REPUBLICAN RALLY!

Minnesota Republican Clubs
Welcomes McKinley.

International Medical Congress
at Rome.

Serious Illness of President Morales of Brazil.

WILSON GETTING WELL.

Minneapolis, March 28.—Gov. Wm. McKinley arrived here this morning in a special palace car attached to the Milwaukee & St. Paul flyer. He was accompanied by Mrs. McKinley, Chairman Dick, of the Ohio state central committee, Col. and Mrs. Hahn, of Columbus, W. W. Tracy and A. B. Humphrey, respectively president and secretary of the National League of Republican clubs, H. H. Kohlman, of Chicago, and the committee of twin city republicans headed by Chairman Birley. A large crowd was waiting at the depot and upon alighting from the car the governor was given a hearty welcome. The University republican club, four hundred strong, was drawn up in line outside of the depot, and acted as escort to the governor's carriage to the West hotel. A large number of people were on the street, and at every block the governor was compelled to doff his hat in response to the enthusiastic greetings extended him. When the hotel was reached, the escort, with the big crowd that had followed in its wake, lined up in the rotunda, and Governor McKinley, speaking from the balcony, expressed his thanks for the reception tendered him, and emphasized the necessity that existed for the active participation in politics of the younger element of the republican party. He then retired to his apartments. The annual convention of the Minnesota League of Republican clubs was called to order at 10 o'clock at Exposition hall by President John Goodnow. There was a large attendance of delegates, every club in the state being represented. It was announced that Governor McKinley would make a brief address this afternoon. His great address, however, will be delivered to-night, and he will speak from the same platform upon which he sat when he presided over the National Republican convention that re-nominated General Harrison.

Medical Congress.
New York, March 28.—A dispatch from Rome says: The "Eternal City" is filling up with delegates to the great International Medical congress, which opens to-morrow. Four thousand eminent medical men of all countries have already arrived, and this is little more than half the number for whom advance credentials have been forwarded. Secretary Kocher anticipates that when the convention is in full swing fully eight thousand delegates will be divided among the different departments. The convention will be formally opened to-morrow with an address of welcome by King Humbert. Among the delegates are the following from the United States: From Philadelphia, Drs. William Pepper, Judson Deland, B. Alexander Randall, Chas. A. Oliver, A. Sidney Roberts and John V. Shoenaker; Drs. C. Cushing and Henry Gibbons, San Francisco; Dr. P. C. Remondino, San Diego; Dr. John R. Smith, U. S. A.; Dr. Quincy Kwing, Sewanee, Tenn.; Dr. Adams Morgan, Hardin, Miss.; Dr. H. J. Ray, Aiken, South Carolina; Dr. T. W. Davis, Montgomery, Alabama; Dr. A. W. de Roques and T. S. Dabney, New Orleans; Dr. S. C. Bussey, Washington; Dr. Edward Borek and S. Halsey Werlein, St. Louis; Dr. Sam. Johnson and W. Aster, Baltimore; Prof. H. P. Bowditch, Boston; Dr. D. Belline, Aug. Zuehlke, George L. Peabody, L. Fisher, A. Caille, Henry S. Oppenheimer, J. O'Dewey, Bryson Delavan, Charles H. Knight, George W. C. Lefferts, Max Kiborn, R. H. Sayre and J. Mount Bleyer, of New York.

Denver Felice Murder.
Denver, March 28.—In the supreme court this morning upon application by attorney for Martin and Orr for injunction, the question was raised as to jurisdiction of the supreme court, it being claimed that the case is not ended in the district court by Judge Glynn's decision.

War on Slot Machines.
New York, March 28.—The war inaugurated locally by the Mail and Express on the nickel-in-the-slot gambling devices seems to have swept over the country like a tidal wave. Dispatches give the names of between forty and fifty towns in which the further use of the machines had been interdicted by the police authorities. It is said that the aggregate losses to the different owners of the machines by reason of their interdiction will run up into the millions. The saving to the public, however, with temptation removed will be as much.

The Army Getting Recruits.
Alliance, O., March 28.—According to Marshal Browne of the Coxe army, enough men have joined since yesterday to establish a new command. A mysterious woman who meets the army each night, is said to be the wife of Louis Smith, the military head of the enterprise, and who will serve as Goddess of Peace when the weather improves. Marshal Madison is in Chicago getting recruits and says he will leave there by Saturday with five thousand men. A dispatch from San Antonio says the industrial army under Frye is moving slowly. The people of El Paso, fearing another visit, are endeavoring to raise money to pay the transportation of the army to San Antonio. Gen. Frye is mysteriously missing.

To Visit a Throne.
Williamstown, March 28.—Prince Besslow, the African prince in the class of 1895, Williams College, has received a call from his people to return to his native land and take possession of the kingdom, which has heretofore been under control of his uncle. Besslow is said to be an intelligent young man and is the son of the late King Amah, in Benin, the western portion of Africa.

Dangerously Ill.
Rio De Janeiro, March 28.—President Morales is dangerously ill with intestinal disorder and the chances for his recovery are very slight. His death at this time would complicate matters and cause other outbreaks and serious trouble. A dispatch from Buenos Ayres says the congressional elections in Lujan were attended by much bloodshed and it is thought the same scenes will be repeated in other districts.

Breckenridge Trial.
Washington, March 28.—The Breckenridge case began to-day with more expert testimony concerning plaintiff's handwriting. E. Hay, an expert, was the first witness examined by Judge Willson for plaintiff Worthington, the colonel's secretary, was the next witness, and testified to plaintiff's disputed letter among Breckenridge's correspondence.

Secret Meetings.
New York, March 29.—The representatives of the various anthracite coal companies are in secret session here to-day. Before the conference opened one of the participants said that owing to the continued stagnation of the trade a reduction of 10 to 25 cents per ton would probably be ordered.

