SANTA FE, NEW MEXICO, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1909

NO. 266

PROMPT REPORT OF COMMITTEES

No Hitch in the Confirmation of U. S. Land Office Appointments

OTHER NOMINATIONS GO OVER

Both Houses of Congress Considering Seriously the Ballinger Letter.

Special to the New Mexican.
Washington, Dec. 21.—The nominations of M. R. Otero to be register and Fred Muller to be receiver of the federal land office at Santa Fe, and of Manuel Martinez to be receiver, and Edward W. Fox to be register at the land office at Clayton, Union county, were reported favorably today by the committee on public lands.
In the absence of the chairman of the committee on judiciary, no action has been taken thus far on the nominations of Judge W. H. Pope to be chief justice, Creighton M. Foraker to be U. S. marshal and Joseph E. Morrison to be U. S. district attorney for Arizona, and confirmation will not take place until reconvening of Congress in January after the Christmas holidays.

The letter of Secretary of the Interior R. A. Ballinger relating to charges against the interior department, is receiving the serious attention of both Houses of Congress.

Former District Attorney Jeremiah Leahy left today for his home at Raton.

Viljoen Will Not Get Collectorship.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Upon the representations of Postmaster General Hitchcock, it has been finally decided not to give the customs collec-torship at El Paso, Texas, to a New Mexico man, but to permit the Texas Republican organization to name the candidate.

Controversy Reaches Climax.

Washington, Dec. 21.—President Taft today yielded to the demands of both Secretary Ballinger and his critics for a public investigation of the whole subject matter underlying the so-called Ballinger-Pinchot controversy.

Ballinger Serves Ultimatum.

Mr. Ballinger this afternoon served upon the President virtually an ultimatus to the effect that such an investigation was indeed the price of his remaining in the cabinet. He made it clear that he was no longer willing to sit silent and wait for the thing to blow over.

President Sorely Disappointed.

Mr. Taft it is said, reluctantly admitted the disappointment of his hopes that the country at large would accept as final his own vindication of Mr. Ballinger in his dismissal of the charges brought against the secretary of the interior by L. R. Glavis, the former special agent of the land office, and his conclusion that the investigation demanded by both sides was inevitable.

Heroic Measures Demanded.

Mr. Ballinger's attitude in this matter has the support of leading Republicans in both branches of Congress—Senators and Representatives, who feel that, entirely apart from the merits of the controversy itself, a festering sore of this character must poison the whole system of the party in power, and that it is high time to resort to the lance.

These doctors, determined to clean the wound, have not hesitated to go to the White House and impress their views upon Mr. Taft. Conferences of a confidential character in which members of the cabinet, party leaders in both Houses and the President himself have participated, have been held in the last few days. They culminated today when Secretary Ballinger, Attorney General Wickersham, and Postmaster General Hitchcock met in Mr. Wickersham's office and proceeded thence to the White House where the matter was laid before the President.

Calls Situation Intolerable.

Mr. Ballinger told the President, it is said, that the situation had become intolerable to him and that, though the constant charges against him had come from irresponsible people, he could no longer sit supinely by and in justice to himself, he felt compelled to insist upon an investigation.
The President was given to understand that Mr. Ballinger's demand carried with it the endorsement of both Mr. Wickersham and Mr. Hitchcock. It is known tonight that he has the sympathy also of other members of the cabinet.

Senate Will Inquire.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 21.—The Senate today practically decided upon an inquiry in the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy by adopting a resolution introduced by Senator Flint of California calling for all papers bearing upon the case. Senator Jones of Washington, stated if no one else should propose a resolution of inquiry he would do so after the holidays.

ZELAYA IS STILL DEFIANT

Nicaragua and Uncle Sam Must Accept Madriz or Fight

IRIAS WAS HIS CANDIDATE

Like Admiral Pomposo He Boasts of Leading the Army to Victory.

New Orleans, Dec. 21.—A special to the Playmate from Port Limon, Costa Rica, quotes a telegram sent the Nicaraguan minister there by Zelaya.
In it the latter says: "Although there is still some unrest to be allayed, I believe matters will end satisfactorily for the good of all and in spite of the fact that Irias was my candidate, I have accepted Dr. Madriz. I have issued instructions to General Vasquez to come to terms with the revolutionists in order to prevent American intervention. If they accept Madriz everything will be at an end. If not, I shall hand over my command to my candidate and place myself at the head of the army and lead it to victory."

Americans Plead for Protection.

Managua, Dec. 21.—The United States consulate today received a plea for protection of the Americans at Granada. The petition asked that marines be landed at Corinto immediately and sent to Granada. Granada is one of President Madriz's strongholds.

SMALL HOLDING CLAIM FILINGS

Must Be Made by March First Or Settlers May Lose Homes

UNPAID TAX TROUBLES

Two Suits in District Court Illustrate Folly of Being Delinquent.

Governor Curry today sent long telegrams to Chief Forester Gifford Pincho in reference to the throwing open to land office entry of the region south of the Pecos forest reserve, in the vicinity of San Miguel, San Miguel county, and which had been withdrawn from entry with the intention of including it in the Pecos forest reserve. The land is to be thrown open on March 1 next year, but it is feared that many of the settlers who have thus far failed to file their small holdings will lose their homes, or be subject at least, to contest proceedings unless they make the necessary filings by March 1.

Notaries Public Appointed.

Governor Curry today appointed as notaries public, James E. Swepston, Artesia, Eddy county; Thomas W.
Hanna, Lamy, Santa Fe county.

Incorporation Amendment.

The Grant Oil and Gas Company of Roswell today filed in the office of Territorial Secretary Nathan Jaffa, an amendment to its incorporation papers increasing its capitalization from $500,000 to $1,000,000.

Insurance Company Seeks Admission.

The Oklahoma National Life Insurance Company of Oklahoma City, Okla., has applied to Insurance Commissioner Jacobo Chaves for certificate permitting it to engage in business in New Mexico.

District Court.

Suit was filed in the district court for Santa Fe county today by P. J.
Franklin of Colorado Springs, against Francisco de Anaya, et al., including all settlers and claimants on the La Cieneguilla land grant of 3,202.79 acres south of Santa Fe in Santa Fe county, excepting Jesus M. Romero, Eulogio Mora, Pera Narvaiz and Trinidad Romero to quiet title, the plaintiff having purchased the grant at tax sale.

