VOLUME 11.

CARRIZOZO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, MAY 20, 1910.

NUMBER 15

Court Until June.

Judge M. C. Mechem arrived Tuesday noon, and the regular work of the court began. Up to that time it was a question as to whether the court for this county would continue or whether the judge would be compelled to go to Alamogordo to open the Federal court next Monday. Judge Mechem, however, recognized the necessity of a court here at this time, and sent some telegrams to that effect, which were supplemented by the citizens of the county, and resulted in the postponement of the Federal term at Alamogordo, and the procedure of the term here, and the announcement that the present term would probably last until June.

Wednesday morning the Trapp case was taken up, and the empanelling of a jury begun. The regular venire was exhausted and a special venire of forty-seven drawn. Thursday morning a sufficient number of jurors had not been secured, and a new venire of twenty-four was drawn. At last night's session the jury was completed and the taking of testimony begun. The jury hearing this case are as follows: Ramon Luna and Juan Bartlett, Lincoln; Frederico Romero and W. E. Kimbrell, Picacho; Prospero Gonzales, Glencoe; Chas. A. Burrell, Alto; James Goodall, Capitan; L. R. Hust and Robert Bourne, Nogal; Louis Lalonde and Forest H. Smith, Carrizozo; Chas. H. Thornton, Oscuro. Eight of these were accepted from the regular panel, while four of them were selected from the two special venires.

In the meantime, awaiting the return on these special venires, the court was busy hearing motions and arguments in civil cases. Tomorrow is the date set for the hearing of arguments on the county seat question, but it is now quite evident that the case will not be reached at that time, for the reason that the Trapp murder case, which is now before the court, will not be disposed of by that time; in fact it is quite possible that a conclusion will not be reached in the Trapp case before the middle of next week. Large crowds are attending the sittings of the court, and much interest is manifested in this legal battle.

A Most Pleasing Entertainment.

Robt Oden Smith, known from the lakes to the gulf as "Bob" Smith, entertained a fair-sized audience at the Baptist church Tuesday night. He is a humorist of the first class and a rare impersonator. Equally good in the humorous vein, the pathetic, and most excellent in the dramatic, he carried his audience with him—full of mirth, yet blended with tears, and not an uninteresting minute from the time he stepped upon the platform until he bade his audience good night.

Mr. Smith's jokes were clean and laughable, and his selections, wherein his impersonations came in so aptly, were of the highest order. From James Whitcomb Riley he gave "That Old Sweet-heart of Mine," in the most imitable manner. He touched the pathetic in "I've Written Mother I'm Coming Home," and of Nelson Page's "Mars Chan."

The ludicrous was reached when he impersonated the sweet girl graduate in a composition, wherein the grass was made to grow, and grow, and grow; but perhaps the most fetching thing of the entire evening—if one is to be selected, for it was all good—was his delineation of an old character in a small town, who religiously, with the entire population, appeared at the depot "When the Train Comes in."

The lecture was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, and the ladies are to be congratulated upon the entertainment the lecture afforded those fortunate enough to be present. It is not often that a small town enjoys such an opportunity as was given our people Tuesday evening, and the only regrettable feature was the failure of many to attend and hear the best thing that has struck the town for many moons.

GOOD LANGUAGE.

A very valuable habit for a family to acquire is that of using pure and precise language. As a matter of art, such an acquisition is desirable. There are beauty and grace in the very form of language correctly and concisely spoken. There is a charm in the speaker who is careful of his manner of speech. But far more important than the beauty of correct speech is the intellectual vigor which it stimulates and promotes. The use of good language encourages the habit of clear thinking. Speaking well and thinking well naturally go together. The intellectual process largely controls the manner of expression. This does not commend the use of stilted and pompous language, for that can be, and sometimes is used, to conceal the lack of thought. Our object is to discourage mussy, incoherent, scrappy and slangy speech, because it tends to ruin the mind and morals, too. People who use such language have confused ideas and lack an appreciation of what is true and beautiful. There is nothing more serviceable in making good clean men and women out of the children, than a household habit of clear and concise expression. It promotes not only thinking, but thoughtfulness, and thoughtfulness is one of the greatest virtues of a home. But make exact and proper speech one of the institutions of the home and it will remove from the heart many anxieties for the future of the child.

The proposition to change the date of presidential inauguration from March 4 to a day late in April, in order to avoid the risk of inclement weather, has been sidetracked for the present. There is opposition in congress on various grounds, but one of the most curious is that the movement is in the interest of the Washingtonians, who want a chance for "showing off" under favorable conditions. There really is little glory for the Washington people in the inauguration exercises, and as they bear the expense of the spectacular part of the performance there would not be any serious damage done if once in every four years they did give themselves the privilege of getting into the spotlight. But the really serious objection to inauguration day in early March is the risk involved to the lives and health of the participants.

The immigration into the United States in 1909 did not reach record figures, the arrivals at New York, the chief port of entry, being 771,380, against 1,040,169 in 1907, which marked the flood tide. But the ingress of aliens indicated that prosperity had returned, for the ebb and flow of immigration correspond very closely to the industrial situation in this country. There were some unusual features in the 1909 immigration, including the arrival of 1,638 persons from Brazil to locate here. Ordinarily the drift is supposed to be in the other direction, Brazil being largely undeveloped and offering notable inducements to settlers.