Phil. in Missing.
Denver, March 28.—Philip O'Hanlon, in the department of the secretary of the interior during Cleveland's first term, and a prominent citizen here, is missing. His clients are mostly Italians and some claim that he took their money given him for investment.

Steamer sunk.
London, March 28.—The British steamer Zeevo, which sailed from Baltimore, was sunk near Hfracombe in a collision with the schooner Wilce during last night, and the captain and two sailors and a stowaway were lost and others were rescued.

Fire in the Capitol.
Washington, March 28.—This afternoon a fire broke out in the storage room above the senate chamber. The building soon filled with a dense smoke. The walls are thick and it is thought the fire will not spread beyond the room where it caught.

Nine Executed.
Hancock, Mich., March 28.—It is announced that ten men were killed in the Central mine in Keweenaw county by a premature blast. It is impossible to get particulars as the wires are all down on account of the heavy storm.

Congressmen Witness.
San Antonio, March 28.—Congressman Wilson arrived at the Cable ranch near this city to-day. His doctor states that he is rapidly improving. At the end of the week Wilson returns here to remain until completely restored.

No Veto Yet.
Washington, March 28.—The president, it is said at the White House, will send no message to the house on the seigniorage bill to-day. He made a number of appointments that will probably go to the senate at 2 o'clock.

Silver Bill.
Washington, March 28.—A bill to provide for the free and unlimited coinage of silver was introduced in the senate this morning by Senator Stewart, of Nevada, and laid on the table for the present.

Army Moving.
Alliance, O., March 28.—Coxey's army left this morning for Camp Diggs.

THE VETO!

Witnesses Charged with Falsifying in Breckenridge Case.

PRENDERGAST CASE.

Washington, March 29.—The president has vetoed the Bland seigniorage bill. In his message vetoing the Bland bill the president says although he desires to avoid disagreement with the supporters of the bill, his conception of the responsibility attached to his office, confines him to the course pointed out by his sincere hopes to protect the general interests of the people. Last year's unparalleled financial disturbance is conceded to be due to the purchasing clause of the Sherman act repealed Nov. 1, and the recovery since has been slow and steady. He goes on in the same strain and then says: "I believe if the bill becomes a law it will be regarded as retrogression from our financial intentions indicated by the recent repeal of the forcing of silver bullion purchases; that it would weaken and destroy returning faith, and in consequence business health would be checked; and we would return to our recent distressing plight." Then he partially reviewed the Sherman act.

The president is convinced that the scheme whereby treasury notes issued in payment of silver bullion be retired by silver certificates is ill advised and dangerous. It would place treasury notes at a premium resulting in the reduction of gold in the treasury and unnatural increase of silver. He desires that the secretary of the treasury have additional powers. The president concludes that he is not insensible of the arguments in favor of coining silver and thinks it could be done if the secretary had power to issue bonds at low rate of interest. He desires to maintain financial confidence at home and abroad.

Prendergast, the Assassin.
Chicago, March 29.—Prendergast's friends declare that plans have been laid for hanging the murderer on April 6th, the day to which Judge Chetlain granted stay. The scheme includes the taking of change of venue from Judge Chetlain to Judge Brennan on April 5th, when it is expected that the latter will reject the insanity plea, and refuse further stay and re-sentence the murderer to hang next day. Prendergast is still kept in a dungeon in solitary confinement where he will remain till he gives assurance that he will make no further assault on his guards. He is extremely talkative and quarrelsome.

The Crusaders.
Salem, March 29.—Coxey's army left this morning on the march from camp Trenton at Columbus. A rousing reception is expected there, it being strongly a favorable community. Coxey rejoins them there. It is announced that six hundred striking potters from East Liverpool, Ohio, become a part of the commonwealth army Saturday. The army is slowly increasing and no complaints of deprivations have been made along the route.

Mailbox Case.
Omaha, March 29.—Judges Sanborn and Caldwell to-day decided in the controversy between the Union Pacific and the Union Pacific, Denver & Gulf roads, that the Union Pacific receivers are not bound by contracts made by the Union Pacific company with the Gulf. They rescind the order of Judge Hallett, who enjoined the Union Pacific from abandoning the Julesburg line to Denver and who directed that the Union Pacific pay interest on the Gulf bonds.

Breckenridge Case.
Washington, March 29.—Carlisle for the plaintiff in the Breckenridge case this morning opened the proceedings with the request that two witnesses for Miss Pollard be allowed to testify, which was agreed to. The first one was John Benckhart, who said John Brand, one of the witnesses yesterday, stated falsely when he described the location of Lena Singleton's house in Lexington, where it is claimed Madeline Pollard once resided.

Remarck Day.
Berlin, March 29.—The first day of April for many years has been a red letter day in Germany, being the birth day of Count Bismarck. This year will be the occasion of unusual national rejoicing; the restoration of imperial favor and partial return of Bismarck to public life has gratified the entire country.

Death of Noted Author.
New York, March 29.—George Ticknor Curtis, one of the most eminent authorities on constitutional law and the author of many legal works, died suddenly at his residence in this city.

Welcoming the Hon. President.
St. Paul, Minn., March 29.—Governor McKinley and party arrived here shortly after noon, under escort of a committee, which met him at Hamilton university, consisting of ex-Governor A. R. McGill, chairman; Governor Knute Nelson, Rev. Dr. S. G. Smith, General Flower, Capt.

H. A. Castle, E. S. Nelson and several others. On their arrival the members of the party were driven to the Commercial club, where lunch was in readiness. The governor then crossed the street to the hall of the house of representatives, where a public reception is being tendered to him at this writing. An immense crowd is gathered outside of the capitol, and it is doubtful whether the governor will be able to greet all of those that are desirous of paying their respects. The party leaves for Columbus, via Chicago, to-night.