In the district court for Santa Fe county, in the matter of the estate of Mrs. Benigna Garcia de Delgado, the administrators Manuel Valdez and Alfredo Delgado, have asked authority to give deed to J. S. Candelario for property sold Mrs. L. A. Harvey for $1,300 and by the latter to J. S. Candelario for $1,470, at the corner of Burro alley, the sale being necessary to pay $1,900 of delinquent taxes owed by the estate. Permission is also asked to sell other real estate in order to raise the additional $600 in taxes owed by the estate.

NATHAN SALMON.

BUSINESS MAN SETS PACE WORTHY OF EMULATION

Nathan Salmon Starting In With Comparatively Nothing Succeeds In Building Up One of the Largest Businesses In the Southwest.

When strangers visit Santa Fe and note the great progress which the city is making they never fail to note one of its main attractions, the Big Store.
Nathan Salmon, the proprietor, has gained a reputation as being among the city's best boosters. At no time does he overlook an opportunity to say or do something that redounds to Santa Fe's credit. When he came here he started into business on San Francisco street, a little below where the present store is located. At the time his capital was very limited and his store consisted of but one small room. Through pluck and energy he gradually succeeded in building up a trade that constantly necessitated larger quarters. Salmon possessed a faculty of pleasing his customers and once he secured their patronage he never lost it. In 1906 his business had increased to such a degree that he was compelled to erect larger quarters. This he did, erecting the present business block which is such a credit to Santa Fe. The store is modern in every respect and compares favorably with any in the east.

His many years of activity in the business world have given Mr. Salmon experience that is now invaluable to him. He carries as large a line of stock as is carried by any store in the whole southwest. The variety of goods carried is always astonishing and customers seldom fail to find just what they are looking for. What is not kept in stock can as a rule be secured upon reasonable notice as the Big Store has excellent connections with eastern houses.

Salmon has built up a reputation as an A 1 business man and is noted for the splendid manner in which he treats his employees. The latter show their appreciation by being extremely courteous to customers who come to the store and work with heart and soul for the interests of the house.

To Salmon there is no place like Santa Fe which he dearly loves. He has unbounded faith in the city's future and is constantly showing his faith by investing his money in new improvements. In the near future he intends building a number of dwelling houses and also has other plans of adding to the improvement of Santa Fe. Being a man who is fond of travel he gets about the country very frequently and in this way is able to say a good word for the town on the outside.

Of late many new improvements have been added at the Big Store and the stock has been made as complete as any one could desire.

Whenever a charitable enterprise is undertaken or when a civic move is in progress, Nathan Salmon's name is always at the head of the list of contributors. He has never been known to refuse an appeal for aid and besides financial assistance he has always lent great moral and active support. This trait has gained for him hundreds and hundreds of friends and has made him popular.

Today he is regarded as one of the Southwest's most successful business men and it is little wonder that Santa Fe is proud of him.

Having built up a large retail business Salmon has also a very large wholesale business which is constantly increasing in volume.

On the evenings of the 23d and 24th the Big Store has engaged a band to be on hand and render choice selections. Everybody is cordially invited.

FOURTEEN BELOW AT ROSWELL

Coldest Since Three Years

FEARS FOR LIVE STOCK

Snow Has Been Falling Over Southeastern New Mexico Since Sunday.

Roswell, N. M., Dec. 21.—The thermometer touched fourteen below zero here early this morning, the coldest on record for three years. There are fears for the safety of livestock on the range should the cold weather continue. No serious losses have been reported up to date. Snow has been falling from Clovis south and the cold throughout this section of eastern New Mexico has been severe.

Blizzard at Tucson.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 21.—A heavy snow fell again in the Gila valley, Arizona, extending to Tucson, while the worst sleet storm that ever struck southern Texas is now raging from Floresville south towards the coast.
The thermometer has been below freezing at El Paso since last Friday and the ground here and northern New Mexico is covered with snow.
Many cattle are dying.

Below Zero at Albuquerque.

Says the Albuquerque Tribune-Chizen of last evening: "Old Man Boreas, who has been visiting Albuquerque intermittently for several days, decided to spend Sunday here. He arrived Saturday night and has not yet departed. He blew his chilly breath against the thermometers about town and those instruments immediately ducked, the mercury inside of them going down below zero."

Bitter Cold at Laguna.

Laguna, N. M., Dec. 21.—Laguna is suffering from bitter cold weather, the lowest temperature being nineteen and a half degrees below zero with a maximum temperature for the twenty-four hours of twelve degrees above the cipher. It has been extremely cold for several days.

GRUSADE AGAINST GAMBLING AT ROSWELL.

Four Young Men of Prominent Fam- ilies Arrested—Saloonkeeper Sent to Jail by Judge Pope.

Roswell, N. M., Dec. 21.—A sensational revival of the official crusade against gambling in Roswell came Sunday night when following a police raid on a private residence in East Roswell four young men belonging to well known families were arrested on the charge of playing the festive game of poker for stakes. The raid was entirely a surprise and it is alleged that the young men were caught with the goods upon their person. They had their hearing this afternoon and considerable public interest was taken in the matter.

Leopold Remanded to Custody.

Another feature of Roswell's lid crusade came up in the district court when Judge Pope denied a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Carl Leopold, a prominent and wealthy saloon owner, who pleaded guilty to selling liquor to minors on December 4, 1907, and was given a sixty day jail sentence, which was suspended until further order from the court. Leopold was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

In his opinion the court states that he finds sufficient showing has been made at this time to warrant issuing the order of commitment. Leopold's attorney has given notice of appeal and will make a fight to secure bond pending the appeal. The petitioner for habeas corpus claims that commitment at this remote rate is illegal.

Leopold Goes to Jail.

Roswell, N. M., Dec. 21.—After a stubborn legal fight, and five days of habeas corpus proceedings by which Carl Leopold, capitalist and saloon owner, sought to escape a jail sentence, he will now have to serve out his sixty days' sentence. The commitment is on a suspended sentence of two years ago for selling liquor to minors. Judge Pope in this case sustained his former decision.

GREAT BRITAIN ADMITS RED CROSS STAMPS.

Thus Far Had Refused to Carry in Its Mails Letters or Parcels Having it Attached.