It is true that in every comet year something unpleasant happens. It is also true that something unpleasant happens in every other year.

A Frenchman says he can understand the language of chickens. This will be a valuable accomplishment, if he can persuade a fowl to tell its age.

DELAY IS DANGEROUS.

When the kidneys are sick, the whole body is weakened. Aches and pains and urinary ills come, and there is danger of diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and impart strength to the whole system.

Mrs. M. A. Jenkins, Quanah, Texas, says: "I was so badly run down that the doctors told me there was no hope. I was so low my relatives were called in to see me before I died. Different parts of my body were badly swollen and I was told I had dropsy. Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life, and made it worth living."

THE ROAD TO POPULARITY

Recipe Has Been in Use Many Years But It Is Not Always Safe to Trust It.

"The way to be popular has been explained by one of the marshmallow magazines which inflates itself with the idea that it is directing modern life. 'When you shake hands with a man,' runs the recipe, 'grasp the hand as though you were glad to see the owner, look him in the eye, and give him a smile from your heart.'"

This is a sure-enough recipe. It has been worked by some of the greatest frauds in Christendom to subvert their own ends. The man who is seeking popularity, posing for it, angling for it, usually doesn't deserve it. Keep your admiration for men who show you their real selves, who, when they are bothered or worried, or mad, or glad, make it manifest by appropriate facial expression, and who are not constantly standing themselves before the mirror.

WASTED A FORTUNE ON SKIN TROUBLE

"I began to have an itching over my whole body about seven years ago and this settled in my limb, from the knee to the toes. I went to see a great many physicians, a matter which cost me a fortune, and after I noticed that I did not get any relief that way, I went for three years to the hospital. But they were unable to help me there. I used all the medicines that I could see but became worse and worse. I had an inflammation which made me almost crazy with pain. When I showed my foot to my friends they would get really frightened. I did not know what to do. I was so sick and had become so nervous that I positively lost all hope.

"I had seen the advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies a great many times, but could not make up my mind to buy them, for I had already used so many medicines. Finally I did decide to use the Cuticura Remedies and I tell you that I was never so pleased as when I noticed that, after having used two sets of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Pills, the entire inflammation had gone. I was completely cured. I should be only too glad if people with similar disease would come to me and find out the truth. I would only recommend them to use Cuticura. Mrs. Bertha Sachs, 1621 Second Ave., New York, N. Y., Aug. 20, 1909."

"Mrs. Bertha Sachs is my sister-in-law and I know well how she suffered and was cured by Cuticura Remedies after many other treatments failed. Morris Sachs, 321 E. 89th St., New York, N. Y., Secretary of Deutsch-Ostrower Unt-Verein, Kempner Hebrew Benevolent Society, etc."

TO KEEP TABLECLOTH FRESH

Much Depends on Its Disposition and Care When Not in Actual Use.

When not in use a tablecloth should be kept in folded creases and when brought out to be spread should be laid on the table and unfolded its entire length, the width being doubled, with the center crease along the center of the table.

Then the half breadth that is folded should be turned back and the cloth will hang even.

Careless servants often gather up a cloth "anyhow," without taking the trouble to fold it up again in its own creases, and thus fresh ones are made.

A tablecloth will keep fresh looking as long again if it is always folded up in its own folds and put away until the next meal.

The French have a way of making even an inferior quality of table linen look well without the aid of starch.

When the napkins are washed and ready to be ironed they are dipped into boiling water and partially wrung out between cloths.

They are then rapidly ironed with as hot a flatiron as possible without burning them.

HINTS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Best Way to Prepare Waffles—Keeping Cakes and Cookies—When Cooking Rice.

Waffles are much lighter if made with sour cream and the batter kept rather thin. To eat with them try chicken gravy or cinnamon and sugar mixed, or lumps of maple sugar melted down and served hot.

A woman who always has delicious little cakes and cookies on hand keeps a cut lemon or orange in the jar with them to give a "far away" and delightful flavor.

One cook always puts a very little lemon juice in the water in which she boils the rice. She claims that it keeps the rice white and the grains whole and separate. It may be worth trying.

If there are not peaches enough left from an opened can to go around mix them with orange pulp and a little sliced banana and the family will find them improved.

Creamed Cod in Potato Case.

Boil and mash six good-sized potatoes, add one egg, a gill of milk, salt and pepper to taste and beat until light. Pick and scald a pound of salt cod, drain and scald again. Now press fish until dry. Put a large tablespoonful of butter in a frying pan and add two tablespoonfuls of flour. Mix and add a pint of milk. Stir till it thickens and add pepper to taste. Grease a pudding mold and line bottom and sides with the potato. Add the cod to the cream and fill the center. Cover the top with potato and bake a nice brown.

Vegetarian Beet Dish.

Wash two beets and boil for one hour or till tender. Remove the skin and cut them in thin slices. Peel a medium sized onion, cut it in very thin slices and divide the slices into rings.

Melt one heaping tablespoonful of butter, fry the onion in it till cooked, add salt, pepper and paprika to taste, a few drops of vinegar, also the slices of beets.

Allow the latter to become hot. Put a border of hot mashed potatoes on a hot platter and serve the beets in the center. Serve very hot.

Finnan Haddie Fish Cakes.

