Mr. Scott Etter and brother-in-law H. G. Smith of Palmyra Ill. came in last night to spend a few days. Mr. Etter will shortly ship his household goods and occupy the farm recently purchased from N. W. Weaver.

Bernard Francis Mullane editor of the Knowles News and U. S. commissioner of that place tarried Saturdays and Monday nights in Carlsbad on a business trip to Roswell this week, leaving on the Tuesday auto for home.

Two autos left Tuesday for the Plains but one was laid out with tire trouble near Red lake twenty miles east but the one carrying the mail went on. Three passengers on the second were brought back to town by a relief auto and they went on Thursday.

George Tracy arrived here Monday from San Diego Cal. where he has purchased four acres and built a home thirteen miles south of the city. He will close up his affairs here and reside near the Pacific. He expects to be here for some time.

A small one room house north of the Athletic Park burned Tuesday night about nine o'clock. The building was the property of H. A. Houser, and was occupied by a negro family. The fire was caused by bad coal oil which caused a lamp to explode. The property was insured for $250. Another alarm was turned in about an hour later that proved false.

Fire at Hope Wednesday night destroyed the meat market where it started the real estate office of Johnson Bros., a shoe shop, the ware house of the Penasco Mercantile Co., another ware house and the telephone office. The fire was checked about the middle of the block on the north side and did not cross the street. The loss was about $10,000 partially insured.

There will be no band concert while he is absent.

Death of Dan Meadows.

Further particulars of the life and death of Dan Meadows that were given by Mr. Tom Davis last Friday are as follows: Meadows had lived in a cave nearly all his life with just enough room for his bed, doing his cooking outside. The party that examined the cave found it impossible to stand erect while inside and thus were obliged to crawl on all-fours to get in through the small opening. He had reached the age of between seventy and seventy-five and had been in poor health from rheumatism for some time. About July 1st his Prude went out to the old man's camp to buy some horses and offered $50 each for four head, but the old man refused the offer. He was next seen three weeks ago today by Lee Davis and Will Gill, who were horse hunting. The old man being out of food they gave him all they had and tried to induce him to come in, but he refused. They caught up two saddle horses for him and he hobbled them. John Pierce and Mr. Chas. Slaughter went out week before last, about Saturday, to try to buy some horses, but the old man was not at his cave. Gddy Smith phoned down to Hope, this county, from the Y. O. crossing Tuesday of last week that there must be something wrong, for the old man had not been in to his store for food for some time. A party consisting of Tom Davis, Pierre Gottwiler, Dr. Haas, who is justice of the peace, Rath Geher, Mr. Adams, Geo. Tree, Leland Miller, Earl Whitaker and John Buens, was organized and Wednesday he was found about a half mile from his cave, dead, on a knoll in the open prairie. An inquest was held and the decision was that he came to his death by starvation, sickness and neglect. A letter was found from a half sister, Mrs. A. J. Hall of Santa Rosa, Cal., who has been notified. He also has a cousin at Pecos, a Mrs. Hedgcock.

Julius Armstrong appointed Tom J. Davis administrator, who will probably round up the horses and put them in a pasture. Most of the horses water below the Y. O. crossing on Penasco, there being about 100 head in all. Though the old man lived on Walnut hill, eight miles from Y. O. crossing, he did not own any land and though he had 100 horses, he carried his drinking water on foot from a Frenchman's camp on Four Mile hill.

Miss Julia Ferguson returned last night from Boston, Mass., where she spent a month visiting relatives. She went from here to Carlsbad last night to resume work as stenographer for Bujae & Breece. Tuesday's Roswell Record.

James Daniel Whelan has withdrawn from the race for delegate to the constitutional convention, and says why in the in the current issue of his paper the Artesia Advocate. The whole thing is distinctly unfortunate. That such a series of conditions have arisen is an explanation why Artesia has never succeeded in getting county division, and why the present bargain for the formation of Mills county has been signed and sealed, under which all hopes for a county seat are gone forever from Artesia. We do not care to comment further on the matter, for we have friends on both sides. We have said that Jim Whelan was one of the cleanest and ablest democrats in Eddy County. We say it again. That his people and his party were not wise enough to appreciate him is more their misfortune than a concern of the rest of the valley. Roswell Reg-Trib.

Mr. Louie Pipkin lost two calves by lightning last Monday, and the bolt only missed his two boys by a few feet, they having just fed the calves and walked a few steps away.

A nice little shower fell in Carlsbad last night measuring three-fourths of an inch by the U. S. rain gauge. A phone message from Knowles this morning is to the effect that about four inches fell there besides a heavy rain fell around the Salt lake country and for thirty miles east of Carlsbad. The light rain here will not make grass and unless a heavy fall comes conditions will continue bad.

Fine Residence for Sale

Father Hueser offers for sale his town property west of Dearborn's residence. It consists of a seven room plastered dwelling house with stone foundation, cellar and electric fixtures in each room. Five alfalfa lots fenced off in seven sections here before used as a poultry plant.

From 500 to 600 hens can be accommodated and kept in seven separate flocks. They are watered by means of half inch pipes running to each department. The pipes are supplied with water by turning two faucets, one in the kitchen the other near it. Though Father Hueser's expenses on this valuable property amount to the sum of $5,500.00 he will sell it at $3,500.00. If only the dwelling with one lot is wanted the price is $2,500. See W. H. Mullane or Father Hueser.
