Democratic Policy Proclaimed.

There was no attempt on the part of the democratic central committee of the territory to dictate to the various county organizations what local democrats should favor; but in view of the fact that it was impracticable to call a democratic territorial convention, the members of the committee, coming from the body of the people, felt it their duty to make some recommendations with respect to some special features of the constitution. The following resolutions were, therefore, adopted, and, coming as an expression from democrats from all parts of the territory, are respectfully submitted to the several county organizations for their consideration:

"It is the sense of the Democratic Territorial Central Committee that the constitution should contain the following provisions in substance, and they are suggested to the democrats of the several counties for their consideration in the formation of the platforms upon which their candidates for the constitutional convention shall stand—ordinances providing as follows:

"For the establishment by law of an efficient and uniform system of primary elections for the nomination of all elective officers, including the nomination of United States senators; of a uniform and efficient system of popular initiative for legislation and other public measures, including amendments to and changes in the constitution of the state; and of a uniform system of the referendum, substantially in accord with the system in force in the state of Oregon.

"For the establishment by law of an efficient and uniform system of elections, so framed as to secure to the people a free ballot and an honest count.

"For fixing maximum rates of taxation respectively for state, county, city, town, and school district purposes.

"For the prohibition against incurring of any indebtedness by the state, or any political or municipal subdivision thereof for the current expenses, or for any other purpose, except for permanent improvements, and in case of such improvements, when authorized by the vote of two-thirds of the electors of the state, or such political or municipal subdivision, and not to exceed a certain percentage of the assessed valuation of such state, political or municipal subdivision as determined by the last regular assessment thereof.

"For the establishment by law of a State corporation commission to be elected by the people, vested with power to regulate railroads, express companies and other public service corporations, but subject to the right of appeal to the supreme court of the state, and making illegal and void all bonds issued by such corporations, without the approval thereof by said State corporation commission.

"For the enactment of a law compelling the publication by all candidates, committees, etc., of a sworn statement of all moneys and other things of value expended or disposed of by them on account of nominations and campaign expenses, and for other political and election purposes, and limiting the expenditures for such purposes.

For making the judiciary elective, and creating the office of county judge with limited and clearly defined civil, probate and criminal jurisdiction. No judge shall be nominated by a political party, and all judges shall be elected at separate elections.

"For authorizing the governor to annul by veto separate items or parts of appropriations and to approve the rest, but that, notwithstanding such veto, the items or parts vetoed may be enacted into law by the votes of two-thirds of the members of each branch of the legislature.

"For the incorporation in the constitution of a provision against special legislation as now provided by act of congress.

"For prohibiting the appointment to any office of profit of any member of a legislature during his term of office and for a period of two years thereafter.

"For a fair and just apportionment for the members of the legislature, based on the 1910 census.

Scores of Good Men.

According to a reported interview with Judge Fall, that gentleman is credited with saying that "there are so many prominent democrats in New Mexico that they would get in each other's way and handicap the efforts of the rank and file of the party to send its best men to the constitutional convention." Whether the judge meant this as irony or not we can not say, but are willing to accept it as a compliment.

It is true; the democrats of the territory have many prominent men, able men, active men, and they will more likely be found in the way of republicans who attempt to ignore the wishes of the people than in seeking trouble among themselves.

Robbed Box Car.

C. W. Hyde, the yard watchman, arrested Pedro Vega Tuesday, on the charge of breaking the seal of a box car and taking goods therefrom. Will Laughrey, a brakeman on the incoming train, saw the pilferer throwing goods out of the car, and as soon as the train slowed up alighted and gave chase. The burglar was too swift of foot, however, and made his get-away. The watchman was then notified and Vega identified and arrested. He was taken before Justice Massie, plead guilty and was placed under an $800.00 bond, in default of which he was conveyed to Lincoln and placed in jail to await the action of the grand jury.

GETTING MAD.

