, and accompanied by Mrs. Watson, and L. H. Bradstreet of Hondo, left last Monday morning for Roswell on a financial mission in the interest of good roads, and is said to have taken Roswell by storm. They report collections from the good citizens of the Queen City of the Pecos valley exceeding $1,500.00, to be applied on the Roswell-Carrizozo road and certainly merit the thanks of the entire county for the interest thus manifested in the good cause.

Notice.

I leave this morning for a visit to the schools in the southern and eastern part of the county, to be absent a week or ten days. Therefore, all warrants arriving during my absence will, necessarily await my return for approval.

Respectfully,
JNO. A. HALKY
Supt. of Schools.

William J. Marsh and Edwin Longman, of Ontario, Canada, prospective homeseekers, stopped off a few days here this week to look over the country, with a view to taking up land, as farming is their business in the dominion. Leroy R. Wade, although a comparatively new comer himself, is as much interested in the development of Lincoln county as the best of us, took them in tow and showed them around. They expressed themselves as favorably impressed with the farming possibilities of the country, although admitting that a little more moisture wouldn't hurt. The gentlemen stated that they are the advance guard of a number of other farmers in Ontario who are meditating moving in this direction.

The Philadelphia Strike.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 10.—Companies E. and F., of the second regiment, were today ordered to proceed to Saratoga immediately for strike duty.

Strike leaders gave out detailed figures this morning to prove their claim that 125,000 to 150,000 men are idle as a result of the general strike. The number out in each trade is given, the total being 139,571.

An important accession to the ranks of the strikers is announced from Camden, N. J., where 1500 carpenters went out. About the same number quit work at suburban points, and the men declared that if necessary 2200 carpenters would be called out in Montgomery county, adjacent to Philadelphia, today.

Cleveland, March 10.—The various local bodies of the Garment Workers' union voted a strike last night by an overwhelming majority. Eight thousand will be affected.

The strike is called in sympathy with the employes of a large Cleveland suit manufactory who have been on strike for many weeks.

Glens Falls, N. Y., March 10.—Three hundred union men walked out of the South Glens Falls mills of the International Paper company yesterday, and in less than five minutes later 28 strike breakers walked in.

Taft's Lament.

Frank B. Lord, Washington correspondent for Norman E. Mack's National Monthly, sums up the situation this way:

Come home, come home, brave Teddy, come home;
I have troubles enough and to spare,
Don't leave me to blunder, forlorn and alone—
You can hunt in the canebrakes for bear.

Pinchot and Glavis, those watch dogs of yours,
They have Ballinger up in a tree,
Pinchot's loud barking I could not endure,
For I knew he was barking at me.

Those fiery insurgents here from the west,
They do not like Aldrich or Joe,
Because I have favored them more than the rest,
Those insurgents are tramping my toe.

I tried them with laughter and broadest of smiles,
I showed them the size of my fist,
Each shot I have fired, missed them a mile,
But angered the game that I wished.

I do not believe in your lecturing in France,
While I have so much to endure,
Although I'm a trifle too large for your pants,
I cannot keep step in your shoes.

Play Ball!

The base ball enthusiasts of Carrizozo have decided that it would never do to allow the base ball season to pass along without having the town represented. Accordingly W. R. James has been asked to call a meeting of all interested in the game to meet on Monday evening at the railroad club room at 7:30 p. m., for the purpose of organizing a team, and appointing a manager and captain, and to discuss any other matters relating to the game that may come before the meeting. There is material enough in the town to form a strong team; all that is necessary is to line 'em up. The bats, balls, mitts, uniforms, etc., belonging to last year's team are all to the good and all that will be required to put the boys in shape is to ap-point regular practicing days.

A Card of Thanks.

We desire, through the columns of the News, to tender our heart-felt thanks to the many friends who so deeply impressed us with their sympathy and comfort on the death of our wife and mother. Attorney J. E. Wharton, of El Paso, passed through Carrizozo this week on his way to and from Lincoln, where he went to attend a meeting of the probate court.

S. Szily, of Clovis, the architect for the new county buildings, was here this week, consulting with the board of county commissioners on plans for the buildings.

Bruce Stewart, formerly of Ruidoso and Fort Stanton but now of Tularosa, spent a few days in Carrizozo this week. He expects to leave for east Texas in the near future.

On March 2nd, immediately prior to his retirement, Governor Curry appointed A. E. Cook of this place a special mounted police officer for the El Paso and Southwestern railway.

Bids for positions for one conductor and one flagman on the Southwestern between El Paso and Tucumcari will be received until March 23, according to a bulletin issued by W. E. McGraw trainmaster at Carrizozo.