King Humbert Welcomes Delegates.
New York, March 29.—A dispatch from Rome says: King Humbert in person this morning welcomed the delegates to the eleventh international medical congress, and the white haired ruler was given an enthusiastic reception. He referred to the circumstances under which the congress had been postponed from September last, and felicitously observed that it was a matter of congratulation to Italy and to Rome that the place of assembly had not been changed. He dwelt upon the historic importance of the congress, and paid tribute to their influence on the medical thought of the age. He was repeatedly interrupted with applause, and on concluding received an ovation. Other speakers were Colonel B. D. J. Irwin, of Chicago, medical director of the Department of the Missouri, officially representing the United States government, Professor Foster, of Cambridge University, Dr. Kocher, of the University of Bern, and D. Virehow, the greatest of German scientists. It was announced that the king would give a reception to the delegates and those accompanying them at the palace upon what-ever date might be most acceptable to the members. The secretary's report shows that 6245 delegates had registered up to noon to-day.

McKinley a Methodist.
Minneapolis, Minn., March 29.—Governor McKinley and party left this morning for St. Paul in response to the invitation of the citizens of the eastern of the Twin Cities. The governor made a brief stop at Hamline University and made an address to the students in the chapel. Back of this incident of his northwestern visit there is a little story. Gov. McKinley is a devout member of the Methodist church, and during the Washington birthday celebration in Chicago he sat on the stage of the Auditorium side by side with Bishop Fowler. The latter knew of the programme for the present trip, and by dint of coaxing and diplomacy succeeded in securing the consent of the governor to meet the Hamline students before returning home.

White Wings Republicans.
Birmingham, Ala., March 29.—The executive committee of the white wing of the state republican party is in session here to-day with Hon. R. A. Mowley, Jr., presiding. Representatives of nearly all of the state republican clubs, together with prominent republicans not identified with local organizations are also present by invitation. A lengthy report was presented from the campaign committee headed by Ed. and Morton Smith and Ben Delemos, relative to an independent party fight in the approaching state and congressional elections, and also a plan of operations relative to such fight. The report favors independent republican action, and declares that no true republican should support the Kolbite-Populist combine. The indications are that the report will be adopted.

Is from Sun.
Nathan Barth, the big sheep raiser of the Zuni mountains, with his daughter, Miss Birdie, are in the city, arriving from the west last night. Mr. Barth states that the coyotes are worse than ever in the mountains, and the sheep raisers are resorting to poisoning them by the wholesale. He also states that there is more water and grass this season than for ten years past, and from all indications he predicts a big lambing. He will begin lambing on the 15th of April, returning to the ranch on Monday morning to begin preparations for such duty. Miss Birdie will remain at the residence of J. Hirsch, and go to school here.

The Organizer Here.
H. B. Johnson, of Galveston, Texas, typographical union organizer, and a very pleasant gentleman, arrived last night and is at the European. He will go up to Las Vegas to-morrow morning, and return here Saturday evening, holding a meeting with the union printers of the city on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Johnson was at El Paso two days, and states that that city will soon have a first-class typographical union. The gentleman called at this office in company with Messrs. Hopping, Lomery and Hope, of the local union.

Populists Frowned.
Columbus, Ohio, March 29.—This populist stronghold will give Gen. Coxey and his Commonwealth army a right royal reception on their arrival this afternoon. For days past the farmers and their wives have been busy loading up supplies of provender and clothing to be turned over to the army. Numerous horses and wagons will also be offered. A mass meeting will be held on the arrival of the army, and thousands of farmers with their families are coming in from the surrounding towns.

Bland Discusses the Veto of Silver Coinage.

Further Proceedings in the Vile
Breckenridge Case.

Meets in Texas Have Rousing Fight
With Hor a Thieves.

CONGRATULATING BISMARCK.

Washington, March 30.—Bland discusses the veto philosophically and says he will attempt immediately to pass the bill over the veto. He further declares that the effect of the veto will be to make silver a predominant feature in the coming election and the people will choose a president in sympathy with them and not with Wall street. Not only the seigniorage but a free coinage bill will ultimately become a law of the land. Oates, of Alabama, says the veto will be bad for the south. Bryan, of Nebraska, comments thus: "South and west will get together and rid themselves of eastern domination and restore the gold and silver coinage of the constitution." Senators are cautious in discussing the veto, especially those to whom the message came as unpleasant news. Some not talking for publication gave free rein to indignation, and couched their disappointment in emphatic language. Such senators as Mills, Vest, Gorman, Ransom, Cockrell, Sherman, Morrill, Hoar and Quay refused to talk at all.

Breckenridge Case.
Washington, March 30.—Congressman Breckenridge continued this morning his testimony begun yesterday afternoon, telling an entirely different story to that related by Madeline Pollard. He is being examined by Major Buttermoth. Colonel Breckenridge said he met plaintiff in a car for Lexington without prearrangement on his part and conversed and agreed to meet her that evening at Sarah Goss' house, where she said she had gone with Rhodes once. The witness then told of occurrences at Sarah Goss' house and declared that Miss Pollard was then a woman and not a young girl and that he made no promises to help educate her or anything of the kind.

Texas in Mind.
San Antonio, March 30.—Burke Cochran, who is here expressing great satisfaction at the defeat of the "infamous bill," a dispatch from Dallas says the veto is received with the loudest curses by every one and says the party can not recover from the effects of president's policy in twenty years. He could not receive a single vote for his re-election in Texas.