It very often happens that a person will get mad in arguing a matter or when some one differs with him. One commits a great mistake when he acts thus. He weakens himself and strengthens his adversary. Anger diminishes the force of an argument. As soon as one gets mad in arguing a point, he should stop talking or change his temper. Anger stands in the way of truth. It contracts one's view. It spoils knowledge. Real wisdom, according to the Scriptures, is "first pure, and then peaceable, gentle and easy to be entreated," says Ohio State Journal. There is no room for anger in wisdom, and certainly, when a man is engaged in differing with his neighbor, it is best to be wise. Men sometimes can't bear to be disputed. As soon as one differs, they summon up their ire, shake their fists, and rush down on a man like a clatter of tongs. It does no good. It confirms the adversary in his view and the rancor reacts upon those who indulge in it. Observe when you have had an argument with a man, and got mad, how afterward you regret it; how really it seemed a little devil had intruded itself upon your talk and left its tracks in your heart! And then, what a lack of pleasure there is in getting mad! The only argument that is pleasant and effective is that which is pure, peaceable and gentle.

Ripon, Wisconsin, is rich in historic associations, beginning with the journey through the state in 1673 of Father Marquette and Louis Joliet on their way to the discovery of the Mississippi. The famous Fourier phlanistery experiment of Warren Chase and others took place at Ripon in the '40s. Later the city was associated with the Sherman Booth episode and the organization of the Republican party. Ripon will celebrate its history with a historical pageant on the 14th of June, and no doubt the occasion will attract throngs of visitors.

The statement by Commissioner of Immigration Williams that a large number of immigrants bound for Canada have been excluded at Ellis Island, New York, because they were unable to meet the Canadian requirements of the United States, will reassure nervous patriots who have been imagining that scores of undesirables sneak across the Canadian line into the United States, and thus circumvent our immigration laws.

Sir Ernest Shackleton says that if he had all the money needed to equip an expedition properly, he could guarantee that he would reach the south pole. The veil of awe has been torn away from the poles. Now it is declared that proper equipment is all that is necessary to take anyone anywhere in the polar regions. This seems to be true; but it has taken explorers a long time to find out what that equipment is.

The supposition is that the German balloon which collapsed or exploded during a storm over the village of Reichensachsen, Germany, and fell to the earth, killing the four occupants of the car, was struck by lightning. This may have been the cause of the disaster, as happenings of that kind must be expected when gasbags contend with storms in the clouds.

Speaking about taxicabs, it will be a compliment now to your personal appearance, if the taxicab man doesn't ask for his pay in advance.

LATE BUYERS PROFIT

SUMMER MATERIALS NOW ALL REDUCED IN PRICE.

Foulard Silks Probably One of the Best Purchases That Can Be Made—Practicable Costume for Every Day Wear.

The first of May sets the pace for the reduction of all summer materials, for by this time those who follow the fashions to the letter are provided with the season's costumes. The reduced materials are then for the late buyer, she who was frightened at the first of the season by the high prices, or for those who discover, for some reason or other, that they need extra gowns.

These ladies will do well to consider the foulard silks, for all of these are at least one-third cheaper than with the beginning of spring, and sandwiched in with the better qualities there are weaves displayed as "special," which is to say, the silks go verily for a song.

The striped serges that are so much employed for the coat suits that are useful all during the summer—especially at out-of-town resorts—are often reduced to one-half their former prices. The hip length coat, or Russian blouse model, is much used for these practicable and stylish textures, the gowns needing only a touch of braid or satin coat-edge for completion.

For little one-piece frocks, which will be worn for any and every occasion, there are velvings of cotton and silk so pretty, airy and stylish that there seems no excuse for the woman who can sew not to be well dressed this summer, for such materials often go for 39 cents the yard, and tucking, or the least ribbon banding, gives them a luxurious stamp.