A new step and time saver for the busy housewife is the flaked finnan haddie that now comes ready to use for fish cakes, creaming or chowder. The fish is less smoky than when it comes whole. For the cakes mix the finnan haddie parboiled with an equal quantity of mashed potatoes, season with melted butter, salt and pepper, add a beaten egg and mold into cakes. Then fry.

WORTH MOUNTAINS OF GOLD

During Change of Life, says Mrs. Chas. Barclay

Graniteville, Vt. — "I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—Mrs. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures of female ills as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing female complaints such as inflammation, ulceration, local weaknesses, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life. It costs but little to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, as Mrs. Barclay says, it is "worth mountains of gold" to suffering women.

THREE GOOD SOUPS

WITH THE BEAN AS THE STAPLE INGREDIENT.

Possibilities of This Vegetable Have Been Somewhat Overlooked—Properly Cooked It Is One of the Best Available.

The food possibilities of the bean, long known, are almost illimitable. Not only the omnipresent navy bean, but the black, the kidney, the cranberry, the lima, and the other varieties may all be treated in many ways. As it happens, they are all more or less ill treated by the majority of cooks and made too harsh a food for delicate digestions.

Black Bean Soup.—Soak one-half pint of black beans over night. In the morning put to cook with one pint of water and a pinch of salt. Boil till beans are soft, always adding enough cold water to keep the quart of water on beans. When they are soft take them off the stove and mash through colander. Put back on the stove the part in the colander and the part squeezed through. Add one small onion chopped, one-half teaspoonful of mustard, one-half teaspoonful of celery salt, a dash of black pepper, and boil thoroughly. Now take off stove, put through colander again, this time keeping out skins, etc., allowing the thick part only of the beans to stay in the liquor. Twenty minutes before serving put in kettle, add six whole cloves and a sprinkle of cayenne pepper. Pour over thin slices of lemon on each plate and serve. This soup can easily be made in a fireless cooker. While it seems a good deal of trouble at first one feels repaid because it is good. By doubling the quantity labor is saved and it will keep in the icebox for a week.

Onion and Bean Purée.—Over a cup of cold cooked beans—Lima or any dried kinds—even baked ones will answer—pour a pint of cold water. Mince a good sized onion fine. Add a little salt, cover in a small granite stew pan, and allow to simmer until the onion is pulpy. When ready to serve cream a spoon of butter and half a spoon of flour and gradually stir in the seasoned purée. Just before dishing add a cup of milk, or sufficient to make the soup nice consistency to serve to the number required. Add a dash or two more of salt and dusting of paprika. A sprinkling of minced parsley may also be added. Serve with tiny toast trips made by buttering a slice of bread, cutting crosswise in narrow bits and crisping in the oven.—Chicago Tribune.

Beef Bouillon.—In the morning put ten-cent piece of lean beef off the rump of shoulder on to cook in three pints of boiling water. Take off any scum that appears, then put the kettle where the meat will cook slowly until it is tender. Take off the stove and leave the meat in until the soup is cold. When it is time to prepare the dinner put the soup on to heat. Add teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of celery salt, and dash of white pepper. Mix two level teaspoonfuls of corn starch with enough cold water to moisten, add to soup, boil up once, and it is ready to serve in bouillon cups with small squares of well toasted bread.

Bird's Nest Salad.

To prepare this attractive dish take a little spinach that has been cooked and drained and while still hot press with a spoon to extract the green coloring matter. Rub enough of this liquid with some black pepper into a Philadelphia cream cheese to give it a delicate green color. Shape into balls the size of robin's eggs. With clean, sharp scissors cut crisp lettuce leaves into shreds and arrange them in nests on a pretty plate. Place five eggs in each nest and cover with a little mayonnaise or French dressing. Serve cheese straws with this salad.

GETTING HIS IDIOMS MIXED

German-American May Have Meant

Somewhat Complex.

Passengers on a New York street car were treated to some choice examples of German-American English when a stout gentleman with a robust voice started to relate to a friend his adventures of the previous night.

"Twelf o'clock it wass when he come alretty," said the stout man, "und on de toor rap."

"But," said his companion, "it was only about ten o'clock when he started over there."

"Vell, twelf o'clock it wass when he comes alretty und on de toor rap. Und I tell him de dogtor he vant, he shouldn't go de frondt vay outd, de side vay roundt und de pack vay oop, und chust as blain as dot. Und den de plame fool, he rap yet und vake efery-pody de house in. Den I put myself my pants on und maype I don't pall him outd. I call him a chump und a lopster."

"No," laughed his friend, "you surely didn't call him that."

"Call him dot?" snorted the fat man.

"Say, I call him eferything I can lay my hands on."

MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

For over 40 years this celebrated remedy has been making women's lives happier—healthier—safer.

Many thousands of women have testified to its wonderful effect.

The "Favorite Prescription" is

THE ONE REMEDY that can be depended upon when there is any derangement of the distinctly feminine organism. It purifies, heals, soothes, builds up.

