CLOSING OF ST. FRANCIS XAVIER'S ACADEMY

"Topsy Turvey Drill" Rendered by the Boys was an Unlooked-for Feast and Brought Forth Cheer After Cheer From the Audience.

A FLATTERING SUGGESTION FROM START TO FINISH.

The Presentation of Nine Diplomas for Palmer Method Penmanship Closed the Most Successful Session and Program in the History of the Academy.

The program rendered by the pupils of St. Francis Xavier's Academy, May 31st, was a grand success. Space will only permit mention of a few numbers that were extra good in themselves and made doubly so by the actors or actresses.

The song, "Dolly, Dolly" rendered by the small girls carried us back to childhood days, and the girls, though small, did their parts well, both the singing and the acting.

But all were indeed favorably impressed with number four—Venetian Flower Drill. The single and double arches carried by the different misses were beautifully decorated with roses and the arranging and forming of different figures was a feat in itself. These misses were loudly cheered and had they responded again, no doubt, would have held the audience spell bound as before so well were they drilled and so light of foot and so true to time. The different figures were well arranged and the decorations of roses made one realize the coming day would find June, the month of roses, at our threshold.

Numbers five, six and nine, rendered by the boys, were spiky and well delivered.

In number five the boys acted as natural as every day play and were not embarrassed by the laughing and cheering of the audience.

But the treat was in store for us again "as it had been when lemonade fresh and cold was served" when the "Topsy Turvey Drill" was rendered by the boys. Such turning about and standing on their heads brought to view many shades of up-to-date hose as worn by our young men and hit and miss shoes brought down the house—cheer after cheer resounded, but the youngsters were so tired standing and marching on their heads they, unlike the cat, never came back.

We were called to realize the lateness of the hour by the closing song, "Good Night" and were deeply impressed by the few remarks of Father Arbogast and the way he applied the well known lines of Henry W. Longfellow's "Psalm of Life" as to life and the preparation in school was to fit us for life, showing he had given the subject some thought.

The presentation of diplomas was then made by the Father for Palmer Method Penmanship. This closed the exercises for the evening, and many were heard to express themselves as well pleased in every way.

SPLIT LOG DRAG VALUABLE DEVICE

Makes Impassable Roads Smooth and Serviceable.

CAN BE MADE AT LOW COST.

Invention of D. Ward King, a Good Road Advocate of Missouri, is a Very Simple Contrivance That Any Farmer Can Have For the Price of a Few Pieces of Iron and Some Nails.

The split log drag is one of the devices which refuse to be scouted out of existence in the making of good earth roads. It was devised a number of years ago by D. Ward King of Maitland, Mo. Mr. King is a native of Ohio. He says that one grave mistake is commonly made in constructing the CONDITION OF A ROADWAY BEFORE USING DRAG. (From Southern Good Roads Magazine.) drag. That lies in making it too heavy. It should be so light that one man can easily lift it. Besides, a light drag responds more readily to various methods of hitching and to the shifting of the position and weight of the operator, both of which are essential considerations.

RESULTS GAINED BY THE DRAG.

The drag does the best work when the soil is moist, but not sticky.

The advantages to be gained from the persistent use of a road drag may be summarized as follows:

First.—The maintenance of a smooth, serviceable earth road, free from ruts and mudholes.

Second.—Obtaining such a road surface with the expenditure of a little money and labor in comparison with the money and labor required for other methods.

Third.—The reduction of mud in wet weather and of dust in dry weather.

There are also several minor benefits gained from the use of a road drag besides the great advantages which always accrue from the formation of improved highways, of which may be mentioned the banishment of weeds and grass from the dragged portion of the road.

ROAD BUILDING AS AN ART.

Establishment of Chairs on Subject in Colleges Urged by an Expert.

Samuel Hill, a son-in-law of James J. Hill, the northwest railway magnate and the president of the American Road Builders' association, takes a practical view of the roadmaking art. He asserts it needs trained men and advocates the establishment of road building chairs in all the important colleges of the United States and especially at West Point.

He has succeeded in impressing this view upon some of the institutions of learning of the state of Washington, of which he is a resident, and 200 young men in that state are studying the road building course this year.