Chicago, Dec. 21.—The ban has taken off the Red Cross Christmas stamp by the postal authorities of Great Britain and hereafter letters bearing the "little bullets" in the warfare against consumption, will be admitted to England and Ireland provided they carry the proper amount of postage stamps. Hundreds of letters bearing Christmas stamps and directed to England or Ireland which have been held here were forwarded last night.

COOK DID NOT REACH POLE

At Least He Failed to Present Proof to University

SOLEMN VERDICT RENDERED

Committee and Consistory at Copenhagen Much Disappointed.

Copenhagen, Dec. 21.—The University of Copenhagen, the first institution of learning to recognize Dr. Frederick A. Cook, as discoverer of the North Pole, today solemnly declared that the explorer had failed to establish the claim on which his high honors had been based. The committee appointed by the University to examine Cook's records presented its report to the consistory of the university which reviews the deduction of experts with the greatest care. That both the committee and the consistory were disappointed was soon known here. The consistory met today and adopted a written report to the effect that the alleged records submitted for examination by Dr. Cook failed to prove his claim. The report of the committee, of which Professor Stromgren was chairman, as presented to the consistory, states that Cook's papers are without any value, that his report to the University of Copenhagen is practically the same as that published in the New York Herald on his return from the Arctic expedition.
The copies of his notebook submitted, says the committee, contains no original calculations of observations, but only the results thereof. Accordingly the committee concludes that he affords no proof of having reached the pole.

The documents handed the commission of the University for examination are first, a type written report prepared by Cook's secretary, Walter Lonsdale, and covering sixty-one pages of foolscap; second, typewritten copy made by Lonsdale from Cook's notes books. This comprises sixteen pages of foolscap and includes the description of a period from March 18, 1908, to June 13, 1908, during which, according to the statement of Cook he journeyed from Svartevog to the north pole and returned to a point on the polar ice specially indicated, but west of Axelherberg land.

The papers were not accompanied by a private letter from Cook, but Secretary Lonsdale stated verbally to the commission that the original notes and books of the explorer from which copies were made had been sent to Europe by another route as a precautionary measure and would be delivered to the university in the course of a few days.

In presenting the data, Lonsdale stated explicitly and repeatedly that the copy number two, was a complete and accurate duplicate of the information contained in all of Cook's note books that could be of any importance to the university. In spite of the explorer's promises and his secretary's assurance that they would be forthcoming, the commission is not yet in possession of the original notebooks and diaries.

Up to this time, it has been impossible for the university authorities to reestablish communication with Dr.
Cook. The explorer's address is not even known to Lonsdale. After the members of the examining committee had made themselves acquainted individually with material delivered and so convinced themselves of its worth-lessness as the means of determining whether Cook reached the pole, the president of the committee, Prof.
Stromgren called a general meeting of the committee for last Friday, when the report to the university and which now is made public, was drawn up.

Lonsdale Presents Letter.
Lonsdale, who had been invited to attend this meeting to answer some of the questions, brought with him a letter addressed by Cook to Prof. Torp of the university. The letter bore the post mark, Marseilles, December 14, but is dated New York, September 27.
In the letter, Cook stated that not only were his instruments left at Etah as indicated in his cable to the university on October 20, but most of his astronomical observations also were left there, and he adds, that without these, it seems unwise and impossible to pass final judgment on the expedition.

Friends Lose Faith in Cook.

New York, Dec. 21.—Dr. Cook is now in Christiansand, Norway, according to William L. Cook, his brother. Mr. Cook said that the doctor already has greatly recovered from the nervous breakdown and was ready to go to Copenhagen to give the university further information. "He has foiled us all, from King down," was last night.

THE DAILY ROUND UP.

AN INDIAN LULLABY.

The dusk creeps down from the purple hills, Covering all in a sable pall; Low in the west dark clouds are lying,
Over the day-god's place of dying,
The wavering song of the westwind thrills, Through the poplars tall.

The Song of the Wind of the West,
my child,
Is as old as the world is old.
It was sung in Hills of the Mighty Men

By the beacon fires that crimsoned when We rose in our might, to make the last fight For our homes, when the white man came.

The Song of the Wind of the West,
my child,
Is the breath of a dying race;
And never again will the arrow flee The bow, or the sound of the war-drum be Heard in the hills—oh, the iron hills That were home, ere the white man came.

The Manitou guards my little one In peaceful rest here upon my breast, Hark to the tune the West Wind's singing, Its new note through the woodland ringing—"Give o'er to the white man's ways, have done!

Bide thy time and strive."
—Clarence R. Lindner, in Leslie's.

DISTRICT COURT IN SESSION AT ALBUQUERQUE.

Di Palma and Ruppe Damage Suit Against J. A. Weinman and Joseph Barnett Still Holds Boards.

Albuquerque, N. M., Dec. 21.—R. Ruppe, plaintiff in the case of Di Palma and Ruppe against J. A. Weinman and Joseph Barnett, was still on the witness stand yesterday afternoon when Judge Abbott adjourned court for the day. Mr. Ruppe went on the stand Saturday at noon and will probably be continued on cross-examination today. The case probably will not be completed before Wednesday or Thursday.

Judged Insane.

John Kennedy, a transient, who was taken to the county jail several days ago after giving evidence of being of unsound mind, was examined by Judge Ira A. Abbott yesterday afternoon and after examination by Dr. C. A. Frank, county physician, was ordered committed to the insane asylum at Las Vegas. Kennedy, who is about 50 years old, says he worked in the shops here some six years ago and that he has since lived in Daggett, Calif. He says he is suffering from blows on the head received some years ago at the hands of some natives who assaulted him.

Arrested for Fighting.

C. Riggs, a mining man who has been in Albuquerque for some time, and L. Lowery, also a resident here, for some time past engaged in a fist encounter in front of the Arthur Everett jewelry store yesterday afternoon much to the entertainment of a crowd of Christmas shoppers. Both men were arrested before they had done any serious damage and were taken to police court where they were fined $5 each for fighting. Both men paid the fine and were released. The men had a dispute about some work being done for Riggs and met yesterday in Chapman's shoe store. There, after some words agreed to walk out on the mesa and fight it out. It was apparently too cold outside and too hot inside, however, to allow of the walk to the mesa and when in front of Everett's the fight started.

Officer Frank Quier interfered and placed the men under arrest.

Says Gas Froze.

Archie Cox, a well known chauffeur, was in police court yesterday morning for running his car without lights at night. Judge Craig demanded to know why his lights were out. Cox said he did not know but presumed the gas froze. He was allowed to go.