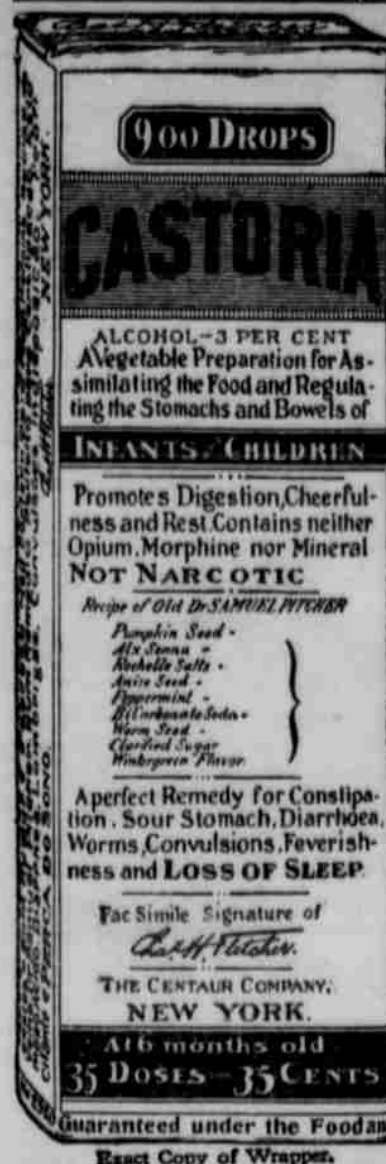

THE ONE REMEDY which absolutely contains neither alcohol (which to most women is rank poison) nor injurious or habit-forming drugs.

THE ONE REMEDY which is so perfect in its composition and so good in its curative effects as to warrant its makers in printing its every ingredient, as they do, on its outside wrapper, verifying the same under solemn oath.

It is needed when backaches make life miserable—when a sickening, dragging, bearing-down feeling makes work a weary agony—when sick headache, nervous irritability, loss of energy and appetite indicate derangement of the womanly organism. It is a purely vegetable compound, being a glyceric extract from native medicinal roots and can not injure in any condition of the female system.

JNO. A. HALEY, Editor

The report of the grand jury appears in another column. Forty one indictments were returned, and eighteen "no bills." The report contains many good suggestions, among which was one calling the attention of the court to documents from justices of the peace which came before the jury, being written on common paper, and in some cases unintelligible, and recommending that the court take the necessary steps to remedy the matter. A similar suggestion was made by the previous grand jury, but no action was taken. In case the matter does not come under the jurisdiction of the district court, we would suggest that the county commissioners take it up at their next meeting, and have the different forms used by justices of peace printed and delivered to the clerk, from whom they could be procured—or if necessary charging a small amount for them, sufficient to defray the cost of printing.

Chief Justice W. E. Pope came over from Roswell Saturday evening, and that night received the report of the grand jury and discharged the members. The judge highly complimented the grand jury on its report, and urged upon each member, on his return home, to follow the course outlined in the report. The judge's remarks contained a fund of good sense and dignified thought, and our regret is that we are not in possession of notes from which to make a more detailed statement.

The trial of Dr. Hyde at Kansas City for murder, which occupied the court for several months, was concluded Saturday, a verdict of guilty returned, and a sentence of life imprisonment imposed. The trial was a remarkable one from more than one point of view. The doctor was accused of poisoning many people, all relatives and wealthy, and the motive assigned was a desire to reduce the number of heirs, and thereby increase the doctor's share of the estates. The testimony went to show that the agent used to cause death in eight different cases was typhoid cultures. Other agents were employed also, including cyanide of potassium. The doctor admitted on the stand to buying this deadly drug for ten years, but could not name a single place where he had purchased it—a circumstance which helped to convict him. Dr. Hyde will probably get a new trial, and being comparatively wealthy from the inheritances of his victims, the case will probably remain before the courts for years.

A rather amusing incident occurred in the courtroom one day this week during the qualification of jurors in the Trapp case. The attorneys for the defense persistently asked each prospective juror if he had ever sat as a juror in a criminal case. If an affirmative answer was given the juror was asked further if he had sat upon a jury where the defendant was charged with murder. Few of the jurors had ever sat in a murder case, but finally one was found, and the defense immediately got busy. Questions were rapidly fired at this particular juror, and finally culminated in the question, "Where did the defendant go after the trial," and the reply came: "To the pen." A ripple of laughter passed through the courtroom, and the judge rapped for order; but the absence of a smile on the countenance of the judge was not proof conclusive that his risibilities, too, had not been touched.

LINCOLN LOCALS.

Attorney Gierke left Sunday for Carrizozo to attend district court.

Henry Lutz returned from his sheep camp for a few days rest. He expressed himself as being well pleased with the prospect for a large lamb crop.

Reuben Michaelis, for many years a prominent citizen and prosperous merchant in Lincoln, passed through here in his auto Friday en route to Santa Fe.

Fruit reports from the Ruidoso and Hondo valleys are very gratifying. Recent estimates of the damage to the fruit crop were exaggerated and most fruit growers expect more than half a crop.

Reports from all over the eastern portion of the county indicate one of the best lamb seasons in many years. From 90 to 100 per cent is the average, and the sheep and goat men are wearing a real Taft smile.

Snow Storm in May.

The eastern slope of the Rocky mountains from Montana and northern Wyoming and well down into Colorado was covered with a mantle of snow Monday. In Colorado the snow fall in some sections was exceptionally heavy. In Denver an inch or more fell. In Corona and other points in the northern portion of this county considerable snow and rain fell Monday, while the eastern portion of the county was visited with a light rain.