J. H. Greer was down from Nogal Tuesday to consult a lawyer on some mining matters. He reports mining in that district rather sluggish at present, with indications good for considerable activity later.

The Stag saloon—Gray Bros.' place—is being painted and renovated this week, inside and out. Fred Ferguson is manipulating the brushes. The colors are pink and green, the green predominating. Looks as if the boys are getting ready for the 17th.

March came in like a lamb, but the proverbial lion showed up nine days later, and from present indications will likely remain until the end of the month. The wind and sleet storm Wednesday and Thursday was as surprising as it was sudden, after the balmy weather of the past month.

Mrs. Byfield died at Nogal yesterday evening and will be buried in the Nogal cemetery this (Friday) evening. The deceased lady was the mother of C. H. Byfield, and was well advanced in years. She resided in this county for a long number of years, and was highly respected by all who knew her.

A. H. Norton and Sabino Gonzales were down from Jicarilla a couple of days this week. They are respectively justice of the peace and constable of that precinct and were here to answer a complaint charging them with assaulting one of the Price boys. The hearing was continued, however, until next week.

B. F. Gumm, father of W. L. Gumm of this place, came up last week from El Paso, and will spend the summer. Though the frost of many winters has whitened the locks of this kind old gentleman, he has lost nothing of his energetic spirit, and will devote his time to the raising of a garden.

A man answering to the name Eugenio Garcia, charged with disposing of several hundred head of sheep, on which the Holzman mercantile company of Corona held a mortgage, was arrested in the Manzano mountains Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff Baird who lodged him in jail, pending his preliminary hearing, which is set for Saturday.

The Capitan train that left here yesterday morning has not yet reached its destination, and is tied up seven or eight miles out on the branch line. The bridge that crosses Tercolote canon was noticed to be on fire, as the train approached, and very soon burned out. A force of men are at work putting in a temporary bridge, which will enable the train to proceed sometime today, it is believed.

RARE TYPE OF MAN

Rev. Watson Dana Never Tipped Hat to a Woman.

Archbold's Cousin Never Touched Liquor, Tobacco, and Has Not Seen a Theatrical Performance, Though 70 Years Old.

Kansas City, Mo.—Rev. Watson Dana, cousin of the late Charles A. Dana, the famous editor of the New York Sun, and of John D. Archbold, Rev. Watson Dana.

the Standard Oil multi-millionaire, who visited in this city at the home of his son, 1216 Tracy avenue recently, although more than 70 years old, has never raised his hat to a woman, and declares he never will.

"No man has greater respect for womankind than I," said Rev. Mr. Dana, "but for a man to raise his hat to her is an act of sacrilege. The Bible teaches us to uncover our heads on entering the temple of the most high, and this mark of respect I reserve for my God."

Mr. Dana has never touched liquor, never chewed tobacco, smoked or gambled, has never told a lie and has preached the Gospel for 50 years. He has never entered a theater or seen a theatrical performance, has never traveled a mile on train or boat on Sunday.

He has not an enemy in the world and has never spoken unkindly of his fellowman. He has the reputation of being the best loved man in Ohio. He has given away a fortune, but has never been involved in a lawsuit and has never had a fight.

Rev. Watson Dana's great-grandfather was one of the party that first settled in Washington county, Ohio, in 1778. They founded the town of Newport, a city that is surrounded with historical spots and famous places.

He was born in 1836 in the house his father built on Dana's run, within a stone's throw of the Dana mill, whose crumbling stone walls served for pictures for many a famous artist.

His father was a minister and the boy grew up in an atmosphere of religion. Early in life he began preaching. As he expresses it, his college course was taken behind the counter of a country store and his theological course on horseback.

There was not a railroad in the state in his boyhood and many a ride of 20, 40 and 50 miles he has taken on horseback that he might be able to preach to a few farmers and settlers in a little neighborhood, too poor to support a minister.

Time and again he has been called late at night to ride through storm and cold to the bedside of some parishioner. He frequently walked miles to preach rather than profane the Sabbath by taking a convenient train. He has never had his life insured.

THRONE FOR AMERICAN GIRL

Servian King Said to Have Sent Envoy to United States to Find Heiress.

Washington.—Count Pablow Mysky Treskaya, the confidential agent of King Peter of Servia, has been in this country for several weeks on a mission involving the probable marriage of the Servian prince to American girls. The count denied that Prince George and his brother, Prince Alexander, are fortune hunters, although he admitted that they would not let comfortable fortunes stand in the way of matrimonial alliances.

