INSTRUCTION GIVEN ON FENCING AND GRAZING QUESTIONS

Letter to Field Superintendents Goes Fully Into Detail in Regard to Unlawful Fencing of Public Lands.

MUST BE ENFORCED IS EDICT OF TALLMANN

The special letter of information relative to public lands sent out last week to the field superintendents from the land office department at Washington and a copy of which was furnished to all the newspapers in this section of the state, is reproduced herewith for the benefit of our readers:

"From time to time during the past two years numerous complaints have been received by this office relative to the maintenance of drift fences and alleged unlawful inclosures of public lands in southeastern New Mexico. Extensive investigations have been made by special agents and reports have been submitted thereupon. The reports have gone into the situation extensively and comprehensively, and deal not only with the alleged unlawful inclosure situation, but also contain information relative to the method employed on behalf of the State of New Mexico in making the selection of public lands, showing how in certain instances large areas of government lands are incidentally controlled by those in possession of the selected lands; the disposition by the State of lands thus selected; the control of pasturage by the control of water; the conflicts among the cattle men; sheep growers and settlers; and the extent of the exercise of the police power of the State which, it is alleged, has been resorted to in such a manner as to maintain fences upon and control of pasturage on the public domain in certain cases.

"This office is also in receipt of a report in which it was alleged that the following statement was made by the grand jury during the April, 1916, term of the U. S. District Court:

"It has been brought to the attention of the grand jury that there has been considerable fencing of public lands throughout the state by private parties. This fencing is illegal, and done to the detriment of other parties, who are deprived of the use of these lands. We, the Grand Jury, recommend that this matter be investigated by the U. S. officials."

"The Special Agent's reports heretofore referred to, together with the maps submitted therewith, show that in most cases the so-called drift fences are constructed in such a manner that they in reality constitute complete unlawful inclosures of public lands, and that extensive areas are thus inclosed in violation of the act of Feb. 25, 1885.

"There has been considerable delay on the part of this office in arriving at a conclusion relative to the proper course to be pursued by it in this matter. The delay has been due, however, to a desire to be thoroughly acquainted with the whole situation, not only the alleged unlawful inclosure situation, but also the situation in regard to the control of public lands by other methods than that by the construction and maintenance of fences. In order that an intelligent understanding of the whole matter could be had, you were on Jan. 4, 1916, directed not to submit to the U. S. Attorney for prosecution the cases which were then under general investigation until this office should have had an opportunity to duly acquaint itself with all the facts relating to those cases, especially since it appeared from the reports that the parties charged with maintaining illegal fences had signified a willingness to remove the same if it should be ascertained that they were in violation of the law.

"Many facts and arguments have been presented for and against the maintenance of the fences under consideration herein. Attempts have been made to show that the cattle industry in the State is of more importance than the crop raising industry; that the removal of the fences will tend to injure materially that industry for the reason that some of the fences are be-

AN INTERVIEW WITH THE HON. MR. G. HOG

Last Friday was Grand Hog Day, and seeking a wireless interview, the Outlook man was delighted to find the Hon. Mr. G. Hog as cheerful as a cricket and loquacious as a Democratic senator trying to throw an American's commercial opportunity when he was rebuffed "the night before." While talking with Mr. Hog we could hardly make ourselves believe that the world's foremost weather prognosticator was so casually bantering himself in a dark, smelly, earthen dungeon—because the forecasters' wit was so bright and happy that it blished and sparkled like that of Carl Weltheimer of Rotary club fame.

Mr. G. Hog spoke with the authority of a master over weather clairvoyance and the confidence of one with several thousand years of experience behind him. He chuckled disparaging remarks about the United States Weather Bureau and the new-fangled instruments with which, he said, men of today attempt to delude the people with a great show of knowledge. He became somewhat acrid about these matters and fairly spat, emphatically, his right to receive the grand

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE MAY BE DECLARED VACANT; FIGHT IS ON

Objection to Legal Adviser of DeBaca on Part of House May Precipitate Lively Battles at Capitol.

CLAIM VEEDER USURPING GOV'NOR'S POWER

Santa Fe, Feb. 7.—Action is expected at any moment by the Republican majority in the legislature in an attempt to declare the office of governor vacant, to adjourn for 30 or 60 days, or to abolish the office of legal adviser to the governor. The situation is coming to an acute stage by reason of Republican dislike for Elmer E. Veeder, of Las Vegas, legal adviser to Governor DeBaca, who is declared to be usurping the prerogatives of governor. The charge that the governor is unable to give proper attention to his duties has been renewed. No Democrats, so far as known, will assist in any of these programs and the assistance of Lieutenant Governor Lindsey is reported to be problematical. His physician reports the governor steadily improving this week. The situation has reached such a tension it is believed something is bound to "break" at once. Messengers have been instructed hereafter to carry bills from the legislature direct to the governor's room at the sanitarium instead of the executive office, where Mr. Veeder has maintained regular office hours.

