CIVIL ACTION No 1928.

OPINION.

The legitimacy of the Act of the Legislative Assembly, authorizing elections for changing county seats is attacked, for the reason that the enrolled bill, now on file in the office of the Secretary of the Territory, does not have upon it the signatures of the presiding officers of each branch of the legislature.

The journals of each house show the passage of the act, as well as do the endorsements of the chief clerks of each house, and the message of the governor, to the effect that he had allowed the act to become a law by limitation.

The signatures of the presiding officers of each house are required only by the rules adopted by each house, not joint rules, but separate regulations of both houses for the conduct of business therein. There is no law of the legislature nor Act of Congress controlling the method of the authentication of bills passed by the Legislative Assembly of New Mexico.

The mere showing that the act as deposited in the secretary's office fails to show compliance with a rule of each house as to authentication in the place of the journals of each house, in the face of the message of the governor, the endorsements of the chief clerks of each branch of the legislature to the effect that the bill was passed by the legislature, is not sufficient to justify the holding that the law is invalid.

If it were not so, every law on the statute books in this territory might be nullified by an interested person having access to the files of the Territorial Secretary's office, removing the signatures of the speaker of the house and president of the council.

[Cottrell vs. State, 9 Nebr. 125; Leavenworth Co. vs. Higgenbotham, 17 Kans. 74; Taylor vs. Wilson, 17 Nebr. 88; McDonald vs. State, 80 Wis. 407; in re Ryan, 80 Wis. 414.]

II.—It is claimed by the plaintiffs that the evidence before the court establishes the fact that the cost of the original construction of the courthouse and jail in Lincoln, New Mexico, amounted to $31,137.09.

The first item of $15,000 expended in the purchase of a court house in 1880, included 120 acres of land, out of which several tracts, the acreage of which is not definitely defined, were reserved. It is impossible for the court to say that the buildings cost $15,000, or half of it.

Included also in this amount are several items; for instance, $1,500 for roofing done in 1892 and 1901. It is asserted by counsel for plaintiffs that these items should be classed as original construction, for they say the work included ceilings for the court rooms and county offices, but the record shows what these amounts were paid for:—"Roofing court house," page 54, and "courthouse and jail repairs," pages 56 and 7. There is also an item of $534.10 paid for metallic cases for clerk's office, which should be classed as office furniture.

The testimony taken before the referee leaves in doubt whether the sum of $8,000, as claimed by plaintiffs, was expended in the construction of the jail, or only $4,000; while the record contains a contract for the building and furnishing of the jail of over $6,000; yet only $4,000 of warrants were actually issued on that account, and some $700 for plas-

EXAMPLE SET BEFORE CHILD

Good Idea of Manner by Which Many Parents Set Out to Correct Offspring.

Slang is tabooed in the home of a West Philadelphia family, principally because there is a bright little girl who displays a persistent aptitude in retaining expressive but uncultured phrases.

The other evening at dinner the mother, father and daughter drifted into the vernacular and a fresh start was necessary. The little girl started it. "I'm not stuck on this bread," she remarked.

"Margie," said her mother, "you want to cut that slang out."

"That's a peach of a way of correcting the child," commented the father.

"I know," replied the mother, "but I just wanted to put her wise."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Lee Wyman is an earnest advocate of some plan under which the sayings of children shall be preserved for future generations to read.

"The other day, for instance," says Wyman, "my little boy was called before the tribunal over which his fond mother presides.

"You've broken one of the precious ten commandments," she said.

"Did I?" asked our boy carelessly like.

"Yes, my boy. I've said to you over and over the ten commandments," said Mrs. Wyman, "and now you've broken one of them."

"Dear, dear," my boy said, "there's only nine left now."

"And Mrs. Wyman let it go at that."

At or About This Time.

"Why do they call them ocean liners?" she asked.

"They're getting new terms every day," he said without looking up from the sporting page. "I never heard it before, but an ocean liner is probably a hot one that isn't fielded well and rolls into a puddle or something."

She made no answer, but when he had gone to business she phoned the doctor about him.

A Witty Bishop.

"The late Bishop Foss," said a Philadelphia physician, "once visited me for some trifling ailment."

"Do you, sir," I said to him, in the course of my examination, "talk in your sleep?"

"No, sir," he answered. "I talk in other people's. Aren't you aware that I am a divine?"

COOKING IN SPANISH STYLE

Some Recipes That May Be New and in Any Event Are Worth Remembering.

To make Spanish spaghetti take one-half pound of ground steak that has been put through a mincer and cooked with a good-sized piece of butter in a skillet, add half can of tomatoes. Season with salt and chili peppers. Add one-quarter pound of cheese cut fine. When thoroughly cooked add two handfuls of spaghetti which has been previously boiled. Stir all together and send to table hot. This can be served as a separate course.

Stuffed and Baked Onions.—Use six medium sized onions. Take out the center with a scoop, parboil them for three minutes, then put them upside down on a cloth to drain. When drained fill the inside with forcemeat of bacon and sausage, mixed with the heart of the onion minced fine, also bread crumbs, pepper, salt, a pinch of mace and a spoonful of cream.