A rich Chicago bride for future queen of Servia would be just about what King Peter would like.

Both sons of King Peter are preparing to travel early in the new year, and the itinerary includes a two-months' stay in the United States, unless the agent's report makes it inadvisable. One of them will succeed to the throne.

It is reported that King Peter commissioned Count Treskaya to come to this country and report what opportunity his two sons might have toward making an alliance with American girls.

Servia does not maintain a diplomatic representative in Washington, and this may have made the count's business difficult to transact. He is well supplied with funds by the house of Morgan, Harjes & Co., the Paris branch of J. P. Morgan & Co.

A report that the Servian princes want to marry American girls reached Washington last spring. Czar Nicholas, Emperor Francis Joseph and King George of Greece tried to plan an alliance for the sons of King Peter, but none of these would consider an alliance with any princes to whom they were individually related.

This is why the prince will seek to marry merely money.

Enterprising Opium Smugglers.

Of opium smuggling in China a Yunnan correspondent writes: "The other day some men passed through several towns on the way to the capital with three coffins. In the first was a corpse; the other two were packed with opium. Being suspected at Yunnanfu, the first coffin was opened, but the carriers made as much noise as they could for having their coffin burst and the second and third coffins were not examined. Quite common is it for men to travel in small crowds, smuggling opium from the province of Kweichow. They travel by night only, by lantern light over the mountains and in the day hide from any possible official searches."

This Contractor got results. He knew how to feed his men. Some years ago a contractor building a railroad in a warm climate was troubled a great deal by sickness among the laborers.

He turned his attention at once to their food and found that they were getting full rations of meat and were drinking water from a stream near by.

He issued orders to cut down the amount of meat and to increase greatly the quantity of Quaker Oats fed to the men.

He also boiled Quaker Oats and mixed the thin oatmeal water with their drinking water.

Almost instantly all signs of stomach disorders passed and his men showed a decided improvement in strength and spirits.

This contractor had experience that taught him the great value of good oatmeal.

Attention Sick Women

If you had positive proof that a certain remedy for female ills had made many remarkable cures, would you not feel like trying it?

If during the last thirty years we have not succeeded in convincing every fair-minded woman that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands and thousands of women of the ills peculiar to their sex, then we long for an opportunity to do so by direct correspondence. Meanwhile read the following letters which we guarantee to be genuine and truthful.

Hudson, Ohio.—"I suffered for a long time from a weakness, inflammation, dreadful pains each month and suppression. I had been doctoring and receiving only temporary relief, when a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and wrote to you for advice. I have faithfully followed your directions and now, after taking only five bottles of the Vegetable Compound, I have every reason to believe I am a well woman. I give you full permission to use my testimonial."—Mrs. Lena Carmocino, Hudson, Ohio. R. F. D. No. 7.

St. Regis Falls, N. Y.—"Two years ago I was so bad that I had to take to my bed every month, and it would last from two to three weeks. I wrote to you for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in dry form. I am happy to say that I am cured, thanks to your medicine and good advice. You may use my letter for the good of others."—Mrs. J. H. Leyerer, St. Regis Falls, N. Y.

There is absolutely no doubt about the ability of this grand old remedy, made from the roots and herbs of our fields, to cure female diseases. We possess volumes of proof of this fact, enough to convince the most skeptical.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

The Lost Laird and His Dog

By C. ELLIS

(Copyrighted by Short Stories Co., Ltd.)

In a wild, mountainous district of Argyleshire, not far from the head of Loch Fyne, was situated the sheep farm where on many occasions I had been a welcome guest. The farmhouse was pleasantly located at the foot of a long glen and sheltered by some fine old fir trees from the blasts which in winter swept down the valley.

It was a fine winter day when I and a friend arrived at Loch Goll-head, where our host, or, as he was called, the laird, had appointed to meet us, and we received a right hearty welcome on landing from the steamer. He had with him his favorite collie, Caesar, which I had known as a puppy, but whatever claim he had to beauty in his youth had vanished. He had then a fine, glossy coat of black and white, his face was well marked and a bushy tail hung "o'er his hinders." Now, alas! that appendage was sadly imperfect, his ears were "ribboned," his face scarred in many places and he had but one eye left. Caesar now looked anything but an amiable beauty. His master was, however, proud of him as a sheep dog.

Soon afterward we did ample justice to a substantial meal of sheep's head broth and roast mutton, over which we discussed our plans for spending the next few days. Our host promised us some good sport if we were prepared to face the hills, where the white hares were plentiful; and we gladly availed ourselves of the offer.