Receiving Congratulations.
New York, March 30.—A special cable from Berlin says: Prince Bismarck will be seventy-nine years old on Sunday, and already the mails are burdened with letters of congratulation from all parts of the empire while numerous presents have also been received by the venerable ex-statesman. A large number of delegations will go to Friedrichshagen on Saturday to present congratulations. The recent reconciliation with the Emperor has had the same effect upon the old warrior as a spring tonic, and he is reported as being in better health than for a year past.

Criticism of the Veto.
New York, March 30.—Leading papers of the country are commenting on the veto. Cleveland is endorsed by the New York papers, except the Recorder. Boston Globe, Omaha Bee and at least one journal in almost every city of the union. It is criticized by the Recorder, Omaha World-Herald, Denver papers, San Francisco Chronicle and a number of others. Secretary Carlisle is here on business and says by this action the president has regained the confidence of the people and is a great man. Cablegrams state that London is pleased at Cleveland's action.

A Worthwhile Society.
New York, March 30.—There was a big crowd to-day at the fair of the Little Mother's society at the Manhattan Athletic club. A number of society ladies, headed by Mrs. A. M. Palmer, wife of the theatrical manager, presided at the booths. The fair includes portions of the World's Fair exhibits from California, New England, France, Italy, Holland and Russia, and the ladies are attired in the costumes of the countries represented. The society sends to the country every summer thousands of little girls who take charge of their brothers and sisters while their parents are at work.

Sword Contest.
New York, March 30.—Over a score of the leading fencers of the country are registered at the up-town hotels to-day. They have come from Boston, Chicago, Omaha, Salt Lake City, New Orleans, and San Francisco to participate in the annual fencing championship contests of the United States under the joint auspices of the Amateur Athletic Union, and the Amateur Fencers' League of America. The opening bouts are in progress this afternoon at the Fencers' Club on West 22nd Street.

Chicago Masonic Temple.
Chicago, March 30.—At the annual meeting to-day of the stockholders of the great Masonic Temple, the architectural wonder of the world, a report was submitted showing that the floating debt has been wiped out entirely, and that current earnings are at the rate of over six per cent. on the capital stock. When the structure was erected the most notable real estate men prophesied that it would be a white elephant, and the showing made to-day is regarded as marvelous in view of the large number of skyscrapers that have been erected since the temple was opened.

Washington News.
Washington, March 30.—The members of the house claim to reflect Cragg's views and state positively that he will decline the senatorship in place of the late Senator Colquitt. When the speaker appeared in the house to-day he was greeted with tumultuous applause from all the members. No trace of the storm of yesterday in the chamber; everyone good humored. On the appearance of amending yesterday's journal, filibustering began.

Encounter With Thieves.
Galveston, Texas, March 30.—This morning at day break a desperate encounter took place at Young's crossing between United States marshals and a gang of horse thieves. A running fight continued nearly an hour and resulted in the wounding and capture of Hick Warren, a cousin of the Dalton boys, and Will Fletcher, all round desperadoes. Another raid is expected shortly and it is thought the entire gang sixteen in number will be captured.

A Grand Old Man.
Princeton, N. J., March 30.—On Sunday next Rev. Dr. James McCosh, the noted Presbyterian divine, and for nearly twenty years president of Princeton University, will celebrate the eighty-second anniversary of his birth. The students will fittingly commemorate the event on Saturday.

Killed by Falling Timber.
Denver, March 30.—The body of unknown colored man was found in a car of lumber from Memphis, Tenn., this morning. It is supposed he was stealing a ride and some timber fell, killing him while asleep.

Hanging in Texas.
Paris, Texas, March 30.—Jim Upkins, colored, outraged the step daughter of Edward Mongales last summer, and Manning Davis, murderer, were hanged here this morning.

WHAT HE FOUND.

A Conservative Opinion of the 'Cochiti District.
Col. A. W. Harris, the well known Kingston, N. M., mine operator, whose opinion of mines is sought after by those acquainted with the colonel's familiarity with ore bearing rock, returned to the city Wednesday from a visit to the Cochiti mining district. He called at The Citizen's office at noon to-day, and was interviewed by the reporter as follows:

"Cochiti boom still continues," remarked Col. Harris, "and experienced mining men are going into the district from California, Montana, Idaho and Colorado, while experts from the northern and eastern states are present looking for mining investments. Those I have met, and in whose mining judgment I have much confidence, speak in the highest terms of the outlook. In my judgment the immense ledges of quartz and quartzite, continuing from the north to the south, show indications of depth and permanency. As assay returns are in some instances very high, it follows as a matter of course that extensive developments are warranted and capital has a reasonable chance for fair returns on its investments."

"The country shows the results of violent volcanic eruption in the form of ash and scoria," continued the colonel, "as also in that of flowing lava, the latter a compact porphyry which borders the veins of quartzite and follow down their sides. Should the immense veins show even a low average of gold there will be great profit in their working, owing to the low cost of mining and their accessibility in the district. Certainly the new district gives great promise."

Speaking about the townites, the colonel said: "As to the townites there are two well under way, although at present Allerton has the pole and an open lead. The maps issued from the surveyor general's office at Santa Fe are not entirely correct, and those most familiar with the topography of the district are uniting to petition for a survey, or a correct meandering of the several canons that proceed from the Rio Grande up the mountains."

"No snow on the mountains that interfere with prospecting, and good accommodations can be obtained at Kent City or Allerton, in the line of food and lodging at reasonable rates."

SHE WORKED HIM.

What the Father of Marcus Frey
Found Out on His Trip.

THE WEB SPUN BY MISS BUTLER.

The father of Marcus A. Frey, Col. G. B. Frey, and his uncle, H. S. McDowell, who are doing the detective work in ferreting out how Mrs. John H. Butler secured such a hold on Marcus that when he died at Phoenix, Arizona, recently, he left her his life insurance policy of $10,000, left for their home at Franklin, Penn., last night.