Stuff the onions with this and simmer in the oven for an hour, basting frequently with melted butter.

When done take the onions up carefully so as not to break them, place them open end uppermost in a vegetable dish, add to the gravy in the baking pan the juice of half a lemon, four tablespoons of cream and a little browned flour. Boil up and pour over the onions.

Arroz Con Pollo (Chicken and Rice).—Put three tablespoonfuls of oil in a pan and when hot put in small pieces of chicken, which are to be cooked slowly in the oil for half an hour. By this time the pieces should be brown. Meanwhile, in another pan, fry also in oil, onions, garlic, tomatoes and red peppers, adding this mixture to the fowl, together with six to eight ounces of well-washed rice and one pint of stock.

FOR THE BREAKFAST TABLE

Variety of Dishes That Will Stimulate the Appetite Even of the Invalid.

Chopped Apples and Nuts.—Wash, core and chop nice apples, fill the dishes, sprinkle with chopped nuts and sugar, and serve with cream.

Oatmeal With Dates.—Add a tablespoonful of seeded and chopped dates to each dish of well-cooked oatmeal and serve with sugar and cream.

Wheat Biscuits With Strawberries.—Pour a little hot water over a shredded wheat biscuit and drain; cover the top with canned or preserved strawberries, and serve with cream.

Wheat Biscuits With Peaches.—Prepare the biscuit as above, cover with canned or preserved peaches, and serve with cream.

Sliced Oranges.—Peel the oranges and slice from the outside to center in small pieces; sprinkle with sugar.

Baked Apples.—Wash cooking apples, cut out the core, and fill the center with sugar; place in a granite dish, pour in a little hot water, and bake; serve with cream.

Graham Mush.—Take boiling salted water, thicken with graham flour, steam 20 minutes, and serve with milk or cream.

Kilfarney Cake.

Cream one cup fine granulated sugar and half cup butter until white. Add one cup sweet milk and two cups of flour containing two rounding teaspoons baking powder. After thoroughly beating, stir in lightly the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Add one teaspoon vanilla and three drops almond. Bake. When thoroughly cool cover with a green icing flavored with pistachio or almond, and when dry decorate with a paler green icing forming shamrocks. On the top arrange chopped pistachio nuts, and mark each slice with a tiny pipe and stuff the bowl with a bit of cotton wet with alcohol. Light cotton when sent to the table.

rests, towel rack, and every up-to-date feature imaginable. You want it, because it will cook any dinner and not heat the room. No heat, no smell, no smoke, no coal to bring in, no ashes to carry out. It does away with the drudgery of cooking, and makes it a pleasure. Women with the light touch for pastry especially appreciate it, because they can immediately have a quick fire, simply by turning a handle. No half-hour preparation. It not only is less trouble than coal, but it costs less. Absolutely no smell, no smoke; and it doesn't heat the kitchen.

The nickel finish, with the turquoise blue of the enameled chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

AWFUL BURNING ITCH CURED IN A DAY

"In the middle of the night of March 30th I woke up with a burning itch in my two hands and I felt as if I could pull them apart. In the morning the itching had gone to my chest and during that day it spread all over my body. I was red and raw from the top of my head to the soles of my feet and I was in continual agony from the itching. I could neither lie down nor sit up. I happened to see about Cuticura Remedies and I thought I would give them a trial. I took a good bath with the Cuticura Soap and used the Cuticura Ointment. I put it on from my head down to my feet and then went to bed. On the first of April I felt like a new man. The itching was almost gone. I continued with the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and during that day the itching completely left me. Frank Gridley, 325 East 43rd Street, New York City, Apr. 27, 1909." Of Another Feather.

"Did you folks want any aigs to-day?" called the grocery boy from the back steps.

"Yes," answered the cook, who was busy kneading dough. "Just lay 'em under the refrigerator."

"I ain't Hen; I'm the other boy," shouted the lad from the grocery.—Chicago Post.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

BEST DINING ROOM COLOR

Solid Shado is Most Satisfactory, Considering All the Months of the Year.

Dull colors are best for dining rooms that are to be used for the entire year, for though the dark tones will be depressing in August the other extreme—light color schemes—will be "thin" in cold weather.

Dull blue is good for dining rooms, while a golden brown, if the sun reaches such rooms, is beautiful, being both rich and harmonious. Some of the forestry papers are especially suited to dining room walls, and are preferred by persons who consider plain surfaces "flat." "Forestry," as the word indicates, shows wood scenes beautifully colored.

If plain papers have been selected, figured hanging will look pretty at windows and doors, but, in my opinion, when the walls are covered with designs plain hangings are more effective, and there is no danger of confusion in color. Nothing is more tiresome than a mingling of patterns of various kinds.

If two sets of hangings may be used, one for summer and the other for cold weather, thin net or madras will be desirable for warm weather and velvet or brocades for cold days, but when one set of curtains must serve during the year, the problem is less simple, for, in order to harmonize with the walls, these must have weight, while heavy materials would be out of place during the hot months.

Fabrics that combine coolness and weight that could be used are burlaps. These are most effective in designs or borders that are stenciled. Any color combination one wishes may be used.