On one of our walks, when we were far up on the hills and several miles from the farmhouse, the laird marked a sheep, telling us at the same time that he would on the morrow give us an example of Caesar's skill. The sheep was selected as a contribution to the dinner which was to be given to the shepherds and their families at Cairndhu on New Year's day.

At breakfast next morning the laird told us that Caesar was to fetch down the marked sheep from the hills. "There is a gate," he said, "about four miles down the loch side and by the time we get there the dog and the sheep will not be far off."

We went out into the yard and his master having spoken a few words in Gaelic to the dog away Caesar went, clearing the rough stone dikes in single bounds, as he ran up the mountain. Away he went, higher and higher, until we lost sight of him altogether and only a distant bark echoed at intervals down the glen. An hour's brisk walk brought us to the appointed place and, sure enough, there was Caesar with his charge safe and sound. To one only slightly acquainted with the working of collies it seemed marvelous how the dog could have singled out and brought in the sheep from so great a distance in so short a time.

"Ah," said the laird, "it needs a bit of generalship to do it, but Caesar, like his namesake, is a great general. He knew perfectly well what was wanted when I marked that sheep yesterday, and this morning, when I started him off, he made straight for the place where it was likely to be found; his difficulty then was to separate it from the rest of the flock, for, as you know, sheep always follow each other. To manage this he gets between the marked sheep and the others and, by crouching down among the bracken and starting up suddenly when the sheep approach he frightens them and by constantly repeating this stratagem he gradually increases the distance between the flock and the single sheep. When the separation is accomplished his task becomes easy and he has then only to drive the animal to the appointed place."

Caesar must have gone through an amazing amount of work in that short time, but he seemed thoroughly to appreciate his master's account of his performance as he lay on the grass, his tongue hanging out and his tail wagging with satisfaction.

Meanwhile the snow had been and was falling fast; it lay several inches deep on the road outside and a keen north wind was blowing which would cause heavy drifts on the mountains, so the laird congratulated himself upon having got his flocks to safer shelters in time. As the fall of snow seemed likely to continue, he proposed making his way back to the farm and sending a trap to convey us home later on.

Fully two hours elapsed and we were now waiting somewhat anxiously for the arrival of the trap, when we heard the most diabolical howling of a dog outside. At first we took no particular notice of it, but after a time one of the men came in and told us that Caesar seemed to be looking for someone. The man himself was under the influence of the "dew" of his native mountains and as we opened the door to admit the dog he stumbled back to the shed, where the pipes continued to skirl. Caesar shook the half-melted snow from his back, but no words would pacify him and he continued to give vent to the most unearthly howls and at the same time kept making for the door, as if to induce us to follow him.

"I am afraid there is something the matter," said my companion; "we had better go out and see what Caesar wants."

No sooner had we put on our coats and caps and opened the door than Caesar began to bark and jump about in a wild state of excitement, running along the road and then back again to us. If he had been able to speak he could not have told us in plainer language that he wanted us to come with him, and so we drew our caps close around our ears and, buttoning our coats tighter, we started to follow the dog. It was bitterly cold and the snow, which was still falling, lay more than ankle-deep. We were able to make out the road only by keeping the dark waters of the loch on our left well in view, all landmarks were obliterated, and otherwise we had to trust to the guidance of the dog.

For more than an hour we toiled along through the wild night, Caesar never for a moment relaxing his efforts to hasten our progress, and kept hurrying on before us and barking.

So we left the road and faced the steep hill. The ascent was very arduous, no path of any kind to guide us, and often we were up to our knees in snow. We were entirely at the mercy of the dog, who continued to bark as he plunged through the drifts, always, however, coming back as if to encourage us. In this way we proceeded for more than half an hour up the hill, when Caesar suddenly made another rush away. We stood still and listened; in a few minutes we heard at some distance off the same dismal howl which had first drawn us from the comfortable fireside at the inn.

We increased our pace as much as we could, although it was no easy matter, ploughing through the deep drifts of snow and stumbling over the boulders and rocks which lay hidden beneath, but we made the best of our way to where the sound came from. As we approached nearer we heard a man's voice and we almost broke into a run, stumbling and falling at every step. Caesar now bounded to meet us and immediately hurried back to a place where he scraped and scratched away the snow, clearing a large space round the prostrate form of a man.

"Thank God," he muttered in a feeble voice, "that you have come at last; it has seemed a long time to me, but I knew you were coming by the barking of the dog. I feared it was to be my last night on earth, and so it would have been, had it not been for that good and faithful creature."

Long before he had finished speaking we had recognized our host, the laird.