ELECTION NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that an election will be held in School District No. 7, in the town of Carrizozo, Lincoln County, New Mexico, at the law office of Wm. F. A. Gierke, in said town, on Tuesday, the 21st Day of June, 1910, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. of said day, for the purpose of deciding whether or not said district shall issue bonds in the sum of Six Thousand ($6,000.00) Dollars, in addition to the Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars already issued, for the purpose of erecting an addition to the present school building in said district; said bonds to bear interest at the rate of five (5) per cent per annum.

At the same time and place there will be voted upon a proposition to levy a special tax of five (5) mills on the dollar upon all property, real and personal, in said district, for the purpose of paying interest on bonds and to create a fund for the maintenance of the public schools in said district.

Charged with Stealing Pigeons.

Two youthful offenders were brought before Justice Scoggins, Monday, charged with breaking into a pigeon-house and stealing pigeons therefrom. The lads seemed to feel acutely the position they found themselves in, and pleaded to breaking into the pigeon-house but denied taking any pigeons, although admitting taking several eggs which they intended to intrust to the maternal care of an old hen, and in due course of time have pigeons of their own. Justice Scoggins gave the boys a stiff lecture on the seriousness of the offense, and fined them ten dollars each, which, however, he remitted on their promising to be good boys in future and refrain from wrong doing.

Cane seed at Skinner's.

In our report of the baseball game here on the 8th inst., we referred to it as the Carrizozo vs. Fort Stanton teams. The fact is (as we since learned) that it was the old Capitan team that played here with a few borrowed players. The borrowed players from Fort Stanton, we understand, only consented to play on condition that it was to be strictly a Carrizozo-Capitan game, and that they were simply filling a few vacancies. The Capitans have held down the local team more than once in the past, and to Fort Stanton belongs the same honor, and they believe they can repeat. However, it was simply a mistake in reporting the game; and as we like to give credit where credit is due, Capitan gets the credit by a score of 10 to 6. Nevertheless the Carrizozo team would like to meet either teams once more. Maybe they can turn the table, and maybe they can't.

Halley's Comet Tonight.

The earth was due to pass through the tail of Halley's comet Wednesday evening, May 18th, but was not visible on account of the moon being nearly full. The comet's closest approach to us will come two days later, on May 20, when it will be but 14,000,000 miles away. For a few days following it will be splendidly visible in the evening sky, and then it will fade gradually as it recedes from us. This comet has a period of 76 years. This has been its twenty-fourth visit to the earth since B. C. 12, and it will not return for 76 years. It is known to astronomers as one of the tramps and vagabonds of the skies.

A number of the regular venire, having been excused from service on the Trapp case have returned home, securing a leave until next week.

A light rain fell in this town Wednesday evening, just enough to lay the dust. It was a welcome guest.

Harry Little went out to the Hopkins mines, south of town, Monday morning to put up some frame buildings for the company.

Postmaster Adams came down from Corona last night. He said he felt lonesome and came down to join the crowd from his town.

Mrs. A. M. Brothers, who has been slightly indisposed the past week, has recovered, and greets her many customers at her place of business—the Burrell House.

Walter P. Chisum of Roswell, grand lecturer of the Masonic order, was here this week on business connected with that order.

E. R. Wright, district attorney of Quay and Guadalupe counties, is here this week assisting in the prosecution of the J. C. Trapp and sons, charged with the murder of W. J. McAdams.

D. del Curto was down today from his ranch beyond White Oaks. Mr. del Curto says the cold nights of the past two weeks have caused a great loss to sheepmen. He predicts that the lamb crop will not be more than 50 per cent on account of the unusually cold nights.

The next regular communication of Carrizozo Lodge No. 41, A. F. & A. M., will be held tomorrow, Saturday, May 21st. Afternoon session at 2:30 and evening session at 7:30. Work in the first and second degrees. All visitors cordially invited to be present.

Phenomenal weather conditions have existed in this section the past ten days. Some attribute the unusual wind and cool atmosphere to the close approach of the much-talked of comet; but now since the comet has come and gone, we don't know what excuse will be offered for a continuance of like atmospheric conditions.

Henry Amsden, known in this section for many years, was up from Oscura this week. Mr. Amsden has been engaged in mining in Lincoln county since he came here from Colorado, and it was while doing some mining development on a claim south of here two years ago that he met with an accident from which he lost both eyes. A premature explosion struck him in the face, mutilating him in a serious manner, but he recovered from the effects of the explosion, all except his sight, and that is gone forever.

Carrizozo was a busy place this week, principally on account of the spring term of district court, which drew large numbers of outsiders here either as jurors, witnesses, or litigants in civil cases. All seemed impressed with the many improvements in the town since their last visit.

Henry Lacey, local manager of the Colorado Telephone company, is out this week with a crew of men taking down the old telephone line between here and Lincoln. The company purchased the line between here and Capitan from Robert Bourne, and the one between Capitan and Lincoln from Dr. Watson.

A marriage took place at the Catholic church here on Monday evening. The contracting parties are two young Spanish-American people from San Patricio. The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of friends of both parties in this place. The bride was beautifully attired in white satin, as were also two little girls who acted as bridesmaids.

His Views on Suffrage.

When a female canvasser asked an old farmer to sign a petition in favor of a woman's movement he eyed the document for awhile with suspicion. If you've got anything to keep her quiet I'll sign it."—Ladies Home Journal.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

The contest began when the board of theatrical managers forbade the admission of one critic representing a special theatrical paper.