Thursday, Mr. Frey employed as his attorney here B. S. Roddy, and in the afternoon the lawyer secured several affidavits from city citizens in regard to the character borne by Mrs. Butler while she resided here. Those affidavits will be mailed to Mr. Frey's attorney at Phoenix, who is principally employed to ascertain the validity of such a will.

From Mr. Frey the reporter gleaned the fact that Mrs. Butler worked his son, who is a consumptive, to the queen's taste, and besides the $10,000 life insurance policy, which she claims he legitimately will be to her before his death, there were found missing from the effects of Marcus about $500 in diamonds, $2,400 in negotiable notes on Mexican property, and a few other valuables, which the senior Frey and Mr. McDowell have every reason to believe, after their investigation at Phoenix, were taken by Mrs. Butler and are in her possession.

They also suspect, when they arrived at Phoenix and ascertained that the intention of the deceased had been removed and were nowhere to be found, that the death of Marcus was hastened by some poisonous drug.

At El Paso, the senior Frey found where his son had given the woman $50 to pay for her hotel bill, she remaining there a few weeks after leaving this city, and afterward with a doctor named McLennan, had gone to Phoenix, she knowing that Marcus' business would carry him to that city.

Mr. Frey learned here yesterday afternoon that she was taken from a bagnio in Leadville, Col., and was married; that while here her husband companion was a woman who was also a "soiled dove," and that she frequently met and courted the attention of men, otherwise than her husband.

The father, in his talk, emphasized the fact that he would spend all of Marcus' estate, except that which is now in controversy and which is held by Mrs. Butler, and more too, to place the adventurous and her confederates behind the bars. He also believes that the separation of the husband and wife was only a ruse, to allow Mrs. Butler to get further into the good graces of Marcus, as they knew him to be in bad health, and that they, sooner or later, will again join each other.

A BIG SPLIT.

Two Democratic Gladiators Met at It and it was "Hit," "Bang," Etc.
After the convention last night, which nominated Edward Medler for mayor and C. J. Ennis for city clerk, a number of the delegates, feeling proud of their work, proceeded to load up to the king's taste. It was their night out and the police did not interfere. About morning a log, strapping delegate from the First ward, who once wore a "star" and through his officiousness was dismissed from the police force, staggered into the Montezuma, corner Railroad avenue and Second street, and commenced smashing things right and left, unmindful of protests from the crowd present. One of the proprietors, himself a big, fat, jovial fellow, entered a vigorous protest against such a proceeding as smashing up his goods, which was followed by a "buff," "bang" and down went the ex-police man. He pulled himself together, felt that his joints were not out of order and that his head was still on his shoulders, whereupon he closed in with his opponent and for a few minutes the two democratic gladiators kept up their a la Corbett encounter, until the proprietor Corbettized the ex-police man by a right hand jaw kick that sent the latter again to the floor. Friends here interposed, both were brushed up and made to look all right, and at 8 o'clock they were sent, under police escort, to their respective homes.

ADDRESS: SAN FRANCISCO CAL.

Weekly Citizen

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., MAR. 21, 1904.

There are no native New Mexican tramps.

Republicans are urged to attend the primary meetings this evening.

Card writing in behalf of candidates has started. Characters must be saved.

The tramp army will take up its line of march from Ohio to Washington to-day.

Attend the primaries this evening. Let all republicans meet in their ward primary.

The citizens feel that it is in for it, and is giving itself for the same old fight next fall.

The democrats of Santa Fe are in a big row, and Crist and Tom (Gabel) have declared war on Gov. Thornton.

Thirty-seven states have now adopted the Australian ballot. The reform from the antipodes has evidently come to stay.

It is Coney's army should run congress out of its marble halls and stop further democratic legislation, it might not be an unmitigated evil.

The financial statement published in the last number of the Optic shows that San Miguel county has an indebtedness of about $400,000.

The annual interest charge on the public debt is $22,893,833.20, to which may be added $2,500,000, making a total annual interest charge of $25,393,833.20.

The Territorial Republican central committee is holding a meeting at Santa Fe, and the editor of THE CITIZEN went up to the capital this morning to view the proceedings.

A mining expert from Nevada says there is enough gold in the Cochiti mining district to pay the national debt, providing the democrats are not kept in power too long.

The men who have felt the pinch of democratic hard times the past winter will express their opinion of democracy by voting the republican ticket at the spring election.

The republicans of Santa Fe favor the nomination of Hon. Levi A. Hughes for mayor of the ancient capital. They say with Levi at the head of the ticket they will feel sure of victory.

A long dreaded catastrophe is about to fall upon the United States. Ex-Queen Liliuokalani of Hawaii is figuring favorably on making a lecture tour of this country, crown and all.

Black Mountain mining district in Dona Ana county is attracting wide attention. A recent number of the El Paso Times gives a complete sketch of the district. New Mexico is developing some rich gold camps.

The republicans of this city held harmonious primaries last Saturday evening and elected 100 representative members to represent the party in the city republican convention which will be held next Friday evening.

"Wool market very dull," says the market report. "Production in rates of duty on wool shall take effect December 1, 1904," says the Wilson bill. There is a striking example of cause and effect that should be evident to any observer.

The democrats of El Paso have nominated Dr. A. K. Albers for mayor, and his nomination causes considerable commotion among the other candidates who were seeking the honor. The chances are favorable for the republicans to carry El Paso at the coming city election.

Tex people of Gallup would like Gov. Thornton to offer a reward for the capture of the murderers of D. M. Smith, merchant and trader at Defiance, whose dead body was found last Monday afternoon. It would make the Navajo scouts use their influence toward capturing the assassins.