"What has happened and how came you to be here?" we exclaimed together.

"I'm afraid my leg is broken," he replied; "I am quite helpless."

I did all in my power to render the laird comfortable until assistance arrived and again I had an opportunity of observing the sagacity of Caesar, for between the interval of scraping away the snow he came and crouched down beside his master in order to impart to him what warmth he could from his own body.

In due course our friend returned from Cairndhu, bringing with him a medical gentleman whom he was fortunate enough to have found at the inn, and with other willing hands we were soon able to carry the laird home.

Caesar's exploit gained for him a great reputation and he lived for many years afterward the most respected collie in the district.

Bread Costly in Sweden.

Consular reports show that in no place in Europe is bread so high as in Sweden, and particularly in Stockholm. The wheat bread varies in weight and price according to the whim of the baker, and the conditions are so exacting that a law is demanded by the authorities of Stockholm calling for sale by weight. A kilo (2.2 pounds) of bread, selling in Sweden for 13.4 cents, costs in Belgium 6.4 cents; in England, 8 cents; in France, 7.3 cents; in Holland, 4.5 cents; in Russia, 5.8 cents, and in Germany, 9.3 cents. The duty on wheat in France is 33 per cent. higher than in Sweden, but the price of bread is 75 per cent. lower, and in Germany 43 per cent. While the price of bread in Europe has risen steadily for the last ten years, in Sweden it has increased 84 per cent., of which 21 per cent. is during the last four years.

Teach Children to Be Fearless.

Don't run to baby and pick him up the minute he falls. The child whose mother runs to him and moans over him the minute he falls is a much-to-be-pitied little man. Her terrified face and cry of "Are you hurt, darling? Tell mamma where. Poor little pet!" etc., will make him cry at once, whether he is hurt or not.

Very soon he will imagine that the slightest untoward event hurts him, and will grow peevish and fretful.

A child who is not fussed by a nervous and adoring mother is very different. He may have many falls; he probably will. But very soon, with his mother's cheery "No damage done, dearie!" in his ears, he will learn, unless things are really rather bad, to pick himself up and go on quite happily with his interrupted game.

Shocking the Chauffeur.

"I used to think it was bad enough in Paris," the woman began, "where the cabbies swear at you if they come within an ace of running over you and don't, but it's just as bad here. You know Monday night, how it rained? Well, I was crossing Forty-second street, or trying to cross it and hold my umbrella at one and the same time, when the wind blew me against an automobile that was turning the corner. I never saw anything like the glare of the driver.

"Why don't you keep your eyes about you?" he shrieked. "You nearly stopped my machiae!"—New York Press.

NEW LAW AFFECTS

ALL HOMESTEADERS

No Contest Based on Abandonment Can Be Filed For Nine Months.

The provisions of the law passed by Congress on January 28th last, and which affected in an important way all homesteaders in New Mexico, have been made public and are as follows:

(a) All homestead entrymen or settlers are granted a leave of absence for three months beginning January 28, 1910.

(b) All homestead entrymen who made application to enter after June 1, 1909, are allowed until May 15, 1910, to establish residence on their claims.

(c) All declarants who made soldier's declaratory statements after June 1, 1909, are given until May 15, 1910, in which to make homestead application and establish residence on the land.

(d) It is especially provided that the law will not be held to defeat the adverse claim of anyone making entry over a soldier's declaratory statement, who prior to January 28, 1910, had established a bona fide residence on the land entered.

(e) It is also especially provided in this law that the period of commutation or of actual residence under the homestead law shall not be shortened. Entrymen who have taken advantage of this extension cannot submit commutation proof until they have maintained substantially continuous residence for fourteen months from the date residence was established; and to make five year proof on a homestead entry, entrymen cannot claim credit for constructive residence for more than the usual six months prior to the date actual residence was established. This means that any entrymen who take advantage of the three months' leave of absence granted under this law cannot claim credit for residence during the time they are absent under such leave, the period of their absence being eliminated from consideration in cases of both final and commutation proofs.

While the instructions received by the local land office in regard to this law do not contain a complete interpretation of the law, the register and receiver are of the opinion and will hold that no contest affidavits against a homestead entryman where the charge is abandonment can be brought or filed during the period beginning January 28, 1910, and ending October 28, 1910, which covers nine months. As a contest cannot be brought against a homestead entryman who is absent from his claim under a leave of absence, or until six months after the expiration of the leave of absence, this will make it October 28, 1910, before any new contests against homestead entrymen can be brought in the territory of New Mexico on a charge of abandonment.