ECONOMICAL USE OF MEAT

Stewing, in One Form or Another, is Perhaps the Best Method Yet Devised.

For the woman who has never learned how to use the cheaper cuts of meat the following suggestions may prove worth while:

Stews may be cooked on top of the stove or in the oven, the essentials being a slow, moist, gentle heat, that softens the fibers and develops the juice of the meat, whether the process be known as fricasseeing, stewing, or braising, and the finished result a stew, a braise, a ragout, a haricot, or salmi.

Braising is a particularly good way to treat dry meats, like veal, lean beef from the under part of the round or the face of the rump, the shoulder of mutton, heart, liver, tough fowls, pigeons and other dry game. The method of braising is similar to the old-time pot roast, only the braising is far easier in that the water in which it is cooked does not need replenishing and there is much less danger of the kettle burning dry.

In each case the meat is rolled in flour, seasoned with salt, pepper and just a suspicion of sugar to assist in the quick browning. Then it is browned in the bottom of a kettle or a frying pan, using some of its own fat, suet, butter, or drippings, and then put into a stewpan or braising kettle and covered well with flavored soup stock or gravy, or even hot water, herbs, and simple seasoning, and then left tightly covered to stew slowly for several hours.

Butter Ravigote.

This butter is composed of the following ingredients pounded together in a mortar: First, blanch in boiling water for two minutes one pound of herbs, tarragon, mixed chervil, burnet, chives and cress, then press out the water by squeezing them in a cloth; put them with one-half dozen well washed anchovies and the same of hard boiled eggs into a mortar, add a piece of garlic about the size of a pea, a seasoning of salt and pepper, two ounces of gherkins and two ounces of capers; these last should be well squeezed for the vinegar; when well pounded and smoothed through a sieve they are to be mixed with two pounds of butter, two tablespoonfuls of oil and one of tarragon vinegar, and again pounded and mixed for use.

Ham Bone Soup.

Boil the ham bone, which should have some meat on it, in fresh water for about five minutes. Pour off this first water. Cook it gently and season to taste. Cut up potatoes fine and add to the soup. Just before serving pour in one cup of milk, thickened with a little flour. Before putting in the milk all fat should be skimmed from the soup. Other vegetables may be added if wished. If corn beef is not too salt, soup may be made in the same manner from the water in which it has been boiled. One egg may be beaten and stirred stiff with flour and the mixture dropped by bits into the soup and will be found an improvement.

Almond Tarts.

Ingredients: three eggs; one-half cupful of sugar; one-half pound of shelled almonds. Beat the yolks of the eggs to a cream, add the sugar, and beat vigorously. Pound the almonds slightly, and add them to the eggs and sugar. Place the mixture in patty pans lined with paste, and bake eight minutes. Beat the whites of the eggs stiff, add two tablespoonfuls of sugar, distribute the egg among the tarts, spreading it on top, and brown nicely in the oven.

Orange Cocktail.

Cut orange pulp into very small pieces. Add finely chopped dates or figs and squeeze in enough strained orange juice to cover. If not sufficiently tart, add a few drops of lemon juice. Serve ice cold in glasses.

WELL, WHY NOT?

Jimmy Crow—Say, maw!
Mrs. Crow—Yes, my son.
Jimmy Crow—If flies can fly, why can't crows crow?

Used to It.

Recently a lady witness in a court up the state was subjected to a troublesome fire of cross questions, and the lawyer, thinking that some apology was necessary, tried to square himself.

"I really hope, madam," said he, "that I don't annoy you with all these questions."

"Oh, no," was the prompt reply; "I am accustomed to it."

"You don't mean it?" wonderingly returned the lawyer.

"Yes," rejoined the lady, "I have a six-year-old boy at home."

Reason for Envy.

The stingy man had come home and had objected when his wife attempted to kiss him.

"I've just had a tooth pulled," he explained.

"Well, I envy the dentist," his wife replied.

"You envy the dentist? What do you mean?"

"Oh, nothing much," the wife sighed. "Only he's the first person I've ever heard of who succeeded in getting anything out of you."—Woman's National Daily.

Ungenerous Lavishness.

"Your former husband never complained about the alimony!"

"No," answered Mrs. Flimgilt, "he was brute enough to say his motto was 'Freedom at any cost!'"

ABANDONED IT

For the Old Fashioned Coffee Was Killing.

"I always drank coffee with the rest of the family, for it seemed as if there was nothing for breakfast if we did not have it on the table."

"I had been troubled some time with my heart, which did not feel right. This trouble grew worse steadily."

"Sometimes it would beat fast and at other times very slowly, so that I would hardly be able to do work for an hour or two after breakfast, and if I walked up a hill, it gave me a severe pain."

"I had no idea of what the trouble was until a friend suggested that perhaps it might be caused by coffee drinking. I tried leaving off the coffee and began drinking Postum. The change came quickly. I am now glad to say that I am entirely well of the heart trouble and attribute the relief to leaving off coffee and the use of Postum."

"A number of my friends have abandoned the old fashioned coffee and have taken up with Postum, which they are using steadily. There are some people that make Postum very weak and tasteless, but if it is boiled long enough, according to directions, it is a very delicious beverage. We have never used any of the old fashioned coffee since Postum was first started in our house."

Trapped.

The perpetually clever man listened solemnly to the tramp's hard luck story.

Britain's Rulers.