There are silk and linen mixtures, so-called "tapestries," which differ from those to which one is accustomed, while some of the really thin cottons are so elaborately treated in design they are, like burlap, suited to heavy walls.

Furniture for dining rooms should be plain mahogany chairs with rush bottoms. A correspondent has just suggested leather for her dining room, but I like it only in large rooms. Rush is decorative, wears well and can be easily and inexpensively renewed.

MAGNESIA TO CLEAN SILVER

Perhaps the Best of All Material That Can Be Made to Get Effective Polish.

Have you ever used block magnesia to clean silver? The flour-like substance is not gritty and it can be used dry to rub up pieces of silver that are not badly tarnished. Apply with a soft cotton cloth and rub to a polish with chamols.

Mixing the silver powder with alcohol instead of water will give a more brilliant luster with less work.

Keep one of the rouged chamols skins in the pantry for emergency polishing. A hasty rub will give a brilliant shine. When used on a part that must go to the mouth rinse the silver in boiling water after boiling with the chamols.

Silver should be boiled occasionally in water in which a small lump of washing soda has been dissolved.

Every year or two silver that is in constant use should be taken to the jeweler for reburlishing and the removal of scratches. This can be done with little loss of weight.

If there is no regular day for silver cleaning the hostess will frequently be mortified by that sign of bad house keeping, dingy table silver.

Cocoonat Wafers.

Cream together one cupful and two tablespoonfuls butter. Add gradually one-half cup milk, one cupful cocoonat, two well-beaten eggs, a grating of nutmeg, six drops of vanilla, and, lastly, two cupfuls of flour sifted with two teaspoonfuls baking powder. This makes the dough stiff. In rolling out take a small portion at a time, roll thin, cut out and bake a golden brown in a hot oven.

WHERE ROBE WOULD COUNT

Under Friendly Cover Preacher Might Safely Proceed to Split His Infinitives.

"I tried to get a chance to speak to you at church Sunday," said Mrs. Oldcastle, "but the crush was so great that I couldn't push through to where you were." "Yes, wasn't it awful?" replied her hostess, as she flicked a bit of dust from the Gobelin tapestry. "All the common folks in town seem to want to crowd into our church lately. It's too bad they ain't satisfied to stay where they belong. How did you like the sermon?" "Well, as a sermon it was fairly good, but I do wish Doctor Goodman would quit splitting his infinitives. I try not to let it make me nervous, but I can't keep from being shocked every time he does it." "I never let them kind of things bother me, but that's where the Episcopalians have the advantage of us. If our preacher would wear a long robe he could split them and we would never notice it."—Kansas City Star.

VERY MANY.

"Oh! you're not so many!"
"I guess I am; I'm one of triplets."

A "Crisis."

A mother of a seven-year-old lad was daily expecting a visit from the stork, and found the little fellow's conduct so annoying that his father was called upon to interfere.

"Bobby," said papa, "mamma is quite ill, and we are afraid that if you are not a better boy and mind your mother, it will bring on a crisis. Now, my boy, perhaps you don't know what a crisis is."

"Oh, yes, I do, papa," said Bobby, blithely. "It's either a boy or a girl."—Judge.

Her Way.

"If you would wear button shoes," suggested her father, "they would not come untied."

"I know it," replied she, "and if they did not come untied I could not ask a person whom I have in mind to tie them."

JNO. A. HALEY, EDITOR

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

The opinion handed down by Judge Mechem in the county seat matter, which appears elsewhere in these columns, means much, not only to Carrizozo, but to the entire county of Lincoln. The unsettled conditions, resulting from the suit, have been current themes of speculation for months, and has had the effect of intensifying the feeling existing between different sections of the county.

The delay has cost the county a neat sum of money, for which every taxpayer must bear a proportionate share, has disturbed business, impeded the progress of the courts, and the particular localities engaged in the proceedings—Lincoln and Carrizozo—have squandered a large sum of money in order to get a decision from the courts that had already been passed upon by the people. The amount of money both of these towns have spent in this contest would go far toward improving and beautifying each, if expended in the proper way.

Now, with these unpleasant recollections, and with the memory of a bitter fight—a fight, like all others, in which one side must win and the other lose—would it not be well to take an inventory of gains and losses? Strife and turmoil are ever detrimental to a people, and, while in the nature of things, the past conflict was inevitable, the future is what we make it; and it would seem that it is about time for the people of Lincoln county to get together, forget past differences and work for the advancement of all sections.

We honestly confess that there was a time during the past winter that we were inclined to believe that statehood had a chance; that the senate contained enough high-minded men who would regard a political promise as a sacred pledge. However, time has convinced us of that error, and when we see almost the entire republican membership of the senate solemnly laying statehood on the shelf, there is only one conclusion left, and that is that the republican party don't want to give us statehood—won't do it, and that statehood is dead until that majority is dethroned.