Bursting Water Pipes.

Albuquerque, N. M., Dec. 21.—"Good morning; has your water pipe bursted?" This was the greeting which a majority of Albuquerque men exchanged with their friends and neighbors as they came down town yesterday morning. Water pipes, frozen and broken, furnished the principal topic of the day, which was the busiest on record for Albuquerque plumbers.

"My telephone is about worn out," said the head of one well known plumbing house yesterday. "I have had more calls in this single day than in a month and how on earth we are to take care of them beats me. We have every crew we can muster out at work, but in spite of all we can do many people will have to wait until tomorrow."

The same condition prevailed in all of the plumbing establishments and the inconvenience to house holders has been very considerable.

Considerable damage was done in the Highlands. Instead of abating, as the weather man had predicted, the thermometer Sunday night showed the cold to be almost as severe as on Saturday night when the mercury touched zero and established a new record for Albuquerque for the ten year period last passed. Warm weather is still predicted and the thaw of yesterday afternoon has brought some comfort to disconsolate householders who are looking forward to the first of the year and the plumbers bill.

INSURANCE HEADS AWAIT 1909 TOTALS ANXIOUSLY.

Increase in Revenues and Profits Expected By Big Straight Line Companies.

New York, Dec. 21.—What will the 1909 totals of insurance be? This question, which is keeping heads of old line companies in the east on the tenterhooks right now, is their version of the "what shall the harvest be" brought up to date by Wall street standards. It has in it the makings of a more widespread interest but not everybody knows it. The insurance totals of 1909 will gauge prosperity but also gauge the public's memory concerning certain partial disclosures regarding its own exploitation as "risks" en masse.

Whether the expected jump in revenues of the old line life and casualty companies has taken place per schedule in spite of certain changing conditions in the insurance field will soon be known. Last year January reports showed totals which indicated subsiding indignation and returning prosperity—both of which meant big dividends for 1909. There was then in force life insurance in New York state alone that totaled $1,653,311,894. In Illinois $813,954,129. In Kansas, $129,682,391, and in South Dakota, $86,258,878 exclusive of fraternal insurance. In the "casualty" field, which nowadays covered two score new and ingenious underwriting plans the last January 1 reports showed some stupendous figures, for the premiums alone in Massachusetts were over $9,160,000, in Illinois $5,835,990 and New York $17,232,310 of which the losses required on an average about 18 per cent. The 43 "casualty" companies even in 1908 made a gain, their surplus earned above dividends being $10,234,972. And the dividends were something ornamental, as nearly everybody contributed somewhere down the list of underwriting novelties.

The size of the increase of revenues and profits is what the captains of the "regular" casualty concerns are awaiting not doubting there was an increase as in every year since it was begun. Also they are bothered by an experiment in cooperative insurance in Chicago which has made revelations regarding the profits made in their field. The older fraternal and mutual forms they had competed with and still prospered, by charging high rates, but the Chicago project has let everybody into the game of exploiting themselves and their friends and bids fair to succeed because the big profits are in the investments of large sums and not in the underwriting. Cutting the underwriting rates to cost by mutuals has not pleased the insurance captain, but giving the public a share of the investment profits "is different," and far more serious to them, the public benefitting.

The life insurance totals increase in 1908 over 1907 quite sharply especially in the agricultural states like South Dakota and Kansas where good crops have been the rule during recent years. In South Dakota the insurance in force jumped from $35,904,949 to over $86,000,000 and in Kansas the gain was a larger percentage of gain than was achieved in eastern states, although the gain in New York was about $65,000,000 and in Massachusetts about $42,000,000. This rule held true in Minnesota also, the gain being from $187,597,539 in 1907, to $196,612,682 in 1908. Illinois increased its insurance in force nearly $25,000,000.

FOOTBALL IS SLANDERED BY FEDERAL JUDGE.

Eastern Universities and Colleges Represent Unfortunate Comparison With Prize Fighting.

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 21.—Judge Edward Whitson of the United States district court of eastern Washington, who presided at a banquet of representative business and professional men interested in the welfare of Spokane college, started something when he declared in the course of an address that football is more injurious than prize-fighting and more disreputable, adding:

"He who attends a prize-fight stands in the shadow of the law and is liable to arrest and punishment. We read of deaths and injuries on the football field, but none in the prize-ring. I am in favor of physical development, but not physical excesses that rob the homes of the land of their youth and strength. Football either should be reformed to remove all dangerous elements or abolished."

Graduates of eastern universities and colleges in Spokane take exception to Judge Whitson's remark in terming football more disreputable than prize-fighting, declaring that, while a lively game cannot be called a pink tea, college football is clean and the term he used, as generally understood, cannot be attached to it.

CREATOR OF BILLIKEN WOULD NOT TAKE PURSE.

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 21.—"Brave little woman and all the more deserving because of her confidence and self-reliance," said Arthur W. Jones, secretary of the 150,000 club, when he read the newspaper dispatches from Kansas City, quoting Florence Pretz, creator of 'Billiken,' as saying that which she appreciated the kindness of the Spokane 'boosters' in arranging to raise a fund of $1,000 or more to be placed at her disposal to continue her art studies. She could not accept a penny. The dispatches also quote Miss Pretz as saying that she can get along very well without 'Billiken' and that she expects to study in Philadelphia next winter, paying her own tuition, adding: "If I can't do that I won't go. It is not false pride on my part to decline to accept the money to be raised by the Spokane 'boosters,' nor is it a sentimental desire to get even with the old 'Billiken.'" Served as coffee, the new coffee substitute known to grocers everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, will trick even a coffee expert. Not a grain of real coffee in it either. Pure healthful toasted grains, malt, nuts, etc., have been so cleverly blended as to give a wonderfully satisfying coffee taste and flavor. And it is "made in a minute," too. No tedious 20 to 30 minutes boiling. Frank Andrews.

THE UNJUST JUDGE.