Lastly there is the shirt waist skirt, a thing of such vital importance that it would be impossible to discuss summer fashions or materials without considering it. The models for such skirts are short and plaited and many show a cutting up of the material in the way of panels that seems almost patchy. Nevertheless the general effect is always good—for Dame Fashion always seems wiser than you feel yourself to be—and, compared with other seasons, such skirts take little material.

The evening phase of a smart gown I have shown before and here are pictured the gulpe and under sleeves which make the style practicable for day wear. The skirt and bodice foundation are of plain colored messaline and the overdress, which is in one piece, is of all-over figured net, with a band in wool embroidery. As to this decoration, it is made by a net foundation—big holes through which is drawn a triple zephyr in oblong rings and knots, the effect of the simple garniture, which is hand made, being decorative in the extreme.

If the skirt of this dress were made walking length the model would do for any day service, but here the long fall of the skirt suggests the smartest afternoon use.

For the foundation a messaline at 50 cents the yard would be perfectly adequate for a good effect and the extra money could be put in the veiling or chiffon which might be used for the overdress if the net is not liked, for the quality of the tunic would show much more than that of the underslip.

If madam or miss is very handy with the needle, too, and doesn't mind turning out a frock that couldn't be washed, a short skirt might be made of solid colored organdy and the tunic of figured, through this airy fancy would need a complete underslip in the prevailing color.

Feeding Animals.

A kitten was lately brought up on an exclusive vegetable diet by a family of vegetarians. The result is that it will not touch animal food and pays no attention to rats and mice.

Three times a day is not too often to feed puppies while they are very young.

After they are five months old give two meals a day. Delicate dogs, while young, are given, for the first meal, an egg beaten up with cream.

Curtains of cross-bar muslin are extremely pretty when stenciled with a border across the ends or ends and sides.

More than ever is a soft wrap of charmeuse or chiffon seen as a graceful accompaniment of the afternoon or evening gown.

Bushy, irregular eyebrows should be brushed lightly with a camel's-hair brush dipped in olive oil. The same treatment is good for stiff and harsh eyebrows and it is said to make them grow.

HAD TO PAY THE BILLS.

Mrs. Wise—I think there is a robber in the cellar.

Mr. Wise—Nonsense. The only robber there is the gas meter.

Good Work Proceeds Slowly.

At the present rate of increase nearly forty-five years must elapse before sufficient hospital accommodations to provide for all the indigent consumptives in the United States will be provided, declares the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. Although over 7,000 beds in hospitals, sanatoria, camps and wards for tuberculous patients were established last year, there are fully 300,000 indigent consumptives who ought to be placed in such institutions and a total of only 22,720 beds in the entire country. On May 1, 1909, there were 15,244 beds for consumptives and 294 institutions. The annual report of the national association shows an increase of 99 institutions and 7,500 beds.

Jimmy's Definition.

"Geography," replied little Jimmy Jiggs, "is what you put inside your trousers when you think you are going to get a whipping."—Sunday Magazine of Los Angeles Times.

"Not at all," replied the genial citizen. "When we go out evenings my wife wears more than enough hair for two."

ROAD and FARM IMPROVEMENT

FARM NOTES.

There is very little difference between venison, bacon and beefsteak. All are "dear" meat this season.

Bees can fly for two miles from the hive and are then able to return after gathering their supply of honey.

Every gardener should now "make hay while the sun shines." It is very essential that we cultivate our plants while they are young.

If you expect the hired man's confidence you must put confidence in him. You will find that it pays to talk matters over with him.

Mustard should be taken up and destroyed after it has become too tough for use. Its pungent odor attracts insects which often attack other plants.

If an embargo of the same force were laid on the ports that are laid on farm traffic by bad roads, the noise that would follow could be heard around the world.

Plant beans, radishes, cucumbers and tomatoes for further use. If the seasons continue favorable they will furnish you fresh vegetables when you need them most.

No community can have a more valuable citizen than he who understands the theory of road building and who is at the same time a practical road builder and an enthusiast on the subject.