Thirty-six years ago the people of New Mexico were urged to elect a republican delegate which would be a guarantee that statehood would be accomplished. They did, and Stephen B. Elkins, now a senator from West Virginia, applied for admission. Be it said to the credit of Mr. Elkins, however, that he came nearer achieving success for this territory, at that early date, than has the present delegate, whose boast has been that he had "the entire delegation of Pennsylvania behind him." The "American people like to be humbugged," said P. T. Barnum, and the people of New Mexico have shown how intensely American they are by snapping at the same bait so often.

History repeats itself. This week, in the United States senate, the democrats voted solidly to take up the statehood bill, but the republicans voted to shelve it, and give precedence to another. And yet in the face of this fact, and many similar votes, we will no doubt be told this fall, as we have biennially, to send a republican to congress in order to get statehood. The failure to secure statehood at the short session, though it was so faithfully promised, and the absolute turn-down of the proposition at the long session, now nearing its close, should convince honest men that such campaign expressions are only made to get in on, and this veneer has worn so thin that its humbuggery is patent to those who delight in being fooled.

Democrats Favored Statehood.

Washington, June 6.—By a vote of 40 to 24, the senate today took up the administration bill to authorize the president to withdraw public lands for conservation purposes. The negative vote was cast by members who believed that the bill to admit Arizona and New Mexico into the union as separate states should have been given the right of way.

The action today indicated that even if an agreement is reached subsequently by which a vote shall be taken on the statehood bill, but it will be delayed until near the close of the session, when there will be but slight chance for it to emerge from conference.

The democrats led in the movement to have the statehood measure substituted for the conservation bill, but seemed to see in the situation scant opportunity for action on it at the present session.

Tuesday Night's Lecture.

President Garrison of the Agricultural College, Las Cruces, in company with Mr. J. O. Miller, also a member of the faculty of that institution, arrived in Carrizozo Tuesday evening, and delivered a lecture at the Baptist church that night. A fair-sized audience was present, notwithstanding the short notice given.

Dr. Garrison's talk was along practical lines, and while a graduate of Yale himself and a man of the highest culture, he asserted that too many colleges were devoting their energies to culture rather than giving the practical side of life. The graduates of many of the leading colleges were cultured gentlemen and ladies, but almost wholly deficient in the arts and sciences necessary to a successful career in the everyday affairs of life. He urged an education that would give the possessor a capacity to understand and perform, and not merely a superficial gloss. Culture and common sense, or, in other words, a practical knowledge of the elements that spell success, should go hand in hand; and to accomplish this, he declared, the College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts afforded the best advantages.

Mr. Miller spoke a few words, outlining what the Agricultural College was doing; showed where its graduates were in demand at good salaries, and referred to many individuals whose information acquired there in science and mechanics had been instrumental in securing them most lucrative positions with some of the larger industrial concerns throughout the country. At the close of the addresses, a large bundle of pamphlets and other reading matter was distributed, and quite an interest was manifested by many of those present.

LINCOLN LOCALS.

Wm. F. A. Gierke and John Cole returned after being absent almost a month, attending the district court at Carrizozo.

Probate Clerk J. G. Riggie left the latter part of last week on a recreation trip to the territorial capital. He returned this week.

The recent session of the district court at Carrizozo disposed of all the jail cases, and there are at present but three prisoners confined in the county jail, serving out short sentences.

The board of county commissioners met Monday as a board of equalization. Out of respect to the memory of Charles W. Wingfield, deceased, the board adjourned till Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Watson came home last Friday from Carrizozo, where they had been during the session of district court. While there the treasurer invested in an up-to-date Overland auto, which presents a very handsome appearance.

Plans are being perfected for the celebration of Saint John's day, June 24th. A big dance and supper are part of the program, as well as speaking. The committee having charge of the affair reports liberal donations for its support.

Presiding Elder Visits.

Presiding Elder Cochran came up from El Paso Saturday, and preached at the Methodist church that night and Sunday. This was the presiding elder's first visit here for quite a period, and many matters of serious import to the local congregation were discussed.

"It cured me," or "It saved the life of my child," are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This is true the world over where this valuable remedy has been introduced. No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowel complaints has received such general approval. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is that it cures. Sold by all dealers.

NOTICE OF SUIT PENDING.

In the Sixth Judicial District Court of the Territory of New Mexico, in and for Lincoln County.

Exchange Bank of Carrizozo, New Mexico,
Plaintiff,

Vs.

Nannie F. Henry and O. L. Henry, Defendants.

The said defendants, Nannie F. Henry and O. L. Henry, are hereby notified that a civil suit has been commenced against them in the District court aforesaid, by the plaintiff, Exchange Bank of Carrizozo, New Mexico, the general purposes of which are:

(1) To foreclose a certain mortgage deed executed by the defendants to the plaintiff on the 13th day of February, 1909, to secure the payment of a note of that date for the sum of Seven Hundred Dollars, with interest from the maturity of same at the rate of ten per cent per annum and attorney's fees, said note being due ninety days after its date.

And also (2) to foreclose a certain other mortgage deed given by the defendants to the plaintiff on the 8th day of March, 1909, to secure the payment of a certain other note of that date for Three Hundred Dollars, payable ninety days after the date thereof, with interest at the rate of ten per cent per annum from maturity, and ten per cent attorney's fees, both of said mortgages conveying Lots fifteen (15) and sixteen (16) in Block seven (7) in the town of Carrizozo, in said county of Lincoln.