John Luther Long, a writer of great force and considerable imagination, concludes in January Success Magazine, a two-part story, a satire on criminal procedure in the courts of the United States. While the author emphasizes and distorts the weaknesses inherent in the trial of criminals, the underlying truth of the terrific arraignment must be acknowledged. No less personage than President Taft in his annual message, refers to the medieval character of our criminal procedure which is a relic in part of the feudal ages and of obsolete ideas of crime and justice. It is the strongest part of his message where he pleads for reform. Between the sentiment that a criminal is merely a sick and diseased person who should be sent to a hospital rather than a penal institution, and the sentiment that a criminal is a vicious degenerate who ought to be chloroformed forthwith, there lies a broad middle ground which jurisprudence is beginning to take into consideration and by reason of which, New Mexico's last legislature, for instance, put on the statute books an indeterminate sentence and parole law and made an appropriation for a reform school. There is no longer any doubt that the majority of criminals are such by reason of parentage, education, training, surroundings, physical defects and force of circumstances, rather than because they differ so much in character from those who are not criminal. It is also an acknowledged fact, that quite often a man is sent to the penitentiary for a lesser crime than the man who is honored and succeeds in life, has been guilty of; that a trust king would have been a burglar had he been raised on the Bowery. It happens in this territory that one poor native after another has been sent to the penitentiary for transgressing the Edmunds law, while well-to-do malefactors in high places are openly guilty of a similar sin, frequent houses of ill fame or are faithless to their home ties, and yet, no one thinks of punishing them for it.

One weak spot of criminal law is the jury system. New Mexico has good juries and yet, how often, does not justice miscarry, right here in New Mexico, by reason of the solemn verdict of twelve men tried and true. Scribner's for January, takes up this subject too and Joseph Homer Coates in "Some Difficulties of a Jurymen," says:

"The jurymen from his first entrance in response to the court's peremptory summons finds little in his treatment to impress him with an idea of special dignity in his position, even if he has no overt cause of complaint. He is herded with his fellows, ordered about by the tipstaves or bailiffs of court, addressed in peremptory tones; sometimes, if in his unfamiliarity he is going the wrong way, he is grabbed by one of these gentry of the badge and hustled as if he were the prisoner in the dock. He sits in the court room with an ever-present sense, if he be sensitive, that he must be careful not to get into trouble; the feeling of liberty is gone, he is enveloped in an atmosphere of restraint. Really he is placed more on an equality with the prisoner at the bar than with the judge on the bench, yet he is as essentially a part of the court as that august potentate and may have at any time a greater responsibility imposed on him.

"In some court rooms, when disengaged from the actual trial of any case and awaiting summons to the jury-box, the juror is often forced to sit among criminals, witnesses, loafers, and ill-smelling persons attracted to the court by business or curiosity; though in some court rooms separate seats are provided for the temporary disengaged jurymen.

"The juror is sworn to render his verdict according to the evidence submitted to him and the law in the case. In Pennsylvania, at least, by decision of the supreme court of that state, the jury is declared the judge of the law as well as of the evidence in criminal trials. By what fine-spun reasoning the administration of justice in civil causes may be considered to involve different principles, the special logic of the legal mind will no doubt discover; but in criminal trials in Pennsylvania, if it is not so elsewhere, it would seem as if the supreme court has relegated the sitting judge to the position of a sort of presiding officer or chief clerk or upper bailiff, to keep order in the court and to see that the jury is not interfered with in its duties. Yet often the judge still practically directs the verdict, and perhaps commonly, and properly, influences it.

"The locking up of juries, actually imprisoning them, may be necessary; but any agreement reached in that way appears to correspond pretty closely in terms to what the law books call an agreement extorted 'under duress or imprisonment,' which is fraudulent and invalid. The authority for it rests on the very old precedent of court practice; and no doubt judges would find the most ample justification in law if the right were questioned, especially as there is nobody to decide on their own powers but the judges themselves. It is an indignity for a free citizen, acting as part of a court of justice, to have his liberty taken away by a show of force—for he is taken into custody, led into a room, and locked in forcibly by court officers—and he might well ask himself whether he is capable of rendering a strictly impartial verdict under restraint. Perhaps that is one way of convincing the prisoner at the bar that he is being 'tried by his peers.' In a recent murder trial in New York City, notorious over the whole civilized world, each juror was placed under arrest as he stepped into the jury box, even before the case had opened, and he was kept a close prisoner—unless fortunate enough to be rejected as a juror—throughout the wearisome weeks of that trial. The excuse offered for this indignity—for it is certainly that, disguise it as you will—was that it was necessary to prevent some jurymen being bribed; but it does not seem unreasonable for an honest man to ask why he should be suspected of willingness to be corrupted any more readily than the judge or the district attorney. Judge and district attorneys have been known to be bribed, or bribers, before now; perhaps on the record quite as often as jurymen. Why not lock up the judge and district attorney along with the jury to prevent the possibility, or suspicion, of their being 'reached'?"

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION.

Santiago Esquivel, the son of respected parents, was found frozen to death near Wagon Mound. He had merely imbibed more whisky than was good for him. A murder is reported almost every day in the Southwest and generally when the newspaper story reaches the cause, it says, that the assassin or the victim or both were drunk at the time. In New Mexico, stabbing and shooting scrapes come up before justices of the peace every week and unless newspapers and witnesses lie, nine-tenths of them occur in a saloon and it is a wonder that any respectable person ever feels a desire to go into such a place. Daily a young man loses his job or is fired from office, or is caught stealing his employers' funds. Wine, loose women and gambling are the customary excuses, but generally the latter two are but a sequel of the first. There may be no moral to all this, but if there is, the story is so old, is told so frequently and so persistently, that the man or woman who does not see the point, wouldn't be benefited by being asked to take his or her daily paper every day and analyze the stories of crime, of accidents, of unhappiness, of divorces, of court trials, of events that bring shame, sorrow and disgrace to some one, in order to find the cause and to reason whether it would not be well to eliminate that cause.

The El Paso Herald presents an irrefutable argument when it says:

"Opposition to statehood for the two territories has not a single valid argument to sustain it. The number of Senators never did bear any relation to the population of the different states. The population of the original states varied all the way from Tennessee's 35,000, Delaware's 59,000, and Rhode Island's 68,000, up to New York's 340,000, North Carolina's 332,000, Pennsylvania's 434,000, and Virginia's 747,000. Virginia, therefore, had one Senator to 370,000 people, while Tennessee had one Senator to 17,000 people.

"If the population ratio had ever been applied to the Senate, we should have had no west, no expansion, no development.

"The west needs Senators in proportion to its resources and its opportunities, its undeveloped wealth and its unoccupied land.

"More western Senators mean greater national development, broader national policy, more rapid national progress, and material and moral gains to the older east."