PRACTICAL PLANK SOIL DRAG

Cannot Take Place of Harrow, Roller or Disk Harrow, But Can Do Some Things Far Better.

The writer has used several kinds of drags on plowed fields, and has seen a large number in use, ranging from a sled upside down to a lever harrow with the teeth set back. Of all the devices used for dragging the soil, the drag shown in diagram here is probably most effective, says a correspondent in Rural New Yorker. The plank drag made by lapping some two by eight-inch plank works all right in very dry soil, but is all wrong for soils properly moist for best results in working. The drag shown above will work anywhere, and at almost any time. Such a drag is easy to make and not at all expensive. In the diagrams a and b are 2x6 or 8-inch plank seven feet long for two horses, or 11 feet for three, a and d are 2x4 pieces bolted to the plank, c is a draft chain, and may be fastened where shown or farther back, while xx are two short boards nailed in place for the driver to stand on. The latter pieces, xx, should not be too wide, as they might cause the soil to collect and pack underneath. The plank a and b should be set at angle of 30 degrees to d-d; and the joints should be secured with two bolts each. This drag is simple and strong, will stand a lot of rough usage in the field, and its use will give satisfaction to the user, and particularly where it is desired to level up inequalities of the surface. This drag cannot take the place of a harrow, roller or disk harrow, but it can do a few things more easily and quickly and in some cases far better.

BUILD COUNTRY ROADS GOOD

Highway Commissioners Charged With Responsibility Do Not Inform Themselves on Subject.

(By HOWARD H. GROSS.)

One of the chief drawbacks to the good roads movement is the slipshod methods of road building. Highway commissioners, who are charged with the responsibility of road building and maintenance, do not as a rule take the trouble to inform themselves upon the subject, and the result is what one should expect—poor construction and expensive repairs, and good roads given in some degree a "black eye."

It is a costly fallacy to assume that anyone can fix the road. The writer heard a commissioner say:

"I hauled ten wagons of gravel and dumped them into that big mud hole by Jackson's pasture."

No attempt was made to drain the road, and yet this was what was most needed in that particular case.

The most important rule in road building is to drain the road. Get the water off the surface and away from the road as quickly as possible. A road that is well drained is half built.

The amount and kind of material used is as important as the method of construction. Ordinarily the main body of a road, the first layer, may be of any hard material—stone, gravel, slag or cinders. The top course of three inches, however, ought to be hard, so as to resist the wear, and for this purpose the best material in the central west is crushed granite, large deposits of which cover nearly one-third of the state of Wisconsin. This is excellent road material and can be furnished from at least half a dozen different points of the state, upon as many different railway lines, and it is feasible and practical to ship this several hundred miles for road building purposes. On a well-drained roadway, four inches of stone, gravel, slag or cinders, covered with three inches of Wisconsin granite, making a hard road seven inches deep, will last longer and wear better, and require less repairs than twice that thickness of any of the softer materials, and the dust will be less. The increased first cost will be more than offset by the less repairs and the longer life of the road.

In Lake Superior districts trap rock is found, which is also an excellent material for a wearing surface.

Nearly all states have an experienced and capable highway engineer, and local authorities who desire to improve the roads should always consult him. If his advice is followed, better work will result and money will be saved. These men are employed by the states for this very purpose, and the highway commissioners should make use of them.

At the great International Good Roads congress in Paris the writer heard the question asked of an eminent French engineer: "How soon after the road is completed should repairing it begin?" The answer was: "The next day." This means, of course, that in taking care of the road, "a stitch in time saves nine," and it sometimes saves 19. One of the great troubles with us, where roads are built, is that we spend a large sum of money to build the road and make no provision for taking care of it.

Frames of sealed honey can be given on any warm day to colonies that seem likely to fall short.

His Excellence.

"I tell you," said one man to another as they emerged from the dimly lighted corridor of a concert hall, "I envy that fellow who was singing."