Two bills are before the senate and house asking appropriations for investigating the areas affected by aridity east of the Rocky mountains. That presented by Delegate Joseph, of New Mexico, asks for $500,000. Senator White, of California, "by request" offered one asking for $250,000.

The Denver Times says: In 1850 the United States promised New Mexico that she should have admission to the Union at an early day. That was forty-four years ago. There might be some difference of opinion as to the exact meaning of an early day, but the government itself is only a little more than a century old.

A company has been organized to construct dams at the falls of the Potomac for the purpose of utilizing the water power in generating electricity. The company expect to furnish electricity for lighting the city of Washington, and also for the operation of street car lines and canal boats. This is in line with the work already done at Niagara Falls. It is probable that in the course of a few years water power will be used very generally in this way.

A significant incident occurred at Santa Fe while the territorial republican committee were discussing ways and means to establish an "organ." A proof sheet of a job was handed in to the chairman of the meeting from one of the democratic offices in Santa Fe. It was a bit of work which rightfully belongs to some one of the republican papers of the territory, being the annual catalogue of a public institution with a republican set of officers. It is a singular fact that it is the rule and not the exception for republican officials to give their work to democratic papers. They do this to thus expect the republican newspapers to help elect them to positions.

REPUBLICAN MEETING.

A conference held at the Territorial capital.

In accordance with the call of the chairman of the territorial republican committee, a number of the members of the committee and invited republicans met at Santa Fe on Saturday. This county was represented by M. S. Otero, E. S. Stover and M. C. de Baca, of one wing of the republican organization, and by Pedro Perez, Thos. Hughes and J. L. Perez of the other wing. In the absence of Mr. Twitcheell, who had been called to El Paso on important legal business, the meeting selected E. S. Stover as temporary chairman. Committee men were selected for the new counties of Union and Guadalupe, and the chairman of the several county committees were requested to fill all vacancies in the respective counties at an early day. Various matters were discussed, one being the establishment of a Spanish weekly paper at Santa Fe. One enthusiastic friend of THE CITIZEN from Santa Fe county suggested that THE CITIZEN be made the party organ for New Mexico. This the publisher then and there promptly declined, intimating that the paper would remain the organ of the publisher. The following preamble and resolution on statehood were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The territory of New Mexico has for nearly half a century been a portion of the United States and her people have been loyal to the country and government and have been patient and obedient to the laws and

Whereas, The people of New Mexico were guaranteed by the treaty stipulation under which New Mexico was acquired by the United States, a speedy admission into the union as a state and to the enjoyment of all privileges and benefits as citizens of the United States; and

Whereas, The people of New Mexico have at nearly every session of congress called attention to said treaty stipulation and asked that they be admitted into the union;

Whereas, The territory of New Mexico now possesses a population of at least two hundred thousand, excluding Indians, and an assessed value of taxable property amounting to about fifty millions of dollars, a school system equal in any of the United States, and in which all are being taught in the English language, with ample funds for their support for at least five months in the year in every school district; and

Whereas, The people of New Mexico possess every qualification which has heretofore been deemed essential and necessary to entitle the possessors thereof to the benefits of statehood, and are much better qualified financially and as a matter of population than all except two or three of the new states admitted since the formation of the Federal Union; and

Whereas, There is now pending before the congress of the United States a bill to enable the people of New Mexico to organize a state government; and

Whereas, Said bill is in some respects different from any other bill pending before congress for the admission of any other territory to statehood;

Resolved, By the Territorial Central Committee of the republican party, for the Territory of New Mexico, that all republicans in the congress of the United States be and they are hereby earnestly requested and urged to add and assist in the passage of a bill to enable the people of New Mexico to form a state government, so that said state government may be formed and put into operation as early as a day as possible; that in case the pending bill be adopted, they be requested, and they are hereby requested, if possible, to secure an amendment of the same so that the said election for delegates to a constitutional convention and the time for the assembling of said convention and the mode of submitting the said constitution to the votes of the people, and the time thereof, may be so changed as to make the same uniform with the other bills for the other territories.

Be it further resolved, That it is the opinion of this committee, representing all parts of the territory, that the republican party to-day is in better condition to carry the state into the union as a republican state than it has been for many years past; that it is the opinion of said committee that if elections on the same could be held speedily, a large majority of the people would vote the republican ticket, and secure a republican legislature, which would elect two republican senators to the United States senate.

Be it further resolved, That it is the opinion of this committee, that it is good politics for the republican party to aid the passage of an enabling act for New Mexico, at the present time, so as to secure the admission of another republican state into the union, to which end the present proposed tariff legislation in congress has materially contributed, the people of New Mexico being largely a sheep raising and lead producing people.

The Irrigation Market for March is full of good things. The signed article by the editor shows his faculty of incisive statement. There is no evasion in his discussion of "National Irrigation Legislation." The ground he stands upon is as firm as removed from "paternalism" on the one side as it is from the do-nothing shrinking landcession policy on the other. The most valuable article in this month is that of Counsellor Charles N. Morgan. This lucid paper on "The Law of Water," illustrates the absurdity of Riparian doctrines in an arid state. Joel Shugart's interesting article on "Utah Irrigation" is very readable on the "Arid America" division with its summing up of "irrigation investments, etc., is particularly valuable. It is reported that this periodical is to be enlarged at an early date with slight modification of form, etc., and that it will include new and valuable features. The price will be one dollar as at present.

The extension of municipal corporate limits is a popular fad. Cincinnati has just annexed five suburban villages, increasing her population 15,000, and the metropolis of southern California is talking of becoming the greater Los Angeles by absorbing all the smaller towns in that locality.

As honest ballot is the foundation of a free government for a free people. Fraudulent registration, repeating and the falsification of the count of the ballots rob every citizen of his right and are the most grievous crimes that can be perpetrated against popular government and manhood suffrage.