NEW MEXICO'S COPPER PRODUCTION.

The Santa Rita mining district, Grant county, is seventeenth among the big copper producing sections of the United States having four million pounds of blister copper to its credit. Butte was the heaviest producer with 252,500,000 pounds; Lake Superior came second with 222,000,000 pounds; Bisbee, Arizona, third, with 129,000,000 pounds; Morenci, Arizona, fourth, with 77,000,000 pounds; Bingham, Utah, fifth, with 56,000,000 pounds; Globe and Jerome, Arizona, sixth, with 36,000,000 pounds each; Shasta County, California, seventh, with 32,500,000 pounds; Ducktown, Tennessee, eighth, with 19,700,000 pounds; then the following districts in this order: Ely, Nevada, 9,400,000 pounds; Silver Bell, Arizona, 6,700,000 pounds; Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, 6,400,000 pounds; Tintic, Utah, and Frisco, Utah, each 5,500,000 pounds; Leadville, Colorado, 4,600,000 pounds; Calaveras County, California, 4,500,000 pounds, and then Santa Rita with 4,000,000 pounds, followed by southeastern Alaska with 3,000,000 pounds; Encampment, Wyoming, and Lacleen, Utah, 3,300,000 pounds each; and San Juan, Colorado, 2,200,000 pounds. There is no reason to doubt that Santa Fe county and other copper producing districts of New Mexico will some day appear in this list of the leading copper producers of the country, but as it is, Santa Rita, last year, was the only producer of consequence in the Territory for the entire production credited to New Mexico by the smelters was 4,991,351 pounds of blister copper while the mine production was given as 6,112,630 pounds. The year before, 1907, however, production was much larger, the blister production at the smelters being given as 10,140,140 pounds and the production of the mines 10,990,015 pounds only six states exceeding that figure.

The Wide World Magazine for January which has as large a circulation in Great Britain as it has in the United States prints a very realistic photograph which is labeled: "A photograph of the interior of a gambling saloon in New Mexico." Descriptive of the picture it says:

"It is in such dens as this that the cowboys often lose their three months' pay in one night, and sometimes their lives. In fact, I soon came to the conclusion that it was not particularly safe even for me, for as the evening went on the men became more and more excited with drink, the play became reckless, violent quarrels arose, and the place was soon a veritable pandemonium. I accordingly continued my lonely way towards the irrigation settlement, finally reaching home in safety."

It is advertising of that kind which helps to create the wrong and unfavorable impressions at the National capital and in other eastern centers as to the Southwest and especially as to this territory. But after all, who is to blame?

The outcome of the Cook controversy demonstrates once more the truth of the saying of Barnum that the American public loves to be humbugged. Nine of every ten Americans swore by Cook and swore at Peary and yet, in this like so many other instances, the voice of the people was not that of truth nor that of God. Because Peary was indignant and called Cook names, the public took sides against him, yet, the average individual in that public would have called his own brother worse names than Peary called Cook, if that brother attempted to rob him of the credit of a much smaller achievement than that of discovering the North Pole, an achievement upon which Peary had staked his life, his fortune and his reputation.

A homesteader at Mosquero, Union county, writes home to the Baltimore Journal as follows:

"I do not want to deceive anyone in coming to this section, as what suits me might not please others, but I can give my views, having been a resident for several years. I want to say that if I were a young man I would not stay in the east very long knowing what I now do about this section. I would come right to New Mexico, because it is the best section of country I know of for a poor man to get for himself a home and I firmly believe that it will eventually make one of the best and wealthiest states in the Union."

That man has the right spirit and evidently possesses at least the elements that will make for success in New Mexico.

The Daily Herald at Estancia, although Democratic in its leanings, likes Judge McPhee and is frank in saying so, for it comments editorially:

"Judge McPhee called at our office yesterday. The judge is a very pleasant gentleman and we hope he will be reappointed to the bench until we become a state. His long residence in the Territory together with legal attainments fit him for the place, and as some one has to be appointed we prefer him to a new man."

Measles are considered a serious disease by only a few people but nevertheless, in Pennsylvania last year, 1,157 deaths occurred from this disease which is so much less deadly than is scarlet fever and diphtheria, the other two contagious diseases to which childhood especially is subject. And yet, the medical fraternity is pretty well agreed that sanitation, public cleanliness and quarantine could stamp out all three diseases.

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS FOR 1910 CLIP.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 21.—The local wool market has regained its activity, especially in California and quarter-blood fleeces. The demand is mostly from the woolen mills and the grades hitherto unsaleable are being cleaned up. Values are well maintained. Wyoming is selling in original bags at 25 to 27 cents, while Ohio quarter-blood fleeces are held at 35 cents. Considerable interest is also manifest in pulled wool. Bidding for the 1910 clip is said to be fairly active in the west, although the holding price there of 25 cents is not attractive to local dealers.

GLEANINGS BY A PERIPATETIC PEN

Tribute to a Knight of the Quill.
The following beautiful tribute is paid by Editor D. L. Newkirk of the Pecos Valley News at Artesia, to the late George A. Puckett, editor of the Roswell Daily Record:

"George A. Puckett, until about a year ago editor of the Roswell Record, is dead, and I mourn the loss of a friend. His death did not come as a surprise, for his incurable malady was too far advanced to allow us to hope that he would survive for any length of time, but the wonderful vitality of the man and his strong will held off the inevitable result longer than was deemed possible. His splendid fight against an unconquerable foe aroused the admiration of all who knew him, but when it was time to go there was neither fear nor doubt in the mind of the dying man; he went to rest at peace with the world. Mr. Puckett was not only a clear, terse writer, but he was familiar with every branch of the newspaper business and an expert on the linotype. Scattered over the face of the earth, hidden here and there in out-of-the-way places and with merit seldom recognized, one may find men like Puckett; big, brainy men, with a capacity for more work than any two ordinary printers or editors. They work night and day, week days and Sundays, always for somebody else, and always spending their energies throughout the day and night for the benefit of the community in which they live. To them there are no such things as 'union hours.' To them the clock is a wall decoration; nothing more. They handle the work as its comes to them, do their duty as they see it, live out their lives in quiet contentment, or in many instances, like Puckett, are cut down in the midst of their labors at a time when they should be in their prime. They are a living sacrifice to someone else; they never reap the rewards of their good works until the last call comes, and they then go away. They have their friends, and they have their enemies, but when a real trial comes, it may be seen that their friends love them much, and their enemies hate them but little. They are the salt of the earth. Such a man was Puckett. He labored incessantly, and when, at an election next year, the saloons are voted out of Roswell, George A. Puckett will have a monument to his memory that will surpass anything loving friends and relatives may erect. It will be his monument, for his was the fight, and it is one of the ironies of existence that he would not be there to see his dearest wish realized. He is gone, and after the present generation passes, he will be forgotten. He was not self-centered enough not egotistical enough, not of the grasping disposition that brings notoriety that endures. He was just the 'Parson,' and the 'Parson' he will remain in the memory of his friends who knew him personally, and his friends who were only acquainted with him through the columns of his paper."