"Envy him!" echoed the other. "Well, if I were going to envy a singer I'd select somebody with a better voice. His was about the poorest I ever heard."

"It's not his voice I envy, man," was the reply. "It's his tremendous courage."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Olive Branch Rejected.

The republican and democratic territorial committees met in Albuquerque Monday, the call in each case being made for the purpose of reaching an understanding on the coming election of delegates to the constitutional convention. The chairmen of the respective parties favored a non-partisan campaign, and it was believed a meeting of the committees would bring about an agreement to that end.

The democratic committee appointed a sub-committee to confer with a like committee of the republicans, but the republicans would not entertain the proposition. Whether the question of a non-partisan campaign is good or bad, the defeat of the plan lies with the republicans. The old standpatters, such as Catron, Spiess and Gillenwater, ruled the roost in the republican gathering and insisted on the constitution being written by republicans. The democrats accepted the gage of battle, and, in doing so, outlined a few principles, published elsewhere in these columns, upon which they are asking the support of the people. It is, therefore, a clean-cut fight between the two parties, and the question now is, do you favor the principles the democrats have announced, or are you for the republicans who made no declaration whatever.

A Good Bunch.

No one could see the beaming faces of those stalwarts like Jones, Hopewell, Laughlin, Morrow, Fergusson, McDonald, Marron, and everyone of the other delegates at the democratic meeting, could do them the injustice of insisting that they were not united and determined to make a united fight for a people's fight. —Tribune Citizen.

Will J. Doering visited Corona this week.

Wayne Van Schoyck was down from White Oaks yesterday.

J. E. Koonce was down from Nogal a couple of days this week.

Mrs. Hattie Pons is acting post master during the absence of W. M. Reily.

Q. Sadler, special agent of the E. P. & S. W., was up from El Paso this week.

Attorney Wm. F. A. Gierke came up Thursday from Lincoln, and will remain until Monday.

At the last regular meeting of the Eastern Star, Mrs. W. L. Gumm was received into the order.

Capt. P. C. Baird is down from Corona this week. He reports some rains in certain sections near Corona.

Harry Little received a patent this week to 160 acres, abutting the town of Carrizozo on the southeast.

J. O. Nabours was in yesterday from his Three Rivers ranch. Slight rains, he says, have visited his section.

W. C. McDonald returned Wednesday from Albuquerque, where he went to attend a meeting of the territorial democratic central committee.

C. W. Hyde is now watchman for the railroad company, relieving Cipriano Baca. Everybody believes Mr. Hyde will make good in his difficult position.

The Rio Bonito went on a rampage last Sunday, caused by heavy rains in the mountains. At Fort Stanton and Lincoln the stream was four feet deep.

We have just received a second car of extra fancy California white potatoes. These are extra fine stock and we are selling them cheap by the sack.—Carrizozo Trading Co.

The Rebeccas will hold their regular monthly meeting on the third Wednesday of this month, when Joe R. Adams and Mrs. Grumbles will be received into the order.

Andy Mayes was in yesterday from his ranch beyond the malpais. He says some slight rains have fallen in his section, which have relieved the situation temporarily.

The next regular communication of Carrizozo Lodge No. 41, A. F. & A. M., will be held Saturday night, July 16. Work in F. C. degree.

Postmaster Reily has been granted a ten days' leave of absence. He is spending his vacation on the Bonito, with his family, fishing and recuperating from the trials of office.

Jesse Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Kennedy, had a horse fall with him Sunday, from the effects of which he was unconscious several hours. It was feared for some time that his head was seriously injured, but his condition improved rapidly and he is now able to be up.

W. L. Gumm is in Otero county this week on a fruit buying expedition. Mr. Gumm has made a business of buying the product of orchards for several years for the markets, and has made the business pay.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Griffin arrived last week from Los Angeles, California, Friday, and will make this their home. Mr. Griffin lived here two years ago, and his wife is well known here, her maiden name being Carrie Simms.