Said complaint also prays for general relief.

That unless said defendants cause their appearance to be entered in said suit on or before the 8th day of July, 1910, judgment by default will be rendered against them therein.

Plaintiff's attorneys are Howitt & Hudspeth, White Oaks, New Mexico.

Train Held Up.

No. 2 passenger train was held up this morning about 1 o'clock, by a lone bandit, at Robsart, six miles east of here. The highwayman housed the train crew in a place of safety, went through the day coaches and the sleepers, using the porter for a guide, and politely requested all passengers to hand over their money and valuable jewelry, particularly their diamonds. It is not definitely known how much money was secured, but it is stated to have been something like $400. The officers, as soon as notified, went to the scene of the hold-up, but the unusually dry nature of the ground, stirred by a fierce wind, all but obliterated the tracks of the bandit, and it is almost impossible to say whether he was on foot or horseback.

Later reports are to the effect that a man was seen getting on the private car of Superintendent Hawkes, which was attached to No. 2. This is supposed to have been the robber; for proceedings began soon after the train left the yards. After corralling the crew and with the assistance of the porter relieving the passengers of their hard cash, he returned to the private car, shot out the lights, stopped the train and jumped off, disappearing in the darkness.

Baseball Tomorrow.

The Carrizozo ball team intends to go to Capitan tomorrow, where they will play the Capitan club. Our boys will have to do some playing in order to wrest victory from the Capitanites, as that team has been greatly strengthened and they are playing ball this season. Capitan defeated Fort Stanton last Saturday 11 to 5, and has one game on Carrizozo also, but we believe the wires will tell a different tale tomorrow.

A Meteor Falls.

Johnnie Greer was over from Bonito yesterday, and reported the fall of a meteor on the creek about noon yesterday. He said it appeared like a ball of fire about the size of a large barrel, lighting up the mountain side in its descent. To the best of his judgment, Mr. Greer said he believed the fiery visitor struck the ground near the home of "Uncle" Ben Robinson.

ELECTION NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that an election will be held in School District No. 7, in the town of Carrizozo, Lincoln County, New Mexico, at the law office of Wm. F. A. Gierke, in said town, on Tuesday, the 21st Day of June, 1910, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. of said day, for the purpose of deciding whether or not said district shall issue bonds in the sum of Six Thousand ($6,000.00) Dollars, in addition to the Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars already issued, for the purpose of erecting an addition to the present school building in said district; said bonds to bear interest at the rate of five (5) per cent per annum.

At the same time and place there will be voted upon a proposition to levy a special tax of five (5) mills on the dollar upon all property, real and personal, in said district, for the purpose of paying interest on bonds and to create a fund for the maintenance of the public schools in said district.

Mrs. Julia Gurney went to El Paso Wednesday for a few days' visit.

FOR SALE.—Thirty head of cattle, all gentle. Address P. O. box 125, White Oaks, N. M.

Albert Ziegler, of the firm of Ziegler Bros., left Tuesday for a week's visit to his family at Trinidad, Colorado.

J. G. Riggle, county clerk, returned Sunday from a business trip to Santa Fe, and left next morning for Lincoln.

Uncle Amos Eaker, who has been in Tucumcari the past year, is in town this week, visiting his daughter, Mrs. John Adams.

Fortify against the fly by screening your doors and windows. The Foxworth-Galbraith company can supply the screens.

There will be a dance in the library hall at Fort Stanton, on Friday evening, June 17, to which a general invitation is extended.

T. W. Stonerod was in from the Jicarillas this week. He reports considerable activity in the camp, and feels hopeful of some practical development in the near future.

B. F. Goff and Charlie McMasters left yesterday morning for the head waters of the raging Ruidoso, where they will spend a week angling for the speckled beauties.

Rev. G. C. Berryman of Alamogordo will be here Sunday to fill his regular appointments, morning and evening, at the Baptist church. Everybody is cordially invited to attend these services.

Sheriff Stevens and guards returned Sunday night from Santa Fe, where they had gone to deliver eight prisoners to the territorial penitentiary, sentenced at the recent term of court.

J. C. Harry came up from Alamogordo Wednesday, and went to White Oaks yesterday. White Oaks has attractions in summer that are hard to resist by anyone who has enjoyed them.

H. S. Campbell and family left for the Ruidoso Tuesday for a ten-days' fishing trip. "Doc" Lacey accompanied them, in the capacity of general factotum, and promised to fry all fish caught.

R. Irminger and his daughter, Mrs. Boone, returned to Capitan Friday from Palomas springs. Mr. Irminger, whose heart is affected, failed to receive any benefits from his trip; in fact the baths had just the opposite effect, hence his early return.

J. H. Greer and Geo. A. Montgomery passed through Monday, on their return from the Palomas hot springs to Capitan. This was Mr. Greer's second trip, but Mr. Montgomery, who had a serious attack of rheumatism, had been there two months.

Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kelly's baby, met with a very painful accident Wednesday evening. She fell on a coal scuttle and received a cut on the nose, penetrating the bone. While painful, the cut will probably heal without marring the little one's features.