The governor and the legislature of New Mexico today went on record as upholding the hands of the president in his capture of relations with Germany. The governor, in response to queries, wired the New York World and Times as follows:

"New Mexico will stand loyally behind the president and hold up his hands. We endorse the action already taken. We believe the avenues of trade on the high seas should be kept open to neutral commerce in accordance with the laws of nations, and that the armed forces of the United States should be used for that purpose if necessary."

Resolutions of full approval and support were passed by the senate and house unanimously.

The legislature this afternoon adopted a prohibitory constitutional amendment for submission to the vote of the people. It is not a bone dry law. It prohibits the sale or manufacture, forbids importations of liquor except for "personal use," and permits it to be given away. The senate passed the resolution by a vote of sixteen to four.

The chief opposition in the senate was based on the lack of any restriction on giving away booze, Mr. Barth declaring a saloonist could sell "rubber sandwiches" and give away any amount therewith. "It simply provides for a change in the manner of distribution of whisky," said Mr. Barth. Bone dry advocates who voted for the measure declare they believed it was the best they could get. In the house the resolution was passed by a vote of 42 to 5. The opposition had little to say. The action in the house was made final when Sanchez of Valencia moved that the vote be reconsidered and the reconsideration laid on the table indefinitely, the motion prevailing.

Throwing Ball Brings Death to Promising Young Teacher

C. A. Reynolds, teacher, who came here a few weeks ago from Albuquerque and went out to Capitan to supply the vacancy created by the resignation of Miss Matthews in the grade school at that place, died early last Friday morning. Altho it was feared that Reynolds might be afflicted with tuberculosis, he had with him health certificates from three reputable physicians showing that he was entirely free of the malady.

A week before his death, Reynolds while walking across the campus picked up a ball and threw it rather swiftly. Immediately he broke down with a severe hemorrhage of the lungs, from which he never recovered.

The remains were brought to Carrizozo and placed in the undertaking parlors of Kelley & Son, being Tuesday night shipped to his old home at Jonesville, Michigan, accompanied by a brother-in-law, Clint Brown, who arrived here Monday. Reynolds was about 25 years of age.

IS SAID TO BE SURE CURE for PNEUMONIA

The Outlook is indebted to E. R. Kelley for the following article which he clipped from the El Paso Herald of a recent issue. We reproduce same herewith expressing the hope that it may at some future date be of benefit to our readers:

"During my stay in Pasadena, Calif., 1907-8, I read in Los Angeles papers of deaths from pneumonia of from 2 to 5 persons every 24 hours. The 27th of Feb., 1908, I got the following prescription inserted in four of the Los Angeles daily papers; the public read it and the next day the high death rate dropped suddenly, the papers only recording one death a day.

"This simple remedy was discovered 20 years ago, and can be had at any drug store for about 30 cents. Seven people died in one day last week from this malady. I am ready to defend this remedy as an absolute cure for pneumonia even in the last stages. The remedy is:

"Saturate a ball of cotton one inch in diameter with spirits of grain alcohol, add 3 drops of chloroform to each ball of cotton, place it between the patient's teeth, (after first using vaseline on

POPULAR PROGRAM IS ARRANGED FOR PATRONS' CLUB MEET

Second Regular Monthly Meeting of Recently Organized Club to be Held at Crystal Monday Night.

SEVERAL MUSICAL SELECTIONS PROMISED

The second regular meeting of the recently organized Patrons' Club of the local public schools will be held at the Crystal theater Monday night at which time it is hoped that every citizen of Carrizozo will be present promptly at the hour of eight.

The arrangement committee has spared no efforts to produce something interesting and entertaining aside from the regular schedule of brief discussions and talks upon timely topics which are features of the meetings.

There will be a prepared address by Miss Iva Lindsay, who is in charge of the primary department of the local schools, and Editor John A. Haley, long identified with the educational interests of Lincoln county. Mrs. Lily M. Scott will lead a general discussion on some topic of vital interest, according to announcement, and there will also be presented several musical numbers which will include a piano solo by Miss Belle Lutz and a tenor solo by Mr. Charles Coplin. As everyone knows, these two numbers alone insure the success of the musical division of the program.

Let every booster for Carrizozo's excellent school system be on hand and help to make us noted for our splendid co-operation and educational advantages.