Mr. Lloyd George is pleasantly proud of his nationality, but it is amazing that he had to go back to Queen Elizabeth and the Tudors to find historical precedence for a Welsh government of Great Britain. On the other hand, England has often been ruled by Scotsmen. Of the last three premiers, two—Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and Mr. Balfour—were Scotch. Mr. Gladstone sat for a Scotch constituency, and so does Mr. Asquith. Ireland has always been busy supplying us with governing men. The duke of Wellington, Lord Roberts, Lord Charles Beresford, Lord Russell and a dozen others immediately occur to one. It is odd to remember that it is centuries since Great Britain had a purely English sovereign. The Tudors were Welsh. The Stuarts were Scotch, William III. was a Dutchman and the Guelphs are of German descent.—London Chronicle.

NATIONAL CAPITAL AFFAIRS

"Uncle Joe" As an Agent of Dan Cupid

WASHINGTON.—On L. White Busbey's desk in the speaker's ante-room of the national house of representatives reposes a packet of letters indorsed "Cupid." It is the filing cabinet of the "Uncle Joe Matrimonial Bureau," established by accident and not incorporated. Every day brings additions to the speaker's mail, from men and women, young and old, from every quarter of the land seeking surcease from the pangs of loneliness. Some of them are rich, they say, and others want to make themselves happy. Some of the writers are quite "choosy," as to the sort of a helpmeet they want and others will take almost any old thing that is willing to trot or even amble in double harness.

The "Uncle Joe Matrimonial Bureau" had a most modest beginning. Out in Stewardson, Ill., there lives a young farmer who has been reading all sorts of newspaper stories and magazine articles about the higher cost of living. He read that lots of young people did not get married because the cost of living was such that penury and sorrow stared them in the face.

He was a bachelor and prosperous, and it occurred to him that somewhere in the land there must be the mate that would make his home happier and brighter, that might be just yearning to get married, yet scared by all this talk of poverty and trouble. The young man wrote to Speaker Cannon. He wrote a modest postal card to say that he had a farm of 120 acres, and that, like the hotel business, there was "always room for one more." He put it up to the speaker to furnish the one more.

Then Uncle Joe in the goodness of his heart told a newspaper man about the young farmer, and the newspaper man put a piece in the paper and the flood of letters started.

Thought Friend Poor, Found Him Rich

NAMES can't be mentioned in this story. It must stand upon its own feet. A former Cleveland, now resident in Washington, got word that a Cleveland friend was in town. He found out the friend's address. One evening he told his wife he would make a call. He took a car and got off at a certain circle. Two streets lead from this running in the same direction. He thought he took the right one. In point of fact he took the wrong. One is a first-class residence district; the other is made up of mean buildings. He paused before the number that had given him as the address of his friend. He gazed up at the dusty, dirty outside in dismay. Then he went home.

"I hadn't the heart to go any further," he told his wife. "John must be playing in awfully hard luck."

"Why didn't you go to see?" his wife demanded. "He may be ill and alone."

"He's too proud," said the husband. "I remember that pride of his. It's almost an affliction."

Next day he went to his bank and drew out a hundred dollars in one bill. This he put into an envelope and sent to the address of his friend, writing street and number correctly. He told the messenger not to say where the letter had come from. This answer came in the morning's mail:

"Dear Bill—Well, you've decided to pay that old poker debt after all these years, have you? Much obliged. I'm going to have that bill framed and hang it on the wall when I get home."

The recipient of the letter slowly tore it to bits. His mind went back to the days of that crazy youth that his friend referred to. He remembered the hundred now; he was astonished that it wasn't more.

"I suppose Mary will ask me if I've heard," he mused. "I guess I'll say he was too proud to answer, but he needed the money so badly he kept it."

Honor for Owney the Postoffice Dog

"OWNEY" is about to come into his own. "Owney" was a dog. He still is, but he is a dead dog. His mounted remains will be on exhibit at the Ohio Valley exposition, to be held at Cincinnati next autumn.

Postmaster General Hitchcock has also arranged to send a postal exhibition to the show. The chief clerk of the department has notified the exposition management that he has selected the leading features of the museum, which will be forwarded in ample time for the opening.

But "Owney" will get the place of prominence. The dog's story makes for pity. Almost 24 years ago the little Scotch terrier was found curled up asleep on top of some mail bags in the postoffice at Albany. He had taken refuge from the cold. The mail clerks adopted him. They at length named him "Owney" because of the frequent question: "Who is your owner?"

One day he followed the mail wagon to the station and boarded a car while the mail was being loaded. He was unobserved till after the train had started. Then the clerks sent him back to Albany. After that he made frequent trips. In addition to covering the United States and Canada, he visited Europe and Asia. The mikado of Japan presented him with a silver medal upon which was engraved the national coat of arms.

"Owney" met a death not in keeping with his honored life. At Toledo, on one of his journeys, he was chained in the basement of the postoffice. A photographer attempted to take his picture. "Owney" barked his objections. A clerk sought to soothe him and was bitten. The clerk spread the report that the dog was mad, and a policeman shot him.

No Other Explanation for Colonel's Extraordinary Outbreak Seems Possible.

"It's a wonder to me," said the old family servant, "dat de ol' kunnel don't go into de circus business, out an' out—he see so many animiles 'long 'bout de Chris'mus time, an' dey does sleh funny tricks! Leastways, dat what he say. Report of Grand Jury.