Remember, we are sole agents for some of the best brands of flour manufactured, Ivory, Pride of Denver and Globe cannot be beat, and we make low prices on quantities.—The Carrizozo Trading Co.

Mel Paden met with an accident Sunday night that came very near being serious. He was riding horseback, going at a gallop, returning from the country, when he encountered a back wire fence. The horse was thrown and entangled in the fence, while Mel kept going. Mel picked himself up, having escaped with a slight shake-up, and succeeded in extricating his horse, which was cut in a number of places.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Rollins, Chas McMasters and party, returned Tuesday evening from a ten days outing and fishing trip on the Ruidoso, with complexions well browned and much benefitted by the mountain air. They caught plenty of fish, but failed to catch the maximum weight—15 pounds. Both Art and Charley are considered pretty fair single-handed story tellers, and probably have some tall fishing yarns up their sleeves to be sprung later.

We recently received a large shipment of the celebrated Hamilton-Brown shoes for men, women and children. Notwithstanding the high price of leather, we are still selling reliable shoes at last year's prices. The quality is always there in a Hamilton-Brown shoe.—The Carrizozo Trading Co.

In Quest of Borax.

T. H. Rosenberger, a geologist, arrived here Wednesday from Los Angeles, Cal. He intends to remain here some time and examine the formations in the different mining districts in the county. His brother, a geologist also, was here for a short time some two years ago, and was favorably impressed with the indications, but was called back to California before he had time to investigate. Mr. Rosenberger will take up the work where his brother left off, starting at the head of the malpais, near Indian Tank, and following the trend of the mountains in a southwesterly direction. Although in quest of borax and a certain other mineral, which he believes exist here, he stated he would not be adverse to exploiting a gold or copper claim if the formation and indications warranted. Apart from his technical training he stated he has had considerable experience in the field. He left yesterday morning for the mountains.

AN ACHING BACK

Means Weak Kidneys.

Well kidneys filter the blood of uric acid and other impurities. When the kidneys are sick, waste matter accumulates and backache, headache and urinary troubles result. To eliminate the aches and pains you must cure the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, and cure them permanently.

J. N. Markham, Montesano, Wash., says: "Kidney trouble came on me gradually and before long I was suffering from dropsy. My body bloated and my flesh was soft and flabby. I tired easily and suffered severely from pain in my back. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and I am today in much better health."

16 YEARS OF SKIN DISEASE

"For sixteen long years I have been suffering with a bad case of skin disease. While a child there broke out a red sore on the legs just in back of my knees. It waxed from bad to worse, and at last I saw I had a bad skin disease. I tried many widely known doctors in different cities but to no satisfactory result. The plague bothered me more in warm weather than in winter and being on my leg joints it made it impossible for me to walk, and I was forced to stay indoors in the warmest weather. My hopes of recovery were by this time spent. Sleepless nights and restless days made life an unbearable burden. At last I was advised to try the Cuticura remedies [Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills] and I did not need more than a trial to convince me that I was on the road of success this time. I bought two sets of the Cuticura Remedies and after these were gone I was a different man entirely. I am now the happiest man that there is at least one true cure for skin diseases. Leonard A. Hawtof, 11 Nostrand Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., July 30 and Aug. 8, '09."

Windig—Do you mean to say you believe that story Blinks told us this morning?

Robert—Sure I do.

Windig—Well, I'm surprised. Why, I wouldn't believe it if I had told it myself.

Robert—Neither would I.

TO CLEAN WITH GASOLINE

Delicate Fabrics May Be Easily Rejuvenated in Very Simple Method.

Chiffon ruchings, which are soiled but not crushed, can be rejuvenated by shaking them in clear gasoline and then drying them in the sunshine and air. Small articles, such as fancy neckwear in general, which must be treated gently, can be put into a fruit jar nearly filled with gasoline. Using a rubber ring, screw the top on tightly. Let the articles soak for some time, and then shake them vigorously. Rinse in the same manner in clear gasoline. Dry in the sunshine and air.