Evangelist Shugart Working in This Section of State

Evangelist Shugart, of Post City, Texas, was in Carrizozo the first part of the week interviewing the church people to whom he offered his services should they think the time opportune to inaugurate a big double-team revival. Rev. Shugart came to this section of the state on a sight-seeing trip and decided to do a little work as he went along. He preached three or four nights in Corona last week.

the gums to prevent burning) and let the patient inhale the fumes in long, deep breaths for 15 minutes; then rest for 15 minutes or more; inhale again and repeat the above for 20 times. Change the cotton every 7 minutes, else the saliva will dilute the alcohol."

"The result of the above method will be that the lungs will relax and expand to their normal condition; in 24 hours the patient is out of danger and in 48 hours cured, altho weak."

ANENT THE 640 ACRE HOMESTEADERS.

In the development of every new western country there are three influxes—the first, a blind stampede of the get rich quick;
the second, a less hasty, but yet unprepared and temporary immigration; the third, the fellows who come prepared to stay.

The great immigration which the state is now witnessing, of homesteaders filing on 640-acre grazing homesteads under the new law, seems to us to be the third and permanent influx. It is a different proposition from the reckless invasion of the flat-broke which came into the eastern plains and the Estancia valley ten and twelve years ago.
These new-comers apparently all have enough capital to handle the proposition. As a result of the publicity which has attended the previous immigration into New Mexico and the results thereof, these farmers and stockmen know what they are doing.

New Mexico may do well to realize that the going into effect of this new law has already had a profound effect on the economic and political situation in the state.

GRIPPE IS DANGEROUS DISEASE.

Grippe is a different and more dangerous disease than the ordinary cold. It has become fashion, however, to call all severe colds the grippe. The ordinary cold is an inflammation of the mucus membrane of the upper respiratory tract. The proper name for grippe is influenza. It is caused by a specific germ
which, to a greater or less extent, invades the body. It invariably produces a nervous confusion and often intense depression, symptoms which are not seen with the ordinary cold.

Grippe is a dangerous disease.

It may be followed by pneumonia, meningitis or intestinal symptoms. In fact, in one form of grippe the digestive track is the chief location. This is known as abdominal or intestinal grippe.

Grippe is particularly dangerous for those suffering from chronic diseases, particularly, tuberculosis. After a long absence from America, an intensely severe epidemic reached this country in 1889. There was a large number of deaths, and a number of cases in which the depression and delirium reached insanity.
There were many cases of tuberculosis following this epidemic.
These cases were unquestionably people who had been infected with the tubercle germ and were resisting it. The attack of grippe so lowered their vital power that the tubercle germ
again became active.

The first symptoms are usually those of an acute cold, chilliness, sneezing, discharge from the nostrils and a cough. The germ is thrown out particularly in the material which is coughed up. It is fortunately a delicate germ and cannot survive exposure
for any length of time.

The grippe germ is spread chiefly by sneezing, coughing or direct contact of any sort. The use of the same handkerchief by a number of persons readily spreads it from one to another.

There is no generally known specific treatment for grippe.
As a rule patent medicines should be avoided. It is a disease which requires the services of a skilled physician and the utmost care.

Which, by twisting the King's

Marshall won too
Hughes ought to win
Fairbanks ought to win too.

This country has never before experienced such a condition as now exists in the "Commodity World." Everything is costing more —All goods are high; a great many are scarce—almost unobtainable. It is perfectly legitimate to ask a fair profit on cost, but we question if it is good policy to tack on to the goods already owned, the full advance involved in replenishing stock. As least, that is not our custom. We are not after the "whole hog" this year. There a lot of years that haven't been touched yet, and we are willing to wait.

Meanwhile we are keeping store the best way that we know how, and the increased growth of our business, necessitating remodeling and enlarging testifies to the correctness of our policy.

ing maintained for the purpose of preventing the spread of cattle contagion or of shutting off lands which are boggy or upon which are poisonous weeds. Speaking generally, such fences, while probably technically illegal, may or may not be of such a character as to render it the duty of the Government to procure their removal. This depends on whether or not they constitute such inclosures as will operate to give certain persons or interests a monopoly or control of the use of public lands or impede free access to the public domain by persons who desire to establish settlements thereupon or to otherwise use it in compliance with the law.

"The act of Feb. 25, 1885, prohibits the fencing of public lands by persons having no claim or color of title thereto. It also states that no person by force, threats, intimidation, or by any fencing or inclosing, or by any other unlawful means, shall prevent or obstruct the peaceable entering upon or establishing a settlement or residence on any tract of public land subject to settlement under the public land laws.