Mr. Hill declares that in five years in consequence of the interest taken by the local colleges in this matter and the progressive attitude of the legislature, which devotes one-third of the revenues of the state to road building, Washington will have the best system of roads in the United States.

Whether Washington, one of the youngest states of the Union, will be able in that time to outstrip all her sister states in providing a modern highway system may be open to question, but there is sound sense in the recommendation that a system of education in practical road building shall be established as a prerequisite to the construction of a general system of permanent highways in the United States.

Much of the money heretofore devoted to the construction of roadways that are lanes in dry weather and a succession of quagmires in wet has previously been wasted, partly through the ignorance of the roadmakers as to what constituted a good road.

The first step toward putting an end to this waste and entering upon scientific methods will be the training of a lot of students in the art of making roads.

CARE OF KID GLOVES.

How to Mend Them and Keep Them From Stiffening.

If when kid gloves are worn the hands become very hot and cause the gloves to stiffen and shrink, French chalk will prove a good remedy. The gloves should be put on and the tips of the fingers dipped in French chalk and rubbed gently one against the other, then finally rubbed with a soft duster. A little French chalk should also be put in each finger.

It is a good plan when wearing rings under gloves to turn them with the stones toward the palm of the hand. This not only prevents marks, but is more comfortable than when the rings are worn the right way up.

Kid gloves should be removed by turning them over the hand and afterward turned right side out, blown into, the creases smoothed out and finally put away in a glove box.

Nothing looks more untidy than to see any one wearing a pair of gloves with the finger tips protruding or the seams burst. So if you spy even a tiny hole mend it without delay and with fine cotton the same color as the kid. Never use silk, as it cuts. Don't break off the cotton, but cut it, or you will draw the stitches too tightly together and make the seam uneven.

When the finger seam is split insert a finger into the glove and draw the edges together so that they just meet and no more. A ridge spoils the look of the gloves and feels uncomfortable.

How to Clean Ermine.

First beat and brush out all the dust to clean ermine. Lay the fur upon a clean cloth and with a new, perfectly clean sponge wet the ermine down to the skin with grain alcohol. While it is wet sift into it all the borax talcum the fur will hold. Do it quickly, lest the alcohol should evaporate. Shut up in a box for a week, then brush, shake and "dress."

ROADWAYS OF LEAVES.

Give One the Impression of Carpet, as They Are Noiseless.

Leaves without a doubt would be considered by many a very poor material for making roadways in most parts of the world, but in certain districts in the United States, especially Florida, and in some sections of Europe such a material is used with great success. In these sections are miles and miles of road that would be almost impassable by reason of the deep sand were it not for leaves.

Serviceable for this purpose are the leaves of the long leaf pine. These leaves, which are much like straw in appearance, should be raked over the sandy roadbed once a year, say about October.

The result is a highway that gives one the impression of a carpet, as neither the horses' feet nor the wheels of the vehicles make any noise.

Good Highways Aid Education.

Good roads aid education, and the diffusion of knowledge is followed by increased demand for improved highways. Good roads and good schools go hand in hand.

Good Roads Maximize.

A good road affords an excellent way to church.

A dollar spent on the road is as good as two spent on the farm.

A community is known by the roads it keeps.

Better go two miles on a good road than half a mile on a bad one.

The wide tire maketh the glad path master.

A bad road and its travel are soon parted.

Many path masters spoil the roads.

A little gravel is a dangerous thing. Now deep or shallow fall and spring. The horse knoweth the bad road and leeth his ears drop.

Many country roads are paved—with good intentions, but for the most part with lumps of sod, stones, roots and rubbish.

ESTABLISHED 1910

Carlsbad, N. M. Friday, June 3, 1910

Official Paper of Eddy County.

If the republican party was desirous of admitting New Mexico and Arizona, both would have been states long ago. The facts are that the promise of statehood for New Mexico was made in the republican platform of 1908 to assist Bull Andrews to get back to congress as a delegate from New Mexico and to defend the democracy of the territory and for no other purpose. Whatever the present measure proposed as an act of congress cannot be made more anxious with even the disclaimer in genuity of Beveridge it is hardly possible for it to pass for the republican senate cannot afford to allow four more democrats to take their seats in that body, and as for insurgent republicans the senators would be less welcome than democrats. It would seem that under present stress of circumstances the republicans can do nothing but to again break a solemn promise, but as they are accustomed to that it will not hurt much.