Coat collars can often be cleaned by wetting a cloth in gasoline and then rubbing the soiled part. Occasionally, if the fabric will warrant it, and is very much soiled, I have used an old toothbrush for this purpose, instead of the cloth. Neckties cannot always be cleaned by the simple rubbing process. If that is so, try using a brush dipped in gasoline, to scrub the very soiled parts. Satin, of course, does not permit of this treatment. Grease spots can be removed by rubbing the spot with a good white soap, after the article has been soaked in gasoline. Rub hard and rinse thoroughly. Gasoline in which soap has been used cannot be used a second time. White kid gloves, as everyone knows, can be successfully cleaned in gasoline, and almost everyone has her own special method. Colored gloves do not clean well as a rule. It is best not to try them.—Woman's Home Companion.

TO SAVE THE TEA TOWELS

When Not Used as Lifters They Will Last Three Times as Long.

Tea towels would last three times as long and look much whiter and neater during their lifetime if they were not used as lifters.

"Pernicious, slovenly habit!" says the neat housekeeper. Perhaps, but one that is common practice while utensils are hot and fingers sensitive.

One housekeeper has broken her maids of this habit by providing them with a lifter that is always in evidence when it is needed.

She makes an eight-inch square of several thicknesses of old tea towel, in which she slips a layer of asbestos paper or a thickness of canvas. The edges are turned in, stitched, and to one corner is fastened a long tape with buttonhole at other end.

By means of buttonhole, the holder can be fastened to button of apron band and the lifter kept in apron pocket until needed.

Featherlight Waffles.

The following recipe cannot be surpassed either for excellence or economy. The quantity of cornmeal used is so small that it does not give the taste of cornmeal but imparts a delicate, nutty flavor which is lacking where it is not used: Break two eggs in a round bottom bowl and beat well. Pour over them two cups of sour milk (or buttermilk), add one-fourth cup cornmeal, two cups flour, one teaspoon sugar, one teaspoon salt, one full tablespoonful butter, one level tablespoonful lard (lard and butter should be melted), and one scant teaspoon of soda dissolved in a tablespoonful of warm water. Stir the mixture well.

Vegetable Roast.

Take cooked beans or peas through a colander to remove the skins, and mix with an equal quantity of finely-chopped nut meats. Season to taste. Put one-half the mixture into a buttered baking dish, spread over it a dressing made as follows: Pour boiling water on four slices of zwieback, cover, let stand for a few minutes, then break them up with a fork and pour over one-half cup of sweet cream; season with salt and sage. Cover the dressing with the remainder of the nut mixture, pour over all one-half cup of cream and bake for one and one-half hours. Serve in slices, with cranberry sauce.

At the Bovine Faucets.

"I sent my little boy on his first visit to the country last week," said a Washington Heights milk dealer. "Although my boyhood was passed on the old farm, Willie has grown to the age of eight in the city. He had been watching Uncle Hezekiah milk the cow on his first evening, and when he returned to the house his aunt asked him:

"Is Uncle Hezekiah through milking yet, Willie?"

"Not yet," answered Willie. "He has finished two faucets and has just begun on the other two."

The Business Instinct.

An English farmer, taking his little son with him, was going to the polling station to give his vote. On the way he met a friend on the same errand, and the two entered into conversation. After an excited and heated argument about the budget they came to blows. The poor lad was much frightened, and, seeing that his father was getting the worst of it, suddenly called out to him:

"Hit him in the watch, father; that'll cost him something!"

His Pull.

"Does that 'ere thin, stoop-shouldered, dyspeptic-lookin' drummer that you bought so much from today sell any better or cheaper goods than the fat one ye turned down so hard yesterday?" inquired Hi Spry.

"I know as he does," confessed the Squam Corners merchant, "but his views on the criminal rapacity of the trusts are a whole lot sounder."—Puck.

FEED CHILDREN

On Properly Selected Food. It Pays Big Dividends.