The Rhode Island election for governor and other state officers will take place on the first Wednesday in April, to be followed by Louisiana on the third Monday of the same month, and Oregon will vote on the first Monday in June.

It may not be generally known that Uncle Sam prints one postage stamp that is not for sale, i. e., the second-class matter stamps. These stamps, new or canceled, never pass out of the hands of post office officials. Postage on periodicals is prepaid by the pound in cash, and the receiving clerk cancels these special stamps to the value of the postage thus prepaid and forwards the canceled stamps to the department as vouchers.

It caused a broad smile to spread over the countenances of Messrs. Williams, Hyland and Hughes, when they learned that they were invited to meet with the central committee at Santa Fe for the purpose of contributing to the establishment of a republican paper. They publish republican papers and ask no favors of the party, and did not feel called upon to grow enthusiastic over the "organ" idea.

NEW MEXICO NEWS.

The number of names registered for the coming election in the town Eddy has reached 335.

Mrs. Len Hartigan and children are now comfortably quartered at Gallup, near the Rio Puerco bridge.

Wednesday Miss Maud Bowmer, of Lucero, Mora county, will be married to Jesse K. Tipton, of Watrous. The ceremony will take place at the residence of the bride's father, Dr. Charles Bowmer. The married couple will be at home at Watrous after April 1st.

Father Gb. Haellerman has leased the Twelvetrees farm near Springer, formerly operated by R. E. Cowan. The father is now daily expecting to hear of the arrival in New York of his brother and sister, Florida and Miss Eugenie Haellerman, from their home in Belgium.

Burglars broke into Coggins' at Lordsburg while Mr. Coggins and his brother were away. Some money from the cash drawer and a few groceries were taken but the loss was not large. The appearance is that the person effected an entrance through a window, and was well acquainted with the store.

Some miscreant threw a large stone through the window of the house occupied by Mrs. Wolf, of Springer. She got a pistol and fired several shots, but soon exhausted her ammunition and left, going to the house of a neighbor. On returning it was found the party had come back, effected an entrance and rummaged through the house, although nothing was missing.

Speckled Crows.

S. H. Clifford, New Comer, Wm., was troubled with nervousness and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shephard, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing; used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven bottles of Sarsaparilla and his leg is sound and well. John Spenser, Ottumwa, O., had five large liver stones on his gall bladder said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one bottle of Sarsaparilla cured him.

A. P. A. RIOT!

One is Expected at Milwaukee To-Morrow Night.

Funeral Services of Senator Colquitt, of Georgia.

Gov. McKinley on His Way to Big Republican Rally.

FARNELL'S OLD NEWSPAPER.

Milwaukee, March 27.—The American Protective association and Catholics will meet here Wednesday night, through Walter Sims, A. P. A. champion, and Ignatius Donnelly. Both will reply to each other's allegations. Trouble seems to be certain. Delegations are arriving to hear the debate. A prominent member of the A. P. A. says a serious riot is certain to ensue, and it is what the A. P. A. wants.

Funeral of Colquitt.

Washington, March 27.—The funeral ceremonies of the late Senator Colquitt were conducted in the senate chamber this morning. The vice president, senators, cabinet, supreme court, judges and many members of diplomatic corps, speaker and members of the house, general commanding the army and family of the dead senator were present. The services were conducted by Chaplain Milburn of the senate, and Bagley of the house. The senate then adjourned until to-morrow.

Gov. McKinley.

Chicago, March 27.—Governor William McKinley arrived here this morning from Columbus en route to Minneapolis, where he is to deliver an address before the annual convention of the State League of Republican clubs. The governor, who was accompanied by Mrs. McKinley, Col. and Mrs. Hahn, of Columbus, and Chairman Dick, of the Ohio state committee, was met at the Union depot by a committee of prominent republicans from St. Paul and Minneapolis, headed by Chairman Bixby, and who were accompanied by W. W. Tracy, president of the national league of republican clubs, and A. B. Humphrey, secretary of the national league. The distinguished guests were escorted to the Union League club, and will spend the day in the city. The present programme contemplates the entire party leaving on special cars attached to the evening electric express on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, but it is possible that the party may determine to go to Milwaukee at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of meeting the representative republicans of that city, and catch the flyer for Minneapolis at eight o'clock. A dispatch from Minneapolis to the escorting delegation says that the city is filling up with delegates, and that an immense and enthusiastic convention is assured.

Farnell's Old Paper.

New York, March 27.—A dispatch from London says: Lively times are expected at the meeting this afternoon of the stockholders of the Freeman's Journal, at one time the great home rule paper of Great Britain, and the staunch supporter of the late Charles Stewart Parnell. A few years ago the annual profits of the paper exceeded $80,000, while to-day it is on the verge of collapse. John Dillon has been in Dublin for a month endeavoring to rehabilitate the concern, and it is believed that he has secured sufficient support to oust from the directorate the last remaining elements representing the old National Press. Dillon's opponents, however, say that the Freeman's Journal is on its last legs, and that it cannot be re-associated to its former position of profit and influence.

No Quorum.

Washington, March 27.—After the house passed a resolution appropriating three hundred thousand dollars for printing the report of the agricultural department an attempt was made to take up the O'Neill-Joy contested election case. The yeas and nays were ordered and the vote resulted no quorum. A call was ordered and a quorum answered to their names. The second vote declaring O'Neill entitled to seat again failed to receive the vote of a quorum. Another call was ordered, and still no quorum.

El Paso Schools.

El Paso, March 27.—The industrial army was refused transportation from Sierra Blanca under injunction and will march to San Antonio.