Kenna Record has the following comment on Judge Pope which is generally endorsed by all who know him: "Horse Sense" is a term not usually applied to a judge on the bench, but as the term is used and understood we think it can be applied to Judge Pope as a well-merited compliment. Those of our citizens who were present in court last week and witnessed the disposal of the criminal cases that were up from Kenna, and heard the lectures that the judge gave the defendants, and the four boys who were witnesses in one case cannot help but be impressed with the spirit and fairness with which Judge Pope enters into the examination of cases before him, and to realize that he "gets to the bottom" of the cases and handles them with "horse sense" and not after the automatic machine methods of some courts. We believe it is the earnest desire with Judge Pope in every instance to know all the facts and circumstances in every case, and to deal out impartial justice in every instance and to apply the law with wise discretion. It is of course impossible for the judge of a court to always learn all of the inside facts, but Judge Pope will surely reach after them with an intelligent intuition that is almost phenomenal. Mr. Pope is not only a finished lawyer and an able jurist, but he is a competent judge, and "A Live Wire."

F. Stolanoff and Morris Farber are in town from El Paso and have leased the Smith building formerly occupied by the Fraser-Bateman Co., opposite the Current office, for a dry goods and gents' furnishing store. They will open next week, Saturday. These gentlemen come well recommended as enterprising and liberal business men, and will no doubt be a valuable addition to the city beautiful in which they intend to reside. The El Paso store of Pecos in constructed by a brother of Mr. Farber who is well known to many here and is highly spoken of.

Cage Jennings struck abundance of good water south east of the Ezell ranch about five miles south of town Monday at 154 feet for a Mexican named Baca. The land west of the canal is fast filling with dry farmers, there being a family on nearly every quarter, and there are many good wells.

HOMEMADE FEED BOX.

A Good Suggestion by Horsemen For Saving Space in Barn.

As space on the ground floor of many horse barns is very often utilized it is more than likely that farmers are anxious to find of any device that will tend to enlarge it without any additional expense. A prominent horse man suggests an inexpensive fixture that is useful the year round.

Build a large out bin in the left of the barn. Then fix it carefully to keep out mice. Connect a galvanized iron water pipe to the bottom of it and being this down to a place near the stable door, where a box should be nailed up with a corner on it. It should be constructed so that the cover can be opened, but not so that it will stay open. The water will flow down and partly fill the box and stop when the bottom of the chute is covered. It is easy for the busy teamster to dip out what he desires to feed. This chute will conduct oats, wheat, barley or any whole grain, but chaff with ground feed.

To put up the feeder is a quick and easy job, for three inch leader comes in two foot lengths that are just right, and the elbows are made with tight but movable joints that may be turned in any direction, permitting the worker to follow around a post if necessary. As the joints fit tightly together, no soldering is needed.

Don't Color the Butter.

A cow that gives rich milk and is kept in good condition will produce a butter that does not need coloring matter at all.

To Make Butter Firm.

If after churning the butter is not firm try leaving it in the buttermilk a few hours. This often makes a wonderful change.

Cleanliness Valuable.

Clean milk cannot come out of a dirty cow or from a filthy stable, nor can good cream be obtained where there are bad odors or dusty hay.

Handle the Young Cow Gently.

Deal gently with the young cow when breaking her in to be milked. Talk kindly to her before you begin. Rub her sides softly and have her feel that the milking process makes her more comfortable.

Good Ration For Cow.

A good ration for a dairy cow giving a fair flow of milk should contain about 90 pounds of dry matter, 225 pounds of protein, 14 pounds of starch, food for carbohydrates, and one half pound of fat. All these figures represent the amounts of digestible in the feeds. The protein should be in the feed at the rate of one of protein to about 5.5 starch by matter. Figuring on this basis the following ration of feeds grown on the farm will be found to give good results: Corn stover, 30 pounds; alfalfa hay, 10 pounds; red clover, 5 pounds; ground oats, 5 pounds; and ground peas, 1 pound. This will give a nutritive ration of 1.5 on, in other words, there should be one pound of protein for every 1.5 pounds of starch by matter.