If parents will give just a little intelligent thought to the feeding of their children the difference in the health of the little folks will pay, many times over, for the small trouble.

A mother writes saying: "Our children are all so much better and stronger than they ever were before we made a change in the character of the food. We have quit using potatoes three times a day with coffee and so much meat."

"Now we give the little folks some fruit, either fresh stewed, or canned, some Grape-Nuts with cream, occasionally some soft boiled eggs, and some Postum for breakfast and supper. Then for dinner they have some meat and vegetables."

"It would be hard to realize the change in the children, they have grown so sturdy and strong, and we attribute this change to the food elements that, I understand, exist in Grape-Nuts and Postum."

"A short time ago my baby was teething and had a great deal of stomach and bowel trouble. Nothing seemed to agree with him until I tried Grape-Nuts softened and mixed with rich milk, and he improved rapidly and got sturdy and well."

Yale and Harvard.

"How can you tell a Yale man from a Harvard man?"

"Well, a Yale man always acts as if he owned the world."

"Yes?"

"And a Harvard man always acts as if he doesn't know what vulgar person owns the world, and, furthermore, he doesn't care to know."—Cleveland Leader.

GNAT CAUSES PELLAGRA.

Committee on Disease in Europe Says
Corn is Not to Blame.

London, May 14.—Dr. Sambon, a member of the Field committee which has been investigating the disease pellagra, telegraphs from Rome that the committee has definitely proved that maize or Indian corn is not the cause of pellagra.

The committee finds that the parasitic conveyor of the disease is the "simulium repans," a species of biting gnat.

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SADIE MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

DEVICE FOR FASTENING BELT

Pennsylvania Man Invents Machine That Holds Ends Together Until They Can Be Joined.

How often, in passing through factories or machine shops, have you seen belting fastened together by wire or strips of iron that have been run through the adjoining ends. Did it ever occur to you that the joining of these two ends was a difficult proceeding unless the belting was taken from the wheels, and this is a bother. A Pennsylvania man has invented a little machine by which the operation can be performed quickly and easily without removing the strap. First there is a base plate with a clamp at each end to hold the two ends of the belting. A notched bar and a lever draws the clamps together till the ends of the straps meet and holds them there until the fastenings are inserted and the connection satisfactorily made. The difficulty of pulling the strap together when it is on the wheel is the chief one in such work, and when the ends are clamped into this machine a few cranks of the lever will accomplish this.

MACHINE PRINTS WOOD GRAIN

Rubber Band Leaves Design as It Is Pulled Off Surface—Operation Requires Few Minutes.

Another class of craftsmen who have commanded high wages now have competition in a machine. These are the wood-grainers, and the merest tyro of an apprentice can now grain wood as well as the best of them by means of the invention of two Pennsylvanians.

This device consists of a metal frame, over which is stretched a wide band of rubber, stamped with a grain-like design. Resting on this rubber band is an ink roller, and on the roller is a distributing brush, which supplies the ink from a reservoir connected with it.

After a board has been varnished this apparatus is drawn over it. The rubber band revolves and leaves a clear, accurate design printed on the wood, giving an imitation of graining that is difficult to tell from the real thing.

The whole operation requires only a minute or two, and there are no false strokes to guard against, thus ensuring better work than hand work in a much shorter period of time.

Ice As Fuel.

A cake of ice at 32 degrees Fahrenheit is ordinarily considered to be rather a cold substance, but it is as much hotter than liquid air as the oven in which bread is baked is hotter than the ice, remarks Popular Mechanics.

A tea kettle partly filled with liquid air and placed on a cake of ice receives so much heat from the ice that the liquid air soon boils vigorously, and the boiling can be made more violent by adding a few lumps of ice.

If the normal temperature of the earth were at the freezing point of air and we could obtain a block of ice such as is distributed by the iceman of today, such ice could be used as fuel and would be put into the furnace instead of coal.