"Prior to the passage of the act, the Government, as an ordinary proprietor, could compel the removal of unlawful fences upon the public domain, but it could not maintain criminal prosecutions. The conditions which led to the passage of the act were set forth in a report made by the Public Lands Committee of the U. S. Senate at the time the bill was pending before that body, wherein it was stated:

"The necessity of additional legislation to protect the public domain because of illegal fencing is becoming every day more apparent. Without the least authority and in open and bold defiance of the rights of the government, large, and oftentimes foreign corporations deliberately inclose by fences areas of hundreds of thousands of acres, closing the avenues of travel and preventing the occupancy by those seeking homes. While those fencing allege the lands within such inclosures are open to settlement, yet no settler with scarce the means for the necessities of life would presume to enter any such inclosure to seek a home."—Continued next week.

Bill Introduced to Legal- ize Gambling at Parties

A bill has been introduced in the state legislature to legalize gambling at bridge parties.

According to Mr. Llewellyn, one of the authors of the bill, one of the aims of the measure is to relieve ladies who attend bridge and whist parties from the danger of violating the present law when they play for "favors." The present law is "entirely too severe in this regard, says the major, and the law is in reality not merely so formidable as its title would indicate.

One Editor Gets Matters in a Hopeless Condition

A New Mexico editor not far from here recently wrote an article on the wedding of a young lady of his community. In his description was the sentence: "Her dainty feet were encased in shoes that might be taken for fairy boots." The copy written was not plain and the printer who set it made it appear in print: "Her dirty feet were encased in shoes that might be taken for ferry boats."

1846 Sale Bill in 1917 is Quite a Curiosity

The following is a reproduction of a sale bill published in Pike county, Missouri, in 1846, and is quite different from the sales of today:

"State of Missouri, County of Pike.

"To whom it may concern:

"The undersigned will on Tuesday, September 29, 1846, sell at public auction on my premises, where Old Coon Creek crosses Mission Road, the following chattels, to-wit: 6 yoke of oxen with yoke and chains; 3 bedstead with beds; 3 nigger wenches; 4 nigger bucks, 3 nigger boys, 4 nigger girls, 2 prairie plows, 1 barrel pickled cabbage, 1 lot of nigger hoes, 1 hogshhead of tobacco, 1 spinning wheel, 1 loom, 23 fox hounds, a lot of mink and skunk hides and a lot of other articles.

"Terms of sale will be made known on date of sale. Am going to California.

"John Montgomery.

"Jim Love, crier of sale.

"Free head cheese, apples and hard cider for all. Come and have a good time."

Land Which Produced 125 Bushels Oats Per Acre Changes Hands

The James L. Porter ranch consisting of 377 acres located near Three Rivers was sold last week to Frank Smith of that place for $20,000, including stock and implements. 125 acres of the farm are in cultivation. This is the land that is said to have yielded 125 bushels of oats per acre last year.

prix as a natural-born scientist who knew weather inside and out.

He was tickled nearly to death when asked for a statement for publication. He is very susceptible to flattery, apparently is Mr. G. Hog, for he responded with the alacrity of a June bride who hates publicity when he was told that he might chase European and Mexican heroes from the front page and get into the limelight himself. He said he intended taking a peek at weather conditions next day, and, of course, if the sun shone would skurry back to quarters and remain there six weeks without sticking his nose out of doors. He talked so fast the reporter did not get it all, but this is a part of what he said:

"I guess I'll get credit for being some weather prophet now, won't I? Maybe the folks who have been calling me a myth will change their tune when they get their February and March coal bills. They think I don't know my business, tho I was at it when the goosebone guy was wearing knickerbockers.

"Of course the best of us prophets miss it once in a while. I notice that the government weather sharks get their dates mixed sometimes—they call it a "flare back" when they fall down—and they have a lot of maps and army of clerks to help them. For over a century I've just sneaked out of my hole on February 2 and taken a peep around. If I see my shadow I crawl back in again after telling folks what sort of weather is to come for the next six weeks. Certainly makes me swell up some to think that I'm going to get my name in the Outlook and—Huh? Well, so long."

There was no mistake about Mr. Ground Hog seeing his shadow Friday. The day was remarkably clear at Carrizozo.

Alleged Deserter Nabbed Tuesday by Vigilant Officer

Alfred C. Smyth was arrested here Tuesday morning by Deputy Sheriff Geo. M. Hughes when he alighted from a northbound freight in the Southwestern yards. Officer Hughes suspected ed Smyth as being a deserter. When arrested the soldier produced a paper purporting to be a ten-days furlough signed by his captain but which is thought to be a forgery. Smith was lodged in jail to await instructions from the war department.