Carrizozo, N. M., May 14, 1910.
To the Honorable Wm. H. Pope, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Territory of New Mexico.

Sir:—I have the honor to hand you herewith the report of the Grand Jury for the May A. D.
1910 Term of the District Court in and for the County of Lincoln.

The Grand Jury was empanelled, sworn and charged on the morning of the 4th inst., and at once proceeded under your honor's instructions to perform the duties required of us. Major W.
H. H. Llewellyn, the District Attorney, attended our sittings for the purpose of examining the witnesses in our presence and giving us legal advice when necessary. Miss Olga Miller, duly sworn by your honor as stenographer, and Will
S. Brady as interpreter, and Will G. Thornboro as bailiff.

During the course of our investigations we have examined 110 witnesses; said witnesses being duly subpoenaed and brought before the grand jury, and giving their testimony concerning cases covering classes of crime such as are designated as criminal offenses under the laws of New Mexico. We have returned 41 indictments, and in 18 cases have refused to indict, and have returned No Bills, basing our action on an insufficiency of evidence, sufficient to to warrant us in returning true bills.

Most of the cases examined by the grand jury are cases sent up by the different justices of the peace, and the papers accompanying these cases often disclose the fact that the complaints originally filed before the justice and the subpoenas issued by them were prepared on all sorts and odds and ends of paper. We respectfully recommend that the justices of peace of Lincoln county secure printed forms of complaints, subpoenas and warrants as well as commitments. These sets of papers are printed and can be easily procured at a very slight cost from any of the newspapers published in the town, and would certainly be a guide to the justices and would facilitate the examination of the cases when considered by the grand jury.

There is another matter concerning justices of peace that we desire to call to the attention of your honor, and that is that in a number of cases in which the defendants were held to await the action of the grand jury, were cases in which the justices of the peace had final jurisdiction, and such cases we submit should have been acted upon and disposed of, either by fine or imprisonment as provided by law, and the county saved the expense of bringing before the grand jury large number of witnesses when there was no necessity whatever of this course having been carried out. While it is true that the grand jury has concurrent jurisdiction of this class of cases, yet the justices of the peace sending them to the grand jury inflicts upon the taxpayers of Lincoln county a needless expense. And in view of these and other circumstances, the grand jury decided to ask your honor to cite the justices of the peace to appear before your honor at such time during the present term of court as will be convenient, at which time we would respectfully recommend that your honor admonish them concerning their duties and responsibilities, with a view to bettering the present condition, and the practice which seems to prevail.

Under your honor's instructions to examine the various county offices and the condition of the jail, I have to call your attention to the report submitted to me by the committee I appointed, which is as follows:

To Mr. James I. Tipton, Foreman of the Grand Jury.

Dear Sir:—We examined the temporary jail in Carrizozo and found same in a strictly sanitary condition and perfectly safe.

We next examined the office of the County Treasurer, Dr. T. W. Watson, and received the following financial report as of May 1, 1910:

Cash on hand	$57,777.50
In the different funds, as follows:
General County, 1909	430.74
Court Fund	10,919.56
School Fund	611.87
Interest Fund	2,617.00
Road and Bridge Fund	1,896.37
Courthouse and Jail Fund	20.98
Wild Animal Bounty Fund	70.61
Balance in School and other Funds	41,308.73
	$57,777.50

We, to the best of our knowledge find that his books are kept in a thoroughly up to date manner, and complete in every way.

H. H. DAWSON
A. C. WINGFIELD
THEODORE MIRABEL

As your honor is perhaps aware, part of the county officers and the county jail are at the town of Lincoln, and no report is submitted as to the condition of the jail, or the prisoners confined therein. I did not appoint a committee to go to Lincoln to make such examination for the reason that there are no funds available to pay the expenses. It may be stated, however, that there are no prisoners in said jail who are not now under indictment, with the exception of one or two, in which cases the grand jury return no true bill, and they will therefore be discharged by your honor when this report is submitted. It is understood that the water supply at the jail at Lincoln is insufficient, and that certain repairs are needed on said jail, but in view of the pending suit in court over the county seat question, the grand jury deem it proper not to make any recommendations at this time with reference to the water supply or need of repairs.

In the matter of the public roads in Lincoln county by persons using automobiles, the grand jury wish to recommend and call attention of the public and the owners of automobiles to the necessity of some rule or manner whereby automobiles would diminish their speed when approaching teams, and also use in passing teams the right hand side of the road. It is reported that there has been a number of incidents when teams traveling on the public road have run away or met with accidents, owing to the careless manner of owners and users of automobiles in passing.

In conclusion, the grand jury desire on behalf of the people of Lincoln county to thank your honor for coming to Carrizozo to organize the grand jury, and again returning here to receive their final report, thus enabling the term of court to proceed, and thereby saving the taxpayers of Lincoln county a large sum of money.

We also desire to express our regret of the illness of Judge Cooley, and we hope for his speedy recovery.

I also recommend, on behalf of myself and the members of the grand jury, that the wages of the members of the grand jury be increased enough, at least, to enable them to pay their expenses

while attending the jury.

We wish to thank the office of the court for their efficient services rendered the grand jury during its session; and having completed our work respectfully request that we be discharged.

(Signed).

JAMES I. TIPTON, Foreman.

HARRY K. DAWSON, Clerk.