Ed. T. Kelley left Wednesday morning for the Datil mountains, in the western portion of Socorro county, and expects to be absent a couple of months. In the meantime, his brother Jerry is driving the float, and is just as gallant as Ed., and his services are always at the disposal of joy-riders—of the gentler sex.

Col. Geo. W. Pritchard visited the mining camps of White Oaks and Jicarilla after court adjourned last week. He returned here Saturday and left for Santa Fe that afternoon. The colonel is interested in some valuable properties in both camps mentioned, and expects to interest capital in their development.

The Capitan train leaves here at six o'clock in the morning instead of seven, and those who are accustomed to catching that train at the later hour will have to jump lively to make connection at the earlier hour. The fact that the train returns an hour earlier than before, adds some comfort to passengers from the east end of the county desiring to catch the mid-day train to El Paso.

The body of J. E. House, who died recently in Germany, passed through here Wednesday, enroute to El Paso. The remains were accompanied by Mrs. House and were met here by A. L. Sharpe and J. J. Kaster of El Paso. Mr. House was at one time a member of the Momsum firm of El Paso, and traveled over this country. He closed out his holdings, and with his wife took a trip to Europe. While in Germany he underwent a surgical operation from the effects of which he died.

T. W. Henley was down from Nogal a couple of days this week. Uncle Tom enjoys the distinction of a long service as postmaster at one place. With a slight intermission, he has been postmaster at Nogal for almost nineteen years. Uncle Tom, from length of service, is, we believe, entitled to a pension, and we respectfully recommend his case for the consideration of our delegate to congress, Mr. W. H. Andrews, of Washington, D.C., whose specialty is procuring pensions.

Married in Los Angeles.

John F. Gumm and Mrs. Alice Thompson were married in Los Angeles, California, the 4th of this month. The groom needs no introduction to our readers, having been a resident of this county for twenty years, and the bride resides in the Mimbres Valley, Grant county, where she owns a fruit and alfalfa farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Gumm will visit Honolulu on their honeymoon, and expect to be at home in Grant county August 1st. John writes that, before settling down to the humdrum existence of married life, he will come to Carriazo and make it all right with the boys, by furnishing the cigars and other accessories necessary for honoring the event.

Fish Give a Reception in Aquarium

WASHINGTON.—Robert Timbers, veteran keeper of the bureau of fisheries has a pet eel—an eel that eats out of his hand, squirms about with glee when its master is near and otherwise worships the custodian of Uncle Sam's fish.

In the social column of the Fish Gazette the following bright and breezy chronicle appeared the other night:

"Robert Timbers, veteran keeper, returned to work yesterday. Everybody was glad to see him. The younger folk swam to the surface and lashed the water in a hubbub with their tails, giving the most frantic manifestations of friendship and affection. It was a joyous event."

When Timbers appeared at the aquarium, after an enforced absence of several days, all the best society at the bureau of fisheries turned out to do him honor. He was given a rousing reception. Boredom had reigned in his absence, and the fish had been lonely—desperately lonely. They missed his appreciative touch and kindly regard. They knew that he understood them just as they understood him.

Timbers' vacation was due to an ambitious and independent seal pup which betrayed very crude manners and a primeval temperament by biting him on the hand. Seal pups can bite. Timbers knew this, so he lost no time in treating his lacerated digit and resting at home for a brief period. He soliloquized frequently. "How sharper than a serpent's tooth is a thankless ward," but whatever sour cynicism he had stored up against the aquarium evaporated yesterday in the sunny light of that enthusiastic homecoming reception.

The "King of the Pen," otherwise the big eel, took the lead in the welcoming festivities. His darting body gave strenuous evidence of his delight, and he bobbed up and down near the edge of the pen, beseeching candy, or perhaps a kiss. Timbers stroked him on the head, as if he were a dog, and "King" was so intensely delighted with the token of friendship that he lashed the water into foam and scared away all his milder neighbors.

"I call him 'King of the Pen' because he would never permit any other eel to live with him," said the keeper. "Nobody can tell me that fishes haven't some sort of instinct and intelligence. We get along splendidly together. He was caught down in the Potomac four years ago."

Timbers says he will have the seal which bit him thoroughly trained and tamed before next July. He harbors no grudge against the pup.

Funny Experiences of Census Takers

UNCLE SAM has been counting his family during the last few weeks. The census taker has been abroad in the land and he has had some funny experiences. Washington's population is one-third black, and among the negroes the enumerators have had some odd experiences.

"I s'pose de nex' thing you'll ax me is whar's my d'nomination an' whar I keeps my money."

This was the peppery response one of the enumerators received from an old colored woman in South Washington. The enumerator was reading off the list of interrogations from one of the census blanks.

"Well, honey, I mought as well tell yer my d'nomination is dat of a Abraham Lincoln 'Publican an' by faith is dat ob a hard-shell Baptist. Yer needn't ask me 'bout my money, cuz I ain't gwine ter tell yer how much I've got or whar I keeps it. Dar, now."

In view of the fact that many of the women of the country assailed the ruling of E. Dana Durand, director of the census, that housewives should be classified as having no occupation, that official issued a statement in which he discussed the question at some length.