The third session of the democratic convention was held last night and ticket completed with Dr. Albers for mayor. The citizens ticket will be nominated on Friday.

Additional Judge.

Washington, March 27.—The house committee on judiciary to-day ordered a favorable report on the bill of Cobb, of Missouri, providing for an additional circuit judge in the eighth judicial district. This district embraces Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico and Utah.

Express Clerk Missing.

Chicago, March 27.—R. G. Wilke, clerk of the United States express company, is missing with three thousand dollars of the company's money. Detectives are on the trail.

Marched Jailed.

Denver, March 27.—Peter Kales, ex-marshal of Colorado Springs, was arrested and jailed here for highway robbery, committed three years ago while in office.

Fencing Contest.

Watertown, N. Y., March 27.—There are prospects of an exciting time at the Watertown Armory this evening, when the international fencing contest of America takes place between Sergeant Major Morgan, instructor in fencing and swordsmanship at the Royal Military College at Kingston, Ontario, and Harold St. John, the well-known American fencer. Morgan, the challenger, is the all-round champion fencer of Canada, and before the present match was made threw his challenge open to all the leading fencers of America. Morgan has defeated Lieutenant Mayfield, of the Australian Hussars; Sergeant Major Cammen, of the Chasseur d'Afrique; Professor Clark, of New York, and others. St. John has won the title of United States champion by defeating numerous American lancers. He has also scored victories over Chevalier Ferne Peato, champion of Mexico; Havner Orlosky, champion of the Black Hussars of Germany; and Corporal Barbour, champion of the World's Fair British Tournament company.

Coney's Army.

Louisville, Ohio, March 27.—Coney's army started on the march for Alliance at 8 o'clock this morning in good spirits. The weather is moderating and there are no more desertions.

Small Audience at the Breckenridge Trial.

Kentucky Talks of Holding an Indignation Meeting.

The President Hands in no Commendation to His Congress.

PRENDERGAST CASE POSTPONED.

Washington, March 27.—There was a small audience in the Breckenridge case this morning. Shelby examined Major Moore, who had before testified for the plaintiff, and denied many statements by Miss Pollard on the stand concerning interviews with himself and Breckenridge. He was cross-examined by Judge Wilson. Moore said the colonel's manner when he declared his intention of marrying the plaintiff showed satisfaction and gratification.

Lexington, Ky., March 27.—Sentiment here seems to be unfavorable to the reputation of Breckenridge in congress. There is talk of an indignation meeting and demanding his resignation. The community is shocked as the trial progresses, and Breckenridge's warmest friends have fallen away.

No Nominations.

Washington, March 27.—It is learned at the White House this morning that the president will not send executive communication to either house to-day. This means no nominations will go to the senate and no official announcement of his action on the seignorage bill be made to-day to the house.

Case Postponed.

Chicago, March 27.—In court this morning the postponement of the Prendergast insanity proceedings till Thursday, April 4, was granted on application of the state's attorney.

Wedding March.

Philadelphia, March 27.—A large number of the members of the diplomatic corps, with numerous members of Washington high society, arrived here on a special train this morning to witness the marriage of M. Jules Patenotre, ambassador of France to Washington, and Miss Eleanor Elverson, daughter of James Elverson, publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer. Another distinguished party from New York will arrive this afternoon. Cardinal Gibbons, who will perform the ceremony, will arrive on an early train to-morrow morning. The wedding is set for noon.

Minnesota Republican Clubs.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 27.—Delegates are arriving in large numbers to attend the annual convention of the State League of Republican Clubs, which opens to-morrow. Governor McKinley will be given a hearty reception upon his arrival to-morrow morning. He will be escorted to the West Hotel by a large procession with banners and music, and will make a five minutes address from the balcony. His great speech, however, will not be delivered until night. The demand for tickets has been large enough to fill the great exposition building, in which the last republican national convention was held five times over.

Stator Bayard.

Wilmington, Del., March 27.—All denials to the contrary notwithstanding, the recently called report that United States Ambassador to England, Bayard, will return to this country before many months is well founded. Confirmation has been received in a letter from Mr. Bayard to the State Boundary Commission, of which he is president, and which says that he will be home to meet with the commission either in the summer or early in the fall. This commission, which includes besides Mr. Bayard, Hon. John H. Hoffman, ex-speaker of the House of Representatives, and ex-president of the state senate Benish L. Lewis, was appointed to revise and finally define the boundary line between Pennsylvania and Delaware. This task has been practically completed, but before it can be forwarded to the governor whose duty it will be to transmit it to the next general assembly, it must be carefully reviewed, and if need be, revised, by Mr. Bayard, as chairman of the commission.

This duty cannot be performed in London, but must be performed in this city, and hence his intention to the commission concerning his return home. Some of the friends of the ex-ambassador think that he will simply return on a temporary leave of absence, while others who know that his present post is unbecomingly to the distinguished statesman and diplomat believe that he will avail himself of the opportunity to personally emphasize to the president his desire to be relieved of his post.

runs from hematite through the whole

Cochiti district, and that those who have the best acquaintance with the rock are likely to obtain the best results. That is, in that district it takes some experience to pick out the best of it, as has been demonstrated by the fact that each man's best assay is better than the one before.

Messrs. Borradaile & Co., real estate and mining brokers, are doing a rushing business at Allerton, in the Cochiti county. These gentlemen are gathering in all there is in sight in that rising town and have the greatest faith in the future of the district. It has been in business in Albuquerque for years and was formerly

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

The life of a favorite medicine shared by a narrow margin.

Yesterday morning, between 1 and 3 o'clock several men, either thugs or enemies in the neighborhood, called at the residence of Vicente Sedillo, residing in south Albuquerque, on the east side of the railroad track, and attempted to assassinate the old gentleman. He was