How Kermit Roosevelt Got His Leopard.—In one of these beats they put up a leopard, and saw it sinking forward ahead of them through the bushes. Then they lost sight of it, and came to the conclusion that it was in a large thicket. So Kermit went on one side of it and McMillan on the other, and the beaters approached to try and get the leopard out. Of course none of the beaters had guns; their function was merely to make a disturbance and rouse the game, and they were cautioned on no account to get into danger. But the leopard did not wait to be driven. Without any warning, out he came and charged straight at Kermit, who stopped him when he was but six yards off with a bullet in the forehead of the body; the leopard turned, and as he galloped back Kermit hit him again, crippling him in the hips. The wounds were fatal, and they would have knocked the fight out of any animal less plucky and savage than the leopard; but not even in Africa is there a beast of more unflinching courage than this spotted cat. The beaters were much excited by the sight of the charge and the way in which it was stopped, and they pressed jubilantly forward, too heedlessly; one of them, who was on McMillan's side of the thicket, went too near it, and out came the wounded leopard at him. It was badly crippled or it would have got the beater at once; as it was, it was slowly overtaking him as he ran through the tall grass, when McMillan, standing on an ant heap, shot it again. Yet, in spite of having his third bullet in it, it ran down the beater and seized him, worrying him with teeth and claws; but it was weak because of its wounds, and the powerful savage wrenched himself free, while McMillan fired into the beast again; and back it went through the long grass into the thicket. There was a pause, and the wounded beater was removed to a place of safety, while a messenger was sent on to us to bring up the Boer dogs. But while they were waiting, the leopard, on its own initiative, brought matters to a crisis, for out it came again straight at Kermit, and this time it dropped dead to Kermit's bullet. From "African Game Trails" by Theodore Roosevelt in the January Scribner.

Bull Dog as a Chest Protector.—Last Saturday night, an amorous fellow took two shots at a solled dove of this city, who did not return his affection. Both shots struck a bull dog belonging to the woman. The affair occurred in the red light district, and created some little excitement as the report came up town that the woman had been killed. This same woman was shot at not long ago as she was walking down the railroad track at night, and the same dog received the bullet. On that occasion the bullet struck the dog in the bosom and came near ending its gay career. The shots fired Saturday night hit the dog in the forehead, shattering the bone. If that dog was master of its own destiny it would probably quit the gay and happy life, and move to Holbrook, but loyalty to its mistress compels it to stay where her business interests lie.—McKinley County Republican.

"Hello" Girls Have Their Troubles.—"Yes, I know they say that women have more patience than men, but that's just another one of those 'they say' things," remarked a telephone girl on day duty at the local telephone exchange in an expansive half hour. "If women are more patient than men, they certainly don't show it when they use the telephone."

"When some women give the number they want they expect to get their party instantly, or quicker, and if they don't they immediately become catty about it."

"What's the matter anyhow?" a woman asked me over her wire only this morning only about eight seconds after she'd given me the number she wanted. "Why don't you give me the party?"

"I was doing the best I could to get her the number she asked for, but the party didn't reply. I told her so."

"I don't believe anything of the sort!" she shouted into her phone. "Give me the manager this instant! I'll see if I'm going to be treated this way!"

"Of course, I gave her the manager, and she told him a long story about how she was being imposed upon by the exchange girls. Fortunately, though, she is on the list of terrorists—we call them terrorists when we want to be real polite and terriers when we don't want to be so polite—and so the manager, after asking me about the case, let it go."

"I should say that at least ten women ask to be put in communication with the exchange manager to every man that does. If they don't actually demand to be connected with the manager they almost invariably threaten it."

"Only about one woman in twenty ever believes an exchange girl when she's told that the wire of the party they want is busy. Then people who don't reply promptly to their phone calls cause us a lot of trouble. The women who call such parties up simply won't believe that we've summoned their party at all, and of course the parties they've called when they do respond say they've answered the call the instant they received it. Then, of course, it is up to the exchange girl."

"The most nonsensical accusation, however, that women are forever making against eavesdropping on their phone conversations. Such a thing of course is perfectly impossible, for the very simple reason that a girl working at a board hasn't one instant of time to do anything like that."

"Give me the manager," a woman said to me over the phone a while ago before she had asked for the number. "Do you wish to make a complaint?" I asked her.

"I wish," she replied, in a severe tone, "to have a very private conversation with my lawyer, and I want to talk with the manager first to ascertain if he will assure me that my conversation will not be listened to."

Must Not Prevaricate to Postoffice Clerks.—Don't send out your Christmas package with a letter inside and tell the clerk at the postoffice that there is no writing inside the package for if you do and the package is opened, the letter is replaced and when the package reaches its destination it will not be delivered until the increased rate to first class matter is paid. This rule applies not only to Christmas time, but at all times. There is another serious proposition attached to the story you will tell the clerk about writing inside of a package and that is when you will fully tell that there is no writing inside a package while at the same time you are well aware that there are probably three or four full written pages of letter paper contained in the package, you lay yourself liable to a fine of $10 and it must be paid. There is no way out of it either. The inspector may come around long after you have partly forgotten just what you wrote in your letter and ask you for the $10. By writing inside a mail package is meant even a line or two or three words of instructions to the party to which the package is sent. The writing on the inside makes the package first class mail matter and full rates are charged, that is first class rates are charged. It is much safer to pay the rate than it is to undertake to fool the clerk and pay a $10 fine for the little story you tell for the gain of a few cents.