"It was not intended by the instructions," said Mr. Durand, "to imply that housewives have not a high occupation and one which actually contributes greatly to the wealth of the country. The point is, however, that the census idea of an occupation is necessarily one which brings in money directly—which is a means of support to the family."

Solons Victims of Misplaced Trust

MISPLACED confidence is a terrible thing. Congressmen Rucker and Hamlin of Missouri, have an idea that they are true sons of Walton. Fish are rising to the bait in the Potomac now, and one day the two statesmen decided to try their luck. With elaborate lines and tackle they went up river. They fished and fished, but got nothing. Along came a boy.

"You ain't fishin' right," he announced.

The congressmen argued that their method of fishing had always been highly successful in the streams of their home state. But the boy insisted that they didn't know the first thing about tempting the fish of the Potomac. As it was about time for the house to meet, the congressmen entered into a deal with the boy whereby they were to leave their tackle with him. He would catch a lot of fish during the afternoon and they would return later and get them. The boy agreed.

They returned, having told a number of the members of the house that they might expect fresh fish for dinner. But the boy had disappeared with their nifty tackle and lines and with whatever fish he had caught. The congressmen, crestfallen, sneaked back home, but their friends demanded an accounting.

"We didn't go," they said, unblushingly. "We had a—we had some business to attend to."

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Galena, Kans.—"A year ago last March I fell, and a few days after there was soreness in my right side. In a short time a bunch came and it bothered me so much at night I could not sleep. It kept growing larger and by fall it was as large as a hen's egg. I could not go to bed without a hot water bottle applied to that side. I had one of the best doctors in Kansas and he told my husband that I would have to be operated on as it was something like a tumor caused by a rupture. I wrote to you for advice and you told me not to get discouraged but to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did take it and soon the lump in my side broke and passed away."—Mrs. R. R. HUEY, 713 Mineral Ave., Galena, Kans.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

DAINTY FOR TABLE

THREE GOOD METHODS OF PREPARING TONGUE.

Makes Excellent Luncheon Dish
Either Boiled or Braised—Proper
Gravy to Serve With It—Good
When Warmed Over.

Boiled Tongue.—Tongues are used fresh, corned, or smoked. Wash them thoroughly, and bend the tip around to the root, and tie or skewer it into shape. Smoked tongues should be freshened in cold water, changing the water twice, if necessary, just as it comes to the scalding point; but fresh tongues may be put directly into boiling water. Let them cook very slowly, the water merely bubbling at one side of the kettle. Simmer until tender, then peel off the skin, trim off the extra fat, and if to be served cold, tie the tip to the root again, until ready to serve. Then cut it in thin slices and arrange them neatly, one overlapping another. If to be eaten hot, the tongue may be served with a white sauce, made by cooking one tablespoonful of flour, half a teaspoonful of salt and half a saltspoonful of pepper, in one tablespoonful of hot butter, adding, gradually, one cup of hot milk and stirring constantly as it thickens.

Braised Tongue.—Wash the tongue, skewer it into shape, put into boiling salted water and simmer until the skin can be peeled off. Then dredge the tongue with flour. Slice one onion and brown it in hot fat, then slightly brown the tongue in the same fat. Put the tongue and onion in a pan with a tight cover; add two tablespoonfuls of turnip and carrot, a bit of celery root or a sprig of parsley or a tablespoonful of whole sweet herbs. Or, if this seem like too much trouble, salt, pepper and onions will make a very palatable seasoning. Half cover with boiling water, put on the cover and cook slowly in a moderate oven two hours. Turn the tongue after the first hour and add more water, if necessary. There should be about a pint when the tongue is done. Remove the fat from the gravy and thicken the water with flour wet in cold water. Add more salt, if needed and one cup of tomato, if the broth is not sufficiently seasoned. Put the tongue on the platter and strain the gravy over it.

Warmed-Over Tongue.—Cut cold tongue into small dice and, if there be any portions near the root that do not seem perfectly tender, remove the fat and stew them in water to cover until tender, then add the better portions and any of the made gravy that may be left. Or, if this be lacking, you may thicken the water in which the tongue has been stewed and season it highly with lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce or catsup. Heap mashed and seasoned potato round the edge of a platter and pour the warmed tongue into the center.

German Streusel Kuchen.

One heaping sieve flour, in the bread raiser, hollow the center and pour one cup lukewarm water, in which two cakes yeast were dissolved and two cups lukewarm milk. Stir and set to raise one hour. When well raised put in three-quarters of a cup of butter, three-quarters of a cup of sugar, two well-beaten eggs, one-quarter teaspoonful salt, juice and rind of one small lemon and a little grated nutmeg, one-quarter pound raisins. Mix well and let it raise two hours, then put in pans to raise until night.

The Streusel.—One pound powdered sugar, one cup butter, yolk of one egg and three-quarters cup of flour. Mix sugar and butter, next put in the flour and last the yolk; drop at a time; mix all thoroughly and spread on kuchen. Sprinkle cinnamon on top and dot with butter; bake one-half hour in a moderate oven. This will make the five cakes.