Corn Silage Cheap Feed.

Corn silage is about the cheapest and most efficient to supplement the winter rations for dairy and beef cattle, horses, calves and sheep. It is cheaper to handle the corn crop in the form of silage than any other way, and should there be another summer of little rain the well-stocked silo far richer with silage than green feed and comes as a great relief to the hog-breeder.

Making Good Butter.

Absolute cleanliness is the first requisite in making good butter; sanitary surroundings come next and correct temperature with attention to details in the care of cream third. It should be wrapped in parchment paper, and in order to keep a uniform color one to four drops of vegetable coloring to the pound should be used, the amount depending upon the time of the year.

The Tenderfoot Farmer

It was one of these experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shavings. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations.

It's only a "tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds himself regardless of digestion and nutrition. He might almost as well eat shavings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak," the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness.

To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an unfailing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use.

In the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance medicine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs. All ingredients printed on its outside wrapper.

Don't let a dealer delude you for his own profit. There is no medicine for stomach, liver and blood "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."

Unique Roadmaking Plan

Judge William E. Porter of Lawrence county, Pa., has a unique idea for improving the roads. His plan is a jail on wheels—that is, a place where prisoners can be locked up at night and transported from place to place and employed in roadmaking during the day. He put his idea to a test, and the results were eminently satisfactory. The prisoners guided away a high hill on the West Pittsburgh road near Newcastle and constructed a cement bridge over a culvert eighty feet long. The only expense to the county from this bridge that would ordinarily have cost thousands of dollars was for the material and the services of an engineer. The men employed were sentenced from ten to ninety days and were informed that the sentence would be materially lessened if they would work on the roads and not attempt to escape, and they worked.

THE MUSGRAVE TRIAL

Some Interesting Testimony Being Taken

MUSGRAVE SENT TO JAIL WITHOUT BAIL

Brief Resume of the Trial

Family's Roswell Record

The trial of George Musgrave was resumed in district court at nine o'clock this morning with Les Harmon on the stand. Harmon confirmed the testimony of Curg Johnson, who yesterday told of the shooting of George Parker by Musgrave. Harmon's testimony was favorable to Musgrave being almost as strong in the behalf of the defendant as the testimony of Johnson. One place where Harmon's evidence was not as strong as that of Johnson, was that Harmon did not see Parker's hand drop to his pistol just before Musgrave shot, as Johnson had told that he had seen it. Harmon did not hear Musgrave say that he had come all the way from Mexico to kill Parker. He did hear him say, he testified, that he hated to kill Parker, but that he had to do it.

Lucius Dills was the second witness this morning. He saw the body of Parker after the shooting and the bullet hole in his head was in the forehead, nearly in the center. J. A. Purviance and Dr. W. T. Joyner substantiated the testimony of Dills, all having seen the body of Parker.

Mack Minter went on the stand this morning to impeach the testimony of Sam Butler, who was the first and one of the strongest witnesses for the prosecution. Minter testified that Butler told him that he did not hear Musgrave say that he had come all the way from Mexico to kill Parker. On the stand Saturday afternoon and Monday Butler and Wm. Phillips had testified that, immediately after the shooting Musgrave had said that he came all the way from Mexico to kill Parker. These statements and the story of the shooting as told on the stand by these two eye witnesses are supposed to have been the causes leading up to the action of Judge W. H. Pope in remanding Musgrave to jail during the rest of the trial.

Several witnesses were on the stand in Musgrave's behalf this afternoon. Ed Bryant told of the location of the wounds. Jack Browning, C. L. Ballard, Frank Strickland and Joe Taylor, all of whom knew Parker, testified as to his reputation as a quarrelsome, dangerous man. Taylor also told of warning Musgrave on the morning of the shooting not to go to the roundup, that Parker had said he would whip Musgrave on sight. Strickland also told of the position of Parker's body, indicating that one hand was under the body, near his gun when he went up shortly after the shooting. Wm. T. Arnold told of Parker telling him that Parker wrote Musgrave a letter, telling Musgrave not to come back or he, Parker, would make it hot for him.