Some Interesting Pets on an East African Ranch.—At Juja farm, many animals were kept in cages. They included a fairly friendly leopard, and five lions, two of which were anything but friendly. There were three cheetahs, nearly full-grown; these were continually taken out on leashes. Mrs. McMillan strolling about with them and leading them to the summer house. They were good-tempered, but they did not lead well. Cheetahs are interesting beasts; they are aberrant cats, standing very high on their legs, and with non-reticulate claws like a dog. They are nearly the size of a leopard, but are not ordinarily anything like as ferocious, and prey on the smaller antelope, occasionally taking something as big as a half-grown kongoni. For a short run, up to say a quarter of a mile, they are the swiftest animals on earth, and with a good start easily overtake the fastest antelope; but their bolt is soon shot, and on the open plain they can readily be galloped down with a horse. When they sit on their haunches their attitude is that neither of a dog nor of a cat so much as of a big monkey. On the whole they are much more easily domesticated than most other cats, but, as with all highly developed wild creatures, they show great individual variability of character and disposition. They have a very curious note, a bird-like chirp, in uttering which they twist the upper lip as if whistling. When I first heard it I was sure that it was uttered by some bird and looked about quite a time before finding that it was the call of a cheetah.

Then there was a tame wart-hog; very friendly, indeed, which usually wandered loose, and was as comical as pigs generally are, with its sudden starts and grunts. Finally, there was a young Tommy buck and a Grant's gazelle doe, both of which were on good terms with every one and needed astonishingly little looking after to prevent their straying.—From "African Game Trails" by Theodore Roosevelt in the January Scribner.

A Quaint Old Village.—Only 12 miles from the Santa Fe railroad is a little Mexican village unknown to but a few merchants of San Antonio, N. M. Unmolested by modern civilization the inhabitants preserve the oldest of Mexican and Aztec customs. The town is of great historic interest and several old relics are preserved, memories of Coronado and Juan de Velasquez, the first Spaniards to explore what is now New Mexico. The village has a small common and is completely surrounded and sheltered by the foothills of the Oscura mountains. In the church hangs a banner of the famous Coronado and a bride of the warrior Velasquez, who stopped here on his way north in search of the seven cities of Cibola. This place is now known as Bosquesita. Christmas will be observed by a religious drama only seen elsewhere in the interior of Mexico, and will be witnessed by a number of tourists that have recently learned of the place.—El Paso Herald.

TEACHERS ASK FOR 20 PER CENT INCREASE.
Spokane, Wash., Dec. 21.—Three hundred and seventy-five teachers in Spokane's grade schools are ready to begin a campaign for 12-month salary instead of nine months, as at present. They will also ask for an increase of 20 per cent. The Spokane Grade Teachers' Association has sanctioned the movement. The highest salary paid to grade teachers in Spokane on the nine-month plan is $900 a year. Although the teachers believe their cause a just one, they have not threatened to strike. They hope to win their points on a strictly educational campaign. However, their forces are strong and well organized and if their demands are refused they are in position to close every grade school in the city. They will present their request backed by a petition signed by every member of the asso-

Twenty inches in Western Socorro County—J. H. Taylor writes from Magdalena, Socorro county, that the snow is twenty inches deep west of Magdalena.

Shooting in a Saloon—Former Arizona ranger, Captain Frank R. Wheeler, shot Frank Butts while in a saloon at Yuma, Arizona. The wound is quite serious and may prove fatal. The ball entering below the heart. It has not been located yet.

Sidetracking Prohibition—Alarmed at the growth of the prohibition sentiment, the Roswell saloon interests are back of a proposition to put up a "business men's" ticket for the coming municipal election, and see that the saloon question is ignored in the campaign.

Basket Ball Game—Company F. and Occidentals, of Albuquerque, meet at the Armory on the 29th at 7:30 sharp and the game that will follow will certainly be worth fifty cents, and that is all it will cost you to see it. A dance will follow, which will cost 25 cents. Only seventy-five cents for one evening's solid amusement. No one can afford to miss the opportunity.

Cheaper to Get Drunk When Its Cold—"It does not cost as much to get drunk in El Paso on a cold day as in the summer time, at least it does not cost as much if one happens to drink so much that the police take him for safe keeping. This morning Judge T. C. Lea fined those charged with this offense only $1 remarking, "I don't blame a man for getting drunk when it is so cold." The lowest fine is usually $3.—El Paso Herald.

Contributing to Charity Funds—The Woman's Board of Trade is receiving contributions to its Christmas charity fund. Twenty dollars have been contributed thus far, also, to the fund to be distributed by a committee consisting of Rev. C. F. Lucas, Rev. Gabino Rendon and Mrs. A. M. Bergere. Clothing, merchandise, etc., as well as money will be distributed by the latter committee and gifts for the good cause will be received by the New Mexican and promptly acknowledged.

Every customer coming into our store Xmas week will receive a valuable Christmas present. Be sure you get yours. Fischer Drug Co.

Enticed Two Girls to a Bisbee Resort—Arthur McKerracher, a harness maker of Lowell, Ariz., has been arrested, charged by a man named Neatherlin of Naco, formerly of New Mexico, with having enticed his two daughters, aged 16 and 18 years of age to become habitues of "No. 41," a notorious place in the red light district. That the girls were at this place for more than a week is not denied by McKerracher, but he states in defense that they went there against his warnings.

the exclamation of John R. Bradley, Dr. Cook's backer in his Arctic trip. "I discounted this decision from the University of Copenhagen some time ago," he continued. "When a man runs away you can't expect friends to fight for him, and Cook's flight—for that's what it seemed to me—killed all my interest in him and his affairs. I am sick of the whole blooming polar business and I don't want to hear nothing more of the North Pole or its attributes," was the way Mr. Bradley wound up his comments.

Peary's Comment.

Washington, Dec. 21.—"I have known the outcome of this since weeks before I reached this country on my return from the pole," said Commander Robert E. Peary this morning, when told by the Associated Press of the Copenhagen verdict. "It was not a matter of belief with me but of absolute knowledge. You remember my cablegram from Battle Harbor, Labrador. I wired that Cook had simply handed the public a gold brick. My warning was based on complete and accurate information regarding the Cook claims."

Dr. Cook's Friends Plead for Charity.

New York, Dec. 21.—"If the public knew the truth concerning Dr. Cook's mental and physical condition as it is known by his close friends they would take a more charitable view of his present unfortunate situation," said H. Wellington Wack, counsel for Dr. Cook, today when told that the University of Copenhagen had rejected Dr. Cook's polar claims.