PERMANENTLY CURED.

No Kidney Trouble in Three Years.

Mrs. Catharine Kautz, 322 Center St., Findlay, O., says: "Four years ago I became afflicted with kidney trouble, and rapidly ran down in health. I suffered from backache and other kidney disorders and was languid and weak. I doctored and used different remedies but became no better. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and for three years I have been free from kidney trouble."

The Doctor's Data.

A Howard girl who was uncertain as to her exact age, as her father and mother were not agreed on the year of her birth, decided to go to the physician who "attended the case." He said: "Why, certainly, my dear girl, I'll go and examine my old books." When he came back to report, he said: "I find your father charged with a girl baby born on the 'steenth day of April, 189—, and I also observe he still owes me for you."—Howard (Kan.) Courier.

Was Taking No Chances.

Once upon a time a fond mother disapproved of her daughter marrying. This was the more awkward because the young lady had picked the young man out. Also he had wealth. And the mother, who was widowed, had not the wherewithal to furnish her daughter with the variety of frocks and things which her youthful heart craved. "I might not object to the man so much," said the mother one evening, "if you would only let me see him. But here is a man whom I have never set eyes on, and yet one whom you insist on taking for a husband. I don't understand such secrecy!" The daughter replied: "If I ever introduced him you'd insist on marrying him yourself."

WOMAN'S GENTLE NATURE CALLS FOR GENTLE TREATMENT

Delicately formed and gently reared, women will find, in all the seasons of their lives, as maidens, wives or mothers, that the one simple, wholesome remedy which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally, and which may be used with truly beneficial effects, under any conditions, when the system needs a laxative, is—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. It is well known to be a simple combination of the laxative and carminative principles of plants with pleasant aromatic liquids, which are agreeable and refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system when its gentle cleansing is desired.

Only those who buy the genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna can hope to get its beneficial effects, and as a guarantee of the excellence of the remedy, the full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package, and without it any preparation offered as Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is fraudulent and should be declined. To those who know the quality of this excellent laxative, the offer of any substitute, when Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is called for, is always resented by a transfer of patronage to some first-class drug establishment, where they do not recommend, nor sell false brands, nor imitation remedies. The genuine article may be bought of all reliable druggists everywhere; one size only. Regular price 50 cents per bottle. Get a bottle today to have in the house when needed.

Constipation

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 24 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Happily I tried Cascarets, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you, I am free from all that this morning. County Seat Injunction Dissolved.

tering and other extra work done in the jail.

It was incumbent on the plaintiffs, for the purposes of this hearing, to establish by a preponderance of the evidence that the original construction of the court house and jail in Lincoln cost the county more than $30,000.00, and this they have failed to do.

III. The complaint also alleges fraud and misrepresentation in procuring signers to the petition to the county commissioners calling for the county seat election; also that the election was called without registration, and further that there was fraud in the conduct of the election, while it was only shown that about sixty persons were induced by fraud and misrepresentation to sign the petition, leaving more than the requisite number of bona fide signatures, and while it was shown that a registration could not be had under the law calling for the election, and that the general registration law does not apply to special elections of this kind, and while only one vote was shown to have been fraudulently cast, and that in favor of retaining the county seat in the town of Lincoln, yet I am of the opinion that these questions are none of them to be raised by a suit of this kind.

The overwhelming authority seems to be, to the effect, that a court of equity cannot inquire into the legality of a county seat election, in the absence of any statutory authority, or enjoin the removal of a county seat or the carrying the result of such election into effect upon the complaint of a taxpayer, although such complaint alleges fraud, and for that reason I believe the Court was without jurisdiction in this case, and that the law being valid, the other allegations set up in the complaint should have been stricken.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE BY ADMINISTRATOR.

In the District Court of Lincoln County,
New Mexico.

JOHN BURNS, Administrator, Plaintiff,

vs.
EVA BOUNDS, et al., Defendants.
No. 1849.

WHEREAS, by an order of the District Court of Lincoln County, New Mexico, duly made and entered on this 4th day of May, 1910, the undersigned was ordered and directed to sell at public auction or private sale, as may seem best to the undersigned, after due and proper notice as required by law, all of the following described property, to-wit:

The southeast quarter, of the southwest quarter and the south half of the southeast quarter of Section 14, and the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of Section 25, Township 11 South, Range 15 East, Lincoln County, New Mexico, the same being 160 acres of land, more or less, according to Government Survey.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that on the 21st day of July, 1910 I will offer for sale, and sell for cash to the highest and best bidder, all of said above described land, and that said sale will be made at the front door of the postoffice at Piencho, Lincoln County, New Mexico, which postoffice is very near the land, at ten o'clock a. m., on that day, reserving the right to reject any and all bids.

The proceeds of the sale of said property to be used in the payment of the debts of the estate of Herman Wagenfehr, deceased, the debts being $500.00 and the interest thereon at ten per cent per annum from March 17, 1909, and attorney's fees, being approximately $750.00, together with the costs of this sale and costs of the care of the estate, amounting approximately to $150, being a total indebtedness of $900.00.

JOHN BURNS,
Administrator.