The evidence about Parker's bad reputation was allowed only after a long argument on the part of the lawyers.

James M. Hervey is conducting the cross examination of witnesses for the prosecution on account of the bad condition of the throat and voice of District Attorney Fullen who has laryngitis.

The land is but a short distance from the stock yards and is very fertile. They will erect a house and remain for a year, at least, to put the tract in shape to lease or till. Mr. Lucas will be here again in a few weeks to attend to some unfinished business.

Jim Simpson and wife are now settled on their ranch home twelve miles east of Artesia, they having purchased from H. Blaine his ranch and cattle. The ranch is one of the best in the county, and contains a fine field of cultivated land as well as a four room house and well of good water. We may now expect to see Jim coming to town any day with a big clothes basket filled with eggs and the wagon box full of pumpkins, driving a spanking team of big mares with two mule colts following. No telling what a man will do when prosperity strikes him and he has the proper kind of a help meet. It is the general opinion among his friends that he has struck it rich, and will prosper as he never did before. Mr. Blaine, who has resided on the ranch and in the county some eleven years, will go to Colorado Springs for the summer in hopes of recuperating his health. His many friends are sorry to see him go and hope that he may regain his health and come back well in the fall.

HANDY MEDICINE CASE.

How to Make One at Home Out of Linen or Canvas.

For the friend who cannot travel without her pet remedies a homemade medicine case would make an acceptable gift. It is easily made to hold one's special bottles and has the advantage of adding little weight to the satchel or suit case.

Cut an oblong piece of heavy cardboard and stitch it between two pieces of heavy tan colored or dark red linen or canvas. The covering is cut longer than the cardboard on the ends to allow for seams and stitching. The sides of the linen are enough longer than the board on both sides to permit it to be folded over in envelope fashion when the case is closed.

When the cardboard is in place the cover is stitched close to its edge all around. These edges may have four or five rows of stitching or can be bound with white linen braid or a braid of a contrasting color. The same braid is sewed to each end of the case to strap the flaps into place when folded over.

The inside of the case is finished with two bands of the material, one above the other, and divided into pockets to hold the various bottles of medicine. The compartments are divided by machine stitching or close brier stitching. They should be deep enough to hold a bottle up to its shoulder.

Two oblong envelopes and a long, narrow one of the linen are added to hold absorbent cotton, gauze bandages, court plaster and a few simple utensils, such as a medicine dropper, hypodermic syringe case and a clinical thermometer. Between the case two linen straps are arranged to hold a pair of scissors.

On the outer flap of the case should be embroidered initials or monogram in tones to match the braid. Several thicknesses of cotton batting should be cut to just fit inside the case over the bottle. They can be buttonholed loosely in colored cotton to hold together. This covering or one of elderdown is slipped over the bottles when traveling to keep them from spilling.

While it is not necessary to fill this case, it is as well to put in bottles at least. Buy them first, as the compartments can be made to fit. Those without patent stoppers are best.

How to Make "Bread Boxes."

"Bread boxes" are an artistic, cheap and delicious way to serve many entrees as eggs, chestnuts or greens. They are easy to make, but comparatively few women understand it. Cut slice bread at least two days old in four inch cubes, having first removed the crusts. Dip each cube into slightly beaten egg and fry in boiling lard in a frying basket. Remove when golden brown and drain on brown paper. Cut out a square from one side of the cube a quarter of an inch smaller than the box and dig out the crumbs, leaving the sides and bottom about a half inch thick. Before using set the "bread boxes" in a hot oven to heat through, fill with whatever mixture is desired and add the lid or not, as preferred.

How to Weigh an Automobile.

To obtain the exact weight of an automobile and the weight carried on each pair of wheels it is necessary to use a platform scale—that is, any scale that has a platform sufficiently wide to take the entire length of the machine then proceed in this manner: First weigh the whole car. Next weigh the back of the car. To do this the middle of the car should be over the edge of the platform. The front of the car should be weighed in the same manner. If this has been carefully done the last two weights when added together should give within twenty pounds of the entire weight of the car.
